

Super Rich Dad Chapter 459-460

Chapter 459

As soon as he heard Ye Yunjie say that something was wrong, Jiang Hao's heart also lifted at once.

Did something go wrong in the end? Jiang Hao thought to himself.

'What's wrong?' Jiang Hao hurriedly asked, 'Is is the test result really

Hearing Jiang Hao ask this, Ye Yunjie shook her head and gave a bitter smile, 'Don't worry Jiang Shao, it's not that, it's just that there was a little hiccup on the side of the third party testing agency, so the test report might not be delivered in time for the launch.'

Hearing this, Jiang Hao heaved a sigh of relief: 'So that's how it is. Then it doesn't seem to be a big problem.'

Ye Yunjie nodded, 'It's alright, but I feel like those people's review test reports should be out by now, I've asked their people to come to the launch earlier, but I haven't seen them yet.'

Ye Yunjie looked at her watch, there were just ten minutes left until the launch.

Ye Yunjie pointed to an empty chair at the side and said to Jiang Hao, 'Young Jiang, this is reserved for you, you can just wait here and watch the good show later.'

Ye Yunjie was still full of confidence at this moment. It seemed that she felt that she would definitely be able to fight a turnaround battle this time.

It was just that things seemed to be far from that simple.

Because right at that moment, the blue-suited man stepped in from outside.

And as soon as he appeared, he immediately drew the attention of all the many media present.

The media surrounded him directly. A bombardment of questions began.

'Engineer Feng, has the review test report for the City South project come out yet? Is it true that the City South Project has been wrongly accused?'

'Engineer Feng, may I ask what explanation you and your department will give if the results of this test are completely different from the last one? Is it fair to say that you were deliberately fixing the City South Project before? And that this time, you have instead stolen the chicken and lost the rice?'

'Engineer Feng, there is a rumour going around that you will recently marry the eldest granddaughter of the Xu family, one of your families in Chujiang, is this true? Didn't you just divorce your own wife last year?'

The media were asking questions, like a bunch of headless flies, making a lot of noise.

Throughout, however, the man in the blue suit was uncharacteristically calm, and even had a slight look of amusement on his face.

He held out his hand, signaling the media to quiet down, then cleared his throat and spoke, 'Everyone, everyone, please quiet down and listen to me first, because there will be a press conference in a few minutes, and I will tell you more about it at the conference. But but as far as those questions you just asked, I can answer one or two for now.'

The blue-suited man said loudly, 'First of all, the review test report, which is not in my possession right now, but exactly what the results are, I believe that in a moment you will know, because my people will send the results over in a moment. Also, as to who actually lifted the stone and smashed his own feet in the end, we will all know in a moment. Finally, a friend just asked about the marriage between me and Miss Xu, this matter is just a rumour, but I have to say that this matter is true, the wedding will be on the 18th of next month, please go and support us then

The blue-suited man left by squeezing through the crowd, not bothering with the media who were still asking questions.

And the blue-suited man walked straight towards Jiang Hao and Ye Yunjie's side, with a smug smile on his face.

'Yo, Miss Ye looks in good spirits, huh?' The man in the blue suit gave a sarcastic smile, 'How's that. Have you thought about how you're going to gag that yodeling crowd later?'

Ye Yunjie scoffed at the other party's words and sneered in response, 'I think you're the one who should be thinking about it, right? What, have you got your results? Have you finished reading them? Or have you already tampered with them? I'd like to see how you, Engineer Feng, would like to respond to everyone if your two sides' test reports don't match!'

The blue-suited man gave Ye Yunjie a blank look, laughed disdainfully and said, 'Ye, I'm actually curious, how can you be so sure that the quality of your project is not faulty? Oh. Haven't you ever thought that you would lose?'

Ye Yunjie indifferently raised her head and looked at the other party, still incomparably determined, 'That's right, I just believe in the quality of my engineering, I just believe that today you will look bad. Because

Ye Yunjie smiled and did not finish the words that followed.

But she had already told herself in her heart, because all of this was supervised by Ye Xiaorou's participation, she believed in her sister, with Ye Xiaorou's shrewdness and decisiveness, if something had gone wrong with the project, then she would probably have found out long ago.

Because she believed in Ye Xiaorou, she also believed that there was no problem with the quality of the City South project. This was purely out of a sense of trust in her own kin.

The man in the blue suit shook his head and smiled at his words, glanced at the gold watch on his wrist and said: "Cheng, very well, then let's wait and see who can actually have the last laugh. Well, the time has come, is it time for the launch to begin?"

Ye Yunjie also checked the time. Nodding at Qiao San, Qiao San took two steps forward to the front of the media and said, "Everyone, the conference on the quality of the Chujiang City South project will now begin, I hope everyone can keep quiet and ask questions in an orderly manner."

After speaking, Qiao San made a gesture of invitation, signalling for Ye Yunjie to come forward.

Ye Yunjie nodded, turned her head and smiled faintly at Jiang Hao, walked straight to the seat marked with her name and sat down, and beside her was the man in the blue suit.

The man in the blue suit wasn't the least bit polite either, as he directly stepped over and sat down on his butt in his seat.

Ye Yunjie spoke up first, "Alright media friends, the conference will now begin. If you have questions for Engineer Feng, you can start now!"

As soon as Ye Yunjie said this, the man in the blue suit sitting next to her immediately exploded and hurriedly questioned in a low voice, "Why should I be asked first?"

Ye Yunjie, on the other hand, smiled. She said, "What, are you afraid? Or are you afraid of being asked to say something?"

"You" The man in the blue suit disdainfully glared at Ye Yunjie and coldly snorted, "I'm afraid? Why would I be afraid? Hmph. Fine, since that's the case, then let's do it!"

As soon as the man in the blue suit's words fell, a member of the media rushed to rise from the stage. "I'm from the Chujiang Evening News, and I still have the same question: if the test report this time shows that there is no problem with the quality of the City South project, then what explanation will you and your team department give? Because as we all know, just a short while ago, your department gave the City South project a failed concrete grade report and ordered the City South project to stop work temporarily."

The man in the blue suit laughed lightly, looked at the woman who asked the question with disdain and said, "Actually, what I'm curious about is how you people are so sure that there's nothing wrong with the City South project. Oh, I'd like to ask you, if the City South project turns out to be problematic, how should you go about asking questions of this Miss Ye Yunjie Ye?"

"This" The woman hesitated slightly at the question, she looked at Ye Yunjie and did not say anything.

Obviously, this woman came up and questioned the man in the blue suit, but on the contrary, when it came to Ye Yunjie, she did not say a word, there was something fishy about it.

The woman was actually a part of her preparation.

Only this woman didn't seem to be too giving, Ye Yunjie couldn't help but shake her head and directly grabbed the topic, saying, 'I said that there won't be any problems with the south of the city project!'

'Oh, the results haven't come out, how do you know if there are any problems?' The man in the blue suit sneered and said, 'Miss Ye is so sure that there is no problem with the quality of the project, then may I ask Miss Ye if you dare to make a guarantee? If the results come out later and it is proven that there are problems with the quality of the City South project, how will you plan to do so!'

This was forcing her to give a guarantee, so Ye Yunjie couldn't help but glance coldly at the other party and said, 'You want a guarantee, don't you? Oh, then I'll give you a guarantee!'

'Wait

Just at this moment, Jiang Hao suddenly got up and called out to Ye Yunjie.

Chapter 460

Jiang Hao's shout instantly drew the harsh eyes of dozens of pairs of eyes at the launch event.

When Jiang Hao saw this, he couldn't help but be a bit baffled, after all, he had just shouted purely subconsciously, but he didn't expect so many people to look at him.

Jiang Hao couldn't say much for a while, so he could only shake his head slightly at Ye Yunjie.

Ye Yunjie believed in her sister's ability and felt that there was no problem with the south of the city project, but Jiang Hao didn't believe in it, even if he didn't particularly disbelieve it. But he definitely didn't dare to say anything to death.

After all, Jiang Hao is very clear, testing this kind of thing, can not be so 100%, in case there is a little bit of negligence, that may end up facing their own side, are endless abyss.

Jiang Hao looked at Ye Yunjie, and his gaze suddenly had a few more prayers in it.

Jiang Hao knew exactly what Ye Yunjie was trying to do. He only wanted to use his own risk to exchange for the complete destruction of the other side, but the risk was too great.

Jiang Hao also probably brought that cautious energy from his bones. It was on full display here at the moment.

He does not want to take risks, in Jiang Hao's view, if he survives this hurdle today, then the south of the city project is considered to be able to operate normally, which is for Jiang Hao. After all, this already seems to be the best result, and if he is too greedy, he is afraid that it will backfire.

However, Ye Yunjie looked at Jiang Hao, frowned slightly and gestured with her eyes for Jiang Hao to sit down.

For today's situation, Ye Yunjie obviously felt that she had a good idea of what to do, and did not need Jiang Hao to remind her what to do for the time being.

Just at that moment, the man in the blue suit sitting next to Ye Yunjie spoke up, looking at Jiang Hao and grinning, 'Yo, who's this? What, isn't Miss Ye going to introduce everyone?'

Ye Yunjie was, of course, clear that Jiang Hao's identity was not yet ready to be announced.

So she just faintly returned, 'Just an employee of the company, just sit down, I have it in mind.'

The last sentence was said by Ye Yunjie facing Jiang Hao, in a tone as if it carried an order.

In response, Jiang Hao could only sigh heavily in his heart, and with reluctance, sat back down again.

Ye Yunjie turned her head, looked at the man in the blue suit again, and continued, 'You just said that you wanted me to make a promise, right? That's fine, but I think. This kind of thing is mutual, if I give you a guarantee, you have to give me a guarantee too, right?'

The man in the blue suit seemed to have predicted that Ye Yunjie would say this, and smiled lightly, indifferently saying, 'Fine, just say it, whatever guarantee you want, I'll give it to you!'

When Ye Yunjie heard this, her heart was immediately excited and she spoke, 'Good, very good. In fact, my request is very simple, if your test results are fine today, then I want you and your people to be forbidden from setting foot in the south of the city project for three years, do you dare to agree?'

Ye Yunjie looked at the other party with a solemn expression, her gaze filled with determination.

In fact, the most important purpose she wanted to achieve by requesting this press conference today was this matter.

Ye Yunjie knew very well that even if the test results this time showed that there was no problem with the south of the city project, then she could only be considered to be tentative.

Then she could only be considered to have survived for the time being, but it was almost conceivable that with the way the man in the blue suit acted and did, this time, it was bound to be just the beginning.

If he felt that his dignity and prestige had been damaged today, then he would definitely be on his back in the days to come. As long as he has the slightest problem, he will make things difficult for himself.

Even if he just gives you a temporary stop-work notice, he won't be able to stand it.

After all, if the project in the south of the city is stopped for one day, the loss will be huge.

On the contrary, it is simply too easy for his side to want to stop work, just find a reason and you can stop work.

Naturally, Ye Yunjie had also taken all this into consideration, which is why she stepped forward to lead the way and finally got the word out.

Ye Yunjie thought, of course, that as long as she could get the man in the blue suit to promise, in front of the many media, that he would not bother with the south of the city project for three years, and as long as the south of the city project was fully completed three years later, then she would have nothing to fear.

As for giving him a promise of any kind, the premise of any promise is that the quality of the city's south project will be faulty anyway.

And Ye Yunjie's bet is that there will be no problems with the south of the city project!

Between the two sides, it would depend on who could laugh until the end.

Ye Yunjie looked at the other party and urged, 'What. Don't you dare?'

Not only Ye Yunjie, but the woman who was the first to ask the man in the blue suit also followed up with, 'Yes, Engineer Feng, are you afraid to make a commitment? Or are you simply afraid that there will be no problem with the project in the south of the city? When the time comes you won't be able to step down?'

'Yes, yes, yes.' Immediately after this woman, there were many more people in the room who asked questions directly.

The man in the blue suit looked a little impatient and suddenly waved his hand wide, chiding, 'What do you want? Do you want to force the court?'

The scene suddenly fell silent as the man in the blue suit snorted coldly and said, 'Promise? Oh, why wouldn't I dare to make a promise? Am I afraid? What am I afraid of? Hmph, you guys are so naive!'

He then added loudly, 'Well, isn't that what you all want to hear? Then I'll say it. I'm here in front of the many media present. I promise to all the people of Chu Jiang that if the final review and test results of the City South project today say that there is no problem with it, then I, and the team in charge of me, promise not to set foot in the City South project for three years!'

After he finished speaking, the man in the blue suit turned his head to look at Ye Yunjie and said with contempt, 'Miss Ye, I've finished what you wanted to hear, now it's your turn, right? Now it's your turn, right? It's not like you're afraid to commit again in the end, right?'

Ye Yunjie snorted and laughed, saying, 'Fine, since you have just blatantly said a promise, then I will simply say what you want to hear today as well.'

Ye Yunjie rose and said solemnly, 'Everyone, today, on behalf of myself, my company, and the City South Project, I hereby promise that if any of the 22 indicators in the City South Project's review test today fail, then I promise to demolish and rebuild all the projects currently under construction in the City South Project!'

When Ye Yunjie made this statement, there was an uproar in the audience.

It was clear to everyone that Ye Yunjie's words carried a lot of weight.

The suspension of the City South project already meant that Ye Yunjie would suffer a huge loss.

And if all the projects under construction were to be pushed back, the losses would be enormous.

You should know that although only one phase of the City South project has been started, even so, the capital invested in it is already several billion dollars.

And although it hasn't taken long to start construction, some of the projects are already well underway.

Even in one area. There is even an area where there is already a residential neighbourhood in place.

If this were to be demolished, it would mean that so much of the construction costs would all go to waste, and most crucially. This is just the beginning.

Construction costs money, and demolition costs just as much money, far from it, even just the cost of demolishing so many projects under construction is astronomical.

And all this. Ye Yunjie said it incomparably lightly.

Even Jiang Hao, who was at the side, was stunned after hearing Ye Yunjie's words.

Jiang Hao had a sad face, he simply dared not think, how could Ye Yunjie dare to say such words?

Was she crazy? What if something went wrong with this matter. The losses that one would have to bear could be billions of Chu less ah.

It's easy to lose so much money, but it would be much harder to make it back.

However, Ye Yunjie did not seem to think about this and continued to do as she pleased.

After she finished speaking, she looked at the man in the blue suit and sneered, 'Well, is this the result you want?'

The man in the blue suit smiled and nodded, 'Very well, since we have all said our words, let's wait for the results!'

The man in the blue suit looked down at the time and couldn't help but smile, 'At this time of day, the results should already be out, they're probably on their way to be delivered now.'

Just as his words fell, he saw a man in a black suit walk in quickly at the entrance of the press conference hall, a file bag cupped in his hand.
