

Super Rich Dad Chapter 464-466

Chapter 464

‘You all saw it, right? When I took out the test report before, what did this Miss Ye say? He said that my report was a forgery, and for no reason he also brought out some misunderstandings from before, as if he had been greatly aggrieved, but what happened now? Everyone has seen it, right? I don’t think we need to explain who is black and who is white now. We can all see clearly and unambiguously, right?’

‘I want Miss Ye to give me, and all the people of Chujiang, an explanation of the promise you made before. Does it count or not?’

The blue-suited man looked incomparably exuberant at this moment, and he almost tilted out all the words he wanted to rant at Ye Yunjie before, in one fell swoop.

What the other party was waiting for. It seemed that this was the moment.

So much so that just now, when he took out the test report himself and was suspected by Ye Yunjie of being a fake, he didn’t even argue too much.

It seemed that he was expecting everything to end.

What followed the man in the blue suit was the ‘bombardment’ of the many media present.

They had waited for four or five hours for the result, and many of them had already had some complaints in their hearts.

Now that the results were out, these people had prepared a lot of questions, and now they were spewing them out, along with their anger from before.

Soon, there was a first person who shouted, ‘Yes, Miss Ye, didn’t you just promise with all your heart that there would be no problems with the City South project? Now that both test results have come out, and the test results are exactly the same, is there anything else you want to say in your defence? There is a quality problem with the City South project. And it’s a big quality problem, and now that it’s solid, I want to know, how do you want to thank for it?’

‘Oh, I heard that the City South project is claimed to be a multi-billion investment, is ready to build a new area in Chujiang, and at the beginning of the construction, but I still remember that certain people promised that the City South project would not have a single quality problem, but now not much time has passed and such a serious problem has popped up, I would like to ask Miss Ye doesn’t your face hurt? Won’t you feel heartache and retribution for making black-hearted money?’

‘Miss Ye, as a developer who has been exposed as the most shady in Chu Jiang so far. Can you tell everyone about your investment philosophy? Is it that everything is profit-oriented, and that bullsh*t human lives and promises don’t count for anything? Is it any wonder that you own such a large property at such a young age? How much blood is on your hands, may I ask?’

'It's ridiculous, just now you were saying that the quality of your project is fine, and you even found a third party testing agency yourself to prove your innocence. Or maybe you simply miscalculated. Did you misjudge the person? Is it because the testing agency is sincere in its intention to expose the foul play in your City South project? It's true what the old saying says, 'If you don't do something right, you'll get killed. Miss Ye, good luck to you and your City South project!'

In an instant, the dozens of mouths at the scene simply transformed into a machine gun, spewing out at Ye Yunjie without any mercy.

Among these people, there were only a very few who were seriously asking about what had happened. Most of them were just gloating and even provocative in their verbal retaliation.

But even so, there was nothing Ye Yunjie could do, her face was red at this time, for so many years. The situation was the most embarrassing she had ever encountered, and she didn't even know what to do.

Ye Yunjie tried to explain to the crowd, but the end result was that she was sprayed back by the words of many people, and faced with questions about why the quality of the work was faulty, Ye Yunjie was still at a loss as to what to do and did not know how to answer.

The result was so unexpected that it was beyond her expectation.

Ye Yunjie had faith in her sister and believed that Ye Xiaorou would not fail to live up to her expectations and would get the job done.

But now that this was the result, Ye Yunjie's heart was simply furious.

'What the hell is wrong with you!' At this moment, Ye Yunjie wanted incomparably to ask this question to Ye Xiaorou.

But no, the occasion did not allow it now. Ye Xiaorou had also disappeared.

'Could it be that' A terrible thought suddenly arose in Ye Yunjie's mind, but then swallowed it back whole in a whirl and kept admonishing herself in her mind. 'Impossible, Xiaorou is my own sister, she would never do such a thing. It would never happen.'

But if that wasn't the case, then why would this situation arise?

Ye Yunjie's heart was chagrined and she was even more disappointed with Ye Xiaorou.

What to do? What to do now?

Even though Ye Yunjie had experienced many big scenes. But when faced with today's outcome, she was still tired of coping.

She hurriedly went to look at Jiang Hao, but saw a look of helplessness and extreme disappointment on Jiang Hao's face.

Jiang Hao sighed heavily at Ye Yunjie, as if there was nothing he could do about it.

Moreover, Jiang Hao was already behaving with great restraint at this point when this kind of thing appeared.

After all, just before, Jiang Hao had discouraged Ye Yunjie from taking too many risks and not saying too much to death.

It seems that Jiang Hao was right at the time, caution can sometimes make you miss out on a lot, but sometimes it can probably save your life.

At this point, both Jiang Hao and Ye Yunjie had already understood this statement to a tee.

Faced with questioning, Ye Yunjie stammered, seemingly no longer as decisive and stern as she had been before.

And at that very moment, the man in the blue suit on the side, once again turned on Ye Yunjie in a pinpoint crusade.

'Miss Ye, please don't make any more useless explanations, now that the results have come out, everyone is not a fool, it's not something you can just deal with in a few words!' The man in the blue suit sneered and asked, 'We only have one question now, and that is whether or not you will keep your previous promise to go and demolish all the projects that are already under construction at this time, in the south of the city?'

As soon as the other party's words landed, the many media present echoed them, 'Yes, yes, Miss Ye, please answer us quickly, huh? Will you keep your promise and demolish the project under construction or not?'

'You don't think your promises are bullsh*t, do you? No integrity in business, who will trust you? Get out of Chu Jiang!'

'Yes, if you don't keep your promise, get out of Chujiang, I call on all my colleagues present, let's all put a loud slogan on the front page tomorrow, let the City South project get out of Chujiang!'

Chapter 465

The crowd at the scene looked incomparably emotional at this moment, and everyone present, in this instant, shouted that slogan in unison: get out of Chu Jiang!

Ye Yunjie's face was embarrassed, she felt that she almost couldn't take it anymore.

And although she had made that promise before, it was because she was certain that she would not lose. Only then did she dare to say that.

This ending was unexpected for Ye Yunjie, and she did not dare to say that she would keep her promise so easily.

Because one word out of her mouth could be tens of billions of dollars wasted.

Even though she had grown up around Shen Haoting and her relationship with him was like that of a father and daughter, then she did not dare to make such a decision.

Not to mention that she was the culprit for the current situation. How could she dare to ask Shen Haoting and Jiang Hao to pay for her own wrong decision?

Ye Yunjie thought about it, and it seemed that there was already a bit more determination in her gaze.

The matter had come to this, it seemed that she could only sacrifice herself. Of course, the project in the south of the city must not be given up so easily, this is not only about the success or failure of the ten billion dollars, but also about the success or failure of Shen Haoting's plan.

So what Ye Yunjie can do now is to take the responsibility for all of this on her own and resist all the pressure alone, even if she says in front of everyone that she will not fulfill her promise

The actual fact is that you can find a lot of people who have been in the business for a long time.

The most important thing for Ye Yunjie is her reputation, and she knows very well that after this incident, her reputation is bound to be swept away, even if she leaves Chujiang from now on and goes abroad, or even goes abroad.

But this incident. It has already become a scar, a clear mark on Ye Yunjie's body, a basis for others to mock her in the future.

It's just that things have come to this, let's take one step and see what happens.

Ye Yunjie finally looked at Jiang Hao, her gaze full of apologies, and she gently spat out the words 'I'm sorry' before grabbing the microphone in front of her with an expression of desperation.

Ye Yunjie heaved a sigh and was ready to speak.

'I

Ye Yunjie was stunned, and when she looked over, she saw that Jiang Hao had, at some point, stood in front of her. With an indifferent face, he looked at himself, the microphone clutched tightly in his hand.

'What do you want?' Jiang Hao questioned in a low tone.

Jiang Hao had already guessed what Ye Yunjie was planning to do since he had just seen her expression and actions.

Jiang Hao thought he knew Ye Yunjie well and knew even better that after something like this happened, with Ye Yunjie's character, there was a 99.99% chance that she would take all the blame herself.

And how would she take the blame? Of course it was only possible to take all the blame for what wasn't on herself.

‘I’ Ye Yunjie was about to open her mouth, but paused for a moment and said despondently, ‘Things have come to this, and the responsibility is all mine. Of course I have to take it, no matter what, keeping the south of the city project is the most important thing!’

Jiang Hao smiled. He couldn’t help but shake his head repeatedly and said with some displeasure on his face, ‘I will pursue your responsibility, but I can’t just stand by and give you up and watch you become a target!’

Jiang Hao’s gaze was unusually firm as he spoke. This kind of firmness was even something Ye Yunjie had never seen before.

At this moment, it was as if Jiang Hao had completed his metamorphosis in an instant, from an ignorant youth who was unversed in the world to a lord who could take charge on his own all of a sudden.

This sudden transformation of Jiang Hao caught Ye Yunjie a little off guard and a little surprised.

‘But’

Ye Yunjie seemed to be about to say something else. But instead, Jiang Hao interrupted, ‘There’s nothing but, this matter, now listen to me!’

After Jiang Hao finished speaking, he suddenly grabbed the microphone, turned around to look at all the media present and spoke, ‘Don’t worry, since Mr. Ye has just made a promise, we will definitely keep that promise!’

Jiang Hao suddenly held up a finger and said solemnly, ‘Give us one day, tomorrow, as long as tomorrow, all the construction works in progress for the south of the city project. All of them will be dismantled!’

Jiang Hao’s sudden appearance had originally startled everyone present.

And at this moment, he unexpectedly said these words again. It really baffled everyone.

The crowd below first looked at each other in disbelief, then whispered to each other for a while.

Only after a moment did one person stand up from his seat. Pointing at Jiang Hao, he questioned with some disdain, ‘Who are you? Do you say these words and do they work?’

The moment this man made this statement. The crowd in the room burst into a chorus of agreement, ‘That’s right, who are you?’

‘We don’t want you to say this, we want Miss Ye Yunjie Ye to say this, what you say is useless! We don’t even know you!’

Jiang Hao smiled and looked at those people, a touch of disdain showing at the corners of his mouth as he faintly said, ‘Heh, what I said is useless? Well, then I’ll just introduce myself!’

Jiang Hao cleared his throat and was about to open his mouth when he was tugged by Ye Yunjie behind him, who frowned tightly and shook his head as he whispered, 'No way, you

Jiang Hao did not pay attention to Ye Yunjie, but once again looked at the people present and said, 'Perhaps you all know that Ye Yunjie is the general manager of the company that invested in the south of the city project, but you may not be clear about who is behind this company, right? Since things have come to this point today, I will make it clear that I am the boss behind this company, and all the funds for the City South project are coming out of my pocket.

Jiang Hao spoke in a loud voice, and after he had finished speaking, almost everyone present had their mouths open wide with an incredulous look on their faces.

Because what Jiang Hao had just said simply made them feel unbelievable.

'He he is the owner of the City South project? Really?'

'There were all kinds of rumors about the owner of this company before, some said that the Shen family was behind it, some said that Ye Yunjie had gotten close to the big boss, but never thought that this owner was a student?'

'My goodness, this is another heavy news today ah, the mysterious unparalleled behind-the-scenes boss of the city's south project actually jumped out by himself? And even so young? This is really getting interesting.'

'Such a young man with over 10 billion dollars of capital? He is the young master of which big family, right?'

At once, the focus of everyone present was on Jiang Hao's body.

Some marvelled at the fact that Jiang Hao was in charge of such a large amount of industries at such a young age.

Others were still questioning Jiang Hao's identity.

And even more people were actually wondering if what Jiang Hao had just said counted or not!

Chapter 466

After all, it was a ten billion dollar investment. If we follow Jiang Hao's words just now, wouldn't the ten billion dollars just go down the drain?

And in the end, not only would it be a waste of money, he would also end up with a bad reputation.

What these people could not understand was why Jiang Hao would jump out at such a time.

You know, now that both test results have proved that there are problems with the engineering quality of the City South project, the City South project has become a hot iron overnight from the meat and potatoes.

Now it is estimated that many people would hate to remove their relationship with the City South project.

And although Jiang Hao is the boss behind the scenes, the good thing is that no one knows his identity. In this way, Jiang Hao might lose his money, but at the very least, he won't lose face and be targeted by many people.

And since the promise was all made by Ye Yunjie herself, then no matter what the outcome was, it still all had to be carried by Ye Yunjie herself as well.

At this time, Jiang Hao jumped out, clearly is in the fire, extremely unwise.

You know. As a property developer, if everyone knows that the project you are handling has problems, who will buy your property next time?

This is cutting your own throat!

Ye Yunjie already knew this too. That's why she was prepared to sacrifice herself without a second thought at the beginning.

But how could Jiang Hao not know these things?

Of course he knew very well what he would be facing if he jumped out rashly.

If he did not reveal his identity, then all the blame and black pots would be carried by Ye Yunjie in the future.

But after he reveals his identity, it is obvious that Ye Yunjie's pressure will be much less, instead, he will be the one to be blamed, abused and humiliated.

Who made him the boss? According to normal human logic, since you are the boss of this company, then things like cutting corners and creating tofu-dreg projects are definitely all things you advocate to do, or at the very least, tacitly allow.

For such a person, who would let you off the hook?

But Jiang Hao stood up in the end without any hesitation, because he felt he had this responsibility to stand up for himself.

Jiang Hao looked at everyone present and then said loudly, 'We are willing to bear all the losses, and since there are problems with the quality of the project, it is also our responsibility to fix the problem again. So since we have come to this occasion today, I will simply make it clear as well, and I also ask all my friends in the media here to report my next words truthfully.'

Jiang Hao cleared his throat and said more loudly, 'No matter how much it costs, since we have made a mistake, we will definitely correct it, so I hope you can monitor us and give us a chance to correct it, and I also believe that with this lesson, our future work will only be even better!'

Jiang Hao's words were loud and clear, and his words instantly cooled down the heated emotions in the room.

Many people could not help but sigh at Jiang Hao's boldness, and were even more shocked by his words.

The first thing that a normal person would think of is how to gloss over the problem and try to shift the responsibility for the matter. The first thing that a normal person would think of is how to put the blame on the matter and try to shift the blame off. Take yourself off clearly so that your loss can be minimized.

This kind of thing has already happened many times before in Chu Jiang, the most famous one being the previous accident of the Xu family.

And what the Xu family did was nothing more than shifting the blame, lowering the pressure of public opinion, and finally, when the storm passed, they continued to work on the problematic project.

But like Jiang Hao, not only did he state his identity right from the start, but he did not shirk his responsibility at all, instead, he verbally admitted that it was his own fault, which is the first time in Chu Jiang, and even in the knowledge of many people.

It can be said that this action of Jiang Hao. It really refreshed many people's perceptions and left many people present in awe.

'Hehe, quite quick to admit it, but what's the use? This kind of thing. There's a first time and then there's a second time... Do you think anyone in the room will listen to you? Report this out?'

The blue-suited man suddenly opened his mouth and looked at Jiang Hao with a mocking expression, saying, 'Don't you think you're particularly naive?'

Of course he thought Jiang Hao was a bit naive, because of course he knew very well that the media, thanks to the media, wanted eye-catching gimmicks and news headlines. Who cares what you what will be corrected next?

They'll only be happy if you continue to have problems next.

But just as the blue-suited man's words were falling, a voice suddenly came from down the field: 'Who said that? I'll report this story as it is, for no other reason than this gentleman's courageous commitment!'

The person who said this was a female reporter with short hair and a smart, strong look.

She looked at the man in the blue suit with a disdainful expression. Instead, she sneered, 'In fact, it's not scary when a problem arises, what's scary is that you dare not admit it and take it on. I feel that compared to this gentleman's courage to take it on, some people who hid behind the Xu family like ostriches back then, waiting for the Xu family to set things right before they emerged, are many times better, right?'

Obviously, this female reporter's words were meant for the engineer Feng who was on the lift.

The latter's face turned gloomy when he heard this, and he glared fiercely at the other party, as if he wanted to say something, but he wanted to stop.

Faced with so many media, and having been repeatedly exposed, he certainly did not dare to say anything.

Jiang Hao smiled faintly at the female reporter and said, 'Thank you very much then. Then, since things are already like this, I think today's press conference is over. I would like to reiterate once again that since there are indeed problems with the south of the city project, we admit our mistakes. We apologise to everyone and will actively rectify the situation. What I hope is that people will not lose hope in the City South project. We will still work hard to build the City South project well!'

As soon as Jiang Hao said this, the female reporter who had picked the head to support Jiang Hao hurriedly applauded, and immediately afterwards. Other people in the audience also followed suit and applauded.

Although the City South project had suffered a huge loss today, there was no doubt that Jiang Hao's words just now were still very impressive.

For many people, it is hard enough to admit mistakes and promise to rectify them, and more often than not, they choose to be sophomoric.

But Jiang Hao's words today really convinced everyone present.

And just for his courage to take the blame, he deserved the applause.

'Hey, hey, hey, what the hell do you guys think? He's the one responsible for the quality of the project, and you're applauding him? What the hell do you media want?' Seeing this, the man in the blue suit hurriedly got up and shouted.
