

Chapter 471

"You keep saying you're desperate, but tell me how you're desperate?"

Xie Xiangling wiped her tears and continued, "I was studying well in Kyoto, but my father suddenly called me to come home, and only after I went back did I find out that he wanted me to give up my studies and go back to get married."

"Some of the girls in our hometown get married pretty early, so I didn't think much of it at first and told them I didn't want to get married yet and that everything would wait until after college."

"But I didn't expect that the next day, my father would bring home a man who was almost fifty years old, the CEO of some public company, and my father said that our company was losing a lot of money and owed people a lot of money, and if I didn't marry, my whole family would have to sleep on the streets and drink on the northwest coast."

"Cousin, cousin's wife, I was really forced to do something, that's why I sneaked out from home, I have no family in Kyoto, I can't really find a fourth person to help except for the old lady and you guys."

Jenny Jing looked at her playfully, a smile seemingly in his eyes.

"You say your family's company is losing money badly and your father is forcing you to get married?"

"Yes."

"Does this have anything to do with you seducing your cousin in the slightest?"

Xie Xiangling: "....."

Her face gradually went from pale to red, almost from face to ear tips to neck, and the scene was embarrassing as hell.

Jenny Jing sat there, but he looked like he was in the clouds.

Playing with his slender white fingers, he lightly said, "Originally it was only a small matter for you to come and ask for our help with such a matter, but as far as I know, it's not once or twice over the years that you Yu Family has asked the Lu Family to wipe your asses for you in matters big and small."

"We're mindful of the fact that we're related, and you're Mom's own niece, so naturally it's not good to stand idly by, but this show you've made today is outrageous, and if I help you again, won't it seem like I'm easy to bully and can take advantage of just anyone?"

Xie Xiangling's body trembled slightly.

She suddenly thudded to her knees again, kowtowing heavily.

"Little sister-in-law, I was wrong! I was wrong! I'm the one who's obsessed! I have no shame! Please forgive me! I was really wrong."

In the meantime, she was crying so hard that Jenny was slightly sobbing.

She wasn't one for high spirits, and if there was someone she didn't like in her day-to-day life, she would at best ignore it.

Where did you learn this habit of kneeling down with people?

She said quietly, "Don't knock it, if people see you they'll think we've done something to you."

But it was as if Xie Xiangling couldn't hear, and was still kowtowing, and soon, her forehead was swollen with a small pouch.

Jenny's frown deepened, and with a wink to the maid standing beside her, someone immediately stepped forward to help her up.

"Miss Xie, don't kowtow, my young lady is said to be of the same generation as you, what are you going to say about our young lady if you let outsiders see her like this?"

Only then did Xie Xiangling stand up in tears, her clear and beautiful forehead was now swollen with a big bag, and her face was crying pear-shaped, so pitiful.

"Did you just say that your family's company is losing money badly? What's going on?"

Xie Xiangling's eyes flickered and she fidgeted, "I... I'm not sure about the specifics, but the family companies are all managed by Dad and my brother."

Jenny Jing turned to look at Biden Lu, "Do you know?"

In the meantime, Biden Lu is in Kyoto.

, and the Xie family was in Cloud City, so he wasn't very clear about what was going on in Cloud City.

So I shook my head, "I don't know."

Jenny chanted for a moment and asked, "Didn't you tell the old lady about this?"

Xie Xiangling mumbled, "I don't dare tell the old lady."

"Why?"

From the very beginning, Jenny felt strange, it was reasonable to say that whenever something happened in the Xie family in the past, the first person to look for it must be the old lady.

If even the old lady refused to help, wouldn't it be even more impossible to find her and Biden Lu?

Xie Xiangling's fingers strangled hard in front of her eyes, gluing a piece of fabric of her dress in front of her waist dead tight.

Only half a dozen times did he bite his lip and say, "My father said that if the old lady knew about this, she would definitely hate our family and wouldn't even help us in the future."

Jenny Jing's eyebrows rose, growing more and more curious.

"What the hell happened to your family? How can you be so sure that Grandma won't help you?"

Xie Xiangling pursed her lips and didn't speak.

Jenny was not in a hurry, his fingers had a lap or not, lightly clasping the armrest of the sofa, quietly watching her.

It took half a moment before she was embarrassed, "I heard... it seems like a new shipment from the company is being held at customs."

Jenny's eyebrows jumped.

Something was faintly wrong.

She thought carefully for a moment, and suddenly her face changed.

"Something was found in the shipment?"

Xie Xiangling's face swished and turned pale, even as she panicked and explained.

"No, we were wrongly accused by someone else, we were never the ones who put the stuff in that shipment, someone with an ulterior motive must have tried to frame our family and deliberately put that stuff in there."

"The goods were seized, the company couldn't deliver on time, it was losing a lot of money, and my dad was facing jail time, he said that if I didn't marry that Yan, our family would be totally ruined, on the other hand if I said yes, that Yan would not only help my dad not go to jail, but he would also pay a sum of money to help us fill the holes in the company."

"But I'm only in my twenties! I don't want to marry a man older than my father, little sister-in-law, I beg you to have mercy on me! Now I can't really get anyone else to help but you guys!"

Jenny Jing sank down and sneered, "But I still haven't figured out what this matter has to do with your previous actions? Or did you think that if you climbed into your cousin's bed, he'd be willing to help you?"

Xie Xiangling paled and lowered her head without speaking.

Jenny Jing looked at her lowered eyebrows and her gaze grew a little colder.

Another cold voice, "Or do you think that if you have something with him and use it as blackmail, you can make him feel so scrupulous that he'll have to help you even if he doesn't want to?"

As soon as this was said, Xie Xiangling stared in shock.

She looked at Jenny in horror, as if she had seen some terrifying monster.

Jenny Jing smiled mockingly, "No need to feel strange, I've seen far more devious tricks than you have, this little trick is not hard to guess with a little thought."

She drifted lightly, said, taking a cup and drinking tea, before continuing: "Your company's goods were detained in customs, the matter involves walking silk, if it is anything else, the old lady will certainly help you, but involved in such a matter concerning the laws of the country, you know, always innocent and acted fairly Lu family will not help."

Chapter 472

"They would most likely recommend that you submit it directly to the public prosecutor and deal with it impartially, and your own asses aren't clean, so even if this was set up by someone else, you certainly haven't done anything sneaky in your day-to-day life."

"If it is submitted to the Public Prosecutor's Office, all these things that have been covered up in the past will definitely be dug out, and then a wave will rise, and your Xie family will be truly finished."

"So, you guys were afraid to go that way on Mom's side, and couldn't make up your minds whether we would help you, so you put the idea in Biden Lu's head."

"As the world knows, we're husband and wife, and if you had something happen with him, even if it was just to shut you up, he'd take care of it for you."

"Maybe you can even use this as a leverage to demand more in the future, and as Mom's mother's relatives, Biden Lu can't drive you to extinction even if he's angry."

"So you have the Shang Fang Sword in your hands and you want to use it as a blackmail to make us in a dilemma and have to become the protector of your Yu Family, am I right?"

There was silence throughout the living room as the words were spoken.

It was as if you could hear a pin drop on the ground.

Xie Xiangling looked at Jenny with a white face and open, frightened eyes, unable to speak in a half-hearted manner.

And beside him, Biden Lu's face was completely sunken, incomparably livid.

No one would have thought that something so simple and simple to analyze would have such a dark and despicable truth to it.

Suddenly, a bang.

Everyone was shocked when the teacups were swept off the table.

Biden Lu stood up because of his anger, and his sharp eyes shot out a cold, cold light that seemed to freeze through.

"Auntie Liu, send her back to Yu's house! Tell them that in the future, we Lu Family will not interfere in any matter of the Xie Family!"

Aunt Liu immediately stepped forward and respectfully said, "Yes."

Jenny raised his eyebrows and didn't say anything.

Xie Xiangling, however, suddenly turned pale, a small face turning white as she jumped up and grabbed Biden Lu's sleeve.

"Cousin, you can't do that, we're relatives, if something happens to us, the dead aunt won't have a light on her face, you can't leave us alone!"

Biden Lu's eyes were cold, and in the next second, Aunt Liu stepped forward and forcefully broke Xie Xiangling's hand.

"Take the consequences of what you do yourself, don't tell me our two families are just cousins, even if we are relatives of the same root, this rule will not change!"

When he finished, he ignored her again and strode away.

Xie Xiangling could only pin her hopes on Jenny.

With tears streaming down his face, he begged, "Little sister-in-law, I beg you, even if you have pity on us, help us! I really don't want to marry that old man, and if I do marry him, my whole life will be ruined."

Jenny Jing said indifferently, "I might be able to say a few words about this family matter, but it's about the outside..."

She quirked her lips shallowly, "What's the point of begging me if your cousin won't help?"

"Little sister-in-law, cousin loves you the most, he will definitely listen to you, just help me persuade him, it will be okay."

"Oh? Is it?"

She raised her eyebrows and sneered, "Who just said that I was too low-born to be worthy of Biden Lu? And that I'm not as good as her own? In that case, I don't have the face to ask for any favors, after all, with a background like mine, it's hard to defend myself, let alone take care of others."

I was wrong, little sister-in-law, my mouth is cheap, I said it all, cousin loves you so much, as long as you say the words, he has no one!

Not listening."

"Little sister-in-law, just for the sake of the same woman, please help me! I really don't want to marry that old man, I'll be grateful and repay you later!"

Jenny frowned, but in the end, she didn't agree.

"Instead of looking for me, why don't you go and confess this to the old lady! After all, she's always been good to your Xie family, and with your lifelong happiness at stake, she won't sit idly by."

Finished, never giving her another chance to speak, and stepped away.

Back upstairs, I saw Biden Lu standing in front of the window, on the phone with a frosty face.

She didn't bother, but ordered the maid to bring two cups of tea and sat down on the sofa next to her, sipping at them without a sip.

It didn't take long to see him hanging up the phone and walking towards her.

Jenny Jing put down his tea cup and smiled as he asked, "Finished playing?"

Biden Lu didn't say anything, tensing his face, and he could tell he was still angry.

She quirked an eyebrow and said nothing, taking a cushion and tucking it behind her waist.

In the meantime, Biden Lu saw the faintly imperceptible frown, came over and bent over to stuff her pillow and asked, "Is your back sore again?"

She nodded, "Yeah, I didn't take a good nap and I'm sore and tired."

"Then go back to sleep."

"Can't sleep."

Lu Jing deeply looked at her, Jenny was a little terrified by what he saw and stepped back a little.

"What are you looking at me like that for?"

"I'm sorry, just now..."

"I know that."

She sighed, "But I'm still angry, why do you think there are just so many women staring at you?"

I can stop it once, but I can't stop it a hundred times! In the future..."

No sooner had the words been spoken than a large palm suddenly clasped the back of his head, followed by a k*ss that fell.

The breath in her mouth was taken away in an instant, leaving her with a fiery lingering sensation.

Jenny gradually softened, her hands gripping the man's shirt, her feathered eyelashes quivering.

It took a long moment before the man released her.

She took a few light breaths, her clear little face flushed, and gave him a coquettish stare.

"What's going on?"

Biden Lu eased his face, a smile curving the corners of his mouth, "Nothing, just wanting to k*ss you."

Jenny's eyes were even more coquettish as she looked at him, and deep within those watery eyes, there was still a hint of the emotion from the k*ss earlier.

Biden Lu's throat tightened, feeling a stirring somewhere in his body.

It had to be said that in addition to Jenny's own fatal attraction to him, the decadent tonic meal at lunch today was also effective.

Thinking of this, his eyes chilled once again.

That woman is so scheming and terrible that it's ridiculous to expect the Lu family to pull her out of the abyss!

"Eh, do you think we should talk to Grandma about this? After all, it involves the Shea family, it's one thing to help or not, at least let Grandma know about it."

Lu Jing deepened his eyes and looked at her, chanting.

"I'll talk."

He straightened up, pulled out his mobile phone, and called the old lady.

The old lady was shaking with anger since she had briefly told the story over the phone.

Chapter 473

Biden Lu analyzed a few more things with her on the phone, and although he said he wouldn't help the Xie family, it's still important to find out what's going on.

After all, no matter what, Lu's mother is also a direct relative of the Xie family, although long since passed away, but the relationship is still there, in case things really make a scene, inevitably affected by the ripples.

After he hung up, he squared his gaze back to her face.

Leaning down and kissing her on the lips, he whispered, "I'm going out this afternoon, so you rest at home and call me if you need anything. Hmm?"

Jenny nodded.

There was a pause, and an uneasy handing over, "You be careful."

Biden Lu smiled, didn't say anything, and turned to walk away.

It was almost evening when Jenny received the call.

Said the Shea's found out that the stuff really wasn't put there by them, it was a mall competitor.

But in addition to that, some other things were also found, some of the things that Xie Xiangling's father had used to make huge profits over the years.

There was no mercy from the old woman in the handling of this matter.

Xie Xiangling's family, really, could only be considered cousins of Mother Lu, and couldn't even be compared to Xie Snap's kind of direct relatives.

Her father, who was a cousin of Mother Lu, so over the years, the old lady had helped them out, overtly and covertly, as long as it didn't touch on principles.

But it was unexpected that they would in turn come to countenance the land family like this.

It really is a doom and gloom feud.

The matter was quickly dealt with with the intervention of the Land family.

Xie Xiangling, due to the old woman's meddling, did not marry the fifty-year-old man after all, but continued to go to school in Kyoto.

But the Xie family collapses, noting that there's no way she can live as a golden branch as she used to, as a lady.

And because of the seduction of Biden Lu, the old lady felt even more that she didn't know how to behave and had disgraced the Xie family, and she didn't even pay much attention to her.

She had an even harder time.

But no one cares anymore, no matter how hard life is, it's just asking for it, not to mention that the so-called sadness is just not being able to spend as much money as before and going in and out of some fancy places.

It's still so much better than the average student.

It was a month later after dealing with all of this.

Biden Lu's injuries had almost healed, and Jenny Jing's fetal image was beginning to show, so under the doctor's advice, he didn't run around anymore, but stayed at home to nurse the baby at ease.

The K thing hasn't been resolved yet, but she's pregnant and now that she's back, there's no way she's going to make another trip to F specifically for this.

Going back and forth not to mention whether the Lu family and others were relieved or not, the body was also a bit overwhelmed.

Thus, this matter could only be investigated by Biden Lu's people in F country for the time being.

The good news was that because it also involved the Zhuge Family, Zhuge Liuyong was also interested in finding out what happened, so there was some chance of winning.

Time passed and in the blink of an eye it was New Year's Eve again.

Jenny had previously promised to accompany An'an to release river lanterns, and heard that there were river lanterns being released over there in the suburbs this Spring Festival, so after the New Year's Eve dinner, the family drove to the suburbs.

It was rare that the old lady and the old man liked to have a good time, so they went along.

The five of them drove only one car, with Biden Lu driving the car himself, Jenny Jing sitting in the passenger seat, and the old lady and the old man sitting in the back with Ann.

The car drove on the busy streets, during the New Year, the sound of music in the street shops, the sound of discounts and promotions, a loud, plus the roadside trees wrapped around a lot of colored lights, a scene of fireworks, very lively.

The car drove slowly, and before long, it was near the river.

Three rivers merge into one through the centre of the city, giving the city a unique view of the mountains and water.

River lanterns have been an ancient custom here for a long time, and in other places they are released on the 15th day of the first lunar month, which is the ancient festival of Shang Yuan, but here they are released within the first lunar month, regardless of the first few days, as long as it is before the 15th day of the first lunar month.

So every year from the first day of the Chinese New Year to the 15th day of the first month, the entire moat is filled with river lanterns, and countless men, women and children come to make a wish.

Willows on both sides of the river, many shops are decorated in an ancient style, a taste of the ancient smoky south of the Yangtze River, over time, but also developed into a tourist attraction.

The Lu family were all locals and had seen such a grand spectacle so often that they were not surprised.

But Jenny had been in Visterdem before, and for such a view, it was rare.

The river is long and runs through the city, with quaint shops along the entire length of the river.

There are bars, small shops selling jewellery and stuff, shops selling local produce and snacks, restaurants and more.

Most of the people who come here for fun are foreigners, but there are also many locals.

Biden Lu went to buy five river lanterns to come over, one for each of the five people, and took them to the river.

It was hard to squeeze through the crowd of people who were saving to get to the river, but the location couldn't stand five people at once after all, so five people were scattered.

The old lady and the old man were squeezed over to the crowd side with An An, and Jenny Jing and Biden Lu were over here.

Jenny took out a thick black water pen and handed it to him, smiling, "What do you want to wish for?"

Biden Lu looked at her and handed the pen back, "You write first."

"No, I you write first."

Biden Lu paused and took the pen, "Okay."

He picked up the river lamp and swished it a few times and wrote a line on it.

Jenny leaned over to take a look and couldn't resist a puff of laughter.

"What a wish this is! Don't waste this opportunity, okay? It doesn't count!"

Biden Lu put the river lamp into the water in a serious manner, "How does it not count?"

"Of course not! It's, it's an unrealistic wish."

The man raised an eyebrow.

"Can something like a wish be called a wish if it's at your fingertips in reality?"

Jenny was startled and looked up at him.

The night is slightly cool, the colorful lights on the river bank, reflecting his deep features, handsome eyebrows, long body standing there, just a glance, can make countless girls banging heart.

An inexpressible emotion suddenly rose in her heart.

Standing on tiptoe, I k*ssed him at the chin.

Biden Lu bowed his head and looked at her.

Jenny smiled at him, drew away his pen and wrote a line on the river lamp.

"I hope he wished for his wish to come true."

The man's eyes moved and he took her hand.

Jenny put the river lantern into the water and smiled, "Double security, the gods will hear us."

His voice was a little hoarse, "Jenny."

"Well?"

Jenny turned his head, and the next second, his lips were blocked by two warm lips.

After all, it was outside and there were so many other people around, but he didn't kiss her very deeply, a kiss that was a little heavier than a dragonfly and quickly released.
