

Chapter 48

He'd always thought that Jenny couldn't race cars at all.

That's why he didn't hesitate to refuse when she made the request at first.

Later, though, after hearing about that bet, the ghosts agreed to it without much expectation in mind.

But I didn't know this woman was good at it!

Looking at the car clinging to the back, Kepler didn't know why, but remembered the woman who was wearing a mask and cowering behind Jenny a few minutes ago.

Those eyes, like a hook made of old wine, easily brought up many of the complex emotions of hatred in his heart.

Damn it!

How dare she show up in front of him!

Kepler pounded the steering wheel, his face gloomy as hell.

Want to have dinner with him?

Heh.Dream on!

His lips quirked in a grim smile and he looked into the rearview mirror.

The car behind continued to cling on, and I could see that the driver was skilled.

But so what if you have some skills?

He will never lose!

Never give that woman, another chance to get close enough to him to hurt him!

Thinking of this, Kepler's foot on the accelerator once again exerted power and accelerated.

In the back of the car, Jenny looked at the racing car that suddenly picked up speed in front of him with an easy face.

Gee, dude is so nonchalant, he seems to want to win the championship so badly!

Unfortunately, today he had the bad luck to meet her!

There's a sharp 90-degree turn ahead.

Jenny pinched the time and counted that it was almost time, but suddenly his face was solemn, and he slammed down on the accelerator, making a beautiful drifting turn and swishing to the side of Kepler.

Inside the car, the man was clearly surprised.

The pair of eyebrows that were already cold and steely became even colder.

The foot pressed on and continued to pick up speed.

Jenny followed suit to similarly pick up speed.

Outside the stadium, the players on both sides were stunned as they watched the game time situation projected on the big screen.

Oh, God, oh, God, oh, God!

Finally, someone could compete with Kepler.

Although there was no winner yet, at least someone had already broken the myth that Kepler was unsurpassable.

It's horrible! This is so exciting!

The most excited were of course the members of the Dark Horse team.

I didn't have much hope for Jenny, but I didn't expect to give them a huge surprise!

My God, the speed of the hand, the strength of the hand!

Even the Luke of four years ago didn't have the strength, okay?

Ahhhhhhhh!! Luke will always be the strongest, well, only in our hearts though.

As we neared the end of the line, the two cars remained side by side, not yielding to each other.

Kepler's feet were secretly pushing hard, preparing for the final sprint.

But just then, the car next to it suddenly roared and moved even faster, swishing and whistling towards the front.

He stared.

Damn!

This woman got to me first!

But it was too late to pick up any more speed, as both cars crossed the finish line almost simultaneously, and by 0.04 seconds, the Blacks won!

Everyone was stunned.

I can't believe it!

A four-time reigning driver was actually overtaken by a girl and won the title!

Oh, my God! What is this breaking news? It was so exciting!

The crowd was quiet for several seconds before a tidal wave of cheers and screams rang out.

It was really too fast for people to react.

When the reaction came, I saw Kepler get out of the car with a gloomy face under the cheers of the whole crowd.

Jenny also got out of the car, still with that smiling look, took off his helmet, unrestrainedly threw his long ponytail, a pair of valiant look does not know how many boys charmed.

She walked over to the Black Horses with her helmet and smiled at Lu Yanzhi, "How was it? I'm not lying to you!"

Lu Yanzhi looked at her with complicated eyes.

Instead, the other team members were more excited than Lu Yanzhi showed.

A group of people surrounded Jenny in the middle, and if it wasn't for the fact that she was a girl and everyone was inconvenienced by the old men, they would have wanted to lift her up and cheer.

After the race is over, it's time to collect the prize.

As the champion, Kingning deserved to be pushed out by the team.

But this was meant to be a race as a team, and naturally the honor belongs to the entire team.

By the time Jenny Jing received his award, the people on Kepler's side had already dispersed.

She returns with the trophy and finds Lu Yanzhi, giving him the championship trophy.

"Isn't it about time you made good on your promise, Landlord?"

Lu Yanzhi looked at her and nodded affirmatively.

"You did it, and I'll do what I promised you, but Hidden River Fang Hua Lu is something I've been working on for years, and even if it's just a female third, it could ruin the whole show if it's not played well.

So I only agreed to give you a chance to compete fairly, and if you have that strength, the role is naturally yours, otherwise I wouldn't have agreed to give it to you even if I had to take the blame for treachery."

Jenny laughed.

"Of course, I'm not expecting to completely take the role down with just a race car, so don't worry, all I want is a fair chance to compete, and when I'm free, I'll just bring someone over to audition."

Lu Yanzhi nodded, "Tomorrow morning! I'll wait for you at the office."

"Okay, it's a deal!"

Only after making an appointment with Lu Yanzhi did Jenny think of Nina Hua.

But after looking left and right, there was no sign of her.

She originally thought that Nina Hua was on the Flying Eagles' side.

But spreading his eyes, he could only see Kepler's gloomy face, walking inside under the crowd of his teammates, not even seeing half of Nina Hua's shadow.

She didn't frown.

Where did she go?

Jenny Jing pulled out his mobile phone to call Nina Hua, but no one answered, so he had no choice but to ask someone from Black Horse to help him find it.

After all, this side of the racetrack was in a remote location, and she was a girl and an actress, so it would be difficult if something happened.

On this side, Jenny sent people around to look for him, while on the other side, the car park.

Nina Hua bent over and quietly found his car.

I felt the keys in my pocket, pressed the unlock, and was about to get into the car.

An arm, however, suddenly reached over her head and slammed down on the car door.

Her heart thudded.

When I turned around, I really saw the man with the cold brow standing behind me.

It was silent all around, and compared to the hustle and bustle of that side, this side of the car park was significantly more desolate and silent.

The dim street lights shine far away, in the dark night like a few ripe egg yolks, instead of making people feel warm and bright, but rather adding a hint of desolation and desolation.

Nina Hua barely smiled and straightened up.

“What are you doing out here?”

She bowed her head slightly, not looking directly at him, and though she was already doing her best to appear calm, the tautness of her body and the slight tremor in her voice betrayed her nervousness.

Kepler withdrew his hand and stuck it in his trousers pocket, looking at her condescendingly.

His face wasn't the gentle, handsome, angular kind, it was cold and wild, and when it was expressionless, it was even more aloof and cold.

“Not trying to have dinner with me?The race is won, so why run?”

Chapter 49

Nina Hua stalled.

I thought to myself, “I didn't make that bet!

But after all, Jenny is her good sister, and is still determined to help her with the red thread.

Moreover, when she made the bet, she herself also stood out, so it's naturally not a good time to play scoundrel and go back on her word.

Nina Hua gathered the shredded hair by his ears and coughed.

"That...I didn't run! I just, just came over to get something, um, I came to the car to get something."

It was repeated with a certainty.

Kepler sneered with disdain.

The doors were unlocked and he pulled right out and got in the passenger side.

Nina Hua was a bit confused.

Seeing that the woman was still standing there, he stared at her with cold eyes and said impatiently, "What are you still standing there for? Not going to dinner?"

Nina Hua:

She reacted with an "oh" and tried to get into the car, but suddenly realized that the car belonged to Jenny and she wasn't driving.

If she drives the car away, how will Jenny go back later?

So, only to look at the man sitting in the passenger seat who was ready to close his eyes and weakly ask, "That... this isn't my car, can we go in your car?"

Kepler:....

fu*k!

Jenny Jing didn't look for long before he received a call from Nina Hua.

They told her they had to go first, gave her the keys to the car that she left with the security guard in the car park, and then hung up.

Jenny Jing originally wanted to ask her if she wanted to wait for Kepler to make good on his promise, but she hung up too quickly and was unable to do so.

But then she heard that Kepler left after the game, she checked the time and found that it was about the same, so her heart was a little clearer.

So, without bothering her anymore, she went to get the car herself and left after making an appointment with Lu Yanzhi for a specific time.

When I got home, it was ten o'clock at night.

Surprisingly Biden Lu was not there.

Given that the last time she had worked late and forgotten to report to him, the man had driven straight to her office to pick up someone, this time Jenny had texted him in advance.

But he didn't realize that he wasn't the only one who came home late.

Jenny found Aunt Liu, who smiled and said, "Mr. Liu called back at dinner and said that he had a very important transatlantic meeting at the office tonight, so he won't be back so early."

Jenny nodded his head.

Without saying anything else, he went straight upstairs.

After a tiring day, it's natural to want to take a shower and rest when you get home.

Jenny took his pajamas and walked into the bathroom.

On the other hand, Nina Hua and Kepler had arrived at the restaurant where they were eating.

It's an open-air, candlelit restaurant.

The restaurant is located on the first floor, with a clear moon overhead, a vast river in the distance, romantic candlelight all around, and a small stage in front of it with a cellist elegantly playing a melodious and beautiful tune.

If you ignore the man across the street who is always cold, this is indeed a perfect romantic venue for a couple's date.

The waiter brought up the food ordered by the two, and Nina Hua thanked him softly.

When she arrived, she was no longer fully armed and removed her mask, leaving only a hat.

The wide brim of the hat covers her eyes and eyebrows, leaving only her straight nose and pink lips, and her graceful jaw is slightly raised.

Kepler's ink pupils were slightly deep, and a touch of coldness crossed the bottom of his dark eyes.

All the way over from the racing track, Nina Hua had gradually eased down from his initial nervousness.

But spare her a little bit of the situation.

It was obviously outdoors, but for some reason, it just felt like the air around it was so oppressive, as if even the space seemed cramped and overwhelming.

The atmosphere was silent and awkward.

Especially in an al fresco restaurant like this, the majority of couples come.

In contrast to the loving couples around them, the two of them were growing increasingly distant and cold as hell.

A waiter with roses came over and bent slightly with a respectful smile, "Sir, would you like to buy a bouquet of flowers for your girlfriend? 11 flowers, symbolizing a lifetime oh."

Kepler was cold-eyed, "No!"

The waiter seemed to think there was something strange about this couple, sitting here eating without saying a word, and the man looked fierce.

To lighten the mood, he laughed again, "It's okay, we can order songs over there, sir, why don't you order a song for your girlfriend? It'll seem so romantic in this setting listening to a song ordered by your lover himself!"

Kepler raised his head and stared at him icily.

The gaze, like that of a wolf in the wilderness, was cold and ghostly in the darkness of the night.

The attendant was in a state of shock, only to feel a chill down his spine.

Then, I heard the man slowly say word by word, "She is not my girlfriend, how many times do I have to tell you? No. Use! Roll-!"

The waitress finally realizes that the man in front of her is not only mean, he's also not nice!

The face changed slightly, and the rose was carried away in a hurry.

Nina Hua looked at this scene and in the end felt a little unable to hang onto his face.

Whispering, I said, "I'm going to the bathroom."

Then, they got up and hurried away.

Looking at the back of the woman leaving, Kepler did not speak, but his eyes darkened.

Inside the washroom, Nina Hua was desperately taking deep breaths.

It was as if it was the only way to give temporary relief to her long-suppressed heart.

The phone in the bag suddenly rang.

She pulled it out and saw that it was Jenny.

The corners of my eyes, which had been a little sore, were hard and held back.

"Hey, Ninian."

"How's it going, UWM? Isn't it fun to date the man-god?"

Nina Hua barely smiled.

Happy?

Maybe!

Unfortunately, he looks very unhappy!

That's right, the person he hates the most in this life should be himself, obviously he had promised never to appear in front of him again, and now not only broke the promise, but also forced him to eat a candlelight dinner with her, he should hate her so much, right!

Nina Hua felt that the corners of his sore eyes were going to be sore again.

She pressed down hard even.

Can't cry, my makeup took over two hours to put on today, and when I cried, it was spent.

She tilted her head up and it took a few seconds to hold back her tears.

On the other side, Jenny heard her remain silent, and thought something had happened.

"Distant? Are you okay?"

Nina Hua replied evenly, "I'm fine, I'm going to the bathroom!"

"That's good, how are you making progress?"

"Not so good, it's not like you don't know, he's so cold, he could sit with you for a few, what can I do?"

Jenny despised a Huh.

"Why don't you start the conversation? Miss Hua, the most sought-after celebrity in Visterdem, isn't it true that you're always good at creating conversation and opening up situations? Think of all those men chasing after your ass, believing in your charm! As long as you're willing to exert that little bit of charm, even if he's an old Bodhi immortal, he'll abandon the Buddha for you!"

Nina Hua was so amused by her that he couldn't help but puff out a laugh.

Chapter 50

The original depressed mood was washed away a lot.

"Well, you're right, but I forgot how to work the charm, so why don't you teach me?"

Jenny Jing is not afraid of her provoking herself, said: "OK, for the happiness of my sisters, I'm not afraid of the knife and fire, you wait ha, I hang up the phone with you to open the video."

Jenny hung up the phone and clicked on the video, which was quickly connected.

Across the room, Nina Hua was leaning on the sink with her arms folded, looking at her with an amused expression.

"Sister, come on! Start your show."

The two of them grew up together, and have long been used to being shameless and shameless in private.

Jenny wasn't afraid, so he put his phone on the shelf and started performing on the video.

Some gross and exaggerated 8 o'clock lines + earthy sentiments.

What years I haven't seen you, I've missed you.

They think my world is full of company, only I know it's only you!

You are the white moonlight of my heart, you are the iridescence of my life.

I'm sorry for liking you all these years without your permission!

One loves the creek because one has never seen the ocean. And now I can finally say that I have seen the Milky Way, but I still only love you as a star.

As Jenny read out these rote lines one by one, not even noticing that a door was slowly opening behind him.

Biden Lu came back from work and heard that Jenny had arrived home, and went upstairs while removing his tie.

I didn't expect to see that when I pushed the door open.

I saw a woman in a nightgown in the dim light, making movements to caress her body against the bookshelf.

All the while doing it, wiggling her tiny little waist and chanting.

What you're my heart, you're my liver, you're three quarters of me.

Without you, it's like the night has lost its light, the fish has lost its water, and life is meaningless.

Loving you is like a moth to a flame, and there's no place I'd rather be than in your heart....

emmmmm....

In short, it's hard to explain.

In the video, Nina Hua was originally still watching.

But I don't know when it started, but the eyes got more and more wrong.

Jenny Jing noticed that she was distracted, stopped her movements and said with dissatisfaction, "Hey, Miss Hua, I'm performing so hard, can you give some focus just as a sign of respect for the results of my performance?"

Nina Hua laughed awkwardly.

"Jenny, you... have a new boyfriend?"

"How do you know?"

Nina Hua pointed behind her.

Jenny stiffened.

Eye towards the lower right corner of your own side of the picture.

In the next second, pupils dilated as if struck by a thunderclap, frozen on the spot.

I saw Biden Lu standing there with his jacket on his arm and his own tie in his other hand, standing long and tall.

With a smile on his lips and what seemed to be a hint of banter in his deep eyes, he stood upright and smiled at her.

Jenny suddenly had an urge to die!

She snapped off the video, then turned sharply and stared at him with wide eyes.

With great difficulty, Biden Lu held back a smile, placed his jacket and tie on the chair beside him, and came toward her.

"Honey, I really didn't expect you to miss me so much when I wasn't home."

Jenny deflated her mouth, about to cry with anger.

"Biden Lu, why didn't you knock when you went into the bedroom?"

Biden Lu raised his eyebrows, a little puzzled, "This is my house, we are husband and wife, there's nothing we can't see, why should I knock on the door?"

Jenny:

Good gas!

But what if he seems to have a point?

She had no tears to cry.

The smile under Biden Lu's eyes was even deeper.

"Wife, in fact, if you really need, you can tell your husband, no need to be shy, my husband will definitely meet you, shut yourself in the house alone to relieve, this effect is not good but also hurt the body, know?"

One of Jenny's little faces burst into red.

Realizing that he had misunderstood something, he even explained.

"I, no, it's... it's not what you think!"

"So how was it?"

He took a slow step toward her.

Within a few steps, she was at her heels.

Strong testosterone hit the tip of his nose with a cool scent that belonged solely to him, causing one of Jenny's faces to redden even more.

She fidgeted, not knowing how to explain.

It can only be nonsense: "I'm not, I'm not, don't talk nonsense."

"Nonsense?"

Biden Lu laughed lightly and suddenly leaned down, one hand supporting the side of her face, the other hand taking a picture from where she had just put her phone.

"How dare you say you didn't miss me after locking yourself in your bedroom alone in the middle of the night and saying such carnal things to my picture? Hmm?"

His voice was low, with a silky darkness, but it was s*xy as hell.

Jenny kept blushing from her cheeks to the base of her neck.

She had just put her phone away, but was casually looking for an easier place to stand.

Where did you notice his picture in there?

But at this point, there's no point in explaining, how else might this narcissistic man point out his brain!

She could only change the subject as she backed away.

"I'm, I'm done talking to you, I'm going to bed!"

Afterwards, turn around to leave.

But the wrist was suddenly held by the man.

Jenny was shocked, and only then did she notice that she had unknowingly retreated to the edge of the bed.

The bend of her leg knocked against the edge of the bed, and she screamed in pain, her leg going weak and falling right back onto the bed.

Biden Lu originally wanted to retrieve her, but Jenny Jing, in a panic, tugged at her collar.

His centre of gravity was suddenly unsteady, but she took him with her and planted him on the bed.

With a soft "poof," the two fell heavily onto the bed, and before they could react, a warm, soft touch came over their lips, and Jennyton stared at them.

The surrounding silence, the light is dim, Biden Lu pressed on her body, handsome face also flashed a trace of consternation, but the lips are close to her, warm and soft touch as if with a slight electric current, with a puffy electricity into the brain.

The bedroom door was open and there were footsteps.

In the next second, Aunt Liu appeared in the bedroom doorway.

"Sir, there's a call from Tito...ah!"

A short scream.

Jenny finally reacted, pushing the man on her away and getting up, she saw Aunt Liu waving her hands in a panic.

"Yes, I'm sorry, I saw the bedroom door open and I came in, I, I... Mr. and Mrs., you go on! I'm going down first!"

Finish up and fall away.

Jenny:

She closed her eyes and took a deep breath.

Turning his head, he glared viciously at Biden Lu.

"You!"

Biden Lu shrugged his shoulders innocently, indicating that he wasn't to blame for this either.

Jenny was so angry that his stomach hurt.

It ended with Jenny going down to Aunt Liu to explain.

Biden Lu is indifferent, the explanation is fine, anyway, they are husband and wife, Aunt Liu is someone who has been here, so naturally she will not believe her words.

It would just feel like she was trying to cover up because she was shy.

Thinking of that k*ss, the man reached up and caressed his lips, the soft, sticky touch as if it were still there, as sweet and wonderful as ever.

He quirked his lips and got up to go to his study.
