

Chapter 5056

May 47 breathed a sigh of relief, and quickly said:

“Inspector Li, no matter what questions you have,”

“As long as I know, I will say everything.”

May 47 has long hated the organization that controls his own destiny.

To the core, he even looked forward to Charlie finding the resident of his own line of dead men,

And helping him saving his wife, children, and family by the way, so he naturally cooperated with Duncan.

Duncan nodded, and without too much nonsense, he went straight to the point and said:

“The most urgent task now is to find a way to find out the location of your station on the map.

Before that, I don't know if you have any valuable clues to follow that you can share?”

May 47 shook his head and said, "To tell you the truth, Detective Li,"

"I have been thinking about this issue for a while,"

"But the organization was too cautious and didn't let me leave any valuable information."

Duncan smiled slightly, took out the list of major natural disasters that he had sorted out,

And asked him, "Mr. 47, how old are you this year?"

May 47 hurriedly said: "Going back to Detective Li,"

"I will arrive at the age of thirty-six this year or between the ages of thirty-eight."

Duncan asked curiously, "How did you calculate your age?"

May 47 explained: "There is a secretly recorded 'calendar' inside the dead man."

"I have roughly recorded the time of my own work and rest,"

"But since there is no absolute reference standard, there are still some errors."

Duncan nodded and said, "Then let's count it according to the age of thirty-eight."

Thirty-five years of major natural disasters have been sorted out,”

“And while looking at the entry, he asked:

“From your birth to the last time you left the station, has your station moved or changed?”

“No.” May 47 replied: “The place where I was born is an underground fortification,”

“That I don’t know where or how deep it is. I haven’t migrated for so many years.”

Duncan asked again: “Then in your memory, have there ever been a very strong disaster? earthquake?”

“Big earthquake?” May 47 thought about it and said,

“There has been a relatively strong earthquake, but it has been many years.”

“Many years?” Duncan asked again: “How many years are many years?”

May 47 frowned and thought for a moment, then said,

“It’s about twenty years, but my timeline may deviate from reality to a certain extent.”

“The difference between positive and negative is within two years.”

Duncan nodded and stretched out his hand to take the 2008 China, Japan in 2011, and several items closer to the timeline were crossed out, and then he said:

“In this case, you can exclude the surrounding areas of Japan, as well as the central and southwestern parts of China.”

After speaking, he saw the entry for Indonesia in 2004 and asked:

“Does the earthquake in your memory feel strong?”

May 47 said without hesitation: “It was very strong,”

“And even brought a lot of damage to our station at that time,”

“Some people were injured, and some people even died.”

Duncan’s eyes lit up, and he said excitedly: “That might be the Indonesian tsunami in 2004.”

He took out the map, found the epicenter of the Indonesian tsunami on it, and muttered:

“The epicenter at that time, In western Indonesia, the earthquake was felt in many countries and regions,”

“But the earthquake in your area was relatively strong, and it should be around the Indian Ocean, and it may even be in Indonesia.”

“However, in 2003, Hokkaido, Japan, and the Solomon Islands had a magnitude of 7. For the above earthquakes, a magnitude 7.8 earthquake also occurred in Pakistan in 2005,”

“And your timeline is not precise enough, so there may be some deviations here.”

Having said that, he looked at May 47 and asked, “Then this earthquake, do you have any other clues?”

“Other clues?” May 47 was silent for a moment, then shook his head and said,

“There are no clues, although the earthquake was scary,”

“But after all, no one died, so we did not take it too much to our heart.”

Duncan looked at the map and asked, “If the earthquake you are talking about is the tsunami in Indonesia,”

“You live underground. Have there been any flooding accidents after the earthquake?”

“Water penetration...” May 47 pondered for a moment, suddenly remembered something, and blurted out:

“There was indeed a water penetration accident at that time,”

“And the entire station was filled with at least 20 cm thick water. The water was taken away.”

When Duncan heard this, he couldn't help asking him excitedly: “Was the water salty?”
