

Nothing to Give but My Heart Chapter 507-512

Chapter 507

“The truth?” Lin Qingqing’s eyes were not only hidden, but also with tears. When she looked at Stella, she happened to see Walter standing behind her. With a cold complexion and a strong aura, he should have been incompatible with the personality here.

But she doesn’t know why, it may be that she was detained for too long, so she had hallucinations.

She always felt that Walter at this moment merged Stella into his own world.

Why? Why on earth?

Lin Qingqing watched this scene, tears almost falling, she bit her lower lip and looked at Stella bitterly.

“Why? Although...you are very beautiful, but I don’t think I’m much worse than you. You can design, but I also have a lot. Why does he just like you?”

There was an aggrieved look on her face. For a moment, after Lin Qingqing saw that Walter had really integrated Stella into her aura, she was really sad.

Stella was still expressionless, and said lightly.

“You would say that I robbed your blind date, just because you think I met through your blind date, right?”

Lin Qingqing asked, “Isn’t it?”

“No.” Stella denied her directly, as if sighing, Stella slowly said: “I didn’t know him through your blind date.”

“What do you mean?” Lin Qingqing stared at her, a little confused.

Stella said again: “To be precise, I recognized him a long time ago.”

“Long ago, when was long ago? Do you want to lie to me?” Lin Qingqing bit her lower lip, hating her deeper.

Stella shook her head and counted it carefully: “Counting out, we hadn’t seen each other for five years. The day you went on a blind date with him, I saw him again, it was just a reunion.”

“What? Reunion? Five years??” Lin Qingqing couldn’t believe her ears. She thought she had misheard, her pale lips opened, and she said in disbelief, “How is this possible? Maybe it’s a reunion? You didn’t know each other at the time, or did I introduce your identity? Stella! Did you deliberately make up stories to deceive me to make me apologize to you?”

Even Mother Lin on the side looked at Stella in surprise.

This girl has really known Walter for five years? It’s really unexpected.

“It doesn’t matter to me whether you apologize to me or not. Because I don’t care if you will be kept here all the time. The person who really cares about your being kept here is your mother. Miss Lin, I and Ye Walter was indeed reunited that day, and I did know him for more than five years. I have explained this clearly. Do you still think that I robbed you of your blind date? In the beginning, he gave you hope?”

Lin Qingqing lowered her eyes.

Did he give her hope?

No.

There has never been.

From the first minute of the blind date, she could feel that every cell of Walter was rejecting her. He didn't want to have a blind date with her, but later he gave her a little face because of her request.

It was her, she had been dreaming that she could conquer this man.

He didn't feel what it was like in the unexpected world or the other party, whether he liked her even a little bit.

Since she had so little hope, it was when Stella appeared, because she saw light in Walter's eyes.

Yes, it is light!

At that time, Lin Qingqing thought that he was interested in her identity as a designer, and excitedly pushed Stella's business card to Walter.

However, it was unexpected that Walter was interested in Stella, not her designer identity.

If the two of them are reuniting, then what she did is to assist the two to rekindle again.

Now that she thinks about it carefully, her behavior is really stupid, which makes people laugh!

Do not!

“No, it’s not the case, how could it be like this?” Thinking of this, Lin Qingqing stepped back unacceptably, and slumped to the ground. She looked at Stella and kept shaking her head: “I don’t believe, how it is possible? How is it possible?”

“Qingqing!” Seeing her fall to the ground, Mother Lin couldn’t bear to step forward to support her, wiping tears.

Stella looked at her like this, although she said that she didn’t believe it, she obviously believed it in her heart.

It’s just that she can’t accept it now.

She whispered: “I’ve said what I want to say. It’s your business to think about it. The court will be held in two hours. You still have time to confess.”

After speaking, Stella stopped looking at her, turned around and left.

Walter glanced at the mother and daughter deeply, and then left.

Song An glanced at the back of the two of them leaving, and finally walked towards Lin’s mother and daughter, and then squatted down in front of Lin Qingqing.

“Aunt Song wants to apologize to you for this incident. They did know each other before. They were not only acquaintances, but were also together five years ago. Walter was married five years ago, you know? “

Lin Qingqing’s lips trembled: “Could it be that... she is the ex-wife that the crowd said?”

Song An nodded heavily.

Lin Qingqing suddenly laughed: “So, she is Walter’s ex-wife? No wonder...no wonder...he looked at her differently that day, no wonder when I said Stella’s name, he promised me to come out. I thought he changed his mind about me later, and I had a chance, but I didn’t expect...he turned out to be for her.”

“I don’t know she will show up here. I always think you are a good girl and should be able to warm Walter’s heart. However, this sulfuric acid incident is so bad that even Aunt Song cannot forgive you. You are a Girl, not a little woman who is so vicious that she can only calculate.”

“Aunt Song, I...” Lin Qingqing opened her pale lips, unable to say a word.

“Your mother took a lot of effort to save you. If you don’t know about confession, then you really don’t think about it. There are two hours left, so be it yourself.”

After speaking, Song An patted Lin Qingqing on the shoulder, then turned and walked out.

The sun outside was shining, and the wind blew Stella’s long hair behind her shoulders. She stood there watching the cars coming and going, but her heart slowly calmed down.

She was thinking if she was Lin Qingqing.

Will she feel like her blind date has been robbed?

To be honest, without knowing the truth, she would.

But, will she splash the other party’s sulfuric acid?

Stella closed her eyes and took a deep breath.

She can guarantee that she will not.

After all, back then, when her first marriage was visited by Xiaosan, she chose to leave with her tail tucked in dingy, and she had no ability to fight back.

Why? Because...

Chapter 508

That man doesn't love her at all.

Since his heart is not on her, then she... why bother to do something to hurt others for him?

"Do you regret it?" A cold voice came from behind, and Stella turned her head to see Walter standing behind her.

She smiled faintly, "What do you regret?"

Walter stared at her calmly, before saying, "My original intention is not to let her go."

"I know." Stella nodded, "But her mother and your aunt still hope you can open the Internet."

"Then what about you?" Walter suddenly changed the subject, staring at her with his eyes fixedly: "What do you want me to do? Do you want me to be open to her?"

Stella: "..."

Why can this person always pull the question to her? She looked at him silently for a while before saying: "Didn't you already know my answer?"

Hearing, Walter's thin lips couldn't help but raised, and then he raised his hand, his fingertips fell on her cheeks, and gently pointed her blue silk behind her head.

"What should I do? I know I can't let her go, but know that my wife is kind, so I have to forgive her this time."

Stella: "..."

She stepped back, avoiding Walter's continued touch.

The Qingsi that was still in his hand disappeared at this moment, and Walter felt a sense of loss.

He paused, holding his hands in the air, and did not take it back for a long time.

Stella thought for a while and walked around behind him and asked, "How is your injury? Can you hold it up after being out for so long?"

Hearing that, Walter's hand was slowly put down. He didn't rush to answer Stella's words, but turned around, his eyes scorching her tightly.

"Do you care about me?"

"..."

She closed her eyes, took a deep breath, and nodded.

"Almost, you are a patient after all."

Walter's eyes became a little bit worried after hearing this: "Then can I ask for more relations?"

“What?”

“I have a sore back now.”

“Let me lean on it.”

As soon as the voice fell, a tall figure leaned in shamelessly, and attached his head to Stella’s arm. Although the strength was not great, the weight made Stella’s slender figure take two steps back to stabilize. Live.

“You!” Stella looked at the man leaning on her shoulders, a little annoyed, but still more helpless. Five years later, he is really different from before. Now he has a really thick-skinned face, and he doesn’t mean face at all.

Thinking of this, Stella reminded: “This is a big intersection, in case the reporter gets photographed...”

“So what, you are my Walter woman. Anyway, everyone on the Internet knows that, even if it is photographed, you can just admit it.”

Stella: “...”

Forget it, since he is a patient, don’t care about him.

About ten minutes later, Mother Lin reappeared in front of Stella, looking at her embarrassingly, “I’m so embarrassed, Miss Stella. I thought this child would definitely regret it if she suffered in it. She still talked badly towards you. It is really my mother’s fault, so I plan to apologize to you personally. I have also taught her a while ago, and after Miss Stella said the experience, Qingqing has now thought about it. , She feels very embarrassed, so I want to apologize to you and hope that Miss Stella can give her another chance.”

Stella's eyes were faint, and there was no expression on her face.

Song An, who was next to her, reminded: "She can wait here until now, which means she is softhearted. Go in and see how Lin Qingqing's attitude is this time."

Stella moved her lips, finally nodded, and walked in.

At this meeting, Lin Qingqing was calmer than before. She doesn't know how long, her eyes were faint, although there was no hatred, she was still very unwilling.

Seeing everyone coming in, she wiped her hair and looked at Stella in a low voice and asked, "Can I stay alone with you?"

Stella was stunned for a moment, then nodded.

"OK."

"No." Walter immediately rejected her idea, with a big hand strangling her slender waist, "You can't stay with her alone."

That woman can commit a sulfuric acid incident, if no one else is present, what if she wants to hurt Stella again.

Hearing, Lin Qingqing's eyes flashed with pain, "Do you not believe me so? I want to regret it now, I just want to say a few words to her, besides... I have been here for so long, where is the weapon? How could I hurt her?"

There are guards nearby, and she is not expected to do anything.

And her eyes are different from before. Stella thought for a while, then turned to Walter and said, "You go out first, I'll talk to her."

“Stella!” Walter frowned displeasedly: “Are you going to die?”

“Yes.” Stella pursed her red lips and stared at Walter seriously: “I value my own life more than you.”

She is not alone now.

She is a mother, she must save her life to protect Levi.

So she would never risk her life.

“Listen to her.” Song An said in time.

Walter pursed his thin lips, and his gaze fell sharply on Lin Qingqing’s face. This line of sight was as sharp as a knife. Lin Qingqing’s scalp was numb by the stare, and she could only lower her eyes, not daring to look at Walter again.

She really regretted it.

She shouldn’t do that. If she didn’t do that, maybe Walter would not hate her like he does now, and even treat her as a dangerous person.

Thinking of this, Lin Qingqing felt regretful in her heart.

“If something calls me, I’m just outside the door.” In the end, Walter still obeyed Stella’s meaning, but he was still worried about her and stood outside the door and didn’t want to leave.

Lin Qingqing doesn’t care if he is outside or not, as long as he is not there.

“What do you want to say, you can say now.”

Lin Qingqing smiled bitterly and looked up at Stella: "You are so happy."

"You call everyone away, don't you just want to tell me this?" Stella sat down in front of her.

Lin Qingqing's eyes still complained: "Why is your husband so unfair? I thought I met a good man and finally had a chance to influence him. As long as I keep working hard, one day he will be mine. But... You. At first I thought you approached him through me, but later I learned that you were his ex-wife."

The title of ex-wife stunned Stella, and then she reacted.

Although she and Walter are still married, but... to the outside world, she has been away for five years, and in the eyes of others, she is indeed his ex-wife.

"Since you are gone, why are you coming back?"

Chapter 509

Why come back?

She remembered this question is not the first time someone has asked her.

It seems that many people will ask her this after they know the past.

"Why are you coming back?"

This is where she was born and raised. She left sadly five years ago and then changed her name.

Now she feels that she can face all this, so she wants to come back, is it wrong?

She silently raised her eyes and glanced at Lin Qingqing who was opposite, “Does this matter of my return have anything to do with you?”

Why do so many people ask? She wanted to come back, so she came back.

“Are you for him?” Lin Qingqing bit her lower lip and asked unwillingly: “Your attitude towards him is so cold, you didn’t come back for him, right?”

Stella’s lips moved: “What does this have to do with you?”

“Of course.” Lin Qingqing was still unwilling: “If you don’t like him, then I may still have a chance, but if you come back for him, then I really have no chance at all.”

Stella really took her, after doing those things, she still thought Walter now. She opened her mouth with some amusement: “Your mother said you had regretted it and wanted to sincerely apologize to me? Is this your regret?”

“I regret it and I like him are two different things. It’s wrong for me to throw you sulfuric acid, but what I thought was that you really robbed him, so I did unforgivable things to you. I sincerely regret it, I think I apologize to you, but...”

“But you still don’t give up on him, think you still have a chance?”

Lin Qingqing’s thoughts were right, and she did not deny it, but lowered her head with her eyes down.

“I really like him, I know you are his ex-wife, but if you have no feelings for him, then you have to give others a chance, don’t you? This time it is my fault. I sincerely regret it to you, sorry! “

Having said this, Lin Qingqing stood up, stared at Stella earnestly, and then bent down to apologize to her.

Stella was quite surprised. She thought it would be difficult for this person to apologize. She didn't expect her attitude to be so good. Because she knew the truth, she immediately changed?

How does this person's heart grow?

Originally, this matter was for Aunt Song's face, but now she is willing to apologize like this and sincerely regret it, which is also a good thing for Stella.

At least, she won't be difficult.

"After going out, you won't target me again, will you?" Stella asked.

Hearing, Lin Qingqing was taken aback for a moment, then shook her head.

"Although I hate you, I am not that unreasonable person. I thought you were deliberate before, so I wanted to teach you a lesson. The sulfuric acid concentration is not particularly high, it is diluted. Otherwise..."

Hearing this, Stella squinted her eyes: "Dare you still think that you did a good thing by getting diluted sulfuric acid?"

Lin Qingqing curled her lips: "No, I just checked and said that the diluted sulfuric acid is not that scary, so just..."

"..."

Stella really didn't know what to say to her anymore, she closed her eyes: "Although I forgive you, you have hurt Walter after all. You must learn a lesson."

“I know.” Lin Qingqing lowered her head: “This time it was my fault. I really knew it was wrong. If I dare to attack you in the future, let me thunder and strike. Also, I will be here by myself. I thought about it for a while.”

“I hope you can count on your words.” Stella pursed her red lips, then stood up, “If you haven’t sincerely regretted it, then it will really waste your mother’s pains. Also, I don’t forgive you. But... love a mother.”

After speaking, Stella turned and left.

Lin Qingqing was still sitting there thinking about what she meant by that sentence, and then reacted later. Could it be that her mother went to ask Stella and moved her?

After Stella left, she returned to the hospital with Walter.

Song An probably had something to do. She smiled and told them to go back, and then went in again with Mother Lin.

After Stella sent Walter back to the hospital, she asked about his wounds.

“Don’t worry about my wound all the time. If you are willing to give me more care, my injury can heal very quickly.”

Stella: “...”

After taking a silent glance at Walter, she began to pack her things, while saying: “The things here have been processed, your wound...”

“I’m getting better? So you are leaving?” Walter looked at her packing hand, “Or, I think that woman is not threatening now, so you want to stay away from me?”

Stella tidied away with her hands, then looked back at him.

“No, you think too much, I just pack things up first.”

“In the beginning, your calculation was to take care of me while I was injured. When I can move freely, you will leave, right?”

Stella pursed her lips, looking at Walter faintly.

She did think this way, but Walter was obviously more difficult than she thought, so she didn't know whether to go back to the company directly.

She thought about it, and tried her best to speak tactfully.

“No, it's just that my company still has a lot of things to do. You also know what my company does. I have spent a lot of time looking after you during this period of time. The company's affairs have been piled up like a mountain. Your injury when it gets better, I naturally have to go back to the company to handle things.”

“Are you finished?”

She avoided the most important things, but obviously, Walter didn't intend to let her go, and kept asking aggressively.

How would Stella answer such sharp questions?

She can only smile: “There are so many things, I'm afraid I won't be able to handle it all in a while.”

Walter's eyes were sharp, falling on her like a knife, Stella couldn't help taking a step back, coughing lightly, “I will come to see you regularly.”

As soon as her words fell, Walter said: “As long as my injury is not good, you will not leave me?”

Stella: “What?”

“Is that so?” Walter asked again and again as if confirming, “Is that right?”

“ ... ”

Stella took a deep breath and looked at Walter earnestly: “I’ve made it very clear, what else do you want? If you ask me this way, I will think you want to threaten me with self-abuse? Walter, if you really dare to do this, even if you die, I won’t look at you again!”

She said what she wanted to say in advance, lest Walter would really abuse her at that time, and his eyes and expressions gave her an unclear premonition.

Walter was actually only planning to ask her, not thinking about self-harm, but when she saw him staring at her nervously and saying that, his thin lips couldn’t help but twitched.

Chapter 510

His eyes were burning, and Stella’s head was numb when she was staring at him. She could only say dryly, “If you are fine today, you will rest, and I will go back first.”

“So early?” Walter glanced at the time: “Stay with me for a while.”

Such a natural tone made Stella anxious.

The person who had been questioning her seriously for the last second, with a serious face, now became relaxed again, as if she had changed herself.

Did you change your face so quickly?

Stella quietly counted a few words in her heart, and then said: “No, I have something to do this afternoon, I have to go back first.”

“What’s the matter?” Walter asked more, but made Stella miss a beat.

She promised to pick up Levi from school in the afternoon. When she thought of Levi, Stella felt that her face almost overlapped with Walter’s.

Thinking of this, Stella coughed lightly: “It’s not a big deal, but I have to go. You should recover in the hospital first, and I will come back to see you tomorrow when I have time.”

“Then what about my dinner? If people don’t come, don’t you even give dinner?” In this sentence, there is a deep resentment.

Stella thought about it. It seems that there is no one in his family who can cook. It is not practical to ask Phillip to deliver him food. It is estimated that a big man like Phillip will only buy food?

No, Stella shook her head.

Why is she confused by herself? Walter is a well-known family, and there is a first-class chef in the family. Is he worried about what he wants to eat?

Thinking of this, Stella said: “Let me think about it first, if I have time, I will bring you food.”

After finishing speaking, Stella never gave him a chance to speak again, and when she picked up her bag, she turned and flashed.

Stella let out a long sigh of relief after leaving the ward.

Fortunately, she escaped quickly. If she didn't come out, Walter would definitely ask if she was not free.

Then she would have to say something again.

It was terrible.

Thinking of this, Stella quickly left the hospital.

School

There were a lot of people at the door at the moment. Stella raised her hand and glanced at the time on the watch. There are still five minutes before Levi get out of class ends, so she will wait a little longer.

After waiting for nearly five minutes, the get out of class bell finally rang inside.

Then a teacher led a group of children out of the class in a long line.

Because safety is a concern, the teachers here will recognize the parents in the children's home, and then recognize them one by one. Those who click the name will come out of the team. Stella's figure is really outstanding in the crowd. The teacher saw her as soon as she came out, and then smiled slightly, "Levi, today your mommy is here to pick you up."

Stella didn't go to school many times, but because she was so good, and because Levi was usually loved by teachers at school, she remembered this character especially.

Levi was called by his name, and a small head came out from the team, and then looked outside.

The eyes of the mother and son slowly met in the air, and Levi's black black eyeballs, which were originally calm and wave less, burst into bright light, and then he ran towards Stella.

"Slow down, don't fall." The teacher hurriedly exclaimed when he saw this scene, for fear that he would fall.

But Levi finally saw Stella come to pick him up for a few days, because all he saw were Aunt Jessica these days. Although Aunt Jessica liked him very much, she was still his own mother.

So Levi ran fast, and quickly rushed to Stella's front.

Stella was frightened when she saw him running, so she was afraid that he would fall, so she squatted down to catch him, and Levi plunged into her arms, seemingly hard, but when Levi came to her Retracted, so when Stella squatted down with high heels, she was not thrown backwards.

Levi held her neck very affectionately: "Mummy, you finally come to provoke~"

"Yes, is Mommy very trustworthy?" Stella stretched out her hand and squeezed the soft palm of Levi.

"Yeah!" Levi nodded vigorously.

"Go!" Stella stood up and held Levi's hand: "Let's go to the supermarket today."

With rare time, Stella decided to take him to the supermarket and cherish the time they spend together.

The mother and the son walked away while smiling, and when the people around came back to their senses, they found themselves dumbfounded.

“We will go home after we bought the vegetables for a while, and then Mommy will cook for the millet beans in the evening, okay?” The two went directly to the nearby supermarket, which is not far from their house. It’s a short walk, and the supermarket is quite large.

The two of them bought various things in the supermarket, probably because they were happy. Stella decided to make more dishes at night, so she bought a lot of things.

When she finished shopping, she suddenly remembered something.

She smiled and handed the phone to Levi.

“Call your uncle and let him come over for dinner tonight.”

Hearing, Levi raised his head and did not reach out to pick up her mobile phone, but said in a puzzled manner: “Mummy, why don’t you call uncle yourself?”

The smile on Stella’s lips stiffened, and she poked Levi’s cheek with some embarrassment: “What? You don’t want to make a phone call for Mommy?”

Levi shook his head: “Is Mommy so angry with Uncle? Don’t you dare to call Uncle?”

Stella choked with this.

She really angered Victor Han.

Because Victor Han disagrees with her dealings with Walter, but she has been running to the hospital after Walter was injured recently. There are so many things every day, she can't care about Victor Han's thoughts.

It was quiet now, thinking about what she said to Victor Han before, it was indeed excessive.

He is her brother and her strongest backing.

It was because of the support of this elder brother that he was so badly injured.

But now she has to turn around to take care of the man who broke her heart, no wonder Victor Han is angry.

Thinking of this, Stella pursed her thin lips, holding the phone in a moment of uncertainty.

"Mommy, if you don't dare to fight, Levi will fight for you. After the fight, Mommy will answer it by herself."

Stella: "...Lets forget it." She smiled and wanted to put her phone away, and decided to post a WeChat account later.

But she didn't expect Levi to be angry. He pouted: "Mommy, you are so bad. Uncle is so good to Mommy, so Mommy won't call uncle."

After finishing talking, Levi actually jumped directly from the shopping cart, "Levi ignored Mommy."

Then the small body ran forward, so fast that Stella couldn't stop it. Before she could react, Levi disappeared.

Stella was stunned for a few seconds, and then smiled helplessly, this little devil...

Chapter 511

Around a corner, Stella didn't see Levi, and didn't care about it in her heart. The supermarket was so big and it was on the third floor, so she didn't care much at all, thinking that Levi was just playing with her.

So while pushing the shopping cart, she said: "Levi, it's not that mommy didn't call your uncle. It's because your uncle is too fierce these days. Mommy is also a little scared. Mommy treats you so well. I've taken you to the supermarket, so you can make a call for Mommy~"

"And don't you think that if you are a junior, if you call your uncle, will your uncle even agree? If Mommy calls, if your uncle is still angry, what should I do if he don't come?"

"Think about it, these are all losses, right? So~ just treat it as Levi doing a favor to Mommy, and help Mommy call your uncle, okay?"

Stella talked a lot, but Levi did not respond.

Stella frowned her eyebrows slightly: "Millet beans? Why don't you speak? Did Mommy say what you didn't like? Okay, Mommy knew it was wrong. You come out and Mommy calls your uncle in person."

However, there was no response. Stella felt a little strange, so she pushed the shopping cart and searched for the figure of Levi.

It's just that she didn't see the millet beans after turning around for a while, and Stella was a little uneasy.

"Levi, stop making trouble, come out quickly."

“If you don’t come out again, Mommy will be angry...”

“Mummy is really angry!”

However, there was still no response.

Stella’s breathing gradually became anxious, and her face became pale. Her hand pushing the shopping cart tightened unconsciously. Then she couldn’t even care about the shopping cart, and put the shopping cart on the spot, and then stepped on high heels to look for the figure of Levi.

“Levi, come out quickly.” She called out Levi’s name as she walked.

However, Levi did not respond to her, which made Stella very confused.

Could it be...

After a pause, she thought of Lin Qingqing who she saw in the detention center today.

At that time, her eyes were full of hatred, although she sincerely regretted it later.

But... She is someone who can do that kind of thing. Is it because she believed her wrong?

Levi has always been well-behaved and considerate, how could she not do such a thing away from her.

Stella was so anxious that hER eyes were a little red, what’s going on?

However, at the next corner, Stella’s steps suddenly stopped.

She saw a figure in front of her, familiar and small.

Stella was stunned for a few seconds, then ran over and squatted down and hugged the tiny figure.

“Levi, you scared Mommy to death... Just now it was all bad for Mommy, don’t do this again.”

When Levi was hugged by her, she came back to her senses, and then blinked without replying.

“Have you heard? Don’t do that again next time, promise Mommy quickly.”

Seeing him not speaking, Stella pressed his shoulders, turned him over to face her, and demanded.

Levi blinked at her, and finally reached out and hugged her by the neck:
“Mummy, I’m fine.”

Seeing him like this, Stella felt a sense of being lost and regained, and then stretched out his hand to hug him again, and forcefully hugged Levi’s small body into her arms.

“Don’t scare Mommy like this again next time, Mommy’s heart can’t stand such a torment anymore.”

“Mummy...”

“Ana?”

Stella was holding the millet bean while talking, when she suddenly heard someone call her, and her name was still the same, her body suddenly froze.

This voice...

Stella slowly raised her head, and a familiar figure came into her eyes.

As if a hammer slammed into her heart hard, Stella felt that everything collapsed in an instant.

The blood on her lips faded in an instant, and the whole person was like falling into an ice cave.

How could this be...

Why did she meet this person here?

“Mommy?” Probably aware of something wrong with her, Levi called her.

The soft voice pulled Stella’s mind back. She recovered and realized what was happening in front of her.

Stella could only compel herself to calm down, quickly thinking about the countermeasures in her heart, and then slowly stood up.

In the end, she used the most stupid way.

After getting up, she curled her lips directly at the person, smiling strangely, “Mister admitted the wrong person.”

After speaking, she directly took Levi’s hand and walked in the opposite direction. Although Levi didn’t know what had happened, he could feel Stella’s hand holding him with a little force, which made him a little painful.

Looking up at Stella, he found that her face and lips were pale, and then she dared not speak.

And the other side

Curtis stood in place, still holding the wine bottle taken from the shelf in his hand, watching the tall and slender girl in front of him lead the child away with amazement.

Obviously it was the face in the memory. Although it had become beautiful, that face and the cold, sea-like eyes remained the same.

It's her.

There is nothing wrong with that look.

But... she said she had admitted the wrong person.

Why?

After hesitating for a few seconds, Curtis put the bottle back on the shelf, then turned around and stepped on his straight legs to quickly catch up.

After going around a corner, Stella took Levi to push the shopping cart. Levi did not speak tacitly, and walked beside her, raising his head to look at her from time to time.

But now, in Stella's mind is simply messy.

She actually ran into Curtis Ye here. Did he see Levi just now?

So what is his thought now? Will he still find her in the future?

Thinking of this, Stella felt a mess in her heart.

She just wants to leave here now.

But things never followed people's wishes. After Stella walked for a while, she heard footsteps coming from behind, and soon someone grabbed her wrist, "Ana? Is it you?"

Stella felt the blood clot all over her body, and her steps stopped without turning her head.

"Sir, I have said that you admitted the wrong person."

Her voice gradually became cold, as if it was about to freeze.

Curtis Ye frowned and looked at her with complicated eyes.

"Sir, please respect yourself and let go."

Curtis was said by her, so he slowly let go of her hand, but she still didn't move away, but stared at her side face instead.

"I haven't seen you in five years, don't you even want to tell me a long time since you haven't seen it? When you left without saying goodbye, you never thought that someone was worried about you and worried about you?"

Curtis's words choked Stella's heart, and then she slowly turned her face to look at him.

For Curtis, she has no love or hatred.

Even these years she rarely think of him, although Karla Han told her that Curtis Ye was the strange man that night.

However, her heart always resists this matter subconsciously.

Chapter 512

Until the birth of Levi, the longer it is, the more it resembles Walter.

There was even another idea in her mind.

But after thinking about it, she found it impossible.

Stella looked at him, Curtis Ye even felt that she would recognize him with that look.

But in the next second, Stella retracted her eyes, and said faintly: "This gentleman, you really admitted your mistake, I still have things to do, please don't follow me anymore."

After speaking, Stella continued to push the shopping cart and pulled the Levi to leave in front of him.

Curtis didn't catch up again this time, but stood still in astonishment.

He had already said so much, she still didn't want to recognize him.

Did he do something wrong back then?

Curtis was a little unwilling. He had been thinking of her for the past five years, but she didn't even want to recognize him now.

Thinking of this, Curtis quickly followed.

Stella pushed the shopping cart to the front desk to check out, Levi cleverly followed by, helping her to get the wallet and small bags of things, and after the two settled, they left the supermarket.

And there was a person behind him, Curtis Ye.

Probably because she didn't recognize him, he didn't give up, so he followed them from the supermarket.

Stella kept walking forward with a frosty face, Levi looked up, and then carefully tugged on Stella's clothes: "Mommy, that uncle has been following us."

Hearing, Stella's steps stopped slightly, but did not stop. She bit her lower lip, and then said: "Levi, let's ignore him, just go forward."

"But... doesn't Mommy know that uncle? If Mommy doesn't know him, why should he follow us?" Levi asked, raising his head.

Stella also wanted to ask why he followed her. Isn't it an excessive behavior to follow others like this?

However, she didn't want to ask him, so she wouldn't ask him.

Thinking of this, Stella took a deep breath and saw that the community where they lived was not far in front. She can't let Curtis know that she lives here, or what if he keeps coming here to look for her in the future?

As she was thinking, she happened to see a barbecue restaurant on the side of the road, so she said: "Levi, we have been shopping for so long just now, why don't we go in and eat something?"

Levi looked up, "But Mommy, don't we want to go home to cook?"

"It's okay." Stella smiled softly: "Eating a little barbecue doesn't affect dinner at night, as long as we don't eat too much, Mommy is too tired to walk, how about it?"

Levi nodded: "Okay then~"

So the mother and son went into the barbecue shop together, and the clerk came up to greet enthusiastically as soon as they sat down.

Following them, Curtis stopped. He stood outside the barbecue restaurant and looked around.

He is a smart person. He guessed that Stella didn't take a taxi after shopping, but instead took the child to go forward. So Curtis guessed that she should live near here, and now he entered the barbecue restaurant...

She probably doesn't want him to know where she lives.

As a man, if he had a gentleman's demeanor, Curtis should leave directly at this time, instead of continuing to make the other party embarrassed.

But...he hasn't seen her in five years.

She is in this city, he finally met her today and left directly...

Too unwilling.

Thinking of this, Curtis squeezed his fists hard, hesitating to leave.

Just as the phone rang, Curtis took out the phone to answer for a while, and then his face became ugly.

"I know, I'll come right away."

After hanging up the phone, Curtis Ye looked at the two people in the barbecue restaurant unwillingly.

Finally, after thinking about it, he took out the pen he brought with him, then tore a small piece of paper and wrote his phone on it, and then stepped into the barbecue shop.

When Curtis sat down in front of the two of Stella, Stella's face could be said to be freezing, and she looked at him very badly.

"This gentleman, I said that I don't know you. What do you mean by following me like this? If you get confused like this again, I might choose to call the police to solve the problem."

Curtis Ye looked at her indifferently, and said softly: "Although I don't know why you don't recognize me, you must have your own reasons. You don't want to say that I will not force you. But I will wait. This is mine. Contact information. I have been waiting for you for the past five years. If you want to know me again, you can contact me."

After speaking, Curtis put the paper with his mobile phone number on the desktop.

Stella did not move her eyes, still cold.

Curtis coughed slightly: "I have something else to do, so don't bother."

After speaking, Curtis got up and left directly, but before leaving, he glanced at Levi, and the expression in his eyes...

He left soon, walking in a hurry.

"Mommy, this is the phone number left by that uncle." Levi took the piece of paper.

Stella's face changed a little, and she whispered to his son: "Throw it away."

“Throw it away?” Levi blinked, “Why mommy?”

Stella patiently explained to his son: “Levi, Mommy doesn’t want to have any contact with him, so she doesn’t need his mobile number. This piece of paper is naturally useless, so throw it away.”

She had already planned to slowly cut off contact with Walter, how she could possibly provoke another Walter family.

Curtis Ye...

She didn’t want to get involved with the people in their night family anymore.

“Okay.” Levi understood what she meant, and his little hand crumpled the paper into a ball, and then threw it into the trash can next to it.

“Good.” Stella squeezed Levi’s cheek with satisfaction, and smiled dozingly.

After the mother and son had a few barbecues in the barbecue restaurant, Stella was sure that Curtis Ye had really left, so she settled the bill and took Levi beans home.

When the two of them passed the path, the female cat in the grass saw Stella, and she sprang out of the grass, rubbing against her feet and barking.

“Cat~” Levi pointed.

“Yeah.” Stella nodded, wanting to bend down to touch it, but unfortunately she was carrying something in her hand. She thought about it, remembering that she also bought fish in her bag, and she said to the cat. Wen said: “I bought you fish, but we have to go up now. I’ll take it down when I’m free. You can go back to nurse your child first.”

The stray cat meowed a few times as if it had understood her, then turned back to the grass.

Stella lifted her lips with satisfaction and smiled.

“Really good.”

Levi also exclaimed: “So good.”

“Okay, let’s go back and cook first, and I will fix the fish later, and we will send them down together.”
