

Super Rich Dad Chapter 527-528

Chapter 527

Jiang Hao nodded, 'It's alright, Mr. Qiao is busy first if you have something to do, let's go in first and take a look.'

Qiao Dong answered, and in a whirl the two of them walked into the villa.

And at this time, not far from Haisheng Yipin No.1 courtyard. A figure slowly moved out of the barrier, his gaze was cold as he looked at Jiang Hao and Qiao Dong who had just walked into the villa, a sinister smile appeared at the corner of his mouth.

The man stretched out his left hand and looked at his little thumb, which had been half cut off. The look in his eyes was filled with indignation.

'Shen Haoting, let's go and see!' Zhang Xiangyu murmured coldly. Slowly, he pulled out a remote control-like object from the pocket he carried.

He smiled again and said to himself, 'Originally, I thought I wouldn't be able to use this thing anymore, but it seems that I still have to use it to end all this.'

Not long ago, Zhang Xiangyu had used Wang Jiani to bury an object underneath this Haisheng No. 1 courtyard.

Originally, Zhang Xiangyu had only thought that if something went wrong with the plan, he would use this thing just in case.

He even thought for a while that he might never use it again, so he would just let it be buried underneath.

But what he didn't expect was that he had such a sophisticated plan. What he didn't expect was that under Shen Haoting's hands, his plans had become so fragile that he could disrupt all his plans with a single move of his fingers.

With no choice, Zhang Xiangyu could only activate this thing again.

At first, Wang Jiani was curious enough to ask Zhang Xiangyu if this thing could be a bomb, but Zhang Xiangyu just made a slip of the tongue and dismissed it.

But how could Wang Jiani have imagined that she would be right when she casually said so?

The bomb she had buried under the living room on the ground floor of Haisheng Yipin No. 1 was not just a bomb. Although it was only a small pile, its power was definitely no less than a whole packet of black powder.

This huge Haisheng No.1 courtyard might be destroyed by that bomb in an instant.

What Zhang Xiangyu was holding in his hand at the moment was the remote control device for the bomb, and later on, he only needed to gently press the button on it. Perhaps Jiang Hao would be killed for good.

‘Shen Haoting, I really want to see. What kind of expression you will have when the time comes!’ Zhang Xiangyu laughed coldly, ‘Isn’t that the only son you have? Then I’ll let you cut off your son!’

As he spoke, Zhang Xiangyu had slowly moved his thumb over the button

On the other hand, Jiang Hao and Qiao Dong had already made a round inside the villa.

At this time, most of the renovation work of the villa had already progressed almost. Only a few detailed things remained to be perfected.

But even so, the overall look of the villa was already able to be presented.

Jiang Hao was satisfied that the renovation had turned out to be just as he had expected.

Jiang Hao was a little excited. He hurriedly took out his mobile phone and took a video for Xue Yuning and sent it over.

He and Qiao Dong then went to the first floor of the villa and briefly looked at the bedrooms inside

And at that moment, not far away, Zhang Xiangyu’s finger that was pressing on the top of the detonation button, pressed down violently.

Almost at the same time, the small package buried under the floor of the villa suddenly flashed a light green light, the light is unusually faint, even if not buried under. The light was so faint that even if it hadn’t been buried underneath, it might not have been easily noticed.

Then the device attached to the bomb emitted a series of ‘beeps’, and in an instant a huge burst of energy came out of the not-so-subtle device. A huge burst of energy erupted from the not-so-large box.

A trail of fire followed.

The floor of the ground floor of the villa was violently lifted by a huge force with a ‘boom’. Then the floor in that vicinity was instantly impacted by that vast force into countless pieces, splashing out in all directions.

At this moment there were still a few workers on the ground floor who were renovating. This sudden turn of events left these people with no time to react, and their bodies were instantly pierced with countless wounds from the flooring fragments.

However, these people did not even have the time to scream before a huge shockwave from under the floor came and blew them away.

A few of them hit the concrete wall hard, while others, along with the shattered toughened glass, flew out of the villa.

But this was only the beginning, as the unbeatable shockwaves destroyed everything in their path and sent them flying out with the shockwaves.

Not all of the walls on the ground floor were concrete, and there were weak spots where a hole was blown through them in that instant.

The shockwave then reached upwards to the floor, with a muffled 'bang', and before anyone upstairs could react, the heavy floor was instantly broken by the shockwave.

In an instant, the first floor lost its support and collapsed.

Jiang Hao and Qiao Dong, who were on the first floor at this time, had just heard a loud rumble from downstairs at the very beginning, and before they could react, the floor slab collapsed downwards in an instant

Chapter 528

Jiang Hao only felt that his feet were empty, and his whole body subconsciously began to scratch around randomly.

But at that moment, everything around him was falling extremely fast, and even if Jiang Hao had grabbed something, it would not have provided him with any support at all.

In that instant, an exponential sense of fear gripped Jiang Hao's heart, and it seemed that he truly felt the approach of death in that instant.

In that instant, it was as if the space and time around him had become frozen and slow. Jiang Hao watched as everything around him plummeted downwards

The scaffolding, the still unpacked furniture, the renovation tools, the shattered building, and Qiao Dong beside him who was also filled with desperate eyes.

The two met each other in that moment, seemingly too late to think more, both eyes filled with fear.

Suddenly, Jiang Hao felt as if a black shadow had fallen quickly above his head, and as he struggled to look upwards, he saw a huge piece of building debris flying down at breakneck speed above his head.

Jiang Hao wanted to dodge, but it seemed impossible to do so.

Because at this moment he felt that his body had fallen heavily on something. There was also a sharp painful sensation coming from his own back, which must have been cut by something.

But at this point Jiang Hao no longer had time to think about that, because what was imminent was the piece of the building above him that was falling extremely fast.

The wreckage was a metre in size. It weighed several hundred pounds and if it hit him, he would be dead for sure.

Jiang Hao's eyes are full of fear, the first infinitely close to the threat of death, so he is at a loss, full of blank, just panic watching the debris flying towards him.

Dead for sure, really dead

Jiang Hao no longer seems to have a shred of hope for himself.

However, just as the huge debris was about to hit Jiang Hao, a figure suddenly sprang out from the side and darted straight towards Jiang Hao.

Before Jiang Hao had time to react, his body was violently and heavily pushed backwards by that figure.

Then a shout came from Jiang Hao's ears, 'Jiang Shao be careful

Only then did Jiang Hao react to the fact that it was Qiao Dong who had pushed him away.

He hurriedly looked at Qiao Dong, only to see that he had pushed himself away with one long leap, and the huge piece of debris was smashing into Qiao Dong impartially!

At that moment, Jiang Hao was blinded, he had never thought of it in any way. At the moment of life and death, Qiao Dong suddenly pushed himself out of the way and took on all that should have been borne by himself.

Jiang Hao almost watched as Qiao Dong's body was crushed by the huge wreckage, and the moment it crushed him, Qiao Dong's face suddenly turned pale and a mouthful of scarlet blood spurted out from his mouth.

Qiaodong's face was unusually painful, and his gaze looked deadly at Jiang Hao. Seeing that Jiang Hao was pushed away by himself, Qiaodong's gaze seemed to be filled with a sense of relief.

'He didn't understand why Qiaodong had to save himself, knowing that he had had his leg broken by Qiao San because of himself.

Perhaps Jiang Hao could never know in his life what Qiaodong had done at the moment of the disaster that had befallen him. He pushed himself away.

But what he knew beyond doubt was that Qiao Dong had exchanged his life for his own.

What could he do to repay the kindness of an easy life ?

The force that Qiao Dong had just pushed Jiang Hao away was so great that Jiang Hao once again felt a loss of weight in his body, and then his body flew out at great speed towards the back

At that moment, Jiang Hao wanted to reach out and grab Qiao Dong, but found that he couldn't do it at all, and the last thing he saw was the moment when Qiao Dong's eyes slowly closed

At that moment, it was as if Jiang Hao felt that time and space had frozen again, and his own slightly backward body had become incomparably slower. He could even see clearly the dust falling from Qiaodong's eyelashes and the tears spilling slightly from the corners of his eyes.

Qiaodong was dead.

As Jiang Hao realised this, it was as if he felt like his heart had been viciously squeezed. It almost broke his heart.

And almost at the same time, it was as if he felt that his surroundings had returned to their usual speed, with countless ruined walls, as well as all kinds of debris and dust. It felt as if it was a blistering rain.

Hitting the ground, hitting Jiang Hao's body and head, hitting Qiao Dong's warm corpse.

Turning around, Jiang Hao once again felt a pain in his back as his body solidly hit the wall behind him that had not yet collapsed.

In that instant, it was as if his body felt like it was going to fall apart, and his head was a little dizzy from the violent impact he had just made. The scene in front of his eyes also became blurred

Jiang Hao seemed to feel like his consciousness was half dreaming and half waking up, the feeling was unusually wonderful, as if he was aware of everything around him, yet he had no control over his body.

And by the time the sound of the ruined walls falling was no longer in his ears, it was as if everything had settled down.

Suddenly, Jiang Hao heard, with a jolt, a slow but strong footstep in his own ears, those feet stepping on the debris. It made a creaking and squeaking sound, unusually harsh and clear.

The sound came from far and near and finally stopped beside him.

Then, between the chaos, Jiang Hao heard the owner of the footsteps say, 'Oh, you're still lucky, this didn't even kill you!'

Jiang Hao's body did not listen to him, he could not move, let alone speak, but his subconscious mind could understand what the other party meant.

He then felt that one of his feet was lifted up, and then his whole body was dragged towards the broken wall and beyond.

Soon, Jiang Hao passed by Qiao Dong's body, which was already not breathing, his eyes were slightly closed and the corners of his mouth were stained with blood that had not yet dried.

The top of his head was covered in dust, and his formerly straight suit was now scratched up.

Jiang Hao was at that moment. He suddenly felt a little heartbroken, a little angry, but he couldn't do anything himself except these feelings.

And so he was. Being dragged away, as he skipped past Qiao Dong's corpse, his head once again hit a huge piece of broken concrete on the side, and Jiang Hao felt his head dizzy once again. Then the sliver of consciousness that remained in his entire being was completely lost.

Jiang Hao felt as if he had had a long dream, a long nightmare, in which he was in the dream world. There were countless ghosts and monsters howling and hissing around him.

He felt that his body was hot and cold, and suddenly his limbs were chopped off and he endured countless tortures.

Suddenly, Jiang Hao felt a sudden darkness before his eyes, followed by a dull clanging sound of closing the trunk, completely rendering him impervious to everything outside!

'Viewers, we are now inserting a piece of the latest news from our station, located in the city's top villa area, Haisheng Yipin No.1 courtyard, there was a sudden outbreak twenty minutes ago, the exact cause is unknown, the casualties are also unclear for now, our reporter is on his way to Haisheng Yipin No.1 courtyard, we will do a live broadcast for you later!'
