

Super Rich Dad Chapter 534-536

Chapter 534

'How despicable!' Jiang Hao glared angrily at Zhang Xiangyu, he didn't think that in this world, someone would be so shameless.

'Didn't you kill my father and you couldn't get the stuff?' Jiang Hao questioned loudly, 'That Shang Dian, only my father knows exactly where it is hidden, if you kill him. You won't be able to get it in your lifetime!'

Zhang Xiangyu smiled at that and said, 'Oh, Shen Haoting is dead? Isn't that better? As soon as he dies, Shang Dian's whereabouts will become a completely unsolved case, and by then, not to mention you, even the overseas Shen family won't be able to find it, huh, wouldn't that result be great?'

Jiang Hao heard Zhang Xiangyu's words. He couldn't help but froze slightly, somewhat unsure, 'What do you mean by that? Aren't you working for the overseas Shen family? Aren't you causing so much trouble just so that the overseas Shen family can obtain Shang Dian?'

The words of Zhang Xiangyu just now really puzzled Jiang Hao a little.

But his curiosity. It was quickly poked by Zhang Xiangyu.

'Hehe, the overseas Shen family? What kind of a thing is that? Do you really still think that I would willingly sell my life for them?' Zhang Xiangyu suddenly revealed his true face and smiled sinisterly, 'Perhaps in Shen Tianyang's eyes, I am nothing more than a dog that he has raised, that he can call on and wave away, but I don't know, in my eyes, how he is not a pig that is so stupid that he doesn't even know what I have done in his name for so many years!'

These words of Zhang Xiangyu were so informative that they even caused Jiang Hao to be a little dismayed.

Could it be that this Zhang Xiangyu, who seemed to be loyal to the overseas Shen family, was actually all pretending? Everything he had done was a lie?

He was nominally obeying the orders of the Overseas Shen Family, but was actually planning something for himself all along?

If that was the case, then this man seemed to have too much heart, right?

He had lied to himself. He had fooled his own father, but did he also fool the Shen family overseas?

It seemed that he really did have some abilities!

Jiang Hao had to marvel a little more at this Xiang Yu.

Jiang Hao thought about it and seemed to have figured out something, so he couldn't help but sneer and said, 'Oh, if my guess is correct, you've been hibernating in the overseas Shen family for so many years, for the sake of Shang Dian, right?'

Zhang Xiangyu nodded, 'What else? Although you are a descendant of the Shen clan, I'm afraid you still don't know what kind of existence that Shang Dian, is, right? Whoever possesses it, then also has everything, what money, status, women and strength, with it, you have it all, huh, the ridiculous thing is, such a beautiful thing, but you Shen family just hide it for more than a thousand years in vain, you are simply holding on to diving heaven. So you don't deserve to have it at all! Such a beautiful thing can only show its greatest value if it is used!'

At this point, Zhang Xiangyu's gaze seemed to glow with greed among his eyes.

It seemed that at this moment, he had already seen what he would have to do after obtaining the Shang Dian.

However, Zhang Xiangyu's words were still somewhat inconsistent, Jiang Hao frowned and questioned, 'No, you wanted to blow up my father just to prevent the overseas Shen family from getting the Shang Dian's whereabouts, but if my father died, not only the overseas Shen family, but also you would not be able to know where the Shang Dian was hidden, you are not blocking your own way too?'

Jiang Hao found that this was in Zhang Xiangyu's logic. A big hole in the sky, since his aim was to get Shangdian, but blowing up the only person who knew Shangdian, his own father. Wouldn't that be the same as cutting off his only possibility as well?

Jiang Hao frowned and stared at the other party, just wanting to know how he would answer.

Who knew that Zhang Xiangyu would only give a faint laugh and say, 'Oh, if you blow up Shen Haoting, of course no one will ever know where Shangdian is hiding. The Shen family overseas will naturally never know either, and this is exactly what I want to achieve. Oh, the reason why I did that, that is because, in this world, it seems that apart from your father, I am the only one who knows where Shang Dian is hidden!'

'You know?' Jiang Hao exclaimed in surprise, 'How is that possible? No. It's impossible, if you knew, you probably would have secretly gotten your hands on the stuff long ago, why would you wait for today? You're lying!'

Zhang Xiangyu shrugged his shoulders and said, 'Haha, joke, do you think we have been operating in Chu Jiang for all these years for nothing? To be honest, we have been searching for Shang Dian's whereabouts since the Ping Yang Valley war. As for why we have not taken action for so many years, it is because we have an objective reason. But soon, this objective reason will also be eliminated, and then we will be able to get the Shang Dian without much effort!'

A touch of greed appeared at the corner of Zhang Xiangyu's mouth as he laughed, 'Hehe. I might keep you and let you see with your own eyes how we get the Shang Dian in our hands by then!'

Zhang Xiangyu's words could not help but make Jiang Hao suck in a breath of cold air. He somewhat couldn't believe that this Zhang Xiangyu had already known the whereabouts of Shang Dian!

What made Jiang Hao feel even more uneasy was that just now Zhang Xiangyu had used the word 'we', which meant that they might be a group of people. They might be a group of people, and not just Zhang Xiangyu alone!

In that case, it seemed that the situation had become complicated again!

Jiang Hao was a bit anxious, of course he was afraid that something would happen to his father. Of course he was afraid that one day, the treasure that had been passed down in the Shen family for over a thousand years would fall into the hands of an outsider!

Jiang Hao's heart was in turmoil and he was a bit discouraged that the situation had reached such a critical juncture, yet he could not help at all, not even to tell his father that No. 36 Qing Shui Street was a trap

An hour later, a Rolls-Royce sedan slowly pulled up in front of No. 36 Qing Shui Street, a café that had been closed for an unknown period of time and whose plaque had faded.

Soon, a young man in black ran down from the passenger side and hurried to open the door to the back of the car.

Immediately afterwards, a stout middle-aged man in a blue and black suit stepped down from the back.

He looked around and there was more than a hint of hesitation in his gaze, but after a moment's pause, his hesitation was replaced by determination.

He then took a step towards the door of the closed down cafe

At this time, in that abandoned factory building, Zhang Xiangyu was holding a mobile phone in one hand, and the other hand was holding Jiang Hao's hair in a death grip, forcing him to look at the screen on that mobile phone.

On the screen at that moment was the video image of Shen Haoting walking towards No. 36 Qing Shui Street.

Zhang Xiangyu smiled grimly and said, 'Oh, take a good look, maybe this is your last look at your deadbeat dad, this is a live broadcast oh!'

Chapter 535

Apparently, the video was taken from some window opposite that defunct cafe.

The image was so clear that although Jiang Hao could only see the back of the man, he knew. That must be his father, because the back was exactly the same.

And at that moment, Jiang Hao was watching his father, step by step, walking towards the fire. Walking towards the abyss.

He saw Shen Haoting taking one step up the steps, seemingly unaware of the danger that was approaching.

He walked to the entrance of the cafe. He looked inside through the drab window and seemed to hesitate more than a little, but finally reached for the door handle and gently pushed open the dilapidated cafe door.

And the moment Shen Haoting pushed open the dilapidated door, inside the cafe, a thin wire connected to the dilapidated door was violently tensed and pulled.

The wire then linked to a switch device located not far away, which was suddenly triggered, and a faint spark appeared inside the device, instantly igniting an army green package underneath.

Almost instantly. A series of chemical reactions, invisible to the naked eye, took place inside the package, followed by a huge shockwave that came out of the package.

It was as if the shockwave was a small space that grew in size, spreading rapidly from the centre of the package to the whole room.

In less than a tenth of a second, the shockwave destroyed everything in the closed down cafe, all the blasted furniture, all the porcelain furnishings, were instantly destroyed into countless pieces, and finally wrapped in the shockwave. It rushed out towards the further periphery.

In fact, the moment he put his hand on the door handle and pushed the door open, Shen Haoting seemed to have sensed that something was wrong, and a thought of escape rose up in his heart.

As soon as this thought appeared in his mind, a huge and unbeatable shockwave came out, directly destroying the old door into countless pieces, which then flew straight into Shen's body.

In fact, at this time, the interior of his suit had already passed a special bullet-proof clothing. But even so, the impact of that instant close range. It also tore the surface of the bulletproof suit into countless pieces.

And in those parts of his body that were not covered by bullet-proof clothing, almost instantly he was pierced through by countless fragments, and his body was instantly skinned and bloodied.

Shen Haoting was then pushed backwards by the huge shockwave and flew straight out for more than ten metres. Only then did he fall heavily to the ground.

'With a loud boom, a second explosion occurred in the abandoned cafe.

This time it was even more violent than the first, and the whole front of the cafe was almost completely destroyed. All the windows and door frames were dislodged at the first moment.

Almost the entire neighbourhood was affected, and there was hardly a single window in a 300-metre radius with its glass intact.

In an instant, fires burst into the sky and wails were heard everywhere.

The few people Shen Haoting had brought with him came to their senses and rushed towards Shen Haoting's side in a desperate rush.

One of the men hastily picked up Shen Haoting, but only then did he realise that his face had been completely disfigured. His body had even been cut with countless cuts and one of his lower legs had been ruined.

‘Mr. Shen! Mr. Shen!’ That henchman hurriedly summoned loudly. But Shen Haoting didn’t even half respond anymore.

‘Quick! Take him to the hospital!’ One of the men hurriedly picked up Shen Haoting and ran wildly towards the Rolls-Royce car parked not far away.

The Rolls-Royce was as smooth as a mirror. At this moment, the Rolls-Royce was also scratched with marks.

But at this point, no one cared about that much anymore, those few people took Shen Haoting with them. They sped off directly towards the nearby resources

The actual fact is that the actual person who carried Shen Haoting to the car felt Shen Haoting’s pulse, and his expression instantly became ugly.

The youth sitting in the passenger seat saw this and hurriedly looked back at him and asked in a low voice, ‘What

The young man sighed heavily, ‘It’s too late, it’s no longer possible!’

A few people in the car smiled and looked at each other, finally the youth in the passenger seat shook his head while pulling out his mobile phone, dialed a number and finally whispered, ‘Miss Ye, Shen, Mr. Shen is in trouble, I’m afraid he can’t up!’

In the abandoned factory building, Zhang Xiangyu kept letting Jiang Hao see those few youths carry Shen Haoting to the car before he stopped.

And after watching the video, Jiang Hao’s eyes could not stop the tears long ago.

He stared at the other man, practically wanting to kill him with his own eyes.

Jiang Hao’s heart was really unwilling to accept this fact, it all came too suddenly, he didn’t even have the slightest defense surprisingly.

‘No, it can’t be, my dad won’t die!’ Jiang Hao shook his head and said sadly, ‘You won’t get your way!’

Zhang Xiangyu smiled, but laughed out in unspeakable joy, ‘Oh, not dying? How is it possible, although Shen Haoting is very powerful, he is  a mortal after all, with such a close range explosion, do you think he is a tank? Can he still survive?’

Chapter 536

‘Oh, now that you’ve finished reading it, how do you feel?’ Zhang Xiangyu smiled as he looked at Jiang Hao and said. ‘Hey, it’s a pity to say that, he Shen Haoting is considered a lord after all, I guess he never thought even in his dreams. He would end up like this one day, right?’

Finished speaking. Zhang Xiangyu also seemed to feel relieved. Admittedly, Shen Haoting's death was a great piece of news for him, and his joy was not just because he could now enjoy the secrets of Shangdian.

His joy was not just because he would now have the secret of Shangdian to himself, but also because he was relieved to have got rid of such a powerful opponent, one who was far more powerful than himself.

Once Shen Haoting died, no one in this world would be able to compete with him for the treasures that the Shen family had treasured for over a thousand years.

When Zhang Xiangyu thought about it, he could not help but feel a little ridiculous. The Shen family had hidden this treasure for more than a thousand years, but in the end, it had turned out to be a great bargain for himself.

It seems that at this moment, Zhang Xiangyu is a bit impatient to get the Shang Dian, but he knows that it is not the right time yet, he has waited for this Shang Dian for many years. It seemed that it was not so bad as these few months and half a year.

Zhang Xiangyu's face showed an incomparable look of anticipation, but he had not long shown this look when his face suddenly froze, and then his whole face suddenly became incomparably shocked, right turned his head in another direction, between the eyebrows are slowly alert colour.

And in the direction of Zhang Xiangyu's attention, at some point, a few figures had appeared.

Zhang Xiangyu was shocked by the sudden appearance of several people. He was shocked, because this was the place he had carefully chosen. Apart from himself, almost no one knew of the existence of this place, so how did these people appear.

The look of surprise on Zhang Xiangyu's face didn't last long, after he fixed his eyes on those few people clearly. The whole person was instantly frozen, his mind seemed to buzz, and for a moment he was at a loss for words, unable to believe what was in front of him.

It was because just over the side Zhang Xiangyu was looking at. There were four figures standing there, and they were no other than Shen Haoting, Ye Yunjie, Qiao San and one of Shen Haoting's men.

After seeing Shen Haoting's handsome face, which was as handsome as a carving knife, Zhang Xiangyu was directly dumbfounded, pointing at the other party and shouting that it was impossible.

'Are you you a human or a ghost? You How can you possibly be alive? Didn't you just get blown up?' Zhang Xiangyu looked at Shen Haoting incomparably shocked and shouted out in shock.

And with this shout, he immediately shouted Jiang Hao, who was immersed in grief, back to his senses, and Jiang Hao hurriedly looked in that direction. The whole person first froze, and then shouted out with tears of joy, 'Dad. Are you okay?'

When he saw Shen Haoting standing in front of him unharmed, Jiang Hao felt like he was dreaming. His eyes instantly burst into tears.

Originally, he thought that he had just experienced fatherly love for just a few days. Was he going to lose his father forever?

But at this moment, Jiang Hao was incomparably moved that his own father was alright, he laughed out happily and said aloud, 'I knew you would be alright

When Shen Haoting saw that Jiang Hao was also fine, it was as if a huge stone in his heart had also instantly fallen to the ground, he said in a deep voice to comfort him, 'Don't worry son, dad is a cat, he has nine lives, he is not so easy to be counted, are you alright? Don't worry, daddy will take you home now.'

Jiang Hao smiled and was so moved that he didn't know what to say, he just nodded heavily and once again looked at his father with a godly expression.

Jiang Hao was not interested in knowing what was going on just now, as long as his father was not in trouble, it was more important to Jiang Hao than anything else.

It was just that at this moment, when he saw Shen Haoting, Zhang Xiangyu, who had just been incredibly excited, instantly felt his scalp go numb.

He looked at Shen Haoting in a panic and said, 'Impossible, how can you still be alive? Didn't you just get blown up? I just watched you being carried away by them men, and even if you weren't dead, you couldn't have appeared here so quickly ah? You who are you anyway?'

For Shen Haoting's sudden reappearance, it simply completely disrupted Zhang Xiangyu's whole plan.

Originally, he thought that once Shen Haoting died, Shang Dian would really become his own thing completely and utterly, but he didn't expect that this guy, who was obviously blown up miserably just now, was now standing in front of him again intact.

The shock of this to Zhang Xiangyu was definitely no less than detonating a nuclear bomb in his heart.

In response to Zhang Xiangyu's doubts, Shen Haoting only gave a cold laugh as he said indifferently, 'Do you think that I, Shen Haoting, would be killed by you so easily after living for so many years under the noses of the overseas Shen family? Besides, you just said yourself that that I had just been seriously injured by an explosion, so how could I possibly appear here so quickly?'

Shen Haoting's words caused Zhang Xiangyu to be stunned, and then he looked at Shen Haoting as if he had thought of something, with a look of surprise.
