

Chapter 5415

As soon as the commander said this, several staff members around immediately became extremely horrified!

And Jon, who was eavesdropping outside the tent, was even more scared out of his wits!

When he heard this, combined with all the things that happened before, he immediately guessed the general context of the whole thing.

Originally, they had long suspected that the Cyprus line had the possibility of leaking secrets.

At first, they thought that the enemy should be eyeing this place, or that the commissioner here was colluding with the enemy internally and externally.

But now he realized that this place has already been completely controlled by the enemy!

If the enemy hadn't completely controlled this place, how could it be possible to quietly prepare such a big killer here as a close-in defense gun?!

The enemy even knew that Jarvis was coming, so they set up a death trap for him here in advance!

Combined with the two clues that Jarvis has disappeared and human DNA was found on the shells of the near-anti-aircraft artillery at the scene, he also guessed in his heart that Jarvis may have been sieved by the anti-aircraft artillery hidden here in advance by the enemy!

The Warriors Den has developed for so many years, they have always been in the dark places of all enemies, they have always been the ones who designed ambushes, and they planted their own eyeliner around the enemies, but their own interior was never been infiltrated by the enemy.

But this time, everything changed drastically.

The enemy has sneaked into the interior of the Warriors Den without a sound, and even without the Warriors Den's knowledge, occupied the entire garrison of dead soldiers, and then killed an earl who had mastered the aura!

At this time, Jon was not the only one who was horrified.

The commander in the tent, as well as his subordinates, were also speechless by this discovery.

Everyone was silent for a long time, and the commander's adjutant took the lead to break the silence: "Boss, this is just a copper mine, not a military base... If they are equipped with AK47, or even equipped with RPG individual rocket launchers, I can accept it,"

"After all, copper mines also have their own security needs, so it's not too strange to have some individual weapons and set up a security team..."

At this point, he couldn't help muttering: "But... it's just a copper mine, It's not a military base, why do they have to equip such heavy weapons as close-in anti-aircraft guns... Isn't this incredible?!"

"I can't figure it out at all..."

As he spoke, his eyes suddenly lit up, and he said, "What did you say in the first sentence?"

"Me?" The adjutant thought for a while, and said, "I said that if they are equipped with AK47s..."

The commander waved his hand: "No, let me add another sentence."

The adjutant thought for a moment, and said: "I said this is just a copper mine, not a military base..."

"Yes!" Commander suddenly widened his eyes, and blurted out: "That's where the problem comes in! If it's really just a copper mine, then it doesn't need to be equipped with close-in anti-aircraft guns at all!"

Then, the commander continued with some excitement: "But Now that it is equipped with close-in anti-aircraft guns, it proves that this is not an ordinary copper mine! It is very likely that it is a military base that we didn't know about!"

"Military base?!" He was so shocked that he couldn't speak.

A military base that does not belong to his country, which really makes people feel incredible.

However, the commander's judgment logic is very reasonable. The opponent's ability to master the weapon of close-in defense guns proves that the opponent must not be an ordinary person, but definitely a militant with strong actual combat experience.

It is very likely that this copper mine is indeed a military base as a place where militants use close-in defense guns to defend.

Even if it is not a real military base, at least there are huge and unknown secrets here!

The commander said nervously: "No... this matter is very important, I must report it to the president immediately!"

Soon, the commander directly called the president, and after reporting the situation in detail, he respectfully hung up the phone, he told the people around him: "Everyone, the president has an order. The collapse of the copper mine is very likely to cause turmoil."

"It must be kept strictly confidential. Do not disclose any information to the media, especially you can't even mention a single word about the anti-gun thing!"

Everyone looked at each other, and the adjutant couldn't help but said: "Boss, it's not a big problem to block the news from the outside world,"

"But it's hard for us to hide such a big movement here. What should we do if the voice is heard?"

The commander said: "I will immediately notify the responsible persons of the surrounding cities and let them announce to the people in their jurisdiction that this copper mine has been exhausted and has reached the design lifespan,"

"And due to internal mining Excessive, there is already a tendency to collapse, so in order to prevent uncontrollable collapse and cause losses, this time it is a planned man-made abandonment, and all personnel in the copper mine have been evacuated, so that everyone does not need to panic."

This argument is reasonable, everyone also felt that there was no major problem. After all, only one person's DNA was found here, which proved that other people had already evacuated before the explosion and collapse occurred, and no casualties were caused.

Since there were no casualties, this matter can naturally be suppressed.

So, everyone was relieved.

At this time, the commander ordered again: "You should notify immediately that all excavation and fixed-point drilling should be stopped immediately, and all heavy equipment should be withdrawn, and then mobilize fences to surround the entire copper mine, and at the same time strictly prevent outsiders from approaching!"

Everyone nodded quickly.

The commander said again: "In addition, we must find a way as soon as possible to transport a large amount of construction waste from the surrounding construction sites."

"Within 72 hours, the collapsed part of the copper mine must be refilled! Fill it up, the bullets and shell casings inside are still there, and they may still be discovered in the future!"

The commander said: "Don't worry, the above means that after filling up here, it should be hardened immediately, and then seal up a piece of land, and assign special personnel to guard it,"

"And let a trusted department take over after the rumors pass, so you don't have to worry too much about it, and hurry up and move forward with the matter at hand!"

Everyone suddenly realized.

If this is the case, you can basically prevent future troubles.

So, everyone said in unison: "Okay Sir!"

After finishing speaking, they immediately left the tent and each began to follow the commander's order.

At this time, Jon outside the tent was so nervous that he was sweating profusely, and his body couldn't help shaking.

In his heart, the panic has reached the extreme.

Such a major accident was the first time in the hundreds of years of history of the Warriors Den.

The point is, as the governor of the right army's governor's mansion, he was able to have the entire base of the dead soldiers stolen under his nose, and it is here that Jarvis got ambushed. He's afraid the death penalty is inevitable...

At this moment, he almost immediately made up his mind that he must not report the actual situation here to the Lord!

At the very least, he can't tell the Lord that the warheads and shell casings of the near-anti-aircraft guns were found here.

Not to mention let the Lord know that there is a person's DNA on the warhead of the near-defense gun, and that person is likely to be Jarvis.

Because the near-defense gun is too sensitive, and the discovery of shell casings in the copper mine is enough to prove to the Lord that this dead soldier station has long been secretly controlled by the enemy under his own rule. In that case, his own dereliction of duty is too serious.

Coincidentally, the Cyprus officials are also planning to conceal the news of the near-anti-aircraft guns, and they will also fill up the entire subsidence area, which means that everything that happened here will soon be dead without evidence.

As long as he didn't say anything, the Lord would not know about the existence of near-defense guns.

In that case, he could pretend to be stupid about what happened here and directly stated that he could not find any valuable clues to investigate, and finally packaged this matter as an unsolved case, and then pushed it to the mysterious enemy.

In this way, even if the Lord punished him, it would not be too serious.

After all, even the Lord himself couldn't figure out the reason for the enemy hiding behind him, not to mention that there have been two precedents in New York and Northern Europe.

Thinking of this, Jon was relieved.

He felt that although what happened to him this time was bigger than the events in New York and Northern Europe, the worst thing he could do would be to lose his position as the governor of the right army governor's mansion, at least he could save his life.
