

Chapter 5507

After Duncan finished speaking, the old man Nicolas,

His condition has improved greatly in the past few days and his memory is gradually recovering,

Suddenly said with a serious face, "Duncan is right! We used to be too easy to deny something by intuition."

"That's why I haven't been able to find Charlie for so many years!"

"Sometimes when doing things, you have to go against your intuition!"

Marshal nodded and said, "After sister's accident, we searched in Aurous Hill for a while,"

"And when we did not discover Charlie's whereabouts,"

"We judged by intuition that Charlie must have left Aurous Hill."

"Since then, we have been looking for him in places other than Aurous Hill."

"Maybe, he has never left Aurous Hill at all!"

Marcus was silent for a moment, then suddenly raised his head,

Frowning and said, "Now that I think about it, the water in Aurous Hill is really unfathomable!"

"Besides, according to the sporadic things we can grasp so far From the clue,"

"I speculate that benefactor should be from Aurous Hill!"

"Indeed." Marshal also agreed, "benefactor chose to hold the Rejuvenation Pill Auction in Aurous Hill,"

"And gave this opportunity to the local Song Group,"

"And I got some news that after the Rejuvenation Pill auction,"

"The Song Group contributed more than 10 billion U.S. dollars in taxes to Aurous Hill,"

"And also donated tens of billions of U.S. dollars in charitable funds."

"The money should be the auction money obtained from the auction of Rejuvenation Pill."

After speaking, Marshal said, "Besides, there is another thing."

"After the auction, the Song Group invested more than 100 million US dollars to build a large welfare home in Aurous Hill."

"It is said that the design scale of this welfare home is the largest in the world,"

"It can not only provide tens of thousands of orphans with their living needs,"

"But also provide them with excellent educational resources."

"If you don't have deep feelings for Aurous Hill,"

"It is absolutely impossible to make such a decision!"

Duncan's eyes lit up, and he blurted out, "It seems that this benefactor attaches great importance to orphans!"

"Could it be that he was also born as an orphan, so he takes care of orphans so much?"

Marshal nodded and said, "It's also possible what Old Li said."

Charlie's aunt Tece couldn't help but said,

"If you investigate the welfare home in Aurous Hill,"

"Will you have a chance to find out the identity of your benefactor?"

Hearing this, Duncan's eyes lit up, and he exclaimed in his heart,

"Isn't this just drawing inferences from one instance?"

"If you follow this line, you can not only find out benefactor,"

"But also find out that benefactor is actually the grandson of the An family!"

At this moment, Marshal waved his hand suddenly and said,

"I think it's better for us not to search for the identity of our benefactor,"

"He knows every step of ours like the back of his hands. What if he is dissatisfied."

Marcus agreed and said, "Brother is right since we have come to Aurous Hill,"

"It is equivalent to being under the eyes of the benefactor."

"Try to keep a low profile and try not to make any small moves."

Duncan looked at the serious two brothers, feeling anxious for a while,

But he didn't dare to reveal too much, he could only sigh from the bottom of his heart,

"You two brothers are really crouching dragons and phoenixes,"

"If you miss this clue, it will be very difficult to find Charlie again!"

Dawn of the next day, in the northern suburbs of Aurous Hill.

Before the sky really brightened, Ervin was already standing by the dry toilet in a farmyard.

Holding a shovel in his hand, he dug out the three magical artifacts,

That Charlie had given him from the smelly soil beside the toilet pit.

These three artifacts were mixed with the rotten and smelly pig's internal organs and buried for two days.

When they were dug out, there was a pungent stench.

He pinched his nose to pick out the three magic artifacts from the soil,

And carefully brushed off the dirt around them with a soft brush,

Then wiped them carefully with a dry towel, and put them under his nose to smell them vigorously.

At this time, the smell of blood and fishy smell has faded a lot.

According to Ervin's previous experience of disposing of antiques,

This smell is very close to the smell of jade wares newly produced ones.

The things that come out of the pit, especially the items that are buried next to the body,

As jade, will have this faint stench no matter how they are cleaned after being dug out of the ground for a period of time.

A year later, there will still be a faint residue. Ordinary people may not be able to smell anything,

But people like Ervin who often deal with antiques can tell the difference as long as they smell it with their noses.

The two pieces of jade were originally old things.

Now that they have this kind of smell, people who are knowledgeable will almost conclude that these things came from the pit.

After confirming that things were all right,

Ervin hurriedly drove back to the city and went straight to Antique Street.

In the antique industry in Aurous Hill, the business rule of working at sunrise and resting at sunset is still maintained.

According to insiders, you can't do antique business when it's dark,

Because you're afraid that it will be dark and you will be robbed in the dark.

Therefore, merchants and stall owners in Antique Street basically start their businesses at dawn and close their stalls before dark.

Today coincided with Saturday, so when Ervin arrived at antique street,

The antique street was already as bustling as a vegetable market in the early morning.

Ervin is already an old man on Antique Street.

After following Orvel some time ago, he left this place and never came back,

So when he suddenly appeared, many people recognized him and greeted him enthusiastically,

“Ervin Brother, why do you have time to come back and take a look today?”

“That’s right, Brother Ervin, you are now a popular person beside Master Hong,”

“Why do you still have time to come and see us, poor brothers?”
