

Chapter 551

Jarod obediently washed her.

On the surface, he was still reluctant to wash Moira until he was comfortable, and the steel pipe in Moira's hand suddenly fell to the ground.

The pipe fell!

Jarod's opportunity came. He suddenly released Moira, bent over to pick up the steel pipe that Moira had fallen on the ground, swiped it, and slammed it against Moira's leg.

"Oh..." Moira's painful whole person was curled up like a shrimp, she was in pain: "Jarod, I am your wife..."

Jarod: "Why don't I kill you b!tch today! I am not called Jarod! I am not a man! I want you to know that if a man wants to kill you, he will definitely not let you die so easily!"

After speaking, Jarod picked up another steel pipe and slammed it directly at her.

Moira yelled again.

She was not wearing any clothes, and the steel pipe hit her body, which really hurt her.

Within a few minutes, Jarod beat Moira to his crying father and calling his mother.

Moira was naked, curled up on the floor, kneeling at Jarod's feet. Her face was already green and purple. In Jarod's eyes, Jarod wanted to kill her.

Moira hugged Jarod's leg: "Jarod, Jarod, I was wrong with Jarod, I understand. I now understand what you just said."

Jarod hit Moira with a steel baton again: "What do you understand!"

Moira said: "Instigate, this is the instigation of Suzi."

Jarod: "..."

Suddenly, he was taken aback.

He has forgotten this.

It was indeed Suzi who instigated the separation of their husband and wife relationship. Suzi gave him a blank piece of paper and insisted on telling him that Jarod had left him with a letter her mother left him during her lifetime. But when Moira arrived, Suzi Suzi burned the blank paper with a torch, which immediately aroused Moira's suspicion.

Seeing Jarod stunned, Moira continued to raise her head and said earnestly: "Jarod, I know that I was wrong now. I know what you said is true. It is Suzi that instigated the relationship between us. You see, it was at the beginning. I suspected you and annoyed you. You immediately beat me up, thinking that I didn't believe you.

And I, with a swollen nose and swollen face, must hate you very much, and then I will retaliate against you.

The two of us, just like this you hit me, I hit you.

We are definitely what Suzi would like to see most. If we don't stop now, I guess it's not you who killed me or I killed you. What will happen to our Lanita then?

This is exactly what Suzi wants to see most.

Because Suzi has always wanted to seek revenge from our neighbor! "

Moira's analysis is straightforward.

Jarod also obeyed Moira's intention. He immediately helped Moira up and handed the steel pipe to Moira: "Sorry wife, I was frustrated just now. Actually, I knew from the beginning that she was provoking discord. Why? Minutes, did I forget it? I apologize to your wife. You can hit me with a steel pipe. If you beat me to death, I have no complaints."

In fact, from the bottom of his heart, Jarod still likes Moira very much.

Moira handed a treasure to Jarod: "Husband, I won't hit you! I was stupid when I hit you just now. We are so confused. We are all hit by Suzi's divorce plan. Now, right away, we want to call right away. Suzi!"

Moira and Jarod, who were fighting with each other all afternoon, did not read the new article at all, and did not press any media push because they were fighting.

Therefore, at this moment, they don't even know what happened on the Internet in just a few hours.

After hearing his wife's words, Jarod immediately called Suzi, but he wanted to see how Suzi explained.

However, at that moment, it was Arron who answered the phone, and Arron's voice was extremely cold: "Jarod, what did you let my wife do in the past?"

Chapter 552

At this end of the phone, Jarod was stunned.

After a long while, he stammered and said, "Fu... Fourth Master Fu, you... aren't you in Kyoto? How are you..."

"My wife was framed, so I came back early." Arron said truthfully.

"Your wife...?" Jarod seemed to have thought of Arron's so-called wife, but at this moment, he still asked mechanically.

"Suzi!" Arron arrived.

Jarod: "..."

The phone dropped directly to the ground.

"What's the matter, husband?" Moira greeted him, looking at Jarod and asking with a lot of scarred faces.

"Suzi and Arron are married."

Moira: "..."

After a few more seconds, Moira wailed like a pig, "You...what are you talking about! How could this be possible with Fu Siye and Suzi! How can this be! They are married, ours What about Lanita! What about Lanita!"

Jarod's face also became extremely pale.

It seems, what happened this afternoon? It was their husband and wife who missed it. It was all because this afternoon, their husband and wife were provoked by Suzi's letter without a word, and they fought all afternoon.

What did they miss?

Jarod immediately went to the Internet.

Here, Arron, who was holding Suzi's mobile phone in his hand, watched the end of the phone automatically hang up, and asked Suzi, "Why did Jarod call you all of a sudden?"

Suzi made no secret: "I and Jarod..."

Originally wanted to say that he had an enmity with Jarod, suddenly when he thought that the only one was so young, Suzi did not want the only one to hear or see the grievances between adults, and to prevent children from seeing the viciousness between adults prematurely. She changed her words: "I have a little bit of a relationship with the Lin family."

"Festival?" Lilly, who was next to him, was particularly interested in the festival.

The little girl loves to be lively since she was a child, and wants to spend any festivals.

She raised her head and looked at her mother innocently: "Mom, your friend who called just now, what holiday is there? Is anyone celebrating his birthday? Mom, can I participate? I like singing birthday songs to children the most. ."

Suzi lowered her head and kissed her daughter Shen's only forehead: "Okay, when my mother has a friend on her birthday, we must bring the only one, and then let our only sing the birthday song for them, okay?"

Lilly was extremely happy: "It's very good! Mom, we also want to give you a gift to your friend."

After thinking about it, Lilly said more excitedly: "Just send the gift my dad brought me from Kyoto. Oh, yes, dad, didn't you say you brought me a truck of toys? What about toys?"

The topic is back again.

The little girl has a good memory.

That's what my dad told her when he left: "A week later, when dad returns from Kyoto, he will bring you a truckload of toys."

"Toys!" Arron sneered.

The toys are already on the road. Although they are not as exaggerated as a truck, they were transported back in four or five small cars. When that happens, Lilly will be happy with something.

It's just that those toys originally came two or three days late.

However, because Arron came back to Nancheng temporarily, the toys will be a few days late.

But at this moment, Arron sneered and looked at her daughter: "Only, you haven't answered me yet. When I left, I told you to take care of your mother. How did you take care of your mother!"

Lilly didn't hesitate to think: "...what's the matter with mom?"

Say yes, the little girl looked at Suzi very worried.

Suzi pulled Arron's sleeve.
