

Chapter 556

Fass nodded in agreement as he stroked Lynette's head. "Nettie, I will definitely get back at her for you!"

Upon hearing that, Lynette wiped away her tears and nodded. "Thank you, Uncle Fass—"

All of a sudden, the ringing of a phone interrupted what she was about to say. He lowered his gaze and realized that it was his phone that was ringing. Thus, he answered it.

"President Leonard, I have identified that person you wanted me to investigate!"

The corners of his mouth curved upward in a playful arc. His voice was steady and cold. "Which family is he from?" He thought to himself, No matter who it is, I'm going to make him suffer! Hence, he wasn't really interested as he listened to the voice coming from the phone.

"President Leonard, that person is the heir to the Lowry Family, the president of Lowry Family Conglomerate, and the most powerful person in Asia!"

The heir to the Lowry Family?! The president of Lowry Family Conglomerate?! The most powerful person in Asia?! That was Mason Lowry?! This isn't a joke, right? How could that man be Mason Lowry?! That familiar feeling he had when he first saw Mason surfaced in his mind again. Don't tell me it's really him!

He widened his eyes and squeezed his phone strongly—so much so that the veins in his arm stood out. He couldn't believe that he had met the legendary Mason Lowry! However, the investigation results brought back by his assistant could not be wrong! He felt as if his breath was stuck in his throat—he could neither breathe it out nor push it down—and he felt as if he was suffocating. He asked incredulously, "Is it really him? Are you sure?!"

His assistant was a little confused but nodded affirmatively. "There is no mistake!"

Without any warning, he suddenly threw his phone to the ground ferociously. He roared in fury, "How could it be him?! Is it really him?! How can that damn girl's backer be somebody from the Lowry Family?!" This time, we offended the entire Lowry Family!

Lynette was startled by Fass' sudden and abnormal actions. Thus, she immediately stepped forward and asked, "Uncle Fass, what's wrong? I've already dropped out of school. Could it be that Janet still won't forgive me?"

She gritted her teeth. Janet must have done something to their companies again for Uncle Fass to be so furious! What a b*tch! I've already dropped out of school! How can she still not forgive us?!

“It’s over! Everything is over! Both my company and your father’s company are done for!” Fass roared. He was so furious that he stretched out his hand and pointed at Lynette. At this point, he couldn’t care less about their uncle-niece relationship anymore!

“What’s wrong?! Why did you mention the Lowry Family just now?” Ronald looked puzzled. We were just in the middle of concocting plans to get back at Janet; why is he saying that we’re done for after answering his phone?

Fass had a tense expression on his face. Looking at Ronald with reddened eyes, he said in a grave voice, “Do you know who that man sitting in the principal’s office was?”

“Who was it?”

“The heir to the Lowry Family, the president of Lowry Family Conglomerate, and the most powerful person in Asia!” He spoke slowly, repeating everything his assistant had told him, word for word.

“What?!” Lynette and Ronald both widened their eyes in shock at those words. They were so shocked that they couldn’t help shuddering involuntarily.

“Fass, stop joking with us!” Layla stepped forward and grabbed Fass’ hand.

Fass roared, “I’m not in the mood to joke with you!” It’s over! We’re done for! The Lowry Family is famous for holding grudges! We spewed all those insults just now; I’m sure that man will not forget it! No wonder; no wonder he knew that Shields Enterprise was negotiating a huge business deal with the Moss Group. How could the man standing at the top of the business world not know about something like that?!
