

Chapter 621: Spiritual Senluo

In the sanctuary, the orc Chikara was carrying the coffin, and he was a little puzzled as he watched Ashe and the others' expressions become solemn. 3

Isn't Sen Luo really so surprising? How can you know this? Will I get 20% off when I go to buy fruit?

Besides, isn't this common sense? 3

The world is not real at all, and what everyone can feel is only a 'a certain side' of the world. For example, Chikara found that he was actually a little blue-green colorblind, but his high-frequency upper limit of hearing was higher than that of other races, which seemed to be a characteristic of the Orc race. 2

But it also shows that the world he perceives is different from others.

Later, the orcs discovered that, except for the senses, the same events are not the same in everyone's eyes. Some people see war, some people see opportunities, some people see evil, some people see kindness... Everyone's eyes are just a reflection of a certain side of the world, that is to say, the world that everyone perceives is false. 20

He would surrender to the Four Pillars of God, and now he is surrendering to Yaxiu and others for this reason—he doesn't have the reservedness of any sanctuary magician, and he doesn't care about other people's opinions, he just needs to satisfy his own demands. . 6

Because the orcs have long known that people cannot understand each other, and everyone can only be responsible for themselves. 9

This is perhaps the most striking difference between the Four Pillars and other sects: the former tries to make everyone understand this, while the latter basically tries to deny it. 6

Therefore, the orc did not think wildly, but stared at Gwen next to Igula and pondered. As the saying goes, do one thing and love one thing, Chikara quickly took the role of the younger brother, and thought about how to improve his status – his current status is basically lower than that of the foursome and Alice, but basically the same status as Gwen, who is also a trophy , Now the top priority is to show their uses, so that they can step on Gwen's head! 4

"I'm a dignified Chikara, I can't be lower than a stinky woman!" 7

Everyone glanced at Chikara, who had no idea what he was talking about, and thought that the influence of the Four Pillars Sect on the orcs was really immeasurable. 8

After being fed by Ash, Igula finally calmed down completely. He handed his draft paper to Ash and said, "Look here, we haven't been in touch all the time, but as long as you think about it, you'll understand – Sen Luo is too strange."7

"The Gospel Kingdom has a Gospel system. That's because the Yisu royal family worships the Gospel gods. What about Senluo? Civilization is cut off and the wasteland is apocalyptic, but the Dafa system can still take effect. What is it that exists to maintain this system?"2

"Gods? Gods need energy to drive, and Senluo doesn't always have a unified government. Who can worship gods?"

"We knew Dafa as soon as we came to Senluo, and we got used to it over time, but if we tell others, they definitely don't believe that there is a Dafa system: it competes with the law of death, so that people don't need to go to * after death, and It is condensed into a stronger obsession to continue to exist!"

"It gave death a second ending—a miracle without a doubt!"

Igula was right.

The Blood Moon is the most 'primitive' country, with no plug-ins. At most, the Blood Moon Supreme Lord forcibly supported two new races; 13

The Gospel adds a 'Gospel System' plug-in, but running this plug-in requires dozens of Legendary Sanctuaries as maintainers, which is understandable, and the 'Gospel System' does not interfere with the underlying logic of the world;

Sen Luo is incredible. Yaxiu and the others haven't seen any maintenance team yet, but the 'Dafa System' plug-in that can interfere with the underlying laws of life and death is still running! 2

Human death turns into Dafa, Dafa ascends to god, it is a natural upgrade system in Senluo.

Just, why?

In other countries, no matter whether you are a legendary magician or a sage in the world, when you die, you have to obediently go to * for a walk, and then become a learning material for future generations in the virtual realm.

Death is the greatest justice, and Sen Luo broke this rule. 2

“In addition, you also realize that the effect of the inheritance of the Age of God is too outrageous, right?” Igula pointed to his scratch paper and said, ““Kazakhstan”, “Gemini”, “Refuge”... Although these inheritances are less effective in scope than Gospel system, but the effect is already the same level. Especially “Refuge”, even miracles may not be able to extend 10 hours to 30,000 years, right? ”

Yaxiu glanced at the scratch paper and nodded lightly: “That’s right.” 2

“But these are not problems. The biggest problem is the abyss!” Igula looked around for a week: “Do you know how the abyss was formed?”5

It was naturally impossible for the Senluo people to answer this question. Harvey thought for a while: “I remember, it seems to say that where the magicians gather, there will be an abyss.”2

“That’s right,” Igula nodded, “because the abyss is the product of the magician.”

He paused, “After the death of the magician, the soul will be pulled by gravity and fall into the earth until hell. But in the process of going to hell, the negative energy of the magician’s soul is already polluting the earth. Death is the unavoidable destiny of all things. Whether you are a legend or a hero, you will inevitably experience great fear, unwillingness and even despair at the moment of death, so the soul of a person after death is almost always dark and dirty.”⁸

“Only after experiencing the six hells can a pure soul reach the virtual realm.”⁸

“The abyss is the gap between reality and hell. So the more magicians there are, the stronger the abyss must be.”¹

“Sen Luo has no abyss, there are only two possibilities, either the soul of the Sen Luo magician will never pass through * and enter the virtual realm-”

“Impossible.” Yaxiu shook his head: “I have seen the projection of Senluo in the virtual realm.” ¹

“Therefore, there is only the second possibility.” Igula said: “The earth is fake. Even if the soul of the magician falls into the earth, it cannot pollute an inch of soil.”¹

Everyone was silent for a while, and Harvey stomped the floor: “You mean, as long as I step on it hard, the ground will be trampled by me like a piece of paper?”

“Igula.” Ash reminded, “We’ve seen more than one underground city.”

“The areas that people can observe will collapse into reality, but the places that people can’t observe are fake.” Igula took out a third piece of scratch paper, pointed to it and said, “There is another very important clue – in the dark night. There is no starlight.”⁵

“This is because the Senluo people have never seen the starry sky at all. They can’t imagine a dark night where the stars shine.”⁵

Ash vaguely grasped Igula’s key words: “Imagine?”

“That’s right.” Igula said too much in one breath, feeling a little thirsty, and Gwen immediately handed it over: “Sen Luo, it’s not the real world, but the ideal world where will determines matter.”⁶

“Here, magicians can rely on strong obsessions to transform into Dafa, and rely on the beliefs of countless people to promote gods; in addition to relying on technical power, magicians can also inject imagination into fantasy creations, so they can create so many gods. Legacy; the reason why the Senluo people are united to strive for their ideals is because they are also encompassed by the power of idealism.”⁸

“Actually, we should have realized it a long time ago,” Igula looked at Ash and Harvey: “Why is Senra so powerful, but we have never heard of it?”³

Yes.

Sen Luo had the productivity of millions of legendary magicians two hundred years ago. At that time, the Blood Moon Kingdom had just entered the industrial age, and the Gospel Kingdom had not yet entered the electrical age. If there is an imaginary channel in Senluo Kingdom and other countries, even if it is only a level 2 imaginary channel that allows the two-wing magician to pass, as long as the gray fox magician is equipped with a heritage of this level such as “Refuge”, or dispatched the gods, The same can destroy other countries.

Gu Yan

However, Ashura and the others could find traces of technology from many other countries in the Senluo Kingdom, but they did not find evidence of the advanced development of the Senluo Kingdom in other countries.

“Because the civilization of the Age of Gods is a civilization that only belongs to the country of Senluo,” Igula said: “Heritage, Jishen, Dafa... Once these local specialties are separated from Senluo, they are meaningless. They can only take effect in Senluo. Unless other The country invades Sen Luo, otherwise Sen Luo has no advantage over other countries.”⁷

“Don’t forget, if the Senluo magician is really too outstanding, then other kingdom magicians can also obtain the knowledge of the Senluo magician from the virtual realm.”

Yaxiu has a hint of enlightenment: Void Realm is an online game, but every country is a stand-alone game. The Lord of God can add various elements to his stand-alone kingdom. When others enter the stand-alone kingdom, they have to abide by the rules of different stand-alone kingdoms. ⁸

But when it comes to online connection (virtual realm), only the most primitive laws can take effect. And the knowledge that can be spread in the virtual world must also be general knowledge in all regions. ³

The black crow suddenly said: “But these, can’t they be the assistance of the Lord of God to the kingdom of Sen Luo?”³

That's right, the Dafa system, idealistic creation, and no abyss, can also be said to be Lord Senluo Zhan's love for the kingdom of Senluo. The Omniscient Weaver can install the Gospel System for the Gospel Kingdom, and Lord Sen Luo Zhan can install a few more plug-ins, right?

"Let's not mention whether Lord Senluo Zhan can directly interfere with reality, but if it is God's assistance, He can't deliberately harm you, right?" Igula said: "What's going on with the twisted green?"

Black Crow was stunned for a moment, then said after a moment of silence: "That's a cruel system to spur us to keep striving and weed out the lazy and weak."2

"It's not necessary at all. In the wave of belief of all people, even if there is no twisted green, everyone has to follow Dafa and struggle in the end." Igula said: "The twisted green is actually a variant of the abyss."

"Although the soul of the magician finally went to the virtual world, the despair of the soul still stays in this world. There is no soil to form the abyss, so the negative energy condenses in the dark night that you can't see, and turns into a twisted green that eats away will. , turning all the weak-willed into monsters."3

"Regardless of whether the green garland is in Lord Senluo Zhan's plan, the green garland just fits in with the Dafa system, so he did not interfere with this mechanism."

“He just needs a kingdom that can stably produce gods.” Igula said: “Everything in the kingdom of Senluo is for this.”³

At this point, everyone understood Igula’s derivation process. ⁴

I am afraid that Lord Sen Luo Zhan just wanted to create an idealistic environment for mortals to ascend to gods. However, changes in the underlying laws of the world will lead to infinite changes. Green twists, fantasy creations, and waves of belief are all effects of the idealistic world. Maybe Lord Sen Luo Zhan interfered, or maybe not, but in fact, the country of Sen Luo has indeed ascended to four generations of gods, and he succeeded. ⁶

Yaxiu and the others can naturally accept this result quickly, after all, they are not locals. But others, I am afraid it is more difficult to accept this truth. ¹

Ash patted Black Crow’s shoulder: “Even if the world is idealistic, it is yours too.”²

“Don’t worry, I haven’t wavered at all.” Black Crow said, “I will never give up the world to those hideous crows.”

Pfft.

The orc laughed suddenly, everyone looked at him, and he quickly explained, "I just thought of a funny thing."5

"If it's not funny, then you can carry the coffin upside down." Igula said. 8

Seeing Harvey also nodding, Chikara said quickly: "I just think, according to what you said, Mr. Borgin, the kingdom of Senluo is like a dream bubble with affixes. Alas, I have always been bad at cracking affixes, basically Violence must be used to break through the bubble..."9

Igula was startled and murmured, "Fantasy Bubble..."

"Actually, there's no need to pay attention, so what if you know this?" Hearing this shocking secret, Yaxiu seemed very calm, clapped his hands and said, "The nature of the world has nothing to do with us, right?"1

Harvey glanced at him: "Axiu, we are already sanctuary magicians." 3

Even in Senluo Country, Sanctuary Warlocks are scientific research talents who can explore the origins of the cutting-edge technology world. 7

"Compared to these, Igula, do you recognize what you wrote?" 4

Ash handed the scratch paper back to Igula, and the cheater nodded: "Of course, I'm not you."

"Then what is this word called?" 1

"This word is called "Gospel Kingdom"..." Igula immediately reacted with confusion on her face: "How is it possible..." 2

Ashe had just discovered that the draft paper wasn't serious text at all, but it wasn't garbled. When Igula said this, he recognized that it was a combination of multiple words into one word. 1

It is estimated that it is a side effect of “Truth Link”. When Igula was deriving, the speed of writing words was far behind his brain speed, so he subconsciously further compressed the words and wrote regular but incomprehensible combined words. 2

Harvey suddenly said, “The silver lamp may have something to do with this place.”

He glanced at the others: “Her ‘illusion’ thought seems to have a certain overlap with this truth.”

After fighting with Yindeng for a long time, everyone has always had a question in their hearts – where does Yindeng’s worldview come from? 10

No sect in the wasteland has anything to do with her worldview, and even the Four Pillars are not as extreme as her. Human thought cannot be a rootless source, consciousness must be affected by the environment, and now, they seem to finally see the tip of the iceberg hidden by the silver lamp. 4

Although ‘Sen Luo is not real’ is still a long way from Yin Deng’s ‘reality is just an illusion’, they have only cracked the first fog wall, and they may be able to give them more detailed answers later. 2

“Maybe it is.” Black Crow said first: “But so what?”

“This can only show that she is not a lunatic for no reason at all, and it does not affect her still being a vicious crow who kills countless people.” His distorted voice was full of awe: “We can find out her weaknesses by understanding her. , but there must be no sympathy for understanding her.”²²

“Only the souls in * are qualified to forgive her.”

“Do I look like someone who has any compassion for the living?” Harvey glanced at Black Crow. ¹

Igula narrowed her eyes and stared at the black crow, “I think, our magician is not yet an illiterate person to teach a lesson-” ¹

“Okay.” Ash interrupted them and took the lead through the fog wall. This time the fog wall no longer blocked him, who already knew the truth: “Tamahi is right.”⁶

Chapter 622: expect

In the ruins of the dead city church, when the blue door resurfaced, six figures and a coffin were pushed out.

“It turns out that if you can’t solve the answer within a certain period of time, you will be kicked out...”
Ash said with a wry smile: “No wonder no one died in it.”

After the fog wall, it really is the fog wall. 5

However, unlike the first foggy wall, after seeing the golden ‘Truth Link’ on the second foggy wall, they only had one question in their minds: “What is the biggest factor affecting Dafa’s initiation of the Age of Gods?”⁷

They, including Igula, didn’t have any thought divergence. After pondering for ten minutes, everyone was kicked out. 1

Obviously, they do not have the key information to deduce the second truth. As the saying goes, it is difficult to have a feast without lala fat, and the Law of Labida needs to be deduced by people with elementary school mathematics. If Yaxiu and the others want to deduce the second truth, they must at least know the relevant historical knowledge of the Age of Gods. 12

However, in the wasteland, there are only rumors about the glory of the Fire Cat God, the Blue Bird God, the Grey Fox God, and how these Dafa started the God Age. . 8

They are also at a loss now – the only way to escape the dead city may be behind the fog wall, but they don't have enough intelligence, they can't deduce it anyway, and they can't crack the "link of truth"!

They wanted to enter the blue door again, but found that "you are not qualified" was also displayed on the blue door, which means that they could no longer enter this hidden refuge hidden in the gaps in space until they deduced the second truth. 4

"Thinking about it, this is actually very strange."

Ash watched the blue door disappear and said, "Why did the Grey Fox Magician build such a hidden shelter in the time gap at the highest level of the "Refuge"? "1

"It's really strange." Igula pondered: "And there are also "truth links" related to the nature of the world, as if they knew we would come, so they specially left a message to tell us. "

“Why doesn’t the gray fox magician leave a message directly, it has to be so troublesome?” Chikara complained: “They should be dragged out and flicked to death.”¹⁴

Everyone didn’t respond to the orc’s speech, probably because they all agreed in their hearts.

At this time, Gwen seemed to remember something and pulled Laigula’s sleeve. Igula looked impatient, but leaned down to listen to her. ³

Then the fraudster pondered for a moment and nodded: “It is indeed possible that this is the case.”

“Um?”

“Didn’t it say that there was a ‘catastrophic cataclysm’ more than two hundred years ago, all adults died, and most fantasy creations were destroyed, leaving only a few children, and then entered the wasteland age?” Igula said to everyone: “When the ‘Great Cataclysm’ happened, there should be people in the dead city, right?” ²

Ash immediately reacted: "If the 'Great Cataclysm' is an instant natural disaster, then people in the dead city will definitely trigger the 'Refuge' and enter the highest level of time!"⁶

"But the "Refuge" can only affect the dead city area, they can't leave the dead city, and the "catastrophe" affects the entire Senluo country, they can't escape death."

Igula nodded: "There must be magicians in the dead city, and there may even be sanctuary magicians and legendary magicians. They opened up hidden refuges, and then, like us, think about where the 'big cataclysm' came from, what is it, how to solve it..."¹

"Naturally they didn't escape the 'catastrophe' in the end, but those 'truth links' are most likely the answer they left behind."

Chikara scratched his head: "Then it's useless for us to crack the "link of truth", what we need to solve is the current crisis, not the 'catastrophe'... Ah, no wonder no one has walked out of the dead city alive in the past two hundred years, saying Maybe they finally cracked the "truth link", only to find that they were busy!"⁵

Igula shook his head: "That's why I asked you just now, do you know how long the dead city has been? If the dead city was after the 'Great Cataclysm', it would become a dead city that pulls people into the gap of time. , then the crisis we are facing is probably the aftershock caused by the 'Great Cataclysm'. And..."

Gu Fei

“It’s not necessarily that no one walked out of the dead city alive.” Ash said, and suddenly walked to the side, staring at the wall thoughtfully. 6

“Come and see.”

Everyone went over and saw that there were runes carved on the wall.

As mentioned earlier, the dead city is full of strange runes that no one can understand. At that time, they were still thinking about who is so idle, but after their brains were activated by “Truth Link”, these runes did not work. Then there are the strange patterns that are meaningless and incomprehensible.

“”In 286, there were three other forces at the same level as the Fire Cat Sect...” Ash stroked the rune on it and muttered, “So it turns out that the words all over the city are all the messages left by the predecessors. . “1

The orc wondered: “Why didn’t they leave the normal-”

“Because they can’t stay. “Truth Link” will cause people to collapse and other effects. We can’t write normal words now, we can only leave this kind of combined words! “Igula cheered up: “In the dead city, there is information needed for the second truth! “9

“Do you search separately?”

“No need.” Ash said, “We have unlimited time and don’t need to care about efficiency.”3

Although that is said, they are basically read separately in one area. Because there is too much written information in the dead city, and some of them are chaotic and overlapping, and the amount of information is large, they can only be responsible for part of it, and then extract meaningful information and summarize it together.

Moreover, the more Yaxiu and others looked at it, the more they understood that the reason why the predecessors left this information was not all to take care of future generations, but because they did not have scratch paper, they could only use their fingers as a pen and everything as paper to record their The derivation process.

Igula was the editor in charge of the summary, but soon he found the problem: there was not enough paper. 1

Originally, the artist rarely used paper, and it was a daily necessities. But Gwen gave him an idea: she could use astral magic to engrave on the wall, fast and low consumption. Igula accepted. 6

While Yaxiu was reading, UU Reading www.uukanshu.com Yuan Chan suddenly appeared, and after turning around him a few times, his head swayed in another direction.

He felt something in his heart, and flew over to take a look. Judging from the clarity of the handwriting, it should be a relatively new record – the longer it exists, the more severe the erosion by wind and sand, and the more blurred the handwriting will naturally be. 2

The newer the record, the less likely it will be overwritten, which not only improves the reading efficiency, but also increases the amount of information in the record itself. Yaxiu touched the round cicada and praised it for its good work. 2

After Yaxiu finished reading the wall, Yuan Chan turned around a few times, again guiding him to find a relatively new record nearby. Yaxiu was a little puzzled, but Yuanchan was originally a time-based Dafa, and it was not surprising that it had the ability to recognize the old and the new, so he didn't think much about it. 4

Not far from Yaxiu, Weisser hid in the shadow of the tall building, Fang Chan was lying on her head, even if she didn't have an expression, she could see that it was quite tired – it took a lot of time to rub its breath against the wall just now. If you don't work hard, you won't be able to seduce Yuan Chan. 8

Weisser quietly stuck out her head and stared at Ash's profile, feeling both apprehension and anticipation in her heart. She couldn't help but turn around in small steps, forcibly suppressing her excited heartbeat and continuing to observe. 16

She thought, the past is coming to an end.

She thought, the future is about to begin.

She was soon no longer alone.

Chapter 623: Igula's Sin

Igula gradually understood why the Grey Fox Magician used the troublesome but insignificant mechanism of "Truth Link".

Because they don't just want latecomers to 'know', but need latecomers to 'believe'.

It's too easy to know, just like you know that there are icebergs that feel like fire in the extreme north, that there are whales like mountains in the deep sea, and that girls' lips are soft, but if you haven't experienced it yourself,

Chapter 624: Sunro's ending

Whose ending? 2

"The three "truth links" should be in a progressive relationship. "

On the rooftop, Igula was sitting on the coffin cover, thinking about the third link, Gwen whispered something next to her. 2

Yes, it should be a progressive relationship.

The first link, pointing out the truth of the world,

The second link points out Lord Sen Luo Zhan's interference in reality,

The target pointed to by the third link should be...

At this time, Harvey flew over and said, "A psionist found that the soul of the green beast will not disappear after death, but will be attached to the crystal fragments, and even some perception and thinking ability will remain..."⁵

Gwen hurriedly engraved the information, and after Harvey finished speaking, he looked at Igula on the coffin: "Come down."³

Igula stood up and saw that Yaxiu was about to fly back to gather the information, so he spread his wings and flew to the other side, saying, "Come here."²

In fact, the relationship between the necromancer and the deceiver is actually quite subtle: Igula has always looked down on Harvey's aesthetics of death, and Harvey is not interested in the living Igola, and they usually have nothing to say.²

Friends, companions, fellow travelers... These words are hard to describe their relationship. If you have to say it, they are two freshwater fish in the sea, just because they encountered the same torrent, they wandered together. . 8

Igula flew into the shadow of a ruin, glanced at the black crow who was stationed on the tower, and said, "Ash knows to cause me trouble..." 5

Harvey sat on the stone: "Aren't you used to this yet?"

"Don't talk like you don't cause trouble."

"I don't need you to wipe my butt." 5

Igula stopped talking to him: "If I'm not mistaken, the third link of truth is likely to point to the secret of the silver lamp. More directly, it will wash away what the silver lamp did before." 23

“Impossible.” The necromancer shook his head: “Even according to my values, I can’t think of any reason to rationalize the silver lamp. Even if it is true, as she said, when a person dies, he enters eternity. Using this to whitewash her behavior... Of course I don’t mind, but Ash obviously can’t mind.”⁴

“But Silver Lantern believes it can.” Igula said: “She may have other purposes, but her main goal in coming to the Dead City is probably to let us – or let Ash – understand what she is doing. Based on her current The exposed IQ, I don’t think it’s her wishful thinking or self-deception, maybe she knows what kind of spiritual loophole Yaxiu has...”⁷

As early as before, Ash had mentioned that it was very abnormal for Yin Deng to be trapped by the Four Pillars Sect until it was dark. After deciphering the first “link of truth”, Igula also vaguely understood the intention of the woman.

I’m afraid she’s somewhere in town right now, waiting for them to crack the last secret. 1

Harvey said lazily, “So why did you call me here? I’m not interested in understanding the intrigue of your high-IQ people.”⁵

“Tamahi Crow killed.”

Igula spit out the name softly: “No matter what truth we find out, it is impossible for this die-hard black crow to give up his hostility to the silver lamp, because it is not only about his beliefs, but also about his revenge – as long as he still wants to take revenge on the Quicksilver Trojan, you cannot be soft-hearted with any villain, or the Quicksilver Trojan can find a breach and defeat his defenses.”

““Why did you only target me but let go of the silver lamp?” Normal people can laugh at such words, but that stinky crow can’t accept such accusations.”⁵

“I had already defeated his mental defenses and made him a crow, so that he would be easy to deal with after he lost his principles. But Ash was busy with his own business...”⁶

“I’m not surprised by this at all.” Harvey said leisurely: “I even want to laugh at you for being unreasonable—you still dare to underestimate the variable of Ash.”¹⁴

“All in all, if it’s really necessary, I need you and your new servant to pull the black crow away.” Igula said: “Two sanctuary magicians and a undead, kidnap one who is not even a magician. Ordinary people, is it okay?”⁹

“Although I have objections to the term ‘ordinary people’, it’s fine.” Harvey said, “So, do you want to give up being hostile to the silver lamp?”⁴

“It’s already very difficult for us to solve the Silver Lantern.” Igula said, “Although the blood seed curse is troublesome, it is not wise to fight against an enemy like the Silver Lantern for the blood seed.” 2

“Now that we have broken with the Four Pillars of God, we have actually lost the capital to hunt down the silver lamp, unless we are willing to cooperate with the mercury Trojan – I’m fine, but can you, Ash and Tamashi bear this breath? ?” 6

“And the main reason for us to hunt down the silver lamp is actually to solve Yaxiu’s semi-tactile sense. As long as we give up our hostility, we can free up our hands to find the heritage leading to other countries; as long as we leave Sen Luo, the semi-tactile problem will also be solved naturally. .”

“and...”

Igula’s face is hidden in the shadows: “There is no need to embarrass him.” 25

“I would like to see the expression on his face after killing the silver lamp with his own hands.” Harvey said, “It must be very interesting.”9

Igula looked at the necromancer: "Archibald..." 15

"Just to scare you." Archibald Harvey patted his butt, spread his wings and left: "Don't sit on the coffin next time." 16

After arranging this matter, Igula also returned to the rooftop. At this time, Gwen had recorded a lot of information.

"The wasteland has lasted for more than two hundred years..."

"Although they can be culled in time, the frequency of deep-sea green beasts is getting higher and higher..." 1

"Because the power of the late-night strangler increased year by year, the frequency of caravans decreased."

“There were two ‘big dizziness’ incidents in the Fire Cat God Generation, and everyone lost consciousness for up to a minute. Aoto God Generation also happened once.”⁴

“Compared with a hundred years ago, the average sunshine time has decreased by 30 minutes.”

“After the Age of Gods began, the green beasts were completely wiped out.” ¹

Unlike the first two ‘Truth Links’, the effective information required for the third truth link can’t help but be very complicated, and there is no connection between them. Igula’s derivation process is very difficult, and it can only be vaguely deduced that the living environment in the Senluo Wasteland seems to be gradually becoming worse, but with so many sects fighting, it is unreasonable to remain bad...⁴

It is also normal for green beasts to increase. After all, the more people die, the more despair, and the green twist will naturally increase accordingly.

What caught Igula’s attention was that the green beast didn’t seem to have the concept of death.

Even if they are destroyed, devoured, and ground into powder, their souls still exist in other forms. Igula didn't know if they would feel pain in this state, but just being immortal and immortal and unable to do anything was already an unimaginable torture. 7

Gu Kung

However, this kind of despair is not without end. As long as the Age of Gods appears and all living beings and people want, then the green beast will be completely wiped out, ending the fate of eternal displacement.

With the collection of information, Igula's doubts deepened – this information can't be deduced further, what does it have to do with the ending? There seems to be a key piece of the puzzle that they never found, so the logic chain is always broken. 1

Boom!

Suddenly there was a sound in the distance, and Igula's first reaction was 'why can they hear the sound when time slows down', but after thinking about it, I understood – just like they can exert an influence on objects, the sound is equivalent to the effect they cause on the air. The vibration will naturally have a certain effective range.

He raised his head and saw the scene he least wanted to see: the ruins of tall buildings in the distance, the black crow was chasing the silver lamp.

That black crow didn't even have a sanctuary, so he wasn't afraid of the silver lamp—oh, he wasn't afraid, Ash was nearby. 1

At this time, Harvey was coming back to submit information. He saw this scene and knew that things were in trouble, so he slowly said the effective clues he found: "The interval between the first generation of gods and the generation of fire cats is 30 years, and the generation of fire cats and blue birds is 30 years. The age of the gods is separated by 5 years, and the blue bird and the gray fox are separated by 3 years."9

Igula's heart moved, realizing that this was a very important piece of the puzzle. But without the key puzzle, he still can't—

Suddenly, Igula remembered the way she explored in the distant airspace.

Ordinary sanctuary explores the distant airspace, either directly fighting like Chikara, or trying out affixes like Ash and others, and Igula is different from them—

He will look for the dream master. 5

The dream master, the master of the dream bubble, once the dream master dies, the bubble will shatter.

Sometimes the battle between the magician and the imaginary creatures spreads to the roadside people. If you accidentally kill the dream master, you will directly break the bubble.

But not many people know that the dream master also knows the affixes of bubbles, or in other words, the affixes are generated because the dream master has special desires.

It's just that the dream master is no different from most passers-by, and even if the magician knows this, it is difficult to find out. But Igula is different. He can analyze the bubble environment, the image of passers-by, the surrounding scenery and other factors, and gradually narrow the scope of the dream master until he finds the dream master, and then use spiritual miracles to control the opponent. 3

This method naturally takes a lot of time, but as the proficiency level increases, Igula can judge the difficulty of finding the dream master in the current bubble within 5 minutes. If it is within 30 minutes, continue to search, and if it exceeds 30 minutes, it will enter the next bubble.

He can now explore nearly 10 bubbles in one night, which is why he has just entered the remote airspace, but he has begun to fight. He does not have the secrets of Yaxiu, nor the shackles of Harvey's ghost king. own struggle. 10

In the process, Igula discovered that the dream master will have other effects besides the death that will break the bubble. For example, when the dream owner is injured, passersby will feel pain; when the dream is bleeding, the bubble environment will begin to deteriorate; when the dream owner is about to die, passers-by no longer maintain a normal state, but become...9

crazy. 2

It was like the iceberg in his mind suddenly melted completely. Igula looked at the ground filled with records, and all the joints suddenly became clear, and the derivation process was clear-2

First of all, "Sen Luo is idealistic" and "Sen Luo Zhan's will can directly interfere with reality", these are the two truths that have been deduced. 3

The reason for "the previous generation of gods was very short" is very easy to understand, which means that Lord Sen Luo Zhan wants to enter the next generation of gods as soon as possible to obtain new gods.

“The era of wasteland has lasted for more than two hundred years”, which can only point to one conclusion: Lord Senluo Zhan’s interference in reality is not as strong as before, and he can’t even open the Age of Gods! Otherwise, there is no reason for him to give up this fertile field that can grow gods!

Although the “environmental deterioration of Senluo” is reasonable from a practical point of view, it is very unreasonable in Senluo – the will of all beings here can interfere with reality, and everyone is a devout and ardent believer, and they gather together. The will of man can even create miraculous creations. Under the circumstance that everyone is pursuing beauty, the natural environment of Ideal Senluo will only spiral upward, how can it decline?

However, the environment has deteriorated, which can only mean that the will of all living beings is covered by a grander will. 12

There are also ‘Big Dizziness’ and ‘Big Cataclysm’, such events that can affect everyone in the country must be a miracle. But under the protection of Senluo Zhan, the other gods should have other supporting actions even if they want to do something. Why just let the Senluo people be wiped out, but not occupy the Senluo land? 1

Therefore, the ‘big dizziness’ and the ‘big cataclysm’ can only be created by Lord Sen Luo Zhan himself.

All these evidences point to two truths: the kingdom of Senluo is a country of idealism, and it is also a dream bubble created by Senluo and Lord Senluo Zhan.

Because it is a dream bubble, Senluo people can become Dafa, so outrageous fantasy creations can appear; but because Lord Senluo Zhan's will transcends the will of all beings, his command will become Senluo's destiny. Sen Luo is closely related.

Lord Sen Luo Zhan is the dream owner of this bubble; the others are all passersby in the bubble.

The second truth is that Lord Sen Luo Zhan is on the verge of death! 19

Only when he is on the verge of death will he be unable to maintain the cause of God's generation in the land of Senluo, and even the "catastrophe" itself, it is very likely that it is because of the fatal damage to his body that hundreds of millions of Senluo people died because of this!

He is bleeding, so Senluo's environment is deteriorating year by year; He can't open the Age of Gods, so the wasteland has only lasted for more than two hundred years!

Therefore, the third question of "Truth Link" asks "what is the ending", which refers to "when Lord Senluo Zhan enters death, what will happen to the Kingdom of Senluo". 4

When a person dies, out of the instinct of life, the most terrifying despair erupts involuntarily. Igula doesn't think that God Lord can resist the despair of death, and even because He is trying to save himself, he will stretch the moment of death for an extremely long time, which will eventually breed extremely cold malice. 4

He was afraid that he was seriously injured and died two hundred years ago, but it has been delayed until now, but there is still no sign of improvement. 5

If the death of Lord Senluo Zhan will lead to the destruction of the kingdom of Senluo, UU reading www.uukanshu.com When all living beings perish, it is naturally an unstoppable apocalypse. But Igula thought of Yin Lan's behavior, and suddenly realized that there was another, more terrifying possibility – what would happen if Lord Senluo Zhan died, but the kingdom of Senluo still existed? 3

As the dream master of "Spiritual Senluo", Lord Senluo Zhan's despair is enough to pollute the entire earth, turning into green streaks during the day, strangling everyone to death, and then—

Everything will come to the most desperate end. 13

In the blink of an eye, the fraudster has fully understood Yin Deng's idea. Although the most important piece of the puzzle is missing, he is sure that this is the truth that Yin Lan wants Ash to know. twenty three

He suddenly stood up and pulled Harvey, and the necromancer said, "Okay, okay, I'll let Alice come out with me to stop—"

"Do not."

Igula pressed the necromancer's shoulder tightly, and Morihan's murderous intent appeared in his eyes: "We are going to kill Yin Lan."5

Harvey was slightly startled, his expression did not change, but his eyes were obviously asking 'this is different from what we said'.

"She didn't deceive herself or wishful thinking, she was just selfish."41

"Silver Lamp must die." Igula said word by word: "There is no need to embarrass him."

Chapter 626: You will regret this

During the stagnant time, the “sanctuary” that was supposed to be used as a refuge, has now become a battlefield for each other.

Chikara suddenly left the battle group. He realized that he was the most easily affected by the miracle of the silver lamp. Almost all the attacks he sent out were ineffective, and they would even be passed on to others. He had to change the way of fighting.

Among so many people, Fire Sanctuary Chikara is the one who has the strongest fear of the Silver Lantern – if he hadn't stood a little farther from Mond and Zapatel just now, the one who was killed by the Silver Lantern Inside, there will be an extra wise orc!

Whether the “Refuge” will kill them is unknown, but Yin Lan almost killed him! And he's still on Silver Lantern's kill list!

Since there is now a chance to besiege Yin Lan, even to save his life, Chikara has to do everything he can!

I saw him grabbing from the air with both hands, and out of thin air, he grabbed two black flame whips, which were obviously air calamities that could burn space. However, the air robbery fire does not recognize the master. In order to grasp the black flame whip, he must hold the sanctuary with both gloves, which means that he is burning magic power all the time.

Seeing the opportunity, Chikara threw the whip out, circled around the sanctuary of the silver lamp, and directly tied her sanctuary! Yin Deng immediately broke free by shrinking the sanctuary, but the black flame whip was like a shadow, and the more she shrank the black flame whip, the tighter it became, until it was completely tied to her!

Miracle Air Calamity Fire Shackles!

An extremely rare limiting miracle for the fire faction, the most special feature of this move is that, although it still cannot completely restrain the movements of the Sanctuary, the Air Calamity will continue to burn the Sanctuary and continue to consume the enemy's magic power. If you open a sanctuary, you will be bound by the black flame whip and burn to death, and you have to endure the consumption; if the enemy wants to stay away, the consumption of mana will become more, because there is a 'from the fire' magic spirit in this miracle, the distance The farther the Chikara is, the higher the damage!

Although Chikara also has to consume mana, he is a fire magic sanctuary. For every mana he consumes, Silver Lantern has to consume at least two. . This move is naturally useless when singled out, but it is an excellent support when it comes to group fights!

Yin Deng also discovered the wonders of the shackles of the air robbery, and had to temporarily give up the quick movement before breaking it.

But there is more than one enemy she faces – in a chaotic night sky, crow shadows are drawn like ink brushes outside her sanctuary, attacking her sanctuary like a rainstorm of pear flowers!

Among these six people, Black Crow is not the strongest, and he doesn't even have the means to fly, but he is the enemy that makes Yin Lan the most troublesome. Sanctuary will also be driven by kinetic energy. Black Crow knows that he can't kill Silver Lamp and has no means to consume Silver Lamp's magic power, but he can use the purest violence, like mountains and storms, to block Silver Lamp's retreat!

On the other side, the dark ride Harvey made a circle in the air, the green flames on his body skyrocketed, and the body inside the armor almost turned into a torch.

The flames spread to his decapitating crescent scythe, doubling the blade and transforming his undead horse into a flaming motorcycle!

Harvey will naturally not be satisfied with unlocking the ten undead arm forms in "Shackles of the Ghost King". He incorporates his own miracles into them and develops exclusive miracles that can strengthen the undead arms. In its current state, he named it the advanced form of the Ghost Rider, the Soul Reaver Death Rider!

With the roar of fire and steel from the motorcycle, Harvey rushed to the silver lamp like death!

At the same time, Igula bit the tip of his tongue, and the burst of pain spread to his pituitary gland, causing a new change in the world in his eyes – the Ashe who he visualized was no longer normal. , but what he had seen in a dream, slaughtering the gods and admiring the doomsday's nightmare, Ashe'!

Miracle Xinjiang Dream visions overlap!

Rely on intense pain to improve your imagination, so that what you imagined is not real imagination can also be turned into reality to destroy the enemy!

The shackles of the air robbery, the white dance of the black crow, the harvesting of the soul-snatching death knight, the nightmare of the psychic... In the face of the siege from all directions, Wesser has no fear, she just glanced at the cover. The heart swords of others shone brightly, and then unlocked the sanctuary.

Seeing that the black flame whip was about to tie up the silver lamp, and other attacks were about to drown the woman, not only did Igula not have any excitement, but only a strong sense of fear and disbelief in her heart: "Is this even possible?"

Illusion miracle · try yourself!

Weisser's body suddenly became illusory, about 0.4 seconds, and the whole person lit up like a silver lamp.

Then, all the attacks that fall on the silver lamp are fed back to the caster himself!

The one with the lowest loss is Chikara, he is just bound by the black flame whip, just lift it directly;

The belly of the black crow was suddenly slashed with blood, like a dead crow falling down;

Harvey was directly knocked out of the Soul Reaper Death Knight form and returned to a normal Nether Knight, but the icy fire on his body was much weaker;

Igula's sanctuary was instantly hit with countless ripples, his mana reserve was the weakest, and this directly consumed half of his mana!

The only attack that took effect, the one with the lowest combat power was Gwen. The flickering starlight she shot did not catch up with this wave of outbreaks, and belatedly passed over Wesser, who was out of the silver light state, scratching the face of the moving natural disaster.

Silver blood flowed out of the scar and stagnated in the air.

This is the only victory.

The magicians are unbelievable. Although the hidden card of the silver lamp, the effect is too terrifying. It directly reflects all the attacks to the caster without any damage to itself!

No, there is no such good thing. Igula quickly extracted the shortcomings of this miracle: first, the duration is only 0.4 seconds. The lamp did not rise to the sanctuary immediately, but was hit by the twinkling stars, which is probably not accidental.

Rebound is rebound, unaffected is unaffected. The fact that the silver lamp can be completely unaffected can only mean that she is completely separated from the outside world within 0.4 seconds – she has cut the space!

The reconnection of the cut space to the outside world will cause a small-scale spatial shock. During this time, if she raises the sanctuary, she will take the initiative to fight, and will severely consume her own magic power, so she has to delay for a few seconds!

Although there are still shortcomings, in the hands of a magician like Yin Lan who has no loopholes in mind and experience, this miracle is still perfect – a silver lamp will not give them any chance at all.

“You can't use miracles.”

Ash caught the falling black crow, put the latter on the nearby rooftop, and said, “The long-range attack will be bounced away, the powerful miracle will be diverted, and the only effective and safe tactic is close combat.”

Harvey immediately changed from “Eighth Arms Dark Knight” to “Sixth Arms Blood Count”, holding a blood-stained chain sword in his hand, and his armor turned into a black trench coat – there is no doubt that the prototype of this arm is from Kaimon City. Captain Hunter, Gerald Westminster.

Chikara raised his fists, both fists covered with black flames – it is not unusual for an orc to be good at the fist and claw faction.

Melee combat is indeed not Igula’s domain. He glanced at Gwen, who could emit starlight. With a move, he flew over and asked, “Can you emit a large area of dazzling starlight?”

“can.”

“Listen to my command and prepare to interfere with the sight of the silver lamp!”

Zheng!

With the sound of the sword breaking through the air, Yaxiu, who was holding a honey belly sword, took the lead to find Wesser. Wesser reduced the sanctuary to only cover the body surface, and fought with his sharp sword with both hands!

But Yaxiu did not raise the sanctuary. Among the sanctuary magicians, he was the only one who did not raise the sanctuary, and he was also the only one who could instantly kill the silver lamp.

– In other words, he just wanted to use himself as a bait to consume the last chance of Fang Chan’s casting of the silver lamp, and then revive him in place with three seconds.

When the blade and both hands made a symphony, an uncontrollable thought appeared in Wieser’s heart – it was almost like they were in the divine fire trial before – but when she saw Ash’s expressionless cold face, She knew that the other party did not have the same mind as her.

Her nose was slightly sore, but the martial arts with both hands became more and more violent, and she took the initiative to fight Yaxiu!

That's right, her illusion series of miracles are all based on the premise that the enemy uses powerful miracles before they can use strength and even bounce back.

The melee combat with real swords and real guns is indeed the best way to deal with her.

But the problem is that in the face of close combat, Wesser only needs to spread his wings and fly directly to leave the battlefield. It's not the closed state of the divine fire trial,

Why would she melee others instead of playing to her own strengths?

Facing the close combat of Ash, Harvey, and Chikara, Wesser should have just flew away and fought while retreating.

But she didn't take a step back this time, as if she was going to decide the outcome here!

You will regret this.

Weisser leaned back to avoid Ashe's sword, grabbed Chikara's mouth with his left hand and pressed down, actually pinning the two-meter-tall orc to the ground, then turned around and punched Ashe, with a pair of wonderful eyes staring fiercely. As the leader of the cult, his grievances filled his eyes with mist. UU Reading www.uukanshu.com

You will regret this!

Harvey swung the chain sword with both hands and dashed forward in two consecutive slashes. The chain sword danced in the air like a blood shadow, as if to cut out a sea of corpses and blood. However, Vessel passed through the shadow of the sword without a trace, kicked Harvey away with one foot, and immediately avoided Yaxiu's horizontal slash in a single line, and then Oolong bounced around the column to deceive Yaxiu's arms. inside!

You will definitely regret it!

As the fighting time prolonged, the tacit understanding of Ash, Harvey, and Chikara rose rapidly. Under the three-way siege, Wesser was frustrated. Harvey and Chikara began to pay attention not to let her escape, but Wesser still did not have any With the intention of retreating, he almost had to bite the silver teeth and fight them to the end!

She stared at Yaxiu closely, all the tricks seemed to kill him, but the tricks were all martial skills that had been used countless times in the Shenhua trial, and Yaxiu could easily avoid them. On the contrary, it was Yaxiu's sword, she did not dodge once, and let the sanctuary continue to consume.

She didn't tell the truth because she knew that no one could accept the real ending and had to let them figure it out for themselves.

so...

Keep going!

The harder you fight now, the more regretful you will be later!

You are ignoring my love now, and I will let you down in a while!

snort!

As long as you wait to decipher the third "link of truth", you will understand me, Ash, because...

I've always been right!

Chapter 627: Rust, Lemon and Sweet Orange

Silver lights are right.

Looking at the besieged silver lamp, Igula knew this very well.

But he couldn't say it, at least when the silver lamp was alive, he couldn't say it.

The fact that Yin Deng is correct does not mean that her world view is correct. "Reality is a momentary illusion, and the virtual world is an eternal future." Whether true or false, such a thing cannot be a legitimate reason for Yin Deng to ravage all beings.

So, is there a reasonable reason for the silver lamp to ravage all beings like this?

have. .

This is the truth of the third "truth link", the ending caused by Sen Luozhan's frequent death.

Although Lord Senluo Zhan is the dream master of the bubble of 'Wishful Senluo', his death will not destroy 'Wishful Senluo'. Because in addition to sleeves, there are tens of millions of dream masters in the wasteland, and they can continue to operate this dream bubble.

This should be a good thing, but it has become a source of despair.

Because of the despair that erupted from the death of Lord Senluo Zhan, it will unreservedly pollute the entire country of Senluo. His will can bring Sen Luo's generation of gods, and his despair can naturally determine Sen Luo's ending.

Sen Luo, infected with despair, will soar to a level that no one can bear. As a result, only one, one by one, everyone will be turned into a green beast.

But the green beast is immortal. Even if they kill each other, devour each other, and grind their bodies to powder, their souls will continue to flow away.

In the past, all green beasts could be eliminated only by entering the Age of Gods. Igula suspects that the greatest significance of the Age of Gods is to unify the will of all people and make everyone's hearts bright. In the mechanism of 'Spiritual Senluo', this positive energy is enough to Destroy all negative energy things.

But if everyone turns into green beasts and Lord Senluo Zhan also dies, it means that there will be no generation of gods and green beasts will not be destroyed. What's worse is that tens of millions of displaced monster souls will become the next generation of dream masters, and they can continue to support the dream bubble of Spirituality Senluo, allowing this country to continue to exist.

Unless there is an external force to stop it, the kingdom of Senluo will go towards... eternity.

Immortal, immortal.

Can't die, can't live, can't speak, can't move, can't sleep, can't cry out to Igula, they just think that they will be imprisoned in the cage of time for 30,000 years and can't bear it, but they at least have the option of death,

End your suffering. Those souls who become green beasts don't even have the right to choose, and their sentences are infinite.

It's a despair that makes one's scalp tingle just thinking about it.

And this is enough to make Yin Deng's actions extremely correct – every time she kills a person, it means that one person can escape this despair.

If she wants to destroy Sen Luo, then everyone in Sen Luo can rest in peace.

Compared to eternal displacement, death is indeed the greatest mercy.

Killing is saving people, saving the world is not destroying the world.

Deduced here, Igula has no opinion. He doesn't care about the survival of Senluo's kingdom, he doesn't even care whether Yin Deng is a good person or not, as long as Yaxiu can accept it.

So, a question arises here – what would he do if Yaxiu accepted this truth?

Igula understands Ash's character very well. Like Liz, he is the type who is happy because others are happy, and sad because others are sad. But he is also very self-aware and never adds too much burden to himself.

So, if Ash has the ability, but doesn't know that something bad is happening, he will mourn but won't blame himself; if Ash knows that something bad is happening, but he is incapable, he will sigh and won't force it.

But what if Ash had the power and knew the pain that was about to happen?

Igula's worries are by no means unfounded – the configuration of Ash and the silver lamp is almost the same!

The silver lantern has the citizenship of playing the strings, and Ash also has the citizenship beyond the prison; the silver lantern is the seed of the * fire, and Ash is also the seed of the * fire; the silver lantern is semi-tactile, and Ash is also semi-tactile... Igula does not know about the silver lantern The specific plan, but if the silver lamp can destroy the world, Yaxiu can definitely do it!

More importantly, Yin Deng's intention was undoubtedly to want Yaxiu to support her.

But how can Ashe support it?

Support the slaughter of tens of millions of people by the Silver Lantern?

Support the silver lamp to destroy the world?

Even committing a world-annihilating sin with her that is enough to engrave the virtual realm for countless years? How many difficulties are there on the way? How much more danger will there be? And when the world is destroyed, will they be able to escape?

Can Yaxiu shoulder such a responsibility? Can you bear this pain? Does he have this ability?

Igula didn't know, but like he said, there's no need to embarrass Ash.

They are just passers-by of Sen Luo, and there is no need to pay for this strange country. They are not the savior of the world, nor is it Yaxiu.

Yin Deng did not deceive himself or wishful thinking, Yaxiu would really understand her and even support her.

This is where she is selfish. She will drag Ash into a desperate dilemma: should she kill everyone with her own hands to get the gift of liberation, or will she sit and watch everyone enter eternal despair?

But as long as the silver lamp is not there, even if Yaxiu knows that there is a task of saving the world, he will not know the method of saving the world. As long as the silver lamp is not there, Sen Luo will go to his intended ending, but before that, they will find a way to escape from Sen Luo.

so.....

Time to draw a rest.

Igula suddenly stared at Chikara, her lips moved slightly for long-distance sound transmission, and then pointed to the back of the silver lamp, Gwen immediately shot out a dazzling starlight.

At this time, Wesser, who was beating Harvey violently, was about to turn around to meet Ash's sword edge, but as soon as he turned his head, he was caught by the dazzling starlight.

In the next second, Chikara suddenly let out a tearing roar from behind, and at the same time punched a black flame!

The complete roar of the orcs is enough to stun humans even if there is no magic spirit!

Weisser, whose sight and hearing were both blocked, couldn't dodge at all, and his body was directly knocked into the air from a distance.

When she finally regained her vision, she saw the terrifying black crow come again.

Boom!

The black crow kicked with all his might, kicked out the sonic boom shock wave, and kicked Wesser into the ruins of the high-rise building!

That's the most restricted flight area!

Even without Igula's command, Harvey seized this opportunity and rushed in to fight a set of five slashes! Weisser couldn't dodge, only had time to backhand Harvey and take all the damage with Sanctuary!

Yaxiu followed closely, and the long sword slammed the silver lamp like rain, directly piercing the dilapidated floor, and hitting it down layer by layer, as if to drive the silver lamp into hell!

Yep, that's it.

Looking at the rubble solidified in mid-air in the tall building, Igula couldn't help letting out a long breath.

Gwen noticed this and asked, "Is she dead?"

"Not yet." Igula: "But soon."

Yin Lan's mana consumption was too high, and the mana in "Refuge" couldn't automatically recover, so her mana must have bottomed out now.

In fact, Yin Lan should have escaped long ago, but Igula could vaguely understand why she didn't escape. She has kept this secret in her heart for so long, and she can finally take it out and show it to the person she likes. Why did she run away? It's like a little girl who originally wanted to give a gift, but was so wronged that she was full of grievances, and anyone else would definitely burn their belly with anger.

She just wanted to stand here righteously and watch him regret it.

In a sense, the silver lamp is actually quite similar to the black crow. They all bear a fate that one person cannot bear, and they all perform tasks that others cannot accept... Then, Yin Deng may also be looking forward to... Looking forward to someone suddenly appearing to relieve her pain.

So please.

Igula looked at the high-rise buildings that kept making noises and prayed silently in her heart.

Don't whitewash, don't clarify, don't understand.

Just die here as an evil silver lamp.

At the bottom of the ruins of the high-rise building, among the rubble floating in the air, Ash and Wesser looked at each other.

Ash's body was scratched with countless scars when it was hit, and blood was floating around. However, he had already hit himself with a "music sword", and the injury was rapidly healing.

He wasn't the only one injured.

Visser was also bruised at this time, her beautiful clothes were torn, her white skin was cut open, bloodstained and dirty, and her surroundings were full of silver blood stagnating in the air. But even so, she still raised her chin and looked at Yaxiu, her coquettish demeanor was stubborn and arrogant.

Igula is right, her magic power is about to bottom out, and she can no longer maintain the sanctuary.

But even so, Weisser did not beg for mercy, nor did she take the initiative to confess the truth to Ash. She originally thought that she didn't care about everything in the delusion, including such boring things as dignity and honor, so she would rebel, defect, conspiracy, and unscrupulous.

But she found that she actually cared, but no one was qualified to make her pay her dignity in the past, and she had always looked down on the world proudly.

Weisser couldn't understand what she was thinking. She only knew that if she had to bow her head to Yaxiu here to live, then she would rather die.

—Even if it was just a little bit, Ash could understand her.

Just a little bit.

boom!

Seeing the sword strike, Wesser subconsciously pushed aside the blade, and then elbowed sideways!

Ash raised his palm to catch the elbow, and while retreating to dodge, the long sword cut down to the right. Wesser slightly turned his head to avoid the sword, and further deceived his body and attacked his body. However, Ash seemed to have anticipated Wesser's action, and threw the long sword straight up, and then turned to fight with Wesser in close quarters. !

Visserfang's heart trembled, but her hands did not waver in the slightest. She disintegrated Axiu's offensive extremely skillfully, and then grabbed the long sword and slashed at Axiu first.

But after a round, Ash looked for an opportunity to block Wesser's attack and grabbed the long sword back.

Everything is so smooth,

Everything is so natural.

Because this is what they have fought countless times in the Shenhua trial and practiced countless games.

When Weisser was moving, she suddenly discovered that her and Ash's blood was floating everywhere.

The air smells of rust, lemon and sweet orange.

Chapter 628: opposite mood

Orchidweather Dusty Fire was bred in an incubator.

Her blood parents are ordinary people, but her maternal grandfather is a magician, so her mother received a good education and a high level of education since childhood, but she is knowledgeable but not skilled.

Although the Temple of Tribulation of Fire still remains the basic social unit of the family, the closer it is to Dafa, the more devout one's beliefs will be, and the narrower the space for other feelings in the heart will be. Like ordinary people at the bottom who are only responsible for production and labor, they can breed sincere family affection; while nuns and knights,

Almost all of them devote themselves to Dafa, and the children are basically handed over to the temple for unified care, and the parent-child relationship is almost cut off.

Although Visser's mother is an ordinary person, because of her high level of education and her grandfather is a magician, she successfully served as a temple nun, which is basically the best treatment a mortal can get. . She will have a child named Wesser, which has nothing to do with love, but her genes are highly matched with another knight, so she handed over her own genetic factors and used the incubator to breed the next generation—she never did I have seen the father on Wesser's bloodline.

It stands to reason that it is normal for her to have no feelings for Wesser, but Weisser can see her almost every day since she was sensible. She would only let Weisser call her by her first name: Wei You Yinai, the tip of the tongue should first touch the lower jaw, move up, and gently touch the teeth for the third time, Wei You Yinai.

This was the first phrase that Wesser learned.

The name Youlan Weisser was also given to her by Weo Nai. In Wesser's childhood, Vio Nai occasionally brought her food, occasionally took her out to play, but mostly introduced her to the world.

The knowledge enlightenment of the Saintess of the Silver Lantern begins with a little bedtime story every night.

At that time, little Weisser was not a fierce wolf, on the contrary, he was a little dumbfounded. He didn't talk about being bullied by other children, and would only hide in the corner and cry in grievances. But the worst time for her was when Weo Nai took her to go shopping in the commercial center under the jurisdiction of the temple. Weo Nai picked out a beautiful children's clothing. Seeing that Wesser was also five years old, she encouraged her to try it out alone. Change of clothes in the dressing room.

As a result, in less than a minute, Wei Ounai heard crying from the fitting room. She went in and saw that little Weisser put clothes on her head, dressed in a mess, and tripped and fell to the ground crying, so stupid. Unai couldn't help but laugh.

Waiting for her to change little Weisser's clothes, little Weisser was still sniffing her nose, and big tears fell: "Yes, I'm sorry, I can't find that, that hole..."

"Why did you say sorry to me?" Wei Ouna smiled and said, "Didn't I teach you to find the cuffs before wearing them? Don't be in such a hurry next time, just wear them slowly."

Viona held little Weisser’s face and wiped away the tears from the corner of her eyes with her thumb.

“If I don’t wait for you, I won’t be here no matter how fast you dress.” Wei Ouna rubbed little Weisse’s head and said to the ignorant her:

“If I wait for you, I’ll be there even if it gets dark.”

So, don’t worry, take your time, I will wait for you. ”

Snapped! Swish! Zheng!

In the ruins at the bottom, the two of them moved as fast as thunder and water, their swords swept through the air, their fists and claws attacked fiercely, and they clashed several times in one second. The opponent is dead!

However, upon closer inspection, it was found that neither of the two sanctuary magicians raised the sanctuary, nor did they add any new injuries in the high-intensity fight.

The movements of the two matched perfectly. Rather than saying they were acting, it was an alternative way of communicating.

He is waiting for me.

Weisser caught the long sword in the air, slashed down at will, and then Yaxiu seized the opportunity to pinch her wrist. She almost took the initiative to put the hilt back into his hand.

He obviously doesn’t know the truth yet.

Weisser fell into his arms, grabbed his wrist with his left hand, and pressed his right arm against his neck. This move was to suppress the enemy by putting pressure on the throat, but Wesser's right arm was only pressed against Ash's throat, not to mention causing pressure, it could even be considered a gentle dawdling.

She opened her eyes wide and stared at Axiu. She had not concealed the smile in her brows. The corners of her mouth were slightly upturned, revealing a triumphant smile. Even though Ash was still expressionless and swung back with his sword like an enemy, Visser was not angry at all and continued to play this fighting game with him.

In his eyes, I'm still the silver lamp that kills countless people, is full of evil, and is insidious and cunning. I am clearly still his enemy, we still have conflicts that cannot be reconciled, and his companions are still chasing me.

But he was still willing to wait for me.

He didn't even know what to expect.

Compared to the fact that Kia Xiu only understood and supported her after he knew the truth, this scene made Weisse happier now. All the grievances and sourness that appeared just now were swept away, leaving only sweet bubbles that exploded one after another in her heart, turning into a rain of fireworks.

Weisser is very aware of Ash's character. Although it has nothing to do with such beautiful qualities as integrity, honesty, and perseverance, he hates evil from the bottom of his heart.

So much so that he himself is the type who can feel uneasy for a long time after doing a little bad deeds.

That is to say, in the closed environment of the Shenhua trial, and under the deterrence of the death crisis of Fang Yuanchan, they can coexist peacefully. Even so,

Only when the two of them were about to die would he let go of his grievances and principles to appease Weisse, but at that time, he probably felt more pity and sympathy in his heart.

That's why Weiser was so happy.

It turned out that she was not alone. It turned out that someone would continue to wait for her even after dark. She never hides that she is a bad woman, so what she likes most is to make the person she likes willing to violate the principle for her, even if it is only out of the kindness of life and death.

Weisser is now satisfied, and doesn't want to continue to stubbornly hide it. She knew that as long as she confessed, Ash would definitely stop to listen to her defense, and then find the last piece of the puzzle, Ash would understand her, support her, and even regret wronging her.

Weisser was a little angry just now, but now everything is gone. But she is not in a hurry. Now this game-like battle has special meaning to her, and she also wants to enjoy this kind of gentleness that belongs to the two of them for a while. UU reading www.uukanshu.com

It may be her thoughts, or her physical strength is declining, but it is more likely that she slackened a bit and Wesser stepped on a stone on her heel, and her body was out of balance and almost fell off.

At the same time, the icy blade swept across the sky, aiming at her throat.

But Wesser wasn't worried at all, she even turned her head to look at Ash, hoping that he would show a panicked expression.

Drops of silver blood drifted in the air, condensing in time.

Weisser spread out her wings and quickly retreated like a loon, fortunately avoiding the sword's edge. Although the sword just slowed down in the end, it still scratched her throat.

But Wesser didn't care about this little injury, she was accustomed to looking at Ash's expression.

She saw Yaxiu bit her lip, her right hand clenched the long sword with blue veins bursting, her face twisted, her eyes full of sadness, anger, guilt, these heterogeneous negative emotions rolled and invaded, refining into a rusty saw dagger. But Ash didn't aim the dagger at her, but aimed at himself, tore open his chest, ripped open his flesh, and sawed his bones.

She was not the only one injured.

She is not the only one suffering.

The reason why she was so happy was that Ash was willing to go against her principles for her.

And this is also the source of Lingchi Yaxiu's pain.

Suddenly, the voice of the necromancer and the sound of the wind came from the sky: "Axiu, I'll help you!"

Okay. "

Ash only replied one word, then continued to swing his sword.

Only this time, it wasn't the gentleness that Wesser was familiar with.

Chapter 629: Demon King's Choice

There's a reason Harvey came to the battlefield so late.

His corpse mountain and sea of blood five consecutive cuts were too flawed, and Yin Deng seized the opportunity to kick him and flew out directly. When he was ready to rush back, he was stopped by Igula who flew over.

Igula only asks for one thing – if Yin Deng wants to stop and explain, and Ash is willing to listen, then you just pretend to stop, and then kill her with your mind.

Harvey didn't ask why, didn't say yes or no, and returned to the battlefield directly. . He saw that Ash and Yin Deng were still fighting, so he took his sword and joined the siege.

Although Yin Deng no longer has enough mana to maintain the sanctuary, this is only because it consumes too much damage with the sanctuary, and she still has some mana to cast. In the face of the collaboration between Ash and Harvey, she seized the opportunity to use the illusion magic to create flaws, and with her melee skills, she managed to persevere.

It can only be said that it was fortunate that the black crow was hit hard just now, otherwise she would not be able to hold on for a second.

But Weisser actually doesn't need to continue to persist – she knows very well that as long as she stops surrendering and confesses the truth, Ash will protect the evil silver lamp until she can crack the “truth link”.

Isn't that her goal to let Yaxiu know the truth?

What is she still insisting on, what is she worried about? What is she... afraid of?

At this point, Weisser suddenly remembered a question. She only cares about letting Yaxiu know the truth, so that she can be understood, supported, and have companions, but she has never thought about what this means to Yaxiu.

She actually understands that Yaxiu's current mercies are more because of their experience of living and dying together in Liujinhe. The reason is reasonable,

Even the black crow would not blame him for it.

But even so, it has already caused Ashe to suffer unbearably.

He can't accept that he has let go of the silver lamp that kills countless people, but he can't kill the silver lamp who likes him. Two diametrically opposed wishes are entangled in his heart, so that he can only cover up with a blank face. A tsunami surged inside.

If Yin Deng is a complete villain, then he can become a partner of justice with the black crow, slaying the evil and purifying the world; if Weisser is just an innocent girl who likes him blindly, then he You can also worry alone, thinking about how to deal with your messy relationships.

The two identities overlapped, causing Yaxiu to suffer all the time in the battle. When Yaxiu and others were besieging Yindeng, Yaxiu would think of the goodness of Yindeng in the golden river, and how good it was in the golden river, and how good it was in this half month. In the chasing battle, Yin Deng gave way to him everywhere; but when he fought alone to give her a breather just now, he remembered the people that Yin Deng had killed, the disasters he had created, and his indifference, cunning and cruelty towards life. Neither can he be as decisive as the black crow, nor can he violate the moral law in his heart.

Weisser should have expected Yaxiu's mood long ago, why hasn't she expected it all the time?

The third "truth link" is actually to make people completely understand that the Senluo people will only have two endings: the eternity of entering the virtual realm early to gain freedom, or the eternity of meeting death in Senluo. Visser can accept the former because she firmly believes that death is not the end, but for Ash,

Death is just death.

So in Yaxiu's eyes, this is just a bad ending and a worse ending. To make matters worse, knowing this means he has to make a choice too.

Because Wesser has already chosen an ending and put it into action, even if Ash just sits and does nothing, it means supporting Wesser to slaughter thousands of lives

– Igula or Harvey would definitely not think so, but people like Ash and Black Crow would blame themselves for it.

Perhaps the word 'self-blame' is too mild, and it should be said another way – people like them will probably be immersed in the pain of their own incompetence for the rest of their lives.

Then stop Wesser? But does Ash and the others have a better way? Are you expecting some miracle to save the kingdom of Senluo, or are you expecting yourself to come back to save the world after becoming a god? What if Lord Sen Luo Zhan couldn't hold on for five or ten years? There is no way that White Fang must have other ways to stop the steadfast Silver Lamp, right?

In a trance, Weisser suddenly recalled that the time she strayed into the dead city, it took only three days to solve the mystery of the third "link of truth",

But it took three full months to accept the truth, inherit the legacy of the God of Gray Fox more than 200 years ago, and become the first person to walk out of the dead city.

Why would she forget this?

Swish!

Taking advantage of the moment when the silver lamp was absent-minded, Harvey swung the chain sword and cut out two mountains of corpses and blood!

Weisser hurriedly dodged, but his thigh was still scratched, and a piece of flesh and blood was taken away. At this time, Yaxiu's blade attacked from the side again, and Weisser had no time to heal, so he could only continue to fight!

If it goes on like this, she will really die here, her magic power has bottomed out, and the necromancer and Ash are still fighting, and there is still the 'fire of ignorance' Chikarawaiser's heart ringing alarm bells , A chill spreads from the spine to the whole body!

What about Chikala? ?

At this moment, the wall next to it was suddenly pushed open, and Chikara, who was covered in thick black flames, rushed in, like a high-speed dump truck, hitting Silver Lantern, Yaxiu, and Harvey head-on!

On the rooftop outside, Gwen whispered: "The ground floor space is so small, I'm afraid others can't avoid it..."

“It’s just that they can’t avoid it.” Igula stared at the ruins of the high-rise building and said: “Both Ash and Harvey still have the magic power to raise the sanctuary, but the silver lamp is gone. Take 10,000 steps and say even if they don’t have time to rise In the Sanctuary, Ash also has a way to heal himself, at most Harvey and Yin Lan were crushed to death.

“So, please, Silver Lamp.” Igula murmured, “As a monster, you’ve lived long enough.”

boom!

In the ruins on the bottom of the dark high-rise building, Harvey and Chikara climbed out of the humanoid pit, the necromancer spat out a mouthful of blood, and his body was a little unstable, and Chikara’s magic power was completely bottomed out, and even the Sanctuary could not maintain it. .

The moment Chikara slammed in just now, the silver lamp rushed towards Harvey, and Harvey subconsciously launched a double slash at her, and then—as soon as Harvey collided with Chikara firmly.

Chikara’s miracle of fire magic, Harvey’s mountain of corpses and sea of blood, and the sanctuary of the two of them were all smashed into pieces with great kinetic energy. Yin Deng actually figured out a coping strategy in an instant, almost turning the crisis into a chance for victory.

But only almost.

Perhaps it was too late, or the magic power was not enough. After all, the silver lamp was not able to fully transfer the damage. The body was scraped by Chikara’s impact, and it crashed into the rubble like a kite with a broken string. She can only stand up now, with blood dripping all over her body, the flesh of her right hand rolled, and all the exposed skin is scarred.

On the field, only one person was unscathed.

After the silver lamp reversed the impact of Chikara, Ash avoided the impact completely—he was so comfortable that he didn’t even raise the Sanctuary.

Without saying a word, he silently charged forward with his sword and stabbed at Wesser. Weisser suppressed his pain with the illusion magic spirit, and continued to fight.

But as soon as they fought, Visser felt something was wrong – not only because it was a routine they had practiced countless times, but more importantly, Ashe’s sword was soft and didn’t mean to hurt her in any way.

In this two rounds of confrontation, Ash threw the long sword up and replaced it with a melee fight, and Wesser raised his hand and grabbed the long sword.

Here, Ash’s next step should be to take offense instead of defense, by attacking Wesser’s wrist to grab back the sharp blade, so as to prevent Wesser from expanding his advantage. However, this time, Ash suddenly broke away from the routine.

He slammed into his arms, grabbed Wesser’s throat with his right hand, and blocked Wesser’s dodging direction with his left hand like a whip. If Weisser didn’t fight back in time, the key point would be suppressed by Yaxiu, and he could only be captured.

But Yaxiu made such a reckless rush, and at the same time exposed many flaws, and now she has a sharp sword in hand, she can easily kill Yaxiu to escape the predicament!

What the * does Ash want to do—

When Visser saw Ash’s eyes like a deep pool, he suddenly understood what he was thinking.

Just like in the golden river, Wesser gave him two choices, so he also gave Weisse two choices this time: either give up the resistance and capture it, or escape by hurting me.

There is a deeper meaning here – if Weisser chooses the latter, it is that she took the initiative to break the karma, and Yaxiu also repaid Liu Jinhe’s life and death support, and the next time we meet, there will be no love at all. .

But Weisser could choose the former. Regardless of whether Ashura intends to protect her or not, as long as she guides them to obtain key information, she will naturally be able to wash away her sins.

No matter what you think, you should give up resistance here, be caught by Yaxiu obediently, and then wait for the truth to be revealed. You can even see Yaxiu's regretful expression. She can follow Yaxiu openly, and the progress far exceeds the sword princess witch. Locking the victory in advance is just, UU reading www.uukanshu.com after that?

Does she really want to pull Ash into the dilemma of a world-annihilating choice? Let him forcibly choose one of the two bad endings that he can accept?

If it was before night fell, Wesser would definitely not hesitate, because she really wanted to see what kind of human nature Ashe would look like when she was tortured, and whether she would be tortured into another 'real Ashe' that she needed more.

If there is no divine fire trial, if there is no golden river, if...

Weisser never thought that she would give up halfway even with a firm mind. She had prepared a plan for so long, and she was only a little short of completing it, but she had to destroy her own achievements with her own hands.

Maybe someone will wait for you until it gets dark.

But you shouldn't find him after dark.

Weisser clenched the long sword and took the initiative to meet Ash's dash, as if it was not a grab at the point, but a tender hug. Suddenly, Weisser remembered the little bedtime stories Viona told herself, many of which were fairy tales of princesses and princes.

When preparing for the plan to come to the dead city, she thought that Ash was her prince. But she never remembered that she was actually a demon king who could not be accepted by the prince.

The demon king should be evil and cruel, and people and gods are indignant, and he can't find any good in his body, so that the story will look refreshing, so that the other characters in it will not be troubled, and everyone can be happy.

Then, the long sword came out from the prince's back.

Chapter 630: You do not deserve

Love and hate kill each other!

Bloody!

The honey belly sword pierced through Yaxiu's chest, revealing his back, bringing out blood droplets!

Harvey's eyes seemed to be burning, and the icy fire on his body ignited again, carrying the chain sword and rushing towards the silver lamp! Chikara hesitated for a while, but he didn't move. He wasn't hydrocephalus. He knew that if he started a fight now, he might accidentally hurt Yaxiu. It's better to back off from something that will offend people.

Seeing Harvey rushing over, Yin Deng blatantly pulled out his long sword with a blank face, causing secondary damage to Ash and kicking him towards the necromancer. Harvey can only give up the attack to catch Ash, and watch the silver lamp escape from the hole in the wall that Chikara slammed into!

Yin Lan had just escaped from the bottom to breathe the fresh air outside, when the raven-faced monster in the dark night fell from the sky as scheduled, and the hand axe responsible for slaughtering was ready.

She raised her head, as if seeing a pool of undisguised killing intent.

Black Raven Tamashi!

He used the muscle repair method to forcibly stop the bleeding of the abdomen that was severely injured by Yin Deng just now. Even if he still did not recover all the combat power, such a task of squatting and ambushing was simply familiar to him. .

Using the 'mind method' learned from Blind Town, the black crow is almost integrated with the environment.

Even with a miracle of reconnaissance, it would be difficult for Yin Lan to discover his existence. He raised his axe and attacked down, not intending to give Yin Deng any chance to defend!

This is not only the law of killing all crows, but also Tamashi's wish.

As a wicked crow, as a silver lamp, she does not have any chance to defend herself or clear her name, waiting for her end is only a * and tragic death sentence – disemboweled!

clang!

The slaughtering axe and the blade made an angry explosion, and the black crow stared at the sword used by the silver lamp to counterattack.

– That's Ash's sword, why is it in Yindeng's hands?

The moment's doubts and subtle panic reflected on Hei Crow's injured body, causing his movements to be slightly delayed, and most of his killing intent collapsed. Yin Deng seized the opportunity to dodge and fled, unfolding his golden and silver wings and trying to fly away!

But the hesitation can only stay for a moment in the heart of Crow Killing, Black Crow did not take a look at the ruins at the bottom of the back, and boldly stepped on the stones in the air to catch up with the silver lamp!

From the brief confrontation just now, he could feel that Yin Deng was running out of energy!

He grabbed the chain of the attached hand axe and threw it like a rope. At the same time, he quickly approached, avoiding the backward swing of the silver lamp, and slapped it with a palm!

Yin Deng has no fear, and fights back with the same palm!

Snapped!

At the moment when his palms stirred, the black crow looked at the expressionless silver lamp in shock.

He has used his original 'failure' combat technique just now. If the silver lamp was still in its heyday, it would be fine, but the silver lamp is now exhausted and lacks physical strength, and has no power to resist the 'failure'. The force spread all over the body, and then fell into a dizziness that lasted for two seconds.

However, Yin Deng has nothing to do, because she also used the 'failure' combat skill, and the two feminine strengths cancel each other out!

More importantly, Yin Deng was still able to use combat skills, indicating that she was pretending to have no physical strength just now—

Yin Deng jumped in place and kicked hard, directly kicking the black crow out, and turned around and was about to fly away. At this time, she saw the hand axe thrown from the side, and slashed it with her sword. However, the hand axe turned strangely, and the silver lamp was cut off. Instead, the chain behind the hand axe bound his arm.

“That sword—”

The chain tightened suddenly, and Yin Deng was dragged back by the explosive force.

The black crow is pulling the chain with one hand, like a ghost crawling out of hell, dragging the soaring silver lamp into despair!

“You do not deserve!”

The black crow clenched the grey fox’s sharp blade and stabbed the falling silver lamp!

Hearing this sentence, Yin Deng’s face distorted, with boiling anger and resentment in his eyes. She raised her left arm without dodging and directly blocked the grey fox sharp blade with her left arm!

The sharp blade of the gray fox was just caught by the ulna and radius, bringing out a little bit of silver blood, but the puncture trajectory changed to avoid her head. Yin Deng didn’t let go of the honey belly sword, and didn’t try to stay away from the black crow. Instead, he raised his right hand and pulled the black crow over, and then kicked it one by one!

Every kick hit Black Crow’s injured abdomen, every kick kicked blood from his wound!

The black crow did not say a word, and abruptly supported the raging of the silver lamp, only the left hand tightened the chain. The chain he attached to the end of the hand axe had sharp corners, and when he indented it forcefully, the chain suddenly wrapped around Yin Lan’s arm like Ling Chi, twisting her flesh and blood, dripping with silver blood, like cutting meat!

However, Yin Lan still didn’t let go, she held the long sword upside down and stabbed the black crow in the face. Black Crow avoided the weak counterattack and suddenly pulled back the sharp blade of the gray fox, but he did not choose to attack the other parts of the silver lamp that might be dodged, but stabbed at his arm wrapped in chains!

To be more precise – it is the palm of Yin Lan’s sword!

The sharp blade pierced through the palm of his hand, and the hand holding the sword trembled slightly.

“release!”

In this malicious threat, the black crow could hear the whining and pleading.

Seeing Yin Deng's eyes overflowing with tears, Hei Crow clenched his teeth, and his face showed a sadness that was incompatible with her identity.

However, the black crow did not hesitate, and the sharp blade of the gray fox continued to swipe, tearing her palm abruptly, slicing through the gap between her * and index finger, almost splitting her palm in two!

Yin Deng let go of his right hand weakly, and finally kicked the black crow away with force, and the chain wrapped around her arm slipped out like a spiral scraper, leaving only a silver arm with ripped skin and flesh.

The black crow, whose wounds collapsed and deteriorated, couldn't hold on any longer. He fell down to catch Ash's sword,

Then it fell to the ground like a broken-winged crow.

Snapped.

What awaits the black crow is not the cold and hard earth, but the warm and steady arms. Black Crow turned his head and saw Ash trying to heal his wound with a miracle, he shook his head:

"It's useless... I'm not affected by any magic spirit. Silver lamp..."

Ash took the honey belly sword in his hand and put him on the nearby rooftop. The black crow looked up and saw a silver lamp passing over the outer wall of a building in the distance. Her wings covered the sheltered area, and all recorded words were erased, leaving only chaotic dents.

"She, she must be destroying the most crucial clue!" Chikara, who rushed over, shouted, "We can't escape now!"

The only people who had a chance to stop Yin Lan from destroying the clues just now were Igula and Gwen who were guarding outside. But after Igula noticed the intention of the silver lamp, he hesitated for a moment and still did not stop one – he was not afraid of destroying the clue, he had already deduced the answer – and dragged Gwen to check the situation of the ruins at the bottom.

“To be so taken seriously by Yindeng, I am afraid that it is indispensable information for deriving the third “Truth Link”. Harvey said, “No one knows the secrets of the Dead City any more but the Silver Lantern.” ”

Igula asked, “How did the Silver Lantern escape from your siege?”

Harvey: “Axiu was almost able to subdue her. She found the opportunity to stab her fatally, and even used Axiu as a shield.

Yaxiu was hit hard by the silver lamp? How can it be? She did so much just for Igula’s mind to turn countless thoughts, turned her head to look at Ash, Ash shook his head to indicate that he was fine, and said softly, “I used the “three seconds of cicadas” . ”

After being pierced by the silver lamp in his chest, his mind went blank, but his body subconsciously used Yuan Chan, and the injury disappeared in an instant, as if nothing had happened.

Go back to the past and escape the future hurt by the silver lamp.

At this time, the silver lamp flew to the top of the tower, and the distance between the two sides was enough for Yaxiu and the others to give up the pursuit. The dead city has a huge range and almost no light. If the silver lamp escapes, it will be difficult for them to block a flight engineer.

Ash looked at the silver lamp at the end of the tower, the silver lamp turned his back to them, holding his scarred right hand. She turned her head slightly to the side, as if she wanted to turn around to see what their expressions were now.

But she never looked back.

The most futile thing in life is to look back.

The silver lamp spread its wings and fell from the tower, disappearing into the night.

Looking at this scene, Igula vaguely understood something.
