

Chapter 631: Invisible tacit understanding

screwed up, but not completely screwed up.

Igula entered the hidden shelter in the time gap, thinking about what to do next.

If Yin Deng dies, he can directly confess the truth. Anyway, everyone is dead, and everyone will sigh at most. Even if they guess what plan Yin Deng has, they will not know the truth. Unless he happens to be able to find Silver Lantern's manual for a magician in Void Realm, Silver Lantern will only die as a villain with complicated thoughts.

Their only obligation is to leave a few words after Sen Luo becomes a purgatory on earth, so that everyone can know that there used to be a great kingdom with four generations of gods.

– Ordinary people can only do so much. .

But now the silver lamp is not dead.

Yin Deng not only escaped, but also destroyed the key clues, so that no one else could unlock the third "link of truth", so in their eyes, Yin Deng was still a murderous moving natural disaster, they would not understand her, It is impossible to support her.

It is impossible for humans to empathize with monsters.

In addition, after the * battle just now, they will only have disgust, fear and hatred for the silver lamp. Not to mention Chikara, Gwen, and Black Crow, Igula found that even Harvey had a gloomy face. The necromancer kept biting his fingernails silently, murmuring things like 'the skull is made into a wine glass', 'the offal is a snack for Alice'.

This is also why Igula didn't stop the silver lamp from destroying the clues, since she wasn't dead yet,

Then she will continue to live as a demon monster, continue to bear the hatred, and continue to wreak havoc on all beings.

For her, everything was an illusion.

only.

Igula frowned slightly as she looked at the golden “Link of Truth” on the third foggy wall.

Could it be that Yin Lan really wanted to trap them here? If it wasn't for Igula to piece out the last piece of the puzzle, they wouldn't have any chance to pass through the fog wall, and the only way to leave the dead city was after the fog wall.

However, the fraudster still has a final solution: just talk to Ash and the others about the derivation process.

Now Yin Deng has completely torn apart with Yaxiu, whether she is good or bad, it has nothing to do with Yaxiu. From the moment the silver lamp hit Yaxiu, they had a clear relationship, and they were each other's A, B, C, and D.

Even if Yaxiu knew the secret, he would still have some regrets, but as the years passed,

He'll find that it's just a boring delusion. But in any case, it's better than being trapped in a “sanctuary” for 30,000 years.

But Igula didn't want to say it unless there was really no other way.

To be honest, the fraudster is not the kind of person who likes adult beauty, on the contrary, he prefers to sabotage other people's sophisticated plans. Appreciate the appearance of others' anger, incompetence, incompetence, rage,

It was one of the few pleasures in his life that he never got tired of seeing.

What's more interesting than letting someone else break the defense?

So Igula never thought that a chaotic deceiver like him would one day help the hostile Yin Lan, reach an invisible tacit understanding with her, and help her hide the secret sealed in the dead city together.

Silver Lamp is like a lonely gardener who keeps a beautiful flower, but it is planted in another country, in someone else's garden. The silver lamp has a chance to pick it up,

But let it continue to live in a clean and beautiful garden, and continue to look at it across a country.

Obviously she has nothing left.

Stupid.

I am also a fool to be moved by such a stupid thing. How did I become so stupid?

Igula sighed inwardly, and heard Ash next to him say, "Will the Grey Fox Magician really trap his compatriots in the "Refuge"? Because they can't solve the three questions left by them, they have to stay here to death? Even if the students of the Gray Fox God Generation had no human rights, they wouldn't be so miserable, would they? "

Everyone was stunned, and they all realized this loophole—even if the gray fox artist wanted future generations to know the truth, he should not leave such a test mechanism with no way out.

It would be fine if it was a dark and desperate era, but according to the data, the people of the Gray Fox God are generally positive and have a good social atmosphere. They don't even have infrastructure such as prisons, and I don't know if they have bad guys or not Only the death penalty.

Yaxiu was originally curious about the prison style of the gray fox * generation. After all, with his rich experience, he was qualified to comment on the quality of the prison. After wandering around for half of Sen Luo, he didn't find the remains of the prison, and he was quite disappointed about it.

Even if the gray fox magician becomes hysterical when facing the cataclysm, he will not be so cruel that he will not even give his descendants a chance to survive.

“But we are not fellow Grey Foxes.”

Chikara revealed the truth in one sentence: “Many of the gray fox ruins require citizenship to enter. Without citizenship, the security mechanism against the enemy will even be triggered. For them, only the gray fox citizens are considered their compatriots. If there is any way, it also has to be a citizen to trigger... Ah! If a Grey Fox citizen comes in to save me, I’d be willing to be a chair for him!”

After a while, Ash sat on the back of the orc, staring at the Beyond Prison card in his hand.

As long as he can successfully send the gods, he can borrow the citizenship of Dafa transcending prison before he was alive.

This convenience has helped him overcome a lot of obstacles, and he estimates that it should also apply here.

“There is a time delay in sending the gods, not to mention that I am a long-distance god.” Yaxiu pondered: “In normal time, if it is fast, it will take one second, and if it is slow, it will take three seconds. If the time is really stretched to [1 second] = 1 year], then we have to be prepared to live here for one to three years.”

Compared with the horror scale of 30,000 years, the imprisonment time was shortened to three years, which was acceptable to everyone. Not only that, but the thought of suddenly having three years of free time that will not be disturbed by anyone makes everyone’s mind come alive.

Hei Crow said: “When I heal the injury, I can take advantage of this time to hone my combat skills. I have been running around for the past two months, and I have a lot of insights, which just takes time to settle.”

“Although there are no materials here, three years are enough for me to take care of Alice.” The necromancer said, “By the way, you can try to unlock the “Blood Moon Corpse King”.”

Chikara under Ash's * also said excitedly: "For such a long time, I can completely integrate my fire magic and space faction. I tell you, I have a wonderful miracle concept – by angering others to make others burn themselves with anger Does it sound very powerful? Now I need a spiritual sanctuary to help..."

Gwen didn't speak, and Igula looked at Ash, who was holding his chin with a distressed expression:

"Three years, although I want to spend some time sorting out the combat system, but three years is too long! I haven't been a magician for three years!"

As soon as Ash said this, Igula and Harvey were nothing more than Chikara, Gwen and even Black Crow looked at the cult leader with astonishment.

"Mr. Yaxiu, you have become a sanctuary in less than three years?"

Chikara was taken aback when he heard it: "Upgrading one level a year? Forgive little Chikara, is he the surname of which God Lord? Or is the rumor about the mother of the virtual realm true, and you are the illegitimate child of the virtual realm? By the way, Mr. Yaxiu, if you are sitting comfortably, I can adjust the comfort of your back, if you think it is too hard, please tell me, I suddenly found that I have the talent to be a chair!"

Ash suddenly understood Jian Ji's situation in the academy.

If he was an ordinary person half a year ago, would you immediately convert from the Four Pillars God and the Raven Killer to believe in Yaxiu... Igula murmured in his heart, and when they were chatting, he approached the fog wall unknowingly, and quietly reached out.

He wants to determine if he can get through the fog wall, and if he can, it's a 'return to invalid citizenship. If Igula's pupils couldn't shrink, he looked at the hand blocked by the fog wall, and a drop of cold sweat dripped from his forehead.

He has clearly cracked the third "truth link", why can't he pass through the fog wall! ?

Is his derivation wrong? Wouldn't it work without the key clues to destroy the silver lights? but-

"Igula."

The cheater turned his head and saw Ash walking behind him, "What's wrong?"

"I just saw you approaching the foggy wall, so I came over to take a look." Yaxiu looked at the golden runes on the foggy wall and said, "Since the silver lights have destroyed the last clue, you don't need to continue to worry about it."

"And, even if you piece together the truth, I'm afraid it's useless."

The fraudster was startled: "Why is it useless?"

"Because what 'Link of Truth' really wants people to understand is definitely not the ending. Ash said: 'If it's just the end, then the people who have strayed into the dead city in the past two hundred years, Don't even have a few people with good mental endurance? It's impossible to be forced to die in a time cage just because you can't accept the ending, right? "

Yes.

These three truth links, as long as there are records of predecessors, it is only a matter of time before they can be cracked. In theory, everyone can escape from the dead city by their own strength, why does no one survive?

"Therefore, there must be a gift in this ending, and that is the key." Yaxiu guessed: "Only those who accept this gift can get out of the cage of time. Although I don't know what the gift is, but this In two hundred years only one person has accepted the giveaway, the rest would rather die than accept it...obviously we should be the latter."

Igula tried her best to suppress the change in her expression, trying her best to perfunctory Asia as if nothing had happened.

I see.

No wonder no one went out of the dead city.

No wonder Silver Lamp wants to destroy key information!

Because the ending is not important, what matters is the means of salvation reflected by the ending—

Destroy the world!

Only those who are willing to accept this task, and even regard it as an ideal in life, can walk out of the “sanctuary”! Because she gave up refuge and chose to face it!

This is not the babble of a middle-school-aged teenager, or the random thoughts during a nap, but to recognize this idea from the bottom of my heart, and to strive for this goal from now on. It is normal that no one can accept this task for more than 200 years. The weak are unable to shoulder this responsibility, and the strong cannot accept this kind of life.

If it is to rule the world at the expense of others and benefit oneself, it is okay to say, but destroying the world is completely burning yourself and scalding others. She has gone crazy!

Igula doesn't know when the Silver Lantern last entered the Dead City, but there's no doubt about it,

She is the only descendant who passed the test of the gray fox magician, and since then, she has been on the road of destroying the silver lamp!

In a trance, he seemed to be able to see the scene: a young temple nun crawled out of the dead city in the deep pit. At this time, it was still dark and the night was like ink. Don't contaminate her in the slightest. She fell down by the stones on the ground, but soon stood up again, her whole body was bathed in darkness, but her eyes were brighter and deeper than all Senra people.

This once-in-a-two-hundred-years will, because of the mechanism of 'Spiritual Senluo', can even faintly affect her reality. In addition to her outstanding talent, she will also have many adventures. Even if she doesn't go out, someone will take the initiative to send her to help her. Those who deal with her will suffer setbacks, and those she deals with will be unlucky and wise...

She will not be stingy with killing people, because her life is more important than everyone's life. In order to protect herself, she will eliminate all threats. Anyway, this is her mission. She started a war, betrayed the sect, and started to execute it when she was ready. The crazy and brutal plan in my heart...

Thinking of this, Igula is very fortunate that he can't pass through the fog wall: if he can pass through the fog wall, it means that he also has to accept this task!

Let's discuss with Ash about how the three years have passed. When Igula was about to leave, he saw the black crow walking slowly to the foggy wall. The fraud master was a little strange, because the black crow was illiterate, he didn't even participate in the intelligence search work, and could only be responsible for the peripheral security.

Black Crow seemed hesitant, but still reached out his hand towards the foggy wall, and then his hand passed through.

Chapter 632: 0 o'clock hourglass

"Speaking of which, Tamashi, why can you be influenced by fantasy creations such as "Refuge" and "Kaleidoscope"?"

Outside the blue door of the ruins of the church, Ash was very confused: "But most spiritual miracles that do not cause physical phenomena will not be effective for you... Now even the enchantment miracles like the Wall of Truth are not effective for you. In name only!"

Just now, the black crow passed through the fog wall in full view, and took out the props behind the fog wall.

This scene made everyone numb – you can cheat, you should have said it! Are we going to look down on cheating dogs? We will only hug our thighs!

Black Crow is also a little embarrassed: “I actually didn’t trigger the “Truth Link” in the first place, but I didn’t have...no culture...so I didn’t think much about it, and you have a way to break the truth link. ”

“I didn’t remember until just now that since I haven’t triggered the “Truth Link”, is the fog wall useless to me? Unexpectedly, it went through. ”

As an insulator of the virtual world, Tamashi Crow kills him. Even if he is a genius, he can never become a magician, and he will not be affected by most magic spirits, so that he can only do the treatment by himself. knowledge. It’s just that no one thought that the black crow’s characteristic of ignoring the influence of the magic spirit would actually play a miraculous effect in such a place. .

That’s why Ash has such a question – why is the black crow sometimes affected and sometimes not?

“Because of the level of fantasy.” Igula guessed: “Creations such as “Refuge” and “Kawasaki Mirror” are already products of idealism, and the magic spirits are probably only responsible for the atmosphere group, and it is impossible to have much effect. ”

“The more outrageous a fantasy creation, the more irresistible the black crow is; the closer it is to the miracle of the reality department, it is basically ineffective against the black crow.”

Regarding the characteristics of Tamashi, everyone can only guess and cannot confirm it. After all, this is not only about him alone, but also about his interaction with Sen Luo’s world. In comparison, everyone paid more attention to what he brought out from behind the foggy wall.

In fact, he didn’t bring anything out, just a slightly shining hourglass icon on the back of his hand.

According to him, there was a huge hourglass behind the foggy wall. After seeing it, he felt the back of his hand get hot, and then this pattern appeared. And after seeing the hourglass of the black crow, Yaxiu and the others actually got hot on the back of their hands, and each got an hourglass tattoo-from this point, everyone realized that this is definitely a super fantasy creation.

'As long as you see it, it will copy the characteristics of transmission. Generally speaking, it will only be used in combat situations, such as as an auxiliary means of negative debuffs such as diseases and curses. Applying this feature to general props, that is, Only Mind Senluo can be so extravagant and wasteful. After obtaining the hourglass pattern, they also get the information of this one-time prop.

"Refuge Zero Hourglass: 1/1 of the number of times it can be used" "Effect: After activation, the body time stops passing, the soul is silent, and it will not wake up until 12 hours later.

When the hourglass is activated, it is immune to all damage. After the hourglass is exhausted, it will be immune to all external influences for the next 600 seconds, and the spirit body will clear all negative states and return to absolute health. Ash and Igula and Harvey looked at each other with inexplicable surprise in their eyes.

This item not only means that they can escape the "time cage" of the dead city – in addition to "immune to all external influences within 600 seconds after waking up", just sleeping for 12 hours can let them escape the night of the dead city.

More importantly, the spirit body removes all negative states and restores absolute health'!

The damaged soul and the body of the broken body can be completely restored!

No wonder the legendary rate of grey fox masters is so high. Even if they drown in the virtual realm, are eaten by the fish and dragons, or run over by the heroic soul army, they can use this kind of spiritual creation to quickly restore their soul injuries, and enter the virtual world every night. Punch in the realm to go to work and refuse the malicious adjustment of the virtual realm—yes, since they can create idealistic creations without limit, they will definitely give priority to creating tools that can assist them in their cultivation and learning!

Grey fox magicians are not brainless, no matter what beliefs and ideals they have, they all know that the higher their strength, the easier it is to approach their goals. And they also understand that their idealistic creations can only take effect in 'reality', and the virtual world will not recognize their random creation of private clothes. Therefore, the correct method of the gray fox magician is to use the idealistic creation to offset his own in the virtual world. Disadvantages in, and shortcomings in talent!

That's why there are "Truth Links" that allow people to forcibly comprehend knowledge points, and "Refuge Zero Hourglass" that can repair soul injuries!

That is to say, Yaxiu and the others came more than two hundred years late. If they could come to the golden age of the gray fox gods, they might have seen the "Fantasy Sauna", "Liujinhe Swimming Pool", "Zhanyulong Fighting". Hall" and other fantasy facilities that assist technicians in exploring the virtual world.

Ordinary people want to learn any magic faction, they don't have to be afraid that they have no talent, just watch "Truth Link" and force the entry!

It was a glorious era, it was a prosperous age of a magician.

Igula, who knew more about the inside story, felt more deeply about it.

Compared with Sen Luo, the blood moon pole master has the least interference with the blood moon, so the development level of the blood moon kingdom is also the worst;

The Omniscient Weaver sent the gods to interfere with the gospel, but because of this, the entire kingdom civilization is occasionally built on the gospel system. Once this system is destroyed, the whole country will collapse and regress;

Lord Sen Luo Zhan completely transformed Sen Luo, and even himself became the dream master of Sen Luo's bubble. Therefore, Sen Luo broke out in several prosperous times. The level of development is probably the first in all countries, but when Lord Sen Luo Zhan has a problem, the whole country All will be buried with it.

Maybe the Lord of God does not love the world, but facing the exam of civilization, everyone answered it seriously.

But for Ash and the others, the fantasy healing effect of the "zero hour hourglass" meant that even if they didn't kill Silver Lantern, they could still lift the blood seed curse.

After nearly two months of long pursuit, they finally achieved half of their goal.

“Besides the zero hour hourglass, what else is behind the fog wall?” asked Igula.

Black Crow shook his head: “There is nothing, just a huge hourglass. And I have tried many methods, but I can’t take off the hourglass with all my strength, but...”

He paused, “A few lines of words appeared next to the hourglass.”

“What words?” As soon as he asked, he immediately reacted: “Can you dictate these words?”

Black Crow fell silent. Although everyone could not see his expression, they could imagine the embarrassment under his mask.

He squatted down and wrote and drew on the floor.

Igula looked over and saw only a crooked and weird symbol that couldn’t correspond to all the words.

He felt something in his heart and asked, “In your eyes, are all the words creeping and crawling?”

Black Crow nodded slightly.

No wonder!

Igula had long wondered that a fighting genius like the Black Crow was illiterate, and the Crow Killed the Sect was not without basic education, and the Black Crow’s fighting ability was enough to prove that he was extremely intelligent, and literacy should be easy for him.

Even if you don’t know complex characters, you can always recognize basic numbers, right? But he can’t even read numbers!

It turns out that Black Crow's illiteracy is not due to external reasons, but because he has a serious dyslexia!

Igula has browsed related diseases before. It is said that people with this disease can understand simple patterns, but any text with information cannot be read. For them, text is not a dead object that can be easily identified, but a Creeping creatures!

Those who are sick are also disgusted by the virtual world? Igula is unknown. After all, unless the talent is so high that "no magician has no reason", it will not be surprising that a disabled person with dyslexia does not become a magician.

As for whether the black crow is really hated by the virtual world, in fact, everyone does not know, maybe the magicians just want to find a reason for the abnormality of the black crow, after all, they can't just be crushed by an 'ordinary person', right? Especially those magicians who were beaten by the black crow, how could they accept that they were lost to the hands of mortals.

Therefore, there will be rumors of 'the insulator of the virtual realm, the crow kills all the madmen'.

Igula even suspected that the original Tamashi was just an ordinary person who could not be promoted to a magician because of dyslexia.

However, with the broadcast of rumors, he slowly gained the effects of 'immune magic spirit', and really became an insulator. In the world of Spirituality Senluo, the sanctification or demonization of him by the people and villains is enough to become his power. source of.

But in this way, they will not be able to know the messages behind the foggy wall, unless they wait for Yaxiu to obtain citizenship and go in to check, but not only Yaxiu, but they may not be willing to stay here for three years.

"However, I still have to test the effect of the "zero hour hourglass" first..."

Igula, who has always been cautious, naturally wouldn't fully believe in this fantasy creation, so she looked at the outsider in the team: Gwen Chikara.

The old beastman scratched his head, since he had slipped and knelt down, he was naturally ready to do the dirty work. But Gwen raised his hand: "I'll take the first test."

...Okay.

With permission, Gwen pressed the hourglass on the back of his hand, but nothing happened. It wasn't until Igula waved in front of her that she knew her hourglass was in effect.

The psionist checked carefully and found that although Gwen opened his eyes, there were no thought fluctuations in his mind, and his soul was completely silent. UU read www.uukanshu.com Then he asked Black Crow to try it, and found that even the sharp blade of the gray fox couldn't hurt Gwen at all, and he couldn't move a finger of Gwen.

Gwen seems to be rigidly embedded in time, unaffected by any external influence. Igula put her sideways on the ground and said, "It's basically the same as the introduction. After entering the hourglass countdown, although it becomes unconscious, it is absolutely safe. Even the silver lamp can't hurt us."

"In other words, we can get out of the dead city at any time."

"But it is rare to have an environment that is completely free from external interference and independent of the normal passage of time," Igula looked around at everyone: "You should also want to take this opportunity to cultivate well?"

Everyone nodded, especially the black crow, who had already slammed their fists.

Only Yaxiu's face suddenly pulled down: "Well, I seem to be a little sleepy, why don't-"

"Axiu, didn't you tell me to learn fighting spirit and mentality from me?" The black crow grabbed Yaxiu's arm:

"I haven't had a chance before, I will teach you my life-long skills tonight!"

“Would I be beaten if I said that was polite?”

“Can.”

“Okay, how are you going to teach me? Shouldn’t it be basic physical training first?”

“No, you are in good shape, we can go directly to actual combat training.”

“Combat training, that is to say...?”

“You’re going to be beaten.”

Chapter 633: leave sunro

In the dead city, everyone trained with the ruins of the church as the center.

Igula placed Gwen on a nearby high platform, and observed whether the zero hour hourglass would have other effects through her.

Then he exhaled his magic spirits, rubbed, teased, stroked them gently, and took out gold and silver coins for feeding.

The relationship between magic and spirit has always been a relatively warm subject. Let’s say it is useful, but no matter how much magic spirit hates you, as long as you are willing to consume magic power, it still has to succumb to serving you; say it is useless, if you encounter magic power exhaustion In such a situation, you have a good relationship with the magic spirit, maybe it is willing to pay for it to trigger the magic spirit resonance to help you.

However, the magicians basically tend to have a good relationship with the magician, because most of the time, the magician will accompany the magician for several years or even decades. Create a relationship of trust. .

Because of his experience in Broken Lake Prison, Igula has repeatedly benefited from the resonance of the magic spirit, so he is particularly concerned about this aspect. And even if it is him, it is impossible to wear a mask all day long. Only when facing the ignorant magic spirit can he completely let go of his guard.

Playing with Shuling and taking a bath are his only two channels for releasing stress.

After all, Ash can talk to him about his psychological pressure, but the fraudster has no one to share the pressure with—maybe there is, but Igula will never reveal his weakness to anyone, which is an unbearable weakness.

“La la (^*), la la la...”

The cheater’s relaxed smile when playing with the magic spirit, not to mention Harvey, even Yaxiu has never seen it. Only Gwen, who was stagnant in time beside him, could silently appreciate this unknown scene.

boom!

Hearing the explosion, Igula looked westward, where the orc Chikara was studying his fire marvels.

On the east side, Harvey found a basement and said that he would give Alice a comprehensive and meticulous renovation while there was time. As for why it was the basement, Igula originally thought it was the atmosphere or something, but the Necromancer said that it was to prevent the corpse from splashing everywhere.

Thinking of the many baths she’d had with Harvey, Igula felt a corpse stench on her body.

To the north, Ash and Black Crow are fighting. Although the black crow said that he would teach Yaxiu what he had learned in his life, after repeated persuasion by Yaxiu, the black crow finally gave up this terrible idea.

As Black Crow himself said, "What I have been so difficult to achieve, you can easily achieve,

And do it better." Therefore, Ash didn't need to learn those complicated techniques at all. What he really wanted to learn from the black crow was fighting consciousness.

Igula's practice doesn't need to move around, he continues to perfect his "visualization overlap" miracle, as well as thinking about using his new magic spirit "change of mind".

"Changing Hearts, "Spiritual Faction, Three-Winged Magic Spirit" "Active Effect: Change the target's mind for a moment. The more focused the target is, the more critical the situation is, and the easier it is to take effect." "Passive effect: The wizard's own will will be stronger, It's harder to change your mind." "Your mistake is to think that you still have a chance to make a mistake." "The changer's appearance is a neutral beauty in a white tuxedo, looking like a groom at a wedding.

In fact, he had obtained this magic spirit long ago in the Gospel Kingdom, and he had also used it to let the enemy hit him, but it was generally idle.

Because this magic spirit cannot penetrate the sanctuary and below the sanctuary, it is enough for Igula to use the miracle of killing directly, and he does not need to do it more often.

Just let Harvey and Yaxiu bite people; for the Sanctuary Warlock, 'the change of heart can't penetrate the Sanctuary, it is equivalent to invalid.

However, after seeing the series of 'miracles of chaos in the silver lamp', the fraudster was faintly inspired. Perhaps this magic spirit was not used for offense, but for defense. After 12 hours, Gwen did not wake up. Igula no longer doubted the effect of the zero hour hourglass. He took out a coat from the space card and put it on. On Gwen, on the fifteenth day of continuing to study the miracle, Chikara, who is socially obsessed, has finished talking with the others, and there is no progress in the miracle.

The mana is still exhausted, and I can't stand it anymore, triggering the zero hour hourglass to fall asleep.

On the thirty-second day, Harvey came out of the basement, completely exhausted. He moved the coffin out, squeezed with Alice, closed the lid of the coffin, and warned Igula not to sit on it.

On the sixty-eighth day, the black crow has integrated what he has seen and gained in these days, and has created new techniques. Ash and Igula were both surprised. Generally speaking, shouldn't this kind of summary creation be calculated on an annual basis? But according to Black Crow himself, excluding the time he spent chasing down crows and exercising in the past, he actually studied combat skills for less than three years, and he created a special technique every month on average.

It took two months this time, and it was already because of the need to train Yaxiu, and during this time, I really benefited a lot and settled down.

And Yaxiu has Black Crow sparring with him, not only has his fighting consciousness improved by leaps and bounds, but he has also completely mastered his long-range attack system centered on the 'Sword of the Heart'.

The black crow also spent three days wandering around the dead city, but could not find a silver lamp to escape, and then triggered the zero hour hourglass to fall asleep. However, before he fell asleep, he curled up and pressed the black crow mask with his hands, apparently to prevent Ash and Igula from uncovering his mask after he fell asleep.

On the ninety-fifth day, Igula found Yaxiu, who was still cultivating.

"No wonder other people are forced to die," Igola said. "Our bodies follow the normal flow of time, and when we were pulled in, we were full of energy, so we still don't feel sleepy.

– After all, we haven't even passed a second in reality, how can we be sleepy? "

"But not consuming the body does not mean not consuming the soul. Our soul has always maintained a high level of wear and tear,

But there was no recovery, and death was almost inevitable. If we really stay here for three years, I'm afraid it will greatly reduce the lifespan. "

Yaxiu, who is proficient in the faction of time, has a deeper understanding of this: "All activities will produce gold and water,

Aging is the corrosion of the spiritual body by flowing water. The “sanctuary” only prevents the water of the golden river from corroding the body, but the corrosion of the soul is inevitable. ”

“I have already solved the problems that I can solve here. If you want to go further, you must recover the magic power before you can test it.” The fraudster asked: “Do you still want to continue to practice?”

“Yeah.” Ash flicked the honey belly sword: “I feel like I still have room for improvement.”

“You weren’t so diligent before.”

“Isn’t this inspired by Tamashi, he taught me so hard, even if it is to beat him, I have to work hard.” Ash smiled: “It’s you, can you stop bullying him?”

“Who are you bullying? Where’s the evidence? Don’t frame me.”

Yaxiu suddenly pointed at the cheater, and the heart sword weaved a helmet-like warm yellow barrier on the latter’s head. This is the result of Yaxiu’s dozens of days – “Sword Body Barrier Armor”.

Igula froze for a moment – why are you wearing a helmet for me?

Then he saw Ash take out a frying pan for cooking in the wild from the space card.

Every time Ash asked a question, he slapped him with the frying pan, and the bottom of the pan slammed against the helmet. Igula can’t dodge, he’s just a fraudster in the back row, how can he avoid the cult leader who has been trained by Black Crow?

“Okay.” Igula reluctantly agreed, “I won’t trouble him in the future.”

In fact, even if Ash didn't say it, Igula wouldn't continue to bewitch the Black Crow. First, they lived and died together in the dead city, and the black crow had the credit for copying the zero-hour hourglass' pattern, and cheated the teacher to accept his love; second, even the secret of "Sen Luo Zhan's choice of the great law of the gods" was not attacked. Katamahi, Igula felt that he could no longer destroy the black crow by ordinary means.

"Then you give him psychotherapy," Ash said, "just like you've been inducing him to fall these days, you must induce him to return to the right path."

"I don't know how to train birds." Igula said: "The crow has a mental problem, you can just let him eat more corpses."

Seeing Ash lift the pan again, Igula rolled her eyes: "Do you think I'm perfunctory to you? Tamashi has a firm mind, maybe he's almost recovered now, and it was only because he was on guard at that time. Knowing too much information at one time... You ask him to kill more bad guys, and he will naturally find his meaning in life again from the killing."

Yaxiu thought it was right, and put away the pan: "Then... good night."

Igula glanced at him.

"Go to bed early, good night."

When Igula also lay down, Ash cultivated on the high platform where they were sleeping.

On the ninety-sixth day, Yaxiu was practicing swordsmanship.

On the ninety-seventh day, Ash parkour on the roof, training agility.

On the ninety-eighth day, Ash found a building and engraved all the intelligence records they found on the exterior wall of the building. Although key information is missing, it can at least save a little effort for later generations.

Ninety-ninth day.

Ash was sitting on the edge of the high platform, overlooking the entire dead city.

The night was like ink, and everything was silent, as if he was the only one left between heaven and earth.

He sat for a full six hours before patting his * and walking to Igula's side.

Speaking of which, their sleeping positions are also all kinds of strange: Black Crow is huddled up, Harvey is squeezed into the coffin, Chikara is large, and only Gwen and Igula are normal.

Yaxiu lay gently on the cold floor, exhaled a long breath, and touched the hourglass pattern on the back of his left hand with his right hand, his body completely motionless.

One second, two seconds, fifteen seconds, one minute five minutes... ten minutes.

Ten minutes later, Ash suddenly spread out his wings and flew up, quickly inspecting all the surrounding buildings. After turning around for a while, he returned to the high platform, lay down and stretched.

After being stunned for a while, he suddenly pulled out the honey belly sword, inserted it in his hand, and then activated the zero hour hourglass, and the spiritual body fell into silence.

Half an hour later, Weisser cautiously climbed the tower and stuck out his head to observe the situation. Even though she knew that no one would wake up because of external force, she still crept up next to Ash.

She took a serious look at Yaxiu's sleeping face, as if this was the first time she had observed the whole person up close. It turns out that the lips are a bit thin, the nose is a bit tall, the eyelashes are a bit long, and the eyebrows have not been repaired... In fact, he is just an ordinary person.

It's really strange, he's obviously just an ordinary person, why...?

She looked at the honey belly sword beside Ash, reached out to touch the hilt, and immediately retracted it like an electric shock. Although the injury on her right hand has healed, when she touched the sword, the voice of the black crow sounded in her mind again, making her hand aching faintly. You are not worthy.

Weisser stood up to find Black Crow, and even though he knew it was pointless, he still stomped on his head a few times.

Then she went back and lay beside Ash, staring sideways at the sleeping man.

"Actually, I have learned to cook Lala Fatty food."

Weisser said softly: "I have studied the game you like, I have figured out the woman you like, and I have tried everything you are interested in.

"I actually feel like we still have a chance, but I know better than anyone that we don't have a future."

She sat up and looked up at the dark night.

"It shouldn't be like this," Wesser said, "but it can only be like this."

She raised her hand and clenched the hilt of the honey belly sword beside her. The reason why she is obsessed with this sword is just to take it away as a souvenir, or to pray for non-existent company from the residual body temperature on it.

But the non-existent pain in the palm still strongly told her a fact.

"Maybe I'm not worthy." Wesser took a deep breath, let go, raised his chin and picked up his head, "What's so great, it's all an illusion anyway."

She lowered her body and kissed Ash's forehead lightly. A drop of crystal clear falls from the corner of the eye, stagnant in time

"Good night."

When the sun got into his eyes, Yaxiu's first reaction was: Is it raining?

He sat up and stretched out his hand to wipe his wet cheeks, then immediately clenched his long sword and spread his wings to fly. com Even the black crow jumped up and crawled on Ash's back!

Long before they fell asleep, they had discussed the Four Pillars—the Four Pillars camp was just outside the Dead City! It should be dawn after 12 hours. If you are lucky, the Four Pillars will find them at dawn.

Then when they wake up, they can use the "zero hour hourglass" to have an invincible time of up to 1 minute, and let the Four Pillars Sect have a good experience of what it means to wake up.

If they are unlucky and the Four Pillars Sect can't find them, then they will directly kill the Four Pillars Sect's camp while the invincible time is still there!

However, when they flew up and looked in the direction of the Four Pillars Sect's camp, they only saw a burning camp.

Harvey stared at the camp for five seconds, wondering what reconnaissance miracle he used, and said, "There are no living people there, but there are quite a few corpses."

Everyone was silent, and everyone knew whose masterpiece it was.

"Igula, Harvey." Ash suddenly asked, "How do you feel?"

The two were stunned for a moment, and immediately realized what he was asking. After sensing it carefully, they said, "The curse of the blood seed is gone." "Me too."

“That’s good.” Ash heaved a sigh of relief: “Then the problem that needs to be solved is only my semi-tactile identity... In this case...”

“Let’s find a way to leave Sen Luo.”

Chapter 634: Sword and Dragon Dance (Part 1)

Kingdom of Stars, Jianhua University.

With the night draped and the stars twinkling, the school playground was lit up with colorful lights, broken diamonds and streamers, and colorful flowers. On the main stage, a masked singer was singing with love, and the sound artist assisted the soundtrack. The space in the middle was a star-filled dance floor. The surroundings turned into open-air wine cafes and buffet tables, and students dressed up wearing masks shuttled through it, dancing, talking, playing, or eating wildly. The energetic and lively youthful atmosphere filled the whole school with flowing notes.

July and August are the summer vacations for self-study in colleges and universities, as well as the holding period of various inter-school recreational activities. The “Fantasy Summer Village Festival” of Locus University, the “Scarlet Theater” of Ark University, the “Great Controversy” of Shinji University, and the “King of Campus Singers” of Phantonic University are all activities that can make students relax in these two months.

One of the most anticipated is the “Dance of the Sword and the Dragon” Masquerade at Jianhua University!

These activities are all cross-school activities open to all college students, and Jianhua University is a famous student with the best looks, family backgrounds are either rich or expensive, and the atmosphere of love on campus is strong, so every year there are masquerade balls. Countless students from other schools have flocked to Jianhua University to see if they have a chance to turn a new page in their youth love story, even the students of Jinhua University are no exception – in fact, the ratio of cross-school couples in Jinhua University and Jinhua University , far higher than the internal digestion of the University of Truth. .

Although there are also many students who are determined to 'I want to do the problem and not fall in love', but there is no course urging in July and August, which will inevitably make students slack; and the approaching of the masquerade will directly increase the estrus rate of Quanjia Leshi college students, even if You are a ruthless man who can make a few math papers by accident, and it is easy to follow the heart of spring.

Many truth students with strict family traditions and single-mindedly study magic, just because they came to a masquerade party, they were fooled by outsiders, and they were fooled and privately decided for life, regardless of gender.

According to completely unreliable statistics, the number of couples who successfully match at the Masquerade Ball every year is as high as four figures. Even if 70% of them will break up within a month, it is enough to make the teenagers and girls of Mu Ai Huaichun look forward to it.

However, even though the Jianhua students had long expected the popularity of the masquerade ball, they still did not expect that there would be so many people tonight, as if half of the college students from Gales were crowded in.

As for why there are so many people this year, everyone knows well.

“Why so many redheads?”

Outside the dance floor, a young man in wolf costume wearing a mask was stunned.

Among the three girls who passed by in front of him, one had dyed red hair. Although there were various differences such as pink, red, red and crimson, and various differences such as short hair and ponytail, the number of red-haired girls It's too much! ?

“Brother, this is normal.”

In the bar, a female bartender was bartending with a bells and whistles, and laughed: “When “Cun Zhou Cuo Blade” was broadcast, at least eight of the ten young girls you saw when you went out in Galeworld were at least eight. They have all done the same hairstyle as Daedalus. Now the red-haired Sword Princess is shining brightly in the Meteor Tribulation, what’s so surprising about everyone dyeing their hair red.”

The young man dressed as a wolf looked over and found that the female bartender had also dyed a strand of red hair, so he had no choice but to take the cocktail.

“But now there are so many red-haired girls, even if Miss Jian Ji appears in front of me, I can’t tell the difference...”

Alas! ”

He tasted a cocktail and felt sour to death. He wanted to scold people, but seeing that the bartender was cute and beautiful, he still held back his anger and said, “I want a holiday storm, what is this of you?”

“Ah, I’m sorry, sorry.” The female bartender took out a notebook and looked at it: “I see, no wonder,

It turns out that I remembered it wrong and accidentally added the bitter vinegar in. I’ll look at the notebook and make the correct cup for you.

“Did you actually learn it on the spot?!”

“There are too many people tonight, I was just temporarily pulled over to work part-time.” The female bartender said, “Who told me to fail the final exam...”

The young man in wolf costume blinked, and suddenly felt that this bartender was also quite cute. His cheeks were as red as red apples, which perfectly hit his strike zone, so he coughed and said in a magnetic voice:

“That lovely lady, can I invite you to a dance later?”

“Thank you!” The bartender said crisply: “But no, I have a fiancé.”

“Can’t you dance if you have a fiancé? Just enjoy the fun of dancing.” If the young man in the wolf costume just wants to dance, then I can also dance with my roommate. Why do I have to dance with the opposite sex? “The bartender giggled: “And you’re not my type. ”

“Then what type do you like?”

“My fiancé’s type.”

“Why do all the girls I like have famous names!?” The wolf-dressed youth looked up to the sky and sighed: “If it’s my pursuit of failure, why do all of them already have people they like! Am I destined to be the kind of seducer? The type of woman!?”

“I also have two single roommates who are also very beautiful, although they are not as good as me. When they come over, can I introduce you to me?”

“No.” The wolf-dressed youth firmly refused: “I don’t like this kind of encounter that is too introductory. What I pursue is that kind of inadvertent heartbeat.”

The bartender said in one sentence, “But aren’t you here for the red-haired sword girl?”

“Yeah, when I watched the Meteor Tribulation final, I was moved by Jian Ji’s unyielding attitude.” The wolf-dressed youth turned his head to look at the big playground, “I was wondering if I could meet her at the masquerade, and then rely on Charm wins her heart, and if it doesn’t work, she will be friends with her first... But who knows! Even those who sing on stage are redheads!”

“I thought you were just here to play.” The bartender looked at the wolf disguised youth with strange eyes: “Isn’t your wild dress used to cancel your right to choose a mate?”

“I heard that the person Jian Ji likes is not a Jianhua student. I thought that she might not like the extravagant and gorgeous style of Jianhua University, so she deliberately dressed as a werewolf swordsman.”

“Do you see a lion hidden in my eyes?” He still hasn’t given up hooking up with the bartender.

“To be honest, I think you are quite cute.” The bartender smirked while wiping the glass: “Like a big plush dog, Jian Ji might like it.

“give up.”

Beside the bar, another young man wearing a golden mask said, “Don’t you know that Leroush confessed to Jian Ji a few days ago?”

“Le Roush? Le Roush Valudo?” The wolf-dressed youth was surprised: “The eldest son of Earl of Void Star? The swordsman genius of the University of Truth second only to Di Mi?”

But among the royal guards, the five dukes known as the “Five Pillars of Stars” are undoubtedly the top of the aristocracy,

But not no one can come close to their status. In recent years, five earls who have taken advantage of the technological revolution have been called ‘little five pillars’ to describe their power that can barely compete with the five pillars.

Among them, Valudo, Earl of Void Star is one of them. Their family has five virtual game chambers of commerce, accounting for 80% of the national game market share, and they continue to expand and recruit talents. Almost every young person will play their game. . Whether it is social influence, the number of talent positions provided, and the annual income,

Earl of Void Star is not inferior to the old Duke, “Void Star Game Plan” has become the childhood of countless young people.

As the eldest son of the Count of Void Star, Le Rouche is not to mention his family background, but he is still a genius in swordsmanship.

But no matter what, Le Roush is the highest-ranking noble boy. If he openly pursues the red-haired sword princess, then everyone else will basically have to withdraw in secret.

“The news of Le Roush’s confession to Jian Ji has been the hottest topic these days, why don’t you know it?” Golden Mask smiled: “He didn’t quietly confess to Jian Ji, but had a fight in the swordsmanship club. A grand performance, roses spread the floor, fireworks covered the sky... By the way, Le Rouche also met Jian Ji in the swordsmanship club.”

During the summer vacation, combat fighters often do not work behind closed doors, but participate in various clubs to compete and learn. A lower-level club may be a few students renting a classroom, while a higher-level club is basically led by professors.

Even the club that Jian Ji and Le Roush participated in, it must be the highest-level swordsmanship club, and it doesn’t even need to take a name. Only the weak will be proud of ‘I am a member of the X club’ and that I and XX are in the same club. For these talented magicians, the club is just an ordinary place for training.

“I don’t know. I was taken to the easternmost village by the old man for the first two weeks, and he said that he would give me a lot of experience. As a result, I fed mosquitoes for half a month. I only came back yesterday. What happened to Galesi? I don’t know at all!” The wolf-dressed youth wailed, “Jianji wouldn’t agree? Jianji, my swordsman.

“But Le Rouche added: ‘I know you have a place in your heart, but we can be friends even if we can’t be a couple. I’m not your first best friend, but I hope I can be your most important and best friend. Help one of you, the road to swordsmanship is long and lonely, we can compete with each other and communicate with each other, although I am not as strong as Di Mi now, but I will catch up soon.’”

“This kid has no good intentions at all, and intends to use the name of ordinary contacts to slowly seduce Jian Ji!” The wolf-dressed youth was filled with righteous indignation: “This technique, this method, looks like a veteran of Hua Cong, and Jian Ji should break up with him on the spot. How does Jian Ji answer?”

The bartender raised his eyebrows – who said just now that if you don’t pursue Jian Ji, you should be friends first...

“Jianji’s answer may sound a little familiar to you.”

“Um?”

“She said, “If I need a competitor, Leonie-senpai and Trozan can put enough pressure on me, why do I have to date the opposite sex? Leroche, I don’t think you’re not a sanctuary, it’s a fact. No matter who it is, even if Dimi asks me to communicate privately, I will not agree, you don’t need to belittle yourself.”

Having said this, the golden mask sighed: “The two of them confessed, and if they refused, they refused. Why do you want to pull Dimir out to fight?”

“Okay!” The wolf-dressed youth clapped the table and applauded, “As expected of the Sword Princess, she saw through the plot of the villain Lerouch at a glance, and answered politely and decently! Hey, wait, these words are indeed a bit familiar...”

He turned his head to look at the bartender: “It’s as if you rejected me just now.”

The bartender blinked: “This shows that I know people just like Jian Ji.”

“Besides, haven’t you investigated Jian Ji’s character?” Golden Mask added: “She is obsessed with swordsmanship practice, and she does not participate in other social activities except for acting and recording work. It is said that many noble banquets are invited. She attended, but she refused all of them. How could she appear in such a time-wasting social occasion like a masquerade? Maybe she has already gone to explore the virtual world now.”

"I haven't investigated." The wolf pretending to be young scratched his head: "I thought that as long as I was sincere enough, I could impress others.

"Sure enough, it's the same as the rumor." Golden Mask smiled: "Lan Shile, you are a sincere son."

"Looking at what you say so nicely, I'll take it that you're not saying I'm stupid...Wait." The wolf-dressed youth suddenly reacted: "I didn't say what my name was, did I? Who are you? My admirer? Or... Admirer?"

"In the past two weeks, only your father has been to the east for research." Golden Mask shrugged: "I just guessed it by chance."

The wolf-dressed youth snorted: "You actually pay attention to my old man, so perverted. You shouldn't be a prophet, right? Otherwise, how did you know so much about Leroush's confession to Jian Ji?"

Golden Mask: "Because I was watching the scene."

"I prove it." The bartender laughed, "I am the roses that spread the floor."

The wolf disguised youth took a sip of the cocktail he had just mixed. Although it wasn't very tasty, he endured it.

In front of him are all kinds of men and women on the dance floor hunting each other, and in his ears are the gentle singing, he pondered for a long time,

He turned his head and asked them, "How can I make Jian Ji like me?"

The bartender asked seriously: "If I know the answer, what price can I sell it for?"

Golden Mask thought for a while: "Probably the equivalent of the Four Wings Spirit."

“So many!” The assistant bartender looked at the youth in wolf costume: “Can you pay the deposit first?”

“I’m not joking!” The wolf dressed as a young man said seriously: “Anyway, give me a direction to work hard?”

“At least, UU reading www.uukanshu.com don’t spread roses when you confess.” The bartender said: “According to the gossip, Jian Ji likes tulips.”

“Also, what she likes should be a swordsman.” Golden Mask said: “Lan Shile, you don’t seem to be majoring in swordsmanship, right?”

The wolf-dressed youth said, “It’s not about looking for a job. How can there be any restrictions on techniques when it comes to dating? I’m not convinced! Is there any news about Jian Ji’s sweetheart? I want to know what type she likes!”

The golden mask said with a smile, “The question of “Who is the person Jian Ji likes” may become an unsolved mystery for countless people in their college years. ”

“I think strength is an important factor, if not the deciding factor.

The bartender finally gave a serious suggestion: “After all, Jian Ji will definitely hit the legendary realm in the future, so her partner should at least be able to keep up with her pace.”

“Shocking the legend? She deserves it too?”

Everyone turned their heads and saw two people passing by the bar, a tall man wearing a black tiger mask, and a petite woman wearing a butterfly mask. The speaker is the butterfly mask.

The golden mask is half-smiling: “You seem to be questioning the gold content of the Half-Year Sanctuary”? ”

“It’s because of her sanctuary for half a year.” Butterfly Mask said unceremoniously: “She doesn’t have any combat experience, accumulation of skills, and she’s just a vase with empty grades.

“She can climb to the remote airspace by cheating, can she still walk up Ruby Mountain?”

Chapter 635: Sword and Dragon Dance (Part 2)

These days, no matter how low-key Sonia is, rumors about her still inevitably spread.

Reincarnation theory, inheritance theory, talent theory, all kinds of hypotheses emerge one after another, but no one thinks that Sonia is a normal practice to the sanctuary.

Half a year!

Even a genius magician may not be able to cultivate a silver full wing within half a year!

Although they couldn’t do it directly, Fanxing’s soothsayers, truth magicians, and destiny magicians were almost all trying to find out the secrets that Sunia was hiding. Not only that, the reasonable temptation within the scope of the rules has never stopped.

The sea of knowledge can rely on whirlpools, and the time continent can rely on moving miracles, but there is no room for cheating in the remote airspace. . Butterfly Mask said coldly: “A person like her who is not strong enough to deceive the world, I am afraid that a bubble cannot be cracked, and it will forever stop in the distant airspace!” ”

The bartender wiped the wine glass and said with a grunt: “I insulted our Jianhua at Jianhua University. I don’t know the strength, but the politeness is definitely not...”

Butterfly mask's eyes froze, and the fingers moved towards the bartender casually, and the air flowed with it. She didn't even use magic power, but with a little magic spirit resonance, she was able to draw a small wind blade in the air, and swept a bloodstain on the bartender's baby fat—

Snapped.

The wolf-dressed youth went up like a mosquito, and broke up the small wind blades that had not yet been formed with his bare hands.

He turned his head and stared at the butterfly mask and the black tiger mask, and pondered: "Do you want to stir up the sword princess by making trouble?"

The golden mask was a little surprised – although Lan Shile was honest and kind, he was extremely quick in thinking when faced with the maliciousness of others. No wonder there were rumors that Earl Xingchen wanted to promote him as the heir as the third son.

Black Tiger Mask was silent, Butterfly Mask said: "I just want that coward who avoids war to give up the honor that does not belong to her – the first swordsman under the stars."

Suddenly it sounds like this title is too arrogant, and there is also a legendary magician on it. Isn't the use of this title a slap in the face for a sacred magician?

However, this title is actually specially prepared for the Meteor Tribulation Champion, requiring a Meteor Tribulation Champion, a swordsman, and a wide range of public support.

Among the three points, the last point is actually the most difficult. For example, Di Mi has already won the Meteor Tribulation Championship once, but his identity as the eldest son of the Duke is destined to be equal to the envy and worship of the people.

To put it simply, it is a matter of course for Di Mi to win this championship, and it is a shame for him not to win.

However, Sonia is different. Her background as a village girl in an agricultural town has become a key factor in her popularity. What can be more resonant with the public than a grassroots counterattack? Coupled with such a legendary experience, the people don't care about the huge gap between the sanctuary and the 'legend', and directly put the honor of 'the first swordsman under the starry sky'.

Coupled with the entertainment media fueling the flames, Sonia's reputation is quickly surpassing the top ten juggernauts. Perhaps the legendary magician doesn't care, but many swordsmen find it difficult to accept – especially the sanctuaries who see through the details of Sonia.

"Jianji's swordsmanship is not at the sanctuary level at all, and she hasn't even touched the gold-level ceiling." Butterfly Mask said coldly: "If it wasn't for Di Mi's lack of seriousness in front of her, Jianji would have lost long ago."

Golden Mask smiled and said: "There is no need to beautify Di Mi like this. The original miracles of Jian Ji are still difficult to deal with. Di Mi is not so serious in front of him, it is better to say that he is gathering information."

Butterfly Mask added: "Jian Ji has refused all sanctuary battles these days, which is the best proof.

When she arrived in the remote airspace, it was even more difficult for her to benefit from the exploration of the virtual realm because of her lack of strength. Once confronted with other sanctuaries, it would be easy for everyone to find out how unworthy of her name she was. "

The bartender was unconvinced and said, "That's shameless for the person who made the appointment! Jian Ji has only been promoted to the sanctuary for a few days, how could it be possible to agree to discuss with those veteran powerhouses who have stayed in the sanctuary for more than ten years? This is not Looking for abuse?"

"What about the hyperbolic knife Yadas?"

At the mention of this name, even the bartender shut up because the Hyperbolic Blade' Yadas is also a new sanctuary for promotion these days!

Yadas is an adventurer in the abyss. When the meteor robbery was held, his team fell into the bottom of the abyss and was trapped for half a month. When they were forced to a desperate situation, they advanced to the sanctuary. After entering the remote airspace, they only had one romance. Synchronized Forbidden Instruments will learn to build a sanctuary, and then lead his teammates to kill from the bottom of the abyss back to the ground!

But at that time, Gales was still immersed in the great shock brought by the sword princess, and the brilliant achievements of Yadas also became eclipsed under this starlight.

You must know that Yadas is only 27 years old now. Although he is not from an agricultural town, he is only an ordinary resident of a small city, and his resources are far inferior to those of God. This talent at this age is definitely a star-studded arrogance!

Therefore, when the sanctuaries were just having a friendly exchange with Yosoni, Yadas directly sent out a battle invitation, wanting to decide the winner and loser with Jian Ji!

However, Sonia refused all communication and stayed in the school to practice and study.

With more rejections, there will naturally be rumors of "Jianji only has her own appearance", Jianji exhausted her potential and stopped in the sanctuary, "Vase Sword Saint" and so on.

When they were arguing at the bar, there were a lot of people around. Some people supported Jian Ji and some satirized Jian Ji.

As the sound grew, the voice even overwhelmed the singing on the stage, and the students on the dance floor also looked over there curiously.

"Jian Ji is busy consolidating her strength, so it's natural not to agree to a battle. Those old sanctuaries just want to suppress Jian Ji!"

"Oh, then why didn't she agree to confront Yadas? If Jian Dian is really such a genius, how could Yadas, who has just been promoted to Sanctuary for a few days, be her opponent?"

“Actually, if you have another fight with Di Mi, then Jian Ji may not be able to beat her. After all, Di Mi already knows her trump card...”

“Joke, hiding the trump card is one of the tactics, why don’t you let Di Mi hide the “turning off the wave” until the last moment, and Jian Ji was caught off guard?”

“Hyperbolic Blade” Yadas has ten years of experience in the abyss, beheading countless monsters, and has extremely rich combat experience.

Sword Princess can’t beat Yadas at least now. ”

“Not only now, but also in the future.” Butterfly Mask said loudly: “Jianji’s swordsmanship faction has no sanctuary realm at all. She is too weak, and she still wants to explore the remote airspace. Does she have this ability? The lesson to escape. In the end, it has to be made up, even if Jian Ji can enter the remote airspace in advance by cheating, she has to gradually improve her sword skills, but does she really have this talent?”

Suddenly someone asked: “How can you be sure that Jian Ji’s swordsmanship does not have the realm of sanctuary?”

At this time, the silent black tiger mask finally said: “When you are a swordsman sanctuary, you can naturally see the level of other people’s swordsmanship.”

In the crowd, several warm-blooded students who were going to rush up to beat the two villains, when they heard these words, they suddenly fell on their heads like a basin of cold water.

Many people in the onlookers also found that the black tiger mask was wearing two cranked knives on the waist.

The scene suddenly quieted down, and the ethereal singing once again occupied the night. At this time, the golden mask suddenly asked: “If the double-curved sword cannot challenge Jian Ji, the next target will probably be “Naturally you need to learn Vosloda’s wave swordsmanship.” The black tiger mask didn’t speak much, but the tone was more severe than the vicious butterfly mask.

“I’m just here to relax tonight, but you don’t seem to miss this opportunity.”

Jin Mask sighed and stood up, suddenly pulled out a decorative sword from the waist of a burgundy-haired girl who imitated Jian Ji next to him, and flicked the blade: “Beautiful lady, lend me this sword for a while, wait a minute. Give you a victory, okay?”

The burgundy-haired girl was flattered: “Of course you can—but it’s not a good sword—no, I’ll lend you one right away—”

“No, this one is enough.” Golden Mask smiled and walked with Black Tiger Mask to the middle of the dance floor. Other students consciously made room for them. The person also quickly understood who the two people on the field were.

The masquerade suddenly turned into a sword fighting arena, but no one dared to have an opinion, only the masked singer on the main stage is still singing with all her heart I have more colorful magic than you, and it is not good for you to go all out, and here It’s not a battlefield, so let’s not use the magic sanctuary. “Golden Mask said: “Only than swordsmanship. ”

The black tiger mask nodded and drew out the double curved sword: “Distinguish the high and the low.”

The two looked at each other, and after a brief silence, it was like two phantoms colliding together.

Even if they don’t use magic spirits, their physical fitness is top-notch!

clang!

The violent shock was transmitted from the blade to the wrist of the black tiger mask, all the way to the internal organs and even the pituitary gland!

Fusloda's wave swordsmanship, even if there is no magic spirit, the swordsmanship itself is a top fighting skill. With the blessing of the sanctuary realm, the wave swordsmanship can send shock waves to the enemy just by touching it!

However, I was not in vain in the abyss.

The black tiger mask double-curved swords fluttered, like waves twisting the long sword that glued the enemy. Golden Mask tried to pull away several times, but the long sword seemed to be stuck by the sea.

Even if he takes the initiative to retreat, the black tiger mask will chase after him like a wave, moving like a dance, like a knife like a wave, like a tornado storm, like a swirling whirlpool!

This is the double-curved knife' Yadas's own fighting skill – the wave of the wave knife dance!

His core magic is the wave sword. After years of study and accumulation, he developed a complete combat system with the wave sword as the starting point. At the same time, this combat system reflects his swordsmanship. Realm, he was not afraid at all.

The ancestral wave swordsmanship is powerful, but it is the ancestor after all: although his wave sword dance is still not perfect, it is the most suitable for him!

As soon as the two came up, there was a fierce confrontation, and the sound of swords was endless!

The onlookers were dazzled, the swordsmen were hungry for nourishment, and the other factions did not dare to blink, for fear of missing the wonderful moment – this is a rare confrontation between the two sanctuary magicians who only compete in the realm of magic!

“Could it be that even Di Mi can't compare to Yadas?”

How could it be possible, if Di Mi used “turn off the wave”, Yadas would definitely be hacked to death! ”

“But not only Yadas, but those of us who are onlookers will also be wiped out

“But in the realm of swordsmanship based on light, it seems that Di Mi is really not as good as Yadas?”

Just as everyone was discussing, the golden mask suddenly changed its style of play. It was no longer a defensive sword stance, but actively followed the hyperbolic sword stance of the black tiger mask and danced with the latter!

Soon, the golden mask has changed from a disadvantaged position to a balance of power between you and me, and it can even have a slight upper hand!

It’s going to be flipped! ”

“Dimi adapted to Yadas’ style, Yadas can’t win!

“But Yadas didn’t lose, Di Mi still couldn’t escape his double curved sword!

“They obviously didn’t use the magic spirit, how could they fight more violently than the magic spirit?”

“Is this the style of the Sword Saint...

“No wonder Servi didn’t dare to fight, the gap is really too big...”

When the onlookers were amazed, they didn’t know that the two of them in the battle circle could no longer stop.

The essence of the wave knife dance creates a whirlpool to strangle the enemy. When the golden mask actively rushes into the vortex, it means that the speed of the vortex will become faster and faster, until both of them are out of control, and someone must be seriously injured to end!

Although they can also use the magic spirit or the sanctuary to get out of this ‘sword vortex, but that is tantamount to voluntarily admit defeat, they would rather be seriously injured than take the initiative to break the rules of battle!

Just as the two of them fell into the dance of death, the masked singer on the main stage sang the last note, and with the accompaniment of the band, the lingering voice curled into the night sky.

Under the stage, only the bartender and two female students applauded. The bartender took out a sword bag from under the bar, trotted all the way from the periphery, and threw it to the masked singer on the main stage. The masked singer nodded in thanks, took out the wooden sword from the sword bag, jumped off the stage, and walked straight towards the two who had been unable to escape.

“Hey, it’s dangerous there!”

That was two swordsmanship sanctuaries at war, is she trying to persuade? ”

“Is she stupid, and doesn’t look at her own strength.”

“Wait, she has a wooden sword in her hand”

“Actually still holding wooden swords, both of them are real swords. Wooden swords?”

At this time, the golden mask and the black tiger mask also found the masked singer who took the initiative to approach them, but they had no power to protect her, so they could only warn her to leave quickly with their eyes. Then, they saw three arcs of light. !

clang! clang! clang!

With three crisp sounds, the double curved sword and the decorative sword flew high, and then fell to the ground with a snap.

Because of the impact from the masked singer, the golden mask and the black tiger mask took the opportunity to get out of the vortex, and looked at this female swordsman who was not inferior to them in astonishment!

No one understands better than them how hard it is to separate them from the whirlpool state just now without hurting them! Not only need the swordsmanship of the sanctuary realm, but also need to understand all the gaps and flaws in their wave swordsmanship and ocean wave sword dance!

“I’ll be in charge of security for the masquerade tonight.”

The masked singer raised her wooden sword and tapped the gold mask and the black tiger mask on the head very quickly: “If you want to fight, go out and fight, don’t die here and cause me trouble.”

After all, she walked to the bar counter, and the students onlookers subconsciously made way for her. She picked up a cocktail from the bar and took a sip, but the next second she sprayed the bartender next to her.

“Even if it’s hard to drink, it won’t spray me in the face!”

“I’m sorry, I really didn’t expect to get the rotten flavor out of a cocktail. Would you like to study the Poison Faction?”

Everyone stared blankly at them leaving the dance scene. Many people were blushing and wished they could hide in the ground. They were still calling Ji Jianji far less powerful than Dimi and Yadas, but in the next second Jianji would be One person overwhelms two juggernauts!

Do you dare to interfere with the confrontation between the two juggernauts?

Can you hit the sword in Sosage’s hand?

Can you knock Chuangsheng on the head and the latter still can’t react?

At this moment, the rumors that the Vase Sword Saint and the ‘Jianji’s realm is not in the Sanctuary’ are all self-defeating!

The wolf costume youth muttered: “This is too handsome.”

The golden mask took off the mask, and UU Reading www.uukanshu.com showed a handsome face with blond hair and sunshine, and said, "It's just over a month ago that she has actually caught up, maybe even surpassed me. If there is another meteor calamity, I will also Not sure of winning."

The black tiger mask took off the mask, revealing a cold and determined face. There are three scars on his left face, like being scratched by a cat: "Is that her?"

Who else could it be? "Dimi said, "Are you still going to challenge her? "

Yadas shook his head: "No, I'm going back.

"Where to go back?

abyss. The double curved knife left without looking back: "I will surpass you.

After taking off the stage suit, Sonia planned to go to the training ground to practice for a while, but she saw a silver limousine waiting on the road.

"You're here again." The head of the Stretch Claw Club smiled. "You might as well go to the masquerade, where your brother is fighting."

Felix in the car seemed to have screened the news about Di Mi and said directly: "Jianji, we can help you.

Sonia decisively refused: "I have nowhere to help."

"Really?" Felix said leisurely: "It's a pity, I heard that you are studying how to cross the country recently, and I thought it could help you in this regard."

Chapter 636: star taboo

Sonia's pupils shrank.

She was silent for a moment, got into the back seat of the car, and said, "You really pay attention to me."

"You haven't adapted to your identity change." Felix said: "You are no longer the unknown female student, nor the two-winged magician who performed well in the meteor tribulation. You are a sanctuary magician with secrets. ."

"Who do you like, what flowers do you like, where you've been, who you've seen, your every move is in the spotlight, and all your actions will be studied with a magnifying glass for hidden meanings, but you dare to do that Find a way to travel across the country openly and aboveboard...you should cherish your own life more.."

Sonia frowned and asked, "What do you mean? Am I in danger?"

"If it wasn't for me to tamper with your borrowing records, I'm afraid you would have entered the key focus catalogue of the Throne Hall by now, and been monitored by at least one star fighter."

Throne Room! ?

The village girl never thought that she would be involved in the throne room, an institution directly under the royal family.

The Star Citizens' knowledge of the Throne Hall is only the handsome and powerful Star Guards under its command. As for what work it does itself, they basically don't know anything.

Although Fanxing people's cognition of government agencies is basically learned from movies and dramas, the absence of the throne room and the Star Guards in any movies and dramas is enough to show the influence of this mysterious department.

“How could I be noticed by the Throne Hall?” Sonia didn’t quite believe Felix’s words: “Don’t talk about harming the country, I have been keeping a low profile these days, what reason does it have to pay attention to me?”

“You should know that every book you read in the library has keywords used to identify it’, and you have read a lot in the past two months with keywords such as “exotic”, “travel” and “foreign knowledge” ‘s books. “Felix said: “If you’re just an ordinary person,

It doesn’t matter if you read these books; if you don’t read them, the Throne Hall will not pay attention to your new Sanctuary magician. ”

“However, you are a sanctuary magician who has a preliminary insight into the truth of the world, and can already ignore the social system, and reading these books with taboo keywords is simply sending yourself into the eyes of the throne room.”

Sonia couldn’t understand: “Why does the Throne Hall pay attention to inquiries about how to cross the country? If crossing the country is really taboo by the Throne Hall,

Then why didn’t they censor all relevant books, but left them for us to look up...”

As she spoke, the village girl’s voice gradually became smaller.

Felix said: “Have you thought about it too? As long as there is a place of inheritance that can connect all magicians, there is no possibility of ‘monopolizing knowledge’. On the contrary, the more the royal family bans, I am afraid there will be More people go to seek forbidden knowledge – a magician is this kind of perpetually adventurous creature in the period of rebellion.”

In the virtual world, there are wild magic spirits, magician manuals, and various virtual world mechanisms. Even uneducated magicians can obtain the inheritance of countless sages from time to time.

Any act of monopolizing knowledge can be monopolized for one year or ten years, but it is absolutely impossible to monopolize for a hundred years. Even if you can monopolize living people, can you still monopolize dead people?

Not to mention that just by reading other people's magician manuals, everyone will naturally know that there are other kingdoms. If you know, you will be curious, and if you are curious, you will seek. How can it be possible to forbid a magician from the idea of crossing the country in such an environment?

Felix tapped the steering wheel with his finger: "Instead of blocking the flow of information in vain, it is better to put these materials where everyone can see, but as long as there are many, many, and frequent readings by the sanctuary, it will trigger the throne room. Trap mechanism, expedited entry into the watch list."

Hearing this, Sonia actually believed half of it, but she still didn't understand: "Why is the throne room afraid of the sanctuary magician who wants to cross the country? Is crossing the country a taboo?"

Felix shook his head.

"No, in the six major kingdoms, the other five kingdoms do not have such taboos. After all, crossing the country is as difficult as going to the sky. If the sanctuary magician spends his time on this, he can only gain benefits from the space faction, or invented other miracles—many miracles are often invented by accident—but it is impossible to research the miracle of crossing the country, otherwise you will not find any clues."

"Therefore, 'traversing the country' is not a taboo in other countries. Even if it is an unattainable goal, in the process of chasing this goal, magicians can also discover new scenery and gain new insights."

"But only in the country of stars, any sanctuary magician who is interested in crossing will be monitored by the royal family and the church."

Sonia suddenly realized something, and her ruby-like eyes glowed with a strange luster.

Felix saw the bright-eyed village girl in the rear mirror, and chuckled: "I know what you're thinking—you probably think that other countries cannot help crossing because of the difficulty of crossing, so on the other hand, The kingdom of stars is afraid of crossing, doesn't it mean that there is an easy way to travel from the stars to other places?"

“I can tell you very clearly, no. Whether you want to enter or leave the stars, it is extremely difficult. The authors of the travel notes of the magician you read basically use the virtual passage to reach other countries, because this is the only one A regular path through all realms, even if the path itself is random.”

“What the royal family and the church are really afraid of is not whether the sanctuary magician can develop a “method” to leave the stars, but the “idea” of the sanctuary magician trying to leave the stars.”

“Just like the nobles of the imperial palace should not have the idea of corruption and dereliction of duty, and the nobles of the imperial palace should not have the desire to fight for power. What you committed, Sonia, is a thought crime.”

Sonia pondered for a long time. She stared at the large playground in the distance, which dyed the night with brilliance. Tonight, the sky is clear, the stars are shining brightly, and everything seems to be covered with a thin silver veil.

“What do you mean, as long as I have this kind of thought, I will be regarded as the possibility of rebelling against the stars?” Sonia guessed: “Indeed, if a normal magician has a good life, why would he want to leave himself? A kingdom? Even if a sanctuary magician is curious about a foreign country, but he keeps hitting a wall in his research and feels that it is too difficult, he will naturally give up.”

“If I am determined to study the method of crossing the country, the Throne Hall will think that I am dissatisfied with Fanxing? It may even feel that I have no loyalty to Fanxing and only want to go to other countries to develop?”

However, Felix did not answer directly, but asked: “So, can I still provide some help to the Sword Saint of the Claws?”

Felix’s implication is undisguised – just now it’s free public content, but next is the VI paid chapter.

Sonia still wanted to prostitute for free: “You are just a two-winged magician. How do I know if the secrets you said are true or false?”

“I actually don’t know if it’s true or not.”

Felix said sternly: “I’m just a magician who hasn’t even entered the remote airspace. Even if I’m interested in crossing the country, the Throne Hall will ignore me.”

“But my source of intelligence is the mutual aid group. There are quite a few sanctuary magicians there. Some of them are being monitored by the Throne Hall because of their research on how to cross the kingdom. The dignified sanctuary has no personal freedom, which is almost like house arrest.”

“If you don’t believe it, you can continue to research, but my help to you ends here. Next time you go to look for books with the keyword “traversal”, you can find a way to erase the borrowing traces.”

Sonia finally understands why Felix is so confident – if the temptation he gave before was “you will get what you join us”, then his condition this time is “what you will lose if you don’t join us.” “!

As long as Sonia still tries to find a way to cross the kingdom from the starry kingdom, it will inevitably attract the attention of the throne room, and even suppress, warn and house arrest!

The time when Felix found it was also quite clever. It happened to be a critical time when Sonia had basically finished reading the Morikan Flower Pavilion in Jianhua University and was about to go to other university collections to find more information.

Although Sonia can also find a way to hide her traces, firstly, she has no experience in this area, and the risk of exposure is extremely high, and secondly, she is not prepared in her heart.

In essence, Sonia is actually a cautious little village girl. She basically never touches any crimes or crimes. The biggest evil thing she has ever done in her life is to use high heels to pretend to accidentally stomp other people’s feet and use the system loopholes to use the dormitory without limit. Hot water in the bath.

Thinking that she might offend the royal church, Sonia felt a little timid just thinking about it – how can she be a little swordsman, He De!

It's not that she didn't dare, but just because of "researching the method of crossing", she is the enemy of Fanxing, which is like killing someone for arguing about whether to eat lala fat with vinegar or not!

On the other hand, Felix's conditions this time are actually not strong. After all, the choice of normal people is to give up research on crossing methods from now on, so as not to be targeted by the Throne Hall, how could they join them in order to continue their research.

But Felix is very confident. Although there is no reason, she is convinced that the matter of "traversing the country" is extremely important to Sonya!

It is also because of this that she has collected a lot of information about crossing the country from the organization in advance, just to give a condition that Sonia cannot refuse!

Sonia finally asked: "Do you have a way to travel across the country?"

"Not now, because that's not our key project, but there are also a lot of information, definitely the secret information that you can't find if you turn over the entire Gallo World Library." Felix said: "And proficient in space factions. There are also many magicians, and it is better for you to study with them than to run around like a blind fly.

"Take a ten thousand steps back and say, even if there is no result~www.mtlnovel.com~, we still have a way to find the virtual world channel. Although the virtual world channel is random, many virtual world channels are generated every year, no matter where you want to go, as long as Be willing to wait patiently, sooner or later."

Felix finally revealed her trump card: in addition to resources, there is a guarantee!

If Sonia wants to study the traversal method in depth, she has enough contacts and research resources here; if Sonia just wants to achieve the goal,

Then she also has a guarantee that she can definitely succeed!

As long as crossing the country is a goal that Sonia cannot give up, then she absolutely cannot refuse the conditions she gave!

Sonia pursed her lips, and didn't ask until the laughter from the big playground overflowed again, "Who the * are you? There is no need to say such things as the mutual aid group of magicians."

"I still can't say it before you join, but I can show a little bit about our heritage..."

Felix bit the white glove with his fingers and took it off, revealing her fair-skinned left hand with slender fingers, and the terrifying round holes in the palm of her left hand.

Felix covered his eyes with his left hand, and Sonia could see her eyes through the round holes in her palms, but this strange composition gave the village girl a strong sense of surprise, like admiring a wonderful painting. Or maybe it's an ingenious sculpture!

Um! ?

Sonia suddenly found that her body could not move, and her magic power was completely stagnant!

Chapter 637: track

"She got into Felix's car? Now Felix is leaving Jianhua?"

Outside Jianhua University, in an unremarkable dumb black car, a young man with black hair and purple clothes was listening to his subordinate's report.

"It seems that it should be tonight. After crouching for so many days, I finally got something."

He exhaled a stale breath, took out a cigarette from the metal cigarette case, took a slow breath, and the exhaled smoke was expelled out of the car with the ventilation system, and said, "Uncle Willer, help to call Uncle Coruno."

The middle-aged man in the back seat nodded and pushed the slender man next to him with his eyes closed.

After a while, the thin man opened his eyes, his face was rather ugly: "I almost have to guess the first affix..."

"If you are at your level, don't play the reasoning stream, and honestly crack it with violence." The middle-aged man sneered: "You don't have this ability, do you know."

"I'm a reasoning writer, how can I break the bubble with violence every time?"

"But you're writing socialist reasoning!"

"Socialist reasoning isn't reasoning!?"

"Okay." The black-haired young man smiled with his cigarette in between: "Felix has left Jianhua, and we are going to prepare for action."

"Le Rouche, do you really want to follow Felix?" The middle-aged man said seriously: "After all, he is Vosloda's second son, in case something goes wrong..."

"Even if it's Vosloda, it can't stop us Varuda from getting the secret of breaking through the sanctuary!" Lerouge put out the cigarette butt, watched the silver car pass by them, and started the car to follow, "As long as we can get With this secret, we Varuda may be able to go a step further and become the sixth pillar of the stars!"

The people in the car are none other than Lerouch Varuda, as well as the sanctuary magician 'Barrage Meteor' Weller and Soot 'Coruno!

Among them, Ville is the uncle of Leroche, the sanctuary of gun art of the Varuda family; and Corno is the sanctuary of wind art that accepted the enshrinement of the Varuda family and became the son-in-law of the Earl of Void!

The Varuda family has and only these two sanctuaries, and they committed themselves to waiting in this car for many days. Naturally, they have unruly intentions. They want to steal the upgrade secret of Jian Ji's half-year sanctuary!

In order to achieve this goal, Lerouch deliberately joined the swordsmanship club and spent more than half a month approaching Jianji, but he was unable to break through the social distance, so he finally tried his best to break through the relationship through confession, but Jianji was simply Iron-hearted, unwilling to even issue a friend card.

But in addition to the frontal breakthrough, the Varuda family also has secret preparations. As the upstart family with the most money, Lerouch did not shy away from his banknote ability. In the name of 'pursuing Jian Ji', he bought almost all the students who could be bought within 5 meters of Jian Ji, just to know the detailed schedule of Jian Ji. , trying to infer from it what secret method she used to quickly level up.

As the investigation deepens, a suspicious person enters their field of vision: Felix Vosloda.

If Felix was just pestering Sonia, then Le Roush would think that he also wanted to pursue Jian Ji, but the problem is that Felix seldom meets Sonia. Lix entered the forest hall on the back foot. The schedule of the two was exactly the same, but there was a time difference.

And this is not a coincidence of one or two days, but a daily routine that has lasted for more than a month!

If you have to say, Felix is more like a stalker, but the question is, how could the second son of Vosloda be so humble that he only dares to follow the girl from a distance? Not to mention the name of Felix's 'flower heart', but even Le Roush has heard of it.

As for whether Felix is also stealing Jian Ji's secret method, it is impossible if you think about it carefully. If Jian Ji's secret method is placed in a place where she can touch it everyday, then on the night of the meteor calamity, it will definitely be stolen. Turned out!

Therefore, there is only one possibility: Felix and Sonia communicate in secret!

Their specific communication method, LeRouche does not know, but he does not need to know.

All he needs to know is that Felix is also an insider of the secret technique!

Now that I think about it, everyone can't find the secret method of Jian Ji. The biggest possibility is that the secret method is not on Jian Ji at all, she is just the result of the secret method.

The person who really possesses the secret technique is probably Felix!

Is it an adventure from the virtual realm?

Or the latest research by Vosloda?

But no matter what, the Varuda family must have a piece of the pie!

It is precisely because of this that the barrage meteors 'Wylar and 'Soot Coruno' stayed with Leroche at Jianhua University for six consecutive days and six nights, crouching.

Just waiting for an opportunity!

Among the newly rising aristocrats, although Earl Xuxing is already at the five-pillar level in all aspects, but the high-ranking magician of the family has only two sanctuaries.

It can't be compared with the Five Pillars at all, but the training of high-level magicians is not ten or twenty years, but a nearly hundred-year inheritance. The suddenly rich Varuda family simply cannot accept such a long payback period.

They also want to dig sanctuary, but most sanctuaries take gold and silver property very lightly, but place more emphasis on the inheritance of magic techniques, such as the wave swordsmanship of the Fusloda family.

But how can the Varuda family have the inheritance of magic!

Therefore, after learning about Jian Ji's half-year sanctuary, they almost tried their best to win over Jian Ji. They heard that Jian Ji admired Deedalus, so they didn't hesitate to spend money on Deedalus' new drama, and reserved a role for Jian Ji, waiting to use money to corrupt this inexperienced sanctuary magician!

As a result, Jian Ji actually refused this cooperation!

In addition to this, there are many, many attempts, but Jian Ji did not respond to any gestures.

Lerouch took the initiative to approach Jian Ji, but in fact he was forced to do so. From the bottom of his heart, he hated Jian Ji, a village girl who came from a mud leg. Even if she became a sanctuary magician, there was always a lingering sense of cheapness in her speech.

When you go to a small city, it's okay to play occasionally, just as a change of taste, and by the way, give those beautiful village girls who fantasize about marrying nobles and living in Gales a dream, which is also a good deed in a sense. If he really married Jian Ji, Le Roush would only feel ashamed of himself.

Therefore, it is best to get the secret method from Felix, and Jian Ji is just a lucky person who benefits from the secret method. Without the secret method, she is nothing.

I'll let you know that the day you rejected my kindness in the swordsmanship club, it will be the decision you regret the most!

Le Rooouche's face was gloomy and cold, and he was far away from the silver car. He was not afraid of exposing himself at all, because "Soot" Corunor was already performing the miracle "Dive into the Night with the Wind", blowing a wind that could hide everything.

With the addition of the dark night environment, they and the car were integrated with the night environment, and even the reconnaissance miracle could not be observed.

Not long after, the silver sedan left the urban area of Gallosh and came to a relatively remote factory.

Le Rououche was excited: "I am afraid this is the place where the secret spell is cast! Prepare the shooting equipment, and immediately record all the configurations inside after we enter!"

Barrage Meteor' Wheeler is still hesitant: "Will this offend Vosloda..."

Vosloda holds this kind of secret but does not disclose it, they are the ones who offend the entire star noble! We just want to experience this technology, and it's not that we refuse to give money. We Varuda have all the resources needed for this secret method! "Le Rououche said: "When we know the secret law, then it will be Vosloda's turn to beg us!" "

"Father has given me full responsibility for this matter, Uncle Wheeler, Uncle Coruno, let's go!"

Wheeler asked, "How about we contact the owner first?"

This request was reasonable and reasonable, and Lerouch had to suppress his mood and turn on the miracle bracelet, but quickly shook his head: "No, there seems to be a shielding device nearby, and the miracle bracelet can't contact the outside world. In order to hide here, Fusloda also went down. Heavy."

"Wait, shielding equipment can often detect all the signals in the area, they may have found an uninvited guest, we can't wait any longer!"

Weller and Coruno looked at each other, nodded, and fell into the factory decisively with Le Rououche. They perform a miracle, revealing the trail of Felix getting off the car, and soon discover a hidden underground passage!

They came to an iron gate, the three of them looked at each other, turned on all the shooting equipment, and broke in!

The secret must be in there!

The virtual world, the distant airspace, the dream bubble.

“The left hand has a hole the size of an eye, and the person being watched will be unable to move. This is the “amazing eye” of the Four Pillars! ”

The cult leader Yaxiu officially certified: “Your classmates are followers of the Four Pillars!

Sonia nodded: “You said before that you were controlled by the amazing eye, and I immediately remembered it.”

Diya asked nervously: “Then Jianji, you didn’t join them, did you? There’s a bunch of bad guys in there!”

“Of course not.” Sonia shook her head: “Although the conditions proposed by Felix are indeed attractive, the Four Pillars you meet are all scum that eats people and doesn’t spit out bones. Did I happen to meet a good one? The Four Pillars of God? Instead of betting on this kind of luck, I might as well bet that someone will suddenly become single-minded and affectionate.”

Ash shook his head.

Weisser suddenly said: “You are controlled and unable to move or use mana, can’t you be taken away directly?”

“Yeah, I also thought I would be taken away.” Sonia said: “But it’s not that I have no resistance... Hey!”

A valiant female swordsman’s magic spirit appeared in her palm, it was the wave sword.

The moment I was under control, the wave sword jumped out to help me stab Felix with a sword. The injury is quite serious, but I don’t apologize,

Who let him do a surprise attack. “Sonia hummed and said: “As soon as he moved his palm away, the effect of the purpose of surprise disappeared. I said I had to think about it and left.” ”

“He is probably looking for someone to treat his injuries now.”

Le Rououche, the barrage meteor 'Willer', and the soot 'Coruno broke open the iron door, and immediately controlled the shooting equipment to record everything inside.

It's just that it's not the same as the 'secret law scene' they imagined. What catches their eyes is a grand and solemn underground hall.

Strange and eerie frescoes cover both sides, extravagant and gorgeous lighting hangs in the hall, and four tall statues are arranged in the four corners, which are the heroic generals.

An elegant middle-aged scholar, a kind old man and a pure girl.

"...?"

In the hall, more than a dozen Four Pillars of God teachers stared at the three uninvited guests.

The deep chill spread from the spine to the whole body, Lerouch swallowed, his legs were shaking violently, and the unspeakable fear tightly pinched his heart. He found that among the dozen or so magicians, except for Felix Besides, he knows everyone else.

Moreover, Felix is the weakest one here.

Others are either celebrities he can often see in the news, or top magicians who even his father, Earl Xuxing, would like to please!

Felix was covering his eyes at this time, and blood kept flowing out of it.

Tonight is the routine gathering of the Four Pillars Sect. She originally thought that she would be able to convince Sonia this time. Just two things together, she could bring Sonia over to officially join the Sect.

Unexpectedly, Sonia did not agree in the end, but she was stabbed in the eye by Sonia's magic spirit. Felix was too lazy to find a medical doctor, after all, any uncle and aunt here could easily cure her eyes.
UU reading www.uukanshu.com

but...

"I'm sorry." Felix felt very guilty: "It seems that I brought them here."

"It doesn't matter, all external signals are blocked here." The female magician next to him stretched out his hand to heal Felix's eyes and said softly, "We can still remedy it."

These famous magicians, who were kind and friendly outside, gradually turned indifferent, cruel, and evil when they looked at the three of them.

Weller and Corunor immediately rose to the sanctuary, but this layer of barrier that could defend against everything still did not give them much sense of security. They didn't dare to turn their backs to these people, they only dared to step back slowly and try to walk out of the underground hall.

Lerouge hid in the sanctuary tremblingly, while Willer and Coruno were also pale, covered in cold sweat, and trembling in their hearts!

They have realized that they may see through some great secrets.

But there is still a chance. They are sanctuary magicians and tactical weapons, and they will never die here easily.

"Huh? There are actually guests tonight."

There's someone from behind!

And there is only one!

Between the lights and flints, Weller and Coruno had a tacit understanding, and at the same time, they attacked the people behind them. As long as this person is caught as a shield, they can cover their retreat and escape—

“Meet the Tactile Throne.”

The moment before they lost consciousness, they heard those famous magicians greeting in awe.

Chapter 638: Find ways

The latest website: “You must never contact the Four Pillars of God.”

Yaxiu stared at Sonia and seriously instructed: “No matter what conditions they give, they must not be tempted. The most powerful thing about the Four Pillars of God is not their violence or resources, but their thoughts – that is temptation. The sweet abyss of man’s fall.”

In the past, Yaxiu always felt that the Four Pillars of God was not a good thing at first glance, why are there so many fools who believe it? But after seeing the Four Pillars of God in the rapid development period in the country of Senluo, he realized that the fool was actually me.

The ‘brave’, ‘anger’, and ‘killing’ of the Lord of Billions of Glory are actually a “resistance” to pain. He does not require you to convince people with virtue, reason, take the overall situation into consideration, and be concerned about the world. Whoever offends you will kill his whole family, and whoever makes you unhappy, you will vent until you are happy – in life, who has never been suffocated, who has never thought of breaking the shackles?

The ‘curiosity’, ‘knowledge’, and ‘thinking’ of the King of Wind, Rain and Snow are actually the purest “exploration” that everyone has as a child. He will not curb your thirst for knowledge, even if you want to know what happens when the ceiling fan falls What happens, what is the experience of jumping off a building, what it's like to gouge out your eyeballs, what happens when you feed a group of people estrus drugs and then lock them in a basement... No matter how taboo experiments are, they are all allowed.

The 'life' of the eternally burning heart and the 'happiness' of the dreamy and free soul are better understood. Who doesn't want to be free from disease and disaster, to live forever, to indulge in indulgence, and to be happy forever?

The teachings of the Four Pillars are not evil at all, and the sentences point directly to the most fundamental desires of human hearts, so Yaxiu knows that no one can resist the Four Pillars, because the Four Pillars are sincerely for your sake.

When Yaxiu heard that the Four Pillars of God actually persuaded Jian Ji many times, he was also afraid after a while – in addition to the monarch of wind, rain and snow, the “resistance” of the lord of billions of glory, the “life” of the eternal burning heart, and the soul of dream freedom. The “happy” of the sword is a lore for Jian Jilai!

She is such a big-tempered, beautiful and vain character!

Thinking of this, her co-worker Felix tried to persuade her over and over again, which was a wise choice – after all, Jian Ji seems to be the type who is easily degenerate!

Hearing that Yaxiu cared about herself, Sonia rolled her eyes instead: “The sweet abyss of seductive depravity... No wonder you used to be the leader of the Four Pillars Sect.”

Yaxiu blinked, how did these two points come together?

He was a little anxious: “I'm not kidding, if you despise them—”

“How can I despise these guys who have hurt you so badly?”

Sonia snorted: “Don't worry, I won't let Felix approach me again, but they may not stop there... But as long as I hide in the sword flower, they can't do anything about me even if they have an intention, but Felix Lix doesn't know that I know their details, I usually pay more attention, maybe I can find them out.”

Yaxiu thought about something, but there was nothing to say – after all, escape is not the way, only a thousand days of being a thief, how can you prevent a thousand days of thieves? If you want to pray for a stable life, then your best way is to kill all those who affect your life, rather than live in vigilance and anxiety.

When Jian Ji is promoted to the sanctuary, she is destined to encounter more challenges and storms, the Four Pillars of God, the starry royal family, nobles... This world is often the greater the ability, the greater the risk, if you want to stand on the top of the mountain, you must be careful fall off a cliff...

There is no conflict of interests in the gods of Senluo Kingdom, the society is developed, people are kind, everyone can get the best education and the best resources, but the price is to hand over the management of your thoughts.

Although Yaxiu wanted to persuade Jian Ji not to take risks, not to try to deal with the Four Pillars of God, but he was not qualified to say that – he didn't want to take risks, but until now he has not even spent a day on his birthday.

Destiny has never been gentle. People can only take refuge for a while, but they cannot take refuge for a lifetime. Only by facing difficulties is the right way to life.

“Then I'll wait for you to avenge me.” In the end, Yaxiu could only say so.

“Who am I targeting them for your sake?” Sonia grimaced at him sticking out her tongue: “And I'm just paying attention a little bit, at most I'm reporting them anonymously, and I'll never put myself at risk... I'm Treasure yourself very much.”

Di Ya said: “But if theirs is true, then you can't continue to find a way to cross the country, Jian Ji.”

At this point, Sonia's face was also a little ugly, and she nodded: “Felix has no reason to lie to me on this point. Although I don't know why the royal family of Fanxing would taboo this, I really can't check it any more. Moreover, even such a mysterious There is no way for the Four Pillars of God to cross the country, and no matter how much I look for it, it will not be fruitful.”

There is no doubt that traveling through the country requires space attainment, but Sonia's own space faction is only in the silver realm, and she can't create a space miracle by herself, so she was thinking about whether she could find a ready-made method.

This is also the reason why Sonia so decisively rejected the Four Pillars Religion—there is no ready-made one in the Four Pillars Religion, and Sonia needs to study it herself!

I just came to copy the homework, you actually let me do the homework by myself?

Weisser looked at Yaxiu: "Watcher, didn't you go to Qiandao Lake of the Bronze Law Sect the day before yesterday to pursue the legacy of the gray fox, which is suspected to be able to travel through space? What did you gain?"

Yaxiu shook his head: "Don't mention it, we haven't been looking for a long time, and the Four Pillars Sect have called, and the Four Pillars Sect members also deliberately leaked our information, making the Bronze Law Sect think we are also Four Pillars Sect... If it wasn't for us to take the initiative Back off and leave, and almost got into a fight."

It has been half a month since the night in the dead city.

Yaxiu and the others no longer pursued the Silver Lantern, nor were they interested in entanglement with the Four Pillars Sect, and focused on tracking down the legacy of crossing the country, but the Mercury Trojan didn't plan to let them go—she had no scruples since she had completely torn her face.

Without holding these two semi-tactile sensations in her hands, she could never rest assured!

Yaxiu and the others managed to escape the sphere of influence of the Four Pillars Sect, but the Four Pillars Sect actually began to march in a big way, aggressively invading the Qinri Alliance.

Originally, Yaxiu thought that the Mercury Trojan was the madness before its demise. After all, there were only a few Sanctuary magicians left in the Four Pillars Sect, and there were not enough people to stick to it. Isn't this active attack seeking death?

However, the result surprised Yaxiu and the others—in just half a month, several Sanctuary magicians defected from the sect and joined the Four Pillars Sect, including even the legendary magician of the Temple of War!

That is the only legend of Sen Luo, the leader of the Temple of War, and even known as the strongest combat power of Sen Luo!

Almost instantly, the Four Pillars Sect swallowed the Temple of War, and the overall combat power almost overwhelmed the Qinri Alliance. At this time, the Qinri Alliance finally knew that it would be crushed to death if it didn't unite, and they sent their godsmen to resist the Four Pillars of God.

As early as in the dead city, Igula had predicted that there would definitely be a religious jihad in Senluo, but they all thought it was the Qinri Alliance's crusade against the Four Pillars Religion, but now it is more like a unification war of the Four Pillars Religion. !

Under the circumstances of this world war, Yaxiu and the 'unbelievers' entered the Qiandao Lake of the Bronze Law Sect. No matter how they argued, the Bronze Law Sect would not risk keeping them, let alone the Four Pillars Sect. slander them.

If they hadn't voluntarily backed down, the Bronze Law Sect would have even let the gods kill them.

The war of beliefs has heated up, and there is no room for centrists in it.

"However, the gray fox legacy of the Bronze Law Sect is probably just a large-scale teleportation device." Ash said, "It has nothing to do with crossing the country."

Unlike Heipao Town, Blind Town, and Dead City, which are valid for everyone, the Grey Fox legacy in Qiandao Lake is controlled by the Bronze Law Sect and will only be valid for their magicians. They don't know the specific name, Yaxiu, so let's call it "Wu Mo".

Within the sphere of influence of "No Moment", a magician with No Moment permission can teleport at will, without cooling time, without any consumption, and when one's mind arrives, there is no Moment in the world.

On the day Yaxiu and the others were exposed, hundreds of magicians suddenly surrounded them. If they hadn't immediately raised the sanctuary, they would have been overwhelmed by countless magic miracles.

He strongly suspects that this legacy is the top-of-the-line version of the Grey Fox Artisan—after all, zero commute time can indeed increase the happiness of workers.

“There are so many magical gray fox heritages, you can definitely find them.” Weisser comforted: “Since your Qinri Alliance and the Four Pillars Sect are fighting, then they will definitely take out the treasured gray fox heritage, and then maybe it will be There will be clues.”

Yaxiu gave a wry smile, and he didn't really expect much in his heart.

It would be fine if Senra Gods were a serious developed civilization, but the problem is that they are a private server civilization built on the ideal world!

Not to mention whether the grey fox artisans have studied crossing the country, even if they do, they will most likely be ineffective. After all, fantasy creations that travel through the country are like online props, and they need to establish space channels in Senluo and other countries at the same time.

And Sen Luo's outrageous fantasy creations can only take effect in Sen Luo!

Although there may be exceptions, the probability is too low, it is better to count on the virtual realm channel.

Di Ya remained silent, her expression rather lost. When Yaxiu wanted to cross the country, she was naturally the first to agree. She wished that Yaxiu would return to the gospel tomorrow. But she also asked how the gods of the gospel traveled through the kingdom, and only got one answer—under the miracle, there is only the virtual world.

Unless it is a miracle, if you want to cross the kingdom, you must pass through the virtual realm!

The witch also asked if the Gospel gods could help with the passage, but the Gospel could only give one plan: it could search for a virtual passage to a specific kingdom. As for when this channel will appear, it depends on when the virtual world leaks.

But this plan can only let her go from the gospel to Senluo, and it can't let Yaxiu come back from Senluo, unless she can give the accurate coordinates of the virtual channel, and Yaxiu rushes over in time before the virtual channel dissipates.

More importantly, the virtual channel is limited in level.

Like Yaxiu and the others, the second-level virtual passage from the Blood Moon to the Gospel only allows two-winged magicians to enter at most, and because of this, the white-haired hunter Geralt, who was already a Sanctuary magician at that time, could not pursue it. in the channel.

That is to say, if Deya wants to help Yaxiu come back, he must wait for a level 3 virtual realm channel that connects the gospel to Sen Luo, and according to the statistics of the gods of the gospel, in the past 100 years, only the virtual realm channel above level 3 has appeared. 7 times, only 1 of them points to Sen Luo.

A once in a century chance.

Unless Dea is willing to fast-forward 100 years, the evangelical gods can't be expected to help.

"Okay, okay." As if realizing that the atmosphere in the team was a little depressed, Yaxiu smiled and said, "Don't be so pessimistic, it doesn't matter if we can't find a way to cross the country, as long as we improve our strength, there will be a way sooner or later. ."

"Our colorful virtual wings have already condensed half, and the current task is to strive to fully condense as soon as possible, and then find a way to sneak into the Ruby Mountain. Maybe after becoming a legendary magician, there will be a way?"

In any case, increasing his strength is definitely not a wrong choice, and now that the Senra war is imminent, Yaxiu may have to think about how to save his life before leaving the country.

“Jianji, you have been keeping a low profile recently. If something happens to you in reality and you can’t come to the virtual realm, then I will definitely depend on you for not being able to become a legend.”

Sonia pouted: “You’re not the only teammate, why do you only rely on me?”

“Because I don’t like reasoning either, it’s up to you.” Ash hummed.

Then he turned to look at Wesser, “I’ve been bothering you these days.”

These days, Visser has been helping them sort out all kinds of information and put forward all kinds of possibilities for crossing the country. Yaxiu has always been very embarrassed about this. After all, this is just his personal business. It’s okay to trouble the sword girl and the witch, and let the new team member Weiss worry about it.

“It doesn’t matter, I have benefited a lot from this team, and helping the captain is what it should be.” Wesser said calmly.

Yaxiu said: “Then you can tell us if you have any trouble. Although we can’t help you in reality, we can also find a way together.”

Weisser smiled slightly: “Okay.”

Yaxiu looked at Diya, just raised his hand and hesitated for a while, but still reached out and touched the witch’s head affectionately: “Don’t be lost, I didn’t expect you to help.”

Sister Witch: “...” Is this a comforting word?

“But seeing you worry about me so much, I’m also very relieved.” Yaxiu sighed: “It’s like seeing her daughter grow up...”

Diya was anxious: “I’m not your daughter!”

“Okay, then let’s start tonight’s exploration, let’s see what initial collections are in the treasure house...”

In order to adjust the atmosphere, Sonia took the initiative to provoke another topic: “By the way, our Star Kingdom has issued the “Time Continent Red Warning”. It is the time when the Heroic Soul Legion is at war in the Time Continent, and all two-wing magicians should not enter. In the virtual realm, many magicians have been severely injured in their souls recently...”

boom!

Suddenly, everyone felt a wonderful shock!

And this shock doesn’t come from bubbles or the earth, it’s more like...

The whole virtual world is shaking!

Chapter 639: What happened?

The latest website: Void, Time Continent.

In the Time Continent, there is a mysterious area known to everyone—the Inner Ring of the Continent!

Any magician who knows that the white bull walks in a circle around the edge of the continent, as long as they draw a little map, they will immediately realize a problem: if they can stick to the inner circle of the white bull’s trajectory, then they only need to spend the least effort to make it. Can keep up with the pace of the white cow!

There may even be a center of the circle, which is the “eternal zone” that Liu Jinhe can affect no matter where the white cow goes!

But in fact, no magician has ever reached this area, because the closer they are to the inner ring of the continent, the easier it is to encounter the Heroic Soul Legion.

The Heroic Soul Corps also knows that the shortest route is close to the inner ring, how could they not guard the inner ring with heavy troops? Moreover, even if a magician is lucky enough to pass through the patrol route of the Heroic Soul Corps, he will not be able to reach the core area-because the core area is surrounded by six checkpoints fortresses.

That’s right, each force is stationed at a level, even if they fight each other to death, but these six bordering fortresses can coexist peacefully and jointly protect the secrets inside.

And today, with the humming of the engine, a sports car came to the fortress.

Compared with the fortress as high as 100 meters, the sports car seems to be as small as an ant.

Behind the sports car, there are tens of thousands of Heroic Soul Corps, the humanoid troops trample the earth, the beast-shaped troops are galloping, and the flying troops block the golden rain, the earth shakes, and the sky pales!

Not only the Spider Tower Coalition under the command of Queen Denzel, but also the Star Hall Legion and the Blood Moon Legion, although they belong to three parties, they are all chasing sports cars without exception, flooding over like a flood!

The boiling killing intent was just blowing at the face, and the imaginary creatures on the road were either directly frightened to death, or slumped to the ground, and few dared to escape. Ordinary thousands of troops can win people’s hearts, this is the thousands of troops after the imaginary creature armed arms, just passive mental characteristics such as ‘intimidation’, ‘fear’, ‘nightmare’, and ‘chaos’ There are more than a dozen kinds, and ordinary two-winged magicians will be shocked to blank their heads when they encounter them, not to mention virtual creatures?

But the three female sorceresses in the sports car didn't panic at all – whoever was chased and killed more than a dozen times in a row could be as calm as them.

“There's no way to go around, we have to penetrate the fortress frontally. The “Six Color Anchor” can only protect us, it can't pass through the city gate...”

“The durability of the sports car is about to explode.”

“The last part of the road, we can only rely on ourselves.”

Without thinking too much, when they came here, they had already made a decision in their hearts. The sports car suddenly accelerated to the limit, like a knight rushing towards a windmill, turning into a phantom and crashing into the fortress!

At the same time, the three of them were full of brilliance, each armed with different arms!

An Nan put on a white silk robe woven from spider silk. The white silk leggings only exposed the jade toes. The spider silk short skirt set off the beautiful muscles of the thighs. Her long hair is casually tied into a single ponytail, and she wears a weird cobweb blindfold.

The sixth-level arm of the spider building, the daughter of the secret!

She immediately found the weakest point of the fortress gate, pointed the direction and activated the [Weaving] skill to add a boost to herself!

Blood oozes from Severin's body, and she weaves a blood-colored lace dress for her. She wears long black leather gloves on both hands, and spreads out a pair of rotting blood wings on her back. The whole person seems to be bathed in a blood-colored moon shadow!

Blood Tomb Level 6 Arms Scarlet Maid!

She flew up and pointed at the city gate of the fortress. Suddenly, countless blood ants erupted in the city gate. The city gate area that was corroded by the blood ants also seemed to have become flesh and blood, and was actually drilled out of plasma flesh flowers!

In front of the scarlet maid, all defenses are in vain, and all things are turned into flesh and blood filth!

When the sports car was about to hit the city gate, Freya flew up, covered in black and green armor, with a stabbing sword in one hand and a short knife in the other. The seemingly ordinary appearance broke out with amazing speed!

The sixth-level unit of the oasis, the Grey Fox Watcher!

I saw Veela dancing in the air, stabbing swords and short knives interweaving a deadly spiral, her body almost turned into an afterimage, and a large * hole was drilled on the flesh and blood city gate!

Among all the sixth-level arms, the Grey Fox Watcher instantly broke out first!

Through the cooperation of different sixth-level arms, this indestructible fortress was penetrated by them like paper paste!

The three of Freya immediately spread their wings and flew in from the big hole. They instantly armed the "six-color anchor" to avoid all damage and came to the most mysterious eternal area in the Time Continent, the mysterious place that the six major forces jointly blocked – the altar of seals. !

Although it is an altar, it is also a high-rise round tower built up, which looks simple and primitive. They flew to the altar. Although there was no guidance, when Freya took out an irregular blank slate, the entire altar suddenly lit up, and a golden light covering the entire altar rose!

If you look closely, you can see that these golden lights are all composed of golden characters, running through the virtual realm and connecting the world! They are reflected on the slate and become a dizzying flow of information!

"It's finally here..."

Veela exhaled, and the purple moth and the little bat were both excited and looking forward to it.

What they hold in their hands is the “blank concept” that has been formed!

During this month, while fleeing from the pursuit of the Spider Tower Legion, they thought about how to fill in the blank concept, and finally decided to repeat the old trick to take chestnuts from the fire. With the power of the sports car, they broke into the Spider Tower City and the Star Hall City one after another. Capture the blank concept they are nurturing and complete it successfully!

But this step is not enough, they still don't know how to use the blank concept, until they encounter the question and answer of fate, and through the inquiry, they know that the blank concept can only be triggered at the altar of seals in the center of the time continent.

However, when they approached the central area, they found that the Spider Tower, the Blood Tomb, and the Xingtang were already in ambush, and they were not allowed to approach the center for half a step. They broke through the siege many times in a row, and fought in the virtual realm for three days and three nights, and finally found the opportunity to break through the fortress and come to the altar of the prime minister!

Now is the time for them to reap the fruits of success!

As for what blank concept to create, they had already discussed it, so Freya immediately held up the slate and said, “I—”

However, in the next second, the light of the golden letters that enveloped the altar suddenly disappeared, and the slate returned to its original state.

The female magicians were startled, what happened?

“Game over, kittens.”

They turned their heads and found that the Heroic Soul Legion had taken this opportunity to surround the altar of the prime minister. Queen Denzel stood on the giant spider with a sneer at the corner of her mouth, staring at them and said, "Let me guess, is it impossible to use the blank concept?"

"You know that you are coming to the altar of the prime minister. It is already very good. This is indeed the place to activate the blank concept. But the problem is that the complete blank concept is not a fragment of the world that mortals can inscribe. You do not have this ability."

"The concept of blank is something that only God can use. Even if our commander uses the concept of blank, we still need to sing prayers and respond to the cooperation of God, so that new laws can be engraved on the concept of blank."

"I've had enough, just return it." Denzel said coldly: "You have the "Six Color Anchor", I really can't hurt you, but I can control you. Without that car, I see how you can run. "

The sky and the earth, countless troops are eyeing, as if they will be submerged in the next second. Without the sports car, Freya and the others would not have any possibility of breaking through. Even if the "Six Color Anchor" could protect them, their bodies would still be subject to collision and friction, and they would be kept under control.

Zi Moth turned his eyes and looked at the Blood Tomb Legion and Star Hall Legion next to him, but Denzel said again: "Don't look at it, Star Hall and Blood Tomb will only hate you more, before you give up the concept of blank, we will A temporary alliance has been reached between them."

Severin let out a soft breath and sat limply on the altar. An Nan shook his body and found that they had nothing to do.

If you can use the blank concept, then everything is worth it, but who knows that the threshold for using the blank concept is actually the level of the gods?

Maybe the Queen Commander is deceiving them, but it's also true that they can't use the blank concept!

There is no way out.

So many days of hard work are in vain.

Put your life on the line for nothing.

Life can be cruel and bitter sometimes.

“Is there no way?”

Hearing Veela’s question, both Annan and Severin shook their heads.

“Then I understand.”

Freya held the slate high, and after confirming that there was really no other reaction, she slammed it hard.

Snapped.

Everyone was stunned and watched as Veela broke the slate and fell into two pieces of gravel.

It took several seconds for Denzel to react: “What are you doing?”

“I’m destroying it.”

“why?”

“Because I can’t use it, and I don’t want to cheap you, after all, this is the trophy that we have worked so hard to get.” Veela stuck out her tongue to Denzel: “I would rather destroy it than give it to you!”

Who told you to bully Ash.

Veela has long hated the Queen Commander. She learned from the copy of the diary that if the Queen Commander hadn't been chasing and killing Yaxiu, she might have been able to meet him again in the Time Continent!

An Nan was stunned for a while, then stared blankly at Severin, and then pointed to Veela.

Severin nodded, indicating that Freya's brain really only has this level.

Denzel was shocked by these words, she took a deep breath and covered her face.

Then, a voice that was so angry that it almost broke into a voice almost overturned the rain curtain:

"You have no idea what you've ruined, Veela!"

boom!

Suddenly, the golden text light curtain erupted from the altar of the prime minister again, but this time it was even more fiery, penetrating the virtual realm like a substance, and even the countercurrent golden rain was blown away!

In the sea of knowledge, Luo Yisi, who had finally killed Zhanyu Long Yixue's shame, raised her head with a sense of heart, and saw that the white mist covering the sea was suddenly blown away by the strong wind.

In the distance, dazzling and fiery golden pillars penetrated the sea from the sky, dyeing the dark and turbid sea water with sacred colors.

“What happened?”

In the distant airspace~www.mtlnovel.com~ Yaxiu and the four found that their initial bubble suddenly shattered, and all the bubbles they could see were shattered, and they could even vaguely see the figure floating in the air far away.

Then a huge golden bubble suddenly appeared, and in everyone’s eyes, it shot out golden pillars from the upper and lower ends, as if fixed in the distant airspace.

“What happened?”

Ruby Mountain, Mercury Trojan is observing this ultimate place that countless magicians yearn for through the perspective of a legendary magician. Rarely does she possess other people’s souls to explore the virtual world, but the legendary magician deserves an exception.

Suddenly, in this mountain body made of rubies, countless golden words surged inside, forming a flowing golden chain, but it did not take away the bright luster of the rubies. The sea of minds of the magicians!

“What happened?”

Chapter 640: Angel Legacy

When a friend achieves an achievement that he cannot reach in his life, people will have two reactions: the first one is insensitivity, you are neither jealous nor yearning, but treat it as distant news that has nothing to do with you, and continue to live a peaceful life;

The second is exhilaration/jealousy/craving, whether positive or negative, but you no longer want to continue the peaceful life of the past, but climb up and get closer to your friends!

Lois was the first type before, but after she summoned the magic spirit, she gradually moved closer to the second type. From a rich lady who only 'knows' swimming in the past and never even killed Lala Fatty, she has dared to fight the fish and dragon in the sea, which shows how honed people are to explore the virtual world.

This is the charm of the virtual world.

In reality, whether you are a prince or aristocrat above all living beings, or a low-level refugee who is displaced, you are alone in the virtual realm, without help or equipment, and the only thing you can rely on is yourself.

Children of nobles who have been spoiled since childhood and studied step-by-step, may be killed by Zhanyulong a few times, and then they will eat and wait until they die, and they are reluctant to enter the virtual realm. The bottom-level magician of the new magic spirit, on the contrary, can navigate thousands of miles step by step in the virtual realm, and glimpse the road to the sky leading to truth and power. .

Lois was originally prepared to suffer, but when she took the initiative to meet the challenge of the virtual realm, she found that it was nothing more than that. She never fought,

She is already proficient in escaping and fighting; she is always elegant and tidy at all times, and she also learns to roll around on the ground; she who dares not even walk at night, can now be vigilant all the time.

Gradually, Lois began to understand why when she went to the party, even if other people had noble titles and successful careers, as long as they were magicians, there was always only one prefix before their names.

Now Lois has rarely attended parties, but if she introduces herself to strangers, she is more willing to introduce herself—Lois, a water magician, than the daughter of the Chamber of Commerce president, a student at Jianhua University.

Therefore, when she saw the white fog shrouded the sea of knowledge again, but strange golden light chains appeared in the sea, Lois did not shrink back and dived directly into the sea to see what was going on.

While diving into the sea of knowledge is a dead end, diving for a few minutes is not a problem.

The sea of knowledge was originally pitch black and could not see anything, but at this time Lois could clearly see the golden chain that was rippling in the sea and didn't know where it would extend. Moreover, the chain was not far away. She dived a few meters into the sea. can be encountered.

Compared to fear, surprise, and worry, Lois had only one thought in her heart—what would happen if she touched the chain?

Doing what she thought, she dived further and grabbed the golden chain.

Moreover, she does have a real sense of grasping something.

Gudongdong11 At this moment, Loisi saw her torrent magic suddenly jumping out, and it actively cast a spell, causing the surrounding water to form a vortex and engulfing Loisi. Luo Yisi was immediately stunned, she subconsciously grasped the golden chain, and then the whole person passed through countless seas with the current!

Void Mechanism Vortex? !

Lois was surprised and delighted. This is really a whirlpool. She can clearly feel that her silver magic power is growing rapidly. This is indeed the special mechanism that silver magicians want to meet most, whirlpool!

When Lois stopped, she found that her silver mana had grown by three feathers, which was worth her hard work for a month of exploration! Although there are not many, this is the magic power that comes in vain. Not everyone can be like Sonia in a month with silver wings!

However, Lois was more suspicious. If she read it right, the vortex was obviously caused by her torrent magic spirit, but she had never heard of the torrent magic spirit having such an effect. If the torrent magic spirit could create Vortex, that water art will definitely become the most important basic education for the stars.

At this time, Lois found that she had come to a different place. She stepped on the dirt ground, and there was a layer of clear sea water floating on it. The ground stretched forward, and even the white fog could not cover the road, she could not see the end of the road!

Although it was the first time I saw it, Lois, who got full marks in the course "Overview of the Sea of Knowledge", recognized it at a glance: "This is the road to greatness!?"

The Sea of Knowledge has many peculiar mechanisms, such as whirlpools, sea waterfalls, the great road, and sky bubbles. Except for the "vortex", which is helpful to the magician, other mechanisms are rare, but not much to the magician. help.

"Why did the whirlpool take me on the road to greatness?" Lois was full of doubts.

call out.

A magic spirit suddenly flew out of the ground pool. It looked like a shark, but it looked very tame. Soon the surrounding water covered it, and with the continuous breeding and strengthening, it became a three-meter-high humanoid water monster!

Lois took a step back in fright, and only then did she realize that she was still clutching the golden chain! The golden chain suddenly shrank and wrapped tightly around her arm. A series of messages flowed into Lois' mind: "A water magician can challenge the trials of the great road and accept the inheritance of my lake angel." "As long as you have water The magic spirit can reach the great road through the whirlpool; on the great road, only the water magic spirit can take effect. Each magician can only trigger the whirlpool through the water magic spirit once, and only through the trial can he get it. More chances to trigger the whirlpool." When the humanoid water monster was about to attack, Lois came back to her senses, the inheritance of the Angel of Lake Light! ?

Beyond the legendary magician, second only to the angelic inheritance of the Lord! ?

Time Continent.

The furious Denzel directly ordered the Spider Tower Legion to flood the altar of the Prime Minister. Although it was useless to kill the three Veela, she had no reason not to kill these three culprits who destroyed this phase war!

An Nan spread his wings and said to the other two: “Find a way to fly out and find Liu Jinhe.”

With the shelter of the “Anchor of Six Colors”, the Heroic Soul Corps can’t hurt them anyway, but if they are blocked, then Denzel can squeeze them into the quiet area and turn them into a picture one by one. Still time is the end of all things.

Their only way to survive is to find Liujinhe, which the Heroic Soul Legion cannot enter, so that they can safely exit the virtual realm and leave the dangerous land!

It’s a pity that Yaxiu’s diary is updated too slowly, and the Gospel is much longer than the Blood Moon. He hasn’t written the truth about Qi Caiwei yet, otherwise An Nan and the others can try to find Qi Caiwei and advance to Sanctuary.

However, at this moment, the altar of the prime minister suddenly rumbled and rose on the ground! The three of An Nan were so shocked that they lay on the ground, watching themselves rise higher and higher, and saw a magnificent and huge city rising from the earth, and it has been spreading to the extreme distance!

This city is bigger than any major city in the Six Nations! The countercurrent golden rain is like energy, injected into every groove and every crystal in this city until the city is completely lit up!

A moat composed of flowing gold rivers surrounds this giant city!

“I smell... the scum of Blood Moon and Fanxing!”

With the sound of this angry voice, the three Veela's minds became blank – the magic spirits in their souls were all hugged together, and their consciousness was almost collapsed by the impact of this ancient coercion!

At the same time, an arc of self-proclaimed phase altar spread, instantly destroying all the surrounding heroic legions, and countless armed arms disappeared in this arc! Only senior commanders such as Denzel had the time to put hundreds of layers of armor on themselves, barely blocking the arc, and only being knocked out!

The six fortresses that blocked the central area were also completely disintegrated and shattered under this arc, and they were wiped out!

A gold and silver phantom appeared above the altar of seals. It had five silver phantom wings and a golden false wing that was obviously attached. UU Reading www.uukanshu.com

Its appearance is indistinct, and the most peculiar thing is that it looks like a hanged man, with its head facing the ground and its feet stepping on the sky.

“Come back, my companions, my comrades, my followers, my people!”

With its announcement, countless figures gradually emerged from the dead and empty giant city under Veela's feet. Without exception, they stood upright and saluted, facing the hanging phantom, cheers resounded throughout the time continent: “Time is endless!”

“The time is endless, but our time has passed.” Hanged Void said: “I didn't expect my arrangement to be forcibly pulled out by the Void... it doesn't matter.”

It clapped its hands gently, and the entire Time Continent echoed its voice: “I am Chloe, the King of Time, and I am in charge of the supreme authority of the Time Continent!”

“The inheritance of the virtual world has opened, and the eternal city has reappeared. Any time magician can cross the moat and enter the eternal city to accept the trial of death!”

“If you want to obtain my ultimate inheritance, come to me...

The Hanging Void suddenly found that there were already three magicians on the altar of seals in front of it. Annan and Freya hugged and shivered, and Severin turned into a little bat and hid in their arms.

After a short silence, it said again: “At least ten ordinary inheritances must be obtained in the Eternal City before I can obtain my ultimate inheritance.”

This is definitely a rule you added temporarily – if it wasn’t for the frightened teeth chattering, Freya almost said this sentence.
