

Super Rich Dad Chapter 647-648

Chapter 647

Lin Dong looked at Chen Minggang's back, and his face looked unsightly to the extreme.

He had already owed a lot of money before because of gambling, thanks to his status as the company's vice president.

He had used this status to set up quite a few empty investment projects in the company. He then asked the finance department to make payments to these project accounts.

But time was gradually passing, and in the blink of an eye it would soon be the day when the company's money would flow back.

If he could not come up with the money to cover these shortfalls during this period, the consequences would be unimaginable.

Not only would he be out of luck, but it would even affect his father's position in the company.

Every time he thought of this, Lin Dong felt a pang of sadness. If it wasn't for his addiction to gambling, he wouldn't have fallen to the current state.

He wouldn't have been thrown under the bus by a mere Chen Minggang!

When he was not addicted to gambling, he would not have been in this situation. When he was not involved in this, a small person like Chen Minggang was not even in his mind.

But now, not only Chen Minggang, but even some minor characters could point and laugh at him!

After shaking his head slightly, Lin Dong looked at the gambling table in silence, and after a long while he dumped a bunch of chips.

After a long time, he dumped a pile of chips. After looking at the lotus officer and cursing angrily, he got up and left, then got into his car and ran to the company.

On the way back, Lin Dong had a long battle in his mind before he figured out this matter, and waited until he arrived at the company to simply take care of some things.

Lin Dong was surprised to find that Lin Yan had started to track down the company's deficit!

If it was an ordinary person, he could still get rid of it by virtue of his status as a vice president, but in the face of Lin Yan, he was powerless. But when he faced Lin Yan, he was powerless.

After a moment's contemplation, Lin Dong immediately set off for home, and then knelt down in front of Lin Nan in a clean manner.

'Dad, save me, you must help me this time!'

Looking at his boss as he looked at the newspaper with a bemused expression, Lin Dong spoke anxiously, 'Dad, I admit I made a mistake, you must help me this time!'

Lin Nan let out a slight sigh and put down the newspaper in his hand, picking up the cup of tea on the table and taking a slight sip before looking at Lin Dong.

'How many times have I told you, men have to do things steadily. If you can't say anything properly, why are you kneeling down.'

After saying this, he gestured with his eyes for Lin Dong to stand up, then opened his mouth and asked, 'Tell me, what happened.'

Hearing this, Lin Dong hurriedly came up to Lin Nan's face, then bent down on his knees and cried, 'Dad, it's all my fault, I did the wrong thing. I used the company's money to gamble!'

Lin Nan faintly stared at these words, then shook his head with a smile and said, 'I thought it was something. It's just such a trivial matter.'

After saying this, he looked at Lin Dong and said in a deep voice, 'How much did you bet?'

Lin Dong lowered his head and said weakly, 'Thirty million, now I'm afraid it's thirty-two million.'

'What! Thirty-two million?'

Hearing this figure, Lin Nan was shocked and looked at Lin Dong angrily, 'Are you trying to lose our whole family before you come and tell me?'

Looking at Lin Dong with a cowardly expression. He spoke with hatred, 'Do you know what's going on right now, the company's funds returned years ago!'

Naturally, Lin Dong was not stupid, of course he knew about these things!

It was because there was really nothing else he could do that he decided to confess to his dad. Hopefully, he could lend him a hand to fill in the hole in the funds.

Otherwise if they continued to leave it like this sooner or later Lin Yan would find out, and then she would only need to say one word in front of the old man, and they would be ruined as father and son!

Lin Nan naturally thought of this, and after a hateful glance at Lin Dong, he turned around and left.

On the other hand, Lin Yan looked at the list of investment projects of the company for the whole year in her hand and could not help but frown.

There were many projects on it that she had never even heard of, but the flow of funds was to these projects.

Looking at these projects, Lin Dong was the one who signed them, and Lin Yan sensed in her heart that something was not right.

So she instructed everyone to leave the office and then called Master Lin and told him all about it.

Just as Lin Yan hung up the phone. The office was suddenly broken into.

Lin Dong looked at Lin Yan with a cold look on his face, and the two looked at each other in silence for a long time.

Lin Yan's eyes were cold as she looked at Lin Dong. At first she had some faith that Lin Dong would not do such a thing, but in front of these facts. Lin Yan could not help but fall silent as well.

'You have already reported it to the old man, right?'

Lin Dong looked at the phone in Lin Yan's hand and was slightly silent for a while but still could not hold back from asking.

Lin Yan shook her head before speaking indifferently, 'You did it yourself. You can explain it to grandpa yourself.'

Looking at the indifferent look on Lin Yan's face, Lin Dong knew in his heart that he was probably finished this time.

So he frantically pointed at Lin Yan and cursed angrily, 'You stinking woman! Don't think that I don't know what kind of goods you are, do you think that the old man will think highly of you just because of this?!'

Lin Yan laughed, at this moment, Lin Dong looked as if he was a joke in her eyes.

He had buried his own future with his own hands, yet he still had the face to point at himself and curse angrily.

Thinking of this Lin Yan smiled, shook her head and spoke, 'No, in fact I didn't think that grandfather would think highly of me because of this, on the contrary, I feel a little disappointed in you.'

After saying this, Lin Yan sat down in her chair and turned around to look out of the window.

'I know that I am a woman and cannot afford to carry this family business of the Lin family, so all along I have not interfered too much in your affairs.'

After saying this, Lin Yan turned around and looked at Lin Dongdao with some hatred, 'But what I can't believe is that you dare to do something like this!'

Lin Yan got up and pointed at the door and spoke angrily, 'Do you know how many people in the company will lose their jobs for this money? Do you know that you are destroying the foundation of our Lin family by doing this!'

'Don't criticise me, you stinking woman, sooner or later you will marry out, and when that happens the Lin family will be ours!'

As Lin Dong's words fell, a coughing sound suddenly came from outside the door.

After Lin Dong turned his head to take a look, his face suddenly turned white because the person who came was actually Elder Lin!

Elder Lin's eyes faintly glanced at Lin Dong before speaking to Lin Yan, 'Yan'er, you go down, I have something to talk to Lin Dong about.'

Lin Yan nodded slightly before gathering herself and then walked out of the doorway, only to find her uncle standing outside the door with a smile on his face.

'Niece, I am relieved to see you come out, that bastard Lin Dong didn't scare you, did he?'

Lin Yan looked at the hypocritical smile on her uncle's face and surprisingly felt a little speechless for a moment.

On her side, she had just found out about the matter and discovered the evidence.

And on her own uncle's side, he had simply and decisively informed the old man, seemingly intending to directly reduce this matter to the smallest possible loss.

Chapter 648

Looking at the hypocritical smile on her uncle's face, Lin Yan simply fell into silence.

After a few moments, a group of people came over with great pomp and circumstance. Lin Yan turned around and with just a faint glance knew that the person coming was her grandmother.

Lin Yan couldn't help but smile bitterly at the thought of this. After all, it was like what Lin Dong had said.

She was always just a woman and could not afford to carry the Lin family business, which was why her grandmother was biased towards her uncle.

If she had been a man, where would the two of them have come from!

Lin Yan watched with some reluctance as her grandmother slowly walked over to her. Then after glancing at her, she opened the door and walked in.

Taking advantage of the gap when her grandmother entered, Lin Yan found that Elder Lin was using his cane to whip. Her heart couldn't help but flash with pleasure!

‘What are you beating, don’t you want to stop yet, and if you break it are you going to pay me back for one?’

The Lin family’s old grandmother frowned slightly before sitting down, then looked at Elder Lin and spoke, ‘Poorly, you can’t redeem the company’s loss by doing so now.’

Master Lin glanced at his grandmother, then put down the long stick in his hand and spoke, ‘Just spoil it! Sooner or later he will harm my Lin family’s decades-old foundation!’

The old grandmother frowned at Elder Lin after hearing this and spoke, ‘It’s only a matter of thirty million or so, can’t my wife make it up to him?’

‘That’s all you can do! I knew you would do this when you found out about this matter, how long are you going to spoil him!’

The old grandmother looked at Master Lin’s angry expression and choked slightly, then said in a low voice, ‘Our Lin family, that’s all there is to two of them. What more do you want?’

Master Lin looked at his old companion, with whom he had spent nearly forty years, and after taking a deep breath, he pointed at the door and said, ‘Get out, take him and get out! Get the hell out of here!’

Although the tone of his voice was very impolite, the old grandmother was overjoyed to hear this and stood up, then gave a wink to Lin Dong who was kneeling below.

Seeing this look, Lin Dong knelt on the ground and kowtowed to Old Master Lin and said, ‘Grandpa, Grandpa, you forgive me, I won’t dare to do it again!’

Master Lin simply turned away at Lin Dong’s words, not even bothering to look at him again.

The old grandmother looked at her old companion’s expression and sighed, then she turned around and led Lin Dong out of the office.

Only when she was about to leave, the old grandmother stopped in her tracks.

She then spoke without even looking at Lin Yan, ‘There are some things I don’t want to say to you. You have to remember one thing for me, you are the one who is going to marry out.’

Upon hearing these words, Lin Yan’s entire body was struck by lightning and she looked incredulously at her grandmother’s leaving figure.

Then she walked into the office in a trance and looked at Old Master Lin and said, ‘Grandpa, what does Grandma mean when she says I’m going to marry out?’

Old Master Lin sat down in his chair and took a deep breath, then looking at Lin Yan’s eyes, he said, ‘The family has promised you a marriage, and your grandmother has already agreed to it.’

Lin Yan looked at the difficult look on her grandfather's face, and for a moment there was surprisingly no sadness or joy on her face.

Lin Yan felt as if what she had done for so long was a joke. She was still thinking about how to get a place for herself in this family.

But unexpectedly, she had just done something that would strike a blow to her uncle and son. The result was that she was married out of the family.

Was she that unimportant, or had the family fallen to the point where she needed to be sacrificed as a bargaining chip?

Elder Lin looked at Lin Yan's face ashen, and spoke with some heartache, 'This matter was set down by your grandmother, sigh.'

Lin Yan looked at the helpless look on the old man's face. After a while of silence she suddenly raised her head and smiled, 'In that case, I'll hand over the company for now.'

After saying these words, Lin Yan threw the keys to the office in her hand onto the desktop, then turned around and left the company.

Master Lin looked at Lin Yan's back and had the intention to stay. But when he thought of what his old partner had done, he put it down in the end.

After walking out of the company, Lin Yan looked at the street and saw people coming and going, and it was as if there was no place for her in the large North Mansion.

The company's main business is to provide a wide range of services and services to the public.

After sliding for a moment, Lin Yan's eyes stopped at Jiang Hao's name.

She looked at the word Shen Yan for a long time but couldn't resist dialing the number and then quietly waited for Jiang Hao to pick up.

Jiang Hao, who was busy at the hospital, had just taken a break when he suddenly noticed his mobile phone ringing and hastily picked it up and said, 'Hello, hello. This is Shen Yan.'

After introducing himself for a long time, Jiang Hao slowly began to accept Shen Yan's identity.

Moreover, according to his own background. His original surname should also be Shen.

Lin Yan listened to Jiang Hao's voice on the phone and faintly froze, squatting on the ground with her hands clasped tightly around herself and said, 'Hello. Shen Yan, can you come and pick me up?'

This was the first time Lin Yan had shown a hint of weakness in front of Jiang Hao. Listening to Lin Yan's voice over the phone.

Jiang Hao felt as if Lin Yan was like an abandoned kitten, so after a while of silence he spoke gently, 'Where are you?'

After Lin Yan finished saying her address, Jiang Hao just said yes and then hung up the phone.

Looking at the phone in her hand, Lin Yan's heart suddenly felt a touch of warmth for some reason.

When she realised that there was someone else who didn't care about any gains or losses, but simply cared about her, Lin Yan suddenly had a strange feeling for Jiang Hao.

After waiting for almost half an hour, a taxi pulled up in front of Lin Yan.

Jiang Hao sat in the car and looked at Lin Yan somewhat helplessly, 'You know, I told the driver that my wife was about to give birth and that's why he drove over so fast.'

After saying this Jiang Hao continued somewhat helplessly, 'God knows how tiring it is to take half an hour to get to the city centre during rush hour!'

Lin Yan crouched on the ground and slowly stood up, looked at Jiang Hao who was sitting inside the car and kept complaining, bit his lips and then pounced on him.

The taxi driver saw this scene and said, 'Hey, hey, hey, if you want to show your love, please find another time, I'm still a single dog, hey!'

Jiang Hao heard this and couldn't help but laugh out loud, then he said, 'It's not that I want to show any love, it's that this girl doesn't know what kind of stupidity she's committing!'

Lin Yan, lying in Jiang Hao's arms, snorted out a laugh when she heard his words and held back her tears and laughed, 'You're the one who's being silly!'

After saying this Lin Yan sat up straight in a disciplined manner and then looked at Jiang Hao and said, 'I'm going to stay at your place for a while, don't say it's inconvenient!'
