

Chapter 661: Same Bed Different Dreams

I am afraid that there is no magician who is not excited by the term “preparing the gods”.

The Lord of God is not only a great individual above all living beings, but also a symbol of omnipotence. The sleeves are not only immortal, but also accept mortals into the kingdom of heaven, granting eternal happiness and endless enjoyment.

They can pierce through * to resurrect life, and they can do whatever they want in the graffiti kingdom.

The whole world is a playground for the sleeves, and the rise and fall of all things depends only on their thoughts.

The witch hugged Ash’s arm excitedly, Jian Ji’s breathing became shallow and her cheeks flushed, and even Weisser clenched her fists silently. Only Yaxiu is still calm, after all, being the Lord of God may not solve his problems.

– For example, returning to Earth, such as Jian Ji accepting to be the queen of gods with the witch...

No, Yaxiu suddenly recalled that his transmigration seemed to be closely related to the Four Pillars of God. The Four Pillars God is probably at the level of the Lord of the Gods. Perhaps when the Lord of the Gods arrives, he will be able to gain insight into the secrets of time travel.

In any case, at least there is hope.

But the magicians are not fools. Although this cake is fragrant and sweet, it must be eaten before it counts. Weisser took a deep breath and asked, "What are we going to do?"

The dream demon raised his hand, and a huge three-dimensional three-dimensional map suddenly appeared in the air of the hall: "This is the * map of the Mengmeng gods. Your job is to build a virtual godhead according to the technique."

Yaxiu and the others stared for a moment, feeling dizzy. Diya said in surprise: "This spell is the same as the 15th

The test seems to be off! "

"Because the test of the 15th level of the ghost inheritance is to select the truth magician."

The dream demon said: "Although any magician can build a god-like spell, there is a failure rate in the construction of a god-like spell, and any error will lead to the collapse of the spell. Below demigods, only the truth magician can succeed. Possibility of constructing a godhead spell; if a demigod is above a demigod, if the magician is not proficient in the truth faction, the construction of a godhead is very easy to fail."

It was only then that Ash and the others understood why the Dream Demon chose them as their successors—because Wesser was a truth magician!

Who would have thought that the truth faction is actually the key technique for creating gods? If this news spreads out, I'm afraid... I'm afraid nothing will happen. After all, the truth faction is one of the three mysterious techniques, and ordinary people can't find the threshold to get started.

Weisser stared at the spell diagram and said, "This divine form requires a lot of spells to construct. Do you have any spells?"

"Because the main body has tried to build the dream godhead, and it failed, so many materials are preserved." The dream demon swiped his hands, and the walls on both sides of the hall were opened one after another, revealing the fluorescent crystal walls that sealed the magic spirit.

“But because of the long time and lack of feeding, many magic spirits have starved to death.”

“Four-Winged Heart Sword!” Sonia pulled Layaxiu’s arm, Yaxiu looked over, and sure enough, he saw a Four-Winged Heart Sword Technique – his current Heart Sword is still two-winged!

“Fortune, time of day, time-consuming, double speed” Di Ya first paid attention to the time magic spirit in the crystal wall, and muttered:

“There are still four wings against the year!”

Anti-year series, one year for one wing, eight years for the second wing, twenty-seven years for the third wing, and sixty-four years for the fourth wing!

Even the treasury of the Yisu royal family has no four-winged anti-aging magic!

It is worth mentioning that although the anti-aging spell is the best life-extending product, there are still a lot of things to pay attention to when using it. Warning, they cannot be used together at the same time.

That is to say, if you are 99 years old, even if you have 64 years old, you can only go back to 98 years old. But if you have four wings against the age, you can go back to the prime of life at the age of 35!

Wouldn’t it be useless for a 63-year-old to get four wings against the year? It really can’t be used under normal circumstances, but Diya knows a time miracle, “Youth is permanent, you can fine-tune how many years you go back, and how many years are left after adjustment, your age will be locked for how many years.

In the most extreme case, a 25-year-old can lock in his 25-year-old state for 64 years with a permanent youth!

It is conceivable that even if you get the Four Wings Against the Years, you will hide them for your own use, and will never take them out for trading.

As for other time magic spirits, they are basically at the four-wing level, and the occasional three-wing time magic spirit is also a treasure that Di Ya will covet!

Even the storage of a royal family is not comparable to the wealth left by a demigod angel!

Everyone walked around the crystal wall, almost all dazzled. Even if there is no other gain, if they can just pick a few magic spirits here, they will all make money!

“Can we choose a magic spirit from here first as a deposit?” Ash asked tentatively: “Of course, we won’t choose the magic spirit required by the god-style spell-”

“No.” Dream Demon shook his head: “All magic materials can only be used to construct spells.”

“But there must be excess, right?” Sonia said. “Can’t we pick from the excess?”

“Can’t.”

Dream Demon repeated: “All magic materials can only be used to construct spells, and you are not allowed to use them privately.”

Everyone looked at each other, their eyes flickered, and they all realized that something was wrong with the dream demon.

The four of them, as sanctuary magicians, have also come into contact with other sanctuaries at ordinary times, so they naturally understand the average double quotient of high-ranking magicians. The mentally handicapped and cerebral palsy are challenges that cannot overcome the virtual environment. Calculations and thoughts are almost engraved in the soul of the magician. It is the instinct of the magician to say seven points and leave three points.

However, the dream demon not only introduced the soul godhead flow unrelated to the virtual godhead flow in great detail, but also mentioned the death of its body without concealment or evasion. Facing the demands of the four of them, Yaxiu refused to give any face.

This is not at all the social level that a demigod should have, plus it says that it is a devil derived from the manual of the magician, everyone already vaguely knows that it may not have the thinking ability of a normal person, and it is more similar to a piece of execution. The intelligent program of orders, one is one, the other is two, does not know how to conceal and euphemistically.

Weisser's eyes lit up and asked, "If gods are born from concepts, how did the original gods appear?"

Dream Demon: "Concept aggregation phenomenon. It is generally believed that with the continuous development of magic techniques, concepts will automatically aggregate various materials and transform into gods, but this process often takes thousands of years. If the magician knows clearly If you know all the materials needed for a certain concept to aggregate, and know its transformation ritual, you can use the flow of the soul and godhead to speed up the breeding of gods."

Sonia also reacted and asked, "God is the only one. If the * corresponding to the concept already exists, is it impossible to create it?"

Mengmo: "Yes, if the gods already exist, no matter how many times you try, you can't create the same gods. But the same concept can point to many different gods, and it can also create unprecedented new gods. Jiangmeng is from Gods who haven't appeared, don't worry about that."

Yaxiu asked: "Where is the upper level of Ruby Mountain? If you follow the path of origin, how do you get there?"

Dream Demon: "I can't tell you, otherwise you will be infected with the secret poison. If you want to follow the path of origin, you must find an angel in Ruby Mountain."

Deya watched them ask questions one after another, and was stunned for a while before realizing what they were doing—they bullied the Dream Demon as just a rigid machine, trying to find a way to get the information of the demigod from its mouth!

For everyone in the sanctuary magician, the information that the dream demon itself knows is probably more valuable than the magic spirit on that wall! This is the secret news of the gods that even legendary magicians are eager for, and it would be a loss if you don't ask now!

“Dream of Colorlessness!” Di Ya suddenly remembered: “Dream of Colorlessness requires four kinds of materials: Dreaming Magic Spirit and Fenghuaxueyue.

Are there still dreaming spirits here? ”

The dream demon shook his head: “Dream magic spirit is a natural magic spirit produced by the close combination of the concept of dreaming and the dream kingdom before the dream kingdom is broken. After the dream kingdom is broken, all dream magic spirits will be annihilated. any retention.”

Everyone sighed. There was no magic spirit in the dream, which meant that they could not follow the path of origin to reach the Ruby Mountain, and could only honestly hone the magic faction...

“Wait.” Ash suddenly realized one thing: “After we created the gods, is Natuo’s gate of truth also open to us? Can’t we skip the Ruby Mountain and go directly to the fifth floor of the virtual realm?”

But the dream demon shook his head: “Nothing like that will happen.”

“If you want to reach the fifth floor, you must find the angel of Ruby Mountain. If you don’t find it, even if you create a god, you can only reach Ruby Mountain.”

The four of Yaxiu looked at each other in dismay – the upgrade route of the king’s way relying on the realm of magic is actually only effective under the legend. If you want to break through the boundary between legend and demigod, you must walk the path of origin to find angels!

thump.

Suddenly, there was a slight tremor in the golden hall.

“Another seal is broken.” Dream Demon said: “The reason why the sanctuary magician can’t use the magic power in the inheritance is because the ghost seal uses the power of the dream kingdom. Once the seal is broken too much , the sanctuary magician can restore all the combat power and tear the ghost inheritance from the inside.”

“Ghost inheritance won’t last long, you must act immediately.”

Saying that, the dream demon pointed a finger, and a black shackle connected the four of Yaxiu and locked them tightly around their necks!

“This is the miracle ‘same bed, different dreams’. “Dream Demon said: “You are in the same bed now, and I will leave one person as a hostage. As long as I launch a “dream” against the hostage, even if you escape to reality, you will fall into the curse of nightmares until all your souls are consumed by nightmares. It will end. ”

Yaxiu and the others’ faces were extremely ugly, but there were no surprises in their hearts. When they were teleported here,

They are mentally prepared to face desperation.

How could the legacy of a sorcerer like Nightmare Angel be without life risk?

“The remaining three people are going to collect the materials for the magic spirits that are missing from the divine form.” The dream demon pulled his finger, and a list appeared in front of the four of them: “A total of 26 magic spirits and two materials.”

Sonia said nervously: “Wind Wound and Moon Crystal? But these two materials have disappeared.”

“The material of the virtual world will not disappear, it will only exist in another form.” Dream Demon said: “The two materials are both space and mind materials, probably because of the development of space factions and spiritual factions, resulting in an upgrade of these two materials. Become a magician.”

Weisser seized the gap and asked, “What are the four materials of Wind Injury, Flower Language, Snow Scattered Flower, and Moon Crystal? Can they only be fed into the Dreaming Magic Spirit?”

“No, most of these four materials are used by the magician himself.” Dream Demon said: “Through contact with these materials, the magician will feel the four processes of space formation, completeness, collapse, and nothingness. UU Reading www.uukanshu.com In this way, the space faction can be mastered to form a sanctuary. But the output of these four cables is not high, so not all three wingmen can enter the space faction.”

Axiu and the four suddenly realized.

It is estimated that as long as the space faction develops to a certain extent, these four materials will gradually be integrated into the distant airspace, and eventually form a coherent forbidden instrument.

From this point of view, modern times are indeed much more advanced than in the past. In the old days, the Sanctuary was a luxury for the tri-wing masters, but now the Sanctuary is the standard configuration of the three-wing masters. scum.

“Although the material has not been found, it can be replaced with a magic spirit.”

The Dream Demon swiped his finger, and the ‘Wind Wounds and Moon Crystals’ on the list were erased, replaced by the Four Wings of the Wind Spirit and the “Four Wings of the Moon Sky Spirit”.

However, the expressions of Yaxiu and the others did not improve.

They looked at a large list of four-wing magic spirits in the list, and asked in confusion: “This is the remote airspace where there are only three-wing magicians. Where do we get so many quadruped-wing magic spirits?”

“It is precisely because this is the remote airspace that it is possible for you to find these magic spirits.” Dream Demon said:

“The main body masters a miracle, and can create the magic spirits he needs at will, whether it is the variety or the number of wings.

Yaxiu and the four were stunned for a moment – true or false, what do you want?

Dream Demon: “Its name is dreaming.”

Chapter 662: source crystal

“The gods that Ontology originally tried to create were not nightmares, but beautiful dreams.”

The dream demon said: “If you can create a * of beautiful dreams, you can perform miracles “beautiful dreams come true”, interfere with fate, distort time, and do whatever you want. If you can control the dream kingdom and the dream * at the same time, even if the main body becomes a god, you will not be afraid of the challenge and siege of the ancient god. ”

“Unfortunately, the dream faction is a secondary technique created by the ontology based on the spiritual faction and the soul faction. In the past, the ontology has always been cherished and has not developed at all. In the era of ontology, the conditions for the birth of the gods of the dream are not yet mature, and the ontology cannot do everything possible. Design the godhead of the goddess of beautiful dreams.”

“But because the ontology is good at cursing and killing with the miracle of the alliance dream, the concept of nightmare affects the virtual realm from reality in turn, and the birth conditions of the * of the alliance dream are ripe, so the ontology will turn to create the * of nightmare.”

As a devil, Nightmare can't lie, so the eyes of Ash and others changed slightly.

If they said just now, their impression of the Nightmare Angel was basically a ‘gangster who occupied public resources’, a loser from countless years ago, and a ‘witcher who still can't rest after death’, then now they finally have the alliance dream. Angels are regarded as the forerunners of magicians.

The dream faction was created based on the mind faction and the soul faction. For this alone, the history of the magician has to remember the achievements of the nightmare angel. He has opened up a new field of magic that has never been seen before, and even forced the change of the virtual realm, adding to the total amount of virtual realm knowledge.

The name Mengmeng Angel is enough to prove that he not only created, but also carried forward the dream faction, making the enemy fearless.

It is a pity that the Nightmare Angel always hides and covers, and after the violent death, the Dream faction also broke the inheritance, and has never developed further. His results are estimated to be integrated into the spiritual faction and the soul faction. The police such as the ghost prophet's 'soul dreaming', I am afraid that it has a deep relationship with the nightmare angel.

The current mood of the four of them is probably similar to seeing the person in the history book appear in front of their eyes. Although the Mengmeng Angels are not good people, and even threaten their lives, they are still the pioneers of magic that they are now beyond their reach.

However, the dream demon did not want to make them worship him when he said this: "Although the body cannot create the gods of beautiful dreams, the miraculous conception of "beautiful dreams come true" is feasible. With the help of the special environment of the remote airspace, after continuous modification, the ontology created the miracle of "Dream". "

"The basis of this miracle is that when all magicians enter the remote airspace, they will have their own dream bubbles."

Axiu and the others were startled.

"The dream bubbles you have experienced are the dreams of other magicians."

The dream demon said: "Why do some dream bubbles suddenly shatter? Because the magician has left the virtual realm. Why are the dream bubble affixes different? Because the affixes are different magicians' views of the world."

"The affix is the magician's view of the world?" Sonia couldn't help but ask, "What do you mean?"

"If there's an affix that says that the flyer doesn't take any damage, what does that mean?" Weisser went further with an example.

“Representing the artist’s affirmation of flying in the dream.” Dream Demon said: “He is proficient in air combat with a high probability, and believes that air combat is crushing against ground combat, so this affix is generated.”

The bubbles we have experienced are all the dreams of other magicians?

Are other magicians also experiencing our dreams?

“I seem to have seen similar rumors. No, I’ve even seen similar plots in movies!” Sonia murmured, “Yes, it’s “Wonderland” that was popular a few years ago!”

“The heroine encounters her own dream in a dream world similar to the distant airspace! Did there ever be a magician one by one?”

“Impossible.” Dream Demon said: “The body has already done experiments. When the magician approaches his own bubble, the bubble will automatically shatter. You will never encounter your own bubble.”

“It’s normal for an ordinary magician to guess that the dream bubble is related to him, but from the perspective of a sanctuary magician, he cannot confirm his conjecture at all. Moreover, even if the magician knows this secret, it has no practical significance.”

really.

Although Yaxiu and others were surprised at the relationship between the magician and the bubble at first, but thinking about it carefully, what if they knew it? Do you get 20% off on fruit?

Between truth and practice, there is a barrier called reality.

But they can’t use it, but it doesn’t mean that the demigods can’t use it.

“The more bubbles you explore, the more likely you are to generate affix bubbles and manifest the bubble affixes into magic spirits.” Dream Demon said: “Essentially, you use the insights of other magicians to summon new magic spells. spirit.”

Diya found the blind spot: “No, most of the magic spirits generated by affix bubbles are strange magic spirits that cannot be summoned by the magician themselves, and are between fantasy and reality. For example, my witness magic spirits can attack the target with sight. , like this kind of fantasy magic, the magician can’t understand the summoning at all.”

The dream demon said calmly: “The three-wing magician can’t understand it, and the four-wing magician can’t understand it, but the five-winged demigod and the six-winged * master can’t understand what you said about witnessing the magic spirit?”

It didn’t ask, but answered directly: “There are always many more magic spirits that can be summoned than the magic spirits you know. Because a small step in the development of any magic technique can interweave countless new magic spirits with other magic techniques. But for some magic spirits, only magicians who step into the realm of the gods can understand the summoning.”

“The special thing about the Dream Bubble is that the magician uses his own perception to retrieve the corresponding magic spirit from the all-in-one magic library in the virtual realm. As long as it is a magic spirit that can exist, it can become the reward of the Dream Bubble.”

Hearing this, Ash and the others finally understood the operating mechanism of the remote airspace.

First of all, when the magician enters the remote airspace, a corresponding dream bubble will be generated. Their accumulation of techniques and world views so far will become affixes in the bubble.

When the magician explores enough bubbles to form affix bubbles, he can use the medium of affixes to retrieve the entire magic library of the virtual world, and finally get rewards.

Simplifying the whole process is that the magician takes the magic spirit from the full magic library in the virtual realm!

Dream bubbles and affixes are just middlemen responsible for testing and retrieval!

“Based on the mechanism of the remote airspace, the ontology creates the miracle “Dream”. “Dream Demon said: “Using other magicians as casting materials, distorting their dream bubbles and changing the affixes to the desired affixes, you can summon the desired magic spirits from the virtual world’s full magic library.”

“In fact, most of the inventory here is created by Ontology through ‘Dream’.”

Only then did Yaxiu and the others understand why this miracle must be performed in the distant airspace.

Warlock → Dream Bubble → Fantasy Magic Spirit, the close relationship of these three allows the Nightmare Angel to find a rule gap that can be used: directly attack the magician in the distant airspace, and you can steal the magic from the virtual world full magic library spirit!

“But if that’s the case...” Ash was about to say something, but stopped instantly.

“Now, there are about a thousand sacred magicians in the ghost inheritance, and they are all under the suppression of the ghost seal, and they have no resistance.” Dream Demon said: “This is your chance.”

The miracle of “Dream” obviously has two difficulties: one is to find a sanctuary magician, and the other is to suppress the sanctuary magician.

But these two difficulties no longer exist in the ghost inheritance!

In order to compete for inheritance, all the sanctuary magicians in the virtual realm swarmed, and there was no shortage of spellcasting targets!

Moreover, the ghost inheritance will block the magic power, and their combat power is weakened to the extreme!

Nightmare inheritance, perfect use of ghost inheritance to achieve your goals.

Yaxiu and the others looked at each other and saw vigilance in the eyes of their teammates.

This is not so much a coincidence, it is better to say that the Angel of Jiangmeng had long expected this scene when he arranged the inheritance. He was the original owner of the Dream Kingdom, so he naturally anticipated how the latecomers would use the Dream Kingdom.

He is a spiritual demigod, an angel who created the dream faction!

As long as one person uses the dream kingdom to arrange inheritance, the hidden inheritance will also take effect!

With this kind of existence, it is absolutely foolproof to arrange inheritance, and their mere four sanctuary magicians can only be obedient.

“Okay, we understand.” Weisser said, “Then how do we cast ‘Dream’?”

The dream demon tapped his finger, and six spell spirits fell in front of them, as well as a miracle spell.

“Dream of Dreams” was originally a complex miracle driven by hundreds of magic spirits at the same time, but after simplifying the ontology, you can use six magic spirits to perform in six steps. These six magic spirits can be lent to you temporarily. The three people in charge of collecting them should be more than enough to use two magic spirits each. ”

Diya pointed at the magic spirits, opened his eyes and said, “But they have more wings than us. We are only three-wing magicians, how can we drive the four-wing magic spirits?”

“The main body has long anticipated this situation.” Dream Demon said: “Not only to collect magic spirits, when creating a virtual godhead, you need to drive hundreds of magic spirits at the same time, even a legendary magician cannot have enough magic power. Support. So...”

A huge treasure chest rose behind the dream demon, and it could be seen from the position that it seemed to attach the most importance to the contents of this treasure chest.

It opened the treasure chest, revealing the dark magic eight-sided crystal inside. The annihilation changes in the crystal, as if an energy reaction is taking place all the time.

Dream Demon called out three source crystals and let them float in front of the magicians. “Each source crystal can convert a large amount of colorless magic power. If used by a demigod, it can be converted into five-wing magic power. It is the general equivalent between demigods. You can use these three source crystals to perform your dreams hundreds of times.”

Yaxiu’s pupils were shocked, but he could still ask calmly, “Is the source crystal precious?”

“Very precious.” Dream Demon said: “At the peak of the main body, I accumulated about 1,500 source crystals, and now there are only 88 left.”

Yaxiu stretched out his hand to take Yuanjing’s observation, UU reading www.uukanshu.com turned his head and gave his companions a look. Sonia and the others naturally don’t know why Yaxiu is so surprised, but they at least understand that Yaxiu not only knows the source crystal, but also owns the source crystal.

This information naturally made them further convinced that Yaxiu was the source of the rebirth of the strong. In the past, they thought that Yaxiu was reborn as a legend at most, but they underestimated him. What surprises do you have that everyone doesn’t know about?

However, no one in the team cares whether Yaxiu is reborn from the strong. No matter what secrets he still hides, in Deya’s eyes he is still a knight, in Sonia’s eyes he is always a spectator, in Wesser’s eyes he is just Ash.

“Wait!” Diya suddenly said: “According to this miracle technique, if you want to create a four-wing magic spirit, you must give the magician the ultimate dream stimulation, and it will be possible to succeed until their souls are wiped out!”

“Yes.” The dream demon nodded: “This is the drawback of dreaming. If you want to create a four-wing magician, you must almost wipe out the soul of the three-wing magician to get it, so the main body can’t raise the three-wing magician and harvest it regularly. , can only be used as a one-time consumable.”

Sonia held down the witch who wanted to talk and asked, “So, do we need to kill 28 magicians to collect magic spirits?”

“Actually, because you are not proficient at the beginning, I am afraid that you will not be able to obtain the magic materials on the list in the first ten times.” Dream Demon said: “So, I will give you 50 magicians to harvest the allowance, but because of time Problem, you’d better limit the number to less than 100 people.”

“If there is no problem, please start as soon as possible.”

Chapter 663: Ash as a hostage

“Which of you are staying?”

Ash pulled his teammates aside and asked casually who left the guard’s luggage while the others went to the toilet.

Diya wanted to speak several times just now, but was suppressed by Soniaya and Weisser.

Everyone knew what she was trying to say, because everyone ran with the same idea!

The vision provided by the dream demon is indeed very beautiful. The gods and heaven have a double harvest, as if they can make a few sanctuary magicians reach the sky in one step. But after calming down a little, they can all realize one question – can they keep this adventure?

The Mengmeng Angel originally wanted to create the Mengmeng gods, take charge of the dream kingdom, and become a new generation of gods, but all the * was beaten out.

Not only has the dream kingdom of heaven that he cared for and cherished was destroyed, but he also experienced thirteen masters changing hands. Moreover, he even had to hide his inheritance in the rat hole of the dream kingdom, for fear of being discovered by the new owner of the dream kingdom.

If they really get the complete dream kingdom, with their four sanctuary magicians, can they really resist the greed of the gods, the envy of the demigods, and the siege of countless magicians of the same level?

And that's assuming everything is going well, but in reality it's more likely to fall short.

After all, the ghost inheritance will be broken at any time. Maybe the virtual godhead is created in the middle, and the dream kingdom will be completely smashed. They will be exposed to the eyes of the magicians, and then they will be submerged by countless spells in the next second.

In fact, it may be a good thing to fall short. If they succeed, they are afraid that they will not be chased from online to offline by the gods.

The risk is too high and the benefits are too illusory. No matter how you think about it, it is a wise choice not to get involved.

But do they have the right to refuse?

Not to mention the curse of "same bed, different dreams" already hanging over their heads, just from the logic of the dream demon's behavior, if Yaxiu and the others say I don't want to do it', wouldn't the dream demon politely send them away, and send them back when they parted Would you like a small gift as an apology?

How can it be!

Ash and the others even suspected that if they expressed the intentions of 'resistance', 'disgust, and rottenness' in their words, then they would fall from the status of 'heirs' to the status of disposable consumables in minutes.

Whether it was a nightmare angel in life or a devil dream demon after death, they never cared about other people's lives.

Among the four of them, except for Wesser, everyone else can be replaced. In other words, the reason why the other three were also sent here is to hold Wesser as hostages and lock them up in the inheritance.

Not to mention quitting, they are now even discussing their words carefully, for fear that the dream demon will hear their unwillingness.

So when they heard Yaxiu's question, all three of them had strange expressions on their faces.

Ash was using 'You guys, obviously excluding yourself – he doesn't want to stay hostage.

But no one thought he was greedy for life and fear of death.

"Witch, stay here," Sonia said.

"No! If the two of you are going, then I must follow!" Di Ya shook her head: "Weise, stay here!"

"That's right." Ash also said, "If that's the case, Visser, stay here. I'm not excluding you, but you know that we have a special relationship. Next, we are likely to relieve the pressure by showing a little bit of affection. It can be embarrassing and even a source of stress if you're around."

"Also, you are a newcomer to this team. Not only have you not caused me any trouble since joining the team for two months, but you have also backed down and worked silently. I have always been grateful to you. If you have a rare opportunity, I will leave the trouble to our three seniors. Deal with it, you can enjoy the benefits of being a newcomer."

"What does 'not only did not cause trouble' mean?" Sonia's eyes widened: "Have I caused you trouble before?"

“That’s right!” Diya also said, “Did I cause you trouble?”

Yaxiu and Sonia glanced at Diya, and they stopped talking.

This is the first time that Ash has admitted in front of Weiser that there is an impure relationship between him and the sword princess witch, but whether it is Sonia, Deya,

Or Wesser, neither shocked nor cared about it.

“I don’t agree with your opinion.

Weisser said calmly: “I think the audience should stay.”

Sonia slightly confirmed, but also changed her attitude: “I also think the viewer should stay!”

Although Diya was inclined to act with Yaxiu in her heart, but with Yaxiu on one side and Jianji and Weise on the other side, she immediately abandoned the darkness and turned to the light: “I,

I’m also in favor of viewers staying.

Ash’s mouth twitched: “You...”

“Have you discussed it?” Dream Demon quietly appeared beside them: “Then let’s get started.”

Six magic spirits and three source crystals flew to the female magicians, and the dream demon said: “I will send you to the inside of the ghost inheritance, lift your magic power magic spirit restrictions, and then adjust the level routes of other magicians so that They took the initiative to meet you. Of course, the others are still blocking magic powers.”

"I have another question." Ash seized the opportunity to ask: "Even if we can't reach the fifth floor of the virtual realm, but if we create a god, we should be able to reach the Ruby Mountain through the god's gate of truth, right?"

Surprisingly, the dream demon was silent on this question.

"I don't know." It said: "The ontology has never heard the precedent of the creation of the gods by the sanctuary, and does not know what will happen. Moreover,

Whether or not the gods have a door of truth is not clear. "

"The difference between magic spirits and gods is huge. The knowledge of magic spirits can come from the magician, but the concept of gods must come from the outside world. Therefore, although magicians can create gods, whether the gods are 'completely owned' by a magician, the door of truth whether it is open to the magician, I do not know. "

Sonia was a little surprised: "Did the Nightmare Angel not create other gods?"

"The main body did not support any gods during his lifetime." Dream Demon gave an unexpected answer: "In fact, because of the only reason for gods, gods are not only rare, but no gods will despise another * to join the kingdom of heaven. Therefore, the demigods want to compete for Natural gods, not only have to compete with other demigods, but also take food from the mouth of the gods."

"Many demigods cannot have a * in their entire life. Often after stepping into the realm of gods, you will find that all gods already have a master."

Ash nodded thoughtfully.

He remembered the ancestor of the Beldette family, the undead angel in the Gospel Kingdom. At that time, I only thought that he was a remnant of the ancient tomb who was hanged and beaten by Harvey.

Looking back now, I found that he was also a great man, who not only could arrange resurrection rituals, but also possessed a * at a young age!

From this, we can also see how daring the Nightmare Angel is.

He didn't even have a god, yet he dared to get his hands on the kingdom of heaven in his dreams, pointing directly at the rank of gods. No wonder he was beaten to death.

But in this way, even if they succeed in creating gods, there is a high probability that they will not be able to smuggle to Ruby Mountain.

"Since you don't have a god, how do you perform miracles?" Ash asked: "Even if they are all four-winged magic spirits, they can only be called miracles, right? It's like using six four-winged magic spirits in a dream, Why can it be called a miracle?"

At this time, the dream demon waved his arm gently, and the sword princess, the witch, and Weisser disappeared from the golden hall.

Then it answered Ash: "The difference between a miracle and a miracle lies in whether or not the law of the world is used. The gods are the manifestation of the law, and magic techniques involving gods are naturally miracles. But even if there is no god, as long as you can use other Ways to shake the laws of the world, miracles can be turned into miracles."

"In other places, the six magic spirits can only form miracles at most. Only in the dream of the heaven, only in the remote airspace, the miracles they form can evoke the residual laws of the heaven, and use the operation of the remote airspace. The mechanism is in effect."

"At this moment, the power of miracles not only includes magic spirits, but also the support of the remote airspace and related laws. That is to say, if the target wants to resist, it must have the power to resist the remote airspace, otherwise it will be blocked by the remote airspace. The rules are broken."

"A miracle is to graffiti the reality of the world with one's own will."

"A miracle is to transform one's own will into the will of the world."

“That’s the difference in performance between the two.”

Yaxiu looked at the place where Jian Ji and the others disappeared, and his eyes flashed.

He wasn’t sure if the Dream Demon saw through his intention to use the question to delay the time, but the Dream Demon’s approach has proved that it can distinguish the priority from the second. Those little tricks to deceive artificial intelligence may not be able to stop the plan of the gods of Jiangmeng.

Now, he can only trust the three of Jian Ji.

Ash asked, “Is it okay if I say change with them?”

“Transferring you and controlling ghost inheritance will consume source crystals.” Dream Demon refused: “Source crystal reserves are tight, UU reading www.uukanshu.com and so on will consume a lot of source crystals when creating gods, so you can’t waste them here.”

“Also, you give me a very uneasy feeling that no matter what you do, I will keep you hostage.”

Yaxiu was taken aback: “Why am I disturbing you?”

“I don’t know.” Nightmare: “But don’t need to know, it’s enough to keep the instability around.”

Gan!

This is the first time Yaxiu has encountered such blatant and unwarranted appearance discrimination!

Instead of discussing with the dream demon, he sat down to rest, and prepared to exchange feelings with the magic spirits. The dream demon looked at his back, thinking about the source of his unease in his heart.

I feel it but I can't remember it, which means that it is not the content recorded in the magician's manual, but the thin memory of the devil's dream.

After a while, the dream demon finally remembered.

Is the ghost prophet.

It had seen ghost prophets in the dream kingdom.

At that time, the ghost prophet killed the twelfth owner, Ultramarine Nights, and took away the dream kingdom.

The millions of souls owned by the Ghost Prophet are a realm that the Mengmeng Angels had never reached before. However, the ten thousand souls of Qimeng Angel were obtained through ascetic cultivation, pure and clean, while the million souls of Ghost Prophet were muddy and smelly, obviously cultivated through murder and aggregation. During the time when the ghost prophet lived in the dream kingdom, the screams of the ghosts penetrated every corner, so it left a deep impression on the dream demon.

The man in the black and silver chain windbreaker in front of him gave the dream demon the feeling that he was the heir of the ghost prophet.

Chapter 664: Sword Princess, Witch and Wesser

Four Wings Dream Chasing Spirit.

The four-winged soul ecstasy spirit.

Four Wings Inscription Mind Magic Spirit.

In the underground hall, Sonia, Diya, and Weisser released their magic power and brought the six four-winged magic spirits under their control.

There is no doubt that these four-winged magic spirits are treasures among treasures, like a soul ecstasy spirit, which can hook out his soul when the legendary magician is not paying attention, and then only need to destroy his body, and he will be lost. self-destruction.

Like a dream chasing magic spirit, it is the artistic crystallization of the dream faction, and can be used with any dream magic spirit. For example, if you use the Sleeping Magic Spirit on a Lala Fatty first, and then use Dream Chasing on any target, the target will change direction to chase the Sleeping Lala Fatty.

If you use Dream Chasing on the Miracle, you can even forcibly turn the Miracle's pointing target into a sleepy dream!

These six magic spirits are all powerful enough to be treasured by legendary magicians to change the magic faction if they can acquire them!

Although the three of Sonia can use these six magic spirits, they can clearly feel that they do not have the right to own these magic spirits. As long as the dream demon is willing, these magic spirits will immediately escape from their souls.

Of the three, only Sonia has experience in renting magic spirits.

After all, the environment of Sen Luo's waste is extremely poor, let alone renting spell spirits, even the platform for buying and selling spell spirits is in its original form. Half of Weiser's spell spirits are summoned by himself, and the other half are trophies after attacking the sect, and they are not even bought. I bought it; the Gospel Kingdom has a platform for renting magic spirits, but Deya is either in a state of captivity where she cannot access magic spirit transactions, or she is a queen who can do whatever she wants, and naturally there is no need to rent magic spirits.

Only the rental service in the Kingdom of Stars is not only mature, but Sonia also happens to be the core user of the rental service.

Like when she participated in the Meteor Tribulation, she borrowed several key spells from Professor Trozan, otherwise she wouldn't be able to release the 'Hidden Hand Blade' at all. After returning the magic spirit back to the professor, she has yet to collect the full set of magic spirits, but she can only perform the basic version of this miracle.

In the kingdom of stars, renting magic spirits and buying and selling magic spirits are actually two sides of the same body.

If you think it is easy to use, renting will turn into purchase intention;

If it is just an emergency, of course, it is better to buy than rent.

Especially the sanctuary magicians, they rent magic spirits especially frequently. After all, sanctuary magicians will start to develop new miracles. At this time, it is often necessary to refer to the effects of other magic spirits. Buying them directly is not only expensive, but also invaluable. As the number of wings increases, ordinary magic spirits will also become rare. You can't really buy it.

So the short-term rental service came into being, and it even became the most important relationship between Sanctuary magicians. Like Professor Trozan, the reason why she dares to have such a bad breath is because of her strength, and because she has a lot of rare magic spirits and is willing to lend them out. If she is willing to hold her, she certainly doesn't need to add some emotional intelligence.

And impressions can be transformed. Many people have a bad first impression of Trozan, thinking that she is plain and a little sloppy, but when Trozan is generous and generous, they will think that she is actually a successful person who is cold on the outside and hot on the inside female.

Even Sonia is not exempt. She has such a good relationship with Trozan now because Trozan is really good to her!

In addition, leasing is also one of the most important sales channels. Most sanctuary magicians will rent spells for a period of time to see the effect before purchasing them. Sonia now has several three-winged magic spirits hanging on the rental and sale platform, and it is expected that it will take one to three months to sell.

But renting magic spirits also carries a lot of risks.

In case the renter is killed in the virtual world, the magic spirit may be lost, even if the renter is willing to compensate, but the magic spirit is really gone.

Moreover, even if the renter only has the right to use it, he can kill the magic spirit directly if he wants to.

In other words, now the three of Sonia can directly squeeze the four-wing magic spirit in their hands, so that they cannot be activated, and the nightmare inheritance will be destroyed.

However, they all kept the magic spirits silently, only Diya couldn't help but ask, "Are we really going to kill people for spirits?"

Not only Diya, but the other witch sisters were also quite uneasy about this, even the black butler with the darkest heart hugged the White Queen nervously.

In fact, the witches' moral values are very weak, because the good qualities of kindness, responsibility, and hope are all reserved for Sleeping Beauty. The witch sisters derived from the secret princess Diya are all personalities that only love their own survival.

Diya herself has also experienced many blackening opportunities, such as being caught by An Nan, such as the death of the Red Dead, such as the separation of the palace. Although the secret princess Diya has a good psychological endurance, the White Queen's mentality is very easy to collapse. If the White Queen collapses, the Black Deacon will also collapse, and finally Diya will collapse together – this is the price for her escape from loneliness.

Sleeping Beauty is Princess Yisu made of love, candy and beautiful things, but witches are different. They are a fugitive gospel composed of survival, escape and unscrupulous means.

However, in the kingdom of omniscience, facing what may be the only chance to make a wish in this life, Deya, for the sake of the security of the kingdom of the gospel, gave up her own desires and was willing to become a shackled queen.

Yes, although witches are not born with the qualities of kindness, responsibility, and hope, Ashe taught her these superfluous things by example.

So faced with what happened next, the witches were full of fear.

“Give me the magic spirit.” Weisser stretched out his hand: “I can complete the miracle spell by myself.”

“Are you alone?” Sonia looked at her.

“This kind of thing, should not be carried out by three people.” Weisser said calmly: “Now we are all under the curse of the dream demon, and the viewer is held hostage in its hands. We have no choice but to hurt others to keep yourself alive.”

“Actually, most magicians will only be pleasantly surprised when they encounter this kind of miracle, rather than hesitating and resisting like you do. Yes, it is true that people do want to kill, but magicians have come all the way, not killing people is the minority, and they can walk. The magician who has reached the sanctuary level, even if his hands are not stained with blood, has already crossed the torture of life and death by the moral law. Fate, environment, position, good and evil... voluntary or forced, we are already wandering in Hunter and prey in the forest.”

“What’s more, you kill a magician you don’t know, and they don’t even have to be in the same country. Most people won’t have a psychological burden.”

“It’s just that the viewers protected you too well, but the reverse is also true.” Weisser said softly, “So none of you are suitable for this kind of thing.”

Diya asked in a daze: “Then, is Weisser suitable for you?”

“At least it’s more suitable than you.” Weisser said, “Also, I’m also good at doing this kind of thing.”

“Don’t look at me like this, UU reading www.uukanshu.com I’m actually older than you, and I may not have as much adventure experience as you, but I should see the bloody, killing, and death scenes much more than you. Or even more bluntly—”

Weisser looked at her palm and said calmly, “I’m used to destroying life.”

“Of course, it’s not a mistake for you to be unaccustomed, and there is nothing superior about my habit. It’s just that we have different life experiences, so there are some differences in the three views in all aspects.”

“I just proposed to let the spectator stay, just to see that he also wants to take the responsibility and protect you from killing. But you don’t need to force yourself because of this accident, just like when we explored the inheritance of ghosts, every time Individuals have their own responsibilities.”

“Now, it’s time for me to perform my team duties.” Weisser said, “Give me the magic spirit.”

Diya blinked, hesitated for a while, and handed over the magic spirit.

But just as Wesser reached for it, her wrist was tightly bound.

“Are you finished?”

Sonia stared at Wesser, and Ruby’s eyes showed naked dissatisfaction, “Make arrangements with self-righteousness, show off your experience condescendingly, and sacrifice with self-moving... Youlan Wesser, you still think you are a member of this team. ?”

“Of course.” Weisser was a little surprised: “I didn’t—”

“Then, who is the earliest member of the team? Who is the captain most trusted? Who is the one who understands the captain’s thoughts the most?”

“When the spectator is not there.” The red-haired Jianji said earnestly, “I will direct the team.”

Chapter 665: don't kill

“Jianji, you know me well.”

Weisser explained as calmly as possible: “I don’t have any idea of competing with you for leadership.”

“But that’s what you’re doing,” Sonia said. “You feel like you’re protecting us and helping the team, but you’re actually putting your personal opinion above the team’s will and giving us trouble for the spectators. .”

Weisser was also slightly annoyed, put aside Sonia’s hand, and said coldly, “Why did I cause you trouble?”

Diya was at a loss in anxiety, but she only dared to dissuade them with her eyes, and she didn’t dare to intervene.

“You may have mistakenly thought that the viewer prefers me and the witch, so you think that your behavior of protecting us can be recognized by him. After all, you are the only one who gets your hands dirty, and everyone else can have a clear conscience.”

Jian Ji stretched out her hand and pulled Weisse in front of her. She was only a little taller than Weisse, but now she seemed to be looking down at her, “You really look down on us and him.”

“He never took our efforts for granted, never. You took the initiative to integrate into our interpersonal relationships, contributed a lot to the team, voluntarily surrendered benefits, we all saw it.”

“Ghost inheritance will focus on training you to improve the soul faction, not only because you are suitable, but also because this is the team’s inclination towards you. He works very hard to maintain the balance of resources between us, and would rather get less for himself, but also let us gain. Match pay.”

“So you know you’re causing trouble, right?” Sonia said, “You asked us to owe you a big favor. How do we pay it back? How does he pay it back?”

“You don’t need to pay anything back!” Wesser said, “I never expected you to repay one.”

Snapped.

Diya opened her eyes and covered her mouth, for fear that half a word would pop out of her mouth and participate in this dispute.

Weisser looked at Sonia in astonishment, unable to believe that she had been slapped in the face.

Sonia retracted her hand, but started talking about other topics: “There is a case in “Cunning the Wrong Blade”, it is said that a person did a good deed without getting paid, and ended up causing a tragedy. I used to think it was an edited plot, But then it turns out that this is actually quite a common phenomenon.”

“In any organizational system, the most important thing is the principle of equal exchange, and you must pay for something, otherwise it will be a temptation and blasphemy of human nature.

You say that you don’t want to repay, which is already trampling on the principle of this team. We will explore the virtual realm together only if we have our own needs. ”

“If we could really use you up like a dirty rag, what would I say to you?” Sonia said, “You’re talking like you don’t know us, are you insulting us or insulting you? Own?”

“Also, don’t give back the subtext, either there is nothing in the team that can reward you, or you have already received other rewards.” Jian Ji’s ruby eyes reflected Weisse’s appearance: “You are satisfying your Strange self-sacrifice?”

Weisser pursed her lips and said, “I just want to do my best to help the team.”

“I will also do my best to contribute, and I can sacrifice my own interests if necessary, but I will not be like you. I will report to the audience what I have paid. If he does not pay back ten times and a hundred times, I will not admit it. .” Sonia said: “Since I pay for the team, I won’t bear the price alone.”

“So I hate your tone just now, full of self-destructive desire to bear sin alone, immersed in illusory self-movement, but I never thought that this is the fate we have to face together, and you don’t need to do anything... You are simply It’s like the disgusting protagonist in those bittersweet dramas.”

Weisser’s face became ugly after hearing this: “I’m just a”

“Also, you misinterpreted the viewer’s thoughts.” Sonia said: “He may also want to cast spells alone like you, but he won’t say that I’m going to take all the responsibility’, but will follow us Share his psychological pressure – do you remember what he hinted at just now?”

“It’s a statement.” Weisser said, “He said he would have intimacy with you.”

“Cough cough.” Sonia quickly passed the topic: “In any case, the gains and losses are the team’s gains and losses, and the guilt is also the team’s guilt. You must say how much you pay, don’t hide it, and don’t bear it alone... I It’s always been this way, and viewers have started doing it recently, so you have to learn from us.”

Deya nodded like a chicken pecking at rice.

Weisser said softly, “I just don’t think I’ll pay anything for doing this kind of thing.”

“Really?” Sonia said, “but you obviously don’t want to, why do you force yourself to ignore it?”

Weisser was startled.

“I used to talk to you about the story of the Sea of Knowledge. If it is interesting, you will listen carefully, but if it is boring, you will increase communication with me and cover up your unwillingness by forcing yourself to express opinions.” Sonny Ya said, “It’s the same as what you did just now.”

“You usually speak very little, Wesser.”

Weisser was stunned for a while, then suddenly relaxed and said softly, "Your insight and speaking skills are similar to those of the viewer."

"What's up with him!"

Even though she said that, Sonia blushed and her eyes flickered, as if she remembered something and seemed a little happy.

"Anyway, don't say anything like that anymore." Sonia put her hands on Wesser's shoulders, "I don't know what happened to you that made you develop this inexplicable desire for self-sacrifice, but..."

Sonia was close to Wesser, and the foreheads of the two touched each other, as if feeling each other's body temperature.

"We've already touched our foreheads." She said, "So, you don't have to sacrifice for us. Risks are shared, guilt is shared, and benefits are shared. This is the meaning of being a partner."

Weisser blinked, and in a trance, she remembered that Wei Ouna often pressed her forehead like this when she was a child. She hesitated for a moment, and wanted to reach out and hug Jian Ji to admit her mistake, and the latter immediately embraced her happily.

However, this hug without any warmth made Weisser feel the familiar warmth.

Diya watched in amazement from the side – didn't Jian Ji slap Weise a minute ago? How is this reconciled?

Is this the power of the vice-captain?

"Then what about the dream?" Weisser finally pushed the sword girl away and asked, "It's better to let one person do it? Let me do it."

"Since we have to get our hands dirty, let's come together." Sonia said, "There is no need to escape."

Weisser: "Are you mentally prepared?"

"Even if it's not done well, it's a big deal to go back to the viewers to share the psychological pressure." Sonia stroked the hilt of the sword: "But I actually expected it, after all, the higher the level, the easier it is to encounter this situation, or be caught Forced or helpless to kill innocent people. In fact, this matter is also easy to measure, one side is the lives of the four of us, and the other side is 28, 50, 100 people. Of course, we are more important."

"Anyway, we are forced to, and everything is the fault of the Nightmare Angel. As long as you figure this out, there will be no psychological burden."

Diya asked timidly, "Is it really that simple?"

"We are not the Lord of God, and even the Lord of God is not omnipotent and omnipotent. The only thing we can do is to do our best for the world and do our best for ourselves." Sonia said: "Then, continue to work hard to live with a sense of guilt."

She paused: "That's what I learned from the viewer."

Diya took a deep breath: "Okay!"

Weisser glanced at his palm and put it down: "Then let's fulfill our dream together."

"Wait!" Sonia pondered: "Do you think it is possible for us to improve the spell so that it can create spell spirits, but not dead people?"

Diya can do nothing about it. If she can return to reality, she can ask how the Gospel can be improved, but in the virtual world, she can't drive the Gospel spirit.

However, Wesser had already seriously studied the miracle spell just now, and said: "It is not impossible to imagine that people will not die. The reason why the dreamer's soul will be completely wiped out is just to pursue a 100% success rate. If it is slightly improved, by reducing the The success rate can be exchanged for the survival of the surgeon.”

Sonia and Diya were both stunned – what were they struggling with just now?

“But this kind of improvement is not something we can complete.” Weisser said helplessly: “My spiritual faction and soul faction are at the gold level, and I can only figure out a general direction. If you want to improve, it will take at least a month. If you want to quickly To improve the spell, at least the spiritual faction and soul faction of the sanctuary level.”

Sonia sighed softly: “So there is no way?”

“No way.” Wesser shook his head.

“It can only be killed!” Di Ya was determined.

At this moment, a cloud of black mist suddenly appeared in the underground hall, and the dream demon finally teleported the first victim.

Warlock hunt, start!

“This ghostly story... There is still such a whimsical idea, and it is too suitable for me?”

Igula reminisced about the ghost story that she just got, and her heart was full of emotions, and she couldn't bear it. Because he was given a soul buff by Yaxiu after dinner, he rushed to the 80th level tonight and captured a copy of Ghost Story!

Biography, true biography, general biography, if the rumor is just a small miracle that Ghost Prophet uses occasionally, then the true story is undoubtedly a powerful miracle that Ghost Prophet relies on!

The Ghost Story that Igula got is a miracle spell that points directly to the legend! Although there are only three-wing magic spirits in the original story, as long as he promotes and completes the magic spirits, it is still a top miracle at the legendary stage!

Moreover, the concept of magic presented by this spell is of great benefit to Igula, allowing him to have more ideas about his magic system.

'Good luck tonight...

While thinking about it, Igula found that the underground hall was suddenly flooded with black mist. He narrowed his eyes, thinking that this is a change after level 80?

The black fog gradually disappeared, and the deceiver also performed various miracles with the help of the inherited soul magic, ready to meet the next challenge.

As the black mist dissipated, Igula's eyes were greeted by three... female sorcerers?

When the red-haired female magician rushed over, UU read www.uukanshu.com Igula immediately shot a "soul torrent"! This is a powerful soul miracle that he assembled in the inheritance, which can kill almost all enemy units in seconds!

The soul torrent was blocked by the transparent barrier and cut off by the shunt!

Sanctuary!

Igula was dumbfounded, and subconsciously wanted to raise the sanctuary, but the magic power didn't respond at all?

How can this be!

Snapped!

The fraudster was slammed against the wall, and before he could say anything, his throat was tightly strangled. He immediately took out the ghost key and tried to escape the inheritance.

Not beyond his expectations, the ghost key could not be activated, and he could not run away.

He took a sharp breath, but only the cold breath of death flowed into his body.

Igula had already vaguely guessed something. The appearance of a magician who is not suppressed by inheritance, coupled with the fact that the ghost key cannot be activated, is enough to show that he has become a lamb to be slaughtered.

He is dead.

“Sorry,” he heard the red-haired sorceress say, “there’s nothing we can do.”

At this moment, what flashed in Igula’s mind was not a survival trick, not a curse of resentment, but a painting.

He has painted many paintings in “Reviving the Soul”.

He still can’t understand why there is a black crow in that painting...

Just as the red-haired sorceress was about to use an unknown spell on him, Igula heard the other two sorceresses shout:

“and many more!”

“Don’t kill first!”

Chapter 666: Fate's Guidance

Looking at Igula, who was strangled by Jian Ji's throat, Di Ya was stunned.

Because she had been the princess in the tower for more than ten years, she knew not many people, and there were very few people who could establish a relationship with her.

Igula is one of those few.

Of course, that all changed after Dea became queen. She is free to go anywhere in the Gospel kingdom, where there are countless people vying to be her friends.

After all, she is the first evangelical queen with emotional tendencies in the past seven hundred years. Her likes and dislikes are enough to change the fate of the kingdom, and her will is enough to change the lives of countless people.

She had a dream last night, and she will realize it tomorrow morning.

Some people approach Diya to protect themselves, such as the Mercury family who once hunted down Diya, while some people approach the Queen to go further, such as the Sennheiser and Berdette families who once accepted Diya .

Qinna has proposed more than once that Sennheiser's clansmen will be sent to the palace to serve the queen; Falin is even more determined, she herself is willing to be the maid of the queen and give her heart to the queen!

Even if Di Ya didn't make any statement, everyone consciously speculated on the holy will, and slammed into the new emperor's cool points.

This is the power of power.

Deia can be a free-spirited queen, and everyone is ready for a wayward, sloppy new emperor.

But how much can Diya waste with the seven hundred years of the Yisu Dynasty? The royal family of Yisu has dedicated themselves to the gospel for seven hundred years. What is it that Diya has a little willfulness?

What's more, no one can defy Deia, who possesses the spirit of the Gospel.

However, instead of becoming self-willed to make up for her childhood, Diya consciously imprisoned herself in the palace, rejecting all kindness and flattery from the outside world.

As for the specific practical matters such as the administration strategy, she will leave it to the most rational White Queen to deal with it, and she will never reveal her selfishness in front of outsiders. Diya once read a fairy tale picture book in which the protagonist is the emperor. She has forgotten the plot, but I remember a monologue inside: "I am a lonely man."

The emperor must be lonely and ruthless, because he is not lonely, he will be favoritism, and because he is affectionate, he will be partial. She had no formal education in the past and only read fairy tale picture books, but when she sat in this position, she naturally adapted to her new identity and knew what to do.

Maybe it's because of the ancestral bloodline, maybe it's because of Yaxiu's influence, or maybe she also wants to be a good queen.

In short, without being brainwashed by the gods of the Gospel, Diya is like the Queen of Yisu in all dynasties, and she is a beautiful girl who is abstinent. It is extremely difficult to have power without being willful, not to mention that she has been imprisoned and suppressed for more than ten years in the past, and even Diya is not sure whether she can persevere.

But at the price, her relationships are completely stereotyped. Before leaving the tower, she was a princess that no one approached. After Yuji Gospel, she was a lonely queen. Only during the time at the funeral office did she have normal interpersonal relationships.

Annan Dolan, Panji Dolan, Ash Heath, Igula Borgin, Archibald Harvey... She valued them.

Therefore, she chose An Nan to be her spokesperson and established a government team to promote reform;

Not to mention Yaxiu, she has left a position for him to bring disaster to the country and the people. But for Igula, Diya's mood is very complicated.

She knew very well that Igula didn't like Liz, and from the beginning to the last time she left, the deceiver did not hide his disgust. However, he would braid Liz, buy clothes for Liz, and protect Liz.

Thinking of the high probability that Ashe will return to the gospel with Igula, Dia felt troubled.

Even if she is Her Majesty the Queen, if she really wants to shut Yaxiu from the small black house and prevent him from going to Fanxing, then the first obstacle she overcomes is not the sword princess, but the deceiver and the necromancer.

But even so, Deya sincerely hoped that Igula would come back safely.

Because Liz wants to see Aunt Borgin.

Because Yaxiu can't lose the cheater.

"and many more!"

"Don't kill first!"

Dia looked at Weisse in surprise.

She shouted stop without thinking at all, and only after shouting did she realize that she had no proper reason to save Igula. In order to maintain the power of keeping secrets, she could not reveal that she was Lisdia, and naturally she could not let Jian Ji know the importance of the deceiver to Ash.

And Igula is too keen, if she shows that Tuyuan takes care of him, maybe Igula can really guess it! If the time comes that the power to keep the secret is broken, Diya will cry without tears.

But since Wesser also called to stop, she must have a good reason, I just need to go along with her and save Igula!

However, at this time, Weisser seemed to have a calm face, but her mind had already turned around a thousand times.

She has to save the psychic, and it has nothing to do with friendship – there is no friendship between them – it's purely that the team in Asia's reality can't be without a psychic!

If it was replaced by a necromancer, Weisser might also consider it, after all, that guy's existence value is not high.

But the psychic is different. Without him, Yaxiu's real team would collapse in an instant. In addition, the Four Pillars of God and the Qinri Alliance will soon increase the intensity of the war. If there is no psychic to lead the team, Yaxiu and the others will most likely fall into the vortex of war!

It's just that Weisser also had no reason to save him!

The only reason she could give was that "he knew the viewer."

But who is he? Why do you know they know each other?

As long as she digs a little deeper, the sword princess will realize that she knows Yaxiu in reality, and then the identity of Yin Deng will not be hidden for long.

So, instead of saving him, I have to...

"Dream just wants to obliterate his soul, why not let him hand over all the magic spirits?" Weisser said, "Otherwise his magic spirits will also be obliterated by the dream, which would be too wasteful."

Sonia was stunned, "Should you strip a pig before killing someone?...Ah, stripping a pig is my hometown dialect, and the meaning is similar to knocking the bone and sucking the marrow."

"But he can't possibly be willing to hand over the magic spirit, right? He can make his own magic spirit self-destruct with a single thought. Sanctuary magicians are all smart people, unless a contract is signed to ensure his life safety, otherwise he will not give it up easily. Get out your life's accumulation."

Jian Ji paused and said, "Furthermore, killing someone for a soul is one thing, killing and looting is another. The former is for survival, while the latter is for selfish desires."

"Although it would be a waste if we didn't take his magic spirit, but for things like this, I..."

Sonia's face was very tangled: "...At least a few people have to be killed to complete the change in thinking."

Weisser's mouth twitched.

She suddenly realized that Jian Ji is probably the kind of selfish character who is easy to degenerate, and her inner moral bottom line is also very flexible. She belongs to the type that you don't need to push, and she will slide into the abyss. I don't know what Yaxiu did, not only to keep Jian Ji's innocence, but also...

Turn her into a person who can warm others.

"But don't we want to improve the dream and make it non-lethal?" Weisser said: "Maybe he got some unique magic spirits in the ghost inheritance, which can effectively improve this miracle."

Sonia hesitated for a moment, but still shook her head: "You are right just now, we have no choice but to kill, so don't have this kind of luck anymore."

But I didn't expect the first person to be killed was the Psion/Aunt Borgin!

Weisser and Dea deeply felt the invisible malice of fate.

Just as they were racking their brains to find a reason, Igula finally caught her breath and asked, "You want to improve a miracle... What spell faction?"

"Dream faction! A secondary spell developed by the mind faction and the soul faction!" Dia replied quickly, but quickly changed into a vicious tone: "The effect is to steal spell spirits by controlling dreams! If you can't Help, and you can only die!"

"I can help." Igula said, "I just got a ghost story, it's a miracle spell in the 34th level "Soul Dream Purple", which contains a few dream spells, I can take it out. "

"And my mind faction and soul faction have reached the level of the sanctuary, and should have the ability to improve miracles."

The three looked at each other, Sonia let go of him, frowned and said, "How could there be such a coincidence? Are you a fraudster?"

"It's really not that coincidental." Igula stood up against the wall and said softly, "Maybe there is a little bit of fate."

This morning, as always, Igula used the apocalypse after the bath.

In fact, the revelation magic has little effect on him now. Bi Jing has only one wing, and he is a three-winged magician. The destiny he carries has exceeded the observation limit of the revelation.

These days, the hints given by the apocalypse spirit are becoming more and more useless, to the extent that you may have a little benefit if you do it, and nothing will happen if you don't do it.

However, today's prompt was very strange, asking him to appease Ash. Originally, Igula didn't intend to pay attention, but Ash was in a low state during dinner, so he went to chat with Ash at night, only to find that they were having a pillow fight.

Originally, Igula was not so boring, but the black crow promised that he would not use any martial arts, and no one could resist this temptation, so everyone beat the black crow together, but the black crow still lost his armor and armor.

After that, Igula asked Yaxiu if he was okay, and Yaxiu said that he needed a little spiritual massage miracle because he was beaten by the black crow and his head hurt. At other times, the cheater didn't bother to pay attention to him, but for the sake of revelation, he gave him a nod.

Then Yaxiu was very moved, knocked on Igula's head, gave him a miracle of gain, and said it was "burning soul".

When Igula entered the Void Realm, he found a huge change in himself – he had only recently cultivated his soul to fifty souls, but tonight it suddenly skyrocketed to five hundred souls!

Tenfold!

Because of this, he was able to make it all the way to the 80th level and get the Ghost Story 'Soul Dream Purple!

He thought that this was the guidance of revelation.

Unexpectedly, the UU reading www.uukanshu.com guide has not ended.

Seeing Igula taking out a few dream spells, Sonia took Deya and Weise aside to discuss for a while, and then said seriously to him: "Then are you willing to help us improve the miracle spell? Time is very urgent, and if we find any tricks on your part, we will execute you immediately for safety's sake.

"But if you improve successfully, we'll let you go."

Igula raised her head and glanced at the red-haired female magician in front of her.

This isn't the first time they've met.

As early as in the arena of Time Continent, he and Harvey were killed by them once.

It's just that a long time has passed, and with so many things happening in the middle, Igula has forgotten about it.

So much so that when Yaxiu was influenced by the kaleidoscope and turned into the appearance of a red-haired female sorceress that had no resemblance to him at all, the fraudster didn't even think of it.

and...

He looked at the two female magicians behind Jian Ji, wondering who the other person who joined the love triangle was.

Or is it that Yaxiu is hiding it, it's not just a love triangle, but a love triangle?

This should be one of the secrets that Ashe hides, but he himself is not here, and it is vaguely revealed in their words that they kill to survive...

Igula was thinking a lot in her mind, but she didn't show it on her face. He looked at the red-haired female magician who could be seen every night in front of him, nodded and said:

"I accept your terms."

Chapter 667: God creation begins

"The next level is level 85, and there is a high probability that there will be a second ghost story!"

Mercury was getting more and more impatient as he checked the state of his soul.

The emergence of the ghost inheritance is a great opportunity for him. In order to inherit the dark art faction, the Mercury family integrated the blood of the Shadow Evil Dragon into the blood of the family. After a hundred years of screening, a stable blood inheritance was formed. In this case, it is still necessary to inquire about the best time through the Gospels to reproduce the clansmen in order to have normal children, otherwise the deformity rate will be as high as 80%.

In return, the Mercury people, in addition to having a natural affinity for dark arts, have a much higher rate of soul growth than ordinary people. Ordinary Mercury has three souls, ten silver souls, twenty-five gold souls, and fifty souls in the sanctuary!

It is precisely because the foundation of the soul is so solid that Mercury's dark arts are unstoppable, just as the martial arts system requires a strong physique as a foundation, and dark arts also require the soul as a medium for casting.

In fact, there is also a soul faction inheritance in the Mercury family, but it is incomplete, and it is used to cultivate the soul. In addition, although the Mercury people have a high rate of soul growth, they are not elves.

If you are not an elves, it is extremely difficult to enter the soul faction.

However, according to Mercury's investigation, although it is easier for elves to enter the soul faction, the souls of elves are more sensitive and fragile, so the cultivation of souls must be careful. Perhaps it is precisely because the soul is defective that the elves can perceive the soul keenly.

But in Gloomy Soul Heritage, Mercury's powerful soul is just like cheating. Not only does the use of soul magic increase, but many levels can be overcome! And the rewards obtained from the ghost inheritance also complemented Mercury's shortcomings in the soul faction, allowing him to improve almost a thousand miles!

So seeing the ghost inheritance under attack, Mercury was almost the most anxious group of people. He is very sure that he is the first echelon of ghost inheritance,

It may even be the seed player with the most probability to win the Ghost Legend!

If the ghost inheritance is torn down, it is almost impossible for him to take away the inheritance that belongs to him in the melee where the * master also ends!

“The current progress is a bit reluctant...but I’m afraid there are only two or three days left!” Mercury was ruthless: “Today at least advance to 90 levels, tomorrow will it be possible to take the lead in winning the ghost general biography!”

“The ghost story I got is good, but it doesn’t have the most critical concept! Maybe the concept is in the master biography, if I can get the master biography, it will be just around the corner!”

“At that time, the mere Gospel Kingdom, and that stinky queen...”

As Mercury pondered, the black mist flooded the hall. Facing the changes he had never seen before, although he was a little surprised, he still used the miracle of his soul to protect himself first, and a gauze like flowing water appeared on his body.

This is really the Ghost Story Miracle Sea Soul Clothes he got! With this miracle protection, almost all external influences can be weakened!

However, when the black mist dissipated, Mercury’s face changed dramatically!

In front of him, there are more than 20 corpses lying all over the ground!

And four mysterious people in black robes!

Hiss!

Before he could make any movement, the dazzling threads locked him firmly!

The next second, a sword was placed across his neck.

“You can try the ghost key first.” The man in black said, “Have you recognized your situation?”

Finding that he couldn't escape the ghost inheritance, Mercury quickly calmed down: “What do you want?”

“Show all the rumored rewards you got in Ghost Inheritance.” The man in black said, “We will pick out a magic spirit.”

“Then you will let me go?”

“Not only, we will also take most of your soul to repair the ghost inheritance.”

The man in black kicked the corpse on the ground' and said, “Then you become like them, and it takes hours to connect to the real body—but at least you survive.”

Repair Legacy! ?

Mercury's face was gloomy and uncertain, “Who are you? Why do you want to restore the ghost heritage?”

“Isn't this very simple? They think they can't compete, so they want to overturn the table and smash the ghost inheritance, so that they can grab the core reward. But since there is no competition, naturally there is also a fight.” The man in black said: “The test of the general biography has begun. In order to ensure the smooth progress of the test, the ghost inheritance cannot collapse during this time.

Mercury murmured, “Ghost legacy... is over?”

“It's still a little bit, but we have already controlled some of the authority of the ghost inheritance.” The man in black shrugged: “So you cooperate? If you don't cooperate, you will take away all your soul.”

Mercury smiled bitterly and said, "How can I trust you? Are there dozens of ghosts on the ground that you can trample to death at any time?"

"Just because we don't know which country you are from," said the man in black.

Mercury was stunned for a moment, then he understood their subtext and sighed, "Which * is behind you?"

"First tell me which country you are from." The man in black asked back, with a mocking tone: "Maybe we will let you go."

Of course Mercury dared not say so.

Yes, he has seen that the God Lord sent people to attack the ghost inheritance, so he should know that the ghost inheritance has long been determined by default. How could an ordinary sanctuary like him be involved in the ghost inheritance? He was complacent when he reached level 85, but he didn't know that the master player was already inheriting the master biography.

In order to ensure that their players can successfully inherit the legacy of the ghost prophet, the * lord even sent someone to take over the ghost inheritance, and extract the soul of the tester to repair the inheritance. Thinking about it carefully, only the Lord of the Gods can control the inheritance left by the demigods.

Therefore, it is also credible that this group of people does not kill people, because each country has many sanctuaries, and maybe they will kill their own sanctuary. If Mercury confessed that he was from the Gospel Kingdom, but there was no omniscient weaver behind the gang, he would surely be dead.

So Mercury sighed and showed the rewards he got in Ghost Legacy.

The man in black glanced at it, frowned and asked, "Where is the true story? We know how many rumored stories you have taken, and you have at least one true story in your hands now.

Mercury: "The real story I got is not a magic spirit or a miracle, just a piece of information."

“What information deserves a true story?”

“About the god-building rituals of the still gods.”

With a snap, Mercury fell back, almost transparent. An ignorant four-winged magic spirit flew out of his body and looked around in confusion, but was immediately caught by Sonia.

“This miracle has been very stable.” Igula lifted the black hood and pondered: “It has neither failed to cast nor stolen the wrong magic spirit, and there is no need to add, delete or modify it for the time being.”

These people in black are naturally Sonia, Dia, Weisser and Igula.

Because of the need for Igula to improve her spells, she naturally couldn't hide the desired effect. Knowing what they were going to do, Igula made three suggestions while improving the spell.

First of all, everyone has to wear a black camouflage. Not to mention anything else, in case of encountering an unfamiliar sanctuary with whom you have met once, should you kill or not?

Secondly, they have to disguise themselves as the subordinates of the God Lord. They do this to restore the legacy of ghosts, and their companions are already inheriting the legacy of ghosts.

In the end, they're going to steal part of the ghost legacy's reward from the victim.

“The reward of ghost inheritance is a pleasant surprise for them, and it will not damage their original magic system, so the loss of ghost reward is their comfort damage zone’.”

“Comfort-impaired zone?” Deya was a little puzzled.

Igula: “People don't really hate loss, and sometimes they need to rely on loss to gain a sense of security. For example, lovers will be willing to cater to each other's sexual fetishes, tolerate each other's unreasonable troubles, waste time to meet each other's meaningless needs, these are all To gain relationship security at the expense of one's own interests.”

“For another example, when a person is robbed, but the robber only needs a little money, then the victim will be grateful to the other party. This is because of the contrast with the expected huge loss, and the loss is within an acceptable range, so that Even though I lost my money, I still think I'm lucky', and even give up pursuing it.”

“As long as you step in the 'comfort zone', people will ask for anything from you.”

Except for Diya, Sonia and Weisser all listened thoughtfully. In fact, they have already explored similar theories in their life practice, but they have never been systematic. Now that they hear the secrets of an advanced fraud master like Igula, it is naturally of great benefit.

As for deceiving the tester's magic spirit, let alone Igula, all three of Sonia passed.

They may have to think about killing them, but there is no need to have a psychological burden for deceiving the magic spirit. The magician is a competitive relationship in the virtual realm. If you are deceived, you should reflect on yourself!

What's more, they are racking their brains to save the lives of these people, and what's wrong with charging you a magic spirit as a life-saving money?

However, they did not expect it to be so smooth.

Igula's mastery of the ghost story “Dream of Souls” can just match the first half of the “Dream” spell, increasing the rate of soul crushing while reducing the damage to the soul. It didn't take much effort to create a safe version of the dream.

The first five times were either a failure to cast spells or the inability to obtain the designated spell spirit, but they quickly got on the right track, and after several iterations of improvement, the new dream is now a miracle of sustainable leek harvesting.

So much so that Sonia and the others all started to act in a rush. Do you want to take the opportunity to steal a four-winged magic spirit for yourself? Like this opportunity to copy the virtual realm family may be this time, anyway, the dream demon gave them fifty places!

“Come here.”

Weisser suddenly greeted them and said, “This ritual of making a * of a still * is actually that simple.”

Igula stood aside, without passing. Diya glanced at him and said: “Incorporate the concept of ‘quietness’ into the body, and then carry the four-wing time lock, four-wing cut-off, and four-wing gray erosion magic spirit in the soul, enter the static domain and adhere to a white bull cycle, that is, Can create still spirits.

“Simple is simple.” Sonia said: “But without mentioning the concept of quietness, who can insist on a white bull cycle in the quiet area? Or is there a miracle of acting in the quiet area before?”

“The last step of the soul godhead flow is to bear the curse of the virtual world.” Weisser shook his head: “Even if there is a miracle, I’m afraid it can’t be used. The curse of the static domain is a necessary condition for the birth of the still god.”

“No wonder the flow of the soul and godhead will decline.” Sonia shrugged: “If the last step is the curse of the virtual realm that this magician can’t bear,

It’s weird that it’s still circulating to this day. ”

However, Weisser looked at Sonia thoughtfully, and the latter blinked, “What’s wrong?”

“Do you have the magic spirit you want?”

Weisser suddenly said: “It’s rare to have this kind of opportunity. If you don’t take advantage of it, it will be wasted. Let’s steal a few magic spirits we need.”

Igula slowly opened her eyes.

At this time, it was still dark outside Heipao Town, and he was still under the influence of the kaleidoscope. In his soul, not only is his magic spirit not lacking, but he also has a few more soul magic spirits.

The magic spirits that they coveted to steal naturally fell into the hands of the three of them. However, it was Igula's plan to deceive the magic spirits from the sanctuary magicians, and he helped improve the miracle spell, so they asked Igula to choose a few magic spirits from the deceived spirits as a reward.

Igula left her room, twisted Yaxiu's door and didn't open it, she took out the spare key and went in directly.

I saw the red-haired girl lying quietly on the bed, her expression calm and her lips slightly pursed, as if she was in a beautiful dream.

Igula walked to the bed, stared at him for a while, and said softly, "It's exactly the same."

"Does it look good?"

The distorted voice of the black crow came from the door, and he seemed to appear there suddenly. He was always so silent, so that the bad guys would sweat coldly and chill on their backs when they saw him.

But among them, Igula was not included.

"Why does it sound like you're showing off?" Igula said, "Or have you seen it many times?"

"He's worth showing off."

Igula's head was hurt by this injustice. She shook her head and turned to leave the room. When she passed by the black crow, she said, "Since you want to see it, you should keep an eye on him for the past two days and never leave the room."

Black Crow was silent for a moment, then asked sternly, "Where does the danger come from?"

Igula gave him a warning: "The danger comes from himself, from the virtual world that you can't reach."

When Igula left, Black Crow walked to Ash's bed and sat down, quietly looking at the floor.

Like a downcast crow.

In the golden hall, Yaxiu closed his eyes and stood up and greeted the returning teammates with his eyes.

"The spells on the list are all gathered." Sonia said loudly to the dream demon: "The non-list spells we got due to spellcasting errors,

Should be our own, right? "

"As long as you don't take away the magic spirits in the Nightmare Legacy, I'll ignore it," said the Dream Demon.

As soon as it lifted its hand, the magic spirits flew to the crystal walls on both sides of the golden hall. I saw a burst of light flickering in the crystal wall, which seemed to be a kind of detection miracle. After a few seconds, the dream demon said: "All the materials are ready."

"Create a god, start."

Chapter 668: change back

Boom!

In the golden hall, with a burst of light in front of him, Asher was shaking as if his body had been severely hit by a heavy hammer.

Even if the soul body did not bleed, he felt dizzy for a while, as if there were five hundred Lala fats screaming in his ears, and his vision was full of double images.

The six four-winged spirits fell to the ground, visibly exhausted and exhausted, and they didn't even have the strength to fly. The failure of the gathering of spirits just now not only caused heavy damage to Yaxiu, but also overwhelmed the magic spirits.

In the hall, except for Wesser, who was in a better condition, everyone else seemed to have not woken up, and their expressions were drowsy, like dolls. Even though it looks beautiful, it reveals an aura of decay,

They have been working twelve hours straight.

As soon as they started to create gods, they understood why only truth magicians could complete the virtual godhead.

The manufacturing method of the virtual godhead is easy to say, but extremely difficult, because it only has one step to gather spirits.

As mentioned before, although there are single faction magic spirits such as 'Zanjian', there are more complex faction magic spirits similar to wave swords, which belong to swordsmanship, but also contain factors of different factions such as light magic and wind magic. The proportions are different.

The so-called gathering of spirits is to extract the factors of the same faction from different magic spirits, and then combine them into fragments of the virtual godhead!

The dream demons cast 'Different Dreams from the Same Bed' to them is not simply to coerce them, because the same bed and different dreams are full of contamination from border dreams, which improves their sensitivity to dreams, so they can clearly distinguish the power of nightmares in different magic spirits.

For example, they are like graduates who have entered the dream company, and when they change jobs, they will know this place when they see keywords such as 'the team is young and energetic', 'providing afternoon tea, snacks and gym', fast pace of work, and salary negotiable. What a nightmare the company is.

Yaxiu and the others need to control multiple magic spirits at the same time, separate out the nightmare factors one by one, and then combine them into fragments and stuff them into the virtual gods maintained by the dream demons. It sounds like it's just a slow job, but the problem is that a piece is often composed of several, a dozen or even dozens of pieces!

Separation is extremely exhausting, and if the separation is not pure enough to contain impurity factors, it will cause a spirit gathering explosion! But if there are too few separated factors to form fragments of sufficient size, start all over again!

In essence, the gathering of spirits is equivalent to a miracle composed of multiple magic spirits. The failure of gathering spirits is equivalent to the backlash of the miracle, and it is not surprising to be severely injured.

The core demand ability of gathering spirits is naturally computing and processing ability. Not only is the truth magician good at this, but the truth magician is much more sensitive to the magic spirit factor than other magicians. Like Yaxiu, they are caused by the impure separation. Dozens of spirit gathering explosions, but Wesser only caused it twice!

You know, Ash and the others can only handle less than ten shards, and Weiser has always handled more than ten large shards, and the work efficiency is more than four times theirs. It can be seen that truth magicians are unique in this regard.

Although it was extremely difficult, this valuable experience also gave them a preliminary understanding of the wonders of the virtual godhead flow. Simply put, the building block magic spirit is the building block module, and the factor is the color of the building block. Put them together to assemble the godhead, and then put them together. Entering the concept, you can add the finishing touch and create a * that is exactly the same as the building blocks. The principle is not complicated, but how to design the building block diagram and what kind of magic spirit is needed, I am afraid that only the magician who has stepped into the realm of the gods can have a clue.

But compared to the soul godhead flow, the virtual godhead flow is indeed excellent—first, it can be completed by one person, second, there are no strict requirements for materials, all spells can be replaced, and third, avoid the curse of the virtual realm!

It can be seen from the fact that the last step of the ritual of static gods requires a period of time in the static domain. The curse of the imaginary realm encountered by the soul and godhead flow is a natural disaster that ordinary magicians can't get through – there is no chance even if you want to get through it. , Jingyu is exclusive to the Time Continent.

Not to mention how difficult it is for a demigod to return to the lower virtual realm, we know from the experience of the dream angel that if you want to create a * in the virtual realm, the biggest obstacle is other magicians!

It is worth mentioning that Yaxiu discovered the truth faction unknowingly. Obviously, the job of gathering spirits will accumulate truth experience, and then others will share some of it with him, and Wesser has been sharing experience with him. , now reaching the silver level is also a matter of course.

But it's already the limit.

Yaxiu looked at the operators and said, "Dream, we have to rest, even if we restore our soul energy, we can't hold on."

Sonia, Dia, and Visser all stopped and watched the nightmare silently.

Dream Demon naturally helps them restore their soul energy, otherwise they would have been exhausted and kicked out of the virtual realm long ago. But restoring the energy of the soul is not a panacea. They work 12 hours of high-intensity and boring work without any rest time in between, which is enough to cause them to have strong psychological discomfort.

Their souls were still strong, but the light in their eyes dimmed little by little.

However, in the face of such a reasonable request, the dream demon shook his head firmly: "No, I need to consume the source crystal to maintain the virtual godhead, and there is no way to stop it in the middle. Resting will cause a huge waste. Of course, the main body has prepared for you the miracle of restoring your spirits."

"But I need to go back to reality." Deya said, "I'll come back after I explain."

"No, Xu."

Suddenly, it was as if the whole body was full of needles and then rolled on the ground. The strong stinging pain penetrated their souls, causing them to bend down and gasp for breath, and almost lost consciousness!

"You are not allowed to leave here, you are not allowed to return to reality." The dream demon said word by word: "No one is allowed to leave until the end of the creation of gods."

Yaxiu glanced at the operator, stared at the dream demon and said: "But we have the curse of the same bed and different dreams, I stay as a hostage, even if they don't come back you can-"

"But you may leak your secrets to the outside world, resulting in the failure of the creation of the gods." Dream Demon said: "The mistakes made by the main body must not be repeated."

"As for your lack of concentration, I will solve it for you immediately."

I saw the dream demon pointed at Diya, and then a boiling water wave appeared on Diya's body, and a stream of air flowed into the other three along the connection of the same bed and different dreams.

Yaxiu felt very clearly that the thoughts in his mind exploded and his spirits were excited, as if the whole world became clear.

But the price was that the witch was almost kneeling on the ground, and her shoulders were shaking with pain!

“Stop!” Ash stood up to stand between the dream demon and the witch, roaring, “What are you doing!?”

“The transformation technique of the same bed and different dreams.” Dream Demon said: “This move can connect both the enemy, the allies, and even the enemy and oneself. When connecting with allies, it can consume the soul of one person and add powerful buffs to all allies. .”

“Essentially, this is consuming the target’s upper limit of soul and adding the upper limit of other people’s souls, so the target’s soul cannot return to normal temporarily.

However, it is cost-effective to consume one person to supplement the whole. ”

Sonia went to hug the witch, lowered her head to restrain her angry eyes, and said coldly, “Then let’s continue working, shall we?”

“No.” Dream Demon said: “Even if you don’t say it, when the truth magician also enters the slack period, I will launch this miracle to gain her soul. Your role is to make the truth magician persist to the end. ”

“Stop.” Ash said, “It’s my turn.”

Diya gritted her teeth and said, “Watcher, I, I don’t have one”

“Are you sure? Dream Demon said: “I confirm that she is the one with the highest soul limit between you, so I choose her first. ”

It is not surprising that the witch has the highest soul limit. She has multiple personalities tempered day and night. When she first entered the sanctuary, she had twenty-five souls, and now she has reached forty souls.

“Sure.”

Yaxiu quickly consumed 30 points to buy a set of source crystals, and then equipped with the Soul Stealing Manual to activate the effect “Burning Soul Map”!

With the bursting gust of wind, he instantly exploded from thirty souls to three hundred souls. The skyrocketing upper limit of souls made his soul body become more solid and clear, and his hair became clearer.

The dream demon was not surprised, just nodded and pointed to Ash.

boom!

The enormous pressure instantly bent Yaxiu’s waist, as if his soul was soaked in the pain of countless knives. That is, the soul body cannot sweat,

Otherwise, he must be sweating profusely!

He covered his mouth and tried to endure, straightened his back and tried to fight, but everything only made the pain clearer.

Soon, his consciousness began to collapse, and his mind began to go blank, replaced by a cold-blooded calm, and countless thoughts of collision.

The correct way to use the dream of the same bed is to connect the enemy and yourself, and then launch the dream on yourself, and even make the enemy cursed by the dream, but obviously the nightmare angel can be immune to nightmares...

The reason why the Angel of Jiangmeng failed was because he was betrayed, so the program he left for the dream demon emphasized that he was not allowed to leave the virtual realm...

The dream demon has never attacked before, I am afraid that the keyword "leave" triggered his built-in program, so there must be other dangerous and even deadly keywords. Visser watched Ash's profile from pain and gradually became calm. Her shoulders no longer trembled, the corners of her mouth were slightly upturned, and the light in her eyes became dark and incomprehensible. She immediately recognized that this was the spectator she once dreamed of, Yaxiu.

A more cold-blooded, calmer and more perfect existence than her!

Wei Hui did not expect that the hope that she had almost completely given up would appear in front of her eyes again. Almost subconsciously, she couldn't help but think about what would happen if Yaxiu really changed?

In the virtual realm, there is a perfect spectator Yaxiu leading the team, and the income is definitely double or even ten times the previous one! No one knows better than Wesser how powerful the perfect Yaxiu is. He didn't tap his potential at all in normal times!

In reality, if Ya Xiu changes, then she doesn't need to consider his psychological endurance. As long as he tells it frankly, he can become her ally. Moreover, although he wouldn't like her, he wouldn't like Sword Princess and Witch either, as long as he could tie him by his side...as long as...

Weisser took a shallow breath, but immediately pursed her lips with firm eyes, stood up and walked towards Ash.

It is clear that Yaxiu now is less afraid of pain and stronger than before, but Wei Hui is so sad, no matter how many reasons, she can't suppress that irrational thought!

Change me back!

So she rushed over, trying to reach out—a

“Viewer!”

Sonia held Ash in her arms, whispered softly in his ear, and rubbed his face affectionately. Diya also recovered from the pain just now, and could only hold Yaxiu’s hand, so anxious that she didn’t know how to help.

Weisser, who was a step slower, stopped outside, watching Yaxiu’s expression gradually regaining anger and even a hint of pain and happiness, and finally realized that he was right.

Ash’s experience in the Blood Moon and the Gospel was no safer than that of Sen Luo, and it was even more cruel and bloody. At any rate, Ash was a Sanctuary Warlock in Sen Luo, but he was a condemned prisoner in the Blood Moon and a slave in the Gospel.

There were too many reasons for him to change in the past, and if he had changed, he should have changed sooner.

But just like he pulled the fallen Sword Princess and protected the crazy witch, Sword Princess and the witch also pulled him back from the abyss.

They are a formed relationship of mutual redemption, and there is no room for others to intervene.

She actually felt that she could take Yaxiu away from them. Suddenly, Visser saw Jian Ji waving at her, and when she walked over, Jian Ji held her hand tightly, as if she wanted to show their oneness by doing this.

Your hand touched Ash’s face just now...

Just when Weiser was slightly distracted, she found Jian Ji writing on her palm.

It’s a “dangerous” word.

Weisser looked at Yaxiu, Yaxiu leaned against Jianji’s chest in pain, and gave her a look,

The inheritance of the alliance dream is extremely dangerous.

Although Ash was out of the long-lost spectator state, his thoughts in the spectator state did not dissipate. He suddenly realized a problem – a dream angel, a sorcerer!

Look at the other two warlocks, the King of Time and the Prophet of Ghosts. Although the former opens the Eternal City and does not prohibit the magic power of magic, a new rule has been added: the magician cannot destroy the magic within the Eternal City. , and cannot escape from the virtual realm.

To put it simply, even if the magician obtains the inheritance of time, he has to leave the Eternal City the same way to return to reality. In the process, he dies, and the explosion rate is 100%. If he wants to destroy his magic spirit, it is not cheap. Even the enemy can't do it. arrive!

It is conceivable how serious the fighting in the Eternal City is, and the difficulty of the Eternal City itself is not low. It is conservatively estimated that at least nearly 10,000 Wingmen have died in the Eternal City this month!

And this is what the King of Time wants – he is not a real race, but an ancient elf who hates magicians. Although I don't know why he left the inheritance, I definitely hope that the real artist will suffer heavy casualties!

As for the ghost prophet, it is even more explicit, pretending to give out the ghost secret key' this kind of escape item, once the magician begins to boldly enter the level, he will encounter the death level of soul dream purple and rejuvenation, and he can't even escape!

The Ghost Prophet knew that the sanctuary magicians were all human beings, and in order to seduce them to take risks, they would design sweetness in the front, in order to make the younger magicians die tragically.

This is a very normal brain circuit: they are originally sorcerers who harm others and benefit themselves. If it is not the end of the day, and there is no successor, how can they leave an inheritance? But even so, it is impossible for them to make the younger generation feel better, and even for the heirs who can obtain their own inheritance, they will most likely set up dangerous organs.

The reason only needs three words: why?

Why do I have to die while you get my inheritance?

Yes, I have to stay, but how can I vent my grievances without letting you suffer?

In contrast, Limeng Inheritance is surprisingly loose!

There is no test, they come to earn it, and they also give away the gods and the kingdom of heaven, and their own life is not enough. Although the dream is a little cruel,

But Bi Jing is an outsider, so don't ask too much from the Nightmare Angel.

Just when Yaxiu thought that the dream angel had found out in his conscience before he died, the dream demon's behavior just now completely shattered his extravagant hopes.

Setting torture keywords and consuming their souls to ensure the continuity of the truth magician, these behaviors prove that the nightmare angel is still bad and pus before death, and it is not good for the younger magician to torture, kill and abuse them at every turn!

If Angel Limeng is a good person, even if Diya said something wrong, just give a warning, why bother? If the Angel of Jiangmeng is a loving elder who retains the temperament of the sorcerer, then he can also grab someone from the ghost inheritance and use them as a soul fueler, how can they be directly used as consumables?

The most important thing is that from the beginning to the end, the dream demons did not regard them as descendants, but regarded them as truth magicians and consumable props, and the painted cakes could not even be smelled!

Since the Nightmare Angels are bad people, but they are so generous in giving them the inheritance, it can only prove that this inheritance is delusional.

At least, they are definitely not the real beneficiaries of Limeng inheritance!

Only in this way can the generosity and cruelty of Angel Limeng be explained. For the tool people, of course, they must give them the tools generously and urge them brutally!

If they really create gods honestly, they will be busy in vain, or they will be eradicated by the new grass of the dream demon!

But Yaxiu couldn't say it clearly, most of the angels in Jiangmeng set up relevant keywords, UU reading www.uukanshu.com will definitely destroy them once they touch the snake and commit the dream demon.

Weisser pondered for a moment and glanced at Yaxiu's hand on Jian Ji's thigh, but in the end she still wrote a few words on Jian Ji's palm.

Sonia was a little confused, but she conveyed it to Ash.

Ash frowned slightly, but immediately eased away and reached out to Wesser.

The two clenched tightly, and Sonia sat in the middle and put her hands on it. Diya looked interesting, so she also put it on it.

After a while, Nightmare suddenly said, "Five minutes, keep working."

Sonia looked at Yaxiu in her arms, and there was a question in Ruby's eyes, little kid, what's the matter with you? You were in pain five minutes ago?

Yaxiu hugged her shamelessly, and took a deep breath against her neck.

This is the first time to do such an intimate gesture in front of everyone. The Sword Saint stretched out his claws and blushed a little embarrassedly, but he still reached out and hugged him back.

However, when she saw that Yaxiu also hugged the witch, the smile on the village girl's face quickly faded.

However, at this moment, the Golden Hall suddenly shook.

Everyone looked up at the ceiling, their faces changed drastically. The dream demon had no expression at all, but urged again: "Start work."

Outside, Igula, who had rested, returned to the remote airspace again.

He looked at the dense black dots clustered around the golden bubble with a grim expression:

"Can only delay until now?"

Chapter 669: Attack Ghost Legacy

"Captain Gerald, I finally meet you.

The white-haired hunter turned his head and saw a blood-eyed nun who was wearing a black nun's uniform, but the high fork was open to the bottom of the thigh.

But Gerald didn't dare to underestimate this woman, he nodded politely and said, "Good day, Deputy Director Serai."

“It’s the deputy director of Serey’s Cry of Blood. She reached out and pinched Gerald’s nose, and said seriously: “If I want to emphasize that it’s a cry of blood, this is the only thing I can be proud of! ”

Regarding the preferences for titles, the Blood Moon is almost different from other countries. Magicians from other countries basically have exclusive titles when they arrive at Sanctuary Legends, which may be folk rumors or official certifications, but at least they are nicknames that reflect their personal characteristics.

Only the blood moon, because the blood moon extreme master requires the blood saint moon shadow to be hidden in the city, and the title of arrogant bang obviously violates this principle. At the same time, the powerhouses of the blood moon clan basically have various positions, such as the captain of the hunter, the director of the hospital, the director of the research institute, the priest of the church, etc., so everyone called the title instead of the name, and gradually formed a custom.

Just from her position, you can see how powerful this woman who pretends to be a nun is. Blood Cry is one of the four research institutes of the Blood Moon. It specializes in mechanical and biological reproductions. 8% of human beings in the country need to be transformed. Using their patents, the Blood Cry Institute’s gross production is even higher than the city of Kemon.

Although they are both Blood Saint Three Wings, Gerald, the hunter captain who fights and kills, is obviously far inferior to Se Lei.

“My junior girl is taken care of by you.” Se Lei put her hands on her chest. “I just asked my old classmate to ask, but I didn’t expect you to go to the hospital to take care of her often.”

Gerald was a little embarrassed: “This...

“You should be there to take care of my junior girl? Instead of going to see that disabled girl named Serena, right?” Sele nodded her lips and said:

“Otherwise, it would be strange. You are the captain of the blood mad hunter, and the disabled girl is from a foreign country who needs to be eliminated. I have been thinking about whether to help the junior girl solve this trouble for the past two days...”

Gerald's expression restrained, and he looked at her quietly.

Se Lei suddenly burst into laughter and patted Gerald's chest hard: "Don't be so fierce, old classmate, you scared me! You and my junior love that disabled girl so much, how could I break your toys? What? I believe in the most benevolent and kind-hearted Blood Moon Supreme Lord, and a serious pastor certified by the Most Love Church!"

"Then, please continue to take care of my junior sister~"

"You really care about her."

"Of course, that's my dearest elementary school girl~" Se Lei turned around, holding her cheeks in her hands, her cheeks showed a crimson-like aftertaste: "Those red lips, egg-white-like cheeks, Jelly-like eyeballs, smooth and soft tongue..."

Suddenly, both of them felt a burst of blood boiling in their bodies. The soul body naturally has no blood, but they have the blood of the spell condensed through the blood embracing ceremony. When they enter the virtual realm, they will impregnate their soul and simulate the effect of blood.

Following the guidance of the blood, they saw a flash of blood above them. When they flew over, dozens of Sanctuaries had gathered there, including the shadowy blood saints and the cute and energetic Moon Shadow Wolves, and the number was still increasing!

The Moon Shadow Clan is good at creating atmosphere, and many blood saints are also talkative, so the air is chattering non-stop, in the distant airspace,

This is also a rare sight.

Half an hour later, a voice gently sounded in their souls, boiling their blood and stimulating their tails!

"Quiet."

The Blood Moon Sanctuary looked over and saw a hunched back, dressed in white clothes and jeans, as if a depressed black-haired youth who had just walked out of the bedroom slowly walked into the blood. If you look closely, you will find him Only one eye is bloody, and the other is black!

I saw him saying feebly: "I am the deputy director of Blood Crime, and I am a prisoner, Gu Yinduo. The Extreme Lord of the Blood Moon asked me to take charge of this operation, and I must break through the dream kingdom within three days."

"It's actually him?"

"It turns out that the prison looks like this..."

"Wow, can I go over and get an autograph?"

After listening to the self-introduction of the depressed youth, everyone was amazed. Among the four major research institutes, the Blood Crime Research Institute is the most mysterious, because they study killing, plague, curse and death! The Blood Crime Research Institute is also extremely strict in its income. Everyone only knows the names of their directors and deputy directors, and they don't know any other information!

At this time, the prisoner looked into the distance and scratched his head: "It seems that the people who want to solve the problem quickly are not only the extremist, it's troublesome."

Gerald followed his line of sight, only to see a black spot in the sky.

"It's the magician of the paradise." I don't know what miracle Se Lei used to observe the distance, and said: "The music master is really greedy, obviously the magician is the descendant of the ancient elves, and the inheritance of time is almost for nothing. Give them paradise, and now come to grab the inheritance of ghost souls"

"Your news is not very well-informed." Gerald said calmly: "It is said that the three female magicians who are most likely to win the inheritance of time now, but the combination is very strange, one blood saint, one Veela, one human being..."

“In other words, the inheritance of time is going to fall into the hands of our Blood Moon? It’s great.” Se Lei clapped her hands lightly, causing the White Rabbit to frown: “However, Veela, Blood Saint... I remember that the school girl received one. A Veela student.”

Gerald thought for a while: “But that Veela college student only became a magician four months ago, so how could he be in the Time Continent now.”

Se Lei nodded after thinking about it, “That’s right, Siflin also only became a two-winged magician more than two months ago, and the golden wings haven’t condensed yet, right?”

Prison Bai said: “The curse elves of Paradise and the parasitic magicians of Diyuan are all gathering. At least three forces want to compete for the inheritance of ghosts, and I haven’t mentioned the wandering soldiers outside... I will depend on your bravery later.”

The Moon Shadow priests sang in unison: “The blood moon has come, and we will finally be reunited in the Promised Land.”

“Then...” Bai Prison put two thumbs in his mouth and bit them, and he actually bit out purple blood! His thumbs rotated in the air, and in three seconds he drew a complex compass pattern, and then he swiped his hands outward, and the pattern quickly expanded to cover all the Blood Moon Sanctuary!

“Don’t resist, tick “I agree to the above agreement.” The feeble voice of Prison Worship reveals a sense of holiness at this moment: “The time of death has come, the twins repair all things; the time of dripping blood has come, and the maid activates all phenomena; the time of decay has come, and the priest awakens all spirits...”

“Miracle Blood Moon Alliance!”

The invisible connection connects the Blood Moon Sanctuary. Prison Worship takes the Sanctuaries to fly to the blood-colored lightning bolt inserted in the huge golden bubble, stretches out his hand to it, and the blood-colored lightning actually shrinks and falls on his hand!

Many magicians think that the blood-colored lightning is the handwriting of the Lord of God, but it is not.

Even if it is the Lord of God, it is difficult to apply power to the distant airspace, and mortals will never be able to imagine how solid the moat is in the virtual realm.

However, a miracle of this scale can be accomplished with the help of the small props given by the Lord and with dozens of sanctuary magicians, on the premise that their powers can be completely unified!

“drink!”

Prison Bai straightened his back, and his body suddenly became much taller. He shouted loudly, and the rainbow magic power that dominated all the Blood Moon Sanctuary was poured into blood-colored lightning!

After the level of blood art is high, there is an unknown hidden feature: the curse of blood!

No matter what it is, as long as it is continuously damaged by blood, and the blood is covered and thickened, it can continuously reduce its resistance to blood. The reason why the blood moon magicians let this lightning stick in the golden bubble for a long time is to leave enough blood on it!

Originally, the accumulation of bloodstains has not yet reached the limit, but there seems to be a situation in the ghost inheritance. The Supreme Lord personally ordered it, and it can only be activated in advance!

I saw a ray of blood almost shining in the entire distant airspace, and all the observing magicians felt that their eyeballs were about to burn, and then there was a rumbling sound of thunder and fire!

Snapped!

The blood-colored lightning inserted into the golden bubble again, which seemed to be no different from before.

When the blood-colored lightning was withdrawn by the prisoner, the golden bubble that should have recovered immediately, now revealed a small mouth that was crooked like a finger.

But this small mouth is enough to become the root cause of the collapse of the heaven in the dream!

“Restore the magic power.” Bai Prison said: “Prepare to attack.”

“Can we just delay until now...”

Igula watched as the golden bubbles made various earth-shattering sounds one after another, her face sinking like water.

In the ghost inheritance, he suggested that Yaxiu’s friend deceived the Sanctuary Warlock not simply to deceive the magic spirit, but more importantly, to delay time.

Sanctuary magicians are important figures in any country. Once they die, they will definitely be investigated in detail, not to mention that it is the inheritance period. The death of a sanctuary magician is often related to the inheritance of ghosts, so it is strange that they are not investigated.

Other countries don’t know, but Igula knows that the Blood Moon Kingdom has a miracle of “reappearance of death”, and other countries should also have it. That is to say, once the sanctuary magicians are killed with their dreams, they will soon expose the ghosts to be controlled by others.

If you don’t kill the Sanctuary Warlock, but only consume a little bit of their souls, you can make them lie in bed and unable to move for half a month. And this kind of heavy damage is normal. As long as they don’t say it, the secret of ghost inheritance can continue to be hidden.

Even if they say it, they will think that a certain * is occupying the inheritance. Is this * who belongs to our country? This back and forth inquiries,

It will take a lot of time.

If you are lucky, maybe when Yaxiu returns, the gods will not find out that the ghost inheritance has been stolen. But Igula underestimated the importance attached by the gods to the inheritance of ghosts. It must be known that those sanctuary magicians also waited a few hours to be kicked back to reality, which means that it only took about six hours for the gods of various countries to know that the inheritance of ghosts has been People jumped first, and mobilized the sanctuary combat power to compete!

So, should I...

Just as Igula was thinking about it, he suddenly heard a distant greeting.

“Mr. Borgin, this way!”

Igula turned her head and saw a flame orc flying over.

Chikala! ?

“We’re still thinking about how to find you. UU Reading www.uukanshu.com didn’t expect to see you in the blink of an eye, which means we should get this vote!”

Igula raised his eyebrows: “You?”

“Mr. Harvey and I,” Chikara said, “and a group of like-minded friends I just met!”

“What good friend?”

“I want to find a chance to rush into the dream kingdom to grab a wave of good friends!” Chikara’s simple and honest face was full of slyness: “They rush in to eat meat, so it’s okay for us to follow behind to pick up junk? Of course, if we are lucky Well, it’s not impossible for us to eat meat. How about Mr. Borgin,

I heard that you used to be a comrade who robbed a family. Are you interested? ”

“Don’t compare my noble cause of helping people realize their wishes with your unskilled family robbery.” Igula pondered:

“However, if you and Harvey are both here...”

After thinking for a moment, a sweet smile slowly appeared on the face of the fraudster: “I’m very interested.”

“Agreed in advance, you are not allowed to order me to turn in the things I grabbed in the ghost inheritance this time!”

“How could I be attracted to your things? It’s just that I was afraid that you would get carried away, so I took a few of your magic spirits and kept them for you for the time being, and I will return them to you later.”

The orc widened his eyes: “Will it really be returned?”

“Really, when I feel you become more stable, you won’t return it at all.”

Chapter 670: haunted

Half an hour later, a once-in-a-thousand-year wonder appeared in the distant airspace.

The sanctuary magicians who should have been divided into countless bubbles to explore, but now gathered in one place.

Huanghuang almost two thousand magicians spread out the sanctuary, floating in the air, and as time passed, many more magicians came quickly with three wings.

A stone stirred up a thousand waves.

The news of the blood moon magician breaking the dream kingdom broke out like a plague, spreading across the six kingdoms at the speed of seconds.

Whether you are an important mayor in the Gospel Kingdom, a high-ranking sect in the Senluo Kingdom, an aristocratic professor in the Starry Kingdom, or an obscure monastery, unless you have been hit hard before or haven't received any news, you are all rushing to the scene at this moment without exception. This unprecedented feast of disputes.

Every magician who rushed over, looking at the thousands of Sanctuary clusters outside the golden bubble, could hardly suppress the stirring emotions in their hearts.

Obviously they didn't grab anything, but this scene alone is enough to make them unforgettable for a lifetime – this should be the only time in their life that they have seen the most sacred areas.

At this moment, they finally understood how heavy the sentence "The virtual world is the hometown of all magicians".

Blood Moon, Stars, Senluo, Paradise, Earth Abyss, Gospel!

The huge movement caused by the blood moon sanctuary in the virtual realm made the sanctuary all over the world rush in within half an hour!

The six kingdoms of magicians gather!

Even a sanctuary magician, it is difficult to leave his own country in his life. For them, the magicians of other countries are like distant fairy tales,

The stories in the novels, the virtual characters behind the screen, are existences that are known but inaccessible.

In the sea of knowledge, the white fog shrouded, and the one-wing magician traveled thousands of miles, and it was normal that he did not encounter other magicians.

In the Time Continent, where the golden rain is hidden and dangers are looming, even if the two-wing magician can meet other magicians, unless they know each other, they will basically stay away from it quickly to keep safe.

Not to mention in the distant airspace, the magicians are divided into bubbles, and the number of bubbles is more than 10,000? The probability of this encounter is lower than that of the Time Continent.

However, starting from the Sanctuary, if the magicians meet, it is indeed closer to the atmosphere of communication, and it is rare that they will fight as soon as they meet, because they cannot be killed.

Sanctuary is a sense of security, and a sense of security is the premise of equal communication.

If you are replaced by multiple two-winged magicians to meet in the Time Continent, they will definitely prepare for the defense miracle as soon as possible. If there is no defense miracle, they will hide. It's not bad if they don't fight.

Some people may be surprised. As for magicians, they will be wary of others. Is it impossible for both parties to be good people? It is true that most magicians are ordinary people who obey the rules in reality, but when they enter the virtual realm, it is difficult to say.

The virtual realm has two characteristics: log in and out at any time, and it is difficult to track reality from the virtual realm.

To put it simply, if you hack someone in the virtual realm, even if you don't kill him, others can't do anything to you. After all, you may only meet this time in your life.

An anonymous, unruly, non-reality-influenced area, if it were to appear online, would be an unquestionable troll cesspool.

And since time immemorial, the virtual world has always been like this.

Even if you are an ordinary person who has never slaughtered Lalafa in reality and will mourn when you see a stranger die, but when you meet other magicians in the virtual world, you suddenly have bad thoughts and want to try to kill him, it's nothing. Strange thing, no one cares about you anyway.

Moreover, even if you don't have this idea, how can you guarantee that the other party doesn't have this idea?

Not to mention that there are many other factors. If you are a Gospel elf magician, and the other party happens to be a blood moon goblin magician who is persecuted by society,

You have never discriminated against goblins in your life, but you were hunted down by goblins because of the Blood Moon social system.

In addition, killing the magician is actually profitable. Normally, even if the magician is killed, he will only lose his soul, and will not die completely. And in the soul he lost, there is a high probability that there will be magic spirits, which are the spoils of war.

The first and second floors of the virtual world are a dark forest where everyone can hunt each other without any punishment.

But on the third floor, the appearance of the Sanctuary changed everything. The absolute barrier that cannot be broken quickly allows trust to sprout and malice to dissipate.

The wandering soldiers gathered bravely to discuss the formation of a team, and even faintly hostile to the magician troops who came on behalf of the gods, because of the courage given by the sanctuary.

No matter what happens, they believe that the Sanctuary can block one or two, and then they have a chance to escape and fight back!

Retreat is the most abundant capital of adventure!

As a result, there was a grand scene of two thousand Sanctuary magicians staring at each other.

At present, the remote airspace can be divided into four clusters in total: Blood Moon Sanctuary, Paradise Sanctuary, Earth Abyss Sanctuary, and all other Sanctuaries.

The first three are about 100 people, while the last others have 2,000 people!

However, the other 2,000 Sanctuaries did not even have a team of more than ten people, let alone lead the team. Many were small teams of three, three or five, and more were lone wolves acting alone. Not to mention fighting, if they encounter valuable treasures, they will be able to fight first, but it seems like a huge gathering together.

They are like a flock of vultures that cover the sky, waiting for the leftovers left by the lions, but if the lion is injured, they don't mind putting the gods in disgrace.

Therefore, Prison Worship didn't care about these rabble at all. He stared at the cursed elves and parasitic magicians in the distance, scratched his hair like a bird's nest, and squeezed the red lightning with his right hand: "Extreme Lord didn't tell me that there was still a confrontation."

At this time, the curse spirit walked out of a female magician. Like ordinary elves, cursed elves have long, pointed ears, except that their complexion is paler.

The biggest difference between cursed elves and ordinary elves is the snake hair.

Like this elegantly dressed female curse elf, there are nine bronze snake hairs that seem to have independent will, slightly sticking out their tongues, watching the prison with the main body.

"Dumb curse." Her voice was not loud, but everyone within a kilometer radius could clearly hear her soft, slow voice.

A young man wearing a mask also walked out from the parasitic magician, and his whole body was shrouded in clothes: "Bad omen."

“Blood sin.” Bai Prison randomly gave himself a code name: “The order given to us by the Supreme Lord is to seize the inheritance of ghosts and the kingdom of heaven in our dreams. I wonder if the two of you can be accommodating? If possible, I would like to work less overtime.”

The turbid mantra said slowly: “We are the same.”

“I haven’t even seen the prizes. Is it too early to start a fight? Anyway, let’s peel the dream kingdom into cute ones first.” The bad omen looked at the rabble in the distance, who were staring at him and said, “And there are so many queues. If we fight, maybe they will find an opportunity to attack us who represent the Lord of God. Believe me, no one can resist the temptation to blaspheme the sacred and trample the nobility.”

Prison worship is also unwilling to lead to many twists and turns: “Then advance to the kingdom of heaven, and then use your own abilities.”

“Qing, field?” Turbidity Mantra asked.

“Wow, what a cruel elf, I like it.” The evil omen laughed and expressed the agreement of the parasitic magicians.

However, Prison Worship categorically refused: “Blood Moon does not participate in indiscriminate killing,”

This is not a situation where a few obey the majority. If you want to clear the field, you must act at the same time, otherwise when the two sides are fighting with the peripheral magician,

The Blood Moon Sanctuary suddenly attacked them from behind, so they could completely withdraw from the ghost competition.

Now that the Blood Moon has been rejected by one vote, the evil omens and turbid curses are no longer insistent.

Worshiping prison put away the red lightning and quietly watched them. As soon as they wanted to participate in this feast, please show their qualifications first, as the mere 100 famous sanctuaries could not reach the threshold.

Moreover, if the evil omen and the turbid don't have a miracle in their hands, there is no need to share it with them. After all, the red lightning in his hand can be used again, which is an unbearable blow to any party.

The Turbid Curse raised her hand, and a fiery orange giant bow appeared in her hand. In the age of gunshots, bows and arrows were quite unfamiliar to most magicians.

At the same time, the snake hairs of the curse elves stuck their tongues out and screamed, and the snake eyes glowed with orange light, staring at the turbid curse at the forefront. Similar to the Blood Moon Alliance, the way the curse elves unify the power of the Sanctuary is also through the blood of the same family!

A few seconds later, the orange giant bow quickly expanded to a length of 100 meters, and the giant arrow in the hand of the Turbid Curse became as big as the blood-colored lightning of the prison. That strong and dazzling light, just staring at it can make the retina burn, and the Sanctuary Warlock has to look away!

Miracle · Glory Light Arrow!

The sound of the giant arrow breaking through the air vibrated, causing ripples on the magician's sanctuary!

boom!

The giant arrow accurately hit the finger hole in the golden bubble, expanding it to the size of the torso!

"It's time for me to perform an expansion operation for the lovely dream kingdom." The evil omen pointed casually, and the hole in the golden bubble was suddenly filled with emerald jade, and then the green color continued to spread until it burst into a hole for two people to enter. !

The miracle is infinite!

Both the Prison Worship and the Turbid Mantra narrowed their eyes slightly—there was no chanting steps, no flying distance, or even the power to unify other holy domains. The evil omen was almost instantaneous.

The only disadvantage is that the damage range is small, unlike the blood-colored lightning and the orange giant arrow, which can become group attack mode, but it does not rule out that there will be group attack changes.

At this time, Prison Bail let a Moon Shadow Sanctuary go to the entrance of the cave to test. Moon Shadow Sanctuary tried it near the entrance of the cave, made a V gesture towards the prison, and said happily: “There is no limit to the one-wing spell, the two-wing spell increases the mana consumption by 50%, and the three-wing spell increases by 100%. % mana consumption, and can drive up to three magic spirits at the same time!”

“The kingdom of heaven in the dream is broken after all. Even if the ghost prophet tinkers and adds many seals, once it is broken, it will not be able to maintain the suppression of the magic spirit.” Bai Prison recalled the information given by the extreme master, and led the Blood Moon Sanctuary to take the lead. Enter the ghost heritage.

Cursed elves and parasitic magicians followed closely.

After they entered, various voices immediately sounded in the peripheral magicians who were about to move:

“The kingdom of heaven is so big in the dream, they can’t * it clean, and the leftovers are enough for us to eat, right?”

“If Ghost Prophet also set up other traps, they must have helped us get rid of it.”

“They are the magicians favored by the Lord. Even if there is no ghost inheritance, they can know how to reach the Ruby Mountain and go to the next level. But if we miss the ghost inheritance, we will never be able to reach the Ruby Mountain!”

“The gods have already reached the state of supremacy, why are they still robbing us of the ghost inheritance? Half-god inheritance, everyone has the right to share, how can they be swallowed?”

“Break the inheritance monopoly!”

When the first person rushed into the entrance of the cave, the sanctuary magicians were completely boiling, and they rushed forward one after another into the dream paradise!

“Mr. Borgin is amazing!” Chikara looked at Igula who came back, and exclaimed: “You actually incited all the sanctuary magicians! Haha, with them as cannon fodder, we will concentrate on seeing who picks them up from the back. It’s okay to rob when the good stuff is there!”

“How is that possible.” Igula said calmly: “Although spiritual miracles using sound as a medium are easier to penetrate the sanctuary than other miracles, they are not effective for thousands of sanctuaries... If I am not wrong, at least just now Dozens of spiritual sanctuaries are performing miracles, so it is so easy to arouse the greed and anger of others.”

“There are many people who have the same thoughts as us...”

Thinking of casting spells in a tacit understanding with other spiritual sanctuaries, Igula couldn’t help but stir up – he was born to be a fraudster who yearns for a big stage and a big scene, and at this moment, the six kingdoms sanctuary gathered in the remote airspace, this temptation to To him it was like an ancient battlefield to Harvey!

But Igula quickly calmed down, because the real challenge began now.

Harvey looked around and said thoughtfully, “Axiu has been in the virtual world for more than ten hours.”

“Let’s go.” Igula said directly without answering Harvey’s question.

The necromancer glanced at the deceiver and nodded.

Igula, Harvey, and Chikara entered the dream kingdom from the entrance of the cave, and the light turned from bright to dark.

In the dream kingdom of heaven, it is a huge world that is completely dark. But what is very amazing is that the vision of the magicians is very clear, and the edges of all objects are outlined with white borders, and the world seems to be a simple stroke of white lines on a black background.

In the darkness, countless huge black * are moving disorderly at high speed!

boom!

When Igula came in, he saw a sanctuary magician being blasted 100 meters away because he hit a black ball!

Now the Sanctuary Warlocks are trying to get as close to the edge as possible to avoid the high-speed sprint of the black ball!

However, Blood Moon Sanctuary, Curse Elf and Parasitic Magician are all attacking the same black ball. I don't know what miracle they used, but they were stunned to delay the high-speed black ball, and then bombarded with miracles. its broken!

When the black ball collapsed, dozens of spell spirits and experience light groups couldn't wait to escape from it. They took a closer look and found that inside the black ball was the underground hall of trials that they were very familiar with!

Although the gods and masters immediately kept these rewards, some of the auras leaked out and were grabbed by the peripheral masters.

“There is a ghost inheritance hidden in the black ball!”

“Breaking the black ball will reveal all the rewards inside!”

Sanctuary magicians are all excited, they can only get a reward after passing a trial, and it is very likely that they are temporary magic spirits. And now you can directly grab the reward by hitting the black ball, and there are hundreds of black * here, and each black ball hides hundreds of rewards!

In the eyes, there may be a ghost story, a true story, and even a general story!

Compared with the excited peripheral magicians, the faces of the three people who worshiped the prison, the curse, and the bad omens were extremely ugly! They observed the other black orbs and finally found the trap left by the Ghost Prophet.

“As expected of a ghost prophet,” Bai Prison said with a wry smile, “We’re in big trouble now.”

Ghost Prophet absolutely expected that someone would storm the dream kingdom to * the inheritance, so they had been very careful about the prison, but they did not expect that Ghost Prophet would be so ingenious—

After the black ball is destroyed, the energy inside will be integrated into other black balls, increasing the size and speed of the black ball!

When they destroy enough black balls, the speed of the remaining black * will be increased to an exaggerated speed, even if they have a sanctuary, they will be knocked into a daze, and it is difficult to compete!

The black ball is probably a fragment of the heaven in the dream, so it can be fully reorganized. In other words, they are not only fighting against the ghost prophet, but also against the power of the virtual realm!

And this is only the first layer of traps, the ghost prophet has the second layer and the third layer waiting for them!

But they can’t solve it, and they can’t avoid it!

Because the ghost inheritance is in the black ball, unless they can directly find the general pass, they have to hit the black * one by one!

Even if they have prophecy miracles that they can find slowly, there are still two thousand greedy sanctuaries next to them!

These people just want to get a wave and run away, and if they can't grab the master pass, they won't be able to grab it. How could they obediently stop and not grab the master pass so that they can successfully grab the master pass?

God lord big sun ah?

This black ball trap, which perfectly uses greed and short-sightedness, shows that the ghost prophet has insight into people's hearts.

But it is not without good news. They found that the extra mana consumption of the two-winged and three-winged magic spirits has been reduced. The black ball is a fragment of the dream kingdom. Breaking the black ball is equivalent to continuing to damage the dream kingdom. The further back they are, the less they are suppressed.

Prison worship, turbid mantra, and bad omens looked at each other and nodded, "Do it."

Three-way Sanctuary, once again slowing down a black ball to attack!

Chikara and Harvey looked at Igula, and Igula looked at the outer sanctuaries who were attacking three or four black * in groups of four hundred. Although there are still many black balls, the output of the Sanctuary is also high, not to mention the powerful miracles of the gods and masters, and the fall of the heaven in the dream has become a reality.

The deceiver knew that Yaxiu and others were inside the black ball, so what he had to do was to stop the sanctuaries from attacking the black ball.

But this is a stupid move against the general trend. Now that the Sanctuaries are busy grabbing the inheritance of ghosts, who would want to stop?

So, he wants to create another trend...

Thinking of this, Igula motioned for Harvey and Chikara to follow him, and then they stopped at a place not far from the master magicians. When the master magician broke the black ball, they rushed over to pick up the leak, and then quickly retreated to avoid being chased by the master magician.

If it were a mob, someone would definitely hunt down the three of Igula, but the master magician is now led by the three people who worship the prison, the turbid curse, and the bad omen. Of course, the three of them are not willing to take advantage of these flies.

But soon, they learned that the consequence of not killing the flies quickly is to attract a large group of flies.

After noticing the actions of the three of Igula, there were more and more sanctuaries waiting to pick up the leaks outside.

They watched the master magician attack the black ball, UU reading www. uukanshu.com is like the diners waiting for the chef to serve their dishes, and the students waiting for the homework teacher to deliver their homework. Wait for the black ball to break,

They immediately rushed over to pick up the prostitutes, then quickly backed away and waited for the next one.

This is really too much. They couldn't bear the prison, so they let the team spread out to surround the black ball, intending to take all the rewards and not let the peripheral magicians take advantage.

But spread out, it means that the density of the magician is reduced, and it is easier to be disturbed by the black ball!

When a curse elf was about to avoid the black ball, suddenly there was a piercing explosion in his ear, and the strong mental sting made him stunned in place, and was immediately hit by the black ball a hundred meters away!

“Who!” He roared sharply, the snake hair on his head stuck out his tongue, and stared at the peripheral magicians: “Who attacked me with a spiritual miracle just now!?”

Naturally, none of the peripheral magicians answered, and they looked at each other with the prison prayer, turbid curse, and bad omen, and silently gathered the team members together.

It’s just that, when they hit the black ball, the reward has to leak out.

Although it seems that nothing has changed, the master magician is playing black balls, and the surrounding magicians are waiting to pick up the leaks, but the depressing atmosphere of a storm is gradually spreading throughout the dream kingdom.

Chikara and Harvey looked at Igula, who slowly shook his head.

The spiritual miracle that attacked the cursed spirit had nothing to do with him.
