

Catch Me If You Love Me

Chapter 71

Zoey Gu paused with the hand of digging the cake, pulled her lips to look at the little girl, and said softly.

“Because Auntie suddenly remembered that today is also my birthday...”

After she finished speaking, she lowered her head, dug a spoonful of cake and stuffed it into her mouth. The creamy and sweet smell made her heart astringent.

Once, she was also a little princess who was taken care of by her relatives and lovers in the palm of her heart. Now, not only did she forget her birthday, but there was no one to accompany her birthday.

“Pretty auntie.” Alina Yin who was opposite suddenly jumped off the chair.

Although the little girl was small, she was sensitively aware of Zoey Gu’s loss, took the initiative to walk over and held her face, blinked her big watery eyes, and said to her very seriously.

“Are you missing your family? It’s okay. Although they can’t accompany you on your birthday, you have Alina Yin! From now on, we will celebrate our birthday together every year, okay?”

Zoey Gu stared at the small face in front of her and blushed inexplicably.

She stretched out her hand to hug the little girl, buried her head in the socket of her neck, took a light breath, choked and said.

“Alina Yin, thank you, warm little angel. It is the luck of your father and mother to have a kind and lovely baby like you.”

But the little girl shook her head.

“Pretty aunty, Alina Yin only has a father, not a mother.”

Zoey Gu had a meal.

“How come, Anna Yun is not yours...”

Halfway through her words, she suddenly remembered that Liam Lu had said when she fell into the sea that Alina Yin was not his daughter or any woman’s daughter.

For a while, she was a little bit overwhelmed.

“Alina Yin has only had a father since she was a child. Dad also said that Alina Yin is only his own daughter, and has nothing to do with anyone. Therefore, Alina Yin has never seen her mother.”

Although there was loss in the little girl’s tone, there was no trace of anger.

For a while, she looked at Zoey Gu and said quietly.

“Pretty aunty, Alina Yin likes you and thinks you are like a mother. Can you secretly be Alina Yin’s mother.”

She put a finger at her longingly, “Just one night, okay?”

Zoey Gu looked at those black and white eyes that were full of hope, and her heart was cruelly cruel.

She didn’t know what Liam Lu had experienced during the years he left. Liam Lu and Anna Yun are together, but their daughter was not born to them.

But she knows that even if the wealth is added to the body and the food and clothing are safe, little children will desperately yearn for maternal love.

It seemed that she had hesitated for a long time, and the little girl was a little anxious. Before she could agree, she yelled at her anxiously.

“mom...”

Zoey’s nose sore, and she hugged the little girl tightly.

“Alina Yin, good...”

Returning to the garden under the solemn night, lights are lit everywhere, and the atmosphere is quiet. Even looking from a distance, there is still a majestic momentum.

The taxi stopped not far away, and Zoey Gu took Alina Yin’s hand all the way to the gate of Guiyuan.

Seeing Zoey Gu stopped, Alina Yin looked up at her a little bit reluctantly, “Mom, are you leaving now?”

Zoey Gu squatted down beside her in a hurry, raised her eyes and looked around, then lowered his voice to tell her.

“Alina Yin, from now on, you can’t call me mother. Also, if I do your mother’s thing for one night, I can’t let my father know. Otherwise he will be angry, you know?”

Alina Yin nodded sensibly, glanced at her reluctantly, and then turned and walked towards the garden.

Zoey Gu kept watching the little girl when he saw Guiyuan, and then turned away reluctantly.

It's just that she didn't expect that when she turned and left, the little girl who had originally entered the garden suddenly stopped.

The security at the door hadn't reacted yet, the little girl rushed out like a gust of wind.

"mom!"

Just after Zoey Gu walked across the road, the little girl's loud shout suddenly sounded behind her.

She turned her head subconsciously, and saw that the little girl had rushed onto the road and ran in her direction.

Beep...

The dazzling car lights suddenly lit up in front, and the car that had just turned the corner saw Alina Yin that suddenly appeared. There was no time to brake at all and rushed towards her.

Zoey Gu's eyes widened suddenly, blood rushing to her brain.

"Don't—"

But it was too late.

Bang...
