

Super Rich Dad Chapter 724-726

Chapter 724

As soon as the words were out of his mouth, Jiang Hao regretted it, if that was the case, then he shouldn't have said it.

If that wasn't the case, wouldn't he be giving himself too much face by saying that!

But what Jiang Hao didn't expect was this. Sally looked at herself with a blush appearing on her face, then whispered, 'That's how it's not okay!'

Looking at the blush on Sally's face, Jiang Hao couldn't say anything for a while, and hurriedly turned his head down to look at the ground.

Seeing Jiang Hao looking like an ostrich. Sally didn't know where she got the courage to continue speaking, 'No matter what you think, anyway. Give me a new prescription anyway.'

Jiang Hao, who was about to retort, hesitated for a moment and suddenly remembered that when he was looking at the Shang Dian that day, there was really a prescription in it.

But at that time, he thought it was of no use, so he left it behind, but now he remembered that it might still be of some use.

So after a moment of contemplation, Jiang Hao looked at Sally and said, 'In that case, it's a deal, give me a pen and paper and I'll write it down for you now.'

The reason why Sally said this was just to embarrass Jiang Hao and let him know that he was a bit unhappy, but she didn't expect that Jiang Hao would really give one out.

Seeing that Jiang Hao looked like he was going to do it for real, Sally hurriedly said, 'Let's be clear. You can't just write it to me!'

Jiang Hao nodded impatiently before urging Sally to find a pen and paper, and when he got it, Jiang Hao put pen to paper and wrote down the prescription in Shangdian.

'This is the prescription for the Hundred Flowers and Jade Dew Pill, no one knows about it anyway, so I might as well make it cheaper for you.'

Taking the prescription in Jiang Hao's hand, Sally was silent for a while and looked at it in surprise, 'This, this prescription is real?'

Jiang Hao stretched out, enjoying the warm morning sun and said, 'What good would it do me to give you a fake one, come on, I'll leave it to you then!'

After saying this Jiang Hao got up and went back to the villa. He was just a little too tired last night, and he was going to continue to sleep again.

Looking at Jiang Hao's back, Sally looked a bit confused for a while.

After handing the prescription to her side, Sally lowered her head and pondered for a moment, then went back to her office and started to follow the plan.

First, she forged the false evidence that Rat was Shen Qing Shu's man, and then gave this to Old Black, asking him to scatter it to all sorts of people on the street in a hurry.

Rat was originally just a street gangster before, so it was undoubtedly best for such information to be spread on the streets.

Sally had just finished this step. The news of Chen Minggang's death in the rotten building of Xincheng Group soon spread, but only among the upper circles.

No one even dared to see this matter in the newspaper. Even people in the upper circles could only whisper about it.

As for Shen Qingshu, who was sitting in his office dealing with some daily affairs, after hearing the news, a slight unpleasant feeling flashed through his heart.

Two days ago, someone had said that Lin Yan's kidnapping was his own doing, and now immediately afterwards, there was the news that Chen Minggang, who had eaten with him, had died.

And just as he was feeling bad. Soon the word came back on the street that he had a henchman nicknamed Rat.

With all this news, Shen Qingshu had weighed it carefully.

The news that Lin Yan's kidnapping was his own doing was simply nonsense.

And since the news of Chen Minggang's death had spread within the upper circles, it seemed to be true. It seemed to be true.

After closing his eyes and thinking carefully about the news that was left to come from the street, he had so many of his own men, and the hell knew which one was nicknamed Rat.

After making sure that he had nothing to do with these matters, Shen Qingshu settled down and went on with his business.

But little did he know that the fire would soon burn down on him.

At this moment, the management of the Xincheng Group was in a state of panic, and the various gossips outside had made them all a bit frightened.

Many of them were even hesitant to continue working, because maybe someone would be unlucky this time.

Just when they were thinking about it. The New City Group suddenly welcomed an unexpected guest, Chen Jingdao.

He was Chen Minggang's father. He had already quit the circle in the Northern Province to go overseas, but after hearing the news of his son's death he took a flight back to the Northern Province overnight.

The news of Chen Jingdao's return also spread quickly. The first thing he did was to convene an internal meeting of the Xincheng Group and pacify the people.

Then he calmly and coolly picked up Chen Minggang's body. He even refused to be investigated by outsiders, saying outright that no one needed to intervene in this matter.

Chen Jingdao was nearly 50 years old before he had a son, with Chen Minggang.

And he didn't leave himself a grandson or any descendants, so you can imagine how angry Chen Jingdao really was this time.

Inside the office of Xincheng Group, the seventy-two-year-old Chen Jingdao stood in front of the floor-to-ceiling window with his cane in his hand looking at the North Mansion.

'Who did Ming Gang harm, this matter must be found out for me, how the other party treated Ming Gang, I want to return it tenfold.'

His tone was flat, but there was a hint of unquestionable determination within.

Behind Chen Jingdao, an elegant man in a suit nodded after hearing these words and said in the same deep voice, 'Don't worry, Uncle Jing, I will definitely get this done.'

After the two men were silent for a while, Chen Jingdao turned to look at the elegant man with cold eyes and said, 'Ning Kun, if you get this done, this Xin Cheng, in the future, will be yours.'

Hearing these words, a hint of hotness flashed in the man's eyes, he had never concealed his ambition.

And Elder Chen Jingdao had cared about his ambition before, worrying that if he gave him too much, the other party would want more in the future.

But now, he had nothing left, so he didn't mind giving the other party the biggest and most precious thing he had straight away.

As long as Ning Kun could get this done, not to mention Xin Cheng, he would not hesitate even if it cost him his life!

Having received Elder Chen's promise, Ning Kun began to collect all the news and things about Chen Minggang at the first time, and even found his friends who had followed Chen Minggang's fooling around before.

The matter of Chen Minggang's friendship with Rat was itself a private matter of Chen Minggang, and not many people knew about it.

Therefore, after inquiring carefully, Ning Kun did not find out the relationship between Rats and Chen Minggang, but instead involved Shen Qingshu in this matter.

The reason was that he heard from some unknown punks that a man named Rat under Shen Qingshu had kidnapped the Lin family's Missy, and that Shen Qingshu had also had some conflicts with the Lin family before.

Hearing this, Ning Kun secretly took note of it.

After investigating a little more carefully, Ning Kun found that Chen Minggang was very fond of Lin Yan and had even openly stated that he wanted to marry the Lin family's eldest lady.

Chapter 725

Two seemingly unrelated events caused a hint of doubt to rise in Ning Kun's mind.

Just as Ning Kun on his side was tracking down who had killed Chen Minggang for Chen Jingdao, Old Black on his side was looking into Lin Yan's eyes and telling her over and over again that Chen Minggang had been killed by the rat to save her!

This had been going on for almost two days now. The purpose was to convince Lin Yan that Chen Ming had just been the one to save her!

Jiang Hao stood outside the door of the room, watching through the window as Old Hei was emphasising this phrase to Lin Yan over and over again.

Looking rather confused, he spoke, 'I say, is it necessary for you guys to do this?'

Sally stood beside Jiang Hao with her arms clasped over her chest. With a bland expression, she said, 'The reason why I did this was because I was worried that someone might use a lie detector against her, so I asked Old Black to strengthen her impression.'

After saying this. Sally turned her head to look at Jiang Hao, took out a note from her body and handed it over and spoke, 'The old chairman of the New City Group, Chen Jingdao, is back, and he's not an easy person to deal with, especially now.'

Jiang Hao took the slip of paper and read it, on it was some information about Chen Jingdao, there was also information about a young man named Ning Kun that he had brought back with him.

Honestly speaking, Chen Jingdao's information was indeed a bit scary, not just what he had done in the first half of his life, but there was even some information about him overseas.

It said that he was currently very close to the Shen family overseas, and because of this, the New City Group under Chen Jingdao's name was able to develop into a northern giants in just twenty years!

When he saw this. The pupils in Jiang Hao's eyes shrank for a moment, and he secretly said in his heart that no wonder he was not used to seeing Chen Daoming, feeling that the other party was his deadly rival's lapdog.

Sally looked at the corner of Jiang Hao's mouth and pulled out a smile, a little exasperated, 'You're still laughing, this Chen Jing Dao old man came to be a son, do you know what you're dealing with?'

'It's just an old mad dog, what's the big deal, I'm sure you can handle it!'

After saying this, Jiang Hao shrugged his shoulders, then walked to sit down inside Sally's office and continued, 'How long do I have to go back to the hospital to continue working?'

Sally followed behind Jiang Hao into the office. Looking at him like you've gone on a trip, I'll make a good record of your exit.'

Jiang Hao looked at Sally in surprise at hearing this and said, 'You can even fake this stuff?'

Facing Jiang Hao's question, Sally just sat down with a bland expression, then opened the computer and faintly returned: 'Everything in this world has a price, as long as you can afford it, then it can be done.'

The standard businessman's tone. But coming from Sally's mouth, Jiang Hao had an odd feeling.

After a period of silence Jiang Hao lay on the sofa and asked, 'Then does the Lin family need me to make a phone call to communicate with them?'

Sally turned her head to look at Jiang Hao after hearing this and asked, 'Have you said anything to the Lin family?'

Jiang Hao shrugged his shoulders. Then he told Sally everything he had communicated with the Lin family during this period of time.

After a period of silence, Sally sighed somewhat helplessly at Jiang Hao.

Then she made a phone call to the Lin family, instructing Elder Lin to forget about Shen Yan's friend or something like that.

They, the Lin family, had never known where Lin Yan was from the beginning and hadn't gone looking for anyone.

The family had been arguing internally all this time about whether to release the shares in the Xichunju project. There was no time to care about Lin Yan's death or survival.

After receiving such a reply, Sally nodded in satisfaction before hanging up the phone.

Then looking at Jiang Hao somewhat helplessly, she spoke, 'Now you don't need to contact anyone, at least right now there won't be anyone who will connect you to this matter.'

After receiving this answer, Jiang Hao only gave a faint smile. After all, not only was Elder Lin the only one who knew about this matter, but also Lin Dong and his father.

Jiang Hao knew too well what kind of virtues they were, so if they wanted to harm themselves, they could have just said so.

After taking a deep breath Jiang Hao got up and walked to Lin Yan's room, then pushed the door in.

Old Hei, who was strengthening Lin Yan's memory of that night, heard the sound and turned his head to look at Jiang Hao, then frowned and got up to leave.

All that was left was Lin Yan sitting on the bed with a tear-stained face, looking at Jiang Hao somewhat helplessly.

After Old Black had left, Jiang Hao walked up and looked at Lin Yan. Instead, she jumped into Jiang Hao's arms all of a sudden.

'I'm scared, what's going on. What is going on?'

Holding Lin Yan, who was sobbing in his arms, Jiang Hao's heart throbbed for a moment before he told her about what had happened in the past two days.

Only then did Lin Yan suddenly understand. Then she looked up at Jiang Hao and said, 'They're not coming to arrest me again, are they?'

Honestly speaking, Jiang Hao couldn't rule out such a possibility.

A person who had an old son had suddenly lost his own son. He didn't even leave any bloodline for himself.

It was definitely justifiable for this man to instantly turn into an old mad dog, and there was also a message from the Northern Government that whoever could catch the real culprit who had killed Chen Minggang.

Chen Jingdao, the old mad dog, would give the Xincheng Group away without even half a moment's hesitation.

It was this kind of pressure that was why Old Black had reinforced Lin Yan's memory over and over again, fearing that something had gone wrong with her.

Just as Jiang Hao was comforting Lin Yan, inside Sally's office, Old Black was standing in front of Sally shrugging his head somewhat downcastly.

Looking at Old Black's appearance, Sally opened her mouth somewhat disappointedly and asked, 'How's the matter you were asked to do?'

Old Black said respectfully with some bitterness, 'So far so good, but there's still a little bit of fire missing, I'm afraid if I let her go back now, something might go wrong.'

Sally looked at the polygraph report on the table for a while and then sighed, 'That's as far as it goes, I'm afraid she won't last much longer.'

Old Black looked at Sally after a period of silence and asked, 'What's the situation at Xincheng's side now, how's the plan going?'

'Phase two, when Lin Yan returns then we can start phase three, I've already had someone put out the news that Chen Minggang died to save Lin Yan.'

After saying this, Sally hesitated for a moment before looking up at Old Black and saying, 'So the next step will be to see if Lin Yan can hold out.'

Old Black also understood what he was doing, as long as Lin Yan had the slightest problem, then the whole plan would be ruined!

Thinking of this Old Black nodded in silence, and suddenly felt a lot more pressure on himself.

At this time, Sally suddenly received a phone call, and after a simple promise she hung up.

Then she looked at a video sent over on her phone, which was a conversation between Shen Qingshu and Chen Ming when they were just sitting together at dinner.

Chapter 726

In the video screen, Shen Qingshu looked at Chen Minggang disdainfully and said that he was just a family slave, which of the northern gentry did not have hundreds of years of heritage, what qualifications did he have for a mere twenty year old mob?

Looking at this video, Old Black was a bit puzzled and spoke to Sally, 'This. What's the use of this thing?'

Sally snorted and turned on the computer, which was now showing the video on her phone.

Then Sally spoke without looking at Old Black, 'This video is of great use, Shen Qingshu can't take the blame this time even if he doesn't want to, because it explains why Rat has the guts to lay his hands on Chen Minggang.'

After saying this. Sally turned her head to look at Old Black and smiled as she continued, 'No matter what Rat is just a street gangster, what reason can be used to explain why he dared to lay his hands on Chen Minggang?'

Old Black's mind was quick. In a flash, he knew what his boss wanted to do with this video.

A street thug dared to lay hands on the heir of the Xincheng Group, so behind him must be a bigger backer for him to have the guts to do so.

The Xue family basically has no one in the northern capital who can be seen on stage.

In the case of the Lin family, apart from Lin Nan, who has some brains, Lin Dong is simply a second generation man who waits to die, so it's even more unlikely!

The only one left is Shen Qingshu, who has the ability to do this. After all, as the first heir of the Shen family, he definitely has the strength and ability to kill Chen Minggang, who is a thug.

And in addition to the video of Shen Qingshu looking at Chen Minggang with disdain, there was also their conversation.

If this kidnapping case was really planned by Shen Qingshu, then Chen Minggang would have had the guts and reason to crash through this matter. He definitely had the guts and the reason to kill Chen Minggang to silence him.

After thinking about these things, Old Black looked at Sally with some admiration and said, 'This is really a brilliant move, but what about the video of Shen Qingshu having dinner with Lin Dong afterwards?'

Sally shrugged her shoulders and then backed up the video, then handed a copy to Old Black and said, 'That second generation of the Lin family was also responsible for this matter, so he can't escape if he should bear the responsibility.'

Although the words were simple, Old Black looked at Sally with a cold light in his eyes and nodded and left.

When he left the door, he bumped into Jiang Hao, who had just exited Lin Yan's room, and saw him standing at the door for a while.

He could not help but glance at him with some surprise, but did not say anything and left in a hurry.

Jiang Hao had just overheard their conversation in the office and was slightly disturbed. Because if he did so, I was afraid that many people would be involved.

After walking into Sally's office, she was leisurely sipping her coffee and then staring at the computer while not knowing what she was reading.

'Don't you think you might ruin Lin Dong if you do this?'

Hearing Jiang Hao's voice, Sally turned her head in some shock to look at the door.

'Why did you come in, saying that this is my office, you didn't know to knock on the door first.'

After rolling her eyes, Sally leaned back in her chair and looked at Jiang Hao with a smirk, 'Lin Dong is one of the main people who caused all these things. Don't you think he shouldn't take responsibility for his own part?'

Jiang Hao was silent for a while at this, Lin Dong was indeed a bastard. Yet Lin Yan saw this bastard as family.

'I also know he should take responsibility, but by doing so, would it make the Lin family the target of Chen Jingdao's revenge as well?'

Such a worry was not impossible, considering that Chen Jingdao had already lived to be seventy-two years old. Half of his body had already entered the yellow earth.

It was not easy for him to have a son, only to die in this way.

Sally shook her head and then got up and walked to Jiang Hao, gradually put away the smile on her face and looked at Jiang Hao with cold eyes: 'In this world, everyone has to be responsible for the choices they make. I am no exception!'

After saying this, Sally saw a hint of difference in Jiang Hao's eyes and could not help but let out a soft sigh in her heart.

There was still a lot she had to do in order to pluck Jiang Hao out of this matter completely.

If it wasn't for the fact that she did like this man in front of her, Sally wouldn't have said anything to do such a laborious and unpleasant thing.

The reason why she asked Jiang Hao for the prescription for the Hundred Flowers and Jade Dew Pill was just to vent her temper a little bit.

Jiang Hao looked at Sally's serious expression, lowered his head and shook it before saying, 'I understand what you mean. Perhaps I was indeed a bit too greedy.'

Jiang Hao wasn't a person who liked to care about others, and he didn't have any extra compassion. It was just the thought that Lin Yan had been trying to defend Lin Dong even when she was tied up.

So he hoped that he could get Lin Dong to try not to get too deeply involved in this matter as well. So that it would be on the mind of that old mad dog Chen Jingdao.

After thinking about this, Jiang Hao sighed lightly and pointed to the sofa and sat down. Then he spoke, 'This matter has already passed for two or three days, why is it that the entire North Mansion now seems like nothing has happened?'

Sally lay on the sofa and looked at the ceiling above her head and smiled back, 'Who do you think is keeping those mouths and eyes, without our words, they dare to say anything?'

Jiang Hao snorted at his words, it was said that money wasn't everything, but enough money could make many people consciously forget certain things, it wasn't even a miracle.

'I suddenly feel that the children of the family are also quite sad, some things still have to pretend as if they didn't happen even though they did.'

Looking at Jiang Hao's sudden emotion, Sally laughed lightly twice and lowered her head somewhat despondently, 'What's the difference between normal people, it's still the same, just that what happened to them wouldn't be as serious as it is now.'

With these words, Sally pulled out a document from under the table and handed it to Jiang Hao and continued, 'Inside is a record of your travels over the past few days, you need to memorise it in case you are suddenly questioned.'

Jiang Hao opened the file and looked at the stack of back files and couldn't help but let out a bitter laugh, 'So many, you have to memorise them all?'

He was answered by Sally's cold look, 'Ning Kun is not a simple task, he graduated from the Hunter Academy and has a unique study of criminal investigation techniques.'

The information Sally was talking about was all found out by Old Black's men, using some special methods, which was why she was so taken with it.

And Jiang Hao knew just from hearing about the Hunter Academy that this Ning Kun was not a person to be messed with, after all, with a ninety-seven percent elimination rate, anyone who could graduate from there was a monster.

After taking a deep breath Jiang Hao nodded, then looked at the document and spoke back, 'I will memorize all of this, don't worry.'
