

My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 751

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 751- Thinking of Charmine, McKenzie then took out her phone, searched for Julian's contact, and sent him a text:

[President Cabell, are you going to give up on your ex-girlfriend just like this?]

Julian had been nose-deep in his work and spent a lot of time transforming his Mile-End Mall into food courts.

Even without the support of luxurious brands, he had thousands of small food stalls coming in. It would not be long until Mile-End Mall would become internet-famous throughout the cities.

All that Julian needed was for customers to frequent his business, and everything would be sorted out from there.

Since no luxury brand wanted to work with Julian, he decided to produce his own luxury brands!

He contacted designers after designers that had not made a name for themselves. He researched, produced, and worked hard to build his connections with the others.

Julian was inspecting the batch of clothings placed in the production line when he received a message from McKenzie.

[President Cabell, are you going to give up on your ex-girlfriend just like this?]

Give up?

What? What was that nonsense?

He wanted Charmine to see him getting back on his feet, wanting her to watch him get back at them.

He wanted to win Charmine over with his achievements-he wanted to prove he was nothing less than Anthony!

Swiftly after, McKenzie sent over a few more photos.

These were the photos of Anthony with Waverly walking side by side.

Julian's thin lips curled up mockingly.

Charmine, oh, Charmine... Finally ditched by Anthony?

He opened his mail app and sent the photos to Charmine.

Charmine, in an office, was sorting out documents, pushing the Divine World Project into the international market when an email popped up.

She clicked it open and her brows furrowed.

Attached to the email were photos of Anthony with Waverly: opening the door for Waverly, protecting her from knocking her head against the car, and walking side-by-side with her to the lift.

One was elegant and cold while the other was elegant and formal. The photos depicted both figures like a prince and a princess from fairy tales, an endearing sight to behold.

Charmine frowned slightly as she battled that foreign feeling within her.

It was impossible for her to not be uncomfortable seeing her man with another woman.

However, after merely a moment, the unsettling feeling vanished.

She was already married to Anthony who signed the heart-donation contract when purchasing the alexandrite rings, and he even wore a steel plate around his arm for her. What else was there to doubt about Anthony? 2

Below the photos, Julian even wrote:

[Do you still want to struggle with him after all? Are you waiting for him to dump you?]

His words were full of mockery.

Smirking with her ruby lips, Charmine typed to reply,

[Getting kicked by Anthony's BICV is better than spending the rest of my life with your AJ! You better stay out of my business!] 2

She promptly blocked Julian's email address afterward.

Julian's lips twitched as he read Charmine's reply.

BICV was the best among the high-end shoe brands for men. The family that birthed BICV had made shoes for generations, customizing each pair for their customers.

Not one to industrialize their process, each pair of shoes were personally handmade by the 20 family members who were highly acclaimed shoemakers.

According to sources, each pair needed a total of 300 hours to complete.

The company's designer was sent to medical school in order to learn medicine for many years just to understand the human structure better and learn in-depth about foot-related diseases. 1

Every customized pair would be made accordingly to the customer's gait so as to make him the most suitable pair.

Therefore, BICV was equivalent to the Rolls-Royce in terms of vehicles and Rolex in watches. A simple pair would cost 10 million. 2

Charmine was rubbing it in Julian's face that he was nowhere rich like Anthony.

So she was willing to be Anthony's secret lover instead of officially marrying him?

If so...

Julian's eyes glinted fiercely.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 752-Aside from hiring numerous designers and researchers to build his brand, Julian also hired many influencers to livestream in his food court often and even went as far as hiring a batch of fake haters.

Those haters would livestream in Julian's food court, mocking how the once prosperous Mile-End Mall ended up being a food court. They would live-stream there for three years, to watch the Mile-End Mall 'never getting back on its feet'!

They would say provoking things like,

"No need to get back up. You're all worn out and dirtied, and you'll definitely look back as you try to get back up..”

“Why struggle after closing down? Isn’t it better to sell out this empty mall?”

“Douchebag! Smelly fish! A smelly fish will always be rotten, no matter how much it changes!”

The fake haters would ridicule Julian, and some even suspected Julian of faking everything. Nonetheless, the heated discussion brought popularity to this food court.

After the influencer live-streamed at Mile-End Mall, she resumed again in the evening, claiming she felt ill after eating food from the food court and had to get a checkup in Royal Hospital.

In her livestream in Royal Hospital, both Anthony and Waverly came into view by the corner of the screen.

As they were both far from the camera, their figures were blurry and did not instantly catch attention, but some bribed netizens brought it up in the comments.

[Hey, look at the two by the corner of the screen... A charming young man, and a beautiful young woman! OMG! Are they celebrities?]

[It seems to be Anthony Bailey...! President Bailey-the legendary Boss Bailey of Burlington!]

[Who’s that woman? What a perfect image of beauty and elegance!]

[Please bring us closer to them. Please!]

The fake hater hastily turned off the livestream as if she did this unintentionally.

That only riled the curiosity of her viewers as they all went to search up, [Anthony Bailey's Girlfriend.]

It did not take long before #AnthonyBailey'sGirlfriend went up to the hot list.

Furthermore, many people even screenshot the image from the livestream and post it online.

Though their figures were distant and their faces all blurred out, the elegance exuded by Anthony and Waverly was just too stunning and attention-grabbing.

Instantly, comments after comments were directed by the bribed netizens.

[Argh! Your lady is so elegant and amazing! She's a perfect match for you!]

(My cold President is finally in love! Congrats!]

[Who's that woman? How is there such an extremely elegant woman in the world!?!]

[They're obviously a perfect couple! They're a perfect match!]

[Get married! Get married! Get married!]

At the Jordan Group building...

Charmine was still busy even after working hours.

Adam walked toward her and placed a box of cakes on her working desk.

"Charmine, have a little bite."

Charmine did not even look up. "No need-just go home. I'll stay a little longer."

Globalizing the Jordan Group would take a lot of time. The design of each medieval building must not look the same; they had to have new elements in them.

If Anthony had to take care of Annabel every day for her to fight McKenzie, she had to work harder.

Instead of leaving, Adam gazed at Charmine with concern.

Did she break up or something that she intentionally buried herself in work to numb herself?

turn out this way all of a sudden?

However, seeing that Charmine had her head down, Adam did not want to bother.

Sensing that Adam had something in his mind, Charmine looked up and asked, "Is there something?"

"No... It's just..."

Adam stayed silent for a long while before he finally said, "Go home and get a rest early. You won't be able to finish all the work all at once."

"Okay." Charmine lowered her head to continue sorting out a pile of documents.

Walking out of the office, Adam was worried. Would Charmine be devastated once she saw the news on Anthony and Waverly?

The discussion was so heated... Would Charmine not see it eventually, anyway?

Meanwhile, inside another villa nearby Violet Villa...

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 753-Chris sat before the computer as his fingers fluttered across his keyboard furiously.

Why was his Daddy and that nobody on the news, and with so much attention at that?

Netizens went full-out offensive when news about Daddy and Mommy was exposed. None of them supported his Daddy to be with his Mommy.

Would his Mommy not be heartbroken if she saw this news?

The small fingers of his chubby hands worked on the keyboard.

Instantly, all topics on #AnthonyBailey'sGirlfriend were wiped out.

Furthermore, there was a bug on Twitter.

No one could find anything from searching [Anthony BaileyJ-nobody could even type in his name! 1

Anything that seemed similar to those two words just could not be processed.

Anything that had anything to do with Anthony was completely wiped out!

Out of the blue, another news went up to the hotlist.

Everyone clicked on the hashtag to see a newly registered account sending out as much as 18,800 bucks worth of cash. The 'wife requirement ' stated:

[Requirement: Normal-looking.

Age: Less than five.

Work time: From now till death.

Salary: Over a million per month.

Work scope: I'll treat you like a little Princess. You accompany me to eat, drink, play, and study! I'll take care of you till we get old!]

Attached to that post was an extremely adorable photo of Chris.

Many netizens came for the money. His marriage requirement caught the attention of many, including those who were too caught up with the matter with

Anthony and Waverly.

Since they could not find the discussions about the two and could not send out anything, they decided to flock to a more interesting topic.

It did not take long before Chris' post went viral.

[What a perfect job; it's free lunch from the heavens, forever!]

[I'm kinda overaged. Whose son is this? Does he need a nanny instead?]

[Do you need someone to help you take out your trash?]

Everyone talked about the #Five-year-old-hiring-a-wife topic, and all thoughts of Anthony with Waverly flew out the window just like that.

Anything on the internet would usually last seven seconds, after all...

Chris saw everything unfolding and smirked triumphantly.

This was what he wanted!

For his Mommy, he would sacrifice his reputation!

Hopefully, his Mommy could give him a kiss for this the next time they would meet!

Of course, Julian had been keeping tabs on the news as well.

Money was scarce to him these days and was very important to him, but he used it to pay influences and netizens...

For Charmine, it was worth it!

Julian wanted the news on Anthony and Waverly to go viral that both the D'Cruz family and Bailey family to pester them to get married. He also wanted Charmine to see everyone on the internet sending their blessings to Anthony and Waverly. Little did he expect...

Chris Bailey, that five year-old-boy, ruined his plan!

His few hundred thousand was used for nothing!

Julian gritted his teeth as his large hand clenched up tightly.

However...

Luckily, Julian had a backup plan. He expected this to happen and had something else in store.

His next plan was to make sure Anthony and Waverly would get married soon so Charmine would give up sooner. 1 Charmine was his, and his alone!

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 754-That night, the already repressed news of Anthony and Waverly in Burlington became one of the most searched topics in other countries... especially Kansas'.

[Heiress of the D'Cruz Family in love] went viral in Kansas.

The people in Kansas did all they could to find out more on Anthony, using every method possible to get a clear photo of Anthony and Waverly.

Along with the screenshot of the live streaming, the comments went viral.

[OMG! They're a perfect match!]

[One is handsome, and the other, elegant. They're a prince and princess of my dreams!]

[Is this going to be a worldwide broadcasted marriage?]

Everyone celebrated their relationship as it became the talk of the country.

At the Jordan mansion.

Adam, as he kept up-to-date with the Anthony-and-Waverly matter, found out about the discussion that went on in Kansas.

He had no appetite at all as the Jordans had their dinner. Concerned, he asked Senior Jordan, "Dad, what do you say? What can we do? Shall we talk to Anthony? How could he abandon our Charmine like this?"

"Sigh! There's no point finding Anthony... So what if we find him? If he really doesn't like Charmine, there's no point forcing him to." Senior Jordan's brows furrowed as he lost his appetite, too.

Joey, meanwhile, was worried. "True... Now, Charmine is so caught up with work, and she wants to save the Jordan Group. If we offend Anthony, if he stops supporting US, all of Charmine's hard work will be for naught."

"That is why, you guys, just continue eating! Why so worried? There's no way Charmine is getting married to Boss Bailey-it's too obvious!" Amelia mocked.

"Shut up! Instead of talking about others, why don't you think of landing yourself a job!?" Senior Jordan scoffed.

Amelia pouted instantly.

Hmph! She was telling the truth. How would they not allow her to speak it?

Also, jobs? She would still have one had Charmine not fire her! 1

Amelia would seek that person... She would earn a lot!

Not bothering with Amelia, the Jordans came to a conclusion after talking it out:

They would accompany Charmine and take care of Charmine!

At the Jordan Group building.

Too engrossed in work, Charmine had no time to mind about the news nor did she read the foreign news. She did not go home until ten at night.

As she approached her door, she noticed that her villa was lit up as a silhouette moved about.

She frowned. A thief?

She walked over rapidly, ready to open the door when the door opened from the inside.

Joey smiled at her. "Charmine, you're home! Come on in."

"Why are you here?" Charmine frowned.

"Your Grandpa is here, too. Come on in." Joey offered to help her hang her bag and prepared her a pair of indoor slippers.

The pair of slippers were of a warm yellow color made of flannel material. They looked comfy.

Charmine noticed that these were not her slippers; they were newly bought.

Moreover, she noticed changes in her villa.

Her villa once had a minimalistic design, but the wall behind the door suddenly had a cute wall lamp. Walking in, the tea-table had an extra bouquet of sunflowers. There was a big cat pillow on the sofa.

The small decorations made the originally cold house rather homely.

Senior Jordan was sitting on the sofa. When he saw her coming in, he waved at Charmine instantly. "Come here, Charmine. You gave the key to me the other day, so I brought your parents here to accompany you. You don't mind, do you?"

"It's okay." Charmine walked over and sat down.

If Senior Jordan insisted, she would not turn it down.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 755- Nonetheless, why did Senior Jordan bring her parents to her villa out of the blue? Also, they even helped her to decorate the house?

Before she could ask, Joey brought a bowl of soup to her. "Charmine, I used the ingredients in your kitchen to make you a calming soup-it'll help you to rest better. Drink a little. It'll relieve fatigue, too."

It was a pastel-pink soup with some peach blossoms used. The faint fragrance emitted could warm one's heart.

Charmine did not reach out to take it as she eyed them suspiciously. "Did something happen?"

The three of them halted, but Joey quickly shook her head. "Of course not! We feel that we've mistreated you, so we came here to visit you. We've been busy taking care of Robert that we haven't seen you..."

"Right, Charmine. Don't think too much, we're a family after all! We came here to meet you," comforted Senior Jordan.

Charmine knew they were hiding something.

Although she knew that they felt guilt toward her, she knew all too well that Adam and Joey were too ashamed to come to her villa. They would not even have the courage to redecorate her villa without her permission.

Something must have happened.

She said calmly, "If you're not telling me, please leave. Grandpa, you should go home and get some rest as well. It's getting late."

Senior Jordan's lips twitched. This girl would even chase him out?

Seeing that she was determined and that she would eventually find out herself,

Senior Jordan spoke after a long while of hesitation, "Charmine, we've seen and known about the news of Anthony with Waverly. You don't have to be too upset, as your Uncle Weir had said, he'd introduce someone even better to you, and he'd be a hundred times better than Anthony!"

Charmine frowned. Were Anthony and Waverly not keeping it low profile? How did the people find out?

A foreboding feeling loomed over Charmine as she took out her phone to check.

Senior Jordan quickly caught her hand and pressed on it. "Charmine, don't look.

It'll hurt you like a knife...! They all say that new things won't come if the old won't go. Anthony's lack of commitment shows he's not good enough for you!"

The itch to know had a vice-grip on Charmine as she persisted to read whatever that was happening. She noted that someone had sent her a link to a news headline.

Upon clicking on it, it was from a foreign news outlet.

[Heiress of the D'Cruz of Kansas getting married to Bailey of Burlington!]

There was a blurry footage of Anthony opening the car door for Waverly, and the Many people even commented, [Where are they? Get married already!]

Charmine's heart sank.

She was used to Anthony taking care of Waverly, but she did not expect the entire world to give them such a blaring green light.

Charmine remembered how the masses attacked her on Twitter when someone speculated she was the woman Anthony fancied...yet the whole world was blessing Anthony and Waverly? 1

Were they such a good match?

Seeing that she did not speak, Joey quickly comforted, "Charmine, don't look at it already. Don't think about it.

God wants you to lose it so that better things can come. I had three boyfriends before meeting your father, and I eventually married him. Your father is the best!"

Adam, by the side, frowned. Joey had three boyfriends before him? How did he not know? 2

Charmine, meanwhile, regained her composure and, with narrowed eyes, said to the three of them, "You don't have to comfort me. These are all fake...and Anthony and I are married." 4

What?

Married?

The three of them were shocked.

So Anthony was cheating on his wife?

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 756-"We got married silently," Charmine explained to them, "and we don't want to announce it to the public yet, but someone found out about it and the Baileys nearly caught US. Anthony is pretending to date Waverly so he can protect me. In short, the news is fake. We'll announce our relationship once the Jordan Group is doing better. Until then, he needs to distract everyone."

The three of them exchanged looks with disbelief.

That was it?

Why did they find it hard to believe?

Coincidentally, Charmine's phone lit up again.

It was a message from Anthony that read, [My lady, it's my fault for not sorting out the news on the internet.

It'll be fixed within three days.]

Her red lips curved into a smirk as she added, "Look, I'm fine. I don't need you guys taking care of me. Go home and get rested; I still need to work tomorrow."

Joey, Adam, and Senior Jordan saw Anthony's text and they were finally convinced. 1

Anthony did not seem like a bad guy after all... So it was all a misunderstanding!

"Alright, you get a good rest, too. Do tell US if anything happens-we'll have your back no matter what," Senior Jordan reminded her.

Charmine nodded and saw the three of them out of her villa.

The moment they left, the building looked much colder and a little too unwelcoming.

As she sat on the sofa, Charmine's initially stoic expression fell apart.

She put up a brave front before her family, but in truth...

Everyone online blessed Anthony in being with Waverly, and the sight of it made her feel sick to her stomach. She felt like a homewrecker of sorts...

as if she was not good enough for Anthony... 3

Ding!

It was her WhatsApp notification.

Anthony's message read, [Don't overthink. Check the local news.]

Local news?

Was there something even more shocking in the local news?

Warily, Charmine opened the local news and was greeted with the headline [#Five-year-old-boy-looking-for-a-high-paid-wife].

A flame emoji was comically added there, making it even more interesting.

Instinctively, she clicked into it to see the content of Chris' tweet. Her brows instantly furrowed.

Chris was bold enough to make such a post and offered a huge sum of free cash?

No doubt, he must have done this to change the topic of discussion to bury the discussion about Anthony and Waverly in Burlington.

With that, it seemed that it was the people in Kansas shamelessly trying to pull strings with the Baileys. It seemed rather hilarious...

Charmine felt somewhat better at that, and after a moment of thought, she sent a text to Anthony,

[Momo did a good thing-help me to thank him. However, changing the topic of discussion isn't a long-term solution. We have to sort out the matter with

Annabel as soon as possible.]

Annabel's illness had to be stabilized before she and Anthony could go public.

Things would take a turn for the worse if they stalled things even longer.

While it was initially to stop the Baileys from speculating unnecessarily, it had gotten to the point that it seemed to be getting out of control.

Charmine felt unsettled like something bad was about to happen... 1

As expected, something happened the next day.

Although Anthony must have contacted people of authority in Kansas to wipe out the news, their headline stayed on the news for one whole night. As this was related to Waverly, the D'Cruz family's heiress, it remained viral.

Many of the reporters in Kansas rushed over to Burlington over the night and waited outside Royal Hospital since dawn.

Unlike the reporters in Burlington, they were unafraid of Anthony.

Thus, when Anthony and Waverly arrived at the hospital, ten or so reporters surrounded them instantly.

"Mr. Bailey, are you two in a relationship?"

"Ms. D'Cruz, are you getting married to Mr. Bailey?"

"May I ask what stage are you both on? Can you tell US the date you plan to get married?"

Every reporter fought for the chance to speak their question and persistently forced their microphones toward them both.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 757-
Kansas' reporters hounded them, pushing against them that forced Waverly into Anthony's arms.

Anthony instinctively wanted to push her away, but remembering their stance and all eyes on them, he pretended to shield her and marched into the hospital.

The reporters gave chase, unwilling to let Anthony and Waverly escape.

Luckily, Luke quickly came with bodyguards and blocked the reporters, giving Anthony and Waverly a chance to get inside the VIP lift.

They both arrived at the top floor with their clothes messed up. Waverly's lipstick, amid the chaos, rubbed off on Anthony's white shirt.

It gave off the wrong impression.

Nial eyed the pair with furrowed brows. "You two—"

"About to get changed," spoke Anthony as he walked into the bathroom while Waverly walked into another washroom to fix her makeup and clothes.

Both Anthony Waverly avoided talking about it, but it did not take long before the clip of tfAnthony-protecting-Waverly was posted online.

The clip showed as though Waverly was forced to hide in Anthony's arms. Her head was lowered as Anthony protected her with his arm to walk into Royal Hospital.

Although his hand did not touch Waverly, the sight of it was so loving, resulting in girls rabidly fangirling over them.

The fans who shipped them both had fantasized countless romantic moments of them both.

Anthony got changed and regained his usual cold and elegant composure.

'You, handle the rumors on the internet,' instructed Anthony to Nial. "Ms. D'Cruz will be in charge of Annabel."

Nial was flabbergasted.

What a drag!

He had to be in charge of everything, and all of a sudden, he even had to take care of their mess online?

Was Boss Nial born to be a slave!? 1

Despite his chagrin, Nial agreed as it was important to his brother...though reluctantly so.

Anthony, at that moment, took out his phone and was about to contact Charmine when...

'Ding!' came the sound of the elevator, followed by the door to the elevator gradually opening.

The people who walked out from the lift were Susan and Max!

Anthony frowned. Why did they come together?

If they found out about Annabel...

He instantly signaled Nial.

Stealthily, Nial walked into the VIP ward furthest down to prevent Annabel from walking out. Anthony, on the other hand, walked toward the resting lounge.

Seeing him, Susan chased him instantly. "Anthony, why did you change clothes? Where's Ms. D'Cruz?"

"I'm here." Waverly walked out from the washroom, clothes fixed and in pristine condition.

Waverly eyed them both and asked warily, "Auntie, brother, what brings you two here?"

"Oh, well, didn't the news of you two went all over the internet yesterday? Your family found out, and the elders of the D'Cruz family got in touch with us. I came here today to speak to you two about it," said Susan as she tugged at Waverly's hand and walked to the sofa.

'Your parents aren't against you getting with Anthony; we fully support you two as well. There's no need to cover up, just get along well.'

Waverly nodded and agreed, "Don't worry, we're getting along well."

"Oh, really? Why doesn't it seem like that?" Max interrupted coldly, his tone hostile and harsh.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 758-Max stared at Anthony and then at Waverly. "If you two are actually together, is there a need to quell the headlines in Burlington? To be so secretive?"

Waverly was speechless.

What was wrong with her brother?

Max continued, "As our parents have said, they're not against you two from being in love, but they're against a relationship that doesn't end up with marriage. If you two are unsure of getting married, it's better to break up sooner. Don't ruin the reputation of both families!"

His tone was cold and harsh. He seemed displeased, much like a stern senior member of the family.

Anthony sat on the sofa, his face apathetic and distant as he emitted an air of authority.

He did not speak, thus Waverly had to say, "We're still in the early stage of getting to know one another. We can't just get married after knowing each other for a few days, no? Please give US more time."

'The seniors insisted. If you two don't officiate your relationship, or if you don't get engaged within a month, they want me to bring you back to Kansas," clipped Max.

He was basically forcing Anthony and Waverly to officiate their relationship.

They only had the maximum of a month to do so. 1

If Anthony did not make the commitment, he would bring Waverly home.

By then, all hope would be lost for Annabel's illness...

Max eyed Anthony, wanting to see how Anthony would choose.

Anthony, who had not spoken, suddenly looked up and eyed Max sharply."

Feelings can't be forced onto someone. In the eyes of Mr. D'Cruz, is love merely a mission? Or is it just that..."

His gaze at Max became even sharper and colder. 'The D'Cruz can't wait to be associated with the Bailey family?"

Max's face jolted instantly. How could Anthony say such a thing?!

Max was about to lash out, but Waverly hastily explained, "What Anthony meant was that feelings are hard to discern; it's not to be negotiated or traded. Brother, why don't you go back for now? Phone up our parents and tell them I know what to do. If our feelings are well in a month, there's no harm getting engaged."

Afraid of falling out with the D'Cruz family, Susan quickly piped up, "My Anthony speaks rather bluntly; there's no big deal...! Let them talk it out and weigh everything themselves. It'll be alright when they get engaged in a month. As for the rest, I'll discuss with you on behalf of the seniors in the Bailey family."

With that, she stood up and invited Max to leave with her.

Max was furious, but thinking of the future plan, he had to hold it in.

"Alright, you talk it out, or you're coming back to Kansas with me! Furthermore, you two better admit it online so that others stop speculating. The phone at home is almost exploding from all the calls we're getting!"

He glared at Anthony and Waverly before marching away.

With that, Anthony and Waverly were left in the resting lounge.

Waverly looked at Anthony. "Apologies, I didn't expect things to turn out this way."

"Not your fault." Anthony's tone was cold like usual. There was no hint of warmth.

He looked at Waverly and asked, "Will Annabel be cured within a month?"

"Well..."

Waverly thought about the recent situation and confessed, "Now that you consistently take care of her in the hospital, she can almost sleep for approximately five hours per day. If things can continue to develop from here and we continue the treatment for a month, sleeping for eight hours shouldn't be a problem. In a month's time, the baby in her should be in a much more favorable condition. There shouldn't be too much of a problem."

Anthony's eyes darkened. After a moment, he parted his lips, "Alright, I'll make a statement to calm the D'Cruz family within a month. I hope Ms. D'Cruz can do your best."

With that said, he stood up and left.

Waverly frowned. What he meant was that...

On the same day, Anthony suddenly suddenly tweeted...

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 759- Waverly and I are still in the early stages of getting to know one another. We'll announce it to the public in a month if we've decided to stay or not.

Until then, be ready to face the consequences if you invade our privacy.] 1

Since Chris had helped him to remove the option for the netizens to leave comments but did not remove the option to 'heart' the tweet, it merely took an afternoon before the 'hearts' shot up to as many as a million!

Anthony's Tweet was, to the people of Kansas, a blatant confession he was indeed seeing Waverly, and the news went all over the internet for them.

[Anthony Bailey Admitted!], [Anthony Bailey In A Relationship With Waverly D'Cruz!], [Heiress of the D'Cruz

Getting Married In A Month.] and the likes went all over the front page.

It was already evening when Charmine saw the news.

She was driving home from the on-site inspection when the news app she downloaded last night notified her of various news.

Other than the news, there was a clip from the afternoon.

[Shocking News! Anthony Bailey protecting Princess D'Cruz! What A Protective Boyfriend!]

Charmine's eyelids jumped. What even happened?

She clicked open the article to see the clip of Anthony protecting Waverly.

The usually formal Waverly was like a kitten as she leaned against Anthony's wide chest. The clip clearly showed someone forcing the microphone at Waverly, and she instinctively turned over. Her red lips brushed by the white shirt on Anthony's chest.

A red lips mark. How romantic!

Charmine felt her heart shriveling. She never kissed Anthony's chest and white shirt before, yet Waverly did just that. 2

Furthermore, Anthony officially took it to Twitter to admit his relationship with Waverly!

Whenever Anthony tweeted anything to do with Charmine, she would be so terrified like a rat running away from the light. Waverly, on the other hand, could bask in the sunlight and gain everyone's support and blessing...

The comments were all praises.

[Waverly D'cruz, the heiress of Kansas's No.1 Family!]

[The No.1 hypnotist in the world! A genius doctor!]

[Her existence is like the unrealistically perfect main character in movies! I strongly encourage the two to get married soon!]

Every comment felt like a cat scratching at her heart, a feeling most unwelcomed and uncomfortable.

Charmine decided to log out of the news and turned off the websites. She focused on the view outside the car.

'Ignore it, Charmine,' she repeated to herself. 'Everything isn't real; it's for Momo's illness.' 1

Charmine crafted an unbreakable heart throughout the past five years...so why did she become so weak and uncertain all of a sudden?

She lifted her hand to knock her head.

Meanwhile, her phone rang urgently.

It was Anthony.

She hesitated for a moment before picking up. "My lady," greeted Anthony," did Momo look for you?"

"Huh? No, why?" asked Charmine.

"He's missing...!" confessed Anthony.

Luke did not manage to pick up Chris after school. They investigated every surveillance camera and still did not find any clue.

Chris managed to wipe out all footage of the CCTV!

Charmine panicked, "Any clue? Not a clue at all?"

"Yeah, it seems that he intentionally didn't want US to find him. He even binned the locator he wears."

Anthony spoke with a tone incredibly rare and was hardly ever heard before... There was panic in his tone.

However, thinking of Charmine, he comforted, "Don't get too worried.

Momo is already five, and he knows how to take care of himself. I'm just worried that he might do some unexpected things again."

"Alright, you look for him. I'll hang up now."

After hanging up, she instantly took out another phone and instructed Kay," Use up all resources in Burlington to find Momo."

Chris had been keeping tabs on the news of Anthony with Waverly, and he had not seen her for two days.

Charmine did not know what he would do. If anything happened...

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 760-Charmine's nerves were rattled. That night, she drove her motorbike all over Burlington to find Chris.

She went to the candy shop Chris liked, the playground, the ice-cream shop, and the likes. No stones were left unturned as she searched for him.

She even went to the forest where she first met Chris, armed with only a torch...and she came out empty-handed.

It was already one in the morning when she walked out of the forest.

Both Anthony's end and Kay's had no leads to Chris' whereabouts. It was as if Chris had vanished from the world without leaving a trace.

Anxiety washed over Charmine as she grew antsy.

Ring...! Ring...!

Her phone rang...and it was Momo!

Charmine instantly answered the call. "Momo! Where are you?!"

"Mommy, come home quickly, I need to talk to you! Remember, don't let the old man know!" instructed the angry Chris.

Charmine wanted to talk more, but he hung up before she could.

The old man he mentioned must have been Anthony.

Without a second to lose to contact Anthony, Charmine raced back to Violet Villa with her motorbike.

Chris asked her to go home. He must have meant her villa.

As expected, when she arrived outside the villa, she saw a faint light coming from the inside.

Charmine pushed open the door and her pupils dilated.

She saw Chris and Uncle Weir sitting on her sofa, and there was a pile of books in front of them.

A tall pile of thick books was right there on the coffee table!

The books seemed ancient, what with the discoloration of the papers, and there was even the faint smell of old papers in the air.

Spotting Charmine walking into the area, Chris called out, “Mommy, Mommy! Come here!”

‘You two...’ trailed the way Charmine as she walked toward them.

She took a quick glance and noted that on the coffee table were all medical books.

Chris tugged at her arm and asked her to sit beside Dr. Weir.

“From now onward, you’ll learn medicine from Uncle Weir!”

Learn medicine?

Charmine was bewildered.

Chris continued, “How good is that nobody? Isn’t she just a doctor? Why is everyone shipping her with Daddy? I want Mommy to become the best doctor in the world, to win against that nobody!”

Charmine was speechless...

So Chris disappeared, just to ask Dr. Weir to teach her?

Dr. Weir turned to Charmine. "Little Momo has told me everything, and I support you to learn medicine from me. Firstly, this is so that you can surpass Waverly and make Burlington proud. Secondly, you seem uneasy recently, thus learning medicine from me will help to distract you."

That baffled Charmine greatly.

It was not that she did not want to learn-she was too caught up with her work. She also had to look at the documents sent to her by the other Uncles...

Chris merely said, "I've convinced Uncle Nial to take out some time every day to help with your work. I've also asked a few members of the special team in the Bailey Corporation to help you!" 1

So, this boy insisted she studied medicine
