

Chapter 768

Bella Qiao's eyes instantly went cold and icy.

Gu Si Qian reached his goal, a glint of pride in his eyes.

Obviously, he was a reprimanding Yama figure outside, but at this time, in front of this woman, he was smug as a child.

Bella Qiao smirked.

She said, "Gu Si Qian, after four years of not seeing you, you're still as shameless as ever!"

The man doesn't get angry when he hears her curse.

Instead, as if because of her anger, the smugness in her eyes grew even greater.

He lifted his chin slightly and said proudly, "Mutual."

Bella Qiao was so angry that she didn't want to talk.

It was only when Gu Si Qian saw this that he finally let go of her and turned around to continue walking inside.

Georgie touched her sorely pinched jaw and reckoned that there must have been two more thumbprints pinched there.

The thought of that man looking like he just got beaten up was infuriating.

Staring at his back, he didn't curse out in the end and lifted his step to follow.

They kept walking in and didn't get very far before they came to the cemetery.

In the centre of the open field, I saw a new tombstone with a tiny name engraved on it.

These people were all henchmen of the Dragon Regiment Gu Si Qian, four and a half years ago, the Dragon Regiment and the Vermilion Bird Society had a firefight, and in the end, the Dragon Regiment won miserably, and these sacrifices were finally buried here by him in unity.

Bella Qiao looked at the black, cold tombstones and wondered what he was trying to do by bringing himself here.

To kill her and avenge these brothers of his?

But he'd just said he wouldn't kill himself, so that was a beating to relieve her anger?

Heh. Unfortunately, when it comes down to it, there's no telling who can beat who!

Thinking of this, a tinge of pride rose in her heart, and even the way she looked at him was with a hint of disdain.

Of course, Gu Siqian didn't know what was in the woman's heart at the moment. He stood there, dressed in a blue cashmere coat, which set off his magnificent figure like a sturdy pine.

He said in a cold voice, "Bella Qiao, do you know why I didn't kill you?"

Bella Qiao did not speak.

He continued, "For I had promised them that I would make your life a living hell, and would take your blood only after I had tortured you to the end, in order to sacrifice their heads."

He turned and looked at her with indifference.

"So I'm not going to let you off the hook, you should know that."

Bella Qiao also looked at him, locking eyes with him without a trace of fear or timidity in her eyes.

She asked, "So what do you want?"

"Heh!" He smirked, his white teeth showing between his thin lips like a gleaming knife.

He said, "I want you to come with me, and if you don't, that sister of yours, you should know what happens to her!"

Bella Qiao narrowed her eyes.

She looked at him playfully, but deep in her eyes, there was a dangerous light.

"Kuskan, I'm warning you, don't touch the people around me."

"You're in no position to negotiate with me."

"Oh? Right?"

Bella Qiao snickered out loud as she suddenly took a step to the side, snapped a branch down from a nearby tree, then walked back and wrote in a clearing.

"But what if I told you that I have something you want?"

Gu Si Qian was stunned.

In the meantime.

With only her head slightly lowered, she didn't look at him, but the movement of her hands didn't stop either, and before long, she drew a simple road map out using the soft soil of the clearing.

"Recently, I heard you were looking for something that I'm sure you've been looking for for a long time, but there hasn't been a clue, right?"

Gu Si Qian looked at her even colder.

He asked, "How do you know?"

There were a few hints of pleasant sarcasm in Georgie's smile.

She laughed lightly, "Big Boss Gu, I'm in jail, not blind and deaf, and what I want to know, I naturally have a way to know."

She said, the twig in her hand pointing to the ground, and continued, "This is the map I solved in the last few days, the information you got in your hand is true, it's just that there are only a handful of people in this world who can solve that puzzle, and I can say that you won't find another person besides me who can help you solve this puzzle now."

Startled, Gu Si Qian walked over and looked at the pattern on the floor.

As it turned out, it was exactly what he'd been meditating on trying to unravel in recent times.

His face darkened as he looked up at her and asked coldly, "How do you know these things?"

He and Bella Qiao, who had grown up together almost since childhood, knew exactly what Bella Qiao could and couldn't do, what she was good at and what she wasn't good at.

So, he tightly believed that what he couldn't even unravel himself, Georgie couldn't.

Bella Qiao smiled carelessly at the news.

The smile was three parts sarcastic and seven parts cold.

She said softly, "Does it matter to you why I have these things?"

Gu Si Qian's face became even darker.

He stared coldly at Bella Qiao and continued to ask, "Who taught you that?"

Bella Qiao saw this and raised her eyebrows.

It probably didn't occur to him that he would break the casserole so much.

Come to think of it, there was no need to hide this from him, and he could find out anything he wanted to know, anyway.

So he answered truthfully, "An old man taught me that while in prison."

With a cold face, Gu Si Qian turned his head and went to make a call on his mobile phone.

When Bella Qiao saw this, she didn't have to think about what he wanted to do, she smirked and spoke, "Don't waste your time, you won't find him."

Gu Si Qian moved.

Turning, he looked at her coldly and asked, "Why?"

Bella Qiao walked to the side, her fingers loose to play with the branch, and said, "No reason, because he is already dead ah."

Gu Si Qian's brows immediately furrowed.

Bella Qiao looked at him with a seeming smile and said, "Why else do you think I would have told you?"

Kusken: "..."

Shit, this woman has set me up again.

Bella Qiao threw the branch away, propped one hand on the stone case next to him, leapt up and sat down, saying, "Boss Gu, seriously, let's make a deal."

Gu Si Qian stared at her coldly and smirked, "Deal?With you?"

"Yeah, just with me."

"You deserve it too?"

Bella Qiao: "..."

She told herself in her mind that the man was sick in the head, she was a normal person, she didn't bother with patients, she endured.

So the smile on his face grew brighter and brighter.

"Whether I'm worthy or not, Boss Gu will only know after we work together, right? Besides, who else but me can unlock this map now? In the world, everyone takes what they need, you don't lose and I don't lose, so why do you need to elevate yourself so high that in the end no one can get off the stage, don't you think so?"

Chapter 769

The coldness in Gu Si Qian's eyes grew even stronger.

The words that came out were even colder than ice, "Are you threatening me?"

Bella Qiao sighed helplessly.

Shaking his head, he walked over to him and said, "Look at you, how can you say that? I'm just helping you analyze the pros and cons, if you really don't want to cooperate, it's okay ah, I heard that the Zijin family is also thinking about this map recently, those things, I'm sure they're also interested!"

"Since you don't want the opportunity placed in front of you, I'll just find them, I had a few meetings with Seven in the first place anyway, and to say the least, I quite like her."

"I hear she's a member of the Ziggin family now, right? As the saying goes, "Don't let the fat go to the other person's land." "After all, we're considered our own people." "See how good this is?"

"It's kind of nice to catch up with her, and don't tell me, I've missed her for a few years."

The further she went on, the deeper Gu Si Qian's face sank.

Finally, by the time she stopped, her face was so sunken it could almost drip.

He tugged up the corners of his lips and said with light sarcasm, "I didn't realize that you've been in jail for the past four years, but your ears are quite far away."

Bella Qiao raised her eyebrows and smiled, "Does Boss Gu now regret not shooting me dead in the first place?"

Gu Si Qian sneered, "It's quite regrettable."

"Gee, too bad you don't get the chance now."

She said, the man walked up to him, looked at his handsome face and said, "I've long said that if you didn't kill me in the first place, sooner or later, I'll come back to seek revenge on you, Gu Siqian, don't bring me to see the bones of these brothers of yours in the future, I'm too disgusted, after all, the blood we shed in the Vermilion Bird Society is still hot, too!"

She said, her eyes going completely cold.

Stretching out his foot, he covered the pattern on the ground with a casual sweep, and then he turned around and coldly headed out.

The woman's cold, extremely cold voice came from far and near with a hint of coldness and finality.

"Gu Si Qian, if you want to cooperate, show your sincerity, you know where I am, within three days, come and find me, if you haven't seen your person after three days, then don't blame me for handing over my things to someone else."

After that, the man had disappeared.

Gu Si Qian didn't go after him, just stood there quietly, indifferently staring at the back of that departing figure.

Looking at her confident and unrestrained appearance, and for some reason, not only was there no sense of humiliation or anger at being defeated by the other party, but there was a secret celebration because of her strength.

She was, in the end, growing into what she wanted to be.

.....

It was already half an hour later when Gu Si Qian descended the mountain again.

The driver and assistant, Qin Yue, saw him from afar and jumped down from the driver's seat to quickly greet him.

"Boss."

When it was noticed that there was no one behind him, he was out alone, his face changed instantly.

"Boss, Miss Jo she..."

Gu Si Qian's face was as dark as water, and instead of answering that question, he passed right past him and got into the car, commanding in a cold voice, "Drive."

Qin Yue realized with a start that he was in a very bad mood and immediately didn't dare to ask any more questions.

Even climbed into the car as well, started it up, and drove off into the city.

On the other hand, Bella Qiao came back by taxi.

She really didn't want to ride in the same car with that man again, and she felt that if she spent more time with him, she just might not be able to control herself and actually do it and kill him.

Here, she raised her hand and touched her neck

With the soreness still on her neck, she pulled out her phone and looked at it, finding two faint red marks on it.

The heart gnawed at me.

Cursed the bastard!And really do it.”

But it wasn't just once or twice that he'd done it to her, four years ago, and I don't know how many times harder than that.

So, she got used to it and rubbed herself and left the phone alone.

The car drove all the way to the city, and by the time it returned to Tang Qiqi's dormitory, it was nearly eight o'clock in the evening.

This time of year, it gets dark early, and by eight o'clock it's all dark.

The city was brilliantly lit, and Bella Qiao got off the bus at the bottom of the dormitory building, remembering only after touching her pocket that she didn't have any money on her.

It was so embarrassing.

As it turns out, even the most powerful man can defeat a hero for a penny when he has no money on him.

She had no choice but to shamelessly call Tang Qi Qi and ask her to bring money down to pay the fare.

The driver originally watched her touch her body left and right for a while, but just didn't pull out any money, and thought he'd run into a white food eater.

But seeing as she was pretty and cleanly dressed, she shouldn't look like one, plus the other was a young girl and thought she was thin-skinned, so she didn't say anything.

But mouths are still worried.

It wasn't until I heard her call for the money to be sent down that I let it go.

Tang Qiqi soon came down, holding four or five red notes in her hands.

Handing her the money, the flesh of her face shook with distress when she saw her hand it to the driver.

Asked Bella Qiao, "Sister, where are you going? Why do you spend so much money on transportation?"

Bella Qiao was also embarrassed.

She touched her head in embarrassment and said, "Let's go up and get back to the house."

Tang Qi Qi could only nod at the sight of it.

They went upstairs together and returned to the room.

At this time, Tang Qi Qi's two roommates had already left for work.

Tang Qi Qi had taken today off in order to accompany Bella Qiao, and tomorrow was her normal day off, so she had two days to rest.

Bella Qiao never came back just now, and she was about to make a phone call to see if she had anything to do with what time she'd be back.

She didn't expect to come in and as soon as she called, she was asking for money.

Tang Qiqi's current monthly salary was only about three thousand, and this time, Bella Qiao spent four or five hundred dollars on bus fare in one trip, of course she was still heartbroken.

I was just worried that Georgie would think too much, so I tried to restrain myself from showing it.

But just because she doesn't show it, doesn't mean Georgie doesn't know.

How smart is Georgie?

From a young age, she's needed to make a living by being smart, and it's almost become her instinct to be empathetic and understanding.

So, she understood very well, Tang Qi Qi's current situation.

And that's why it was extraordinarily frustrated with its own mistakes today.

She knew, however, that the difficulties were temporary.

She would soon have her own thing to do, and then she would be able to return the favor to Tang Qi Qi.

Her guilt was a little lighter when she thought about it.

Tang Qi Qi, however, didn't understand what she was thinking, and after sitting down, looked at her and asked worriedly, "Sister, where exactly did you go today?"

Chapter 770

Bella Qiao hesitated before explaining, "I'm going out of town today."

Tang Qi Qi was stunned at the news.

Some were puzzled, "What are you doing out of town?"

Bella Qiao didn't want her to know those things about himself, so he didn't tell her the truth.

So then he said perfunctorily, "Go do something."

Quickly changing the subject, "By the way, if you don't have anything to do in the next few days, stay home with me, I want to go buy two sets of clothes tomorrow, keep the money in mind and I'll pay you back in a couple of days."

Tang Qi Qi nodded, "I originally took a leave of absence and planned to accompany you for two days, as for the money, don't mention it yet, you can use it first, we'll talk about it later."

She also knew that Bella Qiao didn't have much money on her right now, so naturally she couldn't mention those words.

Bella Qiao knew what was on her mind, but at this point, there was no benefit in explaining too much, so he could only reveal it.

An evening passed so peacefully.

Tang Qi Qi's two roommates returned the next morning.

Both men got drunk and threw up on the floor.

Unlike Tang Qiqi, they both, who were willing to accompany their guests, earned more tips, but naturally, they also worked harder.

Needless to say being wooed, you can drink until your stomach bleeds just by drinking.

Tang Qi Qi was busy getting up to take care of them, cleaning up the filth that they threw up, as well as helping them wash their bodies and helping them go to sleep and so on.

Naturally, Bella Qiao was also awakened, but did not come forward to help.

She doesn't really like being intimate with people she doesn't know very well, and although she looks kind on the outside, she's actually cold on the inside.

So, she just stood on the side and watched quietly for a while, but in her heart, as a result, she made some judgments about the place where Tang Qi Qi worked, and felt that she must not be allowed to continue working at that place in the future.

Thinking so, she went back to her house, freshened up a bit, and then went out with Tang Qi Qi.

They went to get breakfast to eat and then went to the mall.

Based on Tang Qi Qi's consumption level, the mall he went to naturally couldn't be any high-end mall.

Naturally, Bella Qiao didn't like what was in there, but she didn't want to disappoint Tang Qi Qi, so she picked out two or three pieces and used them as a change of clothes, then in the afternoon, she let Tang Qi Qi go back first and went to the Vermilion Bird Society's former place.

The place where the Vermilion Bird Society used to be was in ruins.

The organization is gone and the place has been sold.

She didn't get close, just stood far away and watched, watching as what had once been her own training ground was now a football field for someone else building a school.

Actually, looking at it now, I think it's fine.

Those darkneses that were not seen in the sun are now turned into sunny youth and positivity, like sunshine on every branch and warm light for all to feel.

But what about those who have died?

Do they feel cold when they are buried deep in the dark?

Bella Qiao turned around and walked back one step at a time, each step feeling like a thousand pounds beneath her feet.

She was thinking to herself that she hadn't made it that far after all, as she had said she would.

She thought that she would never be able to forget the friends who treated each other like their lives, which was why she hated so much in the face of Gu Siqian's callousness.

Before she knew it, she was walking to the beach.

This sea, with no beach, is edged by a railing, and below it is a black reef, standing jaggedly like a hard black heart.

She leaned over slightly, allowing her body to rest on the railing.

Look out at the endless ocean and swear in your heart.

She must, she must get back all that she has lost!

Three days later, news of Kuskan arrived.

He agreed to cooperate.

This result was always expected by Bella Qiao.

After receiving the news, the same day, the car Gu Si Qian sent to pick her up arrived at the bottom of Tang Qi Qi's dormitory building.

Faced with Tang Qi Qi's suspicious gaze, Bella Qiao didn't explain that much to her and just patted her shoulder reassuringly, telling her not to worry and that she would call her when she had time and that she could call herself if she needed anything, and then left.

Although Tang Qi Qi was still worried, he also knew that Bella Qiao's matter was not something he could control.

You don't have the qualifications or the ability to do that yourself.

So, watching her back as she left, she could only bite down hard on her lip to push down the bit of anxiety she felt.

Bella Qiao got in the car and followed it all the way to the castle.

With each other, Kuskan is in the middle of the castle, waiting for her to arrive.

The black carved iron gates, like the mouth of a giant beast, burst open as the car drove into the large manor house, allowing the car to slow down.

Inside was a large fountain and garden, and only further inside was the main building where Gu Si Qian lived.

The car stopped right in front of the main building.

Naturally, a driver got out of the car to open the door for her, and Bella Qiao got out of the car and looked up at the magnificent building, her slightly narrowed eyes narrowed shallowly, and her mouth curled up in a cool smile.

After four years, she's finally back!

Four years ago, the events that took place here flashed before our eyes like a movie screen.

All the heartbreaking, bone-deep love and hatred, as if also with the flood of time, washed down, and now only the bone-deep hatred and hatred remains.

She stepped forward and went inside.

Ober about knew she was coming and was at the door early in the morning.

Seeing her, with that proper smile on his face that belonged exclusively to his butler, he said, "Miss Jo, it's been a long time since you've been here."

Naturally, Bella Qiao recognized Ober.

In the beginning, when she and Gu Siqian were still at the dean's grandfather's place, Uncle Ou would often come over to visit Gu Siqian, and would naturally take a little more care of little Bella who lived there together.

For example, if there was any good and fun food, they would bring her one as well, so they not only knew each other, but they were familiar with each other.

Bella Qiao looked at him and nodded slightly, but she had respect for Ober anyway.

"Ober, long time no see."

With a kind smile on his face, Ober pushed the door open for her and said, "Go in, the young master is waiting for you inside."

Georgie nodded and stepped inside.

However, before entering the house, I heard a woman's petulant laughter.

The house was dimly lit, with just a few dim floor lamps lit in the Noisy living room compared to the sunny one outside.

She narrowed her eyes and stopped a few steps from the doorway into the house, once her eyes had adjusted to the light inside.

It was only then that I could see that the man was sitting on the leather sofa in the living room.

But he wasn't the only one in the living room.
