

Chapter 776

No. Please search on Baidu (web) Yin Luo thought about it carefully, and felt that the matter should be resolved first. She was relieved after seeing the fate of those who did bad things with her own eyes. This matter is dealt with, we will go to dinner again, I want to see their fate with my own eyes.”

Aren't you hungry? Yi Yan asked caringly. It has been a while since the end of work, and he seemed to hear a small scream from her stomach just now.

It's okay. She was just a little hungry. Besides, she often forgets to get off work, so the hungry have long been used to it. Hungry is nothing to her.

She looked at Yi Yan with an awe-inspiring look. “It doesn't matter if I am hungry, but you can't let your company have a little safety hazard. So don't worry about me, you should quickly solve the things that should be solved, and then we can eat a beautiful meal. Meal. Huh?”

In fact, Yi Yan was a little hungry, but when Yin Luo said this, and with an expression that he must solve the matter before going to dinner, Yi Yan had to follow her.

So Yin Luo took Yi Yan back to the office.

They sat together, Yi Yan took out his mobile phone and started to do business, opened the contact, but remembered that there was no phone number of the deputy manager of the personnel department stored in the mobile phone. So he called the HR manager and asked for the phone number of the deputy manager.

Yin Luo Tucao said, “You don't even have the phone number of the deputy manager of your company's personnel department. Don't you usually contact them? It's too irresponsible, right.”

Yi Yanben was pressing the phone number and hearing Yin Luo say this, he caught a kiss on Yin Luo's face unexpectedly, and then helped her put the broken hair before her ears, and said affectionately, “My phone There is no longer enough memory for you, and there is no need to install too many people.”

Looking at Yi Yan who was so serious, Yin Luo couldn't help laughing with a “pouch”. This laugh was not because of Yi Yan's love words, but because the broken hair in front of the ear was not meant to be placed in front of the ear. The face is messy and beautiful, now...

What's the matter? Yi Yan asked strangely. He was just as serious as he wanted to be, but she laughed at him, very upset.

Yin Luo really considered whether to tell the president of Yi Da the truth about this matter. What if it hurts his young heart? Thinking that the president of Yida should be very strong in his heart, Yin Luo decided to tell him what he really wanted.

Yin Luo took out the hair that was behind her ears again, and explained, “President, the position of this bunch of hair should be here, it's better to put it here.”

Yi Yan nodded, Yin Luo originally thought he would say something flattering, such as Luo Luo, you look pretty anyway.

Looking at Yi Yan, he thought for a while, and then thoughtfully said, "Well, it looks better in front of your ears."

Yin Luo silently complained about him again in his heart, whether the chief executive should be so honest and serious.

You hurry up and call. Yin Luo urged. He didn't feel anything when he was chatting with Yi Yan, and he was really hungry as soon as he stopped.

Yi Yan nodded and called the deputy manager of the personnel department.

Unlike the softness when chatting with Yin Luo, Yi Yan commanded in a very cold voice, "Come to the president's office within five minutes, I have something to ask you."

But... President, I'm a little far away from the company now, so... so I shouldn't be there. The deputy manager stuttered. He was very nervous at this time. The president usually doesn't call him. Most of them were notified by the general manager today. Today the president even called him personally, indicating that something must be done. Could it be Girl Lin...

Without saying anything in detail, Yi Yan only said coldly, "I'm waiting for you in the office, so you can figure it out by yourself."

After speaking, he directly hung up the phone. Yin Luo lamented that the president of Yida was ruthless enough to let people figure it out. What else could they do?

However, treating those who open the back door like this is also cool.

Indeed, after five minutes, the deputy manager did not arrive. Maybe what he said is true, he is now a little far away from the company. Otherwise, if Yi Yan had such a deterrent effect, he would still have a guilty conscience when he did something wrong, so how could he not be afraid?

After another two minutes, someone finally knocked on the office door. Yi Yan said "enter", and the deputy manager came in out of breath.

A man who looked like he was only 30 or 40 years old in the neighborhood, but a lot of silver hair was born on his temples. Probably because of his rush to the company, he sweated a lot on his hair and face. Of course it is also possible that he is the kind of sweaty person.

Running too anxiously, even though it was a short journey, made him a little older when he was only 30 or 40 years old.

He hung his head slightly, and asked in a low voice, "President, um...this is...it should be the president's wife."

He remembered seeing the president and this young lady at the reprinted press conference last time, so she should be the president's wife.

Yin Luo smiled and nodded at him, suddenly feeling a little uneasy in his heart. It's like a jailer watching an unknowing prisoner eating on the road.

Hello, Mrs. President. The deputy manager also hugged his head and greeted Yin Luo.

Yi Yan stood up and replied, "There is a female assistant in Xinzhong in the company, do you know that?"

Hearing this, the deputy manager was obviously a little nervous, and some new sweat broke out on his forehead. I don't know if he was just tired or he was nervous and afraid.

He lowered his head, never dared to look directly at Yi Yan, stuttering, "This...I know this female employee, she...I interviewed."

Oh? Yi Yan looked directly at the guilty deputy manager, avoiding his gaze all the time. Yi Yan asked, "As far as I know, her education is an undergraduate degree, and that undergraduate college is still an undergraduate degree that is no different from a junior college. What special abilities did she have in the interview that made you decide to hire her out of order?"

This... The deputy general manager frowned embarrassedly. Since the president specifically called him over at this time, there must be a reason. I'm afraid that the president already knows the things that should be known or not. Originally, he thought that the president would not care about such a small assistant, and he didn't know how the president came back to pay attention to this matter.

The child Lin Yatou always speaks without thinking. It must be because she offended others and then went to the president to file a complaint. This matter was corrected.

Now that the president already knows, he plans to stop hiding, "President, do you know all about it?"

Yi Yan nodded and asked indifferently, "How do you want to explain?"

The deputy manager shook his head helplessly, and said, "I am also very embarrassed about this. On the one hand, it is the company's regulations and the other is the stalking of my family. Originally, I was not optimistic about this girl. I didn't expect her to be everywhere. Cause trouble. Since he caused trouble for you, the company will fire her immediately, and I will strictly criticize and educate her, you see?"

Now that things have reached this point, the deputy manager can only push Lin girl out. He is the veteran of the company and has never made a mistake after working for so many years. For the first time, the president should also look to bypass him on the face of the company's executives and his old age.

However, Yi Yan did not intend to let him go. Yi Yan knew that for so many years, the deputy manager had abused his power a lot. It was because he was the veteran of the company that he kept giving him face and never punished him. But this time, he actually walked through the back door directly to people, really thinking that he didn't exist anymore, really thinking that the company was the world of those sensible people who depended on the old and sold the old.

Shouldn't the deputy manager reflect on himself? Yi Yan asked with a cold face.

Yin Luo just sat far away on the sofa and felt a war without gunpowder smoke. The cold air seemed to be condensing. It seemed that anyone who came close to him would die without a place to bury him.

The deputy manager smiled and nodded and replied, "Yes, yes, President, I was also wrong about this matter. I didn't take care of my niece. I didn't persist in the face of pressure from my family. I will reflect and write a review. Here you are. I will definitely educate the child well in the future, so as not to let her get into trouble, let alone let him appear in front of you to obstruct your eyes."

Yi Yan also smiled and said, "You are not young anymore. Now it must be under great pressure, but it's time to go home and cultivate. Huh?"

President, I... The deputy manager was embarrassed, and before he could finish speaking, Yi Yan interrupted forcefully.

He walked up to the deputy manager and said, "Would you write your resignation letter yourself, or if I listed the things you have done before kicking him out, you choose. I believe you also want face, how should you choose? It's yourself It's up to you. I don't want to see you in the company tomorrow.

Seeing Yi Yan and him tore his skin, the deputy manager no longer pretended to be a good person. He glared, "You...if you didn't have a few old sensible people in the company, you wouldn't be where you are today. Why? Now you kick them away when you have money? Offending me is the same as offending them."

Yi Yan sneered disdainfully, and said, "Do you really think your place in their hearts is important? I believe they will make a very wise choice if they choose between you and the many opportunities in the future. , Just as you would make a very wise choice, right?"

The deputy manager was furious on the spot. Although he always had various relationships with several veterans in the company, he was not sure that they would sacrifice themselves for him. Most of them should just pretend to be impeded by his face, begging for a few words of affection.

Even if one or two people were willing to jump out for him, and now Yi Yan's wings were already stiff, I am afraid he wouldn't care what one or two people said.

Think carefully for yourself. After Yi Yan finally finished speaking with the deputy manager, he led Yin Luo to leave the company.

Still Yin Luo was waiting for him downstairs in Yiyuan Company, he went to the parking lot and drove the car over.

Yin Luo got in the car, Yi Yan watched Yin Luo sitting there blankly, and didn't say anything. It was not like her, so he asked, "Why? Afraid?"