

Chapter 786

Yin Luo drove Ouyang Feifei on the street.

What are you going to eat? Yin Luo asked while watching Ouyang Feifei still putting on makeup. It stands to reason that she has been exhausted this week and hasn't eaten for a long time. She is not hungry yet, so she is relaxing here to touch up her makeup.

Of course I'm hungry. At this time, Ouyang Feifei was still drawing her eyebrows in the mirror while complaining, "I blamed the small car accident, scared me into a cold sweat and lost my makeup. I should have eaten. , I'm so hungry now. Why don't we eat Mala Tang, it's been a long time since I missed the taste of the past, I don't know if the store is still there."

That store is there. You are only returning to China now. Don't eat there. It is easy to get angry. Yin Luo persuaded. She used to like to eat mala Tang with Ouyang Feifei. If she has the opportunity, she Also go with her. It's just now that I'm going to eat Mala Tang at noon, it seems quite inappropriate. And I don't know if they will open the door at noon.

Ouyang Feifei finished putting on makeup, looked in the mirror again, and closed the mirror with satisfaction after seeing that he was a beautiful woman after putting on makeup. She didn't feel very hungry when she put on makeup. After putting on makeup, she was less attentive and felt she was going to starve to death. What Luoluo said also made sense, and she had always listened to what Luoluo said.

Ouyang Feifei stretched, thought about it, and then asked, "I want to eat hamburger and fried chicken. Is there a store near here?"

It should be. You can check the map with your phone. Burgers can still be eaten, but she doesn't remember which shops are nearby even though she often comes here.

Ouyang Feifei took out her mobile phone and found a nearby KFC store. After parking the car with Luoluo, she entered the store.

After Yin Luo said that she had a treat, Ouyang Feifei unceremoniously ordered a big tweet that was delicious.

Yin Luo despised, "You'd better not ask me, or you will have to be poor."

It's okay, it's okay, eat whatever you want. Ouyang Feifei waved her hand, seemingly indifferent, "Next time I invite you to a buffet, you'd better feed others poorly, hahaha."

Yin Luo ate this hamburger and looked at Feifei, the longer and more beautiful Feifei. She really left the girl's college. Yin Luo sighed and said, "Did any boy teach you badly?"

I... I didn't. Ouyang Feifei glanced at Yin Luo, and said she did not even have a boyfriend, Luo Luo Dao is now married, and she still doesn't understand Luo Luo's husband at all. I don't know if I'm lucky or not. However, there should not be many people who don't love a good girl like Luoluo.

Ouyang Feifei had forgotten to ask Luoluo her husband. This time, Luoluo asked who was the boy first, so Ouyang Feifei naturally mentioned this matter, and then she thought that Luoluo was not a good girlfriend at all. Telling yourself the situation really made her very angry. "You don't tell me when you get married. I still listen to others. I'm so angry."

Don't be angry, I am too... Yin Luo knew that Feifei was angry with herself for a reason. After all, as a good girlfriend, there should be no secrets, but she thought that getting married with Yi Yan was just a deal. Did not tell Feifei to make her worry.

Now it seems that fortunately, I didn't tell Feifei, knowing that Yi Yan was just false to herself, and all had a purpose. If Feifei knew about this, she would definitely go to Yi Yan's door impulsively. But it was impossible to hide it for a while, how could she explain it now?

The best way is half-truth. Anyway, you can't make Feifei worry about her. Feifei has just returned to China and has many things to deal with. She can't let her worry about her affairs anymore, and she has her own measures on this matter.

Therefore, Yin Luo decided to only tell Feifei the first half. This can only be regarded as a concealment, not a deception. "Don't mention this marriage. Our marriage is basically using each other. At the beginning, my company was facing bankruptcy, and he was willing. Give me 20% of the shares for the purpose of marrying him. We all get what we need."

Ah? Then you marry him so confused? Ouyang Feifei is a female man who advocates true love, although it is difficult to understand that this is a marriage together for profit.

Otherwise? You should have heard that Lu Shuchen cheated before marriage. Marrying him is better than marrying my current husband. Yin Luo smiled self-deprecatingly. It would be hard for her to want to come. The first person to marry cheated before marriage, and the second person to marry treats himself well, but has always been acting for her. If she hadn't received the paternity test and the letter, I'm afraid she too To be deceived by him, he really looked like her to her.

Originally Ouyang Feifei was quite angry that Yin Luo didn't tell her, but now after listening to what Luoluo said, the anger is gone, and all that is left is caring, "Then Luoluo, how is your husband treat you now?"

If she did not receive the paternity test, she would think he treated her very well, and even said that she would think he really liked her without reservation. Now, everything is just a conspiracy. But in order not to worry Feifei, Yin Luo tried his best to remember the good times when he was with Yi Yan.

He treats me very well. We will eat together most of the time. His ten-fingered president who doesn't touch Yang Chunshui will even wash the dishes one day. He will eat mala Tang that I've never eaten because of me. What's the matter? He will respect my thoughts. By the way, he, a serious-looking man, actually likes to eat big white rabbit toffee. When he is angry, I will bring him a bag. I will also bring it when he is okay. Give it to eat. By the way, besides, he is still a very proud president.

While talking, Yin Luo laughed unconsciously. But after thinking that the sweetness was fake, she stopped smiling.

Ouyang Feifei stared at Yin Luo for a second, she was poisoned, right? “Luo Luo, are you sure you got together because of profit? Listen to what you just said, you are obviously a couple in love, a little bit. It’s not like a purposeful marriage. So after you got married, did you love each other? It’s very like the one in Li’s marriage first and then love.”

No. Yin Luo replied immediately and decisively, she wouldn’t like him, let alone love him. Since she experienced Lu Shuchen and Yi Yan, the word love is too extravagant for her.

Now it seems that men are really unreliable, men want too much, rights, money, maybe each of these is above love. Therefore, from ancient times to the present, men are mostly thin lovers.

No, maybe Yi Yan has no sympathy for her, but how can it be said that it is a kindness?

Why are you so sure? Maybe you will fall in love with other people’s president in the future? Ouyang Feifei had heard that her husband seemed to be handsome, and she had money and was tall. It was a wealthy man. Handsome, it is hard to guarantee that Luo Luo will not like him in the future.

And her family is so smart, beautiful and generous, there is no guarantee that the president will not like Shangluo. The two parties liked it so much, and the marriage was a matter of course.

Don’t always talk about me? What about you? What kind of boy do you like, I will introduce you to it. Yin Luo didn’t want to mention Yi Yan anymore, so he changed the subject. She herself is now married, and Feifei does not have a boyfriend, can she not worry about it?

Me? Thinking about her boyfriend, Ouyang Feifei immediately stopped her chewing mouth, raised her head and imagined it, and then smiled happily, “I like good looks, live well, be tall and rich, and be filial, Smart, brave, responsible and responsible, but also humorous, single-minded to me, eq, know how to please girls, and...”

Stop, stop. Yin Luo interrupted her, vomiting, “Feifei, you are single by your ability. I’m afraid you can’t get married if you look for it like this.”

Yeah. I was joking, haha. The two main points are to look good and live well. I’ll hide it. Ouyang Feifei looked like an idiot and imagined what she would look like in the future, she must be handsome. But don’t be as rascal as the person she hit in the car accident. Obviously both of them are responsible, and because his car is more expensive, she has to compensate. It’s simply hateful, insidious, and vicious.

What’s wrong? Did you think of something unhappy? Yin Luo asked, watching Ouyang Feifei’s face change from a idiot face to a disdainful face.

Yes. Ouyang Feifei felt angry when she thought of that man, so arrogant and defiant. When she just hit his car, he started scolding her before he got out of the car before he knew what was going on. He was full of swear words. How could there be people like him in this world? He should have been struck to death by lightning long ago, “I thought of the man I hit. I really want to hit me a little bit harder now. He even scolded me and made me lose money and get angry.”

Don’t be angry, don’t be angry. Yin Luo hurriedly comforted Feifei. Although she knew that Feifei’s anger would be fine for a while, she still comforted her, “It’s a scumbag. If the sister has money, it’s okay to be a beggar.

Even if he is a beggar, I don't want to give him money. Ouyang Feifei still bears a grudge. Yin Luo can only pray that that person will not meet her Feifei in the future, otherwise I don't know what the situation will be.

After eating, Ouyang Feifei was not with Yin Luo. She had just returned to China, and there were still a lot of unhandled things to do, and Yin Luo still had some things to do, so the two separated first, and Yin Luo separated. Qian Ding Wan asked her to be more careful on the road. Ouyang Feifei nodded and agreed, but Yin Luo still looked very worried, but she couldn't be with Feifei for the rest of her life, so she had to be separated from Feifei.

Yin Luo wanted to go to Lu's family to find Lu's father. Although he knew that the paternity test should be true, Yin Luo still wanted to check again.
