

Chapter 800

Halfway through, Yin Luo's cell phone rang. She picked up the cell phone and looked at it. It was her father. After her mother was gone and Chen Meng brought Yin Hui to her house, Father Yin seldom cared about Yin Luo. He would not greet her if there was nothing that needed her.

Since she managed the Yin family, she has helped him too much in the past few years because of his kindness to her. Even if he gave birth to her, this cannot be the reason for his unscrupulous behavior.

Especially if he is the only one, sometimes he even took their mother and daughter to use his affection for her. Although Yin Luo and the mother and daughter hadn't reached the point where they were incompatible, at least Yin Luo looked at them with nausea.

Yin Luo saw his call and hung up. It must be no good for him to call her.

After the phone showed that the call was in progress, Father Yin waited for a while, made another call, and was later hung up by Yin Luo. But he didn't give up at all. After making several calls in a row, Yin Luo felt annoyed and turned off the phone.

Why are they all hung up? Yi Yan glanced at Yin Luo in her spare time while driving, and she could see that she was not in a good mood. It may be because she is in a bad mood because of him, or it may be because of the owner of the phone.

Yin Luo closed his eyes, leaning against the car in a tired posture, "When did you become so curious?"

Yi Yan looked at the road ahead, but didn't answer. Maybe only when he was facing her would he be a little curious, would like to know more and care a little.

But since she didn't want to mention it, then he wouldn't force her. He might have forced her too tight, so she refused again and again, resisted again and again, and took his tolerance again and again as a matter of course. . He took one step forward, and she took two steps back. He wanted to be nice to her, but she regarded him as a scourge.

But every time he couldn't help but want to touch her aggressively and taste her beauty.

No matter what, as long as it is something he can hold back, don't force her, and let some things take their course. But he would never let go of what he should get, as if she could only belong to him.

Sending Yin Luo to the company, saying goodbye to her, watching her leaving, makes people feel a sense of protection, but she is so strong. Yi Yan didn't feel relieved to leave until she entered the company safely.

Not long after Yin Luocai joined the company, he was quarreled by the noise outside when he was still working seriously.

Yin Luo put down the signature pen in his hand, held his forehead with his hand, and called to Lin Lin, "What's wrong outside?"

Lin Lin answered truthfully, "Your father and Mrs. Chen are here. The front desk probably let them in because they were your relatives. Especially Mrs. Chen, we made a big noise at the door of your office without letting in. The president estimated you I don't want to see them either, or I will find a reason to refuse."

Yin Luo frowned. He didn't expect that if she didn't answer his call, he actually ran to the company to find her. She sighed, rather helpless. After all, she and her father are still a family, and she can't bear to ignore her father. For the sake of grandpa's face, Yin Luo waved her hand and said, "Let them come in."

Okay, President. Lin Lin nodded and went out to inform.

Father Yin and Chen Meng walked in like this, treating this place as their own home, and found a comfortable place to sit in.

Yin Luo didn't want to care about these things with them either. Just do whatever they like. There must be something to do with her this time. She temporarily put aside the work at hand, and asked blankly, "What's the matter?"

Chen Meng looked very angry. The wrinkles on her face were crumpled together, and she asked harshly, "Luoluo, you are good. Even my father and I are gone, so I don't care about us. You. That's how my daughter did it? Doesn't even your father have to be turned away? How come you still don't know what to do?"

Father Yin was not that angry at first, but after hearing what Chen Meng said, he felt shameless. This daughter is now grown up, has money, and still holds the power of the company, so don't take him seriously? How did he raise such a daughter?

Yin Luo sneered, scorned Chen Meng, and said something that might embarrass the woman. "If you think I'm going to you thousands of miles away, it's all because of you. You think you can get in without my dad." The door of the company?"

For that woman, she never softened her hands, even if she was still a family with her in name. In fact, more often than not, she doesn't bother to care about her. She is worthless in her heart, and she doesn't even want to post her upside down.

This woman also knows how to pretend and will seduce men, otherwise how could her father be seduced by her to give birth to Yin Hui?

For Yin Hui, Yin Luo was innocent because she was a child. But later, after knowing that she had a virtue with her mother, she didn't have much intersection with her. After all, she is also father's child, so she doesn't want to spend too much time with her.

Luoluo! How do you speak? Father Yin frowned and called to her. She was too harsh and disrespectful to Chen Meng. However, when Luo Luo said that just now, his anger disappeared a bit. No matter what she treats others, at least Luoluo still recognizes him as his father. He did not disappoint him in raising her for so many years.

Yin Luo didn't want to waste any time on that Chen Meng at all, and wasting time was a waste of money. Especially when wasting time in Chen Meng's place, it would be more than double the money.

Although she is not short of money now, it is estimated that when she sees Chen Meng again, she will probably be hot to the eye.

Just say something quickly, I still have to work. Yin Luo said indifferently, without a trace of emotion in his words.

Chen Meng, who was still talking about her ignorance just now, immediately changed her face and played a good image of a "lovely mother". "How can you say that? We come to you, not just for our business, we Maybe it's been a long time since I saw you, and I miss you a little bit. Didn't you say? Luoluo his dad?"

Chen Meng gently touched Father Yin with his elbow and asked him to take the call.

Father Yin thought about the other daughter's affairs, and then temporarily put aside his posture, and then Chen Meng said, "Yes, Dad knows that you are still thinking about our family relationship. They are all in the family, why bother?"

Yeah! Look no matter what, we are all a family. Huihui and you are also connected by blood. Chen Meng only then set up a relationship.

Ho, family? When Chen Meng scolded her in front of others, she didn't treat her as a family, and Chen Meng was anxious that she didn't treat her as a family when something happened. Yin Hui complained all day that she didn't treat her as a family when she complained about her. Yin Hui didn't treat her as a family when she was shamelessly trying to grab Yi Yan as her man.

Even if they want to be her family, they are not worthy at all.

Yin Luo didn't want to talk with them any more, and said directly, "If you insist on chatting with me, then I don't mind, but if you ask me other requests today, you shouldn't. If you really have something to do. , Just say quickly, I'm very busy."

This... Chen Meng was embarrassed by Yin Luo's direct comment, so he looked at Father Yin and asked him to tell what they wanted Yin Luo to do.

Father Yin didn't care about anything, so he said it directly. I believe Luoluo would not help but for such a simple trivial matter. This probably only takes Yin Luo a word.

Huihui has also returned from abroad, so we want you to arrange a position for her in the company.

This matter... Yin Luo knew that they had a purpose. When Chen Meng asked her for money in the past, she could give Chen Meng more of her money. But now... She is the president of the company, and she should set an example and abide by the company's regulations. Going through the back door is strictly prohibited by the company. Or Yin Luo himself is strengthening the supervision of this matter, if he does the matter of letting others go through the back door, wouldn't he just slap himself in the face?

Yin Hui came back from studying abroad, so her conditions are very good. You can directly ask her to come to the company to take the test. What she can do depends on her own ability. Yin Luo helped according to the usual signs of recruiting employees. They analyzed. However, she also knew that they would certainly not be willing to take Yin Hui's own entrance examination for a position, starting from a small employee.

Sure enough, Chen Meng was dissatisfied with Yin Luo's answer, isn't it just a sentence? What's the difficulty? Or is she deliberately not wanting to help her daughter?

Chen Meng refused to give up. "Although Huihui came back from studying abroad, there is too much competition now. Besides, wouldn't it be better to take care of you? She is your sister. If you see what position is still missing, give her Arrange for one."

Chen Meng felt that at the beginning, he had to make a good start. If the staff climbed slowly from a young age, how much of Huihui's youth would have to be wasted? Huihui is still young, just when she needs to fight, how can she be motivated to work hard when she is given a position as a small clerk?

What's more, her family Huihui is also truly the blood and bones of her Yin family. Why can Yin Luo be the president and enjoy every day? Is her family Huihui still studying abroad?

As long as she seeks a good position for her in the company, she will be more confident, and the old man's favor will be replaced by Yin Luo. Will she be as arrogant as she is today?

Yin Luo sneered. She had never recognized such a sister. Even if she had, she would never use the company to splurge at will. And her mind, she is really an idiot, can't tell at all? But Yin Luo still has this self-confidence. Even if Yin Hui joins the company, she will definitely be inferior to her.

So she refused not because she was afraid that Yin Hui would surpass her or even replace her, but she didn't want a scourge like Yin Hui in the company. Although her education is not bad, she knows her character best. She has been accustomed to raising her since she was a child. Even if she doesn't work well, she may still influence others.
