

Chapter 841: The sweetest gift, the cruelest curse

Latest URL: OK.

let's discuss it later.

I don't want to travel, can I just stay in the hotel?

Really, that's great, I've been wanting to get rid of those two idiots for a long time.

For Yaxiu, there are as many perfunctory answers as possible. After all, Sonia's invitation is too euphemistic, so euphemistic that he can pretend that he is really just going on a tour. After all, now is not the right time to talk slowly, maybe the angel hunt will end in the next second, maybe she will be sent back in the next second, as long as she perfunctory, she can continue to avoid problems.

The hemp rope is always broken at the weakest point, and the one who is right is always the first to be injured.

But Ash couldn't do it.

He couldn't pretend that he couldn't see the pleading and pity in the girl's eyes. She was like a garbage bag fluttering on the road, suspecting that what she was holding was the wind that no one wanted.

She is not a straight-forward person, she is articulate, thoughtful, naughty and a little venomous. But emotionally, she is much braver than herself. She is brave and diligent without any scruples. She even smiles on her eyebrows when she likes it. hold on.

For example, now, with her arms around Yaxiu, Yaxiu felt that unless she cut herself, she would not be able to escape from her hands, as if anyone who dared to hurt Yaxiu would be killed by her, and if Yaxiu wanted to run, she would also cut off his pair. dog legs.

Such a bold girl who even dared to take a bite from the Lord of God, but at this time, she was cautiously using euphemistic questions to test her sincerity.

Even more pitiful than the question is the girl's gaze.

just choose me,

May I?

Yaxiu shook his head gently: "I can't abandon the witch."

"I didn't let you abandon her," Sonia said hurriedly, as if trying to block Ash's words back: "We can still meet at Ruby Mountain, and when we get tired of other countries, we can go back to the gospel to rest, almost every night. If you can meet in the virtual world, Yueyue can meet in reality..."

"Just as I can understand what you mean, you must also understand what I mean." Ash gently pressed the back of her hand to her face, stroking the cross scar belonging to the death madman.

He said seriously: "I also like the black and white witch Lisdia."

This sentence was like the most ferocious curse, which instantly took away Sonia's spine. But she didn't fall to Yaxiu, but reached out and pushed Yaxiu's chest away. This time, Yaxiu grabbed her shoulder and didn't let her escape.

She lowered her head, her red hair covered with the smell of flesh and blood hanging down to cover her face, like a vicious ghost.

At this moment, Ash suddenly couldn't tell whether she was Sonia or Nia.

When she lifts her head, what look will she look at herself? With hatred, with resentment?

"You were still using this mouth to say that you like me."

"Um."

"No matter how powerful and successful I am, some people will always say that I am a village girl from the countryside, not polite and greedy for vanity." She suddenly smiled and said, "Is it because I am not perfect, so I can't achieve perfection? I'm not the best, so I can't get the best?"

"Of course not, it's just that there is no perfect person in this world, nor the best person." Yaxiu said softly: "But you are the perfect and best in my heart, even if your scolding voice is cute."

"Witch too?"

"certainly."

"You bastard," Sonia clenched her fists and hammered towards Ash's chest, hammering it every time she paused, "Can't you, lie to me, please, please!"

This is not Xiaoquanquan's coquetry, she really used her strength, even though she is now using a mortal body, but Yaxiu has long been scarred, and after a few punches, Yaxiu was beaten and vomited blood. However, his mood was much better, and he couldn't even help laughing, as if the blood in his lungs had been beaten out.

"Still laughing, still laughing, still laughing, laughing at you little horn!" Sonia couldn't help but scolded, but she didn't continue to do it, and wiped the blood from the corner of Yaxiu's mouth with her sleeve:

"I am the most I hate people like you, and the second thing I hate is myself who is soft-hearted towards you."

"Look, you're really cute."

"You little loudspeaker," Sonia lowered her head and pressed her forehead lightly against his chest, "You said you liked me, but it made me so sad."

"Because I really am not the perfect best person."

"No, you are." She shook her head and rubbed against Ashe's arms like a cat. "For me, you are also the perfect and best person."

"I didn't believe in love when I was a child. Other girls like to watch movies and dramas that are infatuated with love, but I prefer the big heroine dramas of Dedalus. I don't think I will like anyone in the future. I want to get married for the sake of profit. I want to get to the top step by step. Love is a fragile thing that will only become my weakness. In fact, I don't like anyone, and the people around me are not coveting me, they just want to use me. "

"I just wanted to use you at first," Ash said.

"Me too." Sonia said with a smile in her voice: "I was forced to train as a swordsman by you and take risks in the virtual realm with you. I was so happy at the time. Kick you away to enjoy life, and at most find an opportunity to repay you, so I don't want to tie life to you. My biggest hope at that time was that you fell in love with me, so that I could use you to the fullest. "

"Then when did you change your mind?"

"Then when did you not just want to use me?"

Sonia raised her head with tears in her eyes, "It's funny, when you really fell in love with me, I was willing to give everything for you."

“You are the sweetest gift and the cruelest curse in my life.”

Ash cupped her face, wiped the tears with her thumb, and held her in his arms without saying a word.

He should have interrupted the conversation. Now that Vichy has other demons robbing the remains of the angel, the danger has not yet been lifted. He only needs to say “Let’s rob the angel” to turn everyone’s attention to the main quest.

But he should also only like one person.

It is precisely because of unwarranted desires that there are creatures like magicians in this world, so there are so many magician manuals full of regrets.

Suddenly Sonia sobbed and asked, “I really can’t give up the witch and only like me?”

“Can’t.”

“Then can you give up on me and only like witches?”

Yaxiu thought about it seriously: “I can’t bear it, and I think you can’t bear it either. Even if you don’t want me, I will still haunt you for the rest of my life.”

Sonia suddenly became angry: “Then what do you want!”

“What do you want, say it!”

“Say it.”

“Say it...”

Her voice was getting lower and lower, and she was so aggrieved that she wanted to hack Ash and herself. She is not even afraid of Master Fanxing, and she is so courageous that she dares to take over the appointment of the Four Pillars of God. Her rival in love is the Gospel Queen, and her dignity has not been compromised at all, but at this moment, she is showing the weakest posture in front of a man.

It was obvious that what she hated the most was a weak mother.

“I’m also looking for the answer, maybe I can answer it next time we meet,” Ash said, “It may take a lifetime to find it.”

“So should I throw my life away at you?” Sonia said.

“You can’t blame me, it’s obviously your fault.” Yaxiu shook his head: “You should have hacked me to death when you were in the virtual realm, so that we won’t be related.”

“Look now, obviously you should hack me to death and live your own legendary life, but you can’t do it. So it’s clear at a glance whose fault it is.”

Sonia burst into laughter, she wiped her tears with her wrist, “Yes, yes, if I can do it all over again, I will definitely hack your little horn to death.”

“Next time, let’s be mortal enemies.”

Yaxiu smiled and said: “It may be again, we will still be like this.”

Seeing the dazzling smile on Sonia’s face, Yaxiu’s heart suddenly throbbed, and her heart was tightly clenched. It was an extraordinary intuition, like he could always detect that Igula was lying.

“After you leave, if anyone asks, you must say that you confessed first.” Sonia said, “Anyway, I said so outside, so you mustn’t embarrass me.”

“Huh? Is it me? But how do I remember—”

“Whether it’s you or not, UU Reading www.uukanshu.com is you from now on!”

“Okay.” Ash shrugged helplessly, “It’s all up to you.”

Sonia said, “Then, I think I’m smarter than you, and after thinking about it for a long time, I found that we only have one answer from beginning to end. So no matter how you look for it, you will only find that answer.”

“The one who wronged me and the witch, maybe there are other people’s answers.” She stared at Ash and said, “But I don’t want to wrong the witch, and I don’t want to wrong myself.”

“so...”

“Let’s break up, okay?”

After a moment of silence, Ash replied:

“Listen to you.”

Chapter 842: I'm waiting for you

The latest website: “Of course, I’m not saying that I don’t save you or that I don’t love you anymore. I will still save you from the kingdom of stars. I still have you in my heart.”

Sonia said, “I just don’t want you to be my only one.”

“Um.”

“Perhaps you don’t know, the lover culture is actually very popular in the starry aristocracy. Although many nobles are married in the open, they will mess with other ladies in private. We can refer to it. In the future, you and the witch will become a couple, I won’t bother you, but if I want or you want, we’ll have an affair in private, how about that?”

“Um.”

“But you also have to be prepared that I will fall in love with other people,” Sonia said seriously: “There is no chain that can trap a magician, and naturally there is no chain that can trap a legendary swordsman of mine. Not even you. I’m the master of my life, I won’t be your woman, but you can be my man.”

“Um.”

“Don’t worry, even if I have other people I like, our lover relationship will definitely not be affected. I realized from a long time ago that a relationship like ours in a virtual world must use emotion as a bond, otherwise it’s impossible to keep this secret, it’s only a matter of time before we get entangled with each other, even if it’s just to enhance mutual trust, we have to have frequent private meetings.” She said happily.

“Um.”

“But because you’re the witch’s boyfriend, I can’t date you. But when I’m dating other people, you can follow me, and we can hug and kiss while I go to the bathroom. things to do.”

“Um.”

“Our future wedding objects are not each other. Yours is a witch, and mine is still unknown. But on the day you get married, I will secretly meet you in a wedding dress, and on the day I get married, you will also have a private meeting with me in a dress. Let’s linger in a place where no one is there and betray our partner together, okay?”

“Um.”

“Wait, when we’re on our honeymoon, we can, too, sneak out and do, do...”

Speaking of which, Sonia was already weeping, tears streaming down her face, but she still looked at Ash stubbornly. Yaxiu held her tightly in his arms and wet his clothes with her tears, just like hugging a kitten abandoned in a rainy night.

“do not talk.”

“I’m going to say it, I’m going to say it!” Sonia opened her mouth and bit Ash’s shoulder fiercely, sobbing: “I want you to spend the rest of your life in regret... woo woo...”

Yinguang Feiyu suddenly stopped.

The silver light that enveloped the entire mountain was like a curtain, rising as if it was slowly being lifted. A pale silver halo appeared on Sonia’s body, as if it was floating upwards by an irresistible gravitational force.

Needless to say, the time has come, Ash’s prayers are not wasted, Sonia will be pulled back to the real world, and will not be trapped in the cage of stars like them.

Sonia didn’t care to wipe the tears and snot from her face, and looked at her halo in a panic. Yaxiu wiped her face for her and said, “Don’t believe in the Four Pillars of God, protect yourself. Don’t enter the kingdom of stars, don’t force yourself, if you can’t do anything, just give up on me, this world is not without a way to resurrect, wait for you later If I become a demigod, I might go to * to find my soul, you know?”

“Say hello to the witch for me, and let her protect herself first.”

“If it really doesn’t work, hate me,” Ash smiled. “You’ll be a lot easier to blame everything on me.”

“Don’t take me as your first choice in life. What I like is Jian Ji, who is flying with me in the sea of knowledge. We are independent of each other. There is no one who can’t be without, so we can become the best comrades in arms.”

The more Ash rubbed, the more Sonia cried. She looked at her increasingly intense halo, and suddenly wiped her face indiscriminately, put her arms around Yaxiu’s neck and kissed it directly.

No skill, all emotion, four lips with tears and blood pressed together tightly.

“don’t want.”

Forehead to forehead, nose to nose, Sonia took a deep breath and said with a cry: “I still want to date you, marry you, and have a honeymoon with you! No underground lover, no comrade-in-arms. , we must be an upright couple, kiss as much as we want, and do what all couples do!”

Ash showed a helpless smile: “Yeah.”

“I don’t care who you like the witch or who, I like you, so you can only be mine! I’m the mad sword girl, the legendary swordsman, the enemy of the stars, whoever dares to stop me, I will hack to death!”

“Yes, yes, I submit to the sword of Jian Ji.”

“So you have to wait for me, wait for me to rescue you.” Sonia sniffed: “Then you have to make up a perfect date, and then we will be the most perfect couple, and then...”

Yaxiu held her face with rain pear flowers and nodded lightly.

“I’m waiting for you.”

In Fei Yu and Li Guang, the viewer and Jian Ji kissed together.

.....

“Jianji! Wake up!”

Sonia opened her eyes and found herself being held in her arms by Daedalus, with Deya’s concerned face in front of her, they were flying fast, “Are you alright?”

“I...” Sonia wanted to break free from Dedalus’s arms, but it was very comfortable to be held by the first beauty under the stars, so she gave up directly: “It should be fine, what happened?”

“I should be asking you this sentence!” Diya complained: “You didn’t respond when you entered the beam of light, and you didn’t come out for a long time. We were all anxious! The singer also said that she couldn’t sense your position. This tactile singer is just useless.”

“The Angel of Origin is an existence of the same level as the Four Pillars of God, so it’s normal for my sense of touch to fail.” Daedalus defended, “Also, you told me to continue singing, and my voice became hoarse. ”

Trozan said by the side: “We dare not enter the beam of light rashly, the phantom army outside is still bombarding indiscriminately. When the beam of light disappears, we will take the opportunity to rescue you from the sword seat, and now those who fail to enter the beam of light are left in reality. Shi Xuying is hunting for a living magician, and we have to retreat.”

Sonia looked around for a week and found that the four-pillar magicians were all flying and retreating, and some of the magicians kept attacking behind. From the thin white mist, she could vaguely see the phantoms of dozens of magicians biting their tails.

“You went back when you said yes, but it took so much time.” Di Ya snorted, “We all have to wipe the * of your sword seat.”

It was only then that Sonia remembered that the witch must have been anxious for not coming back for so long, so she said apologetically, “I made you worry.”

“I’m not worried.” The little queen frowned and pursed her mouth: “If you die, it’s just fine, and Yaxiu and I don’t have to worry.”

At this time, Dedalus said: “Although the size of the phantom army is much smaller as the beam of light shrinks, it is still difficult for us to rescue you. It was the magic seat that forced her guardian spirit to be in the still area, and then she personally You rescued.”

Sonia was stunned, suddenly grabbed Deya’s right hand, and saw the golden clock seal on the back of Deya’s right hand that was still intact. At this time, a crack appeared on the dial.

Di Ya’s expression was a little awkward, she pulled back her hand and said, “It’s nothing, but the bronze dragon needs to rest for a while.”

After a pause, she added: “I just don’t want Ash to be sad, and...”

“You are indeed my best friend.”

Sonia felt very strange tonight, her lacrimal glands seemed to be particularly developed, and she was moved to cry at every turn.

She broke away from Daedalus, spread her virtual wings and flew over to hug the little white-haired girl, and whispered when the latter was struggling, “I saw Ash.”

“what!”

The witch’s voice was full of quintets, and her hair color instantly became messy.

“Really.” Sonia said, “He asked me to say hello to you, and he was worried that Liz and her sisters would have a hard time crossing the country.”

“No!” Liz suddenly jumped out: “It’s much happier than staying in the palace all day in the gospel! And there are so many friends here, I like Daedalus and Felix very much!”

“Also, he wants me to tell the witch,” Sonia said softly, “I like the black and white witch Lisdia.” ”

The witch blinked and looked at Jian Ji with a complicated expression: “Although I understand what it means, but from your mouth, I feel that you are confessing to me... Forget it, I will let him every morning when he comes back. Tell me when you wake up.”

“He also said.” Sonia said solemnly: “I only like the witch for my daughter, only you, Jianji, are my true love.” ”

“It’s too fake.” Diya dismantled it in a second: “He only wanted to treat Liz as his sister from the beginning to the end, but Liz insisted on calling his father.”

“But that last sentence is true!”

“Sonia the liar.” Deya stuck out her tongue and made a face, “But you saw Ash, which means you went to the kingdom of the stars? Is it because of the angel’s wings? But your body is here, In what state did you meet him?”

Diya could guess what happened just by just a few words. Sonia was about to answer, but she suddenly froze in place and almost collided with Daedalus behind.

“What’s wrong?”

Everyone looked at Sonia suspiciously, but found that Swordsman's expression was very strange, both aggrieved and helpless, as if he had suffered a big loss but could not even find anyone who could take revenge.

.....

...

Um?

When Ash felt his lips licked by the tip of his tongue, he knew something was wrong.

He opened his eyes and saw a pair of scarlet eyes that were both familiar and unfamiliar.

At this time, the red-haired girl no longer had a halo of escape. She was rigidly held in his arms by Ash, but subconsciously stretched out her tongue to lick the softness of her lips, as if she had just woken up from sleep.

Sonia has left.

Then, the one who stayed, naturally, was Nia who hated Ashe.

Ash raised his hands and stepped back cautiously, "I can explain, calm down."

However, Niya still looked at him stupidly, as if he had smeared poison on his lips, giving the most wanted criminal of Jia World to Poison. She touched her lips, as if missing the temperature just now.

In the next second, Yaxiu knew that it was not good – because she pinched her cheek.

“I’m not dreaming?” She woke up like a dream.

Yaxiu couldn’t help but ask, “Did you dream of kissing me?”

Boom!

Although Yaxiu could see it, his severely injured body couldn’t react at all, and he was kicked to the ground by Niya. UU reading www.uukanshu.com The red-haired girl pulled out her sharp blade, blushing almost bleeding, biting her lower lip, she was so embarrassed that she almost cried: “I’m going to kill you little horn—”

boom!

It’s not an earthquake, it’s a space earthquake. Yinguang Feiyu suddenly stopped, and the whole world became slow, as if someone pressed the 0.1x speed of the video, just to see this historic moment carefully.

The huge silver light washed down from the top of the mountain like a tsunami, and Yaxiu immediately rushed towards the fallen Niya, blocking her and covering her eyes, “Don’t look!”

Although Yaxiu didn’t know what happened at the top of the mountain, the beams of light on Jian Ji’s side had disappeared, which meant that Master Fanxing’s feeding was over, which means...

The first angel hunt is over.

Chapter 843: leave

“What happened?”

Niya naturally wouldn't listen to Yaxiu's words, she put aside Yaxiu's hand and opened her eyes wide to see what happened on the mountain.

But the spectacle that greeted her made her unable to resist pinching Yaxiu's face: “Am I dreaming?”

“You pinch yourself...”

Yaxiu turned his head and saw the top of the mountain at the end of the halo. There stood a crystal sword light that pierced the sky. Even though they were far apart, the sword light was as sharp as it was against Yaxiu's pupils, making him feel a tingling sensation all over his body.

This is a miracle that a swordsman can create. This is a volcano composed of thousands of swords. Even the chaotic white mist is suppressed by it, and the boiling black sea does not dare to set off waves that disturb it.

However, Ash, who is also a swordsman, instantly understood the horror hidden in this breathtaking beauty.

Zheng!

The Jianguang is like the collapse of a high-rise building, and every fragment of the Jianguang is bravely breaking through the world, roaring and scouring the mountains and strangling the sky!

The hidden legendary swordsman wants to clear the field, and directly attack all hunters or prey in the mountains with the miracle of swordsmanship at the map cannon level!

The Silver Light Feather Storm is over, and the shackles of the magicians are lifted. Other legends want to take this opportunity to clean up the competitors of the Angel Hunt!

“Close your eyes!”

Yaxiu didn't care if Niya would resist, so she covered her eyes and opened the sanctuary, her mind was dizzy for a while. His magic power is already at the 10% critical level, and if it is lower than 10%, he will suffer from soul shock at any time, and he will faint no matter where he is.

He endured the pain in his skull, shrinking the sanctuary as small as possible to reduce his attack area.

Unexpectedly, Niya didn't resist, she was hugged by him and squeezed almost her whole body into his body, Yaxiu was relieved, if Niya insisted on opening her eyes or making a fuss, then he could only accept his fate and wait. died.

Regardless of whether it is a source angel or not, Niya is an "ordinary person" who can activate mysterious chains. Once she sees mysterious phenomena such as the miracle of the sanctuary, Ashe waits for the whole body's magic power to evaporate. The one who launched the legendary swordsman may also have the same concern, so he launched such a large-scale AOE. Even if there are ordinary people present, it is definitely impossible to determine who the caster is.

The fragments of the sword light hit the sanctuary like hail. Fortunately, Yaxiu was far away. The destruction of the sword light was mainly aimed at the mountaintop area, and less than one-tenth of the area spread to him. More importantly, this mountain is not just a magician of Yaxiu.

A fierce battle broke out on the top of the mountain.

It's a pity that Ash was so tired, blood was oozing all over his body, and he could faint at any time with a buzzing brain, like a tattered garbage bag. He couldn't pay attention to the fierce battle on the top of the mountain, and could only vaguely see the blazing flame halberd.

As expected of the most greedy scum that Yaxiu has ever seen, as well as a ghost prophet who is a headache for the gods, Vichy must have only 10% mana left like him, but he still dares to participate in the most intense angel hunting playoffs, Instead of running away quickly, what a lifeless lunatic.

However, if Vichy knew that the reason why Yaxiu didn't participate in the competition for the top of the mountain was because she wanted to hurry up and whisper to Jianji, she would definitely laugh at Yaxiu for being a lunatic.

That's how magicians are. They all think they are warriors, and they all think others are lunatics.

"What happened?"

Niya's voice was so soft that she couldn't hear her emotions: "Is it something I can't know?"

"I don't want to hide you, but it's too complicated to explain." Ash said softly, "And I'm dying of exhaustion now."

"Well, let's talk about it later."

Very nice.

Perhaps it was the influence of a sense of crisis, Ash thought. Although Niya hates him very much, and usually has an unscrupulous style, blowing up a police station is as easy as brushing achievements, but she is not a bomb-type lunatic who is rushing to restart her life, she still wants to live.

Since she has Sonia's swordsmanship, she also has Sonia's perception of crisis. Even if she couldn't see it, she knew that she was in danger, and the only one who could protect her was Yaxiu, whom she hated.

But it was a strange experience, even though he had just hugged her (when Sonia came), but Ash's feeling was completely different.

Even if Nia was so quiet, Ash couldn't find Sonia's shadow from her. If Sonia is an elegant, licking and clean, and likes to pretend she is an aristocratic fold cat, then Niya is a dirty wild cat, so fierce that people dare not approach.

"Ash!"

Yaxiu raised his head, and as the silver light flying feather storm stopped, the visible range of the mountain naturally returned to normal.

Not far away, a blond girl who was crawling on the ground to avoid the fragments of the sword light looked at Yaxiu in surprise, but Yaxiu's face changed: "Roll to the left!"

Even though Feili didn't hesitate to execute the order immediately, she was still scratched by the sword light fragment on her back. The pain caused her tears to flow down immediately, and she only dared to move on the ground little by little.

"Who?" Nia heard it too.

"Fili, my assistant, used to be your classmate." Ash said, "I'm going to save her, can you keep your eyes closed during this process?"

"Can."

"excuse me."

Yaxiu put her arms around Niya's waist and thighs, and hugged her princess directly. Niya kept her head down, but wrapped her arms around Ash's neck, adjusting her body's center of gravity so that Ash could hug her as easily as possible.

Feeling in pain and fear, Feili saw Yaxiu trot all the way and crouched in front of her, "Get in the car, Yaxiu's special car will serve you, can you fly?"

Like a female knight, Fili rode on Ash's back very skillfully, her slender thighs pinched Ash's waist, and said ashamedly, "Not yet." As she said that, she turned her head to the red-headed figure in Ash's arms. The haired girl, "This one seems to be..."

"Old friends will wait until they leave." Ash said weakly: "Fili, become my demon."

The little sheep also saw that Yaxiu was in a bad state: "Okay."

boom!

The second crystal sword light stood between the heaven and the earth again, the black sea and the monsters violently climbed up the mountains at the same time, and the rich white mist turned into a torrential rain to wash everything.

This hunting ground is about to collapse.

Master Fanxing must be the type who didn't put away his toys when he was a child. He prepared this grand hunt, and he just ignored it when he was tired of playing.

However, he even treated millions of people in Canaan as sacrifices, so why would he care about the chaos that followed? When the feast is full, it is time to leave. Who would be willing to wash the dishes?

"We're leaving, Niya, you can open your eyes." After Ash entered the state of the demon servant, he was naturally not afraid of the mysterious chains, "But let them know... Fili, can you drive the heart sword to go up the mountain? ?"

"Let me try!"

Fili is a full copy of Ash's magic power and magic spirit, but she can't use it at all, let alone participate in battle. Niya opened her eyes, just to see Fili spit out a sword light from her fingertips and circled around the mountain.

If others saw this sword light, they would naturally understand that Yaxiu was about to escape.

Ash immediately spread his wings and took them away, no longer worrying about Vichy, Igula, and Harvey. After all, except for Vichy, he couldn't be sure if the other two were nearby. If they were still alive, they must now realize that the angel hunt was over.

They hide when it rains, and they must know to run now.

“Wait.” Niya suddenly pulled out the long sword from her waist. Just when Yaxiu thought that she was finally going to do something, she saw Niya’s long sword pick up, and two golden fish scales were raised from the two pools of golden water on the ground. .

The two pools of golden water were the corpses of the golden fish, and Niya was equivalent to taking her own trophies, so Axiu didn’t say anything. When she retracted her sword and sheathed it, she took the two of them away from the mountains, avoiding the second The collapse of the wave crystal sword light.

The Black Sea, which had been overflowing just now, seemed to have pulled off the lid of the sink, and the waves flowed back to the core area. The dense fog settled into a storm, sometimes accompanied by lightning and thunder, like the end of the world and the weeping sky.

“Phili, what happened to you after we parted?”

Mana exhaustion is more serious than Xiu’s imagination. After all, he rarely uses light mana, just like a virgin with zero experience and no foundation is suddenly attacked by Veela who has been abstinent for a long time. Boss, of course, is more eager to die. However, the two girls on him had to be sent out by him, and he had to find a way to improve his concentration.

“I, I’ll find you and Sister Vichy as soon as possible.” Fili said, “But those feathers are so annoying, and I can’t hear your voice, so I shouted and walked up the mountain.”

Only then did Ash notice that Fili’s voice was a little hoarse, and smiled: “You are brave, I thought you would cry.”

Fili blushed, she was indeed crying and shouting, and she was still shouting, “Ash, don’t leave me behind”... But it’s normal! She was suddenly thrown into a strange and dangerous place, with no one around, more dangerous than surviving in the wilderness, she almost thought she was being tricked by Yaxiu!

“And then I kept walking, and walking, to the top of the mountain.”

“Uh-huh?”

Yaxiu was stunned, then turned to stare at Fili: “You’ve reached the top of the mountain!? Didn’t meet anyone else, no danger? But there’s no reason, Vichy is clearly in front of us!”

“Actually, I climb mountains quite fast?” Fili tilted her head.

“Have you not encountered monsters? For example, golden fish or something.”

“No.”

Sure enough, that dead fish was coming for me, Ash thought.

Obviously, the golden fish that attacked Yaxiu was the one that protected the silver wings, not a mass-produced monster.

As for why there is a magician like Vichy on the mountain that should be killed, but the golden fish insists on attacking Yaxiu, who has no problems except the relationship between men and women It’s because Yaxiu is a four-pillar * of touch.

After all, the golden fish has been nagging “you four”. It seems that not only the Four Pillars God wants to kill the Yuan Angel, but the Yuan Angel’s wings also want to kill the Four Pillars God. Then you fight each other, what are you doing to me?

“Then what did you find on the top of the mountain?”

“Well...” Phili was thinking about how to describe it: “I saw a silver chalice that looked like it was made of liquid, and feathers were always flying out of the chalice.”

“Silver Holy Grail?” Ash said, “It’s not chicken wings... Then what?”

"I remember that you all wanted to take away what the angel left behind, so you reached out and took it. But no matter how hard I tried, I couldn't touch the Holy Grail. At this time, there was a sound from other directions. I was anxious, and the silver Holy Grail was added. It's made of liquid, I just * it hard"

"Suck away the silver chalice."

The refreshing effect was very obvious, and Yaxiu was stunned when he heard it, but he was not sleepy at all: "You sucked the silver chalice? Does your stomach hurt? Do you feel sick?"

"No." Fili shook her head again and again: "It feels like taking a mouthful of jelly."

Yaxiu nodded and couldn't help but glanced at Fili's small mouth: "It sounds like you sucked the silver chalice away from the air, Fili, your suction has done a great job!"

There's nothing wrong with what the man says, the only problem is the girl's teenage brain and the evil whispers of the maid. Thinking of the bizarre gameplay Vichy said, Fili always felt that Ash was implying something, and she was so ashamed that she temporarily forgot the pain in her back.

Ash didn't mind Fili taking away the angel's remains, and when he decided to waste time for Sonia's brief stay, he knew that he would miss out on the ceremony of sharing the spoils of this angel hunt. Phyllis takes a bite and earns it, which is better than being eaten by Vichy or another competitor.

"But then, Vichy probably took a bite," Ash pondered, "Is it possible for her to spit out..."

Feili's buttocks tightened when she heard it, and she cried and said, "I've swallowed it, I can't spit it out! At most, at most..."

"Ah, it doesn't matter to you, you eat as long as you eat." Ash asked, "Then you ran back?"

Phili nodded: "I heard the sound of fighting on the top of the mountain when I left, so I ran faster and fell a few times. It is much harder to go down the mountain than to go up."

Chapter 844: not smart girl

Relying on chatting with Fili, Yaxiu finally kept awake and rushed out of the rainstorm Black Sea area.

But it seemed that due to the influence of the white fog, it was also drizzling outside Canaan City, and he couldn't find a building around.

"Phili, call Rose to pick us up."

As soon as Ash's feet touched the ground, he slumped down like a broken robot, but he still carefully put Niya down, "By the way, let's see if I can contact other people."

Inside the white fog, communication signals are naturally forbidden, and it is impossible to communicate with each other, but now it is raining and thundering, and I don't know whether the infrastructure of the star kingdom is reliable.

Yaxiu looked at Niya, the most wanted criminal has been quiet since just now, as if the arrogant red-haired girl they met last time was Yaxiu's illusion. But when Niya raised her head, Ash saw a turbid light in those scarlet eyes.

"You said before," she said, "that you would help me with anything?"

While Fili was on the phone, she squinted at the two of them, and Ash nodded calmly: "Yes."

"That's good," Nia pointed to the horns on Feili's head: "I want to be like her and get power from you, or you can give me the power directly."

Should it be said that she is worthy of being the projection of Jian Ji, or should it be said that she has the insight of a serial murderer? It is not uncommon to see that Ash and Fili have super powers, but to see that Fili's power is derived from Ash, it is enough to prove that Niya relies on her brain to kill the wanted order.

"cannot."

Yaxiu said decisively: "I am special, and she is also special. You don't have to, and there is no way for you to participate in our dangerous life."

When he said these words, he was ready for Nia to lose her temper. However, contrary to Yaxiu's expectations again, Niya didn't get angry or upset, and she didn't ask 'what is special', she just took out two golden fish scales from her arms: "This seems to be a very important thing, if I To make a deal with you?"

Yaxiu still shook his head: "I really can't do anything, but don't worry, under normal circumstances, this kind of power cannot be used in front of people, and without this kind of power, we may not be able to beat you."

"But you're in a dangerous situation, I hope—"

"We'll talk about this later." Niya interrupted: "Do you have something more to explain? Why did I suddenly... lose consciousness just now?"

Yaxiu blinked, knowing that he still couldn't avoid it, so he could only say: "The reason why I kissed you just now—" pat!

Phili, who was on the phone, suddenly fell to the ground, and Ash looked over. She quickly pretended that she hadn't eavesdropped, and explained, "I, I just have a little back pain, so—"

Yaxiu's eyes narrowed and he beckoned to her: "Come here and sit down."

Feili felt that Yaxiu was angry, so she lowered her head and sat down like a primary school student who was called in the office for her puppy love. As a warm current melted into her body, she felt an itchy wound on her back, and turned to see Yaxiu coughing out a mouthful of blood.

“You can heal why not heal yourself?”

“I’ve been treated.” Ash wiped the blood from the corner of his mouth: “But I’m so injured, I can only...”

“No!” With tears in her eyes, Fili hugged her tightly and continued, “Axiu, don’t die!”

“...I can only heal slowly. I need to rest for a few more days.” Yaxiu’s face darkened, “If you push harder, I might actually bleed to death.”

“oh oh!”

Feili let go of her hand embarrassedly, feeling that she was embarrassed and offended just now, she couldn’t help but say, “My wound is just a flesh wound, you don’t need to...”

“But aren’t you going on a date tomorrow?” Yaxiu said, “Le Jian will heal the wound very soon, and won’t even leave a scar. Don’t worry, I promise you will be beautiful tomorrow.”

Feili stared at him blankly, before lowering her head and saying, “I believe you.”

Yaxiu turned to look at Niya, just about to explain, but found that it seemed difficult for him to speak.

I was just flirting with your being just now?

Not to mention whether Nia believes it or not, but to explain the main body, you have to explain the stars and the stars. This is something that Heath took a few chapters to explain to him. Whether it is the environment or the body, it is not enough to support Ashey.

“You won’t lose consciousness again in the future, it was a miraculous accident.” In the end, Ash could only say: “As for that kiss...”

He looked at the red-haired girl and gave his answer: “You can take it as a misunderstanding.”

The rain seemed to be getting heavier and heavier. Under the cover of the rain curtain, Yaxiu couldn’t see Niya’s expression clearly.

“it is good.”

Without asking more, without hesitation, the red-haired girl accepted the answer and immediately turned to leave.

Ash quickly stood up, “Your goal alone is too obvious, we’ll take you back to Jia World first, and then you will—”

Snapped.

“Axiu, Axiu!?”

Nia turned around and saw Yaxiu collapsed in the water. Fili hurriedly held him in her arms, watching the rain wash the blood on his face. Bandage Ash’s wound.

“Get out of the way and put him on the ground.”

Fili raised her head and saw Niya, she wasn’t happy to hand Yaxiu to this old classmate from the past, the current serial killer, but she was still obedient after being stared at by her scarlet eyes.

Nia took out the hemostatic bandages and bottles and jars from her bosom, and it took a few minutes to treat Ashe’s wound urgently. Then she took out the two golden fish scales and looked at it for a while.

At this time, the bright light of the car lights in the distance broke through the heavy rain curtain, and Ash Heath was finally able to return to the embrace of civilized society.

So Niya no longer hesitated, and handed a piece of golden fish scales to Fili.

“For me?” Phili was startled.

“It’s for him. He’s in a coma right now. You can hand it over.” Niya said, “This trophy should be half of me and him. I’ll give it back to him now. Let him stop looking for me, and I won’t appear in front of him again.”

“But if I find out that you have stolen it.” The red-haired girl said coldly, “I will kill you.”

After saying that, Niya didn’t look back and quickly disappeared into the rain.

Fili’s eyes kept chasing the red-haired girl, and she didn’t look down at the golden fish scales in her palm until she disappeared.

If we don’t see each other again, how do you know I’ve stolen it?

If we will meet again, why let me transfer it?

At this moment, the car stopped on the side of the road, and Fili carried Kia Xiu into the back seat. Rose in the driver’s seat asked, “Is it just the two of you? I seem to have seen three people just now.”

“Well, the other one is Nya, but she chose to go by herself.”

Rose’s face was puzzled: “Why don’t you ride with us in the wilderness here?”

Fili fixed the unconscious Ash and gently wiped the water on Ash's face with the back of her hand.

"Because she's also an unintelligent girl."

Chapter 845: postwar

In the kingdom of stars, in the lobby on the first floor of Rose Villa, Ash and Igula were staring at the whiteboard.

"Devil Yinzhi, a mortal of the stars, looks like a cute girl with pink and purple long hair, and belongs to the master of omniscience. Remarks: I have sent a follower invitation to Igula."

"Amilo Keshrey, a legendary magician of the Gospel, majoring in the Fist and Claw faction, looks like a white tiger orc, and belongs to the Omniscient Weaver. Remarks: Ignore Igula."

"See you at night, the mortals of the stars. He looks like a little black-haired boy. He belongs to the Blood Moon Extreme Master. Remarks: I sent a blood invitation to Harvey. I like Harvey very much."

"Tiramisu Sundae, a legendary blood moon magician, majoring in the necromancy faction. She looks like a tall and beautiful woman wearing a blindfold and carrying a coffin. She belongs to the extreme master of the blood moon. Note: I took a bite of Harvey and gave it to me. Harvey is the key technique of the Necronomicon, and I am very interested in Harvey."

Yaxiu looked grim: "This time I'm in trouble..."

"Yeah..." Igula murmured: "A strange situation that has never been encountered... What should we do?"

Rose came over with a plate and put two cups of drinks in front of them: "Coffee latte, Keba star coffee bean eyes, low-fat milk, two packets of sugar, temperature 65°."

Igula took a slow sip: "Thank you."

"Iced honey five-flower tea."

Yaxiu took a sip and put it down: "It's not good, people who like to drink this stuff must be mentally ill."

Rose sat next to Ash, her long dark blue hair resting on Ash's shoulders, and directly checked Ash's body: "But I was injured when I was a child and drank this drink and it would heal quickly. According to path dependence, I think this drink is helpful for the wound to heal."

"I'm actually pretty much healed. All wounds have healed, and the remaining internal injuries will gradually recover in the next few days... You don't need to take off my shirt when you check!" Ash grabbed his shirt and avoided Rose. little hands.

Rose opened her transparent star-like eyes as she quietly looked at her employer.

After thinking for a moment, she took out two black and blue crystal balls, which seemed to hide a concentrated storm, changing every minute and every second, and there would be white lightning in the area where the fingers were in contact. The lethality of the boy was too great, and Ash couldn't move away at a glance.

"Take one in each hand, lift them up and try to touch them," Rose said.

Ash couldn't wait to lift the two crystal balls, and then Rose easily lifted his shirt, felt his ribs and abdominal muscles, and checked the injured part of the previous night.

She noticed that Igula showed a very wonderful expression next to her, and explained: "I learned it in a hospital. Doctors and nurses will use a little trick to make patients obey." After a pause, she added: "Although it is generally applicable to six children under the age of

"No wonder it's useful." The fraudster couldn't help laughing: "It's almost the same."

Yaxiu had had enough, put away the two small balls, and snorted: “Next time, this trick will be useless for me.”

“I’ll use a new trick next time.” Rose pulled his shirt down and grabbed his hand with slender knuckles. “It’s time for you to cut your nails, or are you planning to do a manicure?”

“No, I usually have to hold a sword, so I can’t have long fingernails.”

“Okay.” Rose took out her nail clipper bag from her pocket like a spaceman.

Although it was good to be served, but with Igula watching, Yaxiu always felt a little embarrassed, and he was not the one to be served since he was a child. Instead, he would beat his parents to earn pocket money, so he wanted to He pulled his hand back: “I’ll cut it myself today when I’m free—”

The hand did not come out.

Rose’s strength was unexpectedly great, she clenched Ash’s wrist, raised her blue eyebrows, and said, “You are a patient.”

“But didn’t you check my injuries just now? I’m fine.”

“What if you get a concussion? What if your kidneys fail? What if there are many complications?” Rose said seriously, “You have to take a good rest, I don’t want you to die from overwork because of cutting your nails.”

“But taking a bath is more tiring than cutting my nails. I can’t help but take a bath, right?”

“Who do you think cleaned your blood-stained, dirty body last night?”

Yaxiu turned to look at Igula, and the fraudster shook his head: "I was so tired last night that I didn't even bother to take a bath. Of course, Rose washed it for you... What's your dissatisfaction with someone helping you take a bath? You don't like Rose?"

"Of course not." Ash immediately shook his head, with a hesitant tone: "It's just, how do you say it... Yes, Rose, aren't you very resistant to physical contact? I'm just afraid of giving you a bad experience."

"But you are my employer, and the situation is also out of desperation, and you can't send you to the hospital. At this time, my professionalism ranks before my likes and dislikes." Rose said seriously: "On my first day of work, I knew I was going to push the bottom line, after all my bottom line was not working."

"And if you have to say it, it can't be called a bad experience. Your body is in line with my aesthetic, it is very comfortable to wash, and the range of movement of hands and feet is very large, which is very interesting to do."

Ash: "Your description sounds like you're describing toys."

"Because you are the wounded, I don't allow you to take a shower alone tonight." Rose said, "I've already broken through the bottom line once, so I can continue to wash for you tonight unless someone else washes for you."

Ash immediately folded his hands and looked at Igula with a reverent face: "This is the only request in my life, let's take a bath together tonight, Igula!"

"Your words are disgusting." The fraudster couldn't help laughing: "But I promise you."

Yaxiu was moved inexplicably: "My dear friend—"

"But I won't 'wash you', even if it's just to help you lie to Rose, so Ash still has to trouble you tonight, Miss Rose."

Rose nodded lightly: "I'm used to this troublesome employer."

Yaxiu's mouth twitched: "Then what did you promise Igula!?"

Igula: "I just want to find the best auditorium, and by the way, collect some topical materials that can be chatted with Jian Ji in the future."

Yaxiu gritted his teeth but didn't dare to lose his temper: "My dear friend..."

Rose collected his fingernails in a small box and reminded: "Change to the left hand."

Yaxiu was obedient, thinking that she should go and live outside tonight. He turned his head to look at the content on the whiteboard and couldn't help but sigh.

Igula didn't tease him either, showing a worried expression.

"Although I'm not very good at reading expressions, you must be very troubled, right?" Rose finished cutting Yaxiu's nails and took out the file to continue sharpening. "Is there anything I can help?"

"You can't help."

"Is it about the difficulty of the plot in your role-playing game?"

"Although that is also very troublesome, there is still an imminent problem." Ash sighed: "We suspect that Harvey has been plotted, and his sanity has been seriously affected."

Rose thought for a while, "No, I think Mr. Harvey is as weird as usual."

"The problem is that he said that after we dispersed, he met two people, and those two people liked him very much, and even a tall and beautiful woman took the initiative to bite him on the neck!" Ash's expression was extremely complicated: "Listen. Listen, is this something you can say when you are sane?"

Igula: "Mainly Harvey said he was popular, UU reading www.uukanshu.com this..."

"Yes, yes, if it's Igula, you have a little credibility, but Harvey, how is that possible?" Ash shook his head.

"Although I don't quite understand it, I feel like you're saying something very rude." Rose blew Yaxiu's hand.

Igula pondered: "Those two should want to use Harvey, so they did not hesitate to aggrieve themselves, pretending to like Harvey very much... As expected of the Blood Moon Team."

"It's abhorrent," Ash grieved: "To actually use such despicable and shameless methods on a freak like Harvey that everyone avoids! It's even more despicable than Igula!"

Rose rubbed Ash's fingers: "I think I'm right, you guys are really rude."

Chapter 846: Vichy's Reward

, the Manual for the Surgeon

After condemning the Blood Moon Team, Ash and Igula continued to sort out the information from last night.

In fact, there is nothing to say. After the silver light flying feather storm blew, Igula and Harvey were swept away by the storm. Although they had the secret poison of eclipse dream, they did not have the secret poison of golden fish and colorful tail, which means that They can't use up their silver mana and gold mana.

But this is not a bad thing, because after the storm stopped, they had more magic power to condense the sanctuary, unlike Yaxiuguang, who seemed to be suffering from kidney failure to support the sanctuary.

They had also thought about participating in the competition on the top of the mountain, but when they saw the miracle of the legendary swordsman's crystal sword light, they knew that they could not meet the minimum threshold of this qualifying competition. Later, they saw Yaxiu's heart sword turning around the mountain. circle, and retreated decisively.

"Although it is not ruled out that the magic power they were given by the devil was swordsmanship, it is more likely that there really was a legendary swordsman besides them at that time." Ash analyzed: "After all, according to the analysis of Heath's notes , excluding the fallen Lord Senluo Zhan, there should be five forces participating in the angel hunt."

"From Blood Moon, Gospel, Earth Abyss, Paradise, and Fanxing for the * ceremony. Among them, the thieves must have demons, and thieves without demons have no ability to participate in this competition. As for whether the guards have demons, I don't know. "

Igula said: "Regardless of whether Ye Jian really likes Harvey or not, from Harvey's description, Ye Jian has no childish childishness at all, and every move is very mature. And the audio knowledge I met, although it seemed a little bit A stupid and cute high school girl, but the confidence in her bones is indifferent, which is not something ordinary people can have."

"Amilo and Tiramisu, the two legendary magicians are both courtiers to the demons. At least I feel that Amilo is completely obeying the orders of Yinzhi. If the demons are just ordinary people, I don't think the legendary magicians will be like this. obedient."

Rose interjected, "Could it be that the legendary magician's family was kidnapped? Or caught?"

"Although I like Miss Rose's idea very much," Igula replied, "but legendary magicians are just passers-by in this world, and they don't have this weakness."

Yaxiu pondered: "The information is still insufficient, we can only confirm that the devil is not just a tool of the magician. On their side, the devil is really the master of the magician."

Igula stared at Ash: "That Feili..."

“She’s just an ordinary person.” Ash affirmed: “Perhaps there is something like a ‘soul-invading ceremony’. Those legendary magicians merged the souls of other demigods into demons, which can explain why they respect them. demon.”

“And the angel hunting that the gods are so concerned about, it is reasonable for them to send demigod subordinates to supervise the battle.”

“There are probably many demons in the kingdom of stars, but only the demons whose masters are recognized by legendary magicians through special rituals are the spokespersons of the gods of all parties.”

Igula agreed with Ash’s guess, and raised another possibility: “Is it possible that those demons are the Lord of God himself?”

Yaxiu was silent for a moment, and then asked: “The Omniscient Weaver is the flashy beautiful girl you saw, and the Blood Moon is a little black-haired boy who likes Harvey?”

Igula thought for a while, then waved her hand and said, “So that’s how you feel when you’re stupid... Forget what I said just now.”

To be honest, whether there is a demigod or a god’s soul hidden in the devil, there is no difference to them – they are all things that can only be looked up to.

From the very beginning, this angel hunt was not a game they could participate in. Just like the six kingdoms of the Time Continent, the dream kingdom of heaven in the distant sky, the gods are unscrupulously competing for every inch of land and every resource in the virtual realm, and these magicians only have to take a detour.

If someone told them that the gods used the corpses of magicians to feed Lala fat in the sea of knowledge, they would not be surprised.

Although the process of this angel hunt was extremely dangerous, it was also quite stimulating to Ash and Igula.

This may be the closest they have come to the Lord. Everyone they meet carries the will of the Lord. Even Arthur Heath was an undercover agent sent by the Four Pillars of God, lurking in the stars for three and three years.

They can't even count as chess pieces, but they can't restrain their yearning for the chess players behind the scenes. Knowing that it is not the power that he can covet, but he can't suppress the greed in his heart.

Creatures like sorcerers are moths destined to burn out in flames.

When the magicians were immersed in their yearning for supreme power, Rose applied hand cream to herself, then grabbed Ash's hand and rubbed it, asking, "Did you smell a rotten corpse?"

Ash: "It came from the basement. Harvey ordered the corpses from you. Have you forgotten?"

"I didn't forget, I just didn't know that he would actually be preserved." Rose said, "I thought he was here to eat, and even if it was bad, it would be treated with preservatives."

Igula: "Seriously, he uses preservatives to preserve the skin, but not the internal organs."

Rose: "Why?"

"Because decay is also the core aesthetic of death," Ash explains. "If he wasn't looking after our senses, he wouldn't even bother to preserve skin. There is beauty in every cycle of life, baby, childhood, youth, middle age, old age... death is the same, heat preservation, hypothermia, corpse spots, decay, maggots, white bones, each cycle is a little bit uncovering the mystery of death."

"That's right, that's it." Igula nodded, "So it's normal to have a stink when living with him. I'm used to eating jelly with the smell."

Rose: "I see."

After a moment of silence, Ash looked at Igula: "Are we broken too?"

The fraudster didn't speak, just returned a sad look.

"I already understand that the scale of your role-playing game is very large," Rose said, "but I don't accept that the place where I live has such a strong stench."

Igula was a little surprised: "I thought you didn't care about anything."

"It doesn't matter if I ask Yaxiu, and even if it's Yaxiu, I won't accept some excessive requirements." Rose said seriously: "Of course, I'm not trying to destroy your game, I will take Yaxiu's request. If I buy the villa next to me and let Mr. Harvey move there, I don't care how stinky or dirty he makes."

Ash and Igula were heartbroken.

They couldn't even recall what it was like before Harvey. Ash was the worst. He only lived clean and comfortable in Broken Lake Prison, and he has been with Corpse Stink since then. And Igula, a deceiver with a habit of cleanliness, was tortured so hard that his nose broke, which shows how destructive Harvey is in this small group.

If he could drive Harvey out, he wouldn't have to share a room with the corpse, nor would he have to see cockroaches, insects, ants, and spiders eating each other in the living room in the middle of the night, and he wouldn't have to listen to Harvey's corpse while eating!

Gan, this guy should have been driven away long ago, why did they wait for Rose's reminder to react?

"it is good!"

Ash made a decisive decision: "Wait for Harvey to come back, Igula, tell me!"

"Why me... Forget it." Igula said, "Anyone can step on Harvey anyway, so what if I step on him? Let me tell you!"

At this moment, someone opened the door and came in: "I'm back."

It is Archibald Harvey who is full of evil!

Seeing the necromancer come back with a big bag and a small bag, Igula coughed, "Harvey, we have something to tell you."

"No problem, wait for me to put things away first." Harvey said, "When I went to buy surgical equipment, I passed by the supermarket, and I bought a lot of jelly and red wine by the way, all of which Igula is your favorite."

Igula turned her head to look at Ash, who swiped his hand around his neck and said, "Quickly trample him to death".

At this time, Harvey put a large bag next to the basement door, and Igula asked, "What is that?"

"Air freshener." Harvey knocked on the basement door: "I thought such a long passage would be able to block the smell, but it didn't work, so I bought a lot of air fresheners, and it should be no problem now. It's rare to live so well. I should also pay attention to hygiene."

Igula turned to look at Yaxiu again, Yaxiu chopped his neck with a knife, and said, "Don't be merciful, step on his bed bug"!

"Okay, what's the matter?" Harvey sat on the soft chair opposite Igula and asked.

Igula considered her tone: "That's right, we're going to buy the villa next to it..."

"Is it the big bath in the villa next to me?" Curly Black pondered: "I know Igula, you don't want to take a bath with us, but there's no need to buy an extra villa, right? And I learned from Tiramisu's resentment technique. I got a lot of inspiration from the style, and I will work in the basement next, and I will not use the bathroom of the villa, you can rest assured."

The necromancer sighed softly: "In this angel hunt, I was almost helpless. If I hadn't met Tiramisu and Yejian, I would have even died in it... But like me People who go to death are different, your life is more valuable, and there are people outside waiting for you to go back."

"Die when you deserve to die, and try your best to live when you don't deserve to die." Harvey looked at the two of them: "Also, I really don't want to die like this, and I want to witness your next life process. ."

"Even if it's just for you, I want to master the last undead arm, the Blood Moon Corpse King as soon as possible."

The corner of the fraudster's mouth twitched, as if there were a lot of words stuck in his throat.

He suddenly pulled Ash next to him: "Actually, Ash has something to say to you."

Ash had a helpless expression on his face, his eyes wandered, he suddenly saw the black box at Harvey's feet, and asked, "What is that?"

"It's just done." Harvey patted the black box: "I'm going to make a lot of family next, so naturally I have to prepare dinner for them."

Ash finally found a reason: "You're making a ghoulish feast with cockroaches and ants at home again? Harvey, you always say this—"

"No, I did it in the sewer." Harvey looked at Rose: "Earlier Rose mentioned that there is an orphanage in Jia Shi, and I also went to the sewer to set up the spell there. This time I went out and collected it, so that they were nearby. There will be no snakes, worms and ants in the block."

He shrugged, "After all, we Blood Moons are essentially orphans."

Ash opened his mouth, but didn't say a word.

He pulled Rose directly in front of him: "Actually, Rose has something to tell you."

Rose looked at Ash and Igula, and at the dazed Harvey, her seemingly always calm face finally made a wave, and she said helplessly, "We ordered another batch of corpses for you."

"Really? It's great!" Harvey was as happy as a child: "I've never been so rich in my life!"

Gan oh, this necromancer is annoying 31 days a month, why is he so likable today?

Ash scratched his head and said, "Let's talk about the angel hunt last night. Harvey, do you have anything else to add?"

Harvey glanced at the whiteboard and shook his head: "No, unless you want to learn the resentment spell that Tiramisu taught me."

"That is to say, apart from Harvey, we got nothing in this carnival." Igula's voice was low.

"Not exactly..." Ash was noncommittal.

Boom!

The gate of the villa was kicked open, and they turned their heads to see the flame-haired girl in a maid outfit striding into the villa.

"I'm finally willing to come back, Vichy." Ash said calmly, "I thought you would just disappear."

He frowned slightly: "Didn't I say that I don't like you with red hair?"

"Of course I will come back, my dear master." Vichy said in a high spirit: "If I don't come back, how can I bring rewards to the master?"

She walked up to Harvey and kicked, motioning the necromancer to move away, then sat recklessly on the soft chair and looked at Ash.

Ash narrowed his eyes: "What reward?"

"The reward is—" Vichy took off her short boots, put her feet on the coffee table, and pushed the black stockings down from her thighs, revealing her smooth pink feet, "Master, you can choose to lick my feet now, so that I can say later. Maybe it will open up to you."

Ash laughed angrily: "Could it be that the loot you grabbed from the angel hunt allowed you to get rid of the ruby chain?"

"No," Vichy laughed, "but it's almost there."

"Because what I got is the key to the highest – the seventh virtual wing!"

Chapter 847: robbery

"Ross, you go back upstairs first."

Ash pulled his hand back from Rose's hand, and when he looked down, he couldn't even recognize it was his own.

"We want to discuss some topics about role-playing games." He commented, "It is not suitable for normal people to be present."

Rose looked at Vichy's beautiful feet on the coffee table and asked, "Do you need me to prepare a disinfectant mouthwash?"

"I won't lick it, don't worry."

"I think it's better for you not to be so confident." Vichy stretched out, the arches of his feet were straight, and the toes of the tender lotus buds came together, "but I don't want you to drink mouthwash, you should be full of Grateful and humiliating surrender to me."

Rose thought for a while, then asked cautiously, "Miss Vichy, wouldn't you attack Ashe? I mean all aspects. After all, Ashe is now a wounded person, and any manual labor will affect his recuperation."

"Rose, you don't have to worry at all," Vichy propped up her cheeks with her hands and put up the other long leg, which was still wearing black stockings, and said lazily, "I have always liked to be a 'conqueror', and Ash just needs to take the responsibility. The shameful work of being a 'conqueror' is enough, and I will do the rest of the heavy manual labor myself."

"Then I can rest assured to go back to watch the drama, remember to drink five-flower tea." Rose took the mercury thermometer out of Yaxiu's armpit, took a look at it under the light, recorded it in the notebook, and left leisurely. Ash was stunned for a moment, he didn't remember when Rose inserted the thermometer.

When the door closed on the second floor, Ash drank the iced honey five-flower tea in one gulp. Harvey had walked behind Vichy at some point, and turned the whiteboard upside down so that Vichy could not see it. Yin Gula also took out a Dutch revolver decorated with gold and silver patterns, and filled the magazines with bullets one by one.

Ash woke up this morning and realized that Vichy's wings were stiff, but Yingula and Harvey persuaded him not to be so pessimistic, maybe Vichy died?

The reason is very simple, Vichy didn't come back all day and night, and Ash found through the manual of the magician that he and Vichy were still in a team state, so Vichy must still be in the kingdom of stars.

Surviving after the war but not returning to the team, is there any other possibility besides stealing and eating alone? Thinking about it with his toes, Vichy must be hiding and studying the loot from the Angel Hunt.

And Vichy's current performance also proves that her gains are so great that she doesn't even care if she breaks her face directly with Ashe. If this is a novel with Vichy as the protagonist, then the plot at this time is "the period of forbearance has come, the ghost prophet returns, the master is shocked, bears humiliation and loses his life and flatters" and so on.

But since she returned at this time, it proves that Ash's ruby chain is still in effect.

After all, like a prudent magician who has countless resurrection methods in Vichy, if she is not 100% sure, she will not appear in front of her enemies, and she can't wait to appear when they are separated for 12 hours, and lovers in love are not anxious. .

The real reason is that in the list of rules that Yaxiu set for her, she is only allowed to leave Yaxiu for free movement for a maximum of 12 hours under special circumstances, and she must return to the team within 12 hours. The reason why she was given a 12-hour window was not to indulge her, but to prevent her from committing suicide—for example, in the Black Sea, if she was ordered to return to Ash at any time as the highest priority, then she would There is a reason to attack the monster group.

Yingula and Harvey are aware of this, so they are more vigilant.

The demon imprisoned by the shackles grinned, indicating that the crumbling heaven was reflected in her child's hole.

“There is no one else right now.” Ash said, “Let me see your confidence.”

Vichy didn't hesitate, and directly revealed his false wings. Like Yaxiu and the others, Vichy only has complete phantom wings of silver, gold, and colorful colors, which she obtained after the magician of the Soul Reaper Sanctuary. As for the fourth phantom wing, there is only one feather, and the progress is similar to that of Yaxiu and the three.

But the eyes of the three of Ashura immediately focused on the four blue feathers at her waist.

It is worth mentioning that although there are various factors such as height, race, and gender, on the whole, the position of the virtual wings of the surgeon is in the same place. The colorful and colorless virtual wings are long on both sides of the vest. As for the fifth and sixth virtual wings, it can also be inferred that they should be on the lower side of the back.

Now the blue wings at the waist of Vichy are exactly the theoretical position of the seventh virtual wing!

“I know you are shocked, but you are still not shocked enough.” Vichy enjoyed their gaze, “You are only mortals after all, and you simply don't understand the new meaning of Void Wing to the magician after stepping into the realm of the gods. It is also more troublesome for you to explain, like describing colors to the blind and making the deaf understand sounds.”

After taunting them, Vichy continued: “If the magician at the mortal stage controls the magic spirit with phantom wings, then after stepping into the realm of the gods, the magician uses the phantom wings to achieve the gods.”

Domination, achievement?

Seeing Yaxiu and the others thinking, there was a hint of admiration in Vichy’s eyes, “You are feeling it now, right? At the stage of silver, gold, and sanctuary, even if you have high and low levels of magic, but you are right. If the same magic spirit inputs the same magic power, the magic spirit will derive the same effect.”

“Until the legendary stage, each legend has different proportions of different-color mana, and the different-color mana will have a positive and negative boosting effect on the magic spirit. The same magic spirit, driven by solid-color magic power and variegated magic power, The increase gap can be widened by 10 times!”

“So after stepping into the realm of the gods, how big can the increase gap be?” Vichy raised three fingers: “In my heyday, I could increase the power of soul magic to 3,000 times!”

Even though they knew that Vichy was intimidating, the three of them were still heartbroken by what she said.

What is the concept of 3000 times?

Now the level of combat power of legendary magicians is generally to destroy a city in a single day, and Vichy is an evil demigod, her killing speed is at least a hundred times faster than that of legendary magicians! Killing lives is easier for her than breathing, and burning a city and destroying a country is easier than putting on clothes!

Not to mention that apart from the impoverished ghosts like Vichy, there is a high probability that other demigods have gods!

The power of the gods is more than a hundred times more powerful than magic?

“When it comes to the stage of the Lord of the Gods, the degree of increase increases exponentially.”
Vichy said: “I haven’t seen many times that the Lord of God makes a move, let alone on the fifth floor of the Void Realm, the Lord’s shot will still be greatly weakened. However, Yaxiu, you inherited the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes, there should be an unsolvable curse of the Kingdom of Heaven in the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes, right?”

Ash thought for a while: "There is a curse of "Blood Flies Boiling" in it. "

The biggest obstacle to the inheritance of Qianwan is "blood flies boiling", which everyone can guess. Vichy glanced at him, "Although I haven't seen the blood flies of the Blood Moon Extreme Lord boiling, it is generally believed that the effect of the imaginary re-enactment is only one-tenth of the original version at most."

The curse that destroyed one third of the land of the Thousand Wishes Heaven, and the gods could not solve it even if they exhausted their lives, was actually only one-tenth of the original version! ?

"Is it possible to increase the spell spirit to that extent because of the influence of the Void Wing?" Yin Gula said, "Could it be that, like the fourth Void Wing, different ratios of spell power will increase the spell spirit differently?"

"First, starting from the fifth wing, the virtual wing generates 'source power', not magic power. The source power drives the gods, and the magic power drives the magic spirits. Using the source power to drive the magic spirits, even the gods can't do it. Not so rambunctious."

"Secondly, it is Void Wing itself that increases the spell spirit."

Vichy pointed to the top: "Have you ever thought that when the magician uses the rainstorm magic, it can only spread to a radius of 100 meters, and the sky can easily rain and waves for thousands of miles; the earthquake magic can shake a city is legendary, but the earth is not It can break the earth and collapse the mountains and shake the whole country."

"The most powerful magician is not the Lord of God, nor the future supreme, but the world itself from beginning to end."

"How can we make the magic spirit exert greater power? It's very simple, it is not for us to drive the magic spirit, but to let the world drive the magic spirit."

"And in order to achieve this," Vichy's fingertips slid lightly over her cherry lips, "our magicians need to eat the world first and condense our fifth virtual wings."

"Eat the world?" Yin Gula subconsciously repeated it, as if to reduce the absurdity of this sentence.

"For example, the magic spirit is the spirit of the law derived from the world," Vichy called out her fire-conscious magic spirit, rubbed it with her face affectionately, but said cruel words in her mouth: "Eating the magic spirit is the result of our cohesion. The most direct path for the fifth virtual wing."

Ash felt that the magic spirit in his soul trembled.

“Of course, this is a very extravagant behavior. There are more economical ways on the fifth floor of the virtual realm, but the essence is the same.” Vichy said: “The product of the law like the magic spirit, whether it is used to death by us. Or if we are naturally liberated after death, it will return to the virtual realm, which is just one part of the inner cycle for the virtual realm.”

“But if we eat the magic spirit, it will always belong to the magician, which is equivalent to us stealing the property of the virtual world and eating the fragments of the world. Unless we give up the fifth virtual wing, the virtual world will continue to curse us until our souls die.”

“That’s why the fifth virtual wing is also known as the thief’s wing.”

Seemingly recalling her heyday, Vichy murmured: “The more laws that are stolen from the Void, the stronger the magician will be against the spirits. I can fight demigods without a god, precisely because I steal the extremes. The Law of Multiple Void Realms to condense my fifth Void Wing.”

Yaxiu: “So the curse of the virtual realm you encountered was especially fierce?”

Vichy snorted and avoided answering, "The fifth virtual wing is called the Thief's Wing, so guess what the sixth virtual wing is called?"

The increase of the God Lord is much higher than that of the demigods. Obviously, the God Lord also has to steal from the virtual realm, so Harvey guessed: "Wings of the Great Thief?"

"Wrong, it's the king's wings." Vichy said, "Perhaps you have already discovered this phenomenon: where there are six wings, there must be a kingdom of heaven."

"The kingdom of heaven is a necessary element to become a six-winged god." Ash said slowly: "In the legacy of the Nightmare Angel, his original idea was to create a Nightmare God and hold high the heaven in the dream to achieve the six-winged rank."

"Just rely on him?" Vichy showed disdain, "but his idea is only to meet the threshold of the Lord of God, he still needs the last step."

"what?"

“Steal the secret realm of the world.” Vichy’s eyes showed a look of longing: “The biggest difference between the six wings and the five wings is that the * master can steal the secret realm of the world, while the demigods can only eat the fragments of the world.”

“The reason why God Lords have a kingdom of heaven is just because the kingdom of heaven is a necessary condition for stealing the secret realm of the world. There is no kingdom of heaven. Even if you move the secret realm of the world from the fourth layer of the virtual realm to the reality, it still belongs to the virtual realm, not to the real world. You. Only by moving the secret realm of the world to your heaven can you steal it from the virtual realm and make it yours.”

“The sixth virtual wing is essentially the wings of heaven and the secret realm! The secret realm of the world is the body of the sixth virtual wing!”

As it turned out, the confusion in Ash’s heart about the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes was instantly resolved. When he got the Kingdom of Thousand Wishes, he was thinking about a question – since the curse of the virtual world is so troublesome, why not return the wishing pool to the virtual world?

Although magicians are all greedy, Qian Wish Illusion Master is not Vichy. She has many gods, and she can perform miracles even without the secret realm of the world. Why offend the virtual realm?

In fact, it is not only the Heavenly Kingdom of Thousand Wishes. Since the Time Continent, Yaxiu has come into contact with many rumors of ‘God Master stealing the Void Realm’. The Time Continent has been stolen to the point where only the golden river is left, and Dharma Master Fanxing even stole the Hell Sky Curtain. The impression is that this group of gods will steal a bucket even when the dung truck passes by.

Now Yaxiu finally understands that it is not the gods who mainly steal the virtual realm, but that if you don't steal the virtual realm, you can't become the god's master!

The gods of the six kingdoms are the six thieves!

If you steal less, you are a demigod who is chased by the curse of the virtual realm; if you steal more, you can become a * who dominates reality!

Yaxiu came back to her senses, watching Vichy smiling and stroking her blue feathers, and she understood her plan—the more they knew about the fifth and sixth virtual wings, the more they understood her seventh virtual wing. precious!

In fact, Yin Gula's expression was very serious at this time: "The fifth virtual wing is going to eat the fragments of the world, and the sixth virtual wing is going to steal the secret realm of the world. Then what did your seventh virtual wing steal from?"

“Good question, Yingula, as expected of a psychic I admire.” Vichy chuckled: “But my feet are destined to be licked clean by the master, there is no place for you... In this way, I will reward Yaxiu to How are you?”

“If your answer frightens me, it’s not that I can’t accept the punishment.” The fraudster sneered.

“Then you can go to collect your reward now.” Vichy narrowed his eyes and folded his feet, “Because of my seventh virtual wing, knowledge is stolen.”

“You may not know a miracle called “Golden Apple”: God Lord can seal knowledge into golden apples, and from then on this knowledge will be monopolized. Spirit, but also unable to resonate with the virtual world. ”

Yaxiu asked: “The seventh virtual wing also steals knowledge like this? After you steal it, others will not be able to resonate with the virtual world?”

“Do not.”

Vichy gave him a wink, and couldn't contain the excitement in his voice: "After I steal it, it won't have any effect on the world."

"But from now on, the knowledge I stole belongs to me."

This sentence suddenly sounds very strange. Of course your knowledge belongs to you, otherwise? But connecting with the golden apple in front, Yaxiu and others realized a terrifying possibility.

"Any magic spirit derived from this knowledge must obey my orders."

"Any magician who learns this knowledge will be controlled by me."

"Any environment filled with this knowledge is my country."

"When I stole all the knowledge." Vichy clenched his fists, "I am the only one who is supreme!"

Chapter 848: Ash you devil

There was silence in the living room, the only remnants of the ghostly prophet's ambition left in the air.

"I won't say that other than you, there should be other people grabbing the spoils, and I won't say that the real winner is Master Fanxing who completed the eating ceremony."

Yaxiu said calmly, "I just want to ask one question – your seventh virtual wing, can really steal all knowledge?"

Vichy glanced at him in surprise, "Axiu, you have good observation skills, I approve you to use mouthwash. Of course, since you have this kind of insight, I believe that you will definitely not use it at that time, lest I have any thoughts on you. dissatisfied."

"Actually, I'm not the first to reach the top of the mountain. When I got to the top of the mountain, the silver holy grail left on the top of the mountain had already been sucked. After I took a mouthful, I was attacked."

Ash: "What sneak attack?"

“At that time, techniques were banned, so it was naturally a sneak attack.” Speaking of which, Vichy was also a little depressed, “I suspect that there were more than one attacker, and they were at least the sanctuary of fists and claws—even if there were feathers to block the view, I actually hit But they!”

Yin Gula and Harvey recalled the pink and purple girl Yinzhi and the little boy Ye Jian at the same time. It stands to reason that these two should be able to climb the top of the mountain without any obstacles... Could it be that they beat Vichy?

“After the silver light flying feather storm ended, I tried to rush up again, but I didn’t have much magic power and the fighting intensity was high, so I had to retreat in the end.” Wei Xi hugged his long legs and said, “But it doesn’t matter, I have obtained the key to the highest.”

“These four blue feathers are the result of my soul knowledge. But even with only these four feathers, I can get a 16-fold increase when I use the relevant soul magic spirit. If someone attacks me with the relevant soul magic spirit, It will be weakened to only 1/16 of its power.”

“You didn’t say that just now,” Ash Yoyo said, “Didn’t you say that you can control related magic spirits? Why is it weakened now?”

Vichy glanced at him coldly, and said after a moment of silence: “If my guess is correct, the seventh virtual wing can only steal the knowledge of a single spell faction. When the wizard steals all the knowledge of the spell, he can Get all the permissions of the spell and become the supreme spell of the faction.”

“Dominate other people’s magic spirits, control the same line of magicians, and control a specific environment are all permissions that can only be unlocked by becoming the supreme magician.”

“So now I really can’t do it.” Vichy propped her cheeks without a smile: “Congratulations, master, you exposed this. As a price, my stockings will not take off. You won’t lick them wet. Toru, don’t expect me to let your sword girl go in the future.”

Yin Gula thought that this time was troublesome. First of all, Vichy was a demigod who couldn’t even be imprisoned by death. Even if Ashe put a lot of shackles on her, they couldn’t suppress this demon from 3,000 years ago. Now it’s just a little chance that Angel Hunt has leaked, and she has seized it and turned around.

They couldn’t hold back the previous demon maids, not to mention the ghost prophet who got four soul feathers.

Secondly, he also really wanted to see the image of Ash being humiliated, and it was really hard to resist this temptation.

Harvey obviously had the same idea. The black curly hair struggled to take out his mobile phone to prepare for video recording.

“Why do you say that?” Yaxiu tilted her head, looking innocent and innocent: “Aren’t you still dominated by me? Why should I be afraid of you?”

“I don’t know where you got your ruby chain, but even if it is the creation of the six-winged god, it is still within the scope of the soul faction.” Vichy said proudly: “As long as I continue to grow the soul wing, then I will solve the problem. Opening the chain is only a matter of time, after all, all soul knowledge will be under my control.”

Ya Xiu suddenly realized and nodded: “Then I can’t let you grow your soul’s virtual wings, can’t you?”

“But I’ve been researching for a long time and I don’t know how to grow the void wing of the soul,” Vichy smiled and said, “Why do you forbid things that I don’t even know about?”

“Even if you lock me up, even if you keep me from sleeping for a long time, can you feel at ease?”

Vichy left the seat and walked in front of Ash, propped up the sofa behind Ash with both hands, lowered his head like a conqueror and looked down at his master, his face flushed with joy.

“As long as I’m alive, I’ll definitely be able to find an opportunity to grow my soul’s virtual wings, but you dare not kill me, and you can’t kill me.”

“I said it from the first day, you can’t hide me forever.”

“Axiu, you are a wise master. You must have guessed how cruelly I would destroy everything about you if I was in a bad mood when I broke free from the chains.”

The maid leaned over to Ash’s ear and whispered like a demon, “It’s time to pay the price, my master.”

After saying these words, Vichy squeezed his legs with joy, and his breathing became shallow and fast. After many years, she still has no resistance to this kind of anti-kill plot. She just likes to see the wonderful change of other people’s expressions from winning to disbelief, to fear, and finally hysterically begging for mercy.

Seeing each and every one of the enemies being as humble as dust and allowing themselves to trample and ravage it is simply the best explanation for the name of the ghost prophet.

Now, this is the first step in concocting Ash. But after all, he is the toy for the next period of time, she has to enjoy it slowly, and can't play with it so quickly.

However, when Vichy turned her head to look, Ash did not show panic or kneel to beg for mercy as she imagined, but took out a golden scale from her arms.

"Do you know what this is, Vichy?"

Vichy analyzed it carefully for a few seconds, and his face changed slightly: "The scales of a golden fish?"

"Vichy, your observation skills are good." Ash said, "This is the trophy I got from Angel Hunt. Guess what effect it has?"

Yaxiu is not a character that makes people guess, plus he ignores his own threats... Vichy was silent for a moment, and said, "Let people get the seventh virtual wing?"

“As expected of my maid, she’s really smart.” Ash smiled and motioned Yingula and Harvey to come over, press the golden scales against their skins, and then silently consume two Origin Crystals.

Soon, a wisp of warm golden light feathers grew out of the cheater’s waist, while the necromancer grew dark green light feathers, but their seventh virtual wings were so small that they didn’t even count as a feather. not on.

But this was enough for the two of them to be dumbfounded. They didn’t even enter the core area of Angel Hunting.

In Vichy’s greedy eyes, Ash took back the golden scales and said, “As you can see, the golden scales can only give them the “seed” of the seventh virtual wing, and whether they can develop depends on their own. Struggle, it is not like you * the silver chalice and get four soul feathers directly.”

Although what Ash said was the truth, Vichy felt more and more flustered.

When the jailer declares the strength of the prisoner, it also means that the jailer has prepared more shackles.

“But giving “seeds” is not the only effect of golden scales. “Axiu said: “Guess what its second effect is? ...don’t go, come here. ”

Vichy stopped walking back, walked back to him with a sad face, looked at him with pitiful eyes: “I can’t guess.”

“You must have guessed it, after all, you are a demigod whose knowledge is far better than ours.” Ash smiled: “I said just now that I want you to be unable to grow your soul wing, but I also understand that any order from me is impossible. stop you...”

“can!”

Wei Xi directly knelt down and hugged his leg, looked at him with big tearful eyes, and said sincerely: “As long as you say that I am not allowed to grow my soul’s virtual wings, I will never grow! Or, As long as my soul’s emptiness changes, I will tell you immediately! Okay, master, your chains are absolute, and Vichy will be obedient!”

“...The only way is to directly deprive you of your soul’s virtual wings.” Ashe placed the golden scales in his palm, but Vichy looked at it eagerly but did not dare to grab it. “Fortunately, the golden scales have exactly this effect.”

Exactly.

The two golden scales that the golden fish exploded, one was in Niya's hands, and the other was given to Ash by Fili. After Ashe woke up, he got the golden scale and triggered the "Ollora's Manual of Magicians". The first was to tell him how to use the golden scale, and the second was to tell him that another golden scale had entered the permanent card pool. .

That is to say, if Niya refuses to give it to him in the future, he may also draw a second golden scale from the card pool.

But Ash didn't have this plan, because his golden scales were enough to solve the problem.

"The Skyscale of the Golden Fish"

"Wings of Knowledge: Consume 1 Origin Crystal to activate the target's Wings of Knowledge."

“Knowledge Feather: Consume 1 Origin Crystal to absorb the target’s Knowledge Feather onto the Skyscale. You can transfer the Knowledge Feather to other targets with Knowledge Wings. During the transfer process, neither side can resist, and cooperate fully.”

Vichy’s voice was choked, and UU Reading www.uukanshu.com whimpered: “Master, master, I was just joking, how could I be disrespectful to the mistress? I know wrong, I really know wrong, I’ll kill whoever you want to kill in the future, and I’ll bite whoever you want in the future, okay? Master, master, you smell so good, can I lick you?”

Seeing the maid’s humble and loving appearance, Ash shook his head with a smile.

“Vichy, you really give me no choice. Extend your right hand, open your palm, and let me absorb your soul feathers.”

Vichy grabbed his right hand with his left hand, almost scratching the blood, but he still couldn’t stop his right hand from reaching out. She was really crying now, big tears falling down, biting her lower lip, and begging with a weeping voice: “Master, Master, it looks so painful, can you change another day... Don’t touch me! Don’t touch me! Me! Take it!”

Ash placed the golden scale in her hand and consumed the source crystal to activate the effect. He took a deep breath and sighed: “I really can’t resist the anti-kill plot. It’s really interesting to see your expression change from victory to disbelief, to fear, and finally hysterically begging for mercy.”

Vichy watched his blue feathers slowly dissipate, and his mind exploded in an instant: "Axiu, you devil! This is mine, mine! You can't take it away, you can't... woo... I've been waiting for this opportunity for so many years... I finally managed to... at least leave me some..."

"It's a great honor for me to be judged by the Prophet of Ghosts himself." Ash's voice was brisk.

Chapter 849: Punish Vichy

The ghost prophet, Vichy, stepped into the realm of gods in the first life and became a demigod. In the world of magicians, where it is so difficult to climb the legendary realm, it is no wonder that the ghost prophet with double demigod spells can kill a splendid name, the demigods retreat, and the gods are afraid.

Even ignoring the time after her death, her life span is more than a thousand years, and she seldom seeks pleasure and pleasure, either on the way to accumulate resources by killing people, or on the way to study and explore the mysteries of magic techniques, like the thrill of Yaxiu's displacement. Adventure, but can be squeezed into her "Ghost Prophet's Selected Adventure Top 10".

In Harvey's words, Vichy was the best quality of life he had ever seen, and even better if he died.

What is even more frightening is that her bottom line is to violate the principle again and again, and her principle is to break the bottom line again and again.

In the eyes of normal people, a thousand-year-old demigod being dominated and enslaved by a mortal in his twenties like Yaxiu is like a noble princess being held by a humble beggar. Vichy should feel humiliated and angry. However, she was naturally flattering to Ashe. If Ashe didn't fully understand her evil nature, she might really be immersed in the joy of conquering the demigods.

Ritual, righteousness, integrity, moral dignity, and even the body does not care, there are no shackles that can bind Vichy in this world. She is a living demon, everything that can't kill her will only make her stronger, and everything that thinks can control her will be corrupted and polluted by her.

The moment Vichy became an operator, Ash was thinking about how to control this demon maid.

Pain, she doesn't care;

Humiliation, she will cooperate with Yaxiu's performance and even propose more ways to play;

Death, okay, okay, master, I'll go back to Fanxing to chat with Jianji, and I'll tell her how much you used to humiliate me.

She has no flaws and can even escape death. It seemed that Ash was dominating her, but it was Ash who was actually bound by her.

But even the most brutal elves, the incarnations of demons, still have something to value.

strength.

Vichy, who was reborn in the second world, obviously could live a gorgeous life through the Prophet, enjoying herself and satisfying her desires, but she chose the path of the Prophet of Ghosts.

In order to gain power as quickly as possible, even if it becomes an enemy of the whole world.

Friends, fame, comfort... She put all her desires on the altar and sacrificed them all to power. She is not even pursuing magic. Magic is just a tool for her. What really tempts her is the power that transcends everything, the throne that reigns over all beings.

She does not pursue power, just because she knows that power is only the basis of power, and the Lord is the country is the best proof.

So when Ash got the golden scale, he knew that he finally had the means to punish Vichy.

“It’s a pity that I didn’t take all your wings away.”

Ash glanced at Vichy’s other wings with regret on his face: “But it’s enough to take away your hope of reaching the highest.”

There are four more small scales on the golden scale, which are obviously made of Vichy’s knowledge feathers.

For an undead demon chasing supreme power, the cruelest thing is to deprive her of the only hope she had been waiting for for thousands of years.

Vichy looked at the golden scale in Yaxiu’s hand with tears in her eyes, and wanted to reach out and grab it back, but was restrained by the chain and couldn’t do it. She watched as Ash put the golden scales on Igula and Harvey, let the deceiver grow soul feathers, and let the necromancer grow undead feathers, and she cried out with a wow, her head buried in Ash’s thigh and sobbing .

In fact, it was still a trivial matter for Yaxiu to steal the spoils this time. Vichy had been hacked many times before, and she even tried to be robbed by God Lord Ming.

But the problem is that Yaxiu has this golden scale, which means that even if Vichy can get the soul feather again in the future, he will be robbed by Yaxiu!

The maid’s is the master’s, and the master’s is the master’s!

Yaxiu will not die in a day, she is hopeless in a day!

Vichy raised her head and stared at Ash with red eyes full of resentment. Unfortunately, she was forbidden to kill Ash, so she looked like a little girl whose lollipop was snatched by a bully.

Not only did Yaxiu not care, she even raised her eyebrows happily, turned her head and asked, "How do you guys feel?"

Igula pondered for a moment: "I can't decide on my own which part of the knowledge I condense, but the knowledge of the 'Mind Watch' that happened to be condensed this time, the related spells have increased by about 2 times, and it should be able to continue to improve in places with many people."

"crowded place?"

"Just like the ocean is to the water magician, and the volcano is to the fire magician, the spiritual faction also has the most suitable environment to play, that is, the place with a large flow of people." Igula explained: "However, this environmental impact is only convenient for magic spirits. Play, the increase is at most about 10%. Now that I have this spiritual feather, I feel like I can use the environment more effectively."

Ash nodded thoughtfully, "Then Harvey, your best environment is a cemetery?"

"No." Harvey shook his head: "My best spellcasting environment is also a crowded place."

Noticing the slight change in the expressions of the two, the necromancer sighed: "It's not what you think. It's just one of the reasons why you can use local materials to turn living people into casting materials."

"One of the reasons?" Ash blinked.

"Although I have said it many times, you still have misunderstandings about corpses," Harvey said. "A corpse that has not been treated by a necromancer is no different from Lala-fat luncheon meat. It is a piece of rotten meat. People. No more noble than other animals, and a mass grave, where many people have died, is no more suitable for a necromancer than a slaughterhouse, an amusement park that is most suitable for a necromancer."

"The necromantic faction is essentially a positive and negative application of life, so it is more convenient for necromancers to cast spells in places with many people. Death is not the opposite of life, but another form of life."

"I see." Ash nodded again and again: "I really hope I didn't understand the best spellcasting environment for that swordsmanship faction? Vichy?"

Vichy snorted fiercely, stared straight at Yaxiu, and choked out: "Swordsmanship was just an ordinary faction in my time, they were basically reckless men who couldn't resist the miracle of the soul, I was the first to kill The dead swordsman is..."

She began to use "1000% implementation of the order" to resist Ash again. Ash asked her about swordsmanship, and she slowly revealed all her knowledge of swordsmanship, wasting Ash's time.

However, Yaxiu wasn't angry at all, he couldn't hold back his laughter, he tilted his head back and said to the two of them, "Isn't it interesting that she is so angry with me that she can only disgust me like this?"

Vichy's voice was stagnant, and she felt that she didn't say no, and she had no choice but to suppress her voice and continue to introduce the swordsman she had killed.

Igula looked at Ash and the maid lying on his lap with a strange expression, and asked, "Is it really good to give us the knowledge feathers? Others may also get a certain amount of knowledge feathers now, and now we should give the knowledge feathers to us. The knowledge feathers are concentrated, and we try to improve our highest combat power."

Yaxiu asked back: "Ignore Fili, who is our highest combat power?"

Igula was stunned for a moment, and immediately realized that she had said something stupid. The highest combat power on their side is naturally the demigod Vichy!

Even if Vichy only has one magic spirit, she still has to bear the master of Yaxiu, but with her huge combat experience, she is still the top combat power in the legend. If you really want to analyze it rationally, you should give her the feathers of knowledge.

If Vichy is excluded, it is actually difficult for the three of Yaxiu, Igula, and Harvey to distinguish between high and low, because their strengths and weaknesses are obvious:

Harvey has the ultimate ultimate move, the Blood Moon Corpse King, which can overwhelm three people in an instant burst, but the output is usually relatively low;

Igula's "visualization overlap" is a miracle with no upper limit, and there are many miracles of controlling the field, and the comprehensive combat power is relatively uniform;

Yaxiu has "Sword Servant" in melee combat, "Mind Pen" in long-range combat, and is also good at healing and defense, but there is no desperate miracle that can be finalized.

Yaxiu's technique background is still too bad, he can study the miracle of "Sword Servant" thanks to the help of Sonia and others. Although the swordsmanship faction is not without miracles, but if you think about it with your head, you know that the Sword Princess Witch will not tell him about such miracles.

It seems that it is almost the same to whom the knowledge feathers are distributed.

"We are different from other teams. In addition to demons, other teams may only have one legendary magician, but we have three people, so we should use our numerical advantage to increase the combat power of the two of you as much as possible." It is very methodical, obviously he has already thought about it before: "In the next action, even if we encounter an accidental separation again, you at least have the capital to act alone, and the probability of us grabbing the remains of the angel will increase."

Igula nodded and stopped talking. Harvey asked, "Is there a clue to find the angel's body this time?"

Ash shook his head, "Gold scales don't have this effect, as for the silver holy grail... Vichy, do you have any clues about the source angel? When the time comes, if you kill the source angel, you might be able to grab a few knowledge feathers, I can allow you Keep it for me for a few days."

"No!" Vichy replied through gritted teeth, "Do you think this will provoke me?"

"Come on, UU reading www.uukanshu.com Vichy, stretch out your hand."

Under Vichy's vigilant gaze, Ash placed the golden scale in her palm, and then she saw soul feathers grow out of her waist again. When she burst into laughter and her eyes gleamed, the feather dissipated again.

"Hahaha, I should take a picture of Vichy, your expression is so interesting! These are the 2 Origin Crystals I spent the most! It's so fun!"

"Axiu, you, you devil! Give it back to me!"

When the master and servant were arguing, Harvey stepped back, motioned for Igula to come over, and asked uncertainly:

"Ash, is he...?"

"Yes." Igula nodded and whispered, "He has shown unprecedented * towards Vichy."

Chapter 850: And still 2

The two of them could see that from the time Vichy entered the door, Ashe had deliberately deceived Vichy's information, and then completely sunk her when Vichy's confidence reached its peak.

And unlike a prank, Ash has a strong desire to win and lose, and enjoys the howl of a defeated dog from Vichy very much.

This kind of thing is normal for Yin Gura, but Ash didn't have such a hobby in the past.

But it is not incomprehensible to everyone. After all, the reason why they have fallen here can be traced back to the trouble that Vichy caused them. In addition, even if Vichy became a prisoner a few days ago, it still caused them a huge mental pressure. Now Yaxiu has the opportunity to revive the main theme, and it is normal to want to take the opportunity to train the maid.

only...

“Could this be the conspiracy of the Ghost Prophet? Is she polluting Ash’s mind?” Harvey asked, “Should we warn him?”

“Well...” The fraudster frowned: “You are on the first floor, but is it possible that Vichy is on the second floor? If Ashe suppresses his sadistic desire, maybe it will become the key for her to capture Ashe? Could the unbearable sadistic desire twist Ashe into a beast that knows only heat?”

“You can be louder, so maybe even Rose upstairs knows that I’m going to become a pervert like you.”

Yaxiu looked back at them with a speechless expression: “I listened to your analysis, and I feel that I am only one step away from opening the harem.”

“I was just * off by Vichy kicking in the door. I won’t bother to bother with her when the weather clears up tomorrow.” Ash glanced at Vichy, who pursed his lips and his eyes were red, and said, “But you are right, I Every thought about her could become a loophole for her to capture me.”

“You have to supervise me more in the future, don’t let me accidentally fall into the abyss.”

“No problem.” Yin Gula readily agreed: “But is the abyss you’re talking about Vichy or a woman? If it’s the latter, then we need to start with An Nan.”

Yaxiu clapped his hands heavily, ignoring the fraudster’s words, and said:

“Vichy, you see, I only gave them two feathers. And because I usually act with Fili, I don’t have a high demand for the seventh virtual wing.”

The maid burped and wiped away her tears, looking at him.

“There are still two feathers here. If we don’t gain anything in the future, then the two will be divided equally by the sword princess and the witch, without your share.” Ash did not hide his preference for his lover at all: “But if we next And get more feathers, and if you act to my satisfaction next...”

“Will you give me back the four knowledge feathers?” Vichy asked expectantly.

Yaxiu raised his eyebrows and silently put away the golden scales. Vichy quickly grabbed his hand: “Three, two, well one! Even give me a feather!”

“Even if it’s a distant promise, I’m actually not very willing to agree.” Ash said: “I understand your danger too well. Give you a little sunshine and you will be brilliant, and give you a chance and you can turn the world upside down.”

Vichy no longer pretended to be well-behaved, raised his head and looked at Ash quietly.

“But still, I’m willing to take all risks to leave here, including you.” Ash said: “For you, the demigod, the gap between going all out or doing your best is simply a world apart. ”

“Of course.” Vichy wiped his nose with the back of his hand and said viciously, “I can even carry out your orders 100% but completely screw it up.”

“Even if it’s just to increase the probability of leaving, I’m willing to loosen the chains of your demon.” Ash said, “Although there is no guarantee, as long as you do your best to help me leave the kingdom of stars, and I have extra money I will give you at least one feather of knowledge as a reward.”

“This deal,” Ash stretched out his hand, “What do you think of the Prophet of Ghosts?”

Vichy looked at him for a while, then reached out and took his hand.

“Let’s call me the devil’s maid...” She said as her eyes turned red again, and she buried herself in Ashe’s thigh and cried so hard that her shoulders trembled, “...I’m no longer worthy of the name Ghost Prophet.”

Yaxiu's mouth twitched: "We're all over the negotiation, why are you pretending to cry? Don't you think I'm stupid enough to believe that a demigod who has lived for at least a thousand years can't control his emotions?"

Ash never believed Vichy's tears from the beginning, and even if Yingula and Harvey didn't warn him, he was calm. In his opinion, Vichy's emotional breakdown was just to cooperate with his anti-kill and face-slap plot, so that he could get a better gaming experience.

However, instead of restraining, Vichy began to cry louder and louder, until Ash's thighs were soaked wet.

When she was out of breath from crying, she said intermittently: "Do you think I think? But I can't control it! I only know the fire-guarding magic spirit, and there is no way to transform the body here. My body is only about twenty years old, and the hormones I secrete have been affecting my brain!"

"My previous race, the Eternal Twilight Elf, was able to regulate my hormones when I was three years old! Even if I recaptured my soul later, at least I started as a sanctuary magician, and I can easily control my body with my soul miracle!"

"But this body is just an ordinary female human, what can I do? I can't control my hormone secretion, I know I should negotiate with you calmly, but I'm so angry that I can't think about more things!"

"And this body is still menstruating, my lower abdomen has been cramping and hurting..." After speaking, Vichy couldn't hold back the tears, sobbing: "I am obviously not afraid of pain, but when it hurts, you are bullied by this guy, I don't know why, I just..."

Ash, Yingula and Harvey looked at each other, their first reaction was that Vichy was lying to them, right?

If they really believed that Vichy had a weakness, would they fall for her conspiracy?

Dealing with the ghost prophet is this trouble, even if she is forbidden to lie, she can't believe the truth at all.

However, the problem Vichy said is very real, and even Ash and the others have the same troubles.

Yaxiu's body was strengthened in the God Fire Trial, but he did not inherit it in the Kingdom of the Stars; Harvey had strengthened his bones through necromancy rituals, but he did not inherit it; Yingula originally had half Veela blood, but he was in the Kingdom of the Stars. He is a pure human, and no one pays the bill for him when he goes to the bar to drink.

An elf demigod like Vichy was downgraded to a mortal woman, and her current situation is like an adult being stuffed into a baby's body. Many things are beyond her control, such as the menstrual cycle.

Ash asked, "What should I do?"

Harvey went straight into the basement and answered Ash with his butt: "None of my business?"

Yin Gula hesitated for a moment, then came over and said, "Your Excellency Vichy, if you're not feeling well, I'll take you to Miss Rose?"

The cheater pulled the maid, but didn't.

Ash looked at Vichy hugging his thighs, helplessly reaching out to stroke Vichy's back, the palm of his hand glowed with the brilliance of a "music sword". Although I don't know if it works or not, he only has this healing miracle.

"feelling better?"

Vichy's trembling shoulders gradually calmed down, she wiped her tears and snot with Ash's trousers, her face looked like a small cat: "It's a strange body, compared to the eased spasms, I hear Be gentle, and the sullen breath in your heart will suddenly clear up."

"I finally calmed down." She took a long breath and sat on the sofa next to her. "Just now, it was like being dominated by demons, and my emotions were completely out of control. Thank you, master."

“Although women are indeed affected by hormones during their menstrual cycle, they are not as difficult to control as you, and you feel that you are a little depressed.” Yingula analyzed: “The incompatibility of the body and the soul, coupled with the heavy workload of career and life Depression is also normal.”

Yaxiu glanced at Yin Gula, and Yin Gula shook her head: “I know she understands, she might as well give herself psychological counseling. And this is related to her luck, as long as you take away her seventh falsehood Wing, she will definitely hold back her breath until she accepts her fate.”

Yaxiu turned to Vichy and said, “I believe you can definitely accept the reality!”

Vichy took a deep breath, but couldn't help gnashing his teeth, “I will never disappoint your trust, Master!”

After wiping his face, Vichy asked casually, “Where's Phili? Why isn't she here?”

“Why do you care about her?” Ash asked.

I'm just a normal inquiry → Ash is very wary of my concern for Fili → Ash thinks I will covet Ferry → There is only one thing I'm coveting now.

In a flash, the maid instantly deduced the truth: “Fili took a sip of the silver chalice before me!”

Yin Gula's face was stunned, and the corners of Yaxiu's mouth twitched.

He didn't need to ask to know that it was his attitude that was exposed.

“You don't have to think about it, she's not a magician, and she doesn't have the seventh virtual wing.” Ash said: “The silver holy grail obtained by other demons should go back to the Lord, but Fili is a demon without a master, and in the end it should be Give it back to the virtual world.”

“But it may also be transmitted to her body!” Vichy said excitedly, biting her fingers: “We’ll find out her body when we return to reality!”

“If you can return to reality, do you think I will allow you to break the law?” Ash sneered: “If you dare to trample the lawn, I will lose.”

Vichy stared straight at Yaxiu, biting her lower lip, her eyes were a little red again: “I didn’t say that she was going to be kidnapped... If she is only a winged magician, can’t we buy it at a price!? I am a dignified demigod. You have such a good attitude, do you have to refute me so harshly? I have a hard time controlling my emotions, I want to pretend that I don’t care! Can you change the subject quickly, I seem to be crying again!”

Ash: “Phili went on a date.”

Vichy immediately suppressed her tear ducts, and she asked in surprise, “Ah, didn’t she cancel that date yet?”

“Why cancel?” Ash blinked: “Wouldn’t it be nice if you could date someone you like?”

“Yeah.” Vichy rubbed his eyes and said with a smile:

“That’s why it has to be cancelled.”

“Miss Feili, am I being rude? You were very unhappy along the way.”

In the dessert shop, Phili, who was distracted, heard Demir’s question, and quickly shook her head: “No, it’s none of your business, it’s just...”

She thought about it and decided to tell the truth: “my friend was injured yesterday, and I’m very worried about him.”

Demir was stunned, and immediately said: “I’m sorry, I trouble you, I’ll take you there now.”

“No.” The blonde girl shook her head and fiddled with the ice cream with a spoon: “I don’t actually have any reason to visit... After all, we are just ordinary friends.”

Demir said, “But you’re not content to be just an ordinary friend?”

Fili was silent for a moment, then suddenly stood up and bowed in apology: “I’m sorry, the reason why Ash will ask you out for me is because he thinks I like you... Actually, I don’t think that, I have always admired Senior Demir very much in the past.”

“I’m sorry to disappoint you.” Demir smiled bitterly.

“No, no, senior Demir is still the perfect senior in my mind.” Fili shook her head quickly: “Just, just...”

“Sit down first.” Demir said helplessly, “Everyone is watching.”

Only then did Feili realize that she was surrounded by passersby, and she sat down with a blushing face. As soon as she picked up the teacup, she was frightened by Demir, “Since you like Mr. Heath, why don’t you accompany him? Take care of him by his side and express his feelings?”

“Why did you know, senior!?”

Looking at the shocked Fili, Demir thought that Leah was right, this junior didn’t know how cute she was. It’s amazing to say that he thought he would regret the loss of an admirer, but after meeting Fili, he sincerely wished the junior girl’s relationship, and even worried about her, just like seeing someone about to jump into a fire pit. family.

“Are you afraid that Mr. Heath is just toying with you, so you dare not confess?” Demir asked seriously, “After all, a successful person like him...”

“No, Ash won’t play with me.” Fili looked down at the button on her chest and said softly, “Because he mentioned more than once that he has someone he likes.”

She took a deep breath, feeling a little aggrieved for some reason: "And it's still two!"
