

Chapter 846

The words seemed to have deeply irritated Gu Si Qian.

His eyes darkened at once, and a touch of birds of prey surfaced.

"Joe, I thought you'd understand me if I told you about this, but do even you think of me that way? You think I'll be looked down upon for doing this? Even you despise it?"

Bella Qiao replied, "Yes, I despise you, the former Gu Siqian, even though he had a lot of castle in his heart, he was probably still an open and honest person, and although business is all about Ergonomics, he never used women to calculate people's hearts."

"But now, you would actually break your own principles and even go so far as to send Yusra Lin there just because you want to deal with a Nan Mu Rong, Gu Si Qian, do you still have a heart? Do you think that all the people who are true to you, their hearts are worthless and can be trashed by you at will? You're just so disappointing to me!"

Gu Si Qian's face, inch by inch, went cold.

He looked at Georgie as if he were looking at a stranger he never knew.

The body also stood up slowly, moving away from her little by little.

It took half a moment before he said, in a voice hoarse to the point of being hoarse, "So that's what I was like in your mind?"

Bella Qiao looked into his eyes that hinted at pain and was actually in pain.

She didn't know what it was that would make the once that Gu Siqian become what he was today.

She wasn't Sacred Heart, and it wasn't like she hadn't seen business succeed on the backs of women.

In the past, when others did it, she was fine with it, but when it was Gu Siqian's turn to do it, she just couldn't stop feeling bad in her heart.

Probably because, in her mind, he was always different from the others.

He appears to be in the mud, but in reality, his inner light is full of light.

He would never do anything that offensive.

For example, taking advantage of a woman's feelings for him while trying to accomplish something.

That's not something he would go for.

That's why Georgie was so upset when she found out about it.

At this point, she was a little tired.

She said to Gu Siqian, "I don't know about you, but I really don't agree with the fact that you want to use Yusra Lin to bring down Nan Murong, isn't there any other way, Gu Siqian? Do we have to use her?"

Gu Si Qian said in a deep voice, "I've already asked Nan Muyong to meet her."

Bella Qiao instantly understood.

Having seen it, it means that the person has gotten into Nan Muyong's eyes.

With his obsession with his deceased wife so deep, there was no way he would let go of the woman in front of him who looked exactly like his deceased wife.

Therefore, even if he knew that this was a trap set for him by Gu Siqian, he would not hesitate to jump into it.

It's Koo Siken!

It had to be said that this scheme, though disgraceful for Bella Qiao, was indeed the best plan, wasn't it?

Bella Qiao couldn't tell what she was feeling at this point, she just shook her head and said, "In that case, that's your business, since you've already decided there's no point in me saying anything, Gu Siqian, in the future, you don't need to tell me such things, I'm not interested in listening."

After saying that, he turned to leave.

Gu Si Qian's eyes were somewhat dark as he watched her back.

"So you're not agreeing to get back together?"

Bella Qiao's movement paused there.

She turned her back on him, her heart swelling with millions of strands of dense, complex and bitter emotions.

Sound in the air.

The open hallway was like a misty wind.

"It's over, you're no longer the same person you were four years ago, and I'm no longer the same person I was four years ago today, so what's the point of getting back together if you're no longer the same person you were? Boss Gu is a wise man with his own big plans, and I'm just a foolish man who doesn't deserve to stand with you, so please don't set your heart on me in the future either."

Finish and leave in a hurry.

Gu Si Qian's face was gloomy as water.

It was only after a half a bell that he slammed the door shut and went into the house.

The others in the castle soon realized that something was wrong.

The two people who had already gotten along, for some reason, the atmosphere between them had changed since Young Master Lin had visited today.

What started out as a close and amiable relationship has turned into a rattling one.

What's going on here?

Everyone was a little confused, especially at dinner, but the two people who had been sitting together at lunch were even sitting on each side this time.

One sat at the head of the table and one at the end, with a dozen seats between them, embarrassing the few maids who set up the dishes to death.

In the end, it was at Gu Siqian's order that those people placed the dishes that Bella Qiao loved to eat on her side.

Bella Qiao did not refuse, but the expression on her face was still not too good.

After a few hasty bites, I left the dishes and went back to my room.

Kusken looked at the few dishes she hadn't touched much at all, his eyes dark.

And Yusra Lin, who had been sitting beside her, also noticed that something was wrong between the two of them and asked in a low voice, "Si Qian, did something happen between you?"

Kusken didn't even look at her, or even answer.

Finish your meal and leave too.

Yusra Lin was suddenly the only person left in the restaurant.

She didn't care if she was given a cold face by Gu Si Qian, she shrugged her shoulders indifferently and continued eating.

After dinner, this was back in the secondary building.

The next day, when Bella Qiao woke up, she heard that Gu Si Qian had indeed gone out with Yusra Lin.

She knew that he was taking her to Nan Muyong.

I can't tell you what it feels like in my heart.

She knew that as long as it was something that Gu Si Qian decided, then no one could change it.

So, she never expects that her words will change his decision.

But why, looking at him resolutely leaving with Yusra Lin like that, I still couldn't stop feeling disappointed and sad?

Bella Qiao knew that she was by no means a soft-hearted Madonna, and she definitely couldn't say that she liked her when Yusra Lin found herself in trouble three or four times.

But she was sympathetic.

Yes, sympathy.

Also as a woman, she knows that women have endured so much bullying and injustice in this world that they should not have to endure.

Even if it was someone who was always bothering her, even if Yusra Lin's own feelings for Gu Siqian were not clean.

But is that why she has to be handed away as a bargaining chip in exchange for benefits?

She is a living person, not a tool to be thrown around.

Why is it that Gu Si Qian never bothered to do such a thing before, but still does it now?

And maybe, a little more.

That is, Bella Qiao saw herself in Yusra Lin's body.

At first, she loved Gu Si Qian so much, believed in him, loved him deeply, and had pure and sincere feelings for him.

Chapter 847

If there came a time in the future when he needed to use her to achieve his own goals, would he use himself the same way he used Yusra Lin?

A man, in some respects, once the principle has been broken once, it will be broken a second time, followed by countless others.

She didn't dare to imagine it, and she didn't want to.

Bella Qiao's feelings were so complicated that she didn't eat much lunch.

It wasn't that she hadn't thought about going to stop Gu Si Qian.

But let's not say that Yusra Lin is volunteering, people may not appreciate this if she goes over like this, let's say that she can't enter the Nan Clan's banquet without an invitation.

So, in the end, Bella Qiao gave up on this option.

After lunch, she sought out Lindsong and talked to him.

When Lin Song arrived, she was sitting on the back porch of the courtyard drinking tea.

Seeing him, she beckoned to him, "Come here and try the new tea I've made."

Lin Song came over with a smile and was not rude, sitting down and taking a taste of the glass she poured for herself.

"Good, you're still so good at it."

Bella Qiao smiled slightly.

Because she really couldn't figure out why Gu Siqian had become like this, that's why Bella Qiao had come to Lin Song and wanted to ask for clarification.

She had been in prison for the past four years, and knew very little about the changes and experiences of Gu Siqian over the past four years.

But Lin Song was different.

Although the Lin family was a serious business family, unlike the Gu family.

But Lin Song and Gu Siqian, who grew up wearing the same trousers, can be said to be hardcore brothers is not an exaggeration.

This time, Gu Siqian would make this decision, and she didn't believe that Lin Song would be completely unaware of it.

Her eyes darkened at the thought.

Lin Song also knew that Gu Siqian wasn't even home today, so she wouldn't have specifically asked someone to call him here if there wasn't something going on.

So, after finishing his tea, he didn't beat around the bush and got straight to the point, "Tell me what you want to know."

Bella Qiao looked at him with a serious face, "Do you know what I called you here to ask?"

Lin Song laughed without a care in the world.

"You and Siken are of the same s*x, both of you are of the type of people who have nothing to do with anything, so you couldn't have called me over at this time if there wasn't something going on."

He paused and guessed, "Is it about Siken?"

Bella Qiao didn't hide anything and nodded directly.

Lin Song's look was suddenly serious.

He thought about it and sighed.

"You can make it difficult for me like this, you said one of you is my brother and the other is my friend, you're really asking something that I'm not convenient to say, am I going to say it or not, are you going to say it or not all offend people?"

Unexpectedly, when Bella Qiao heard this, not only did she not back down, but she smiled slightly.

"So, he does have something to hide from me?"

Lin Song was startled.

For a moment, react and laugh.

Pointing at Bella Qiao, he shook his head and laughed, "You ah, still so smart, people didn't even say anything, you can find out the answer you want from between the lines."

He paused before he put on a serious look again and said, "Is there something wrong between you and Siken?"

Georgie thought about it.

She felt that there were things she couldn't hide from Lin Song if she wanted to get anything out of him.

So he stopped beating around the bush and directly told him about Yusra Lin.

Lin Song didn't look surprised after hearing that.

Bella Qiao would know, and it seemed that he really did know about this already.

Neither man was silent for a moment.

Bella Qiao was silent because she was waiting for Lin Song's answer.

The reason for Lin Song's silence, however, was that he was considering whether or not to tell Bella Qiao the truth, or rather, in what way that truth should be told.

It took him half a moment before he seemed to make a decision.

In the end, there was no way to hide this from Bella Qiao.

So, sooner or later, it's all said and done.

So he stopped hesitating, sighed, and said, "Okay, since you want to know, I'll tell you, but after I tell you, you should think about it yourself, so don't let the relationship between the two of you be completely broken because of one of your own caprices."

Georgie didn't pick up on that, neither good nor bad.

Just say, "Tell me about it first."

When Lin Song saw it, he knew that she naturally had her own ideas and it wasn't up to him to say it.

There was no choice but to speak up.

It's actually quite simple.

Four years ago, there was a battle between the Vermilion Bird Society and the Dragon Corps, and the Vermilion Bird Society has since disappeared from the streets, appearing on the surface as if the Dragon Corps had won a great victory.

But in reality, the Dragon Corps had also been hit hard like never before, and it would not be an exaggeration to describe it as a tragic victory.

It was thought that with this battle over, we could all settle down and recuperate.

But unexpectedly, the dragon group was soon attacked by a group of inexplicable people.

This group of people is very powerful and fierce, if it was in the past, of course the Dragon Mission would not be afraid, but now the Dragon Mission has been seriously injured and can no longer withstand the slightest storm.

But the other side apparently just saw that they were so wounded at this point that there was no room for manoeuvre.

In the end, the dragon group was made to break apart.

Although under Gu Si Qian's guidance, he was able to stabilize the remaining forces, but because of the war, the Dragon Corps had not really recovered its energy until now.

And who is Gu Siqian?

It's a guy who never wants to take a dumb loss.

He had secretly discovered that what had happened before had been guided.

So they kept sending people to secretly investigate, and in the end, it came down to the Southern family.

It's just that nothing much is known about this yet, and he's not sure himself, but the Nan's have been eroding very badly lately for the Gu's territory.

If he doesn't do something to fight back, there's really no way out.

Even if he didn't think for himself, he had to think for the thousands of brothers who followed him.

So, it was imperative to take down the Souths.

At this point, Lin Song sighed again.

Looking at Bella Qiao, he said in a deep voice, "For the past four years, I know you've had a difficult life, but it's equally difficult for Si Qian, who has to guard against assassinations from all sides and also take care of business with great effort.

The Nan Clan was not as simple as it seemed, and it could even be said that they were even more low-profile and powerful than the famous Zijin Clan, and while the Dragon Corps still had power, along with a Chinese Gu Family, these forces, which were shallow rooted, were nothing compared to the Nan Clan, which had a thousand years of history.

Joe, have you ever seen one of those hundred-year-old trees? On the surface, you see that it's just an ordinary, at most slightly sturdier tree than the others, but then a wind blows in and you realize that all the other trees have fallen and it's still there.

Chapter 848

You only see its trunk exposed on the surface of the land, but you don't see how deep, dense, and long its roots are buried in the ground. And now, if you want to shake the tree, you're going to have to have more strength than a strong wind, but do you? None.

I can say that in this world, no one can shake him unless the Chinese will join forces with the Zijin family and the Dragon Corps, but is it possible to get these forces to join forces?

Impossible, isn't it? A small dragon group was like a mole in front of the Nan Clan.

It's not impossible to shake a tree, it just takes planning and timing. Right now is a very important and rare time, and it might just be possible to achieve half the results with twice the effort, not to mention Si Qian, it would be impossible for anyone else to give up this opportunity."

Bella Qiao fell silent after hearing this.

She didn't know that Gu Si Qian would have such a premise when making this decision.

Why didn't he tell himself?

He knew full well that she would understand and support him if he told her how much he was suffering.

Let her know that he wasn't the kind of person she thought he was, who would do anything to achieve his interests and didn't even want his principles.

It's just a desperate decision to have to do that in order to save yourself when you're forced to retreat to the point of no return.

Why not?

Seemingly seeing the movement in her look, Lin Song added, "Actually, you don't know what Yusra Lin is up to anymore, but she still agreed to it, why?"

Georgie looked up at him.

Lin Song laughed to herself, "Perhaps you would think that it's because of her love for Si Qian, that love can make a woman lose herself and do things she would never have done before, but Qiao, that's you, not Yusra Lin."

Bella Qiao shook hard.

The smile on Lin Song's face became a little bitter.

"Joe, you may seem cold, but you're actually mercurial, and in your heart, love is bigger than the sky, but in some people's eyes, a so-called relationship is nothing more than a decision made in the best interest of oneself after weighing the pros and cons."

"Admittedly, Yusra Lin may have liked Si Qian and her feelings for him were genuine, but she was never willing to agree because she was forced to because she had no other choice."

"Before, when Si Qian brought this matter up to her, I also know that Si Qian only said that he wouldn't let Yusra Lin stay with him because he already had someone he liked in his heart, and that there were two ways to give Yusra Lin now: either send her back to China and let her take her own future path, or, go to Nan Muyong's side."

"Guess what she said?"

Bella Qiao was startled, her eyes showing a hint of bewilderment.

Lin Song sneered, "She chose Nan Murong."

Bella Qiao frowned, "Why?She's not..."

"She likes Siken, doesn't she?Why would you want to go to another man, knowing what that man, would do to her."

Lin Song shook his head, "I told you, not everyone is like you, they see love as bigger than the sky, she may be in love with Si Qian, but now, there is no hope for Si Qian here, he said that he won't like her and won't keep her by his side, if that's the case, why don't you find yourself a choice that is best for you?Although Nan Murong is a bit older, but in terms of family background and appearance, which one of them can be matched by her Yusra Lin?"

Bella Qiao shook hard.

I have to say, via

After this analysis by Lin Song, she realized that she had been too naive.

The beliefs that you have been dead-set on, turned out to be really that worthless to some people.

Her heart couldn't help but feel a little complicated at the moment, thinking of the words she had said to Gu Siqian yesterday, and feeling grief again.

Linzon had finished what he wanted to say, and when he saw her look, he knew she had listened.

His eyes deepened, and finally he sighed and stood up.

Look at her and say quietly, "Joe, I wasn't supposed to say this, but seeing how you're always so divided, I couldn't help but say it."

He paused until Bella Qiao looked up at him, then said, "You are all characters who lick blood from a knife's edge, living and dying, living today without knowing what will happen tomorrow, if you really have each other in your heart, why not leave aside those prejudices and misunderstandings and have a good time together?In this world, how many people who love each other are separated for various reasons and only regret it until they die of old age, and you, who have grown up together since childhood, should reasonably be the people who know each other best, so why should you let such a misunderstanding happen between you?"

Bella Qiao was startled, and for some reason, her eyes suddenly grew hot.

Lin Song finished without lingering and said, "Think about it."

Then, they turned away.

After Lin Song left, Bella Qiao didn't move and remained sitting in the cloister.

She thought about it for a long, long time.

It was as if a door of time had opened before my eyes, and the whistling wind carried the memories with it.

It was as if she had seen the bright young man standing in front of her a long time ago, smiling.

She thought to herself, Yeah, I know him best.

Why, we are what we are today.

Shouldn't we be the two most closely related people in this world, we should hand in hand through all the difficulties and sufferings, we should have no qualms about trusting each other, why should we let the thorns on our bodies stab each other like this?

Bella Qiao raised her hands and covered her face, tears falling from her eyes.

Kuskan was returning at night.

When I came back, I found the room on the first floor where Bella Qiao was, the light was still on, and I couldn't help but take a step.

He lifted the watch on his wrist and looked at the time, it was eleven o'clock at night.

Usually at this time of year, she'd be long asleep, so why wasn't she asleep today?

Is it because you're still mad at him?

Angry that he didn't listen to his own advice, he had already told him so much, but still took it upon himself to take Yusra Lin to that wedding.

Thinking of this, Gu Si Qian laughed to himself.

She, ah, is always like that, being in the filthiest of circles, and yet keeping that side of her heart so pure that no one can bear to get involved.

Just as well, since she's angry, she'll avoid her.

At any rate, let her get past the anger of the last few days.

Thinking so, he eased his steps and walked slowly upstairs.

However, only halfway there, it suddenly stopped.

When I looked up, I saw a familiar, tiny figure above me, waiting there.

She sat in the wheelchair and looked at him deeply like that, just a glance made Gu Siqian's heart jump as if he was momentarily out of place.