

My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 851

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 851--The crowd was less suspicious when they thought of Waverly. Anthony had a point: He was engaged to Waverly, and he could not have messed around.

Furthermore, Waverly was the wealthy heiress from Kansas, and however powerful Charmine was, she could not compete with a royal family. It seemed unlikely for Anthony to have anything to do with Charmine.

Those who were waiting snapped out of their daze as they yelled at Anthony, "What are you doing here? Go away! We don't want to cause you any problem, we're only targeting Charmine Jordan!"

"This woman doesn't know how to run a company. She didn't manage it well, and that's why my husband died. She must kneel to apologize!"

"We won't take however much money she's offering. She must get on her knees to apologize! One life for another!"

Everyone scowled at her.

Anthony's already cold eyes became even more distant. "However much she's paying you, I'll pay you double."

The cries and wails instantly halted.

What did he say...?

Double?

They were accusing Charmine, yet Anthony was speaking this way? Did he know something?

Some of the women came for money. A person told them if they make a scene, they would be rewarded with a million bucks, and double that would be two million bucks!

Most of them were tempted, but someone still stayed calm and said, “Sir, I don’t understand what you’re talking about. We only want to pay tribute to our husbands-we want justice for them! No matter how much you’re paying US, we won’t take it. Please don’t insult us!”

“Yeah, we don’t want money! We don’t want the money!”

A kid was pushed by a woman and started wailing, “Waa... I want Daddy, I want Daddy...!”

His cry invoked the tears of the other children present, and just like that, the scene was filled with whimpers.

warmth nor sympathy.

He instructed Luke, “Bring them to the funeral parlor by force. The people they wanted are in there; they should be sent to cry at the funeral parlor.”

“Yes, Sir!”

Instantly, Luke led the bodyguards forward and they emotionlessly pulled everyone away.

The women were yelling, "Let go of us! Let go of us!"

"Look, everyone! The Jordan Group is using force on us! They're attacking harmless women like us!"

"Do you not have sympathy toward the children? They're so young!"

Had it been anyone else, even if the Jordan Group did such a thing, they would be scrutinized.

However, it was Anthony.

Everyone watched silently, tongue kept in check.

Even those who were livestreaming the scene were forced to shut down their phones.

All the reporters were too intimidated to shoot nor make a sound.

The women were dragged into the cars as they used their children to beg for sympathy.

Luke maintained his cold front. "None of you are caring for your children. You're using them for your own benefits, yet you expect the others to have sympathy for you? If you want to moan, go to the dead men!"

Luke enforced his President's order!

Everyone was so terrified to speak up. Each of them was forced into the car and was sent away.

Anthony looked at Charmine. "Follow me, I need to discuss a matter with you."

With that said, he walked toward his luxurious car.

Charmine frowned. Follow him to his car?

In front of so many people...?

However, if she did not follow him, everyone would think she was hiding something.

Still, they did have to discuss this matter.

She put on a formal attitude as she followed him to the car.

Still shocked at how cold heartless Anthony was, his bodyguards leaned toward them and gave them a strict warning. Nobody dared to take the photos nor speak up at all.

They could only stare as the car drove away.

Inside the car, once Charmine settled in her seat, Anthony grabbed her wrist and pulled her closer.

Caught off-guard, Charmine fell into his arms, her body tightly held in his embrace.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 852- Anthony looked at Charmine with his stern gaze. "Didn't I ask you to wait for me while I sort it out?"

Why did you put yourself in danger?"

How would those women back there let her off easy had he not made it in time?

Charmine matched his gaze with her own. "I can hide away, even if you didn't show up. I can handle it."

“What do you take your husband for? Decoration?” Anthony scoffed coldly, his face showing how displeased he was.

Charmine could feel the bitterness all over him. She decided to sit up straight on his lap and resolutely responded, “I can sort out the company matter. I only need you to make sure the Bailey family isn’t overdoing things.”

Especially when it involved lives.

The Baileys had ruined so many families!

Pupils darkened, Anthony replied, “I’ve already chased Susan out of the board, and her shares are being confiscated.” 3

Charmine frowned. So soon?

Susan only owned 10 percent of the shares, worth at least a few billions.

Within a day, a few billion vanished and she was kicked out of the board with no power left...

Anthony’s large hand clasped at her waist. “Be good, and stay at home. I’ll arrange for men to take care of your company matters.”

These people were overwhelmed with fury, so much so they might harm her.

However, Charmine rejected, “No need. What you did today was enough for someone to get suspicious. If you arrange for someone to enter my company, what would everyone think?” 1

No one was dumb. Adding up everything in a sequence, someone would eventually figure out the truth.

Furthermore...

“If I can’t even solve a small matter like this, how am I supposed to take over the entire Bailey family with you in the future?” Charmine questioned confidently.

Anthony studied her hard-as-diamond gaze. It seemed that whatever it was, she was always so unruffled.

Moreover, she talked about the future. She thought about spending her future with him.

Anthony failed to fight back the loving smile that crept on his face.

Charmine thought of her plan and looked at him. “Oh, right. The things I do following this will ruin your mother’s reputation. Do you mind?” 1 “Go ahead, don’t hold back,” replied Anthony without hesitation.

His low voice was steady like a mountain, always providing her with powerful support. 2

Charmine’s red lips curled up with satisfaction.

Meanwhile, the car pulled over by Violet Residence.

It was in front of Anthony’s villa.

Many reporters were taking photos in the surrounding area, waiting to interview

Anthony on what he said about Waverly lying.

Charmine was shocked. “Anthony, you’re bringing me back in front of everyone?”

“Of course, my collaborator.” Anthony’s lips curled as he walked out of the car elegantly.

By then, Luke had opened the door for Charmine as he stood by the side politely.

Charmine was speechless...

This man was so brazen to risk it all!

Was he not afraid of being exposed in front of so many people? 3

Alas, she could not back out anymore.

Looking around the car, she spotted some documents which she instantly picked up before walking out of the car.

Dressed in a long suit with an open collar, she looked like a capable businesswoman. Along with the documents in her arms, she looked like someone who came for business.

Stunned at the sight of Charmine, the reporters instantly took photos from where they hid.

Hearing a dull noise outside, Waverly opened the door to the villa in an attempt to create the image of a gentle woman at home, happily welcoming Anthony.

Little did she expect to see Charmine with him when the door opened, side by side.

Her eyelids jumped. “Anthony, you two...”

Were they trying to expose themselves?!

Before she could finish her question, Anthony cut her short, “Ms. Jordan and I have some business matters to discuss. Go prepare two cups of coffee.”

Waverly’s face turned green. He asked her to make coffee for them?

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 853- Anthony actually asked her, the elegant Waverly, to make them coffee? He treated her like a maid!

“What? Why does the hostess seem so unwelcoming?” questioned Charmine somewhat condescending.

Waverly wanted to yell at her, but she had no way to; too many people were taking photos in the dark. “Of course I welcome you,” she lied.

With that, Waverly held back her anger as she welcomed Anthony and Charmine inside the villa.

Once the door was closed, the smile on Waverly’s face stiffened.

“Anthony, Charmine, is it meaningful to play me like this?”

“How can you call this a play? Don’t you like being the hostess? Isn’t it kind of us to satisfy you?”

scoffed Charmine.

Waverly was utterly livid.

How was this being a hostess? They were intentionally upsetting her!

She thought by living under the same roof as Anthony, they could develop some feelings. It seemed more like a self-induced punishment instead!

However, she was unwilling to leave. She would not let Charmine and Anthony win!

She walked over and opened the curtains, prepared two cups of coffee, and placed them on the coffee table.

“Ms. Jordan, please have a seat.”

The other cup of coffee was placed by the side. As the guest, Charmine could only sit by the side.

The curtains were opened with many reporters outside. How would they be able to sit together? How would they show off their love in front of her?

Unruffled, Charmine walked over and sat down by the side.

Waverly’s red lips curled up with satisfaction. So what if Charmine was arrogant? Charmine would have to let her!

Once Charmine sat by the side, she would be able to sit on the host seats with Anthony. On the long sofa, she would be able to cling to Anthony.

With that image in mind, her eyes were filled with delight.

All of a sudden...

Instead of sitting on the host’s seat, Anthony went to sit opposite

Charmine. 1

Opposite to her was a single sofa as well.

The two sat on two ends of the coffee table, treating the table as a long rectangular meeting table as they sat opposite to one another.

Waverly, meanwhile, was stunned on the spot, the expression on her face stiffened.

She had to sit on the main seat alone, on the long sofa?

Damn it! How could they rub it on her face?!

Unable to hold back her anger, Waverly reached out and pulled up the curtains.

She did not want anyone to capture the shot of her sitting alone!

With the curtains closed shut, Waverly no longer had to act as she walked away, into her bedroom.

She must hold it in. She must hold it until Susan made Charmine leave!

Charmine looked at her retreating form, her red lips curled up mockingly.

How was she not embarrassed to act?

Charmine had yet to do anything, yet she ran away already?

Anthony watched Charmine's faint expression. He stood up and lifted his arm. "Come over, time to have a nap upstairs."

Charmine stood up and clung to Anthony's arm as they walked upstairs.

The two looked like a newlywed couple, very loving.

Waverly was about to close the door when she happened to see them both.

She was the one Anthony was engaged to, yet she was rendered to be the third person! 6

Her hand on the door handle clenched tightly.

Ridiculous. She could go insane with this much ridiculousness!

After closing the door, she phoned Max, “Brother, did you see the news? It’s time for US to give it a push.”

“Alright, I’ll make the arrangements.” Max agreed, walking to the computer and started working on it.

His eyes were filled with deep hatred.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 854-At night...

News of [Divine Bird Site Thirteen Dead!] was sent out. With Max backing it, the news made it to the headlines of many countries, damaging the Divine Bird Project’s development in other countries.

The Divine Bird, with that, was dubbed ‘the haunted house’.

Furthermore, the news, [Anthony Discussing Business With Charmine Overnight] was sent out.

Many people realized how severe the matter was.

Two moguls discussing such matters overnight. How could it not be a big deal?

Everyone was antsy for the follow-up on this matter as news after news came u

Inside the room, Chris asked Charmine, “Mommy, Mommy, do you have a plan for this? How should we fix this?”

“Go and sleep, Momo. You’ll know tomorrow,” Charmine comforted him.

Chris was not content with just that. “No! If you don’t tell me. I’ll get so worried that I can’t fall asleep.

I won't be able to go to school tomorrow.”

“Ah, look at you...” Charmine had no choice but to put it in two simple sentences.

“It was actually your grandmother who planned all these. They didn't die from an accident-they volunteered to die.” 1

“Volunteered to die?” Chris was baffled.

Charmine then continued, “When I went to inspect the site this morning, I noticed many workers looking at me with guilt. After the incident, Kay and his men investigated it and found that many of them searched online for the compensation amount of their accidental death insurance in the last two days. If it wasn't an accident, they didn't die for nothing. I'll find the families at two to three in the morning. I'll make sure they admit and stop making a scene.” 1

As long as the families stopped making a scene at the site, the matter would cool down gradually. Furthermore, if it was voluntary death and the workers were accused of ripping off compensation from the insurance company, the matter would only worsen.

Chris said happily, “Mommy is clever!”

Outside the room...

Waverly walked up the stairs to retrieve her items and, as the door to the room was not closed entirely, she happened to overhear their plan.

Charmine actually thought of this to turn things over? 1

Not on her watch.

She instantly went downstairs and closed the door, calling Susan right away.

“Auntie, may I ask if you had things to do with the thirteen deaths?”

On the other end of the call, Susan halted. Even Waverly figured out?

“Auntie, you don’t have to hide it from me. I know you were forcing Charmine to back out, and I won’t blame you.” Waverly’s tone was gentle and comforting as she continued, “The reason I called is to tell you that Charmine knew about it.

She’s going to the families by this morning to convince them to stop making a scene. It seems... It seems that she’s ready to attack you. Do be careful.”

Susan frowned.

It was bad enough Anthony took her shares, yet Charmine wanted to attack her already, wanting to turn the tides?

Susan had put in so much effort and incurred so much loss. There was no way Charmine could turn things over!

‘Thank you for letting me know, Waverly. I’ll make arrangements right away.’”

Once she hung up, Susan took out her phone and instructed an assistant, “Keep a close eye on the funeral parlor. Do not let Charmine get close to any of the families. Furthermore, warn the families, and top up the amount!”

“Yes, Madam.”

The night was as dark as ink.

She asked, “How was it? Have you succeeded?”

“Sorry, but he’s caught.”

A cold voice came from the speaker of her phone.

This voice...

This voice belonged to Charmine!

Susan’s eyelids jumped abruptly.

“Charmine!?”

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 855-“Don’t be shocked. I arranged for your favorite daughter-in-law to call you,” said Charmine calmly. 2

Susan instantly understood. Waverly took the bait!

How could Waverly be so dumb?!

She gritted her teeth. “What do you want, Charmine?”

“Your henchman is now with me. Do you think I can make him sell you out?” Charmine laid back on the sofa languidly.

In front of her was a man tied up, on his knees.

Susan’s eyelids jumped abruptly.

Although the man was loyal, Susan knew how capable Charmine was. She threatened, “Are you sure you want to go against me, Charmine? I’ll hate you even more if you do this!” 1

“Would you like me if I don’t? Will you approve of Anthony and I being together?” retorted Charmine.

Susan fell silent instantly.

Of course not! No matter what happened, she would never accept Charmine!

Charmine said slowly and unhurriedly, “Since you’re Anthony’s mother, I’ll give you two choices: Firstly, stand out and admit everything. Secondly, I’ll accept your henchman as your scapegoat, but you’ll have to tweet, ‘How could Waverly be so stupid?!”

Susan’s eyelids jumped abruptly. She wanted her to publicly shame Waverly?

Anthony already publicly shamed Waverly during the live broadcast, and Charmine wanted her to do it next?

The D’Cruz family might attack the Baileys!

She scowled angrily, “You’re pushing it, Charmine. I won’t accept this!”

“Alright, I’ll make him sell you out then. I’m sure the news of Mrs. Bailey harming thirteen lives can make it to the headlines!” teased Charmine as she was about to hang up the phone.

Susan gritted his teeth. A person like Charmine would actually do that!

‘Wait!’ Susan stopped her. “I’ll post it! You’d do well to remember, Charmine, that I’ll remember this. Don’t you ever think of marrying into the Bailey family!”

With that, she hung up the call.

Charmine was unfazed. Hah! She had faced numerous threats from a young age, so much so she got used to it. Furthermore, she did not want to marry into the Bailey family-she only wanted to marry Anthony! 5

Inside the villa...

Waverly was unable to fall asleep as she waited for the call, waited for the news on Charmine's plan failing. 1

Susan would thank her and would like her even more!

Little did she expect...

Susan phoned her and said, "I'm sorry, Waverly, but my henchman is with Charmine. She wanted me to make a tweet in order to let him off, saying how can you be so stupid."

Waverly's eyelids jumped. "You agreed?"

"I don't have a choice. If I don't agree, Charmine won't let US off the hook. I can't have anything to do with the thirteen lives involved. I've wronged you this time; it's on me," said Susan apologetically.

Waverly was infuriated. "How could you do this? People are still coming for me after what Anthony had said about me, and my reputation is at stake. If you tweet this, what would others think of me?"

"I don't have a choice! What else can I do?" Susan was very angry. She was already not in a good mood, and with Waverly running her mouth, she grumbled, “If you didn’t pass that on to me, Charmine wouldn’t have gotten my henchman. I don’t have a choice now. That’s it for now, I’ll make it up to you in the future and kick Charmine out.”

With that said, Susan hung up instantly.

Waverly clenched her fists tightly

Damn it! Susan shifted the blame to her?

She actually listened to Charmine and would publicly shame her?

She would have to embarrass herself in public...to be negatively spoken of by the netizens...!

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 856-That night...

Susan had no choice but to tweet,

[How could Waverly be so dumb?! What an idiot!] 1

Her account was verified as a wealthy lady, so many people knew her identity.

Once she made the tweet, it only took a moment before comments appeared:

[Waverly?]

[How did Waverly offend her mother-in-law?]

[I thought Susan Bailey used to like her. She even looked after her on their engagement day. What happened behind the scenes that Waverly did to offend Susan so badly?]

[She looks like a nice woman. Why would she lie and be called dumb?]

[Waverly was caught lying, and now she was publicly called dumb? This wouldn’t happen for no reason, and I suspect that she has a flawed personality!]

Many people were speculating for entertainment. Waverly was wrongly accused of having a 'flawed personality'. 2

Waverly nearly went ballistic.

Throughout the night, Waverly's phone was bombarded with calls from Max, Fredrick, and the rest, asking for explanations.

While she hated Susan for this, she was to be her mother-in-law, and it was indeed her fault from the start. She had no choice but to hold back her anger to calm the others.

How frustrating!

At the funeral parlor...

All of the women with their children were watching outside the morgue.

Under Anthony's control, this was the only place they could wail and mourn.

At 2am, Charmine walked down the long corridor.

When the crowd saw her, they instantly scowled at her loudly, "What are you doing here? You broke families after families! Go away! Get lost!"

Overridden with their emotions, everyone hated her with a burning passion. 1

They hated Charmine for killing their husbands. They hated Charmine for using force to stop them from making a scene.

When Charmine saw them, she calmly waved.

The man in black shirt had been thoroughly beaten up by Charmine, he had no choice but to walk forward and explained, 'They didn't die in an accident. I bribed them, and they died voluntarily.'

"What...? What?" The crowd was shocked.

The man in black shirt continued, "I'm an enemy of Charmine, and I've hated her for a long time. I want to ruin her site, so in my effort, I handpicked all of your husbands. Every family here was in great difficulty with huge amounts of loans, and your men have toiled day and night with burdens weighing them down. I merely suggested to them that if they died, other than the accidental insurance claim, I'll pay each of you two million bucks. They agreed. If you don't believe me, you may watch this footage." 1

He showed the screen of the tablet to the crowd.

On the screen, he brought the men to an alley to talk things out. There was a final scene.

Although the thirteen workers looked as if they were busy with their own work, they were actually walking to a spot below the tower crane. Each of them had been prepared for their deaths.

The families watched with tears running down their cheeks.

They never knew...and it was only after the incident that they were told to make a scene to gain a million bucks.

Everyone thought that their husbands' deaths were caused by the accident due to their work, which was why they went ahead to cause a ruckus.

However, they faced the truth that their loved ones died voluntarily...only to gain more money for them. It had nothing to do with Charmine or the Jordan Group...

Charmine spent the entire night sorting it out. The next morning, she hosted a press conference to explain everything to the world.

She published the shift timing of each worker, and every worker would only work eight hours. They would not be subjected to any 'additional weights and burdens'.

She even published the footage of last night and pressed charges against the man in black in front of everyone.

The wives of the dead workers apologized to Charmine and the Jordan Group.

Everything was set up by the man in black; it was not an accident.

This went viral.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 857-So that was the truth.

The Jordan Group was wrongly accused! 1

The scrutiny against the Jordan Group online stopped completely. Many netizens even spoke up for the Jordan Group, sympathizing with how unfairly they were treated.

Apart from that, everyone was so into talking about how the workers killed themselves for insurance money that they abandoned the 'haunted' Divine Bird topic.

The tables have turned.

Satisfied with the outcome, Charmine could finally go home and sleep after sorting it out overnight.

Car parked at the company's backdoor, Anthony waited inside, and as she got into the car, Anthony handed a warm yellow cute kitten mug to her.

The adorable cartoon kitten could melt one's heart.

Charmine opened the lid and took a few sips. It was a nicely scented tea that evaporated her fatigue.

She looked up and asked, "Where did you buy this? It tastes good." 1

Anthony's lips curled up at her praise. "I'm glad you like it."

Glad she liked it?

As if sensing something, Charmine felt a surge of warmth in her heart.

Anthony made this tea himself.

He, the high-above Boss Bailey, hand-brewed the tea for her...

Suddenly, she thought of something as she said to Anthony, "Since you're treating me so well, I'll take a day off with you at home. I'll make you a meal!" 2

"Okay." Anthony's thin lips curled up slightly.

She was so immersed in work as of late that she had not spent much time with him during the day.

Meanwhile, at Violet Residence...

Already overwhelmed with anger throughout the night, Waverly never expected to see some even more frustrating news the next morning.

The Jordan Group actually turned things around? Everyone had forgotten about how 'haunted' the Divine Bird was?

Why did she have to be negatively spoken of, hated by the public, while Charmine got the limelight?

That should not have happened!

Just as she was struggling in her anger, the sound of the door opening outside was heard.

Was Anthony coming home after sending Chris to school?

Waverly quickly touched up her make up and retrieved the emotions she should not be carrying with her.

Charmine must be busy sorting out the company matters. It was her chance to spend time with Anthony!

Little did she expect that upon leaving her room, she saw Charmine and

Anthony! 1

The two walked in, side-by-side. They seemed enamored with one another as Charmine clung to Anthony's arm.

Her eyelids jumped. "Charmine, it's morning. Why did you both come together?"

"Did you see any reporter outside?" Charmine scoffed coldly.

There were times Waverly would just not bother to clear them up, but this day, she wanted to spend a day with Anthony, thus she went through the trouble to disperse the flies on the wall.

Waverly looked outside and noticed all the reporters-including the ones from Kansas-had been cleared completely. She clenched her fists angrily, livid at the turn of events.

Without the reporters and the people lurking around, Charmine could be with Anthony however she liked!

"Oh, yes, I haven't been able to thank you," said Charmine out of the blue as she gazed at Waverly.

"Thank you for calling Mrs. Bailey last night so that I could capture that man and turn things around.

Since you helped me so much, I've brought you breakfast. What do you say?" said Charmine as she handed a breakfast set to Waverly.

It was some skinned chicken breast. With just one glance, Waverly thought of how she did this to herself.

Face green in anger, she used all her willpower to repress her frustration, politely saying, “No

thanks, I’m not hungry.”

With that said, she turned and walked into her room, no longer able to hold it anymore. She picked up her phone and texted Max,

[Brother, sort it out. I don’t want Charmine to get away!]

[Don’t worry, the incident isn’t over yet. I won’t give her the chance to turn things around!]

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 858-Inside the villa...

Charmine wore the apron, wanting to prepare lunch for Anthony when Anthony turned her down.

“You’ve been busy for one whole night. Go get some rest, let me prepare lunch.”

“But...” Charmine wanted to speak, but Anthony added, ‘You want to prepare me a meal just because I brewed you a cup of tea?’”

Charmine halted. He had a point-there was no need.

“Alright, I’ll rest.”

Instead of heading upstairs, Charmine laid down on the sofa.

Anthony covered her with a blanket before entering the kitchen.

Waverly was coming out for a breather when she spotted Charmine laying on the sofa while the highly hailed Anthony was busy in the kitchen.

Wearing an apron over his white shirt, his apathy was much less than it usually was. In fact, he exuded a homely gentleness aura.

A man like him actually liked Charmine...

Amid her thoughts, Anthony struggled to use a device. It seemed as if it was his first time using it and he had no idea how to work with it.

Waverly withdrew the unpleasantness in her eyes and walked toward the kitchen. "Mr. Bailey, let me help you."

The worse they treated her, the gentler she had to present herself. She did not believe that Anthony would not like her.

Anthony merely scoffed, "No need, don't taint the food she's about to eat." 4

Waverly's face stiffened. Taint her food? Anthony spoke of her so lowly?!

If it was not for her well-cultivated manners, she would have lashed out.

She thought of her plan and said, "I'll make my own lunch. I hope that's okay with Mr. Bailey?"

As she spoke, she marched into the kitchen and took out the ingredients she needed.

Anthony did not like being in the same space as her, but he was making soup for Charmine. He had to stay and watch the soup so Waverly could not drug her.

With that, Waverly walked around him as she washed the vegetables, cut the greens, and used the machine. Her every gesture was elegant, beautifully presented in each angle.

As she cut the vegetables, the shoulder strap on one side of her shoulder slipped down, showing her fair shoulder.

She thought Anthony would surely look at her, that he would be seduced, so it startled her at how he was merely focused on the soup, stirring and working on his phone.

The screen of his phone was full of Charmine's news.

He actually had an anonymous account, helping Charmine to retweet the articles.

The high-above Anthony personally retweeted the articles to support Charmine.

He would rather play with his phone than to look at her. 1

Even when she finished making her dishes, Anthony spared her not even a glance!

This was far from enough...

Anthony was making a nutritious soup for Charmine, and it took him a few hours.

After making the soup, he kept his phone and scooped a bowl of soup for Charmine.

Charmine slept on the sofa and pouted. "I'm not hungry, I don't want to eat."

"Be good, drink it," coaxed Anthony.

Charmine sounded like a child as she whined, "No... Mmh... I want to sleep."

Let me sleep for longer...”

She pulled the blanket over her head.

Anthony’s thin lips curled up. “It looks like you’re hoping for me to wake you up in a special way.”

With that said, he leaned forward and kissed Charmine’s lips.

Waverly was still in the living room. They kissed just like that as if nobody was around them!

She was so frustrated that her face turned green. “Mr. Bailey, I hope you two can behave yourselves!” she reprimanded them. 1

Stopping for a moment, Anthony snapped, “Leave if you can’t take it!” 2

His tone was merciless, cold. There was no hint of the gentleness he treated Charmine with.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 859- Anthony was a totally different person!

By then, Charmine was fully awake as she stared at Waverly nonchalantly.” I hope Ms. D’Cruz can fix her clothes before she asks others to behave. If you’re not well-behaved, I hope you’re prepared for the others to be not well -behaved, too.”

With that said, she wound her arms around Anthony’s neck and kissed him back.

If Waverly could have a strap of her clothing fall from her shoulder in front of Anthony, Charmine could kiss Anthony in front of her! 1

Waverly almost exploded with anger as she watched the two on the sofa. She wanted to tear away that face of Charmine's, but she could only leave angrily.

She had to hold it, just for a while longer!

Max said he was all geared up. Waverly believed Charmine would find herself in hot soup again.

As expected, on the same afternoon...

Anthony went to the company to sort out some matters, and that left only Waverly and Charmine at home.

While Charmine was asleep, Adam called her urgently.

"Charmine, it's bad-the [Divine Bird is Haunted] has gone up the search bar again. We don't know what they said to the buyers, but all the buyers are downstairs, and they're asking for a refund.

There are almost a thousand people, and they're not going away. We've said everything we could, but they insisted on asking for a refund. They're unwilling to buy this so-called haunted place; they want their money back..."

Charmine's drowsiness disappeared instantly. "Establish control over the havoc for now. I'll think of something."

"Alright." Adam hung up.

Charmine opened her phone and saw the heated topics online.

As expected, news like #Haunted-Divine-Bird and #Divine-Bird-Buyers-Asking For-A-Refund had gone up the search bar. 1

In the photos, almost a thousand buyers had gathered outside the Jordan Group's lobby, yelling in anger.

Someone even made a banner with printed words, [Return My Money!]

The discussion on the matter was heated.

[Thirteen men died. Even if they died voluntarily, this is indeed a haunted place.]

[Thirteen men died. One mustn't live in an area like this.]

[We must get a refund!]

[Isn't Charmine a supermodel? Isn't she the owner of the diamond mine? She doesn't lack the money of the buyers, so give back our money!]

Charmine frowned. It was only half a day and someone was that eager to have another go? They wanted to attack the Jordan Group again?

They were pushing it this time. They actually contacted all buyers of the Divine

Bird, and almost a thousand buyers went over to the company to cause a scene! 1

It was a tricky situation, indeed.

Although they had signed the contracts clearly stating the no-refund policy, all the buyers had banded together. The entire world was watching how the Jordan

Group would deal with it.

If they did not deal with it well, the Jordan Group's reputation would be ruined.

How could she fix it? If she refunded their money, nobody would buy the houses anymore. The entire project would be at loss, and the area would end up a dead city.

If she did not refund, these buyers would continue making a scene, and news of such havoc would be like wildfire...

At that moment, Max suddenly texted,

[Charmine, I'll help you fix it if you return the shares to me.]

Susan also chimed in, texting, [Charmine, if you leave Anthony now, the Bailey family can step in to help you get out of your current situation.

Otherwise, prepare to witness the Jordan Group's demise!]

Susan was clearly threatening her!

Waverly walked out of the room and leaned close to the vase languidly.

"Charmine, just give up already. As long as you're fighting to be by Anthony's side, they won't give up attacking you. This will happen more and more often. Why don't you give up now? Why keep holding on? You're no match for both the Baileys and the D'Cruz family!"

Waverly's tone was beautifully venomous. She was sure that Charmine had no way of getting out of this matter.

However...

Charmine's red lips curled up stunningly.

"Give up? There's no such thing as 'give up' in my Charmine's dictionary!" 1

The more they wanted to see her fail, the more she wanted them to be disappointed!

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 860- Picking up the phone, Charmine then called Adam and instructed, "Arrange a refund for everyone.

We'll return all of their money."

Waverly's pupils dilated. Were her ears playing tricks? Charmine actually agreed to refund them?

Adam was just as startled. "Refund? Charmine, are you sure?"

Once they agreed to refund, the Divine Bird's profit would be all gone! They would be at a loss!

As the company was the one shouldering the buyers' loans, they would be responsible for covering the costs of all the houses. With that, the company would have to be in debt of up to a hundred million bucks!

By then, nobody would buy the houses of the Divine Bird-nobody would buy the haunted houses.

The Divine Bird Project was as good as dead!

In fact, if they did not refund and continued dragging on, they could get over with it if they were shameless enough.

Charmine merely said, I'm sure. Refund them right away. Make sure all the procedures proceed within today.”

Waverly listened on, baffled with what happened.

Why did Charmine seem like she could not wait to take back these houses?

With the current situation, what could she do with the Divine Bird? What did Charmine have in mind to fix it?

Charmine hung up the call, ignored Waverly’s doubtful expression, and marched upstairs.

It merely took a while before #JordanGroup-Full-Refund made the headlines.

This happened so quickly that everyone was unable to react from shock.

Nobody had expected Charmine to be able to provide a full refund to everyone so quickly.

Was she completely giving up on the Divine Bird, throwing all of her money into the water just like that? 1

The Baileys were having dinner together at the Bailey mansion.

Grandma Bailey mumbled, ‘What do you all think Charmine is playing? Why don’t I understand?’

“Mother, don’t mind her. She’s not lowering her pride at me, so she’s just trying to hold her last breath! Since she had put in so much money into this Divine Bird Project, this means she’s no longer capable. She’s still not good enough to be with our Anthony,” Susan comforted, scooping for her a bowl of soup.

Grandma Bailey sipped at it though still deep in thought.

Did Charmine spend all of her money on this project? Why did she feel like Charmine would fight back?

Would this young lady give up so easily?

Meanwhile, Dorothy suddenly came in with her phone and blurted excitedly,

“Grandma Bailey, Grandma Bailey, have a look! It’s a big deal!”

Grandma Bailey suspiciously accepted the phone, noticing that it was Charmine’s Twitter feed.

Charmine posted a tweet:

[I don’t want to work anymore...]

With just one simple sentence, all moguls appeared in the comments.

[The National No.1 Leader of ESports, Old Larry: Give me one house, right away!]

[The President of the International Checkers Association, Old Zul: I want two units! One unit for my beloved granddaughter!]

[A Mega-Mogul in Scientific Research Field, Old Pop: I want twenty units! I’ll pay online!]

[A Little Slave of Diamond Boss, Prince Simon Gray: Thirty units is enough. I’ve been quite broke recently...]

[Dragoul Combating Team, Kay: I want a hundred units! Each of the teammates will get one unit!

Who's afraid of a haunted house now? Which corner of the Earth has no dead people over billions of years?]

[A Humble Designer: Give me one unit! I'll fully support Boss Jordan! Please, I beg you to consider collaborating with me next season!]

Swiftly after, the Master Designer-Mr. Boluvre, an International Investigator Mogul-a Forensic Mogul, the Inventor, the Superstar, Supermodels, and the likes have all made the transaction online.

This was not a set-up... They actually paid online!

They posted the screenshot of the transaction made to the Jordan Group.

Within a night, all of the units from the Divine Bird close to a thousand units were all sold out without anything left!
