

My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 861

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 861- Furthermore, each of the Divine Bird's new customers was a mogul, and these prominent figures would be residing in the Divine Bird area!

Charmine laid on the bed as she wore her moisturizing mask. Seeing that so many people supported her, she had to tweet,

[Since you're all so supportive, I'll give you all a 10% discount!]

That got the people talking.

[Discount??? Are you looking down on US?]

[Just give me a plan!]

[Consider collaborating with me!]

[Give me your new inventions!]

All of these moguls were so supportive of Charmine.

Never did the netizens expect to see such a great, 180-degree turn of events as they waited for a follow-up regarding the Jordan Group.

They thought the Divine Bird would not be sold, yet with just one word from Charmine, all the moguls from each field appeared right away!

How could Charmine know so many moguls? Moreover, they all seemed to be so supportive of her! 1

Who was Charmine, exactly? How could she be so powerful?! 1

The news made Grandma Bailey reel back in shock, in disbelief.

“See, I was right! I knew this young lady wouldn’t give in so easily. What can you do to her now?”

Grandma Bailey pridefully handed the phone to Susan, pridefully.

Susan frowned. Who was she siding with?

Averting her gaze to the phone, Susan was stunned at what she read.

Charmine had successfully turned the tides and made things in her favor!

Still, she expected Charmine to become bankrupt, expecting Charmine to beg for her forgiveness. Who would have thought that Charmine actually knew so many moguls? She triumphed over all the hurdles and made it her own!

Thinking back, the text she sent Charmine was such an embarrassment...

“I think we should reconsider Charmine,” began Grandma Bailey. ‘Waverly’s reputation hasn’t been that great recently. Furthermore, thinking closely, she agreed to be the decoy for Anthony and Charmine, yet she broke the promise halfway in at the end. How trustworthy is she?’ 3

Mentioning Waverly, Susan was unhappy.

If it was not for Waverly being an idiot last night and passed on the wrong information, she would not have lost her assistant! 1

The assistant was her best assistant. She paid double the loss!

However...

“Sigh! The D’Cruz family is big. How could Charmine compete with them?

However supportive these moguls are, they're not her family. Who'd genuinely come to her aid if she's met with great trouble? Mother, don't you forget; the matter is about to happen. Within half a year, the Bailey family will be in great danger. Without the help of the D'Cruz family, what can we do?" 2

'Well...' Grandma Bailey sighed deeply.

She asked, "What are you going to do next? I don't think you can fight her."
"Be confident. Remove the 'I think!'"

A cold voice was heard suddenly.

Everyone turned around to see that it was Anthony, and he was home!

Anthony had not set foot to the Bailey mansion for a long time, yet he returned all of a sudden?

Senior Bailey instructed, "Prepare an additional set of cutleries."

"No need." Anthony cut him off coldly. He scoffed, "I'm to let you all know that if you attack Charmine again, I'll transfer all of our three major companies to Charmine right away." 1

The Bailey Corporation owned ten major companies of different industries. Each of them was practically a gold mine in each field!

Out of the ten, seven of the companies were owned by many of the Baileys, but three of them were owned by Anthony alone. 1

As long as he wanted to, he could give it to someone else anytime!

Susan was so frustrated that the fork in her hand fell to the floor.

'What... What did you say? You'd turn against the Bailey family for Charmine!?"

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 862- Anthony remained cold and calm as he shot Susan a cold glare. "Are you all not turning against me now?"

His cold tone was full of power, his tone housing an apparent hint of accusation.

Susan felt her chest hurting. "We did all that for your sake! Charmine isn't good enough for you□she's nothing close to Waverly!"

"You don't have a say in whether she's good enough or not. I've made my message clear: If you insist, ready yourselves for a whole lot to pay." 2

With that, Anthony turned and left.

The enraged Darryl slammed the table. "You're turning against us! You've changed...! You've changed!" 1

He seldom came home, yet he came home to threaten them?

According to his tone, he would actually transfer the three companies to Charmine?

Each of the three companies was worth more than the entire Jordan Group!

Grandma Bailey sighed. "This is what love can do to a person; this is how youngsters behave nowadays. To be fair, I've never seen Anthony acting based on his feelings. I think we should tone it down slightly, and let's speak when he's calmer." 1

“You’ve all spoiled him! You’ve shaped this bad temper of his from a young age!”

Only God knew how he thought they could finally dine as a family. Alas...

Susan was livid. She put in so much effort, yet she was not understood?

Still, Grandma Bailey was right. Anthony was fuming, and he had to cool off. 1

At the villa.

After sorting out the situation, Charmine spent most of the day sleeping. With adequate sleep, she prepared a full table of dishes with Chris.

Waverly was in the living room, unable to react for a long while.

She thought the Divine Bird Project would be over, but how could Charmine forcefully turn things around? Also, Charmine knew that many moguls?!

How did she meet them? What had she gone through in the past five years?

A woman who was raped and yet was backed with support from various people?

As she was caught up in her thoughts, the door was opened.

Anthony had come home.

Removing his suit and hanging it on the hanger, he walked inside the house elegantly.

Chris rushed down to welcome him right away.

“Daddy, you’re finally back! You’re in luck today! Mommy is in a good mood, and she cooked US a pot of pepper crabs!”

Anthony frowned. A pot of pepper crabs?

Could crabs be eaten that way?

Who would cook crabs with pepper? Was Charmine uneducated?

At that moment, Charmine brought out a pot of pepper crabs, grinning at both Chris and Anthony.

“Oh, dear. I was playing with my phone and forgot to keep a close eye on it. It’s overcooked…”

The crabs in the pot she carried had turned to black when they should have been red. They smelt overcooked.

Waverly smiled. “Don’t pretend as if you can cook if you can’t. The overcooked food contains benzopyrene, and it can cause cancer.” 1

With such a professional warning, Anthony would surely look down on Charmine. He might even blame Charmine for trying to harm him! 1

Little did she expect…

Anthony walked over to receive the pot from Charmine and looked at the food inside.

‘The crab shell is burnt, but the meat is still edible!’

“Righto! Let’s eat!”

Chris ran over happily to prepare the cutleries.

Charmine was quite upset. As it had been a while since she prepared a meal, she did not expect her crabs to turn out like this.

There were so many crabs, and she spent so much effort cleaning and preparing them. She was prepared to bin them all, yet Anthony did not seem to mind?

'Why are you still stunned? Afraid of cancer?' teased Anthony as he reached out to caress her face.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 863-“Don't worry. Even if you get cancer, Momo and I will still be with you.”

With that said, he put his arm around her waist and walked to the dining hall.

Charmine burst out laughing, unable to hold it back. Of course she was not afraid. 1

The burnt part was only the crabs' shells, and only these could cause cancer. Furthermore, even if the food was overcooked, eating it once in a while would not cause any cancer, let alone the crab meat!

Regardless, the usually elegant Anthony would eat the overcooked dish with her?

Charmine felt a surge of warmth in her. Sitting beside Anthony, he personally picked up some meat for her.

Anthony gazed at her. 'Touched? Why don't you consider officiating our relationship?'

Charmine frowned.

Officiate...? Anthony just had to bring it up again.

Although they were winning, the Jordan Group was just getting sturdy.

The plan to get into the international market was still ongoing, even though the Bailey family still did not like her.

Most importantly, she still had not figured out why Chris' body would reject the needles....

With that, she reached out to remove the shell of a crab for Anthony. "Don't talk when eating."

Inside the living room, Waverly's hand clenched tightly.

Anthony would genuinely eat such overcooked food, just to make Charmine happy?

Absolutely ridiculous. 1

Listening to the conversation from the dining hall made her even more bitter, more jealous!

Anthony was the one wanting to officiate their relationship, and Charmine was the one dragging things on?

Was she using this trick to hook in Anthony? How despicable!

Unable to take it in, she went to her room and called Susan. "Auntie, I've explained to Max regarding what you did to me on Twitter, and they won't blame you. Nonetheless, what plan do you actually have in the future?

Charmine is making you submit, and she's living with Anthony fearlessly. If this goes on, I'm afraid-"

“Sigh... Please hold it in for a little longer, Waverly. I don’t have a plan right now.

Now that Charmine has the upper hand with so many moguls supporting her, Anthony is seduced by her and he’d do anything for her. We’re unable to do anything recently as once we do something, Anthony might attack US. I hope you can understand.” Comforting her for a moment, Susan hung up afterward.

The situation annoyed Susan. Not only did she have to cater to her son, but she also had to serve her daughter-in-law?

No way!

Waverly was so furious that her face turned green.

Susan actually disrespected her so much? She was Waverly D’Cruz, the wealthy heiress of the D’Cruz family!

She tossed away her phone and looked at the photo of Anthony in her room. Her hands clenched tightly.

No matter how they treated her, Anthony must be hers! 2

All of a sudden, a tall figure suddenly came in from the window, exuding a cold temperament. 1

When Waverly saw him, her pupils dilated.

“Brother, why are you here?!” 2

This was Anthony’s villa, yet Max came to find her. They would be in deep trouble if they knew Max was in.

Max walked behind her and hugged her from the back. "If I didn't come, would you continue to stare at Anthony's photo? Tell me, Waverly: have you fallen for Anthony after all?" he interrogated. 3

As he spoke, he turned Waverly's face and lifted her chin.

Waverly's eyes flashed a hint of panic, though she maintained an unbothered front. "I keep nothing from you, and you still don't trust me?"

Max looked at her beautiful side-profile and turned her around, toying with a strand of her hair.

'There's a photo of Anthony hung in your room, and you stared at it for so long. How can I trust you?"

Waverly frowned. Suddenly, she stood on her tiptoes and seized his lips with hers.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 864-Back stiffened in their kiss, Max grabbed Waverly's waist and wanted to kiss back.

However, Waverly pushed him away and explained, 'The photo was already there in the room. I zoned out, thinking of a way to get revenge. I'm thinking of how to get Anthony to dump Charmine. If you don't trust me, who else can you trust?"

With that, her soft and beautiful body leaned into his arms.

Max looked at her innocent eyes-he trusted her. He lowered his head to kiss her lips.

Waverly panicked, "Don't do it here, Anthony they all might notice..."

“Don’t worry. Anthony only loves Charmine; he doesn’t care for you. He’s busy loving Charmine anyway, so why would he notice?” 2

Max kissed her daringly.

Everyone thought they were siblings, but only they knew that it was not the case. 1

As Max pressed Waverly down, his eyes bore an unnoticeable hint of unwillingness and hatred.

Anthony would not look at her, Anthony did not care for her. He only cared for Charmine...

That was the truth.

Once they were finished with the big pot of burnt crabs, Anthony, Charmine, and Chris walked up to the second floor, neglecting Waverly entirely. 1 Charmine’s red lips curled into a smirk as she eyed the closed door downstairs.

Waverly wanted to snatch her man, was she? She wanted to live with Anthony, huh?

This was the outcome of living with Anthony!

Just as Charmine was about to go inside the room, her phone suddenly lit up.

It was from an anonymous number.

[Just you wait, Charmine! I won’t let you go! Never! You ruined me, and you’ll pay dearly for it! I won’t let you be happy!] 1

When Charmine received the text, her eyelids jumped.

This text was sent by Julian. 1

After he was ruined, he was sent to the hospital and remained unconscious for so long. He had just woken up and went straight to text her this?

Even separated by the screen, Charmine could feel Julian's grueling, bitter hatred for her. 1

It unsettled her, worried her. What was Julian planning?

She was unafraid of everything else, but the thing that she was most afraid of was that one matter...

"What are you thinking of?" Anthony's low voice was suddenly heard.

Charmine snapped back to reality. She saw Anthony walking over with two sets of pajamas, handing one to her.

She replied, "Nothing. I'm just..."

After a moment, she said, "Nothing, it's nothing. You go shower, and I'll take care of Momo."

Anthony noticed how she quickly withdrew her words. Frowning, he grabbed her by her arm and pulled her back.

"What? I'm your husband, you still want me to force it out of you?"

"It's really nothing. I merely zoned out." Charmine avoided his eyes.

The more she behaved this way, the more serious Anthony became.

"Do you want me to do this?" With that said, his large hand lifted her head by her chin and forced her to face him.

He lowered his head and covered her lips with his.

Charmine was caught off-guard. They stood before the door and she was taken back by him.

They were in front of the door, and Chris was just next door. If he came to find them like this...

She pushed him away instantly, having no choice but to relent, "Alright, alright, I'll tell."

Only then did Anthony let her go, gazing at her patiently.

After composing her thoughts, she looked up at Anthony. "Anthony, have you thought of telling your parents and your family about what happened to me back then?"

Anthony frowned. What happened back then?

"There's no need to tell them."

He did not wish for anyone to see her wound.

"The others might not think so," argued Charmine. "Other than the dead Tiffany who knows that I was raped by Alexander, there's Julian and even some others!"

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 865-'They won't let me live with it. Who knows? They might even tell the whole world about it, how the wife of Anthony was raped by someone else and got preg-"

"Enough! We'll talk about this in the future. Until then, don't overthink things!"

Anthony cut her short. He did not want her mentioning anything to do with what happened back then.

Charmine pouted. "See? I said I don't want to talk about it, yet you made me," she said as she took the pajamas and walked into the washroom.

However, Anthony hugged her from behind and placed his head on her shoulder. "I'm sorry."

Charmine paused. She did not mean it, yet he still apologized so formally?

Anthony continued, "Don't worry. Whether the others know about this or not, it has nothing to do with me and you."

What he meant was that this would not affect his determination to be with her.

Charmine felt his breath fanning her ears as warmth surged across her chest.

She had always known his determination to be with her.

However...

Would his aloofness in the matter eliminate whatever could happen in the future?

One day, someone would expose it. One day, the Bailey family would hate her even more.

It seemed that she must make some preparations beforehand.

When Anthony went to shower, she picked up her phone and texted William,

[I remember you mentioning a type of medication that targets selective amnesia.

How's it going?]

On the other side of the world...

William just got home from work and was showering when his phone rang with a special notification.

It indicated Charmine had sent him a text.

He instantly turned off the shower and picked up a towel to wipe off the bubbles.

He walked out of the bathroom and picked up his phone.

Charmine actually texted him!

Even if she was merely asking about his project, his lips curled up into a warm smile. He typed quickly,

[I've been working on it. I'm about to fly to Burlington tomorrow to discuss this project with Uncle Pop.]

Charmine sighed in relief. What a coincidence.

If they were still working on it, well, just in time then!

She replied, [Can I join when you're discussing it? I'll take out four hours per day to help out.]

William asked caringly, [What happened? Do you need this medication urgently?]

Charmine replied, [Yes.]

[Once the discussion starts in Burlington, I'll get in touch with you right away!]

responded William.

Charmine merely replied, [Okay.]

After putting down her phone, her eyes darkened.

If medication for selective amnesia was made, she could make Alexander, Julian, and the rest take

it. 1

Although many people attended the banquet back then, the Jordan family had a record of all the attendees. In the past five years, she had used her connections to monitor these people to make sure none of them caused mayhem or made a big deal of her past.

It would be the best solution if she could make these people forget about that incident completely. 1

In Kansas.

After making sure that Charmine was not replying, he instantly phoned his assistant. "Please help me change my flight to tonight. The earlier the better!"

"Sir, you haven't rested for two days..."

"It's okay, right away!" William hung up and rushed back into the bathroom.

Inside the villa.

Charmine somehow fell asleep while waiting for Anthony, forgetting to delete her messages with William and not knowing he was flying over to Burlington over the night.

When Anthony came out from the shower, he saw the fast-asleep Charmine on the bed, her phone still in her hand...

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 866- Anthony walked over to cover Charmine with a blanket before taking her phone from her grip.

The screen lit up but showed no message.

Charmine was still looking at it before sleeping. What was she looking at?

Out of curiosity, he wanted to unlock it but realized that it had an additional password.

Furthermore, it had security software that would let out a warning tone once the phone was opened by force.

Anthony's lips curled up-this little kitten was quite cautious and defensive.

He would slowly make her lower her guard.

When Charmine woke again, it was already nine in the morning. Different from the past, when she woke up, Anthony was still laying by her side.

The sunlight landed on his body and illuminated his handsome face with a layer of golden light.

Even as a man, his skin was fairer than a woman's. His skin was so flawless that it made one want to touch it.

Just as she wanted to reach out, Anthony suddenly opened his eyes.

Charmine asked, 'Why did you wake up so late? Aren't you sorting out matters in the company?'

'It's the weekend, so I'll accompany you.' Anthony's voice was low and hoarse.

He hugged her tightly in his arms.

Charmine looked around.

Chris did not have school over the weekend, and as the matters with the Jordan

Group were fixed, she had time to spend with Chris.

It was then Charmine thought of the recent matters and asked Anthony suspiciously, "Did you realize that Momo is acting strange lately? He's no longer sticking to US and seems busy." 2

Chris would usually sleep with them before and would wake them up early in the morning, but why was he no longer doing that?

Anthony comforted, "Kids will grow. Don't take it too personally."

Charmine rolled her eyes at him. "How can you be such an irresponsible father?"

"The wife can run away, the children won't," said Anthony with a serious tone.

Charmine was speechless.

Was Anthony still worried she might run away? 1

Why was this high-above Boss Bailey so insecure?

She said to him, "Since you have a day off, you must spend some father-and son time with Momo. I'll arrange that for you."

"Okay."

He would agree to her arrangement.

Charmine used her phone to search for some father-and-son bonding activities, but just as she was about to save them, Uncle Pop suddenly called her.

“Charmine, come over! A good project is going on today!” gushed Uncle Pop excitedly.

Charmine suddenly recalled what William said yesterday. Has Uncle Pop started making preparations in advance?

“Okay, I’ll go.”

After she hung up, she turned to Anthony. ‘Til have to accompany an Uncle today. Take Chris for an outing after this, I’ll be back soon.”

Anthony saw her phone and noted that it was a renowned scientist calling.”

Okay,” he agreed.

After getting changed, Charmine greeted Chris.

Chris merely said, “Go ahead, Mommy. I’m already five years old, so it’s okay if Daddy doesn’t accompany me. Furthermore, interactive activities are stupid-I want to play mud by myself!” 1

With that said, he continued to play with the mud he bought.

Charmine was speechless.

It seemed that Anthony would be neglected. However, seeing that Momo was being so mature, she left home feeling reassured.

Noticing that Charmine had left, Waverly’s red lips curled up slightly.

Charmine was gone at last, leaving only her, Anthony, and Chris at home.

She would be able to get close to Anthony! 1

She spent some time picking a suitable outfit from the wardrobe before she finally settled on an outfit she was happy with.

It was a simple, long, and fitting knit dress, free from embellishments and had a simple design. It was very fitting, perfectly showing off the curves of her body.

The white color perfectly showcased her fair skin. She looked like a very desirable and formal wealthy heiress.

Waverly put on some makeup before walking upstairs.

Charmine was not home; Anthony would surely steal glances of her like this.

Little did she expect, by the staircase...

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 867-Cluck...cluck...cluck...

Heavy footsteps were heard, accompanied by the sound of grating metal.

Before Waverly could react, a two-meter tall robot stretched its arms and blocked her path.

“Warning! Warning! You’ve got vegetables between your teeth. Do not enter!”
spoke the robot. 2

Waverly halted, her expression morphing into displeasure.

Just as she was about to fix herself, she suddenly recalled that she did not eat vegetables. In fact, she had not even had breakfast!

It had to be Chris, pulling at the strings!

She tried her best to repress her resentment. Gazing at the robot, she said elegantly, “Dobi, I haven’t eaten breakfast, and I didn’t eat vegetables. Please make way, I’m finding Mr. Bailey to discuss some matters.”

“Tut-tut, you must’ve eaten them yesterday. Please leave! Please leave!” The sound of Dobi was extremely cold. It was completely mechanized.

Waverly almost spat out blood. She must have eaten yesterday? She did not have vegetables yesterday!

It was intentionally insulting her, blocking her from seeing Anthony!

She bit back her anger and said, “Momo, be good. Don’t mess around.

Auntie really needs to talk to your father.”

“Tut-tut-tut-tut. Please leave!”

The robot kept giving out warnings, seemingly as though it could not understand any language.

Blocked at the foot of the staircase, it seemed Waverly would never get past the robot nor did she know how to get up.

Infuriated, she could only turn to leave.

She did not believe that Anthony would not come downstairs. She could wait!

Meanwhile...

Charmine arrived at the medical lab provided by Uncle Pop.

The medical lab was located in a forest ten kilometers away from the city. In the golden autumn season, all trees were red in color, and standing amid them were simple and white architecture everywhere.

She traversed the area when someone suddenly called out,

“Charmine.”

It sounded gentle, just like the wind in spring.

Charmine looked back and saw William walking toward her from not far away.

Dressed in a simple suit with a white shirt, his pair of blue eyes were captivating even with glasses on. He exuded the disposition of a knowledgeable man.

He had some test tubes in his hands, perfectly showcasing his identity as a scientist.

Charmine looked at him and could not help frowning. “Isn’t your flight at noon?

Why did you arrive so early?”

“Uncle Pop said he wanted to invent this medication sooner and asked me to come earlier, so I changed my flight.” William’s voice was gentle.

He would not let Charmine know he did it for her. He did not want to add more burden to her shoulders.

Charmine did not give it any second thought. “This medication must be invented sooner. Let’s go.” 1

She took the lead to walk toward the medical lab.

William followed behind her, though close to her side as he did.

At that moment, a jet-black car drove past outside. Inside the car, Susan suddenly called out, "Stop the car! stop the car!"

The driver instantly pulled the break.

Susan opened the car window and looked into the forest. She thought she saw it wrongly, but as the car stopped, she was certain it was Charmine walking into the forest!

Why was she there, and with another man, no less?

Suddenly, a dark glint appeared in her eyes.

While Anthony placed her at a stalemate, Charmine just had to give her an opportunity to attack!

She took out her phone right away. Turning on the silent mode, she zoomed in to take a few photos.

By the door of the medical lab, William opened the door for Charmine like a gentleman, letting Charmine to get in first.

The pair of them, a handsome man and a beautiful woman, made one think differently.

With these photos in hand, she wanted to see if Anthony would still remain so committed to Charmine!

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 868-Inside the medical lab.

Uncle Pop walked toward William and Charmine, gushing, "How delightful!

You two are finally collaborating after so many years! With you two geniuses, this medication will surely succeed!”

Of course, the most important thing is that he had to witness their feelings for one another bloom!

Charmine said calmly, “Let’s work hard, and hopefully this medication can be made soon.”

Many people longed for something to wipe out their memories. If this medication succeeded, it would be a great milestone reached in the scientific field!

be remembering.

With that, the three of them assigned their tasks and started working hard. 2

Meanwhile, William went to the pantry for water. Uncle Pop followed behind him and spoke in a hushed tone, “Sigh! Why are you not showing any signal? You’re so caught up with the research!

How are you going to get her?”

“Uncle Pop, we’re now researching for a new medication. We must focus during the shift,” William recalled in a gentle voice.

Uncle Pop was exasperated at that. “Look at you-you’re irritating me! Did you think I asked you to come to Burlington just to research a new medication with Charmine?”

“Hmm?” William was perplexed.

The worried Uncle Pop then added, “Charmine has been facing quite the trouble as of late. I think she's not a good fit with Anthony, so I asked you to come to Burlington to develop some feelings between you two. Once she has fallen for you, she'd no longer be attacked by the Bailey family! Do you want to see the Baileys bullying her?" 1

"I..." William pushed up his glasses.

Of course he did not want that to happen, but after assessing the situation, Charmine voluntarily wanted to be with Anthony, and she chose to face all these problems. He did not have any reason to step in. 1

Looking at William's expression, Uncle Pop was furious.

"Alright, alright. I can't be bothered to speak to you. You'll be single forever if you keep going on like this! Hand the water to Charmine, I'll need my antihypertensive pill," he spoke as he handed the glass of water to William before turning away.

William had no choice but to walk over to Charmine with the glass at hand.

Charmine was conducting her research on the working desk. This project was at the forefront of current technology, and there were many problems to be solved.

Head lowered as she worked, Charmine's focused yet delicate look was a sight to behold.

Anxious, William hesitated before handing the glass to her. "Charmine, have a drink."

'Thank you.'

Charmine was tired. She accepted the glass and took a few sips.

As if thinking of something, she said to William, "Oh, yes, don't call me Charmine in the future. Call me Jules. In the published document for this project, please use this name for me." 1

She could not let anyone know that she was involved in this project, especially people like Julian, otherwise, they might ruin her plan.

Although William was curious, he would not ask more than he had to. He could only say, "Okay."

All caught up by the research, little did they notice that someone was using a high-definition camera to capture photos of them from a tree not far away. 3

At Violet Residence, noon.

Luke sent over two meal boxes. He saw Anthony and Chris inside, busy with their own things.

Chris was playing with the mud and painting from time to time while Anthony was working in front of the desk.

When he brought up the meal boxes, Luke asked suspiciously, "President, why didn't you go down and eat...?"

There were many dishes prepared in the kitchen, and they needed only to heat it up in the microwave.

Anthony said coldly, "My wife isn't home. It's not convenient."

Luke was perplexed.

What did having a meal have anything to do with Charmine?

However, he soon understood. Anthony did not want to come close to Waverly...

A married man was indeed different. He was so well-behaved. 1

Just as Anthony was about to eat, a few photos suddenly emerged on his laptop.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 869-In the photos, Charmine and William were next to one another as they seemingly walked. He opened the door for her in these photos, and he even handed her a glass of water.

The two looked like a couple, all cozied up to one another.

Anthony's fork bent.

He was so well-behaved for her, yet she went out with another man?

How dare she drink the water poured to her by another man!

Susan then typed, [Anthony, as you see, Charmine isn't good enough for you. You gave up on Waverly for her and worked against the entire Bailey family as well, but it's not worth it!]

Anthony turned off the laptop right away, his expression as dark as ink.

After a moment, he opened the laptop and replied, [I asked her to go. She's there to complete a project.]

If he did not say so, the Baileys would hate Charmine more or even attack her!

On the other side of the laptop, Susan fell silent.

After shutting the laptop, Anthony stood up and walked to the window.

Charmine said she was to meet Uncle Pop, yet she was actually with William?

She was spending time with another man!

So furious was he that the room's temperature dropped.

big deal out of this, Daddy! You didn't take good care of Mommy, so Mommy ran away with another man! You must go find Mommy right away to win her back!"

1

Anthony frowned. He picked up his suit and hung it over his arm before walking out.

After a few steps, he came back and put down his suit. He picked up his phone to call Charmine.

After some white noise, the automated voice jingled,

"Sorry, the number you dialed is currently unavailable..."

'Currently unavailable'?

What was Charmine doing with William? Were they so busy that she had no time to answer the call?

Should he go and find her?

According to the photos, they were in the medical lab. The Uncle Pop who phoned her in the morning was there, too.

Though a well-renowned senior scientist, he did not like Anthony. If Anthony went, it might make things worse.

Under such circumstances, he had to remain calm.

After some thoughts, he texted Charmine, [Come home early. Important matter.]

With that, a long wait followed inside the villa.

The usually calm Anthony suddenly had many question marks popping up in his head.

Where were Charmine and William? What were they doing? Did they get close?

Did they do anything? Did Charmine fall for that man? 1 Unknowingly, the sky had darkened.

Inside the medical lab.

Since it was their first day, there were many things to sort out before they finally finished working.

Charmine changed out of the lab coat and put on her own jacket before leaving.

William followed behind her. 'Til send you home.'

"No need, I have a car. You get some early rest, too," came Charmine's aloof reply.

William's lips curled up. "Alright, drive safe."

Charmine walked toward her own car. When she took out her car key, she felt for her phone.

She took it out to see a few messages, and one of them was sent by Anthony that read, [Come home early. Important matter.]

She frowned. What matter was that?

Anthony even called her...

Anthony was usually calm. If it was not for an important matter, he would not look for her so urgently.

She instantly got inside the car and rushed back home.

=However, Charmine did not drive far before her phone rang.

Adam called to say, "Charmine, something happened in the company.

About a hundred staff members wanted to resign today, and they're not telling why. They're holding the more important positions in the company, and our Divine Bird Project has to be put on hold due to this."

Charmine frowned. "Resign suddenly? With no prior warning?"

"Yeah. I've investigated for one whole day and found no clue why they're doing this, so I had no choice but to phone you. Furthermore, I noticed that all the workers on site looked as if they're occupied by something, and they looked restless," explained Adam.

Charmine's eyes darkened. Seemed as though someone was up to something, again.

She had to fix this earlier this time in order for the same thing to happen again.

“You get ready to monitor and prepare the resigning documents. I’ll come back to the company.”

Giving her order, she hung up and phoned Kay.

“Something’s up at the site. Go investigate it personally.” Kay was following Charmine from the shadows, keeping a watchful eye over her when she called him to give her order. He was delighted to hear it. 3

At last! He had been doing nothing for too long, and he could finally do something!

Instantly, he arranged for the others to protect Charmine while he drove away.

Charmine drove toward the company, about to call Anthony when her phone ran out of battery and shut down on its own.

Whatever. She could tell Anthony everything through the laptop when she got to the company.

Inside the company, Adam had prepared all kinds of cameras to monitor the site as well as the documents for resignation.

When Charmine came in, he handed all of the documents to her.

“Charmine, hurry and have a look. Find out what’s the problem. A hundred staff members had resigned in one day. If this goes on, the company won’t be able to hold it together.”

When Charmine received the documents, she saw the resignation reasons for every individual. They were all urgent matters.

Some had to take care of ill relatives, some had to attend their funerals, some had to prepare for their children to get married, and some were severely ill.

The reason they gave was not to be rejected by the company. They were determined to resign.

She looked at the monitoring screen again and noted how the workers on site seemed troubled. They were moving bricks around with things on their minds.

Some even cautiously whispered to one another as if discussing something.

However, whenever a manager walked over, they stopped talking right away.

The monitoring was not of the highest resolution. It was too far away, thus one could not read the lips. 1

Charmine frowned. "Do we have anything else other than this?"

"Hmm... I've asked someone to look into this, but none of them were willing to tell." Adam sounded worried.

This situation was a first throughout his time at the Jordan Group.

Charmine's eyes grew dark.

As she was speculating, Kay suddenly walked in.

"Boss Charmine, I've found out that someone is spreading rumors!

"Someone claimed that there was someone else behind the man in black. The person is your enemy. Seems like thirteen lives weren't enough for this person, and they'd want to hurt more.

“Scared witless, the workers only wanted to keep their lives, thus they resigned. They were afraid of being laughed at for being a coward, so they didn’t speak.” 1

According to the sources, some workers heard about this rumor and were unwilling to come forward to interview for a job at the Jordan Group. This rumor was spreading quickly; the number of resignations would increase tomorrow.

Charmine instantly realized. That was the reason why!

Someone was actually pulling such a low and yet effective trick?!

No matter what the Jordan Group did, they needed manpower. Once the workers were gone, it did not matter if the units were sold out. If they could not build the houses, the company’s reputation would be ruined and negatively affected.

Adam asked, worried, “What can we do? Even if we explain it, maybe nobody will believe US.”

After all, everyone knew that the man in black convinced the thirteen workers to commit suicide.

Nobody knew what else could happen.

Charmine looked at Kay and asked, “Did you manage to find out who was spreading the rumor?”
