

Chapter 867

Moon nodded at the sight, "Then wait for me, I'll go get my stuff."

Only after getting Bella Qiao's permission did this go out.

It didn't take long for Moon to return.

I saw that she had a small soft leather case in her hand, and placed it on the table, and when she looked at it, Kitty saw that it was full of everything.

She couldn't help but smile, "Yo, that's a pretty complete outfit."

Xiao Yue laughed, "That's right, not enough skill, equipment to make it up, Bella Qiaoao, you go to the bed first."

So, Jackie complied and lay flat on her back on the bed.

Moon moved over to one of the soft stools in the dressing room and went to sit on the edge of the bed, right towards her head.

After first warming her hands a bit, this gently began to massage her.

I have to say that Moon's comment that she was bad at it was overly modest.

Because after the experiments that Georgie had conducted, she had in fact proved to be very good at it.

The fingers are soft and strong, not too lightly pressed on the scalp and held in the right place, relaxing the whole thing.

Georgie couldn't help but close her eyes.

The house was so quiet, only the even and delicate breathing of the two men.

Moon helped her relax the various acupuncture points on her scalp and around her eyes before pouring some essential oil on her hands and starting to massage her.

Bella Qiao only felt a faint fragrance of flowers at the tip of her nose, a smell that she had never smelled before, like hundreds of flowers mixed together, yet not letting anyone feel offended, a refreshing feeling.

She couldn't help but ask, "What kind of essential oil is this?"

Xiao Yue explained softly, "This is the Hundred Flowers Oil that I formulated myself, picking flowers that are relaxing and calming, it's very effective for dizziness and headaches."

Bella Qiao nodded silently.

She knew that Moon was telling the truth, because just for a moment, she did feel much more comfortable now that she was just dizzy.

The entire massage lasted a full hour.

In the middle of the day, I don't know if she was really tired or something else, but Bella Qiao even slept over for a while.

But when she woke up and looked at the time, it was only an hour since the massage had first started, and she had fallen asleep long after it had started.

So when you do the math, she's actually only been asleep for ten minutes.

Bella Qiao smiled apologetically, "I'm sorry, it was so comfortable, I fell asleep."

Moon smiled, "It's good that you can fall asleep that means it works for you."

She nodded and pressed for a few more moments until Ober was calling her from outside, which made Moon stop.

Georgie gathered herself up and went out, and saw Ober standing outside with something like a file in his hand.

He smiled, "Miss Qiao, this is what the young master asked me to give you."

Georgie froze and picked it up.

When I looked at it, all I saw was some information about the piece of jade on it.

She looked up and asked Ober, "Where is he?"

Ober smiled, "Young Master just went out on something."

He didn't say what he was giving it to Georgie for, either, but thought he had his reasons for doing so.

In fact, Georgie did know.

So I nodded, "I know, please."

Ober smiled, "No trouble, I'll go down if that's all right."

Bella Qiao nodded.

r

Only after he had left did Georgie turn back to the house and take the file out and look it over.

The only thing I saw was the information about those runes on the jade palm.

According to Care Si Qian's deduction, as well as some of the information he had gathered before, there were a total of twelve pieces of this kind of jade, and each piece should have different symbols on it, symbols that looked rather abstract, but were by no means any kind of writing she knew.

When Bella Qiao was at the Vermilion Bird Society before, she had a slight understanding of ancient texts because there was a friend there who was very fond of ancient texts.

I don't know what those characters mean exactly, but I can still tell, roughly, which period of writing they are from.

But this one, she couldn't recognize it.

The only possibility, other than her talent, was that it was either not textual or...

I don't know what came to mind, but Bella Qiao's eyes darkened a little.

Next to it, Moon also saw the information.

Because she had been following Bella Qiao for a long time now, there were many things that Bella Qiao did not shy away from her.

So there was no avoiding her when I just opened the file to read it.

Xiao Yue asked curiously, "What are these ghost drawn charms on it? Why does it feel familiar?"

Bella Qiao was stunned and turned to look at her in surprise, "Look familiar? You've seen it?"

Moon frowned, as if remembering something, and thought about it for a while before saying, "I think so, I'm not sure, I can't remember all of a sudden."

But the way she said it, that would indicate that it was a real sight to see.

Bella perked up.

Taking her hand in his, he said, "Think quickly, where have we met? It's important, and if you can remember it you'd be doing me a big favor."

Xiao Yue gave a coy smile, "You'll have to give me some time, I just feel a little familiar, maybe I really did accidentally see it somewhere before, but I just can't remember it at the moment."

Georgie nodded, "Okay, I'll give you time to think, but if you ever remember anything, be sure to let me know first."

Moon nodded.

Bella Qiao felt in her heart that if it wasn't really a divine object, then 80% of it was just the other party pretending to be something else.

They've gone to all this trouble to make something like this, but they hide behind it and don't show themselves.

No matter how much he and Gu Siqian investigated, they couldn't find out who made these things and who started that disaster four years ago.

But in any case, the person who could have built it must have known the symbols on it.

Since Moon said that she had seen the symbols on it, it was possible that the other person and Moon knew each other?

Or is there some origin to it? Like going to a place? Or is it simply the same place?

Bella Qiao felt that if Xiao Yue could remember where she had seen this symbol, then she could follow the trail and follow the trail to the other side.

The thought of it made her heart flutter.

Originally, I was thinking of sharing this clue with Gu Siqian, but in the evening, after dinner, I heard that he went out today, was out far away, and should not even be back today.

Kitty Qiao frowned.

And I don't know where he was going.

But she didn't think much of it.

She knew that as long as Gu Siqian went out, Qin Yue would definitely follow.

He's never lacked security around him, and he's vigilant himself, so nothing should happen.

Chapter 868

Thinking that, she settled down.

This night, however, she slept and never felt quite right.

I don't know what's going on, but it just feels a bit stuffy, like there's a stone on the spot in her heart that makes her almost about to throw up.

Jackie was awakened in the middle of the night.

There was a rush of footsteps outside, and she rolled out of bed and ran to the window to see.

I saw that the whole castle was lit up, and there were cars and people running around outside, all of them in a hurry and in a state of confusion.

She had a bad feeling about this and looked at the time, just before three in the morning.

At this time, about the time she heard the noise, Moon also came running from outside.

She was still in her pajamas, with only a thin coat over them.

Seeing her lying on the window, she said urgently, "Miss Jo, how are you? All right?"

In the meantime, Bella Qiao turned to her and looked at her, "What's going on out there?"

Moon said urgently, "I don't know, it's like they said someone, who dropped a bomb on the town, is going to fight!"

Bella Qiao was startled.

A war?

How is that possible?

Who didn't know that this side was Gu Siqian's territory, and although the Dragon Mission had declined over the past two years, it wasn't so bad that people could move directly over it.

She lowered her eyebrows and asked, "Where's Gu Si Qian?"

Xiao Yue looked as if she was so anxious that she was about to cry, trembling, "I was just about to say this, I was just woken up, it was when I heard that the young master was back and badly injured that I rushed over to look for you."

Bella Qiao shook hard.

She said quietly, "Is he hurt?What time is it?"

"I don't know, I just heard."

"Where are the others?"

"It's been sent back."

As soon as Moon's voice trailed off, the woman who had been in front of her the previous second had fled out.

She was so shocked that she called out, "Sister Bella Qiaoao, the injury on your leg..."

How could Bella Qiao care about her own injuries.

Full of scenes of Gu Si Qian's injuries.

Is he badly hurt?

How is that possible?

Didn't you say you've got security? And who would do it to him so soon?

Her heart was beating so fast that it didn't take long for her to run upstairs to the main building.

Only at this time did they realize that the first floor was filled with people, not only the maids and Qin Yue and the others, but even Lin Song had arrived and were all gathered around the bedroom door.

Her face turned pale and she walked over quickly.

"Where are the people?"

When Qin Yue saw her, he even said respectfully, "It's in the bedroom."

Bella Qiao lifted her steps to go inside, but Lin Song held her back.

Lin Song looked at her with deep eyes and said: "Si Qian was injured by a bomb, the other party came prepared, so he was seriously injured this time. Go inside and change first."

He said, and had a sterile suit brought in.

Bella Qiao didn't even think about it, she just put it on.

Once she was all cleaned up, she turned to Lin Song and asked, "Is it okay now?"

Lin Song nodded.

It was only after Qin Yue and the others who were guarding the door that she was let in.

Bella Qiao came to Gu Si Qian's bedroom.

But this time, when she came back in, even though there had only been a few short days in between, it felt like a strange and cold world inside, a place she hadn't been to at all.

I saw that a large wooden board had been placed on the bed in the centre of the bedroom, which was covered with a white sheet and surrounded by a white curtain.

Even the feet, she could see, had been temporarily paved.

The house smelled faintly of disinfectant, so it was conceivable that they should have been back for a while.

At this time, Ober was standing next to the bed, looking worried and distressed.

On the other side of the bed, a blond foreign doctor, and two assistants, were engrossed in operating on the man in the bed.

They were so focused that they didn't even notice the sudden addition of a person in the house.

Bella Qiao walked over silently.

Ober saw her after all, and his mouth moved, "There you are, Miss Jo."

Bella Qiao did not speak.

Didn't even look at him.

The eyes just remained motionless on the one lying on the bed.

I saw that the man was as pale as paper, and his clothes had been removed to reveal hideous wounds.

On the shoulders, stomach, legs, arms, all of it.

Even the head was wrapped in bandages.

The normally strong and domineering man was now lying there as weak and unconscious as a lifeless piece of paper.

Her tears, all at once, came flooding back.

But Georgie hardened it and didn't let it roll out of her eyes.

She knew that she couldn't cry at this point.

With the current chaos and Gu Si Qian in this state, if she cried again, not only would it not help the current situation, but it would also easily disturb the military and make everyone panic even more.

So, she had to be strong.

She turned her head and asked Ober in a low voice, "What did the doctor just say?"

She knew that the doctor would come over and say something.

Ober said quietly, "No major injuries, but it's not easy, and we'll see everything after the surgery."

Bella Qiao nodded.

She took a deep breath and watched for a moment longer before retreating without a word.

Outside, everyone is still holding on.

Seeing her come out, one by one they also surged forward anxiously, inquiring about Gu Siqian's condition.

Bella Qiao didn't reply, only looked at Qin Yue and said in a deep voice, "What's going on today?"

Qin Yue's face was also very unpleasant.

After all, Gu Si Qian went out with him and his escort.

But now, he and the team under his command were fine, but Gu Siqian was seriously injured, which didn't make any sense.

Therefore, he was now in a very difficult mood.

It's worse than all that shrapnel sticking out of me.

But Georgie's question, he would answer.

But since the place was crowded and not very convenient, he said in a quiet voice, "Miss Qiao, please lend me a moment to talk."

I said, leading her to the other end of the hallway.

Bella Qiao didn't say anything and followed.

Only when he reached the end of the corridor did Qin Yue stop, turn around, and whisper, "We've been ambushed."

Georgie frowned, "What do you mean?"

Qin Yue said in a deep voice, "Today Young Master originally took me with him to the city next door to discuss a business deal, because it's too late and it's not convenient to rush back tonight, so I'm going to return tomorrow morning."

Chapter 869

"But it never occurred to me that when we all went to bed at night, there was a sudden explosion in the young master's room."

"When we broke in, we saw that the room was on fire, and we fought to get the young master out, but he was still badly injured."

"Since we couldn't find out who had tampered with it, we drove all the way back."

Bella Qiao's brow furrowed deeply at the news.

She asked quietly, "Didn't you check carefully when you were staying at the hotel?"

Qin Yue said in a deep voice, "It's been checked."

Bella Qiao was startled.

She noticed that Qin Yue's face had a complex and hateful expression, and with a slight change of heart, she guessed it.

"A traitor?"

Qin Yue clenched his fists and nodded his head.

"Is it the escort?"

Qin Yue nodded again.

Bella Qiao breathed a sigh of relief.

It's no wonder then.

The traitor is out of the guard, and the other side can just plant a bomb in the room at any convenient time and no one will notice.

Her face was not sinking.

Others didn't know, but she knew very well that the guards around Gu Siqian were all strictly screened through layer after layer.

Most of them are fatherless orphans and have no attachments in this world, so they are not afraid of being threatened and persecuted.

And Gu Si Qian had always treated them well, much less the possibility of defecting because of benefits.

Most importantly, as far as she knew, a large portion of these people were actually children that the Gu family had supported since childhood and had grown up to become Gu Siqian's right hand man.

From the grace of childhood, this loyalty can be imagined.

And now, the traitor is among these people....

Bella Qiao felt that the fog that was in front of her was starting to appear again, enveloping one's eyes and making it hard to see what was ahead.

She fell silent, and along with her, there was also Qin Yue.

Qin Yue was, at this time, not to mention how remorseful he was.

Because although those guards were Gu Siqian's people, he was the one who managed the training and taught them in normal times.

In other words, Gu Siqian had put his most elite troops, as well as his own life, all in his hands.

However, he betrayed the other party's trust by not only failing to identify the spy among his own men in time, but also causing him to be seriously injured.

Qin Yue could only hate to kill himself with a gun now.

Naturally, Bella Qiao sensed his emotions, reached out, and patted his shoulder.

"You're not to blame for this, you don't need to blame yourself too much."

There was no way that Qin Yue could see someone that even Gu Siqian did not perceive.

Moreover, maybe the other party had been lurking in the guard all along, and normally didn't show the slightest flaw at all, just for today's fatal blow.

So, this was an ace in the opponent's hand, and how could they easily let this ace be discovered?

Bella Qiao understood this, but Qin Yue threw himself in blame.

Bella Qiao saw no reluctance, she knew that any enlightenment on her part would be useless to him at this time.

So, just a quiet voice, "Where are those people? Is it under control?"

Qin Yue nodded, "A total of eighteen people, all under control."

Bella Qiao also nodded.

"Fear not as long as people are in control, find a way, find out how this Man, pry his mouth open and see who that master is behind him."

Bella Qiao's words gave Qin Yue a fierce shock.

Subconsciously, he straightened his chest and resoundingly responded, "Yes."

Bella Qiao waved her hand, "You go down and do it first, this is the most important thing at the moment, Gu Si Qian has me on his side, and also you Ober, don't worry."

Only then did Qin Yue nod gratefully and turned around to leave.

Georgie went back to the bedroom door again and saw that Ober was out as well.

She walked over to him and asked, "How's it going?"

Ober's brow was locked, it had only been a few hours, but suddenly it seemed as if he had aged several years all of a sudden.

He said in a quiet voice, "The situation hasn't slowed down, it needs a blood transfusion now, I'll send someone to get a blood pack."

Georgie nodded, and only then did Ober leave quickly.

Moon, seeing her disorientation, moved a chair over and placed it behind her.

"Jojo, your leg is still hurting, so why don't you sit and wait."

Bella Qiao was stunned and subconsciously wanted to shake her head, but Ober, who had already left, turned back and frowned at her, "Sit and wait, Young Master will definitely want to see you first thing when he wakes up, and if he finds you in a bad state, it will also make him worry."

When Bella Qiao saw this, she pursed her lips and said, "I know."

Then, before sitting down.

The operation, which lasted about an hour and a half.

After Ober took the plasma, he went back in.

It didn't take long for the doctors to come out together.

Everyone stood up and asked in unison, "How's it going?"

The doctor nodded and said, "It's stabilized, but he's not completely out of danger yet, and there's another forty-eight hours of danger ahead, so you send two trusted men in to take care of him, and remember to keep your voices down, and when we get through those forty-eight hours, everything will be perfectly fine."

The crowd just let up.

Two trustworthy and time-sensitive people, naturally, were Georgie and Ober.

They all changed without much hesitation and went in.

Opal was in charge of arranging his nutrition for these, and Georgie stayed with him, keeping an eye on his condition.

The house was filled with a strong smell of disinfectant and alcohol and fresh blood.

Bella Qiao's eyes were a little red as she looked at the man lying quietly on the bed, his body covered in gauze.

She sat down on the chair beside the bed and said softly, "Gu Si Qian, you better wake up for me, if anything happens to you, I tell you, I'm not done with you!"

The man lay there quietly, without sound or response.

She suddenly missed the old him.

The old Gu Si Qian, though, always liked to annoy her and would act like a child at every turn, playing some childish tantrum with her.

And the man, who was pretty bad then, was always breaking her heart.

But Bella Qiao still somehow felt that the Gu Siqian like that was better, more vivid.

Not like now, lying dead on the bed like a completely lifeless puppet.

She raised her hand and took his hand from under the covers.

Placing that hand on the side of his cheek, he said softly, "Gu Si Qian, I'll tell you a secret, right?"

The man in the bed certainly didn't respond.

But as if she couldn't feel it, she said to herself, "I'll tell you what, I actually used to say I hated you all the time and all that, but it was all a lie."
