

My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 881

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 881-Mrs. Bailey, as in Susan Bailey?

Her assistant took thirteen lives?

Behind the stage, Susan's hands clenched tightly.

She really did not want to be seen in a press conference like this, but faced with Charmine's threat, she had no choice but to walk out and stand on the platform.

An assistant handed a microphone to Susan. She accepted and said to the people below,

"Yes, Anthony is right. Indeed, my assistant persuaded the people to commit suicide, but this has nothing to do with me-it's between him and Charmine due to certain grudges.

"Since the Bailey Corporation and the Jordan Group are partners, we always have a few meetings, and it was during one of those meetings that Samson fell for Charmine and tried to chase her.

"However, Charmine ruthlessly rejected him, shifting Samson's adoration into hatred. He attacked the Jordan Group in an attempt to get revenge."

After hearing what she said, everyone in the audience was shocked.

There was such a story behind the thirteen deaths?

An assistant trying to chase Charmine? How was that possible? 1 Susan continued, "I heard someone was spreading rumors that there are people behind Samson and would still attack the Jordan Group. Please be cautious; this isn't true.

"I absolutely abhor Samson's actions. His family had consulted him, and nobody will make the same mistake twice. With this, staff members from the Jordan Group can work at ease!"

It disgusted Susan to have said it but she had no choice. To stop the three Bailey companies from falling into Charmine's hands, she had to 'help' Charmine come clean.

All thanks to that foolish Waverly, of course. She would not have been in this predicament had it not been for her!

Waverly felt bad as well. Max and her planned all of this to ruin the Jordan Group. Never did they think that the plan had only gone on for one day and this happened!

At that moment, she had no choice but to stand up for Charmine...

Anthony stood on the platform and announced to the public, "Although this has nothing to do with my mother, it was due to her lack of leadership. The Bailey Corporation had decided to fund all the staff at Jordan Group for a hundred million insurance." 1

With that said, two staff from the insurance company carried a big board to the stage. On the board, three big words were printed, [Hundred Million Insurance].

Below the board were a few smaller words which read,

[If an accident occurs where the worker is forced or plotted to be harmed or even dead, the maximum compensation goes up to a hundred million!]

Everyone was stunned.

Forget Anthony personally standing up for Charmine, but he even asked his fiancée and his mother to stand up for the Jordan Group!

It did not stop there. He even bought them a hundred million insurance!

There were so many people in the Jordan Group. How much would he spend?

Was Anthony too protective of the Jordan Group? 1

Anthony remained calm as usual. He looked at Charmine who was below the stage. "May I invite Miss Jordan to come up for a signature?"

Charmine walked up to the stage, all eyes on her as she did.

Although Waverly stood next to Anthony, the signature spot on the board happened to be where she was standing at. 1

She must make way for Charmine...

She was unwilling but thinking of her plan, she eventually made way elegantly.

Charmine walked over.

Meanwhile, Anthony walked to the front of the board with a golden pen in hand. He signed on the board handsomely.

After signing, he handed the pen to Charmine.

Charmine received the pen and signed her name.

The two names looked so well together. She could not help thinking of the time when they signed their marriage certificate.

Despite the hurdles, Anthony always made it happen that they both stay within the closest distance...

Out of the blue, an uproar was heard downstairs...as a group of people rushed in!

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 882-There were all reporters from Kansas.

Barging into the venue, they raised their microphones and challenged,

“Mr. Bailey, may I ask why you said our Kansas’ No.1 Wealthy Heiress was lying? What evidence do you have?”

‘Your engagement with Ms. Waverly helped to seal the deal between the two countries. Are you neglecting her after achieving so?’

“Could you give US an explanation for the way you treated Ms. Waverly and the people from Kansas?”

‘There are only a few staff resigning, and you’re hosting a big press conference. Why didn’t you host a press conference for Ms. Waverly?’

“Who’s your actual fiancée?”

Each question was strongly and clearly articulated.

The local reporters realized, too. These were the actual questions they wanted to ask-they had no interest in this insurance!

Relationships made better gossip!

With that, everyone below the stage turned their gazes to the people on the stage with speculations and doubts.

Charmine frowned. So many people showed up...

Waverly remained unusually calm. She instantly pushed Charmine away and walked to Anthony, hooking her arm around his.

'You've all misunderstood. This isn't what you think; Anthony and I are very much in love,' she spoke as she leaned closer toward Anthony, somewhat portraying a blissful couple.

She knew Anthony would not shrug her off with so many eyes on them!

Indeed, Anthony did not push her away. He remained standing, allowing her to glue herself on him.

He had worn steel all over him before coming to the press conference. Even if she leaned on him, it was merely ice-cold steel. 1

However, this feeling was already bad enough for him.

"Send them all out!" ordered Anthony coldly, words strong and domineering.

The bodyguards instantly stood up and pushed out the reporters from Kansas.

Someone scoffed, "Anthony, are you always solving problems by force?" 1

"Why are you not replying? Why don't you answer?"

“We’re not listening to Waverly’s reply. We want you to explain in person!”

All riled up, the reporters fought the bodyguards and were unwilling to leave.

They must get their answers at this moment!

Although the bodyguards were sending them out, these people were from Kansas, and they could not harm them.

The situation was a mess.

Suddenly, Fredrick, who sat in the front row, stood up. “Settle down, everyone. Anthony and my daughter have some little amusements between them. The lie Anthony referred to was just a small surprise

Waverly prepared for him. Anthony has always been conservative, and it’s normal for him to not like the surprise, but he’s always loved my daughter. Why else would they get engaged, no? Why would he take on the live- streaming interview for her?”

Standing on the platform, Charmine’s eyelids twitched slightly. Fredrick would actually speak up for Anthony?

What a drag this turned out...

As expected, seeing that everyone was still suspicious, Fredrick turned to Anthony and said,

“Anthony, there’re so many people in here. Since everyone is still unconvinced, reassure them!”

“Right! We’ve never seen any intimate gestures between you two! We need at least a French kiss to believe!" 1

"Kiss! Kiss! Kiss!" chanted everyone at the conference.

Waverly leaned against Anthony, sheepishly saying, "Anthony, it's just a kiss. Once we kiss, they won't doubt US anymore, and the deal between the two countries won't be affected."

Could Anthony reject her in this situation?

Since she said her mind, the reporters from Kansas would fuss over the situation if Anthony rejected her, and things would get out of hand.

Anthony's expression was like a darkened cloud.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 883-As Anthony was about to push her away, the corner of his eyes caught Charmine's expression.

Charmine gently lowered her eyes unnoticeably.

Was that a look of compliance?

She was okay with him French-kissing another woman!?

Was she wanting to get punished again?

Charmine was worried he would genuinely push Waverly away, distressed that the situation would get out of hand. She gave another look at Anthony.

Anthony successfully read her. He vaguely understood that she had some other plans.

He was intrigued. In this situation, what other plans could she have?

Facing all the reporters below the stage, Anthony had to lower his face, slowly closing on Waverly's lips, steadily...

That speed, it was as if time had stopped.

The initially rambunctious crowd fell deathly silent, quiet as they watched the scene.

Was Anthony about to kiss Waverly? Were they about to kiss...?

Susan was only satisfied by that.

Wonderful. Waverly was finally making progress! She actually arranged this!

Just one kiss, and their relationship would bloom! 1

According to some scientific research, certain hormones would be secreted when two people kissed that would help develop the feeling of being in love.

As for Charmine?

She was merely a nobody, and all she could do was watch on helplessly. Hah!

Indeed, Charmine was watching along with everyone else.

The dashing man was closing in toward the beautiful woman, and such a sight was picturesque, much like a fairytale.

Watching that the two were getting closer, the moment when Anthony's lips were about to graze Waverly's...

The standing Waverly suddenly batted her eyelids shut. Caught off-guard, she fell on the stage. 1

Waverly fainted... She fainted just as they were reaching the climax!

There was a short period of silence. After a moment...

“Waverly!”

Fredrick and Max called out, rushing up the stage in worry.

That brought Anthony out of his mini-trance. So that was the final move?

She actually made Waverly faint in front of everyone?

Anthony’s originally tensed face eased as he knelt down, shaking Waverly.

Waverly did not move.

“Ambulance!” he ordered Luke. “Ambulance!”

Remove this woman, quickly! He did not want to put on the act with her any longer!

However, the crowd saw his anxious face and assumed he was worried.

Anthony was that worried about Waverly? He really loved Waverly all along?

Had they assumed wrongly the whole time?

Meanwhile, Max walked up the stage as he glared at Charmine and Anthony coldly. He spoke to them in a very low and soft voice that only they could hear, “If I find out that either one of you did this to Waverly, be ready for hell to pay!” 1

He did not believe Waverly would faint out of the blue.

It must have been Anthony and Charmine, pulling at the strings

Fredrick also bent down on the floor. He started to check on Waverly’s pulse.

Although he was the No.1 Surgery Doctor in the world, he also had insights on other diseases.

The D’Cruz family was not only good at plastic surgery, but they also had great medical expertise and understanding.

Waverly was his only and favorite daughter. Whoever tried to harm his daughter would face his ultimate wrath!

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 884-Susan walked toward them. “Fredrick, do have a thorough check. Find out why Waverly faints!”

She was fine all the while. Why did she suddenly faint?

Charmine must have done something.

If Charmine actually attacked Waverly in this public event, Charmine would be over!

Unfortunately...

After doing a series of checks, Fredrick frowned as he confessed, “Waverly had anemia. It’s caused by the lack of nutrients in her body.”

That shocked everyone.

That was it—just Waverly with anemia?

“Father, did you actually check?” asked Max in disbelief.

“She just has a weak pulse. Don’t make random guesses.”

Fredrick did not believe it, but that was the truth.

“No need for an ambulance, Anthony,” he decided, “just take Waverly home and care for her.”

“Okay.” Anthony seemed to have worried about Waverly as he removed his suit and covered Waverly with it. He carried her and walked out with her in his arms.

Since they did not kiss, even a hug was a good ending. It helped that he had steel all over his body, so it did not matter.

Charmine did not mind, too.

Nobody knew that she had one of Waverly's acupoints with a needle, resulting in that 'weakened pulse'. 1

Nobody would find out what happened, and what Waverly had to face in the future would... Haha!

On the same day, news of the event went viral.

[Waverly Not Only A Stupid Liar But Is Also Weak?] 3

The comment section criticized the matter.

[Poor President Bailey. He was about to kiss his fiancée, yet she fainted?]

[Why is Waverly so troublesome? She angered her mother-in-law and now she's out cold?]

[Was she the one refusing to get married? She arranged for so much embarrassing news to cancel the engagement?]

Inside the villa...

Susan kept watch over Waverly by her bedside. When she read the articles, she was enraged.

Waverly was such a troublesome heiress! What did the Baileys do to her? Why did she faint?

They were so close to kissing. The ending would have been different if they actually did...yet she was that useless?

Opening her eyes, Waverly was met with Susan's glowering face.

She frowned suspiciously. What... What happened?

Was she not kissing Anthony? Why was she here? Why did Susan look...

Seeing that she woke up, Susan frowned. "Waverly, you're finally awake. Do you know that you fainted at the wrong time? Do you know what you missed?"

She sounded angry.

Waverly frowned. She vaguely recalled what happened.

Back then, she suddenly felt dizzy and failed to stop herself from fainting.

Susan was blaming her!

She instantly explained, "Auntie, it's not what you think! Someone framed me; it must be Charmine!

My body has always been well, and it's impossible for me to faint..."

"Are you saying your father is an incompetent doctor? He personally checked on you!" argued Susan with a cold expression.

Waverly's heart sank. Her father? Even Fredrick could not find out why she fainted?

Curse that Charmine! Why did she harm her this way?!

"Waverly, I hope you can be more cautious next time and seize on the opportunity you get," scoffed

Susan. "Don't always cause trouble!"

Waverly's eyelids jumped. She was the heiress of the D'Cruz family! How could anyone speak to her with such a tone?

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 885- Waverly's face stiffened abruptly as gazed at Susan, displeased. "Auntie

Susan, is this how you're speaking to me? Aren't you forgetting something?" 1

Susan frowned.

Waverly continued, "Don't forget: I'm the heiress of the D'Cruz family from Kansas. The D'Cruz family is a noble family equivalent to royalty." 3

In other words, she was equivalent to a princess, yet Susan spoke to her with such an attitude?

She stared at Susan and reminded her, "I just planned on being their decoy from the start, but it was you who insisted on matching US, hoping we'd get engaged soon. To be fair, Anthony has a son and relations with Charmine. I'm chaste, and it's my loss to get engaged with him! It all came to this point, and I didn't want it either. I'm upset. How can you, as my future mother-in-law, condemn me instead of comforting me?"

Her tone was of a warning, lecturing tone.

Susan's face stiffened. She felt her cheeks turned hot and painful.

Was Waverly lecturing her, speaking of her son so lowly as though she abhorred him, calling it her loss? 1

Even if what she said was true, her son, Anthony was the ideal partner of so many women!

Just receiving a glance from him was a gain for her!

While she fell out with him, Anthony was her son, and only she could berate him. No one else could do so!

Face turning greenish-purple, Susan seethed, "I'm creating opportunity for you two. I thought Anthony would fall for you, thinking highly of Ms.

Waverly's capability, but it had been so long and the two of you made no progress! If you claim that it was me forcing you two to get engaged, and now that you two aren't getting along, why not consider telling everyone the truth?"
2

Susan did not believe Waverly would actually give up on Anthony. She was just making a scene! 1

As expected, Waverly's face turned purple.

She thought Susan would be intimidated if she reminded her of her background, but who would have thought Susan would counter in such a way? 1

In that case, would she accept Charmine as her daughter-in-law?

No way. For her future plan, she could not fall out with Susan!

Waverly had to lower her tone, "Auntie, of course I want to make progress with Anthony. As you know, Charmine was able to make the reporters from Kansas go away. Without the reporters waiting outside, she spends time with Anthony every day, and I can't even speak to him. Even when we have one chance to be alone, Chris would use that robot to annoy me. They don't give me any chance to develop feelings with him! If you could help me, perhaps the situation could improve."

Susan smirked coldly. Ah, was she not begging her at last?

She was her mother-in-law; it was only right for Waverly to act this way!

However, based on Waverly's background, Susan would keep it in.

She said to Waverly, I'll think of something. Wait for my news. By tomorrow, I'll give you two an opportunity to spend time together. I hope you can appreciate the opportunity by then."

'Thank you, Auntie," replied Waverly.

Leaving Waverly, Susan got to her car and sat in it, displeased.

It seemed that Waverly was just like Charmine-they were not as simple.

If one of the two became her daughter-in-law, she would likely suffer. 1

Somehow, she suddenly thought of McKenzie.

McKenzie always did research and inventions; she was the simplest of all. Unfortunately, she had neglected McKenzie for a long while. 2

She took out her phone and dialed McKenzie's phone.

Inside the lab, McKenzie was drinking coffee and watching the news. When she saw Susan calling, her red lips curled up brilliantly.

While both sides waged war, she started to make gains out of it.

After answering the call, her voice was gentle and formal as usual. "Auntie."

"McKenzie, have you been busy recently? I've got things in need of your favor tomorrow. Do you have time?" asked Susan.

Tomorrow would be her last time helping Waverly. If she failed again, she would give up on her!

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 886-"Do let me know if I can do anything for you," offered McKenzie. "However busy I am, I'll make time to help."

1

Susan was delighted. McKenzie truly was the best, one less trickier and less fussy.

She would have matched McKenzie with Anthony had it not been for Waverly inserting herself in the picture.

She said, "So, I guess you've seen the news lately? Anthony is in a relationship with Waverly, but it's ingenuine-it's to seal a deal. I didn't know about it in the beginning. I thought they loved each other, so I pushed them together, neglecting you in the process. I do believe you still stand a chance. As long as you help me tomorrow and invite all close friends to the Bailey mansion, I'll put you and Anthony together after tomorrow if they still don't get along."

McKenzie scoffed inwardly; Susan made it sound so pleasant. A man who had many ties with countless women, and she said McKenzie could only 'stand a chance'? She sounded as if she was rewarding her.

McKenzie would have kicked him far away had it been any other man, but this was Anthony, the best among all amazing men in the world! 1

She said elegantly, "Okay, don't worry, Auntie. I'll help you, and I understand your predicament."

"Alrighty, that's the spirit!"

On that day.

After sorting out matters regarding the Jordan Group and calming the staff, Charmine felt grateful.

It was too small a matter to ask Anthony to speak up for her, so she had to thank Anthony well.

She was shopping in the mall, picking some gifts for Anthony and Chris. It was already ten at night when she got home, and upon entering, she saw Anthony and Waverly sitting in the living room.

Waverly was saying something to Anthony while he remained stoic, apathetic.

Seeing Charmine coming in, Waverly's lips curled into an elegant and formal smile. "Charmine, you came back at the right time. There's something I need to tell you. Tomorrow, the Houstons, Stevens, and others will go to the Bailey mansion for a gathering. It's so rare for them to gather, and they'd bring along their family.

“Mrs. Bailey called today, saying Mr. Bailey and I must attend, or I’ll fail as a daughter-in-law. She’d rather consider Annabel as her daughter-in-law instead!”

Charmine’s eyelids jumped.

She was threatening them with Annabel?

Of course, Annabel was safely hidden in Violet Villa, but if they found her still in an unstable state, anything could happen. 1

Charmine remained silent for a moment as she walked over. “Isn’t it just a banquet? It’s not like Anthony and you haven’t attended one before. Go if you want to, as long as you can endure it.”

Her words were ominous, domineering.

Waverly thought of the images of how she attended events with Anthony. Either they treated one another formally, or they were attacked by the press.

Whenever she hooked her arm around Anthony’s, it was always cold steel.

It would be the same tomorrow!

No, Susan would help her tomorrow. Everything would be different!

“Alright, see you at nine tomorrow morning.” Waverly’s lips curled up elegantly as she walked away.

Charmine did not seem to care as she walked to Anthony. “See what I got for you.”

With that said, she handed a small box over.

Anthony frowned. So, this woman finally had a heart. She bought him something at last? 1

However...

After receiving the box, he simply put it by the side and pulled Charmine into a hug.

Caught off-guard, Charmine fell and sat on his lap as his arms hooked around her waist, her body tight against him. 1

She could smell the scent on his body, and it sent her heart racing. "What ...?"

Anthony looked at her intensely, and his thin lips curved into a small smile.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 887-"Let me unwrap my present," he spoke, voice husky and magnetic as he raised his hand and unbuttoned the buttons on her suit, helping her remove her suit.

Charmine's cheeks flushed red. Unwrap his present?

He was removing her suit, and he called it 'unwrapping his present'?

However, after a moment, she vaguely understood...

Lips half-curved, Anthony carried her and walked upstairs.

To him, she was the best present.

Panicking, Charmine quickly reached out to grab the box as he carried her upstairs.

Waverly had not gone inside her room by then, and she heard their conversation and saw what they did.

Charmine's suit was left on the sofa, a silent showcase of their romance.

They just did not hold back in front of her!

She was so envious that it could tear her apart. Her hands clenched tightly.

Hold it. She must hold it!

Tomorrow during the banquet, she had to make progress with Anthony and make sure Charmine paid for what she had done to her!

On the second floor...

Charmine was placed in bed as Anthony unbuttoned his white shirt, one button at a time, his movement elegant yet passionate.

Charmine gulped. Her heartbeat fastened.

Although Anthony said he would not touch her before marriage, they only held back the last part. Who knew what else he would do?

She quickly handed the box to him. "Why don't you unbox this? I picked this for you."

'There's no hurry. I can unbox the gift tomorrow, our night is running out,' he said as he turned off the light and leaned forward.

Charmine's eyelashes fluttered. Their night was running out...

Right, tomorrow morning, Anthony would have to go back to the Bailey mansion with Waverly. The two had to be seen together in public while she could only

She stopped struggling and allowed his heavy body to lean toward her. She reminded him worriedly, 'They might do things to you tomorrow. Do be careful.'

Anthony raised his eyebrows when she spoke, accompanied with a playful look that was rare from him.

“If I’m drugged and have to sleep with another woman, what would you do?”

Eyes narrowed, Charmine answered instinctively, “It’s not like it didn’t happen before. Your child is five years old.”

With that said, their bodies stiffened.

Five years ago, the drugged-out Anthony slept with Annabel, resulting in her birthing Chris.

Present-day Annabel still bore Anthony’s child as she rested on the third floor of a villa not far away.

They were so absorbed with matters regarding Annabel that they forgot about Annabel.

Annabel was the only woman Anthony had slept with...

The atmosphere felt somewhat thick.

Anthony’s expression fell. “I’m sorry, my lady.”

His low voice sheltered a rare glint of gentleness as his large hand kindly fixed her hair. He lowered his head and kissed her between her brows.

Charmine closed her eyes gently, allowing him to kiss her.

Every time she thought of Annabel, she felt restricted, bound.

He was her man, yet he had a child with another woman. He even had her baring another.

On second thought, she did not have a chaste body either. She did not have the right to feel so.

It would have been perfect, dare she dreamed, if Anthony was the man who deflowered her five years ago, that she birthed Chris instead.

If Anthony was the man from five years ago, how good would it have been?

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 888- Alas, that would never be.

Annabel and Chris had a DNA test, after all... 2

Noticing that Charmine lost focus and was silent, Anthony kissed her on her lips, one that pulled her back to reality. She fell into his gentle and seductive kiss. 1

A night of gentleness, it was.

The next morning when Charmine woke up, there was no sign of Anthony by her side.

She did notice, however, that the box was opened and the gift was taken. There was a slip of paper inside that read, [The size is right, soft and sweet.]

<https://noveldrama.com/warning-my-mommy-is-a-savage-by-seeking-a-peaceful-life/r851088.html> 2/4

The words were powerfully written, but they emanated a hint of warmth in it.

Charmine's lips twitched. This man! She bought her a pocket square-did he have to make it sound so loving?

She noticed that he would have a pocket square on the left side of his suit whenever he went out. She thought it would be satisfying if he could go out wearing a gift she gave him.

For Chris, on the other hand, she prepared a small bear clip.

He would look adorable with it.

Unfortunately, she overslept, and Chris was already in school.

It was only eight in the morning...

Worried that Waverly would invoke her wrath, Anthony woke up early in the morning and woke Chris up. They went downstairs early in the morning.

Waverly intentionally put on a set of leopard-skin top with a skirt that beautifully showcased her long legs.

The accessories on her were worth at least ten million in total. 2

She woke up early so she could show off to Charmine. She wanted her to get jealous.

Who would have thought that all she got was an exchange between Anthony and Chris, "Be good, and don't wake up your Mommy. She needs sleep."

"Alright, then." Momo pouted. He touched his bear pin and decided he would thank his mother in the afternoon.

Waverly saw the pocket square on Anthony and the bear pin on Chris, and her eyes were filled with darkness and hatred. 1

They wore the things Charmine gifted to them so daringly! They were intentionally hurting her!

Luckily, she had arrangements today.

Charmine would never be able to be with Anthony again!

The banquet was hosted in the Bailey mansion's garden.

Early that morning, the maids had tidied up the garden. It was so clean that there was not even dust on the ground.

It was mid-autumn with all the flowers blooming. It was a garden of a few thousand square meters. There was a whole patch of golden flowers.

McKenzie came early to accompany Susan. She helped in decorating the scene.

Susan looked at McKenzie, her lips curled up with satisfaction.

"McKenzie, if only you can be with Anthony. You're my favorite daughter-in-law."

"Auntie, we can't force feelings. I did try, but if Anthony doesn't like me, I don't hope to make it so awkward.

As long as we can be friends." McKenzie's words were rational and formal.

Susan sighed. "If only Waverly thinks the same way you do. Do you know, she's so dumb that she got me into trouble twice! Whatever, let's not talk about it. We'll see after today."

McKenzie narrowed her eyes. After today...

It seemed more good drama would unfold.

As the sun went up, more and more people started to arrive.

Everyone brought their sons, daughters-in-law, daughters, and everyone in between.

Susan would usually host such gatherings at the end of the year, inviting these opportunistic friends, but this year, she made it earlier.

It seemed many wealthy ladies did not want to come, considering the jewelry they ordered for the end-of-year gathering had not arrived. They did not get to show off.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 889- However, Susan spoke out, and the Houstons sided with them. As the two major families took the lead, they had to comply.

Even though they were not pleased, they all still greeted one another with enthusiasm.

When the seniors got together, every one of them gloated about their sons or daughters.

Somehow, the topic took such a turn...

“My son and his wife are on good terms. They went to a gathering a few days ago and took the dance floor like a prince and a princess.”

him.”

“I’ll ask my daughter and her husband to dance for you all. They won an international award a few days ago, and it’s a shame none of you were able to bear witness to it,” spoke another, and the couple actually went ahead to start dancing. 1

Their dance was stunning. The two looked so much in love, much to the envy of the seniors.

With that, the rest of the sons and daughters went ahead to perform.

Between the self-seeking friends, nobody wanted to lose.

By noon, when everyone had finished showcasing, someone piped up, “Oh,

Mrs. Bailey, where's your son and his fiancée?"

Susan had looked at the entrance countless times, riddled with anxiety.

Was Waverly so useless that she could not even bring Anthony?

Just as the thought occurred to her, two figures appeared by the entrance.

One was in a suit, dashing as he could be, while the other was in an expensive top, a very wealthy heiress. 1

The two stood out so much in the crowd, captivating and stunning everyone as they walked in.

When the other wealthy heiresses saw Waverly, they turned bitter and jealous. 1

Waverly was from Kansas, thus her face features were more defined than theirs.

She had a foreign sense of beauty, as if she walked out from a classic oil painting.

Even the aura she emanated overshadowed theirs.

Only McKenzie remained cold and calm.

She glanced at Waverly's face, and a glint of unnoticeable darkness appeared in her eyes.

Fredrick D'Cruz's surgery technique was so flawless. He was indeed the best in the world. 3

The wealthy ladies quickly regained their composure. They started calling out to them,

“Perfect timing. Anthony, Waverly, you came at the right time! Everyone here has performed. It’s your turn now!”

“They danced and sang. Anthony, why don’t you and Waverly perform a piece on the piano,” gushed Susan as she did not give Anthony a chance to talk back.

She asked people to move the piano up.

She had surveyed Waverly’s background: She could draw, read, write, and play the piano. Her level was as high as grade ten.

If Anthony could play the piano with Waverly, he would surely be wooed by her talent, and they would become closer.

The rest agreed. “Right, I haven’t heard Anthony play the piano for so long. This gathering only happens once a year. Play something.”

Sitting among the flowers, Grandma Bailey looked at Anthony. “Anthony, Grandma wants to hear you play.

Perhaps I’m getting old, but I miss the times when you learned the piano back then.”

Anthony remained apathetic. Nobody could tell what he was thinking.

As he remained silent, everyone waited for him.

His presence always made the atmosphere more tense.

Waverly was extremely worried. Even Grandma Bailey spoke out. Would Anthony turn her down?

She would be so embarrassed if Anthony did so!

With that in mind, she leaned closer to Anthony and said in a volume that only he could hear, "Anthony, just one day. Think of Annabel."

Her tone was menacing.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 890- Anthony's eyes grew a layer of frost.

Was she genuinely threatening him? He had to put her in her place. 2

He walked toward the piano and sat down elegantly.

Waverly exhaled in relief. Perfect-she managed to intimidate Anthony! 4

At last, she could perform something with him in public!

She walked over and sat down.

Susan and Grandma Bailey let out a breath of relief, pleased with the outcome.

Thus, everyone waited silently.

Anthony's delicate fingers landed on the keyboard as he started his performance. The beautiful sound came out from the piano, and it was Rachmaninoff's Piano Concerto No. 3.

This was the most difficult piano concerto in the world!

A famous music critic once described the performance as energy-draining, and that the physical energy required was equivalent to 'ten tons of coal'. In the documentary of an Australian musician [Flashing Glory], he once described a pianist who mentally collapsed due to performing this piece... yet Anthony was able to perform such a difficult piano repertoire!

After a moment of shock, Waverly's red lips curled up slightly.

Luckily, she was well-prepared before coming back. In order to successfully stun anyone, she had learned all of the most difficult things in the world, from hypnosis to piano pieces and all kinds of arts.

Rachmaninoff's Piano Concerto No. 3 was not too difficult for her. 3

Her fingers landed on the piano keys and she played with Anthony.

The two sat together like a pair of fey couples, and countless people admired them. Many wealthy ladies felt extremely bitter. How did Susan marry off so well and have such an amazing son and daughter-in-law?

Eventually, however...

The tempo picked up and became faster.

Next to Anthony, Waverly failed to catch up to Anthony's tempo. She looked anxious and no longer smug like before. 1

She tried to catch up but was unable to do so; she was a few beats behind. 1

Until the end, when Anthony's tempo was at its peak, her fingers failed to even touch the keys. 1

She was completely out of sync with Anthony, unable to catch up!

Furthermore, she wanted to play, but Anthony's delicate fingers jumped from the left side of the piano to the right, fast like a phantom.

Even though it was fast, his posture and look remained calm as if he was drinking tea.

He even played Waverly's part as well...

Waverly sat by the side, and awkwardly so.

A gust of autumn wind blew by, and the dried yellow leaves flew in the air...

As the concerto drew to a close, the audience were stunned.

They had never heard such a beautiful concerto.

Who would have thought that Anthony not only knew business, but his piano skill was so high-level!

After a momentary stun, everyone snapped out of it as they commented, 'Why did Waverly stop halfway?'

"Isn't she the No.1 wealthy heiress from Kansas? She failed to catch up?"

"Anthony is a businessman, but he's so impressive on the piano, yet Waverly couldn't catch up?" 1

They were all envious of how Susan had such a nice daughter-in-law, but Waverly's incompetence set them up for a chance to criticize her!

embarrassed her again!

She fainted yesterday, and all of a sudden, she could not even play the piano?

Waverly sat still, angered and awkward.

She did not expect Anthony to play so quickly. She did not expect Anthony's level to be so much higher than hers! 1

Forget her; even Charmine or anyone else would not be able to catch up with Anthony.

However, she could not say so, and she had to try to keep her elegance. She explained, "Apologies, my fingers suddenly cramped halfway through the piece."

Everyone laughed inwardly.

It was obvious she could not follow through, but she excused it as cramps?