

Super Rich Dad Chapter 893-894

Chapter 893

The reason why Li Miao would say such a thing was because he was worried that if Ning Kun came over for a long time, he might attract the attention of some people with an agenda.

Although Hedong is a mixed place, the people here definitely don't like their lives being affected by the Thirteen Sections or being looked at by them.

To the people here, their lives were their business and no one else should think of coming over to interfere.

Ning Kun glanced at Li Miao and could naturally understand her intentions. So after smiling, he said, 'Don't worry, today I'm just coming over to say hello. In the future, if I don't encounter any emergency or special circumstances, I won't come over.'

Li Miao nodded with a smile after looking at Ning Kun, then led the two of them out of the room.

Just as he was about to send Jiang Hao and the others away waving, a strange look flashed across Li Miao's eyes as he looked at Jiang Hao. Suddenly speaking, she said, 'If you have time, come over for coffee, I'll treat you.'

After saying this she went inside. Ning Kun, on the other hand, looked at Jiang Hao with a smile on his face and shook his head.

'It's over, someone caused a love debt in Chu Jiang, went to the Northern Province and caused another one, and now they've come to Hedong and haven't even started yet.'

Jiang Hao glanced at Ning Kun somewhat helplessly, then spoke contemplatively, 'I don't know if it's just me, she seems to be acting somewhat close to me ever since she found out my identity.'

Ning Kun stood alongside Jiang Hao on the roadside after making a call for a car.

Hearing his words, he smiled slightly and said back, 'There's nothing strange about it, in fact Li Miao used to be a member of the Shen clan in the earliest days, and she was an orphan, so in a sense, it's only natural for her to be close to you.'

Jiang Hao listened and looked at Ning Kun with some confusion as he lit himself a cigarette, then continued to speak, 'I'm afraid you don't know. Back when the Shen clan was still around, there wasn't really much chaos here, and these schools were left over from that time.'

After saying this, a black car also slowly drove over, Ning Kun took two puffs of his cigarette and then threw it away before taking Jiang Hao back to the hotel.

Li Miao, on the other hand, had started to implement the plan in a hurry since Ning Kun had set it down, first contacting the school.

After getting a far-reaching response from someone inside the school, she then set about arranging the materials for Jiang Hao's interview.

In fact, at this school, the presence of the teachers didn't mean much, every one of those bear kids knew what they would do in the future.

And the reason why they were all left at the school was merely to train them, so that they would start to come into contact with their competitors at an early age so that they would not have any fear when they grew up.

Most people don't expect their children to learn anything from school for this reason.

And that is precisely why. The actual amount of money invited to the school just wasn't quite what Jiang Hao had imagined, because in this school, it was the PE teacher who was the most sought after!

Early the next morning, Ning Kun received a call from Li Miao, along with a piece of information she passed over.

After smiling at the information in his hand while washing up, Ning Kun then knocked on Jiang Hao's room and dropped his phone in front of him.

'This is what Li Miao prepared for you last night, memorise it well and then get ready to go over for the interview, chances are they'll get it off for you today if you join.'

One of the things Jiang Hao had hated most since he was a child was going to school, and he never thought that he would have the day to go to school and become a teacher!

After taking a deep breath. Jiang Hao shook his head with a bitter smile, 'Alright, I'll memorise it, do you want to come with me?'

Ning Kun, who was brushing his teeth, heard these words. After picking up his cup and rinsing his mouth, he returned carelessly, 'Pull it off, to be honest I don't really like places like school either, maybe I was scared of reading numbers before.'

Although it was just a couple of jokes, it made the tension in Jiang Hao's heart disappear a lot.

After Jiang Hao had finished memorising all the information, he changed into a suit that looked slightly more formal. Then he walked out of the hotel.

A black car arranged by Li Miao was slowly pulling up in front of the hotel, and as soon as Jiang Hao got in, the other party looked at him through the rear view mirror.

'A bit different from what I thought, looks like you must be a newcomer, never done this business before right?'

Jiang Hao heard the other party's words for a moment and was a little confused as to which aspect the person in front of him was talking about, being a teacher or entering the thirteenth branch.

The other party smiled after seeing that Jiang Hao did not open his mouth to answer, and drove while driving. While freeing up a hand to reach out to Jiang Hao.

'Get to know each other, just call me Han San, Li Miao arranged for me to protect you.'

Jiang Hao shook hands with the other party and then said with some confusion, 'What kind of protection do you need to be a teacher, is this school very chaotic?'

Han San couldn't help but snort out a laugh at Jiang Hao's words, 'Chaotic? No, no, no, the school is fine, but the problem is that you think that with a school like this, there won't be people out there chipping in to get in?'

After saying this, a look of mockery flashed across his face, 'How do you think that PE teacher died before, did he really run into a gunfight on his way from work unfortunately?'

Listening to Han San's words, this once again refreshed his own impression of Hedong, it looked like here, the most ordinary workplace competition had become so dangerous!

After shaking his head slightly, Jiang Hao couldn't help but smile bitterly and said, 'If it's possible. I really don't want to go to school to face those bear kids!'

Han San nodded and shrugged his shoulders, 'I don't want to either, there are more than eighty teachers in the whole school, and on average, more than ten of them get killed by students in a semester. That's a bit of an accident rate, I suggest you better get an insurance policy.'

It was hard to come across such a humorous person, so Jiang Hao smiled slightly after listening and said, 'It's just a pity. The insurance company here in Hedong would probably have already lost money and gone bankrupt long ago, hahaha.'

The two of them talked and laughed on the way to the school entrance, Han San listened the car down. Then he lit himself a cigarette and spoke, 'I can't follow you in here, but there are our people at the school, they will meet you.'

Jiang Hao nodded and got out of the car and walked towards the school gate, many students also looked at Jiang Hao with some curiosity.

Only one security guard glanced at Jiang Hao and a hint of disdain flashed in his eyes; he was Li Miao's man.

Seeing Jiang Hao standing at the door in a daze, he called out loudly, waking up the pensive Jiang Hao before speaking, 'Here, you're here for the interview, right?'

Jiang Hao looked at the strong security guard and nodded before speaking, 'Yes, I heard that there is a shortage of physical education teachers here, I came over for an interview today and have already made an appointment with someone.'

After the guard looked at Jiang Hao's dress, he turned his head to his colleague and called out, 'Hey, Xiao Meng, watch this for me, I'm sending this dude to his interview, the new guy doesn't know the place!'

Xiao Meng, who was practicing assembling a firearm, turned his back on Jiang Hao and the others. After reaching out and making a gesture to show that he heard him, the security guard led Jiang Hao into the school.

What was a little different from Jiang Hao's imagination was that the inside of the school in front of him was similar to what he had seen in Chu Jiang or Bei Fu.

If you put aside the graffiti all over the walls and the strange costumes of some of the students, it was barely acceptable.

'The school is a bit nicer than outside though. But it's not much better, you still have to be a bit safe while you're in class here, some of the students might do something stupid to you. I hope you're not really a gym teacher.'

While Jiang Hao was curiously surveying the school, the security guard suddenly took the lead and spoke up.

Jiang Hao was a little surprised and looked at him before wondering, 'You, are you one of Li Miao's people too?'

Hearing this, he looked towards Jiang Hao and smiled, the expression on his serious face finally easing off the two.

'That's right, in fact the south of the city is basically under Li Miao's jurisdiction as long as they belong to Section 13, and the three heads are all responsible for their respective areas.'

After saying this, he extended his hand to Jiang Hao and continued, 'Hello, first time meeting, my name is Jing Erhu.'

Jiang Hao looked at Jing Erhu and gave a bitter smile before shaking his head and extending his hand, 'First time meeting, my name is Jiang Hao, I hope we can take care of each other more in the future.'

Jing Erhu smiled and nodded before sending Jiang Hao to the bottom of the school building: 'The person who gave you the interview upstairs is also one of our people, but you should keep quiet, just answer the questions according to the normal interview.'

Looking at the confident smile on Erhu's face. Jiang Hao really wanted to tell him that in fact if that guy Ning Kun hadn't pitched himself, he would have really not wanted to pass the interview.

But looking at Erhu's bright smile on his face, he sighed in the end to see, then turned around and walked towards the teaching building.

The news that a new PE teacher had arrived at the school soon spread throughout the school as if with wings.

Apart from thinking with their friends about how to beat up those who disobeyed them, the biggest fun these students had all day long was to study which teachers in the school were nice to mess with and which ones were not.

As Jiang Hao was walking into the school building, a boy who looked familiar passed him by.

Only after Jiang Hao took a closer look at him did he realise that the man in front of him was the target he was trying to reach, the son of the oldest of the three Shen family members, Shen Qingzhi!

But at the moment he had no identity whatsoever, so Bai Bai didn't show any extra expression and continued to walk his own way, only giving him a slight smile as a greeting.

The Shen family had never hidden Shen Qingzhi's identity. Given the Shen family's status in Hedong, he also had a vague hint of a leading man at the school.

After seeing Jiang Hao take the initiative to smile at him, he simply nodded as a greeting in return and then walked out of the school building.

It was hard to wait for Jiang Hao to arrive at the party for the interview, an empty room, a woman, a table, and a chair were the things used for the interview.

The woman looked at Jiang Hao and nodded before speaking, 'Have you ever been a gym teacher?'

Jiang Hao looked at her with a sober and serious expression and said, 'Not to mention doing it, when I was studying, I didn't necessarily get ten lessons a semester in physical education!'

The woman nodded with a calm expression before continuing, 'What do you think is the best way to teach children?'

'Beating! Bear children should be beaten if they don't listen, give them a full childhood. Let them walk the path of their fathers and suffer the pains of their fathers!'

Hearing this, a slight change in the woman's expression took place. It seemed like she wanted to laugh, but held it in hard.

So after coughing lightly she had to speak, 'Cough, please be serious, we are in an interview.'

Jiang Hao looked at the other party with an innocent expression and spoke, 'Don't you think it should be, childhood doesn't have to be only about eating, drinking and playing, there has to be blame and love too!'

It seemed that she no longer wanted to argue with Jiang Hao. She shook her head before speaking, 'Do you have any requirements for a salary package?'

'A monthly salary of over ten thousand, a house and a car, an arrangement for a wife, and preferably a canteen, I'm rather lazy and don't like to cook.'

Looking at Jiang Hao's hangdog look. The woman interviewing for Jiang Hao had a million divine beasts running around in her heart!

If she hadn't considered that this was all Li Miao's arrangement, she would have flipped the table over and cursed at Jiang Hao before shouting 'Get out!' The word!

But considering the instructions Li Miao had given her, the woman looked at Jiang Hao with a look on her face as if she had been poured a dozen mouthfuls of foul-smelling unknown substances and said, 'Congratulations on your successful interview, please go downstairs and go through the induction procedures.'

Jiang Hao never thought that he could succeed in the interview even though he was messing around like this!

Looking at the look on the woman's face, he sat down in his chair and said, 'Alas, I was careless after all, I said I could pass the interview even if it was normal, but I never thought I could pass even if it was not normal!'

After saying this, Jiang Hao gathered up his things and walked out of the room. Then he followed a person who had been waiting at the door for a long time and went to do the induction procedures.

At this moment, inside the headmaster's office, a woman in professional attire was watching Jiang Hao's interview video with great interest.

The secretary stood next to her and said helplessly, 'Boss. How can you recruit such a person near the school! I don't know what that interviewer was thinking, why would he recruit such a person, he's simply a violent maniac!'

The woman looked at the video and smiled slightly before saying, 'You don't understand. That's the kind of educational approach you need to use when dealing with some students, it's just that there are so few teachers in this school who can do that, so I hope he won't let me down!'

And on the other side. Li Miao was receiving a complaint call from one of his men!

'Chief, are you sure this person you sent here isn't wrong in the head, he's not playing by the rules at all!'

It was a very simple matter, although it was just a matter of dealing with it casually, but there was no need for Jiang Hao to stir up such nonsense!

Li Miao also wanted to laugh at the video of the interview, but held back and said, 'Okay, okay, relax, just pretend you didn't see him next, pretend he doesn't exist, hahaha.'

Jiang Hao, who was going through the induction process at the moment, was still unaware that his first day of arrival had already attracted the interest of others in him, namely the stares from the headmaster's office!

Jiang Hao is still immersed in his own troubles, after all, he's about to face a bunch of bear kids who are poor all day long, anyone would be a bit distracted!
