

Super Rich Dad Chapter 895-896

Chapter 895

When: The first day of the induction process!

Combat content: Physically tormenting, no, exercising the bears according to the school's requirements!

Wearing a sports outfit, Jiang Hao rather felt a bit comfortable, and I have to say that a place like Hedong could have such comforting clothes. A pleasant surprise indeed!

They seem to be particularly favourable to things that are enjoyable, wanting the best of everything, not the best of everything!

Take the set Jiang Hao was wearing at the moment, for example, it had cost Ning Kun nearly 3,000 silver dollars, so much so that he was shivering with distress... it was his own money!

Looking at Jiang Hao standing in front of the mirror with a smug face, he showed off. Ning Kun spoke with some disgust, 'You'd better be careful, don't get pissed off by those bear kids!'

Jiang Hao looked back at Ning Kun and said disdainfully, 'Don't worry, my mental capacity is still very strong. What can a few bear kids do to me.'

After saying this, he couldn't help but think of the people he saw in the school building yesterday.

So after a moment of silence, he spoke up, 'When I went for my interview yesterday, I think I saw my target, Shen Qingzhi.'

Ning Kun assembled the pistol as he did so, then carefully checked each bullet and spoke, 'What's so strange about that, Li Miao originally placed you in his class on purpose, in order to make it more convenient for you to get in touch with him.'

Hearing this, Jiang Hao nodded in silence before speaking, 'But I don't know why, I always have a little uneasy feeling in my heart, I can't say where it comes from.'

After a few moments of silence, Ning Kun assembled the pistol and tossed it to Jiang Hao, smiling, 'No matter where that uneasy feeling comes from, that's all I can do, let's leave it to you to perform next!'

Jiang Hao looked at the gun in his hand, and after a moment of silence, he placed it on his waist and slowly walked out of the hotel. He walked over towards Han San who had been waiting for a long time.

'How about it, sir, do you still want me to drive you to school today, please do you need to enter the induction gift I'm offering you?'

Thinking well after hearing this for a moment in silence he opened his mouth and said, 'There really is such a thing, there are actually people in Hedong who run insurance companies, aren't they worried about going bankrupt!'

Ning Kun looked at Jiang Hao's surprised look and laughed out loud, then pointed at the numbers on it and spoke, 'Hahahaha, don't think about it, it's just my hand drawing!'

Looking at Han San's smug face, Jiang Hao shook his head helplessly and then fell into silence.

After waiting for Jiang Hao to arrive at the school entrance? Han San looked at Jiang Hao and smiled and whispered, 'No kidding, come out safely and give the students school here, every day you are a challenge.'

Jiang Hao got out of the car and turned his back on Han San while walking and waved his hand and spoke, 'Don't worry. I'm sure such a challenge won't last long!'

Jiang Hao's arrival yesterday had already attracted some people's attention, and at this moment Jiang Hao, a fresh face, was here again.

Coupled with Shen Qingzhi who bumped into Jiang Hao yesterday, many people couldn't help but guess that Jiang Hao was the new PE teacher at their school!

As expected, when Jiang Hao walked into Shen Qingzhi's class, many students were making a lot of noise and didn't give Jiang Hao a second thought!

Although it was an early morning reading class, the noise was so loud that Jiang Hao couldn't help but feel the urge to hit someone!

'Stop it! You're all like domestic ducks, you're all so noisy all day long.'

Seemingly because Jiang Hao had offended them with these words, for a moment. All the students in the classroom stopped what they were doing and then looked at Jiang Hao with cold eyes!

Just as they were about to still rush up and give Jiang Hao a hard education, a gunshot sounded. Many of the students knew what this meant, so they hurriedly sat down and looked at Jiang Hao squarely, as if nothing had just happened!

'Do you know until what it means to respect your teachers, do you know until what it means to be disciplined in class! If you don't understand anything, why are you still reading!'

Shen Qingzhi sat in the corner. He watched Jiang Hao nodded slightly after listening carefully.

A young boy sitting next to him said, 'Hey, Qingzhi, look at this new teacher who seems to be a bit different, why don't we find a chance to clean him up later?'

Shen Qingzhi looked at the boy and laughed disdainfully, 'Go ahead, I'm not that bored and don't have time for such meaningless things.'

Hearing Shen Qingzhi's reply. The boy shrugged, looking as if he wasn't angry, but just shook his head with some regret and sighed.

'All of you, look at the blackboard, now let me introduce to you all!'

After saying this, Jiang Hao picked up a piece of chalk and turned around to write his name on the blackboard, before looking at these students in front of him again.

'My name is Jiang Hao, you can call me Teacher Jiang from now on, of course, I don't mind you calling me Boss Jiang, in fact I'm still quite covered!'

It seemed that because of Jiang Hao's words, which were more grounded in Hedong, the classroom suddenly became somewhat lively.

Jiang Hao looked at the students below. After smiling slightly, he took out a whistle and called out, 'Let's start our first PE lesson now, come on, let's take you out for a walk!'

The whole class. Forty to fifty people heard this and ran off like wild horses!

Even the girls got a little excited when they heard that they were going to P.E. It seemed that no matter how old the students were, they didn't like sitting in the classroom. They didn't like the feeling of sitting in the classroom.

Jiang Hao slowly followed behind them looking at the crowd with a smile on his face, and I don't know if it was an illusion, but when he looked at them. Jiang Hao felt as if he had also gotten a lot younger!

Such a big commotion naturally caused discontent in other classes, so some teachers walked out to look at Jiang Hao, seeing that it was the new PE teacher, plus Jiang Hao had a sunny smile.

The thought of opening his mouth to scold someone was instantly suppressed, and a sentence popped out of the corner of his mouth, 'Teacher Jiang, where's the PE lesson for the students?'

Jiang Hao looked at the teacher and smiled faintly before following the students out onto the grass field.

'Come on, tell me, why do people need to exercise?'

A few students were quite dismissive of Jiang Hao's question, and a famous student sat on the grass field lazily sunbathing looking at Jiang Hao and said, 'Because if you don't exercise you will be weak and obese, and your body's resistance will drop, which will then cause a series of problems.'

After saying this, the student nonchalantly continued to complain, 'Come on, it's not like we're children, don't we know this point.'

Jiang Hao laughed loudly after hearing this and nodded and spoke, 'Good point, there is another point that is most crucial, if you are physically weak it means you will be bullied and then you will be beaten, you know!'

Jiang Hao doesn't really know how to be a serious teacher, but if you're talking about training people, just toss them around anyway!

Jiang Hao gradually got used to being a teacher, following his own memory of teachers.

Looking at Shen Qingzhi in the crowd, who glanced at him from time to time, Jiang Hao couldn't help but ponder. What would be the best way to use him to get in touch with the Shen family?

Forget it, who doesn't know about the Shen family in Hedong, so there's no need to do any home visits.

Besides, I guess the three Shen family members usually have nothing to do with a small teacher like him, so I might as well make a good plan.

The first day passed slowly. The new P.E. teacher had the audacity to drag a group of young ladies out for a run, so the school was a little dismissive of Jiang Hao.

They all had their own ideas about how the last PE teacher died. There were even a few female teachers who saw that Jiang Hao was quite handsome and from time to time a hint of pity passed through their eyes as they looked at Jiang Hao.

On the other hand, while Jiang Hao was off to school, Ning Kun also arranged a place for Jiang Hao to live outside.

Although it was not so much a house with a car or anything, the basic conditions were still met.

As he sat in the car, Jiang Hao looked out at the streets, which did not seem very different from those of the northern capital, and the people on the road were not very different from those of the northern capital, except that everyone else carried a gun when they went out to buy food.

Seeing that Jiang Hao was silent, Han San said softly, 'How does it feel inside the school, is it a bit different from what you imagined?'

A bitter smile appeared on Jiang Hao's face as he looked out the window, 'It's indeed a bit different, it's the first time I've seen a school with wire mesh on the walls, if I didn't say it was a school I would have thought it was a prison cell.'

Listening to Jiang Hao's reply and then glancing at Jiang Hao's face in the rear view mirror, Han San laughed out loud.

Then he shook his head slightly and sighed, 'Actually, this place wasn't like that before, no matter how chaotic the surrounding people were. It wouldn't have spilled over into this neighbourhood.'

As someone who had practically grown up in Hedong, Han San actually had to understand a bit more than many people about the character of the people of Hedong, and their views on school.

If you looked closely, it was as if there was a moment of truce every time school was out, and whatever was going on was not happening in front of the children.

Two big, burly men who normally see swords at cross-purposes might just look at each other when they pick up their children and walk away.

For the people of Hedong, this school is not just a school, it is the future of their children.

After a moment of silence, Han San spoke softly, 'In fact, if this school could have been built a few years earlier, maybe the current Hedong wouldn't be like this.'

Jiang Hao nodded slightly after hearing this, then looked at Han San and spoke with a smile, 'By the way, did Ning Kun arrange a place for me to stay, I can't stay in a hotel all the time. That would be too noticeable.'

A mysterious smile suddenly appeared on Han San's face, then he looked up at the rear view mirror to lock eyes with Jiang Hao.

'Don't worry, Mr. Ning has already arranged the place where you're staying, I'll show you there now, I'm sure you'll be satisfied.'

Jiang Hao listened and shrugged slightly, he didn't expect Ning Kun to do much good, some times Jiang Hao couldn't even help but wonder if he and Ning Kun were in a relationship of mutual use.

This was not the most important thing, the most important thing was that he could use himself and he could not find how to clean him up, this was what made Jiang Hao feel somewhat helpless.

As Han San drove slowly, Jiang Hao soon stopped in front of a flat.

Getting out of the car, he looked at the somewhat frighteningly tall flat in front of him. Jiang Hao gulped in surprise and said, 'Don't tell me this is where I'm going to live.'

Han San parked the car, then walked over to Jiang Hao and looked at the flat and smiled.

'This is the highest flat in the south of the city. It was chosen because of the topography, and another important thing is that it has an absolute high point among the surrounding buildings!'

'I really didn't think you guys would even choose a place to live that was full of philosophy, so forget it, let me go in and see how the room is.'

Han San shrugged his shoulders and followed Jiang Hao into the flat.

In fact, leaving aside the unique culture of Hedong, if one ignored the guns on people. Jiang Hao even felt as if he was in the northern capital.

Some people even looked at Jiang Hao a bit strangely, ogling his body from time to time, making Jiang Hao quite confused.

Finally, after the lift stopped at the 30th floor, Jiang Hao and Han San stepped out of the lift.

Jiang Hao couldn't help but say, 'Why do those people always look at me without moving? Is there something wrong with me?'

Han San pulled open his shirt and then spoke with some amusement, 'Don't forget, this is Hedong, going out without a weapon on you is a strange thing in itself, just get used to it.'

After saying this he shook his head with an amused face and walked deeper into the corridor, on the way Jiang Hao could feel as if he was being watched by something since he had come up.

After following Han San and stopping at the door of the room in the deepest corridor, the door opened automatically and Ning Kun was standing in the doorway with his coffee in a bathrobe.

After seeing Jiang Hao's return, his eyes lit up, then he laughed loudly and opened his hands: 'Hey, welcome back our gym teacher. Look, his body really does look a bit like a gym teacher, hahaha!'

Han San shrugged his shoulders before walking to the living room. Then sat down on the sofa: 'If I were you, I wouldn't be teasing Mr. Jiang right now, because you should be able to notice. He's not in a bit of a good mood right now.'

Jiang Hao's eyes looked coldly at Ning Kun and saw the big smile on his face slowly turn into an awkward smile, so he nodded slightly and said, 'He's right. I'm indeed not in a very good mood right now.'

After saying this, Jiang Hao reached out and took the coffee in Ning Kun's hand, then took a sip as he walked into the living room.

'I've already mixed in at school, what's the next step, you guys won't always let me be a PE teacher all the time, right?'

Ning Kun looked at Jiang Hao and smiled somewhat helplessly, then slowly spoke, 'Not really, the next plan might be a bit difficult, think about it, what excuse would a gym teacher have to use to get to the Shen family?'

Han San snorted and then lit himself a cigarette and spoke, 'No matter what excuse you use, any of the three Shen family members would not meet with a gym teacher.'
