

My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 901

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 901-As a thought occurred to her, Susan then raised her glass out of the blue.” Ms.

Jordan saved our Grandma Bailey today. Let me make a toast to Ms. Jordan,” she spoke as she raised her wine glass.

This was the top-graded wine from the Baileys’ wine cellar. In the upper- class society, there was proper dining etiquette.

Even in the case of making a toast, there were many rules.

Susan raised her wine glass and quietly looked at Charmine, waiting for her to embarrass herself.

Everyone on the table was from a prominent, wealthy family, and only Charmine hailed from a small family. Even if she somehow got rich down the line, how would she learn about the upper-class’s table etiquette?

Ha!

At that moment, all eyes were on Charmine as they waited for her to make a fool out of herself.

By then, if she did anything wrong, they would lecture her!

However, against their expectations...

Under everyone’s scrutinizing gaze, Charmine raised her wine glass with her hand around the stem, the angle precise.

Furthermore, she met Susan’s eyes and calmly raised the glass toward her.

The level of the glass was not higher than Susan's.

Her series of actions showed no slight of mistake. Every action of hers was well mannered from within as if she had grown used to this occasion. 1 Susan was unsuccessful. She could only take a sip of the wine and put down the wine glass.

Senior Bailey said, "Let's eat."

With that, everyone began dining in.

McKenzie gently picked up some pork chops for Susan. "Auntie, according to scientific research, the skin of a pork has a high level of collagen, and it could maintain our skin's elasticity." 1

"Thank you," praised Susan, "you're so thoughtful, McKenzie." She then continued with concern, "What project have you been working on lately? Any new invention in the laboratory?"

"Recently, I've been working on a new tiny chip, trying my best to improve the technology in Burlington. I want to improve the effectiveness of the phones...1'

McKenzie replied elegantly.

Susan would talk to Waverly from time to time.

Their flowing conversation completely neglected Charmine and Chris, and she even neglected Anthony, all three who sat at the same table.

Senior Bailey did not speak much, though he would look up from his meal from time to time as he ate.

They thought Charmine and Chris would be awkward, but Charmine remained calm.

She would pick some vegetables and red meat for Chris; this was so that he did not have too much fatty food.

Chris knew Charmine liked spices, so he picked her some ribs.

The two got along so well, one could say they looked like a genuine mother and-child pair.

Senior Bailey frowned. Why did he feel that Charmine and Chris looked alike?
6

Was it that humans tend to grow similar after spending a long time together?

Charmine ate with Chris when, all of a sudden, someone reached out and took the rib away from her plate.

She turned to see that it was Anthony.

In front of everyone, Anthony snatched the food away from her plate!

Anthony remained cold and elegant, and after putting the rib on his plate, he picked up chicken meat and sent it to Charmine's plate. 1

His eyes looked as if he was saying, 'Eat this.'

Charmine's eyelids jumped. Was Anthony genuinely jealous on this occasion, so much so that he did not want her to eat the meat Chris gave her?

Was that not overboard...?

There was more!

Anthony actually pushed his plate toward Charmine, a plate empty and without food on it. 1

Anthony was asking her to pick him some food!

In front of everyone, he wanted them all to see...

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 902-Since Anthony was the prominent character at the occasion, everyone still had their eyes on him even if no one spoke to him.

After what he did, everyone eyed the three of them.

The Baileys were shocked. To them, Anthony always had no feeling like a cold robot, so when did this man grow to be a man capable of getting jealous?

McKenzie and Waverly did not seem pleased.

What did Charmine do to him? Was Anthony truly showing off their affection in public? 1

Was he that jealous of his son? What man was this?

He wanted Charmine to pick up food for him in public. Did he consider what others feel about it? 1

Everyone stared at Charmine as Anthony's plate was in front of her as well.

The empty plate was almost like him saying to her, though telepathically so, 'If you don't get me food, I won't eat.'

Feeling the rather immense pressure on her, Charmine took some food for Anthony from chicken to prawns, and then to seafood. She even picked him some chives before pushing the plate back to Anthony.

Susan and the rest smiled coldly. Charmine had been with Anthony for so long yet did not know Anthony hated chives?

In one of the reunion dinners, a chef added some chives to spark up the taste.

The chef was then instantly fired and asked to leave. It caused such a scene that they were not able to have the reunion dinner.

McKenzie recalled with a friendly tone, “Anthony doesn’t like chives from a young age.”

This tone sounded as if she knew Anthony much better than Charmine.

Charmine frowned. Anthony actually did not like chives? She did not dine with Anthony often, so she did not notice it.

Oh, well, it all started to look like a joke ready to be laughed at...

At that moment, Anthony glared at McKenzie coldly. “Who said so?”

With that, he picked up the chives and opened his mouth to eat them. He seemed to be enjoying it.

McKenzie’s face instantly stiffened. 1

Not only her but the rest of the Baileys, too.

Was Anthony actually eating chives? He hated chives from when he was a child, yet he was actually eating chives all of a sudden?

Charmine felt a surge of warmth spreading out inside her; Anthony was doing this for her.

Touched by his move, she picked a chicken wing for Anthony.

Chris instantly reached out his plate. “Mommy, Mommy, Momo wants chives, too! Momo wants chicken wings.”

“Okay.” Charmine picked them for Chris.

The two boys sat by her sides, eating pleasantly, satisfied. 1

It was as if they were the actual family, giving off a warm and beautiful atmosphere.

Senior Bailey watched on with a perplexed expression. He thought his grandson would be cold with anyone, and he did not expect them to get along this way.

Finally, Anthony looked more like a human being...

As he felt his emotions welling up inside him, Grandma Bailey suddenly walked toward the table with maids supporting her.

Senior Bailey instantly pulled out a chair for her.

“Why did you come out? Aren’t you supposed to be resting?”

“Don’t worry, I’m not as weak as you thought. My body is capable of walking eight kilometers now.” Grandma Bailey was in a good state as she said with gratitude, “I came out personally to thank Charmine. If it wasn’t for her, I wouldn’t be seeing tonight’s moon. Perhaps you’re all busy with preparing a funeral by then.”

“Don’t speak of nonsense.” Senior Bailey threw a look at her.

Grandma Bailey did not care about him as she looked at Charmine.”
Charmine,

you saved my life, and for that, you may ask for a favor. As long as I can make it happen, I will.” 1

“Mom!” Susan instantly stopped her.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 903-What if Charmine used this opportunity to ask for permission to marry

Anthony? 1

Grandma Bailey scoffed at Susan, ‘This is my affair. Charmine saved my life, and I have to thank her. Go on, Charmine, just say it.’

McKenzie and Waverly’s expressions shifted. Charmine was about to ask for something...and she might ask to be with Anthony, officially!

At that moment, Charmine’s gaze met Grandma Bailey’s eyes. “I don’t need a favor, but if Grandma Bailey insists, I’ve got one favor to ask for. I hope

Grandma Bailey could promise me that when you see Momo in the future, even if you don’t like him, don’t say mean things to him.”

“Huh?” Grandma Bailey was dumbfounded.

She was prepared for Charmine to ask to be with Anthony, yet this was the request she asked for?

Charmine looked at Chris before she continued to them, “Anthony already found out that it was Ms. McKenzie Houston who drugged Chris’ mother— she was drugged and didn't plan to bear this child. Furthermore, no matter who his mother is, Momo has Bailey's blood flowing in him. He's Anthony's flesh and blood, an innocent boy. Even if you all don't like him, please don't say mean things to him. Ignoring him is the most you can do." 2

The Baileys were stunned. They did not expect Charmine to make a request for Chris.

Also, what she said seemed plausible...

After a moment of silence, she nodded. "Okay, I promise you."

Instantly, she turned to Susan and Darryl as well as the house full of maids, "Did you all hear that? Nobody should bully Momo in the future! Nobody should say anything mean to him, or you're acting against me!"

"Okay," everyone agreed.

Chris was incredibly moved. He did not expect Charmine to use up such an important request for him.

So what if they sneered at him? He would soon recover anyway. She should not have wasted this opportunity on him...

Grandma Bailey asked Charmine out of curiosity, "Oh, Charmine, why didn't you ask me to let you be with Anthony, given such a golden opportunity given to you?" 1

She was prepared for it; Charmine did save her after all. As long as Charmine asked, she would do anything she could to help her.

Charmine answered calmly, "Firstly, I prefer to fight for what I want.

Secondly, whether the Baileys agree for US to be together or not, it won't affect my determination to be with Anthony. What I've been waiting for isn't the approval from you people." 1

She had been waiting for Annabel to get more stable. Once Annabel had given birth, Chris would be saved.

By then, Chris would become healthier and would endure more things.

Annabel, on the other hand, would no longer be someone that could hinder them nor keep them apart.

By then, even if the Baileys did not approve for them to get together, she could still officiate her relationship with Anthony. They did not have to come home to the Bailey mansion.

Grandma Bailey saw the determination in her eyes, and she was moved.

This woman was strong-willed. Perhaps nothing could stop them from getting together.

It would have been ideal if Charmine's family was bigger, more renowned.

The meal had come to an end at last...

Grandma Bailey personally walked Charmine out as if she was her actual granddaughter-in-law, while Susan spoke to McKenzie as if telling her to do something. 1

Waverly's hands clenched tightly.

She thought Charmine would be accused of murder and would not be able to marry into the Bailey family. Never did she foresee that it would, instead, get her closer to the Baileys! 2

Although she was no longer suspected, these people still had their doubts. They would still suspect her.

Moreover, It seemed Susan did not seem to mind about her. It seemed that Susan had given up on her.

She knew she must secure her worth in their hearts, and fast!

What did Charmine lack the most? She would win against her there!

She must win against Charmine and McKenzie!

After she left the Bailey mansion, she sent a text to Britney that read, [Arrange for the birthday banquet in a few days.]

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 904- Waverly's birthday was in two days.

Waverly initially did not think of hosting a birthday banquet since she was not in Kansas, and she did not know many people nor have friends in Burlington. 2

At this point, however, it seemed that she must make it. She must host it so sumptuously.

On that day, Max and Fredrick started organizing it and sent out invitations to the people in Kansas.

The D'Cruz family was big and wealthy like the royals in Kansas. Nobody dared to turn this down, and countless people had to book tickets to fly to Burlington.

Charmine, Anthony, and Chris sat inside the car and left the Bailey mansion.

When she saw the design inside the car, she felt a surge of warmth inside her heart.

Anthony had put in so much effort for her.

She thought about the steel he wore as she looked at him. "You don't have to do preparations like this in the future, really. Even if you have any contact with Waverly, I won't mind."

"No way! I don't want Daddy to have anything to do with that nobody. In the morning when I got out of the car, she touched me and my bear pin fell inside the car! She was the one who plotted everything!" Chris rejected vehemently.

Anthony's eyes darkened. Truthfully, they did not need any evidence to deduce that Waverly was the one who plotted everything that happened this day.

She had the stomach to harm an elderly woman, all just to harm Charmine. 1

They had been too kind to Waverly... She should be taught a lesson!

He took out her phone and phoned Luke, "Find out what the D'Cruz family is up to recently."

“Boss, I was about to phone you. They don’t have any business going on business-wise, but they’re making some moves. Waverly’s birthday is in two days, and she wants to invite the entire Kansas. Many people are flying over,” Luke reported.

Charmine, next to Anthony, overheard it all and frowned. 1

Waverly’s birthday was in two days?

It would be the 30th of November in two days. This day would be her birthday as well...

She recalled having celebrated her birthday with Tiffany ever since she was a child: one was the heiress and one was the adopted daughter. The difference was apparent on the day. 2

All the attending guests would prepare gifts for Tiffany with so much effort, while the presents for Charmine were a few careless small things bought on the way to the party.

Furthermore, the customized gowns the Jordans made for Tiffany were at least ten million while the gowns they bought for Charmine were less than a hundred thousand.

She had always been grateful then. She felt that she was the adopted one, so a hundred thousand-worth of gowns were more than enough for her. However,

Tiffany would instigate her every year, telling her how their parents were biased, saying how she was embarrassed and even brought her to meet their parents. While their parents thought Charmine was being unreasonable and always scolded her with hurtful words.

After leaving the Jordan family to Africa, she no longer wanted to celebrate her birthday.

Whenever her birthday came, Charmine would think of how the Jordans cared for Tiffany and only Tiffany while she was alone...

Anthony’s low voice was suddenly heard.

Charmine reacted and realized that she blanked out for a moment. She asked,

“What?”

He noticed it when he saw her account book the other day. However, he had been busy and totally forgot about it.

He only recalled this matter when he heard about Waverly’s birthday.

Charmine’s eyes narrowed. “Just a meal with you all.”

Anthony made a decision in his heart.

Chris said, “Mommy, I don’t think we can have a simple meal on your birthday.”

Not possible?

Wary of his reply, she accepted the phone given to her by Chris. She looked down and saw the news, [Jordan Family Booked Millennium Hotel For Charmine's Birthday!] 1

The content showed that Adam and Joey picked this grand hotel. They went there to personally decorate the venue and write the birthday invitations, wanting only to help Charmine celebrate her well-belated 23rd birthday.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 905-This was the first time Charmine would celebrate her birthday genuinely as the Jordan family's heiress and with a birthday banquet to boot.

Charmine frowned. They were already organizing this and made it such a big thing as well?

At that moment, her phone rang.

Answering the call, Charmine was greeted with Joey's explanation," Charmine, I'm sorry. We wanted to make you a private birthday banquet and only invited close relatives, and we didn't mean to make it such a big deal, but the media found out about it somehow. What do you think? Now that it's exposed, why don't we come up with something else?"

What they did was more of a homey, cozy party-it was not one of those high standard ones.

Charmine frowned. So they did not expose it themselves?

Did someone arrange it and buy views for it?

Charmine came to a conclusion silently before she calmly answered, "Don't worry, keep working on it. Wait for my news."

The car pulled over at Violet Residence.

Charmine was on the phone while she brought Momo out of the car and into the villa.

Waverly was not back yet.

Maria reported, "Ms. Waverly went out in person to organize her birthday banquet."

Charmine frowned. Waverly's birthday happened to be on the same day as hers, and she was working on it. To top that off, the news was somehow exposed...

She took out her phone to call Kay. "Find out if it was Waverly buying views to the article!"

Instantly, he took out his laptop to investigate it. Three minutes later, he replied,

"Boss Jordan, it was indeed her. She purchased three days of views: today, tomorrow, and the day after. Would you like to cancel it?"

"No need, I need to tell you some other arrangements," Charmine instructed him.

Meanwhile, Anthony was sending a text at the same time.

Inside the hotel...

Waverly was contacting a gown designer, her appearance elegant and high above.

She was the highly heralded wealthy heiress from Kansas, and those who would attend her birthday banquet were those from wealthy families, even royalties.

Charmine?

Ha!

Her parents were making her a small and cheap gathering with a few attendees.

Would the Baileys look at Charmine differently with this? She wanted them to understand their differences. She wanted them to see who was more outstanding! 2

Max suddenly walked over to hug her from behind. "What gift would you like? You may make your wish, and I'll make it happen in two days."

Waverly had a glint of hatred in her eyes. Of course she wanted Charmine to die!

However, she merely said, "I only want to win against Charmine's birthday banquet. I want to host my banquet at Skyview Tower."

Skyview Tower was an all-glass tower in Burlington with a total of nine floors, located at the outskirts of Burlington.

When night fell and the lights were lit, the glass tower would look as if it came to life. It was like a tower built from the sea, very surreal. 1

However, this tower would only take in one host per night, and the reservation needed to be made three years in advance.

Furthermore, according to rumors, Skyview Tower was established by a few moguls from the association. Only those with acknowledged names could make the reservation. The regular, run-off-the-mill wealthy people could not book it however much money they offered.

If she could host her birthday banquet there, she could easily defeat Charmine within seconds!

Max felt her on her waist. "I'll fulfil your wish."

Just Skyview Tower, was it? He only had to use the name of the D'Cruz family to reserve it.

Of course, he never saw it coming...

My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 906

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 906-Skyview Tower.

The nine-story glass tower stood out from the sea. Since it was autumn, the mist and water vapor made the glass building more dream-like.

Charmine did not want to come to this place, but she received the investigation from Kay that Waverly wanted to host her banquet here. 1

Skyview Tower was like Hermes for all the wealthy ones in Burlington. Waverly wanted to crash her completely!

Furthermore, she arranged for the news of Charmine's birthday to be exposed, and she wanted to see Charmine embarrassed.

How could Charmine let her be when Waverly was pushing it?

However, the owner of the Skyview Building was...

Ring! Ring!

Her phone rang amid her thoughts.

Charmine took out her phone and heard Anthony's low voice. "Are you out?" he asked her. "I've arranged for Moonlight Shore to be booked. How would you like it to be arranged? Or would you like me to take charge of it?"

Moonlight Shore was also a landmark building in Burlington. One night's reservation was up to ten million bucks.

However, compared to Skyview Tower, Moonlight Shore was more of a nouveau riche location.

Charmine said hastily, "No need, I'll arrange myself. You only need to take good care of Momo. I've got a better venue"

Anthony frowned. A better venue?

After a moment, he relented, "Contact me if there's anything."

“Okay.”

Charmine hung up and looked at the nine-story glass tower. She composed her thoughts before walking inside the hotel.

Max was already at the lobby by then, sitting as a serving staff handed him a bill.

Max spotted her and his lips curled up instantly.

“Charmine, you came too late. I’ve asked the hotel to rent out the venue for me in two days. You better pick another venue.”

Charmine frowned. Max came so early?

She did not care for him as she turned her gaze to the serving staff instead.

“Don’t give him the bill yet. Where’s your owner?”

“Ms. Jordan, our owner isn’t here, and I’m now in charge of the hotel. You may tell me if there’s anything,” replied the staff formally.

After that, he thought of the news on the internet and then looked at Charmine.

“If Ms. Jordan is thinking of hosting your birthday banquet here in two days, you should give up. Only political moguls can make reservations here. You’re not qualified.”

‘You’re not qualified,’ and such words were filled with disdain.

“Give me your owner’s contact,” came Charmine’s calm reply. ‘TH contact him myself.”

“Sigh. Why won’t you listen? As I said, you’re not qualified. There’s no point even if you contact our owner,” argued the serving staff with a disdainful look.

“I’ve seen too many people like you. You’re just a nouveau riche, thinking you can do anything and everything with some money, right? Don’t you think there are places you can’t enter even with money? Do you even want to meet our owner? Do you think our owner will meet anyone? Please leave, leave, leave!”

Charmine frowned. She looked at the serving staff and remembered his number on the badge.

Max saw that she had not left, and he had a mocking expression on his face.

“Hahaha! Who would’ve thought that the Jordan Group’s director would see such a day. Isn’t it funny? Perhaps I should take a few photos! This will totally make the headlines, and I even thought of one. ‘Shocking! Jordan Group’s director, Designer of Divine Bird, Magpie Bridge, and Diamond Mine Owner is Denied Entry!’ Oh, that’s not enough. I should also add, ‘A Shameless Mogul. How Embarrassing!’”

As he spoke, he took out his phone and started taking photos of Charmine.

Charmine stood before the front desk with nobody serving or caring for her. She looked neglected.

After taking the shots, Max clicked his tongue. “Manager, having this person in the hotel is too disturbing. Why aren’t you kicking her out yet? I don’t think I’ll sign the bill when a dog is around me.”

My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 907

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 907-The serving staff frowned. They had reserved the place in Max’s favor. If he decided to not officiate the reservation that was happening in two days, who would reserve it?

If they had a day of no reservations, they would lose up to ten million. He would lose his commission!

He instantly instructed the guards, “Come, and ask Ms. Jordan to leave!”

These guards had been serving all kinds of moguls of all industries. To someone like Charmine with only some money, they did not take her seriously.

of them said, “Hurry, please leave. Don’t be so shameless. This isn’t a place for someone like you to be at.”

Charmine did not expect them to be physical. They were hotel staff workers; did they just touch her?

Pushed with such force, she staggered and almost slipped... when she suddenly fell into a warm embrace.

She turned back to see that it was William.

Holding her in his arms, William instantly let her go and asked with concern,

“What happened here? Are you alright?”

“Nothing.” Charmine pulled away from him.

William asked, “Why didn’t you contact me?”

Charmine squinted. Before she came, she did hesitate because this tower was opened by William’s parents along with some Kansas moguls.

She had worked with these people before. However, they all wanted to match up her with William, so she gradually distanced herself from them.

In the last two years, she had not contacted them.

Strangest of all, the seven moguls opened this hotel for the sake of fooling around. Nobody wanted to manage it as they pushed it to one another.

Since they had not been in touch for so many years, Charmine did not know who was in charge.

If she could get to meet the person in charge, she could fix it with only a phone call. She did not have to get in touch with the seven moguls and did not have to

She knew William had feelings for her. She had been trying to stay away from him and was unwilling to trouble him, but never did she expect...

The staff spotted William from afar, and he did not hear their conversation. He walked forward politely and said, “Master William, you came at the right time.

This woman insisted on reserving the tower for the day after tomorrow. I said no to her, but she's unwilling to leave. She even scowled at US ruthlessly. She's a nouveau riche; an insane lady!"

"Alright, stop talking." William looked at him. His usually gentle eyes were filled with a glint of displeasure. "Go to the human resource department and resign.

Right away!"

"Wh...What?" The serving staff gasped in shock.

"Why? Why do you want me to resign? I've been working so hard to maintain Skyview Tower. I did what I had to!"

"Which rule told you to mock your guest, kick her out, and insult her?" William scoffed coldly.

The staff frowned. "I...I didn't. I just said what I had to. Mr. D'Cruz can be my witness!"

As he spoke, he instantly looked at Max.

"Mr. D'Cruz, say something! I can't lose this job!"

When Max saw William, he frowned.

Although he was the heir and a wealthy businessman in Kansas, William was the most well-renowned researcher in the scientific industry. He had won many William came from the Peterson family with a scientific background. Even the royalties in Kansas had to show the Petersons some respect. Without the Peterson family, Kansas would not be as prosperous.

Who would have thought that the Skyview Tower in Burlington was owned by the Petersons.

said. I've already reserved the tower for a banquet in two days, but Ms. Jordan insisted on fighting for it ruthlessly."

"Unfortunately, I've known Ms. Jordan as a close friend for five years. I'm sure she's not who you accused her of." William's tone was gentle.

The staff and Max both frowned in shock.

Charmime was William's friend?

How would Charmine meet a science genius like William? How could she have known someone like him personally?

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 908-As they were all in shock, William continued, "Furthermore, even if she has an attitude, she's my friend. I'll only let her have the reservation."

His tone was gentle yet arrogant.

Max's expression darkened instantly.

William was that protective over Charmine, so much so that he would only let Charmine have the slot?

Max scoffed, "Mr. Peterson, things must be fair. Are you sure this is how you're treating your client?"

the eye, not once budging from his stance.

Max clenched her fists tightly. Damn William!

He was a well-known businessman himself, yet William treated him with such an attitude?

Alas, Max had close relations with the people from the association. Kansas focused on scientific development as well. William's words were powerful.

Max had to hold it in. After staring at Charmine with anger, he walked away.

Charmine took out her phone and captured the image of Max leaving the floor in anger. Before he exited, Charmine texted Kay, [Prepare something for me.]

She was out for blood.

Max wanted to make her the headlines, was he? It was only fair she returned the favor!

William looked at the staff again. "Please, you have to leave as well."

His gentle voice was rather arrogant.

The staff wanted to beg but seeing how William was protective over Charmine, he had no choice but to pack up and leave.

Soon, the General Manager came out in person to help Charmine plan the entire birthday banquet.

After sorting everything out, Charmine left Skyview Tower with William following behind her.

She was in front of her car when she turned back to look at William. “Thank you for today. If you have any problem or need for work, text me and I’ll help you sort it out.”

“No need; you’re busy preparing your birthday banquet. I can sort out work-related matters. Furthermore, we’ve known each other for so long. This is nothing.” As William spoke, he opened the car door for her.

Charmine merely said, “Because we’ve known each other for long, you should know me well enough. Since you helped me, I must return the favor. I hate being indebted.”

Her tone was determined.

William hesitated for a moment before he relented, nodding. “Alright, I happen to have a problem. I’ll send the documents over to your phone later.”

Satisfied, Charmine went in her car and drove away.

William watched as she drove away, his eyes filled with a hint of loneliness.

All these years and she still treated him so politely.

Regardless, he would do anything she said.

He took out his phone and sent a document to Charmine.

Inside a car not far away.

After Max had left the tower, he went to the backseat of his car.

“How did it go?” she asked. “Have you reserved it?”

“I was about to sign it, but Charmine stepped in. She even knew the owner of Skyview Tower.” Max was enraged at that.

Even the thought of it agitated Max greatly.

Waverly frowned. Charmine managed to take the reservation?

Charmine intended to host her banquet in that building. Did that not also mean she was about to lose to Charmine? 1

Max looked at her and comforted, “Don’t fret about it, Waverly. Let’s just host it at Moonlight Shore in this case; it is still a landmark location In Burlington. In comparison, Moonlight Shore is more well-known. Skyview Tower has been keeping a low profile, and many people don’t know about it.”

Waverly pursed her lips. “If Charmine hosts it at this high- end yet low-profile venue while I host it at Moonlight Shore, doesn’t that make me seem tasteless in comparison?”

“Well...” Max frowned. He knew about that too, but there was no other way.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 909-If they could not win Charmine location-wise, they could only

Thinking of something, Max’s eyes lit up as he said to Waverly, “What about this: I’ll ask them to move over all of the newly-bred White Camellia flowers for the decoration in two days.”

When Waverly heard that, her frown eased slightly. “Alright. Thank you, brother.”

She smiled.

The White Camellia was a mysterious flower that only existed in mythology. Rumors had it that there were only leaves with no petals. It was a very rare species.

Kansas had attempted to breed this flower and succeeded. If they could use the White Camellia as decorations, they would make Charmine lose!

Max sighed in relief-he managed to make his woman happy. 1

He took out his phone as he was about to make the arrangement, but he just so happened to see the news that read,

[Shocking! Max D'Cruz Shamelessly Kicked Out of Skyview Tower!]

It took only a while before the article made it to the hot-list. The comment section was full of negative comments on his attitude.

Max's eyelids jumped. He was fuming.

Charmine did this to him? She actually put up the news?!

He merely took photos of her and did not do anything with that, yet Charmine dared to make news of him?!

As he glowered in deep-burning rage, Charmine and William coincidentally walked out from the building.

With a glint of darkness in his eyes, he took out his phone and took photos of them.

Hah! Charmine hooked up with William. He wondered how Anthony would feel when he saw Charmine with William, how his expression would shift!

This would make for a good, savory drama.

When Charmine returned to Violet Residence, Waverly happened to arrive by the door as well.

Seeing Charmine, Waverly scoffed with a half-smile as she went inside the villa.

unfold!

Charmine sensed the look in her eyes, and she frowned slightly.

Why did she feel that Waverly had done something again?

With suspicion, she entered the villa and went up to the second floor.

In the living room upstairs, Anthony was sitting on the sofa, playing with his phone with a darkened look on his face.

Seeing that Charmine had come home, he kept his phone.” Fixed it?”

‘Yeah. Where’s Momo? Why didn’t I see him?’ Charmine was suspicious.

Anthony turned his gaze in a direction. “He’s playing with his toy. You only ask about him whenever you come home.

Don’t you have other things to tell me?”

His voice was low and deep.

Charmine was so tired that failed to detect the shift in his tone. She had many things to deal with following this day.

‘I’m going to shower first,’ she said, “I’ll talk to you later.”

With that said, she went inside the bedroom.

Anthony's eyes darkened. He looked down on the phone in his hand.

On the screen was the photo of Charmine with William. He was helping her open the door for her and talked to her...

The photos were eye-stabbing as if rubbing how close the two of them were.

Even if William helped Charmine, why did they talk for so long?

He decided to turn off the phone and marched back to the room.

Charmine showered quickly and changed into her pajamas, and only then did she see Anthony sitting by the bed.

He patted the bed and said, "Come here."

His voice was low with oppressive authority.

Charmine frowned. Why did he act that way? Did someone offend him again?

Anthony saw that she zoned out and frowned.

"What? You want me to go there and carry you?"

With that said, he stood up and walked toward her, one step at a time as the temperature seemingly dropped

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 910- Charmine was unable to react on time as Anthony carried her and tossed her to the bed.

Plopped onto the soft, large bed, she watched as Anthony removed his clothes.

She understood instantly.

"Anthony, what did you hear today? Did someone tell you about William again?"

“I gave you a chance to speak, so you don’t have to explain anymore,” spoke Anthony as he unbuttoned his white shirt.

He had respected her wishes all this while, yet it seemed that the longer he waited, the more likely it was for her to run away with someone else.

Charmine felt the tense aura that came from his being. As if sensing what he was about to do, she sat up right away. ” Don’t mess things up, Anthony-I haven’t even had the time to tell you about what happened today. I was going to tell you after returning the favor to him.”

“So what you’re saying is that if I didn’t find out, you never planned on telling me?”

As he spoke, Anthony tossed his shirt to the hanger by the side and went right on top of her.

Although Charmine was tall with a strong temperament, she had a small bone structure. His wide body pressed down against her entirely, and it made her look like a meek sheep.

She instantly asked, “Do you really not trust me? I went there on purpose today to avoid him and to sort out everything myself. What happened after was all but an accident.

Furthermore, I already asked him to send me a document, and once I sort it out and return the favor, I won't have to worry you again. I thought of you all this while, yet you're here, wanting to punish me?" Her cold voice challenged him.

When Anthony heard what she said, the anger in him had mostly disappeared.

However...

He grabbed her by the chin. "Something must've happened between you both, and for safety purposes, I need to prevent all accidents."

With that said, he lowered his head and kissed her lips.

The powerful, storm-like kiss seized Charmine entirely, though she put no resistance against him.

She could have pushed him away or hurt him. Heck, her past self would have kicked him to the ground. However, she found herself unable to hurt him as of late, unable to push him away. She could not bear to do so.

Unknowingly, she was already unable to hurt him.

As if she had already...

Noticing that she was not resisting him, he frowned. Since when had she become so cooperative?

He had to let her go and stood up to look at her. "Why aren't you resisting?"

Charmine smiled. "We've gotten our marriage certificate. What's there to resist?"

Anthony was speechless.

Since when had she become so open-minded?

Charmine's hand felt his chest as her gaze glided down his body.

Her tone was playful as she spoke.

Anthony's eyes darkened. This woman...

He decided to stand up from her and put on his shirt.

Charmine frowned. "What? Not continuing?"

Anthony did not speak as he buttoned his shirt.

Continue?

He wanted to punish her, but seeing that she was so cooperative and easy, why would he continue?

He always thought that their first time would be more formal.

He could lose control and punish her. He could give her a long lesson, but she might not react the way he wanted her to. i

After putting on his clothes, he reached out his hand. "Give me your phone."

Charmine frowned with suspicion. Though she held her suspicions, she handed him her phone nonetheless.

Taking her phone, he brought it to the study desk and sat down.

He logged onto Charmine's Whatsapp through the computer and used her phone as verification to get the document William had sent her.

When Charmine went up to him, she saw him sitting before the computer and working on the keyboard.
