

Chapter 906

He said, taking another sip of wine and realizing the bottle was empty, he tossed the bottle away, took a new one and opened it, and continued to drink.

"Seven was the one who had the accident before. She was your wife at least, and although she didn't end up dead, it was because she got lucky and met me. Biden Lu, you can still say this so calmly now?"

Biden Lu frowned slightly.

It had to be said that Jenny Jing's accident in the first place was indeed the reason why he was now willing to leave that huge pile of domestic affairs behind and agreed to come over and work with him.

But after all, he was no longer a fledgling, young, energetic lad.

Rather, a mature man who knows how to look at the big picture and has a plan.

He knew that by this point, both sides were exhausted, and no one would gain by fighting any longer.

So, it's better to stop as they see fit, and the Chinese Society is now much less powerful than it used to be anyway, with at least 60 percent of the 100 percent cut off by them.

The rest of it just needs to be slowly nibbled away at later, step by step.

Thinking like this, he said in a deep voice, "I know you're anxious about Bella Qiao's whereabouts, but if the person really isn't in their hands and keeps clinging to them, I'm afraid you'll miss the chance to truly save her."

Kuskan fell silent.

Those handsome eyebrows became a bit of a bird of prey.

Staring at a void somewhere in the sky, I don't know what came to mind, but the look grew colder and colder.

After a half a moment, he said, "The people I sent out to track down earlier got the results back, where do you suppose they ended up with Joe?"

"Where is it?"

"Cambodia."

Biden Lu shook fiercely.

Gu Siqian turned to him and sneered, "That's where the Chinese Club's headquarters is, and if it's true that someone could be there and take people away from them, then it can only mean that there are spies within the Chinese Club! And this one's not low."

Biden Lu's mind turned rapidly and understood at once.

No wonder, he was so adamant that he must capture the Chinese Association, it was because of this.

Since the other party was a high ranking member of the Chinese Society, he would not leave easily without his identity being fully revealed.

Now, the people sent out to track down Bella Qiao's whereabouts have been coming up empty, not to mention finding even the slightest clue as to the person's whereabouts.

The only hope now rests with that one traitor.

If we can successfully take down the Chinese Society, find this man and pry open his mouth, Bella Qiao's whereabouts will naturally be found.

Biden Lu thought that during this period of time, Gu Si Qian had been disregarding, almost completely suppressing the Chinese Society's power from all aspects at all costs, and his mind could not help but understand everything.

He nodded and said, "In that case, there's not really any point in negotiating tomorrow, so let's not cancel it."

Unexpectedly, Gu Si Qian just vetoed it.

"No, to go."

He took another sip of his drink, a slight pause, the birds of prey heavier in his eyes.

"Tomorrow you stay here with Jenny and I'll take someone with me."

Biden Lu frowned.

A bad feeling came over me, "What do you mean? Do you want..."

Gu Si Qian turned his head to look at him, his thin lips curling up in an ironic and cold smile.

"But it's just a matter of treating him as he is, my Ah

The day Joe isn't found, the day they have to pay for it!"

Biden Lu shook fiercely.

In my heart, I didn't really agree with him doing this, but I opened my mouth, thinking that if the person falling into their hands now was Jenny, I would only do something even crazier.

So in the end, in the end, there was no more talking.

He only nodded, "Okay, I get it, don't worry go ahead, leave this side to me, nothing will go wrong."

Kusken nodded, picked up the bottle and clinked it with him, and went back to drinking.

Not long after they drank, Jenny came out of the room after taking a shower.

It's still summer, she's wearing a long lavender dress, and as soon as she reaches the garden, she sees both men sitting slumped over, drinking from bottles.

She raised an eyebrow and walked over, smiling, "They say that borrowing wine makes sorrow worse, are you guys acting like this because you're afraid that tomorrow's negotiations won't be successful?"

When Biden Lu saw her, his eyebrows gentled and beckoned to her.

Jenny walked over, Biden Lu pulled her down beside him and said, "We won't go tomorrow."

Jenny was stunned, a little puzzled, "Why?"

Biden Lu did not say anything, Jenny Jing was startled for a moment, suddenly understood something and turned to look at Gu Si Qian.

"Kusken, did you really decide to do this?"

No one needed to tell him that Jenny already understood what he wanted to do.

An impromptu change of heart at the negotiating table is a big no-no in the Tao.

He didn't let himself and Biden Lu go because he was afraid that this would affect the reputation of both of them, but if he did that, wouldn't it be the same?

Gu Si Qian didn't say anything and gave her a somewhat disgusted look.

Eyes fell on the two men's interlocked hands and sneered.

"If you're going to spill dog food, go away and stay out of my face, it's annoying."

Jenny Jing knew that he was in a bad mood now that his beloved was in someone else's hands, so he didn't bother with him.

She thought for a moment and said, "Actually, it's not impossible to do that, but aren't you afraid that they'll get angry and really tear up the vote? Don't blame me for not warning you when the time comes, you'll be too late to regret it."

Kusken sneered again.

Jenny shook his head helplessly when he saw that he was soft.

She stood up and said, "At this point today, I do think that it doesn't really matter if we move our hands tomorrow."

"Anyway, now that we're completely torn apart from the Chinese Association, even if we don't do it tomorrow, we'll always do it someday in the future."

"I've just done the math, and if the current trend continues, in less than half a month, we'll definitely split the two sides."

"If you're really determined to do it all the way to the end, we'll naturally accompany you, but a lot can happen and be delayed in half a month's time, have you ever thought that if Bella Qiao really isn't in their hands, and you're spending this half a month like this, who's going to save her later? In case something really bad happens to her, even if you take down the Chinese Society and become the king of this underground, what can you do?"

Her words caused Gu Si Qian's fingers holding the bottle to pause, and his entire person became completely gloomy at once.

The air seemed to go still and a strange silence fell all around.

Biden Lu silently fondled her fingers and didn't say anything, but his body had subconsciously stopped Jenny Jing behind himself.

Just wait for the other side to do something, then you can immediately protect her and fight back.

Chapter 907

However, Gu Si Qian did not move.

He just took another sip of his drink, and after a half hour, he said, "She's not going to die."

Yes, it was the only thing he was sure of.

The other side had spent so much effort to catch her, at the expense of their own hidden eyes in the area for so long.

Someone who had gone to such great lengths to capture her would never be allowed to die easily.

It was because of this that Gu Si Qian had the patience to attack the Chinese Society little by little.

In fact, he did so with a double handful of preparations.

The first hand is if the other side really isn't in the hands of the Chinese Society, gather your forces to exterminate the Chinese Society, uncover that traitor, and find out what happened to Bella Qiao.

The second hand is that if these people are lying, Jocky is actually still in their hands.

It's just because of some kind of huge interest that they can't afford to let people go.

That they can also give them a taste of poverty now that they are stepping up to the plate and will have to release them at the end of the day.

Both are the best two paths he can take today.

Bella Qiao listened to him and fell silent.

She now finally understood why Gu Siqian was so insistent on continuing the attack and refusing to make peace.

And yes, it's all come to this, maybe we're just a short step away from finding Bella Qiao, and if we do make peace, the other side might immediately hide the person again.

At that point, it's really just a matter of searching the world to find it.

She sighed at the thought.

Although she had never met Bella Qiao, a woman who could make a man like Gu Si Qian fall so deeply in love with her must be an interesting person as well.

She also took a bottle of wine from the floor, opened it, and clinked it with Guskan.

Saying, "In that case, I'll leave it at that and wish you well tomorrow."

Gu Si Qian looked at her with a faint smile on his lips, clinked with her, tilted his head, and drank the wine in his hand.

The three of them sat in the garden until midnight before returning to their rooms.

This time they both came out without telling the truth to the old man and the old lady.

Because they had been in poor health and recuperating for a while, Jenny and Biden Lu didn't want them to worry too much about themselves anymore.

So I just told them that the two of them came abroad on a business trip during this time, and entrusted the child to the old mansion, with the maids looking after it, and the old lady and the old man just helping to look after it, but it wasn't much of an effort.

It's late at this time of night when you go back to your room.

Jenny didn't have her mobile phone with her as she was going to the garden after taking a shower.

Once back in the room, I realized there were several missed calls and several tweets on my phone.

She clicked on the tweets and looked at them to see that it was a voice from Ann.

Asking her what she's doing, why she didn't call her tonight, missing her a lot or something.

Jenny clicked on the voice and listened to it several times, listening to the child's milking and sticky voice in it, which was not very pleasant.

She saw that it was late, and by this time, the kids should be asleep.

So I didn't reply either, for fear of waking them up, only to wake up in the morning and reply again.

Biden Lu, on the other hand, looked at her smiling contentedly as she hugged the phone, her eyes slightly deep.

Early the next morning, Jenny returned Ann's call.

On the phone, after talking to the two kids for a while, reassuring them that they needed to listen to their grandparents, and teaching Ann two more questions, they hung up.

It's natural to have the best tutors at home.

, but Ann still likes to pester her with questions for herself.

I say it's a lecture, but I'm just missing my mum.

Jenny knew it in her heart and didn't break her down, but in reality, she was also looking forward to the return trip deeper and deeper within herself.

She's no younger now than she was when she was younger, when she didn't get homesick if she stayed away for a long time.

She wanted to be fast and furious, but she felt like she was rusted out and had no taste for life when she was at home all the time.

But not anymore.

I don't know why, but since I've been with Biden Lu for a long time, maybe it's because the atmosphere in the house is too good.

So she's getting more and more comfortable staying home, and sometimes when both kids don't have to go to school and she doesn't have to work, she can really just spend the whole day with them at home.

And the whole day went by and it wasn't boring at all.

This was something that Jenny had never dared to think about before.

Moreover, Nina Hua's current address is also close to them, and he will come over for a visit in no time, so a few kids playing together, not to mention how lively it is.

Jenny sat there, thinking wistfully.

Just then, Biden Lu walked over from behind.

"Thinking about what?"

He leaned down, braced his hands on the back of her couch, and asked.

Jenny looked up at him and smiled, "Thinking about Anh and Jingze."

She paused and said, "I didn't think so before, but I've been out for so long this time, and I've really missed them."

Biden Lu raised his eyebrows at the news.

Coming around from the other side, he walked over to her and sat down, taking her into his arms.

"We'll be back right away, and soon, when this side is done."

Jenny nodded.

They were snuggled up to each other, and now, on the other side.

Kuskan had arrived at the place of negotiation.

Both sides negotiate, and the place you choose is important.

It could neither be the territory of Kusken nor the Chinese Society.

Otherwise, neither side would feel at ease coming here, and there would always be the fear that someone was setting up some kind of ambush.

So, in the end, they chose their address in a teahouse in a small town at the junction of two forces.

The teahouse had already been cleared out, and even the entire neighborhood was not infested with people.

After the two sides met at the door, they went into the teahouse together and headed upstairs.

This time, no one had expected that the person sent by the Chinese Society would be Xu Changsheng.

Naturally, Gu Siqian knew Xu Chang as a person.

Not only did he know each other, but Xu Changzheng also knew him.

After all, in the original war between the Vermilion Bird Society and the Dragon Corps, the two sides, as the leaders of the two organizations, had already engaged in countless rounds of battle between you and me.

At this time, it is natural for enemies to meet and split their eyes.

But then again, taking into account that today is here for peace talks, so I had to all squeeze out a little bit of a smile against my will.

Once upstairs, they waved off the others and told them to guard the door, and then they all went in with only two people each.

Unexpectedly, however, Gu Siqian did not bring his longtime henchman, Qin Yue, with him, and even when he came over this way today, Qin Yue did not show up.

Of course, those who know this are afraid to ask questions.

And although Xu Chang sad also knew that Gu Si Qian had such a person by his side, he also didn't know how important the other party was to Gu Si Qian.

Therefore, he was completely unaware of how unusual it was that Gu Siqian didn't have Qin Yue with him.

Chapter 908

After they were seated, someone naturally served tea.

Only after the tea was served did they respectfully retire.

Xu Chang sadly picked up the cup first and said to Gu Siqian, "Boss Gu, long time no see."

Gu Si Qian narrowed his eyes, his body languidly leaned against the chair, also raised his cup, clinked it with him across the air, and said, "Mr. Xu hid it well, I thought you had died in that fire four years ago, but you are still alive."

Xu Chang sadly laughed, "It's fortunate that the heavens have shown mercy and allowed me to pick up my life, otherwise how could I sit down for tea with Boss Gu again today?"

Gu Si Qian's eyes were cold.

He said in a quiet voice, "Cut the crap, where's Joe, give her up! It is only necessary for this peace talk to go on, otherwise..."

Xu Chang sad also narrowed his eyes and put down his cup.

"Or else what?"

The air suddenly froze.

The atmosphere was tense, like a taut string, and it was on the verge of breaking.

Both of them suddenly stopped talking, and the attendants standing behind them, who were not secretly touching their waists, were only waiting for their master to give the order to be able to immediately do something to restrain the other.

However, Xu Chang sad suddenly laughed again.

This laughter, like a long sword, cleaved the tension at once.

He laughed, "I really didn't think that Boss Gu was still a love-struck bastard, I thought the friendship between you guys had been broken since the day you threw her in jail four years ago?"

He said, refilling his cup with tea, and continued, "So you still hold her so dear to your heart, it seems we've been negligent all these years and have been deceived by you to let her live so much longer in prison."

When he said the last sentence, his eyes suddenly grew fierce.

Gu Si Qian's face was also cold, his pair of dark eyes as cold as two bricks of ice.

He said quietly, "You don't have what it takes to kill her."

Xu Chang sadly raised his eyebrows.

Seems to think of something, meaningless laugh.

"You're right, who can touch her with you inching your way to guard her?"

He said, pausing, and then said quietly, "I've already told you about her whereabouts, we don't have the person."

"If you don't believe me, you can go on a massive search of all the Chinese Club's territory to see if I'm lying to you."

"Then again, I admit that I did want to take her, but I wanted her life, not a large living person who was useless to me, and even if I had wanted to take her in the first place, I only saw what you had in mind for her and wanted to pin her down as a bargaining chip to threaten you.”

“And now, look, we’re both in this fight, does it make sense if she’s really in my hands and I keep pulling at it?”

Xu Chang sadly said, spreading his hands.

Gu Si Qian said in a deep voice, “But she was taken by your people.”

Xu Chang sadly nodded, “I admit that, but the person who took her away was Six Gods, he and I aren’t in charge of the same hall, so I really don’t know anything about her whereabouts.”

Previously, Gu Si Qian had also found out that the man who had been in that villa before was Six Gods and his subordinate, Shui.

So, this was something Xu Changzheng did not lie to him.

However, now that he’s here today, how could he possibly

Will you let it go so easily?

Therefore, Gu Si Qian asked again, “Where are the Six Gods and Ah Shui?Where are they?”

“Dead.”

This time, Xu Chang sadly said directly without looking up.

Gu Si Qian was slightly stunned.

That, however, was not what he had expected.

His face fell and his brow furrowed, “How did he die?”

"Killed with a knife." As he said this, Xu Chang grief's eyebrows were light, and no emotion could be seen on his face.

He said in a soft voice, "Not an ordinary dagger, but a very old and rare knife technique, you may find it hard to believe that in this day and age when hot weapons are so prevalent, there are still people who would use a knife technique from hundreds of years ago, but I am telling the truth, they did die, on the same night that Bella Qiao disappeared, a party of six people, all of them were exterminated."

At that, his brow furrowed and he looked a little ugly.

"To be honest, Gu Si Qian, I know you don't want to make peace with us, not only because of Bella Qiao, but also because of the deep hatred you had four years ago."

"I'm sure you've already found out, and yes, we are indeed traitors sent by the Chinese Society to lurk in the Vermilion Bird Society a long time ago, but I just didn't think we'd end up climbing this high."

"The original war between the Vermilion Bird Society and the Dragon Corps was indeed brokered by me, and I know how much you hate and want to kill me."

"So it must have been hard for you to come and make peace with me today, and the same goes for me."

"I wouldn't want to be sitting here with you if there was but a little bit of a way out, but the fact of the matter is that we're both at the end of our rope."

He said, holding out his hand, and the man behind him immediately placed a tablet in his hand.

He turned that computer on, scratched a few times on the screen, and handed it to Kuskan.

"You see, this is a period of time when the Chinese Association has suffered sniping and losses in business, and in addition to you and the Land family, we have discovered that there is another unknown force attacking us."

"They are well-funded to an almost frightening extent, and are so menacing that they are no longer something we can resist, if it were the Chinese Association in the past, it might still be possible to compete with the other side, but now that we are belly up to the enemy, it would be easy for them to take advantage of this moment to swallow us up."

Kusken looked away from that screen and looked at him coldly.

"Why are you telling me this? Don't you know that I'd like to see you all finished sooner?"

Xu Chang grief stagnated.

Probably not used to the other man speaking so directly, but he quickly adjusted.

He put away the computer, handed it to his subordinates behind him, and said quietly, "Indeed, I know you hate us, and I know that you would simply be happy if we were finished, but have you ever thought about it, such a mysterious and powerful force, and the reason why he picked this moment to make his move? And what is their ultimate goal?"

Kuskan didn't speak.

Xu Chang sad continued, "You should have heard of the truth that the lips are dying and the teeth are cold, right? Although we are enemies, we can actually be allies on a certain front."

"These people, just from what they're doing right now, you can see that they're not plotting anything more than a small Chinese club, there's much, much more."

"I admit, yes, it's hard for us right now, and maybe if we keep fighting as we are, we'll be finished before long."
