

Chapter 91

Madelyn, Let Me Teach You

Benjamin leaned over and kissed Madelyn. He was so skilled that Madelyn was obsessed with the kiss. She put her arms around his neck and didn't stop him.

After kissing for a long time, Benjamin teased Madelyn, "I don't have your permission. How can I go in?"

Benjamin said this flirtatiously.

A pink flush spread over Madelyn's cheeks.

Madelyn put her arms around Benjamin and asked in a low voice, "What do you think?"

Benjamin took off his coat and walked into the house to take a look. He was a little surprised by Madelyn's aesthetics. In his opinion, it was a professional level of design.

"You chose these things yourself?"

"Well. Do you like it?"

Benjamin carried Madelyn in his arms and walked straight towards the Morning Dew.

Madelyn was placed on it.

Under Madelyn's body was a cold piano cover, and in front of her was a warm male body. Madelyn was a little uneasy because she heard that some men like to make love on the piano.

Benjamin gently touched Madelyn's face.

Madelyn sat up with the quilt.

She looked at Benjamin and asked, "You know William?"

Something flickered in Benjamin's eyes. He seemed to be very casual and said, "Mr. Bennett and my father are good friends. Why? Do you admire him?"

Madelyn didn't dare to speak bluntly, but her eyes were very bright.

Benjamin stubbed out his cigarette and placed himself over Madelyn.

He didn't spare Madelyn easily this night. He had sex with her several times. Madelyn felt that he hadn't vented sexual desire for a long time, otherwise, he wouldn't do it several times.

Early in the morning.

Benjamin woke Madelyn up by kissing and touching her.

Madelyn raised her head and stared at Benjamin's delicate facial features and his perfect chin, which made her feel sexually excited.

When they were overwhelmed by sexual desire, there was a slight sound outside. It was probably the maid coming to do the housework.

Madelyn was thin-skinned and pushed Benjamin.

She leaned against Benjamin's shoulder and said, "Don't... The maid is coming."

Chapter 92 Be Good, Don't Be Angry

Benjamin's eyes were deep.

Benjamin said in Madelyn's ear in a husky voice, "Then I will give the maid half a year off. What do you think? There will be only the two of us left in the apartment, and we can make love whenever we want! Madelyn... Do you agree?"

"Knock it off. We can do it at night!" Madelyn coaxed Benjamin.

Benjamin gently held Madelyn's hand...

Madelyn groaned softly and leaned on Benjamin's shoulder. Then she stopped talking.

Seeing Madelyn agree, Benjamin soon let Madelyn help him masturbate.

Outside, the maid was doing housework quietly. Suddenly, she noticed the movement in the master bedroom and immediately knew what Madelyn and Benjamin were doing. She couldn't help but flush.

After listening quietly for a while, the maid thought, "I'm sure Mr. Clark hasn't vented his desire for a long time. The sound is so loud. Hope Ms. Green won't be bullied!"

coaxed, "Don't be angry, okay?"

Madelyn could take a hint. Benjamin's words reminded her that their relationship was always unequal.

Benjamin had the initiative in hands in the relationship.

He could do whatever he wanted.

For example, when the maid came over just now, Madelyn didn't want to continue having sex, but Benjamin wanted her, and she had to agree. Benjamin was unhappy and had a bad temper, and she had to endure it.

Madelyn was in a complicated mood.

She felt a little wronged, but she couldn't speak out. Their relationship was originally unequal. Madelyn lived here to make Benjamin happy, and she couldn't expect him to keep coaxing her.

Benjamin knew Madelyn was really upset.

Benjamin had gotten along well with Madelyn recently, and he liked to have sex with her very much. So Benjamin kept his temper and coaxed, "I'll give you a necklace at night, okay? You seem to have worn one on your neck before. Why don't you wear it now?"

Actually, Benjamin couldn't remember what style of necklace Madelyn was wearing, but he was just finding a topic.

Benjamin made a concession, and Madelyn didn't argue with him.

Madelyn didn't tell the truth and just said, "I accidentally lost it."

Benjamin took the opportunity to say in Madelyn's ear, "Why do you always lose things? You've lost yourself several times a night, haven't you?"

Chapter 93 The Way Mr. Clark Makes a Pet of a Woman

Madelyn flushed when Benjamin was flirting with her.

Madelyn stroked Benjamin's perfect facial features with her fingers and whispered, "You will be late if you don't leave now."

Benjamin stared at Madelyn.

Actually, Benjamin didn't know what was wrong with him. He was not a youth anymore, but he couldn't help but like to say something to make Madelyn shy.

In terms of sex, Madelyn was pure and unsophisticated. Benjamin liked to make her be what he liked. That was a great sense of accomplishment for a man.

Benjamin came out of the bedroom. He was considerate. After breakfast, he asked the maid to go back early.

The maid didn't agree.

"Mr. Clark, you employ me as a maid. How can I get your salary for nothing without finishing work today?"

Benjamin slowly drank the black coffee.

Paisley lowered her voice and continued, "In the future, you will have a lot of opportunities to mingle with others. These are the most basic, and the jewelry will be provided later."

Madelyn was a woman, and no woman disliked beautiful clothes.

However, when she moved here, she never thought about mingling with others after being with Benjamin. She thought she only had to satisfy his physical lust.

Paisley gave advice and said, "Mr. Clark is well-connected. Don't waste such resources."

She continued, "Madelyn, don't be stupid as a woman. What you can catch and hold is the most important."

Although Madelyn didn't understand this, she knew that Paisley was for her good.

Madelyn thanked softly and concentrated on choosing the dresses.

Accidentally seeing the tag prices, Madelyn was secretly surprised. The ready-to-wear clothes cost at least one thousand dollars, and the most expensive haute couture was more than 300 thousand dollars. These dresses would basically only be worn once.

Madelyn didn't want to be embarrassed, so she picked a few pieces that were suitable for her without changing her look. The dresses almost cost more than 500 thousand dollars.

Madelyn thought, "Benjamin is a spendthrift! It burns a hole in his pocket!"

Chapter 94 He Is Amazed by Madelyn's Appearance

Paisley smiled and said, "Ms. Green has a good eye! I saw the apartment had a lot of changes. No wonder Mr. Clark said long ago that you were dexterous and had good taste."

Paisley had a good tongue. Her words made Madelyn's previous anger at Benjamin disappear, and Madelyn accepted these dresses much more confidently.

Madelyn relaxed and let the stylist design.

The banquet was a little personal, so there was no need to dress up too much. The stylist picked out an ink-colored dress with spaghetti straps for Madelyn. The dress was very close-fitting, and Madelyn's slender legs naturally showed from the hem.

The stylist admired, "Ms. Green, you're in good shape, and your skin is impeccable."

She took a closer look...

Madelyn's face was small, and her facial features were very perfect.

The stylist discussed with Madelyn, "This dress is more suitable for a better hairstyle. I will make a new hairstyle for you. If you like it, you can go to my shop to make it permanent."

Madelyn stroked her long hair.

Her hairstyle was natural, but she also wanted to try another hairstyle.

Benjamin didn't let Madelyn go.

He raised his hand to look at the time and then did something more intimate. He buried his face in her neck and flirted with her. "I'll only do it once."

After speaking, Benjamin turned Madelyn around and kissed her frantically.

The dress was taken off and thrown on the ground, and Benjamin carried Madelyn in his arms to the cloakroom...

After a while, the sex was over.

Madelyn was so tired that she hardly wanted to go out. Benjamin tidied her dress up in a good temper. Then he took out a diamond necklace from his pocket and gently helped Madelyn wear it on her delicate neck.

"Do you like it? I picked it personally." Benjamin kissed Madelyn's earlobe and looked at their figures in the mirror.

Madelyn stroked the necklace.

She could see that this diamond necklace was very expensive and suitable for her. The most important thing was that Benjamin put his mind to it.

Then Madelyn and Benjamin made up. Madelyn turned around and hugged his neck and kissed his chin gently. She said, "It's beautiful. I like it very much."

Benjamin smiled softly.

He said in Madelyn's ear in a husky voice, "Are you not angry anymore? If yes, when we're back from the banquet, we will continue to..."

Chapter 95 Ms. Green, You Remind Me of My Old Friend

When they got in the car, they were almost late.

Madelyn was sitting next to Benjamin, and she couldn't even look at his side face. She couldn't help but wonder how long he was in a dry spell.

She thought, "He even made love day and night."

Probably guessing what Madelyn was thinking, Benjamin stopped the car at the red light at the intersection in front.

Benjamin held Madelyn's hand and gently rubbed her palm.

"Have a guess!"

Madelyn didn't want to guess. She looked out of the car window, wanting to conceal her flushed cheeks.

Benjamin gently touched Madelyn's delicate face and smiled. Then he said, "I'm not as licentious as you think, and there are no other women around me. I'm so busy at work that I don't have time to womanize!"

Madelyn flushed with her racing heart and thought, "He's really shameless!"

"If not, what has he been doing these days?"

William patted Benjamin on the shoulder and greeted him in a good mood.

Benjamin nodded politely and then introduced Madelyn to William, "She's my girlfriend, Madelyn Green. She has been learning to play the piano since she was a child, so she admires you very much. She knew that you would come to the banquet, so she wanted to come today."

Madelyn?

William was slightly stunned.

This name reminded him of the year in his 20s. He was a poor boy, while his girlfriend, Madeline Ryan, was a rich girl. She accompanied him to live in a house of less than 100 square feet for a year. They loved each other but William was angry with Madeline because of a misunderstanding. Later, he got married and accidentally learned that she was pregnant at the time.

William regretted it and looked for Madeline frantically!

However, William never found any information about Madeline, and he didn't get any clue from the Ryan family in Gredax. Some people said that she was expelled from the Ryan family because she was unmarried and pregnant...

"Mr. Bennett?" Benjamin's voice was slightly husky.

William came to his senses. He smiled and said, "Ms. Green's name reminds me of my old friend. If she gave birth to a child, this child should be the same age as Ms. Green."

When William said this, his eyes showed sadness.

Madelyn guessed that William once had an unforgettable lover. That old friend was his lover, and that unknown child should be William's own child.

Chapter 96 Uncle William, Look at Me

Madelyn was soft-hearted and didn't know how to comfort him.

William looked at her eyes, which seemed identical to those of the woman in his memory. He shook his head, thinking that he missed Madeline so much that he was deceived by his eyes.

After all, he was a public figure, so he quickly collected himself.

William was glad that Benjamin finally got a girlfriend. Madelyn seemed to be a good girl.

"Uncle, you only look at Madelyn. You don't even take a glance at me."

Eloise pouted and said sweetly.

William chuckled with amusement.

He hugged Eloise and teased her gently, "You have a boyfriend. Why do you pester me like you did when you were small?"

Eloise grew up abroad.

She used to sit on William's shoulders, so she was spoiled by him like a daughter. When she heard what William said, she pursed her lips slightly and said, "I won't forget you even if I get married."

William looked at her with loving eyes.

He prayed to god that he could find his lost daughter. He wished his daughter would be as lovely as Eloise. He would do anything for her and give her the best things...

Frustrated, Daniel blurted out words that might hurt her feelings.

"Congratulations! You have become Mr. Clark's official girlfriend and will have haute couture of designer brands and jewelry that cost millions. Madelyn, are you happy now?"

Daniel's words were sarcastic, but he actually wanted to say he could give her those things too.

However, he couldn't bring himself to say these words now.

The night wind was up.

Madelyn turned her head slowly and looked at Daniel. Her beauty took his breath away.

Daniel felt a sudden pang in his heart, and half of his body went numb.

Madelyn lowered her eyes and gave a faint smile, saying, "Daniel, what do you get from mocking me? Do you feel the joy of revenge? If yes, go ahead."

Daniel smiled.

A trace of ferocity came across his face, and he approached Madelyn. When he was one yard away from her, he sneered. "Have you gotten over me that fast? How can you accept another man and sleep with him in such a short time?"

His words were nasty, and Madelyn's eyes turned red.

Daniel seemed to have forgotten who did the wrong thing and let her down.

Madelyn was not surprised.

How could a man like Daniel know about love?

A man like him would never know how much she used to long to spend the rest of her life with him...

Chapter 97 Benjamin Was Possessive

Her eyes turning red, Madelyn looked at Daniel in the dim light.

They had been together for four years, and there was a mixture of disappointment and resentment in her eyes.

Behind the glass wall.

Benjamin held a glass of wine and looked at them expressionlessly.

There was displeasure in his eyes.

He was annoyed by the emotion in Madelyn's eyes. Perhaps she didn't love Daniel anymore, but the latter had left an indelible mark in her heart.

Benjamin laughed at himself. He turned out to be possessive, which was typical of men.

Eloise went up to him.

When she saw Daniel standing next to Madelyn, she felt uneasy and mumbled, "Benjamin, why is Daniel with Madelyn? They look..."

Daniel also turned around and saw the brother and sister standing behind the glass wall. He wondered how Benjamin managed to fool Eloise, who wasn't angry at all and waved at him with a smile.

Eloise went over and held his arm, saying sweetly, "Daniel, Madelyn is Benjamin's girlfriend. You should be nice to her from now on."

Daniel coaxed Eloise as if she was a child, and she was delighted. Eloise said in a good mood, "Benjamin said Madelyn was a good cook. Why don't we have some midnight snacks?"

She said to Madelyn pleadingly, "Please. I don't like the food here."

Chapter 99 Just One Kiss

When they got to the apartment, Benjamin took off his suit and tossed it casually on the sofa.

Madelyn said softly, "I'll go get changed."

Benjamin gazed at her without saying a word. He turned to Eloise and Daniel and entertained them. "Take a seat."

Eloise showed Daniel around the apartment.

She touched Louis II and exclaimed, "Benjamin, you're generous! Did you airlift this piano? In addition, the apartment is different from before."

Benjamin took a bottle of wine and four goblets from the cabinet

He poured the wine into the goblets slowly and looked at Daniel with a vague smile. "It's Madelyn who did it. She has nothing to do at home, so she re-decorated the apartment."

Eloise was envious.

Benjamin treated Madelyn very well.

Daniel felt awkward.

Now that he was holding Madelyn in his arms, he couldn't control himself anymore. He held her slender waist tightly and coaxed her in a hoarse voice, "I want more kisses." He stretched out his hands and put Madelyn on the table, holding her head and kissing her. Benjamin was lost in the passion and kissed Madelyn from different angles, but he wanted more. At this moment, he hated his sister and her fiance in the living room. Madelyn hadn't lost her senses. She said with a red face, "You've been here for a very long time. Go out." Benjamin looked at her with intense passion in his mature eyes. He asked, "How can I go out like this. Madelyn, tell me."

Madelyn blushed and whispered, "You can say you're going to take a shower. If you walk fast, you won't be noticed."

Benjamin gave a vague smile.

"Can you do this to me?"

Madelyn didn't want to disappoint him. She could see that he wanted her very much.

When she was about to comfort him, the kitchen door was pushed open, and Daniel came in.

When Daniel entered the kitchen, Madelyn and Benjamin were holding each other. She looked giddy with passion, and so did Benjamin.

Chapter 100 You're An Affectionate Couple

It was the first time that Daniel had seen such a scene.

His blood froze.

Daniel stared at the woman who was supposed to belong to him. She kissed the man eagerly in the kitchen. He guessed they might have had sex there if there had been no guests at home.

Although Daniel felt cold inside, he gave a bright smile and said, "You're an affectionate couple. I come to fetch some ice water."

He took two bottles of ice water from the fridge and shook them gently.

The atmosphere was subtle...

Benjamin was cheeky. What he was worried about just now was not a problem anymore.

He put Madelyn on the ground and straightened his clothes in front of Daniel. He carefully smoothed his belt and fastened his fly. Following that, he gave an apologetic smile and said, "Daniel, I'll go take a shower. Please feel at home."

After he spoke, he left Madelyn alone with Daniel confidently.

Madelyn knew Benjamin did that on purpose.

After Benjamin left, she didn't talk to Daniel and took the ingredients quietly.

Considering her relationship with Benjamin, she was not in the position to stop Eloise from coming again.

Benjamin glanced at his sister and said, "If you eat a lot every day, you'll put on weight. Who will marry you then?"

Eloise leaned against Daniel's shoulder and pouted her mouth. "Daniel will marry me."

Daniel couldn't help looking at Madelyn.

Madelyn looked away.

She was not annoyed, and nor was she too timid to look at them. She didn't think it necessary to do that.

Benjamin didn't seem to notice the subtle awkwardness. He leaned on the sofa and took Madelyn's hand, toying with it. At the same time, he talked with Daniel about the stock market and stock trends with a charming smile. He even gave the latter some advice.

Madelyn admired him. She was not capable of doing that.

In the end, Daniel couldn't stand it and took his leave.

Benjamin walked them downstairs in person. Before leaving, he said to Madelyn gently, "You can tidy up tomorrow. Take a shower first. I'll be right back."

Daniel quickened his pace in the front.

With his hands in his pockets, Benjamin looked at Daniel's back with a faint smile.
