

Chapter 929

Four or five black cars were parked outside the house. Arron got out of the house. As soon as he got in the car, a special person reported to him.

"Master, the wife and the little princess are very good at the moment, and the fourth son of the Pan family has not done anything unfavorable to the wife and the little princess."

Arron: "Yeah."

"Just now our people reported that the fourth son of Pan had prepared the best room for the little princess and his wife. The madam and the little princess are now asleep. I heard..."

The subordinates reported half of the report and did not speak any more.

Christopher next to him said: "What did you hear? It doesn't matter if you just say it."

The subordinates calmed down and said, "I heard that the little princess puts all her heads in the seat of the Pan family, Miss Bin Lanita."

"Puff..." Christopher suddenly smiled.

The subordinates dare not laugh.

After all, his subordinates are not as familiar with Christopher as Arron.

After the lenient effect, he asked again: "Continue..."

"Well, I also heard that the little princess actually... actually used the fourth son of the Pan family as a horse, and the fourth son of the Pan family was willing to crawl on the ground. I heard that his ears were corrected by the little princess. It's like a pig's ears..."

"Haha!" At this time, Christopher couldn't help but let out a pig cry after all.

He laughed and said, "Like! This is too much like the personality of the only female man of Shen, and the one who can do this kind of thing is definitely the only deity of Shen! Hahaha, I laughed to death, when I thought that Pan Haoyang was right. The little princess nodded and bowed her waist. Why do I feel so happy? And that Lanita ha, this...it's too unlucky for the Lin family of three, hahaha, so unlucky!"

Yan wide smiled and couldn't close his lips.

Next to him, the father of the little girl still had a calm expression on his face.

The daughter's sturdiness and her heroic warfare made Arron no surprises.

My daughter knows her best.

Moreover, when Suzi and Shen were only hijacked by Pan Haoyang when they got off the car, Arron only chased them a few times symbolically, and then stopped chasing them. The so-called dark under the lights, the most dangerous place is the safest place. , Arron knows this truth well.

What's more, for Arron, the entire Sovereign Mansion is not at all dangerous.

At this moment, Arron's eyes were looking out the car window.

At this time, the car just passed the Jiaxingdao International Hotel, and there were many street vendors on a fork in the road not far from the hotel.

Arron's eyes were focused on the face of the dusty man.

The man stood at his booth and chanted: "Three strings of ten dollars, pure natural crystals. Three strings of ten dollars, pure natural crystals."

Arron suddenly said to the driver driving in front: "Stop!"

The driver slammed the brakes immediately.

The subordinate in the car immediately asked: "Siye, what order do you have, the subordinate will go and handle it for you?"

These subordinates didn't know much about Arron, but they all had heard of Arron's reputation.

Various.

This subordinate who came to his hometown has a kind of worship and respect for Arron that is close to the deity.

Arron raised his hand to signal his subordinates not to speak.

The subordinates were all unclear, so they looked at Christopher, the bodyguard who had been following Arron all the time.

Christopher didn't understand why Arron would park here. He only looked out of Arron's perspective. When he saw the stall, Christopher was stunned for an instant: "Ling Arron?"

Chapter 930

When it was clear that it was really Joan, Christopher asked, "Master, do you want to get off the car and ask?"

Arron turned his head, he did not answer, but said to the driver in front: "Drive!"

The driver said: "Yes! Master."

The car continued to drive.

In the car, if Arron did not speak, no one spoke.

The driver did not ask Arron where he was going. He kept driving until the car quietly drove into the Monarch Mansion, and then the gate of the Monarch Mansion was naturally closed.

At night, the silent needle drop can be heard.

This night, it was surprisingly calm.

This night, people can sleep very quietly, and many things can change a lot overnight.

This night, the bag on Lanita's head can be reduced a lot under the action of the best medicine, and it can also make Suzi and Shen's only mother and daughter sleep peacefully and sweetly.

In order to prevent the monarch's people from finding Arron's whereabouts, Suzi has not turned the phone on.

I woke up early the next morning and the weather cleared up.

After Suzi and the only two mother and daughter washed up together, they came downstairs and saw Pan Haoyang sitting in the large living room.

"Good morning!" Pan Haoyang greeted actively.

"Bad guy!" Shen only woke up after a night of sleep, and turned his face into disapproval.

Pan Haoyang glared at Shen with only one look: "Yesterday afternoon, he ridden me as a horse. How come it's only a day before you don't want me as a horse?"

"Where is my father!" Lilly looked at Pan Haoyang and asked actively.

Pan Haoyang: "..."

He really couldn't answer this question.

If he answered the little princess honestly: "Your father and I are enemies. Either I die or his deceased enemy." If he said this, how would the little princess react?

Pan Haoyang had already seen the fighting power of the little princess yesterday.

If he didn't fight back, he couldn't imagine whether he would be beaten by this little girl like Lanita.

Therefore, Pan Haoyang decided not to tell the truth.

He glanced at Suzi.

Suzi smiled and said to the only one: "The only one is good. Dad came to Gasing Island on a business trip. There is business to do. Dad asked us to live in Pan... When Dad finishes the business, he will come to pick us up."

Pan Haoyang immediately agreed: "Yes, your mother is right."

Lilly's expression eased a bit, and she asked condescendingly, "Is this Jiaxing Island!"

"If you go back to the little princess, this is Jiaxing Island." Pan Haoyang answered Shen Only's words very seriously.

"Then, what beautiful scenery is there! Can you take me to Kang Yikang?" Lilly loves traveling the most, but when she is six years old, she actually doesn't go to many places.

Therefore, at this moment, as soon as she heard that her father had let her and her mother live here temporarily, she was much less prepared.

"Of course no problem! We are in a subtropical area, and there are many tropical fruits Jiaying Island that Nancheng does not have, and it is surrounded by the sea and the scenery is very beautiful! After breakfast, I will take you to play, how about it!" When it comes to playing, Pan Haoyang has the most say.

Especially, you can bring your beloved woman and your favorite children to play.

Before setting off, Pan Haoyang already had a picture in his heart.

In a car, he, Suzi, and Shen Sole sat three people, how like a family of three?
