

Chapter 93

Even if his self-control was as strong as he was, there was a tendency to be somewhat taut at the moment.

The woman in my arms was too beautiful, delicate and decadent to swoon over, like a fine, excellent red wine.

He took a deep breath and cupped her chin to control her haphazard k*ssing lips.

The voice was already hoarse, like a string strained to the breaking point.

"Be a good boy and do as you're told, eh?"

Jenny looked at him with a pair of watery eyes, as if she understood his words, and nodded obediently.

Only then did Biden Lu carry her into the bedroom and put her on the bed.

The clothes on Jenny's body had already been torn, but his trousers were still intact.

Biden Lu moved gently to remove her trousers and carefully examined the wounds on her body, finding that apart from her hands, her body only had a few bruises from knocks or bumps, and she was in relatively good condition.

He was so relieved that she might catch cold that he pulled the blanket over her again and wrapped it around her.

"Be good, wait here for a minute."

After saying that, he got up and was going to walk out.

Jenny, however, suddenly pulled him, and when Biden Lu turned back, he bumped into her aggrieved eyes.

"Honey, are you leaving? Aren't you going to help me?"

Biden Lu's eyes were dark, but the corners of his lips overflowed with a smile.

"So afraid of me leaving?"

Jenny nodded his head vigorously like a little chicken pecking at rice.

"Then be a good boy and I'll go wring a towel out for you and come over."

"Oh."

Biden Lu quickly wrung a hot towel over, carefully avoiding the wounds on her hands and wiping her face and hands for her.

Jenny fought four strong men at Pearl River International by himself, with wine and vegetable stains all over his body, which was simply unbearable to look at.

After Biden Lu finished wiping her down, he carried her to the bathroom to clean her up a little.

Since he wanted to avoid touching the wound, the only way to clean it was for Jenny to put his hands up, and as a result, the woman took advantage of the situation and grabbed his neck, nibbling at him again.

Biden Lu felt that he really couldn't tense up any longer.

Well at that moment, the outside doorbell rang.

He picked Jenny up from said bathtub and placed her on the bed in the bedroom, wrapping her in the blanket again before walking out and opening the door.

Vicky brought a female doctor, and Biden Lu let her in while Vicky stayed outside.

It wasn't that he didn't know how to treat wounds, it was just that a woman's skin was so delicate and her hands had several deep cuts from shards of glass, so it was better to find a reliable doctor to treat them and two tetanus shots to avoid scarring.

The doctor quickly took care of Jenny.

The effects of the medication just hadn't lifted yet, the doctor had come in a hurry and hadn't brought that much medication with him, but he did have a dose on hand to help her with the relief, but the side effects were significant.

Biden Lu directly waved his hand and decided that it wasn't necessary, and after letting Vicky send her away, this returned to the bedroom again.

In the bedroom, on the big bed with dark silk sheets, the woman sat there nicely, her long hair like a waterfall over her shoulders, her skin white and black, like a charming goblin.

When she saw him, she immediately raised a big smile and jumped off the bed and came at him.

"Honey, you're home!"

Biden Lu only felt a weight on his body, and the woman hung directly on his waist, wrapping her arms around his neck to pamper him.

"Honey, I've been waiting for you for so long, I've missed you so much."

Biden Lu: "....."

The veins in his forehead jumped twice, and his dark, deep gaze looked directly at the woman in front of him.

"You miss me?"

"Yes, honey, I'm so tired, let's get some sleep together."

Biden Lu held her in his arms and headed towards the big bed.

But only just getting to the edge of the bed, the woman on top of him suddenly released his waist, and then with a push, she

Pulled him down.

Biden Lu: "....."

Jenny rolled over and rode up, hands without any method to start pulling his shirt, belt, rolled the small face paste between his neck, where there is half a point just soft obedience?

Biden Lu finally realized that she was changing her ways to sleep with him!

If you can't do it the hard way, you can do it the soft way, but at least you can lull him into bed first.

He cried and laughed for a moment, sensing the eagerness of the woman in his body and teased, "Tsk, Mrs. Lu is so monkeyish, just isn't this undressing technique too bad?"

Jenny was about to cry with anger.

She tried hard to undo the man's belt, but it was like it had a grudge against her, and she couldn't get it off.

Finally, she simply bowed her head and used her teeth to bite.

The hot, wet breath came over the man and he couldn't help but draw a breath of cold air, his eyes darkening instantly.

"Jenny."

"Boing... I can't get it off... Honey give it to me..."

"What an abrasive leprechaun!"

As soon as the words left her mouth, Jenny suddenly felt a whirlwind, and then their positions were reversed, and she was being pressed down to her death.

The man squeezed her chin hard, his voice no longer steady.

"Tell me, who am I?"

"Honey."

"Who's the husband?"|

"Biden Lu."

A night of absurdity.

.....

The following day.

Jenny was awakened.

She opened her eyes and looked around in horror, realizing that this was a strange room, and her heart sank.

The next thing I saw was the floor, my own broken shirt, and a man's shirt.

She was moved and bent down to pick up the clothes, the shirt was somewhat familiar, as if it was Biden Lu's.

Lu Jing-Shen?

Is he here?

So she didn't last night....

Jenny was delighted, yet looking around the circle, there was no sign of the man.

She was busy getting out of bed and trying to get to him.

However, with just one movement, I felt a tear somewhere.

She hissed at the pain like a crack, and frowned.

This was when Biden Lu walked in.

"Awake?"

He looked at the woman sitting on the bed with a tray of hot-smelling breakfast in her hands.

Jenny stared at him for two seconds before she reacted with a blushing "hmm".

Biden Lu looked at her with eyes full of deep meaning, put the breakfast on the table beside her, and came over to lift the blanket, making a gesture to hug her.

"Wake up and eat your breakfast first."

Jenny even shrank back a bit, "No, I can just come down and eat by myself."

Biden Lu laughed.

"Are you sure you can walk easily now?"

Jenny: "....."

She bit her lip and glared at him.

"You have the nerve to say that! It's not because of you..."

"That you can wrong me, last night is who tried to sleep me, slept once not satisfied but two three times, the action is light and slow but also scolded, tsk! Mrs. Lu, it seems I have to keep up my exercise to maintain my strength, otherwise I'm afraid that the long decades will just be too much for old age."

Jenny was blushing and fidgeting at his words, not knowing how to respond to them.

She was completely unconscious after she had beaten those four men down last night, and what happened afterwards was so vague that she didn't remember it clearly.

Chapter 94

She didn't even remember when she was rescued by Biden Lu, and as for what happened afterwards, she was even more completely oblivious.

The alcohol breaks the tablets + the drugs play, and I still have some headaches!

When Biden Lu saw her pounding her head with her fist and frowning her face, a bad feeling rose in her heart.

"Don't tell me you don't remember what happened last night."

Jenny looked up at him, dumbfounded, "No, I remember, I was plotted against by Mu Hongxin at Pearl River International, she drugged me and tried to find four men to strong Hen me, and they were all beaten down by me."

Biden Lu's eyelids jumped viciously.

"And then what?"

"And?"

Jenny looked at Xiang with a blank stare.

"And...you rescued me?"

"Heh!"

Biden Lu smiled darkly and lost even the thought of carrying her up for dinner, taking her coat and turning around straight away.

"Eh!Where are you going?You haven't told me yet!"

The answer to Jenny's question was the sound of the door closing.

Jenny touched his nose in depression, feeling that this man had a really weird temper.

One minute I was staring at it, the next I was angry.

This is ridiculous!

But she wasn't in the mood for this man right now, she had spent too much energy last night and was hungry at this point.

Grimacing, she got off the bed and moved to the edge of the table.

Biden Lu prepared a rich breakfast for her, with porridge, crab buns, and fritters, all of which she loved to eat.

Jenny ate a lot, and only after she finished eating did the party feel much more restorative, and her body wasn't so sore and uncomfortable, before she went into the bathroom to wash her face.

There was a set of women's dresses stacked on the bed, presumably for her.

After Jenny changed, she walked out of the bedroom, originally thinking that Biden Lu should have left after being so angry just now.

But as soon as he left the bedroom, I saw him sitting on the couch in the living room, taking care of business on his laptop.

Jennyton was delighted.

"So you didn't leave!"

Biden Lu's face didn't look too good, and he snorted coldly.

Jenny even ran over and sat down next to him.

"I was just joking with you, how could I not remember? Thank you for saving me last night, it was hard work."

The woman tugged at his sleeve with a pleasing smile.

Biden Lu inclined a glance at her, seemingly smiling.

"I kind of see you clearly now."

"Huh?What?"

"Heh!Whenever you need me, take the initiative to make out and call your husband, and when you don't need me, you need me to give you the respect to keep your distance, huh...woman!"

Jenny: "....."

Biden Lu closed his computer and stood up.

"Sohm!"

" on."

Vicky didn't know when he had come over, he had been standing at the entrance entrance before, Jenny hadn't even noticed him.

"Back to the company."

"Okay, President."

Biden Lu left with Vicky.

Jenny watched him go, wondering what she had done wrong again to annoy the man, chasing or not chasing at the moment.

Also, she didn't even know where this was, and it seemed like her phone had broken last night, and her wallet wasn't with her, so how was she supposed to get back when he just left her here all alone?

Jenny gritted his teeth, a little exasperated.

Soon after, however, the doorbell was rung.

Jenny thought it was that man again who had come back, and even went to open the door with joy.

However, opening the door only to find that it was a cool, smart woman in a black suit.

"Hello young lady, my name is Mo Nan, I'm the bodyguard sent by Mr. Lu to protect you."

Jenny: "....."

In light of last night's events, Biden Lu could no longer rest assured that Jenny Jing was doing business alone, so he had sent one of his henchmen, Mo Nan, who had been sponsored by the Lu family since childhood, to protect her.

Mo Nan was from a military academy, very good at it, and had once been a female soldier, then retired from the army and went straight back to work for Lu, and had been in charge of Biden Lu's security all these years.

The fact that Biden Lu could assign her to Jenny Jing showed how important Jenny Jing was to him.

On the car ride back, Jenny asked about Mo Nan's history, and sent a WeChat to Biden Lu to confirm that he had sent someone over.

Biden Lu only briefly replied, "Well, no matter where you go in the future, you must take Mo Nan with you."

Then there was no further reply to her.

Jenny felt that this man was really good at being nice to people.

So good that I can't tell you how warm and reassuring it is.

It's just a really stinky temper.

She just slept with him again last night!

Oh, not once, like...many times?

She didn't remember, anyway...it wasn't necessarily like he was at a disadvantage in this case! Why does he look like he's been wronged and taken advantage of?

You're mad at me?

Jenny was a little depressed, and even more so when she thought about last night's events.

Her eyes went cold and she picked up her phone and dialed a number out.

"Hello, police station? I'm calling the police!"

That afternoon, after a month and a half ago, Jenny Jing had sent Rovell Mu and Clara to the police station, he sent Fedora in again.

When he finds out what happened last night, he breaks an antique vase in his house and runs to the police station to get it.

Jenny had already learned from Mo Nan about the fact that Biden Lu had ordered someone to disable those four bodyguards last night, so she also knew that this matter couldn't really be investigated deeply.

She was just trying to teach Mu Hongxin a lesson, plus a warning, so that she wouldn't think that she, Jenny, was an easy bully, a soft tomato to be taken advantage of.

So as soon as Patrick Hong pleaded for mercy, she didn't say anything more than that she didn't want to see her again in Visterdem in the future.

Originally this was just a casual comment she made.

She knows how much face she has Jenny, and Patrick Hong looks angry on the surface, but is actually very protective, not necessarily willing to send this precious daughter abroad.

Unexpectedly, however, Patrick Hong actually agreed.

He almost begged Jenny Jing with a bitter face, "Jenny Jing, I know it has always been our Mu family that has wronged you, and I have no shame to defend myself more on this matter, but all these years, Uncle Mu has been treating you quite well, right? Even if you see your mother's friendship with my old classmate, please let Fedora and let the Mu family off the hook, okay?"

Jenny was stunned.

She looked at Patrick Hong in confusion, "Uncle Mu, you're kidding! What right do I have to spare the Mu family? I didn't do anything to you!"

"It's..."

Patrick Hong was in a bit of a quandary.

All he knew was that he had been notified this morning that all of Mu's business dealings with Lu had been called off.

Not only that, but the other partners he had on hand were also calling one after another, saying that they wanted to terminate their cooperation with Mu.

There are several projects that were previously under negotiation that were originally talked about just short of signing a contract in black and white.

Chapter 95

But unexpectedly this morning, they suddenly went on the defensive and chose a different supplier.

If it was just one thing, Patrick Hong wouldn't suspect anything yet.

But one thing led to another, and he knew that something must have happened or he had messed with someone he shouldn't have.

As expected, God knows how angry he was when he learned that Fedora had actually drugged Jenny and provoked Biden Lu.

But as angry as you are, your daughter was born to you, and you'll have to swallow whatever bitterness you have.

It was just that he had thought that Jenny Jing had authorized Biden Lu to do all these things, but unexpectedly, looking at her reaction just now, did she not even know about it at all?

Biden Lu had done so much for her and she didn't even know anything, so her position in Biden Lu's heart...

Patrick Hong didn't dare to continue thinking about it, and a hint of regret arose in his heart.

If only we hadn't let Jenny go in the first place?

Not to mention what she could bring to the Mu family, at least she wouldn't piss off an enemy as big as Biden Lu.

Thinking of this, Patrick Hong only felt bitter, and advised in a good voice, "So much so, you probably do not know about it, but it does not matter, just go back and tell Mr. Lu that Mu has no intention of making things difficult for you, and beg him to be kind, I will take care of my children in the future, and never let them provoke you again, you just need to say so."

Jenny was slightly stunned, and then he understood.

She laughed, "Okay, it's just that Uncle Mubby has to do what he says he's going to do, or I can't promise I'll be able to plead for you guys again if something happens next time."

Patrick Hong said evenly, "Yes, I understand."

Jenny nodded, "Okay, I'll leave this matter alone, I'll leave first, go fish for your own people!"

Patrick Hong smiled, "Okay, thanks a lot, Jenny."

Jenny didn't say anything else and turned to leave.

As we left, we just happened to see Mu Hongxin being brought out.

As soon as she saw Jenny, she immediately rushed towards her viciously as if she was mad.

"Jenny! You b*tch! Stop right there! How dare you get me into the Bureau, you're simply tired of living, I won't let you off the hook, I'll never let you off the hook!"

Jenny Jing sarcastically quirked his lips, looked at her like a piece of trash, and strode away without any further attachment.

Mu Hongsheng was still cursing there, helplessly her body was pulled by two policemen and she couldn't get away.

She yelled out, "What are you holding me for? If you're going to arrest her, arrest that woman! She mutilated four of my bodyguards, and I'm not even done with her yet? Are you all dead? She didn't arrest me for such a big crime, but she came to arrest me? Is there still a king's law or not?"

The two cops were expressionless.

Patrick Hong had a headache and couldn't stand it any longer, so he shouted angrily, "Shut up!"

Mu Hongxin screamed, "I don't! Dad, you leave her alone, too! Have you and your brother been compelled by her? She did this to me and you let her go!"

Patrick Hong couldn't stand it any longer and raised his hand to slap her face.

Mu Hongsheng was struck off her head and looked at him incredulously.

"Dad! You, you hit me?"

Patrick Hong gritted his teeth, "I think I should have hit you a long time ago! Thinking you're a girl, you've been pampered and raised by a thousand pampered people, and now I think it's just spoiling you too much, that's why you've become so lawless!"

Mu Hongsheng looked at Patrick Hong's face until he was livid, realizing that her father was really angry this time.

She even softened her attitude and said in tears, "Dad, I was wrong, don't be angry, okay? I'm just mad at her for always bullying Sister Maya and always trying to seduce my brother, I, I just wanted to teach her a lesson."

Patrick Hong no longer wanted to find out why at this point.

He rubbed the corners of his forehead, which hurt a little, wearily.

"Next week, you'll be going to America with your cousin! Stay in America for a while, learn something too, and don't come back for a short time."

Fedora stared at her.

"What? Dad, are you sending me abroad? I'm not going!"

Patrick Hong said coldly, "This time you have to go even if you don't, there's no discussion!"

"Dad! You'd give up your own daughter for that woman? I'm not going! I wouldn't go if I were dead!"

Patrick Hong didn't bother to pay attention to her and just called two bodyguards in to force the person home.

Then, before turning around and going out.

Getting into the car, the driver respectfully asked, "Where are we going now, Chairman?"

Patrick Hong squeezed his brow and said tiredly, "Go back to the company and take a look."

"Yes."

As the car started, he looked out the window at the receding scenery, remembering what Mu Hongxin had just said, and sneered.

For Jenny?

Heh. How could it be that he would disregard his own daughter for Jenny?

It's all about that man!

That man...was immensely powerful, not something a local merchant family like them could afford to offend.

Just why would such a person stay in Visterdem? And for six months?

What the hell is he doing here?

Miron was in deep thought.

On the other hand, Jenny returned to the land garden, took another shower, and changed clothes.

After finishing it, I realized it was actually 6pm.

Aunt Liu prepared dinner and called her to eat, Jenny looked at the time and wondered, "Isn't Biden Lu coming back to eat today?"

Auntie Liu smiled, "Mr. Mister is working overtime today and has just called back, saying that he won't be back to eat."

Jenny said, "No," and his eyes rolled.

Overtime?

I don't know if it's true or not.

There's simply nothing going on today, so why not go over there.

Thinking this, she instructed Aunt Liu, "How about this! You help me bring in the food in a box, and I'll bring it over to him, even my share."

Aunt Liu had a surprised expression on her face at the news.

Eventually, I should say, "Okay, I'm going to load it."

It was good that the young lady and the young master were affectionate, she was happy before it was too late, and her movements became more nimble all of a sudden.

Jenny went back upstairs, grabbed her bag, and was going to stop by the mall again when she returned later to buy a mobile phone and refill a phone card.

When she went downstairs, Aunt Liu had already loaded the food.

Jenny went out the door with the thermos, and Mrs. Chen walked her all the way to the door, smiling, "Young lady, let the driver take you!"

Jenny shook her head, "No, I can just drive myself there."

"Okay, well, be careful on your way."

Jenny put the thermos in the passenger seat, started the car and drove off.

Lu.

Biden Lu was in a meeting, and the atmosphere in the conference room was a bit heavy.

Almost all of the company's senior executives were there, facing the man sitting on the throne, none of them dared to take it lightly, and all of them played their best to deal with it.

Even though this meeting had been going on all afternoon, no one dared to complain.

The project manager is standing in front of the projector reporting on his work.

After the report was finished, seeing Biden Lu's face getting heavier and heavier, his heart couldn't help but lift.
