

My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 941

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 941- Eventually, Charmine leaned on Anthony's arm as she asked, "When's your birthday?"

"Next month, on the thirty-first of December," replied Anthony calmly.

Charmine red lips curled up. "Perhaps you'll receive the gifts you most anticipated."

Anthony did not look forward to his birthday as much, but Charmine's words made him smirk. "Yes, I anticipate it."

Within a month, they should probably be able to get married.

Articles like [BoyClub Spoiling Me], [The Spoiled and Precious Cousin] made it to the hot-topic list.

Everyone in the country knew that Charmine's great-granddaughter was from the Cherny family of the War Department. 2

Many fans left comments on Charmine's Twitter, all driven with awe and admiration.

Charmine's background instantly became more powerful and respectable. At the Cherny family.

Seven young men stood in a row with a cool military posture.

A stern-looking middle-aged man stood in front of them, and he growled furiously, "Which of you got in touch with Charmine? Tell the truth!"

"Report! None!" seven men replied in unison.

The middle-aged man harshly whipped the whip at them.

“Not telling the truth? If none of you contacted her, why would she use the name of our Cherny family?”

“Really, we didn’t. We don’t even have enough time to train every day!” the eldest son answered formally, sternly.

The second brother said, ‘These are written by the netizens.’

The third brother continued, “Perhaps she’s using us to increase her popularity...”

The middle-aged man was their father. Seeing that they were so set on in their stance, it showed that they truly did not talk to Charmine at all.

He ordered, “Go back to the base to continue training!”

“Yes!” The seven sons turned and went back to the training base.

The middle-aged man picked up his phone and used the Cherny family’s official

Twitter account and tweeted the following:

[I hope everyone pays attention to what you read. The Cherny family is from the War Department with strict rules. Please don’t spread rumors! Do not use the name of Cherny to increase your popularity! Currently, the Cherny has nothing to do with the Jordan family!]

As this was an official account, they would usually only post important notices.

Their tweet of sudden clarification, surely enough, attracted the attention of many.

At the Bailey mansion...

Senior Bailey and Grandma Bailey were picking the date for Anthony and Charmine's marriage when Susan suddenly ran in. "Dad, Mom, hold on. Have a look-the Cherny family isn't accepting Charmine."

Grandma Bailey accepted the phone and frowned.

Why did it seem like the Cherny family was trying to stay clean from the Jordans?

Still...

"Whether Charmine is related to the Cherny family or not, she's the great-granddaughter of the Hahn family."

"Mom, I know Charmine's background isn't bad, but we can't be in such a hurry. The marriage needs to wait. I heard that the Cherny family and the Hahn family aren't close. They even have a past..."

Susan went closer to Grandma Bailey and whispered in her ears.

Grandma Bailey's face changed completely.

There was such a thing!

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 942- Grandma Bailey looked at Susan. "Are you sure about this?" "Of course, I'm very sure. Why would I make up such a thing? I've contacted so many people, pulled at every stop to find out about this matter. In conclusion, if Charmine wants to get close to the Cherny family and get their support, she must fulfill that requirement. However, if she doesn't, she won't be with Anthony and can't get married!"

'Then we must make sure they get married sooner! What if the Cherny family takes her away?' Grandma Bailey asked anxiously.

Susan frowned. "Mom, how could you think this way? What I'm saying is that she won't get support from the Cherny family. With that, all the relatives and elders of the Bailey family won't agree to this marriage. This situation will get murkier. The relatives will be divided and our family will be weakened in the process. Then, when that situation actually comes our way, we won't have any energy left to fight with!" 1

Her tone was serious.

Darryl walked toward them. "Susan is right, Dad, Mom. I know you both care for

Anthony and think on his behalf, but we must consider the situation as well, we can't get too impatient."

Senior Bailey and Grandma Bailey exchanged glances, eyes filled with worry.

At Violet Residence.

Even though it was a weekend, Chris did not go out. He locked himself in the room and occupied himself with something.

Charmine did not disturb him. She went back to her villa to check on Annabel, who was asleep when she got there.

“Although the needles have improved her sleep, she has been staying inside the villa the whole time,” reported Nial,” and that’s not good for a pregnant lady’s mood and wellbeing. Her appetite isn’t good, and with that, the growth of the fetus will be slower than usual.”

Charmine frowned.

Since Charmine was fighting against Waverly, Annabel must be kept hidden.

Before she could find out the reason why Chris’ body rejected the needles, Annabel’s unborn child was their only hope. She must not be harmed.

Still, something could happen if Annabel was to stay hidden inside every day as well...

Amid her thoughts, her phone rang urgently, i

She answered the call and was greeted with Grandma Bailey’s voice as she spoke, “Charmine, do you have time to come over to the Bailey mansion? I have things to discuss with you about. Remember: Do not let Anthony know about this.”

Charmine frowned. What matter was this about? Was it so serious that she must not let Anthony know?

Grandma Bailey comforted, “Don’t worry, I won’t harm you. It’s regarding your future with Anthony.”

Charmine mulled it over before she eventually agreed. “Okay, I’ll go now.”

Since Kay and his men would keep their watchful gaze on her anyway, nobody would harm her.

As for Anthony...

Charmine instructed Nial, "You take care of Annabel for the time being. She could walk around on the balcony but not outside in the residential area. I'll let you know once I come up with a plan."

"Okay." Nial then turned his hopeless gaze at the sleeping Annabel in bed.

This meant that he had to stay here for a long time. How bitter...

When Charmine got back to the next villa, she saw Anthony in the living room on the second floor, working on his laptop.

Even though she was standing far away, she could see the Marry Wedding website.

Marry Wedding was the top wedding gown-designing brand in the world. They only took one client every 1,314 days, symbolizing 'the one and only*.

In other words, they only took in one client every three to four years. Even after accepting the client, the gown would only be done three years later.

Within the three years, Marry Wedding would have received the order and reservation.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 943- Anthony was preparing a gown for her?

Charmine walked toward him. "Don't trouble yourself over this. It's not certain

“My grandparents have given their blessings, and this way, I don’t have to keep up the act with Waverly anymore,” grumbled Anthony coldly.

Waverly actually planned to drug him. This had all come to an end.

Charmine’s eyes narrowed. His grandparents agreed to their relationship?

If they had agreed, why would they ask to meet her secretly?

Regardless...

‘Then find a way to reserve Marry Wedding,” she relented. “I’ll sort things out in the company.”

“Alright.” Too engrossed in the website, Anthony did not ask any more questions.

Charmine managed to leave the villa and made her way toward the Bailey mansion, where Grandma Bailey had arranged for a maid to politely lead her into a tea room when she arrived.

There were two cups of tea on the table, and the scent was purely aromatic.

When she saw Charmine, Grandma Bailey instantly invited, “Charmine, come over and have a seat.”

Charmine removed her shoes and walked over to sit beside her.

There were some snacks on the wooden tea table, and the ambiance in the room was tranquil.

Grandma Bailey genially began, "Have a taste. These are all exquisite titbits that I asked them to make. I hope you'll like them."

Seeing that she was being so friendly, Charmine felt unsettled.

Grandma Bailey acted unusually kind to her. She asked her to come to their mansion, thus there must be a motive of sorts...

She could not help saying, "What is it, Grandma Bailey? Do tell me. If you won't explain anything, I won't have any appetite to taste these treats."

"Aw, you're such a straightforward girl." Grandma Bailey placed down the snack and sighed. "You know your great-grandmother's family, the Cherny family? Are you close to them?"

"Never been in touch," Charmine answered honestly.

Since young, Joey had only brought Tiffany back to the Hahn family, but the Hahns and Chernys did not keep in touch.

"As expected," said Grandma Bailey, followed by a sigh. "I heard about something earlier. It's quite challenging. Apparently, the Cherny and the Granger families had been close, seeing as Senior Granger once saved Senior Cherny.

Senior Cherny made a promise to Senior Granger that if they gave birth to a daughter, she would marry Senior Granger's son. This promise would be valid in every generation. However, when they finally gave birth to a daughter, who is your great-grandmother, Grandma Hahn, she did not want to get married into the Granger family and, instead, insisted on marrying Senior Hahn. Therefore, the Cherny and the Hahn families cut off all relations, though this didn't put an end to the promise. Little did they expect that ever since then, the Chernys had only had sons throughout the generations. Up till your generations, there are seven children in their family, and they're all boys!" i Charmine frowned as she listened. She seemed to have vaguely understood something.

Grandma Bailey concluded, 'To put it simply, the Chernys didn't give birth to any daughter, but they did make a promise to pair up with the Grangers. If you establish your relationship with the Chernys, they'll force you to get married with a Granger son."

Charmine said, "Don't worry, I won't have anything to do with the Chernys."

"Members of the Bailey family had a meeting, and if you don't have support from the Chernys, they won't allow you to be with Anthony. They'll reject the marriage. They've even started working on it, and things might get rocky from now on," muttered Grandma Bailey with a frown.

Charmine had a matching frown as well. Would all of their relatives reject her marriage?

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 944-

Grandma Bailey continued, "After the investigation, I also found out that the Cherny family once hunted down a red wolf in a mountain, and its bones could cure Memo's illness. I think you should try to get along with the Cherny family.

This could not only help you be with Anthony without opposition, but it could also save Memo's life."

Charmine's eyes gleamed. The bones of a red wolf could cure Chris' illness?

Sure, they had Annabel, but she was in an unstable state, and it was still a problem whether her baby could grow healthily or not.

If there was another way of helping Chris...

ancient book and handed it to her. "Look at this: the book recorded that Chris' illness is caused by a deficiency of nutrients since birth. Since he was born with a weak body and the wolf's bones are nutritious, they could cure Momo!" 1

Charmine skimmed the pages to verify what she said.

The red wolf was a legendary species, and no one had seen it since the twentieth century. Many people thought it had gone extinct and no longer roamed the world.

However, last year, the Chernys was lucky to have found the body of a red wolf...

It seemed that Charmine must make a trip to the Cherny mansion.

She said to Grandma Bailey, "I know what to do."

“Charmine is so understanding. I really like you, and I hope you can get along with the Cherny family. Once that’s done, everyone here will fully support you to be with Anthony. By then, nobody could stand in your way anymore! I’d like to remind you, however, that you’re with Anthony and you love him. Don’t let the Granger family take you away.”

As she spoke, Grandma Bailey seemed worried as she held Charmine’s hand. Charmine comforted, “Don’t worry. If I’m that easy to be taken, I wouldn’t have been with Anthony for so long.” 1 ‘That’s good, that’s good... If you need my help, do let me know,” reminded Grandma Bailey.

Eventually, Charmine drove out of the Bailey mansion after talking to Grandma

Bailey for a little longer, and her words rung in her ears even as she left.

She must get along with the Cherny family for the rest of the Baileys to support the marriage. Only then would she win against Waverly completely! 1

To put it simply, she must sort out the issues regarding the Cherny family.

However, there was a marriage arrangement between the Chernys and the Grangers. If she got along with the Chernys, she might be forced to marry...

If she remembered correctly, the Grangers worked for the Defence Navy. Those moguls of importance were unlikely to accept someone like her. i

After all, she had birthed a child before, got engaged, and had her reputation ruined...

With all those thoughts in mind, she recollected herself as she drove toward the Cherny mansion.

Even if she could not help along with the Cherny family, it would be worth a shot if she could get the bones to cure Chris.

The Cherny mansion was a few kilometers away from the city. As her car got to their gate, she could see a tall fence that encompassed the mansion. Two strict, menacing-looking guards stood watch by the gate's entrance.

Furthermore, the mansion was surrounded by tall-standing poplars, giving out the impression of how much authority the Cherny family had.

Charmine felt the formality of this place. She fixed her composure before opening her car door to get down.

Not far away from Charmine's car was another regular-looking black car parked by the side of the road, and in it was Waverly, lips curled into a

She anticipated Charmine to come.

Charmine wanted to get close to the Cherny family, was she? She wanted to win their support?

Hah! She might as well dream about it.

Things would surely take an interesting turn from there!

After Charmine got out of the car, she walked to the gate and said to one of the guards, "Hello, I'm here to visit Mr. Cherny. I have matters to discuss with him, so please help me relay it to him." i

"Hah! Do you think a person like you is allowed to get into the Cherny mansion?

And you even want to meet Mr. Cherny?" The guard eyed Charmine condescendingly.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 945-"Aren't you just a celebrity using the name of the Cherny family to increase your popularity? What a joke! Get away!"

Charmine frowned.

Even the guard of the Cherny family knew about that? He had such an arrogant tone!

She warned him patiently, "Even if I'm a celebrity, I'm a relative of theirs, and it makes sense for me to visit them. You, on the other hand, are just a guard. Are you sure you won't be passing word about me to your boss and insult me instead? Is that what they taught you?"

close to them on a daily basis? Do you think anyone could get in?

Furthermore, Mr. Cherny had made it clear on Twitter that he had nothing to do with you. You're a distant relative, yet you're trying to get in and even had the audacity to lecture me? Ugh, what a disgrace!”

With a look of disgust on his face, the bodyguard spat at her and reached out for his electric baton to beat Charmine’s leg.

He moved as he growled, “Go away! Don’t disturb me from working!”

As he had undergone training under the Cherny family, his movement was quick as he swung the electric baton.

He moved so quickly that the long electric baton was a graze away from Charmine’s leg.

Suddenly, Charmine lifted her long leg with agility and harshly stepped on the baton.

The guard was shocked. He did not expect a woman like Charmine to be so agile.

He tried to take back his baton but Charmine was too strong. He tried pulling at it but to no avail.

“B*tch!” he growled angrily at her. “Get off!”

“I thought you’re confident with yourself? Why can’t you even take back the baton? Are you a coward?” Charmine mocked him.

The guard was furious. “You...! How dare you speak to me like this!”

At that moment, the door of the mansion opened from the inside.

The originally fierce-looking guard suddenly shifted in his demeanor, quickly letting go of his baton and falling backward.

“Bam!”

With a loud sound, he fell beside the stone lion, 1

The ear of the stone lion was cut away!

The man walking out was Hugh Cherny.

He saw this and his face tensed.

‘What’s going on here?!’

“Mr. Cherny, Charmine insisted on meeting everyone. She claims to be a family member, a distant relative of yours, and she said you must attend to her!

However, I told her you’re busy and don’t have time to see her. I asked her to mind her attitude and she then got mad. She started attacking me and insisted on getting inside, saying that the Cherny family must grant her an audience!”

The guard made things up to worsen the situation.

With a grimace, he scowled at Charmine, “Go away! We, the Cherny family, will not meet a distant relative like you!”

Waverly, who was observing from afar, was delighted.

Luckily, she had arranged for it beforehand. As the Cherny family would not accept Charmine, what did Charmine have to win against her?

As long as Charmine did not gain the approval from the Chernys, they could finally see Charmine shaming herself!

However...

Charmine glared daggers at the guard before she lifted her leg and harshly kicked at the guard.

Thomp!

With a loud sound, the guard's face was kicked as his head twisted to the side.

A mouthful of fresh blood oozed out through his lips.

He covered his face in disbelief as he looked at Charmine, shocked. "You... You actually hit me..."

Charmine actually attacked the guard in front of Mr. Cherny!

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 946-Mr. Cherny was furious. He had lived so long and nobody had ever been so arrogant in front of him!

He scowled furiously, "Charmine! How dare you hit my guard?! You're asking for trouble!"

"Did you notice something, Mr. Cherny? That's a blow from me! If I, Charmine, hit him, there'll surely be blood! Your guard framed me for that, and this shows that the Cherny family hasn't taught him well! You accused me right after hearing what he said, showing how unjust you are! I don't need a relative like you!"

Finishing her sentence, Charmine then turned on her heel to leave, her gait arrogant and wild.

Hugh was so furious that the muscles on his face twitched.

What did Charmine say? Did she just call him unjust and that she did not need a relative like him?

How could there be such an arrogant woman in the world?

Waverly was cautious inside the car. Why was Charmine so arrogant?

So what? Charmine doing this would further offend the Cherny family. She would never be able to get along with the Chernys again!

Just as Waverly gloated in the feeling of triumph, a man suddenly came out of the woods nearby.

He wore a camouflage costume with mud smeared on his face. He had some leaves on his hair as well.

Standing at 1.9 meters tall, his facial features seemed well-chiseled, showcasing his masculine and powerful aura.

He walked to Hugh and said, "Uncle, you've misunderstood her. I was hunting by the side, and I saw it all. It was indeed your guard who framed her, and she hadn't used any force throughout their conversation before you came." 1

Hugh's expression changed instantly. This was Guy Granger, an heir of the Granger family. He had always been straightforward and never lied. 1

Had he really misunderstood Charmine?

He glared at the guard furiously and the guard shivered in fear, guiltily avoiding his eyes.

Hugh lifted his leg and kicked him harshly. "You're asking for trouble! Why's there someone like you in the Cherny family?!"

"Argh!"

The guard was kicked and flew a meter away due to the force.

With a loud 'thunk', he fell on the ground and spat out yet another mouthful of blood.

When Guy saw that Charmine was about to drive away, he quickly looked at Hugh and said, "Uncle, she's actually here for..."

Despite his attempt to explain, his ears were turning red.

Hugh had watched Guy growing up, and he had never seen him speaking up for any other woman before.

Seeing his reddened ears, Hugh seemed to have understood something. He teased, "Our Guy is finally grown up. Not bad. Uncle will look out for you."

As he spoke, he walked toward Charmine's car.

Guy's face had turned even redder, though he remained standing where he stood, waiting.

Charmine was about to drive away when, all of a sudden, Hugh walked in front of her car and said with a serious face, "I've wronged you earlier.

Come on out, let's talk."

Charmine frowned. Oh?

Since she would not hold it against him, and thinking of Chris' illness, she opened the door and got out of the car. With that, she followed Hugh into the Cherny mansion.

Guy followed behind them and kept a respectable distance from Charmine as he walked a few meters behind. 1

None of them noticed, however, that his ears would turn red and hot with just a glance of Charmine. 1

When Waverly watched the three of them entering, her fists clenched tightly.

Damn it! Where did that man come out from?

If it was not for him, Charmine would have lost her chance in talking to the Chernys! Why did that man ruin her plan?!

Max, who was by her side, reminded her, "Don't offend him. He's the son of the General Officer of the Navy Defence, and he's protected by the Gragoul s Team.

We can't afford to offend him."

Waverly's eyes were instantly filled with jealousy.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 947-Son of the Granger family? How could Charmine get so lucky? She came just to meet the Cherny family, yet she won the help of a Granger already!?

Somehow, and she did not know why, Waverly felt extremely unsettled...

Inside the Cherny mansion.

Different from other mansions, the Cherny mansion was filled with different training bases.

There was a boxing ring, wilderness base, and an empty base with many people training outdoors, namely the seven sons.

They were practicing rock-climbing at the time, and all seven were hanging high above.

They spotted Charmine walking in, and their expression morphed to one of shock.

Their father invited Charmine inside? Did he not hate her before?

Furthermore, how would a woman like Charmine come inside the Cherny mansion?

Hugh could feel their eyes on him, and he scoffed, "Continue your training!"

Everyone snapped out of their daze and continued to climb and train.

Hugh, meanwhile, led Charmine and Guy into a resting lounge. The room was simple with only a square table situated in the middle.

Hugh sat on the host seat as someone brought over three cups of tea.

He said to Guy, "Sit, Guy."

"Okay..." Just as Guy was about to sit, he recalled he was covered in mud and his hands were dirty.

This was her first meeting with Charmine. How could he look like this?

"Why don't you go on ahead and talk with Charmine, Uncle?" He excused himself. "I have to attend to something... Excuse me..."

After saying so, he lowered his head politely at Hugh and Charmine before he turned and quickly left.

Hugh understood his intention but did not call him out for that. Instead, he looked at Charmine and asked, "What're you here for?"

Charmine sat down on the left side and, not beating around the bush, started, "To be honest with you, I'm about to get married to Anthony. However, the Baileys don't think highly of the Jordans. Therefore, I came here in hope of reconciling with the Chernys while trying to get a red wolf bone."

Hugh frowned. "Getting married to Anthony? Isn't Anthony engaged to Waverly?"

Anthony was a major figure in Burlington. Although he was a businessman, he was in charge of the economics in Burlington and the international trades.

Charmine explained, "In simpler terms, Waverly is my decoy. If I can get the Cherny family's support, I'll be able to reveal the truth and myself."

Hugh understood it, but if Charmine was with Anthony, then Guy...

Of course, they could talk about this in the future.

He gazed at Charmine. "You're a brave lady. You want to use our name, do you? And get hold of the red wolf bone? What makes you think we'll let you and do you this favor?"

'To be honest, I don't have any valid reason as well. That's why I came here to talk to you. We're straightforward people, so you can tell me what I can do for you to accept me," replied Charmine calmly.

Hugh's lips twitched. Charmine instantly pushed it back at him and asked him to make an offer?

She was a clever lady.

However, if he was the one making the offer...

Hugh seemed to have thought of something as he said to Charmine, "If you're certain that you want me to make you an offer and you don't have any way of moving me, you may leave now. I'll get in touch."

Charmine frowned.

Leave and let him get in touch?

He asked her in, and all of a sudden, he was asking her to leave? Would she be able to come back again the next time?

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 948-Charmine squinted at Hugh as she spoke, "I know we haven't been in touch for many years. It's quite difficult for you to acknowledge me as your relative, and I can understand if you do not accept me, but I hope Mr.

Cherny can reconsider the red wolf bone. Let me know what it takes for me to get the bones. Just name your price. As long as it's not killing someone, I'll do it."

The other reason she came to the Cherny family, after all, was to get the red wolf bone.

"I don't have anything for you to do, I' replied Hugh. "Go home for now, I'll get in touch."

His tone was thick and determined.

Charmine grew suspicious. He was willing to talk earlier, so why the sudden change of demeanor? 1

Alas, there was no point in trying to argue nor stay any longer with his final words.

"Alright, I'll leave now. Do get in touch with me," she said politely before standing upto leave.

Hugh watched her retreating form as he started thinking.

It was not long after she left when Guy returned to the resting lounge.

He had changed into a clean set of camouflage costumes, and with his face and hair cleaned up, he seemed more handsome than before.

When he saw that Hugh was the only one left in the lounge, he frowned." Have you two finished talking already. Uncle?"

"Yeah, it's no big deal. Just a small matter. Come over and sit." Hugh pushed the tea cup at him.

Guy walked over and sat down. He lifted the cup and drank listlessly, all while his gaze averted to the door.

Hugh burst out laughing at his behavior.

“Oh, Guy. All these years, you’re unwilling to find a wife and get married. We’ve been pestering you for seven years, since you were twenty to now, twenty-nine.

Have you finally made up your mind?” 1

“NO...I just... I just feel the lady was nice. I only admire her.” Face reddened, Guy lowered his head and took another sip to cover up his sheepishness.

Hugh patted his shoulder. “I’ve been in your place before; I know what you’re thinking. However, there’s no hurry in this, and it’s quite a challenge as well.

Don’t get your hopes too high for her. It’s unlikely for you two.”

“Okay.”

Although Guy agreed, his eyes still lingered at the direction Charmine went. He could not help recalling how Charmine kicked the guard away.

Watching Guy zoning out, Hugh could not help recalling what Charmine said to him. He frowned.

Perhaps it was yet another un-fated love...

Hopefully, Charmine could hold up to his test and become the person the Cherny family approved of.

Meanwhile...

After leaving the Cherny mansion, Charmibe was recalling the changes shown by Hugh as she drove.

From inviting her to sending her out, the change was too abrupt!

She did not know what he was thinking. If he did not accept her and did not agree to give the bones to her, what could she do?

She was so absorbed in her thoughts that she had arrived at the company.

It just so happened that she had to sort out a few matters related to the company anyway, thus Charmine went in.

When Brandon saw her, he said, "Boss Jordan, you came at the right time!

Someone came here for you, and he's now waiting in your office."

"Hmm? Who's that?" Charmine walked toward her office as she asked curiously.

"I don't know either," said Brandon, "and he insisted on meeting you. Since he's of a powerful background, we had to let him in." Charmine was perplexed. Of a powerful background?

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 949-
Unhinged, Charmine walked into her office and saw that a man in a suit was sitting inside. He had a serious look on his face as a powerful temperament oozed out of him.

She had not seen this man before. How powerful could he be?

Noticing that she had entered the office at last, the middle-aged man smiled genially at her. "Boss Jordan is a busy woman. It's not easy to finally meet you!"

Walking over and sitting down, Charmine asked suspiciously, "What's the matter?"

"To be honest, I came here to propose a deal."

As he spoke, the man handed his card to Charmine, to which she accepted and studied.

The card stated he was Harry Cherny, the marketing director of a material company.

This material company was quite popular and was one of the top ten in Burlington in terms of material supplies.

Harry continued, "I know you're building Divine Bird and are in need of some special materials. Those materials you're using are provided by the association and Derby, but they're rather expensive. I have some materials with us that are the exact same, and I can offer you a promising price for them. You'll make at least a few billion in profit each year."

He then took out some samples from his bag to show Charmine.

After looking at them carefully, she concluded that these materials were indeed the same as the ones provided from Derby. They looked the same, but...

Charmine's red lips curled up. "This is a high-imitation."

Pausing for a moment, Harry then chuckled. "Hahaha! Boss Jordan is indeed Boss Jordan. You're so observant! still, these aren't just any imitation goods.

They're the highest level of high-imitation. We made them after carefully analyzing and researching to provide. Although these aren't as good as the ones you're using, they're way better than every other materials in the market. I can guarantee they will pass the trial." 1

'The original could hold perfectly, while these materials will only hold up to eighty percent," remarked Charmine as she examined the documents before passing it to him. "Go back. We Jordans won't make this kind of deal."

"You made up your mind too soon, Boss Jordan. Why not reconsider it? This will bring you up to a few billions of extra profits every year. A few billions will allow you to pamper your skin and have some vacation time, buy some yachts and helicopters. Isn't that good? Your units are all sold out, and these materials won't cause any safety issue. It's just some slight difference quality-wise, but nobody will be able to tell the difference. Why do this to yourself?" Harry tried to persuade her. 4 Charmine scoffed, "It's not the original anyway. The Divine Bird is a high-quality and ordinary architecture. If you're not leaving, would you like me to send you out?"

"Boss Jordan, let's talk it out. I can lower the price again. I can guarantee you an extra eight billion bucks every year!"

"Security!" Charmine was unswayed as she called out for her guards.

Harry continued, "Why don't you make an offer? Tell me how much-" 1

"Security!" Charmine called out louder. She stood up to walk out.

Seeing that she was about to leave, Harry suddenly shot up and pulled at her wrist.

"Congratulations, Charmine. You've passed our Cherny test."

Charmine halted. She frowned, confused.

Passed the Cherny test?

What did that mean?

Harry said to her, "I'm Harry Cherny, sent here by General Cherny. He wants to find out if you'd go against your morals for business, but it seems that you've passed it." 1

Charmine instantly understood. So Hugh asked her to leave so he could test her like that?

Asking the security guards to leave, she turned to him again as she asked," So,

Mr. Cherny is willing to give me the red wolf bone?"

“Not yet. This is just a small test. If you can complete the following task, there won’t be any problem,” Harry continued.

Charmine asked suspiciously, “Oh? What is it then?”

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 950-Harry then explained in a serious tone, “A few hundred years ago, a Cherny sword was stolen and ended up with a collector in Safford. Recently, the Cherny family had managed to contact the collector’s association, but they didn’t want to give it back, even when we offered a very high price.

However, they changed their minds and they’d bring this sword back to Burlington. They’re attending the Collector’s Expo happening tomorrow. If you can help the Cherny family get back this sword, Mr. Cherny will be willing to give you the red wolf’s bone.” 1

Charmine’s eyes sparkled. Once she got the sword for the Cherny family, she would get the bone to cure Chris!

“Okay,” she agreed, “I’ll try my best tomorrow.”

Harry continued, “Don’t be too happy. There’s a condition. Mr. Cherny instructed that you must stay low-profile throughout the entire time, and you can’t let anyone know that you’re Charmine. Furthermore, throughout the entire trial, you can’t let Anthony know about it. He mustn’t step in to help you. Otherwise, even if you get the sword, the deal will be off!" 1

Charmine frowned. She had to keep it a secret and keep it from Anthony as well?

Still...

"Where's this Collector's Expo happening tomorrow?"

"At Century Square," answered Harry.

Charmine instantly understood the challenge.

The Century Square was owned by the Baileys, and as the host of the Expo, Anthony would attend the event.

She had to keep it all a secret from Anthony and work on this behind his back...

It was indeed challenging.

When she got home, she found out that Waverly had not come to the villa for two days. With that, the atmosphere inside became so much better.

Anthony, at that moment, was answering a call on the staircase. Standing high above, he emitted an air of inborn elegance.

Charmine overheard his conversation; it was regarding the following day's expo.

She frowned. It seemed that she had to make some arrangements so she would not be exposed at the expo...

Noticing that Charmine was finally home yet was spacing out downstairs, he asked suspiciously, 'What are you thinking of?'

“No...nothing. Have you sorted out Marry Wedding?” Charmine changed the topic.

Anthony’s thin lips curled up. He walked down to approach her. “Is there anything in the world your man can’t fix?” 1

Charmine was surprised. He managed to reserve a spot in Marry Wedding after all?

They only took in one reservation every three and a half years, and the queue was as long as ten years, yet Anthony managed to sort it out?

Anthony wrapped his arm around her waist. Suddenly, he sniffed at her and frowned. “You’ve been to a place with many men?”

That took Charmine by surprise. He could tell from the smell?

She had gone to the Cherny mansion, after all, and there were all men in the training base...

She would have told him the truth, but thinking of the condition given by the Cherny family, she had to quickly find an excuse. “I went to examine the site.

The staff are all men in the company.”

Anthony frowned. “Go out less. You may ask them to send me whatever issues they have, and I can sort it out for you.”

“Anthony, are you trying to take over my company?” Charmine asked playfully.

Anthony hugged her tighter, lips curling into a smirk. “Compared to taking over your company, I'm more interested in taking you over!" 1

With that said, he put his hand behind her head and lowered his head to kiss her lips.

Startled at the sudden kiss, Charmine wanted to push him away, but the memory of how they had gotten their marriage certificate let her loosen up as she allowed him to kiss her.

Should everything go according to plan, she could announce their relationship and get married in public after obtaining the bone...

Just as she thought of that, the front door swung open abruptly, and in came Waverly with her suitcase. The lass just so happened to see Anthony and Charmine kissing. 1

Her expression turned dark. They were kissing in front of her! How shameless!

When Charmine saw Waverly, she felt that strong sense of familiarity again.

This sense of familiarity made her feel uncomfortable, as though each of her cells loathed this woman.
