

Chapter 960

Jenny Jing smiled, "But Aunt, one hundred million is not a small amount, as long as I move this money, Biden will definitely know, and when he asks after it, what will I say?"

Lucian thought about it, too.

She hesitated, "Why don't you just tell him that you spent it on something? Jenny Jing is so spoiling you, the district won't be bothered with 100 million."

Jenny cried and laughed, "Buying things... that's only if you see things."

"Harm, that's easy!" With a wave of her hand, Lu Lanzhi said, "Just fool him with a few kinds of jewellery, he's a grown man and won't look at it very carefully anyway, so just say that you spent the money on jewellery and he won't say anything ah."

At this point, she squeezed her eyes out again and said, quite mysteriously, "When the time comes, this one hundred million ah, I will return to you privately, this money is yours, are you stupid?"

Jenny was stunned.

Watching her squeeze her eyebrows together suddenly made me feel a little sad.

How did the Lu family's sister-in-law get mixed up like this?

How could you think of such an idea?

She shook her head, "Auntie, I'm sorry, I can't lie to Jenny Jing and I have no intention of taking this hundred million for myself, so if you really want to borrow it, I must discuss this matter with Biden, if you don't want him to know."

She paused, took a bank card out of the bag beside her, and handed it to Lucian.

"Here is my own money, it's not much, only twenty million, this money is not even known to Biden, if you don't mind, take it."

Lu Lanzhi's face sank as she saw this.

She swiftly stood up and looked at Jenny Jing with a cold face and said angrily, "Jenny Jing! Who do you take me for? You want to get rid of them like a beggar? 20 million? How could you think of that! Do you really think you're great now that you're the housekeeper and have become the landlord's mother? Don't forget, I'm your aunt!"

Jenny Jing had already gotten used to this flip-flopping and ruthless look of hers, seeing that she didn't accept it, she also put the card away and said indifferently, "Since aunt doesn't like it, then forget it, I've said what I have to say, so think about it yourself."

Afterwards, ignoring her again, she turned straight to the stairs.

Lu Lanzhi was furious at the sight of it.

Pointing at her back and breaking into a rant.

"Jenny! What do you mean? Don't think that if you marry into the Lu family, everything in the Lu family will be yours! I'm telling you, your surname is King, not Luk. It's me. Don't go! You..."

She made a move to run up, but was stopped by two servants.

Aunt Liu bowed her head slightly and respectfully said, "Aunt, our wife is still pregnant, she is tired and needs to rest, please keep your voice down."

Lu Lanzhi sniffed and stared at her hard.

"Why should I keep my voice down? What's wrong with her pregnancy? She's pregnant and she's a treasure? It's not like it's the first time Wyatt's pretending!"

But said so, but in the end, taking into account that it is the child of Biden Lu, really if something bad happens, the consequences will be serious, so in the end still angrily shake sleeves and leave.

Leaving just in time to see the maid fetch Ann back.

It's Friday and Ann's school only has half a day of school and she'll be back after lunch.

So the driver had gone to pick her up early in the morning, and came through the door at just the right time to bump into her.

When Ann saw her, her eyes lit up and she shouted, "Auntie."

Naturally, Lu Lanzhi also saw her, and her eyes flashed with a hint of viciousness.

She walked over and smiled, "Is Ann back so early today?"

Ann nodded happily, "Well, it's Friday and school is only half day."

Lu Lanzhi touched her little head, "That's perfect, then you can pack up and move in with your great-grandfather and grandmother later."

Ann froze, her watery eyes flashing with confusion and bewilderment.

"Moving in with Grandpa and Grandma? Why?"

Lucius squatted down, "Don't you know? Your mommy's got another little baby."

Ann was even more confused, "I know, Mummy asked me last night if I wanted a little sister or a little brother, and I chose the little sister."

She said, squinting her eyes and smiling happily.

But Lucian tsked and sighed.

"Little fool, and a little sister, don't you know that with a little sister you're going to be abandoned?"

The words startled Ann, who looked at her blankly.

Lu Lanzhi added, "You have to understand, no matter how good your mommy is to you, you're not her biological child in the end, little Jingze is a boy, you still can't feel it, if your mommy really has another daughter, two girls together, you'll be able to feel it then, there's something you'll regret."

Ann finally understood what she meant at this point.

Shoving her away with an angry voice, she said, "You're lying! Mommy loves me the most, she won't just love her little sister and not me, you're lying!"

Lucian stood up and looked at her coldly.

"You'll know if I'm bullshit when you go back, your mommy is going to foster you to your great-grandmother's house for your little sister, if you don't believe me, go back later and see if that's what she told you, you'll believe me by then."

Ann looked at her and sadly pushed her away, not talking to her, and rushed straight to the villa.

The driver followed behind, not looking too good, but not daring to say anything, and followed after him.

The villa.

After Jenny returned to her room, she remembered that it was Friday and that Ann only had a half day of classes and should be back by now.

She even came out and asked Auntie Liu, "Auntie Liu, is An An coming back?"

Aunt Liu remembered and slapped her head, "Aww, yes, look at my memory, I almost forgot, I'm going to pick her up."

As I was saying that, I suddenly saw a small figure rushing in the doorway, if it wasn't Ann, who was it?

The driver followed her, holding her bag for her, and when he saw Jenny, he even greeted her with a respectful, "Madam."

Jenny nodded, noticing that something was wrong with An'an's face, and went downstairs to ask, "An'an, what's wrong with you? Why do you look so ugly?"

Ann looked at her with an angry look on her face and asked, "Mommy, are you going to send me to live at Grandma's house?"

Jenny was stunned, a little puzzled.

"How did you know?"

Ann exploded with exasperation.

Shoving her away, he said angrily, "I don't want you anymore, I hate you."

After saying that, I rushed to my room.

Jenny was pushed back a few steps by her, so frightened that Aunt Liu turned pale and rushed up to hold her back.

"Ma'am, how are you? Are you okay?"

Jenny waved his hand and looked to Ann's room, frowning.

Ann is a good girl. She's not usually this angry. What's going on?

Chapter 961

She turned to the driver who had followed Ann in, "What happened on the road?"

The driver hung his head low, looking a little guilty.

"Not on the way, I just came in and met my aunt."

Jenny frowned.

Loulouchez?

The driver looked up at her and added quickly, "The aunt and the lady had some words."

Jenny Jing's face sank, thinking of what An'an had just said, where would she not understand what Lu Lanzhi had said to her?

She said quietly, "I know, you go down."

After the driver leaves, he heads to Ann's room.

In the room, Ann was sitting on the bed sulking.

When she saw Jenny come in, she ignored her, and even twisted her body to face in.

Jenny looked at her furry head and smiled helplessly.

"Gee, what's going on with our Ann? Who had the nerve to piss her off?"

Jenny smiled and sat down, wrestling her small shoulders to ask softly.

Ann twisted and broke away from her hand, no good, "No one!! I'm not angry."

Jenny couldn't help but laugh, "No anger, then who was yelling and screaming at me just now?"

Ann deflated, a little aggravated.

Jenny sighed.

"Ani, what did Mommy used to tell you? No matter how angry you get, you can't just ignore people, if you're unhappy about something, you can only solve the problem by talking about it, right?"

Ann hesitated.

Half a dozen times before turning awkwardly to look over at her.

Jenny asked squarely, "Tell Mommy what's going on?"

Ann's eyes were red and her little mouth was deflated as if she was so frustrated, "Mommy, is it true that Auntie said you won't love me if you have a little sister, and that you'll send me to Grandma's for her?"

Jenny was stunned.

All she could think of was that Lucian might say something bad to Ann to make her angry, but she didn't expect her to say that.

Jenny's face sank, "Then do you think that what aunt said is true?"

Ann froze, her small face flashing blankly.

Jenny continued to guide, "Just go by what you really feel inside yourself, would Mommy really not love you and abandon you if she had a little sister?"

Ann seemed struck by the question and froze there, not speaking for a long time.

Jenny rubbed her head, "Think carefully and tell me when you're done."

After a while, Ann finally spoke, her voice low.

"No."

"Then why do you still believe what she says?"

"I..."

Ann was momentarily speechless, she looked at Jenny and deflated her mouth in aggravation.

"I'm just scared, Mommy, I don't want to leave you."

She said, suddenly crying out with a wail and throwing herself into Jenny's arms.

Jenny's heart softened and her eyes reddened for no reason.

She hugged Ann, stroking her back again and again, and without speaking, she let her cry.

It took a long moment before Ann stopped crying and looked up at her.

The reason why I let you go to Grandpa and Grandma's house for a few months is because I'm too tired to take care of you and your brother and sister, and I'm afraid I won't be able to do so. No go, but you have to be good from now on, no more naughtiness, no more worrying Mummy too much, okay?"

Ann nodded heavily and hugged her tighter again.

"I'm not going anywhere, I'm going to follow Mummy."

Jenny couldn't help but smile and softly said, "Okay, An'an isn't going anywhere, An'an will stay by my side."

The two mothers and daughters spoke for a while longer before Jenny Jing calmed her down.

After all the crying and Ann was tired, Jenny coaxed her to take a nap and waited for her to fall asleep before exiting the room.

After coming out, she softly brought the door and saw Aunt Liu standing not far away, looking over here worriedly.

"Madam, is Missy all right?"

Jenny shook her head and pointed out, gesturing for her to go outside.

When they returned to the living room, Jenny sat down on the sofa and sipped her tea before saying, "It was my aunt, who told her that I wouldn't want her now that I was pregnant with my little sister, and that I was trying to abandon her by letting her go live at grandma's."

Aunt Liu's eyes widened in shock.

"How can the aunt say that? Everyone else expects family harmony, but she's good, and this is stirring up trouble?"

Jenny laughed sarcastically.

Auntie Liu's exasperated words, "Whether others believe this or not, I don't believe it anyway, not to mention, how you've treated Miss An'an at home these past few years, I've seen it all in my eyes, that's absolutely as good as it gets, no second thoughts at all ah."

Jenny Jing said in a soft voice, "An An was raised without a real mother, a poor child, so in this regard, she will also be more sensitive and careful than other children, aunt has done many wrong things over the years, I can ignore them all, but she should never have, should never have instigated An An and used the child to achieve her own goals."

At this point, Jenny was also a little angry.

Aunt Liu agreed, "That's right, the aunt has gone too far this time."

Jenny thought about it and sighed.

"Okay, let's talk about this later, I'm tired, I'm going to go back to my room."

Aunt Liu nodded her head, which helped her back to her room.

In the evening, when Biden Lu returned, Jenny Jing told him about it.

She didn't have a confession to make, but whether it was what Lu Lanzhi and Ann had said, or the fact that she had asked herself to borrow 100 million yuan, these had to be known to Biden Lu.

Biden Lu was furious after hearing this.

It was a direct throwaway, "No borrowing!"

Jenny Jing smiled, "Not that there's any need to rebuff her so quickly, although I'm mad at her for talking nonsense about An An, but if she's doing the right thing this time, there's no harm in giving her the money."

Biden Lu coldly said, "What can she do for business? It's nothing more than taking a gamble."

Jenny shook his head, "Not really."

Lu Jing deeply pondered for a while, but in the end, he agreed.

"Then you watch it, and if it's really something serious, give it to her."

After a pause, he added, "Let her see the baby less often in the future, so she doesn't bring it down."

Jenny looked so angry at him, but she was less angry herself, smiling, "Okay, okay, I've got it all down, go take a shower and come down for dinner afterwards."

Only then did Biden Lu head to the bathroom.

By dinner, Ann was in a much better mood and knew that she had been tricked by her aunt, so not only was she not angry anymore, she was embarrassed.

Jenny just pretended not to see it, and the meal was still as joyful as ever.

Ann put a piece of ribs in her bowl and smiled, "Mommy, you eat this."

Chapter 962

Jenny Jing looked at the ribs in his bowl and smiled, "Not angry now?"

Ann blushed a little embarrassed, and Lu Jingxiang glared at her.

"Let you listen to people talk nonsense."

Jenny bumped his arm, indicating that he shouldn't scare the kid, and then took a bite of the ribs between his teeth.

"Well, the spareribs we have in Ann's sandwich are just better than the others."

Ann smiled happily at the news.

After giving her several more dishes, Jenny was so amused by her that she was in a much better mood, and even ate a little more than half a bowl for dinner.

After dinner, she called the old house and told them that Ann wasn't coming over.

She did not say the specific reason, afraid to say more, the two old people worried, only said that Ann does not want to go over, stay here is fine, it is not possible to go to the time to hire two more nannies to take care of them.

The old man and the old lady saw the situation and didn't stick around.

The next day, early in the morning, as soon as Jenny had sent Ann out for piano lessons, she heard that Lu Lanzhi had come back.

Jenny knew why she had come, and when she returned to the living room, sure enough, she was sitting on the sofa, waiting for her with an expectant face.

"Jenny, you're back, did Ann go to school?"

Jenny walked over with a smile on her face, "Well, why is aunt here again today?"

Lu Lanzhi looked at her angrily, "Look at what you're saying, what kind of words are these? This is my nephew's house, is it wrong for me to come?"

Jenny Jing's smile faded even more, "Of course right, aunt, please sit down."

Only then did Lucian sit down.

After sitting down, he hesitated for a moment, "That... Jenny, yesterday was my fault, I was in a hurry and spoke out of turn, you won't blame me, will you?"

Jenny Jing took a cup of tea, took a sip, and said in a soft voice, "Aunt is an elder, of course I won't blame you."

Lucius sniffed, which was reassuring.

"That money thing..."

"I've already spoken to Kingston, and he's willing to lend it to you."

Jenny said, bringing out a check, "This is the 100 million you asked for, I hope Auntie will invest this time successfully and win the flag."

Lu Lanzhi took it with a smile and a series of nods.

"Fine, fine, I'll lend you my blessing, and when I make some money I'll be sure to get less."

She stood up, "That's nothing else I'll leave first ha, I'm still busy."

Jenny nodded, which was the only way to see her off.

After she left, Aunt Liu came over, a little disgruntled.

"Madam, you're just being kind, the aunt provokes you and Missy like that, and you give her money back."

Jenny Jing faintly said, "She is, after all, a member of the Lu family, there was no merit or bitterness to Biden Lu in the past, one hundred million, just let her be."

When Aunt Liu saw her say that, she couldn't say anything else at the moment.

So they packed up and went down.

And now, the other side.

Lu Lange finally got her money and was happy to get out of the Maple Bridge villa.

Once outside, I got a call.

"Hey, Ranji-san, where are you? Are you still going to today's stoner meeting?"

Lucian smiled, "Of course I'll go, I'll pick you up where you are."

"Yeah, I'll send you the address on your phone then."

"Good."

Hanging up the phone, she looked at the address on her phone and drove to that address.

Half an hour later, she received someone outside a Kokomo.

It was a young, handsome man who looked no more than about twenty.

When he saw her, he smiled sweetly, "Sister Lanzie, you've finally come, I've been waiting for you for a long time."

Lu Lanzhi looked around to make sure no one she knew passed by before waving at him, "Then what are you waiting for? Hurry up and get in!"

After getting in the car, the man smiled at her with a whiny smile, "Sister Lanzie, I heard that all the people who came to today's gambling session are very powerful people, do you know who all of them are?"

Lu Lanzhi laughed contemptuously, "Who else could it be, not those people? How much more powerful is it?"

The young man liked it best when she looked like she had it all figured out and smiled, "Then let's go over there today and come back with a big win!"

Lucius paused and turned to look at him.

"I'll make a deal, we're just going over there today, I wouldn't bet on it."

The young man was shocked, "Huh?What are you going to do if you're not going to a gambling club?"

Lucius shook his head, "You wouldn't understand that, huh?But that's okay, I don't want to tell you now, you'll find out when the time comes."

They said and quickly drove the car to its destination.

Ever since the last time when Lu Lanzhi almost lost her fortune because of gambling stones, Old Mrs. Cen has given the word to the outside world that she is not allowed to enter all gambling venues.

Thus, it had been a long time since Landranger had visited such a place.

This time, when she heard that the person behind the event was a Chinese who had returned from overseas, she probably didn't know the rules, which is why she found two tickets and was able to attend.

But Lu Lanzhi is not stupid, she has already played with the gambling stones and knows that's all, now she is not so interested in this, she is more interested in which place they are all shipped from.

She'd recently spotted a mine, but was still on the lookout, and she'd come today just to find out what was going on there.

They entered the arena, and there was a boisterous crowd inside.

Lu Lanzhi found her own seat and said to the young man beside her, "Huyuan, later on, you can also help me see where they're shipping the stones from."

Hyuk Yuan frowned, "Where can I tell that?"

Lu Lanzhi glared at him, "Can't see with your eyes, can't listen with your ears ah, so many people, there is always a slip of the tongue, just pay attention."

It was only then that He Yuan let out a muffled "Oh".

However, this is, after all, a gambling club, as today's stones are said to be very well stocked and the barrier to entry is raised accordingly.

We all had a hard time getting an entry ticket, so why would we sit around dry and waste it?

Therefore, they sat in the rest area for a long time, but no one came over.

Huyuan looked at the gambling stone area not far away and tugged on her sleeve, "Sister Lanzhi, look there are so many people over there, if you want to find out information, shouldn't we sit here and wait, we should go over there for a while?"

Lu Lanzhi glanced up and looked askance at Huyuan.

The corners of his mouth seemed to smile, "Are you trying to help me find out what's going on, or do you want to take your own chances?"

With his heart's little plan dismantled, Huyeon pouted and pouted coquettishly, "Ranji-san, I didn't..."

"Okay." Lu Lanzhi interrupted him and got up, "Since you want to see it, then I'll go over there with you, but it's agreed that you're only allowed to buy one piece today, I've been tight on cash lately and I don't have much money for you to splurge on."

A happy smile immediately blossomed on Hyuk Yuan's face and he got up and took her hand, "I know, thank you Lanzhi."
