

My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 961

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 961-Quick to react, Charmine was prepared to quickly turn away when a figure suddenly launched toward her and pressed her to the floor.

Shink!

The sound of flesh being cut was heard. Looking up, Charmine then noticed it was Guy who pressed down against her, but it was also then the boxing champion's dagger had gashed at Guy's arm harshly.

There was a long wound on his arm with fresh blood oozing out.

The pain did not register for Guy, however, as all he felt was that time had seemingly stopped as his heart thundered against his ribcage.

Within mere moments, the boxing champion noticed that Guy had joined them with the Cherny members not far away, and he then decided to attack Dior instead.

Dior was already fighting a few other bodyguards when, all of a sudden, someone attacked her from the back and hit her at the back of her neck.

Her vision blurred and darkened due to the impact as her figure went limp.

The boxing champion instantly grabbed the box from her before leaving with the others. Charmine quickly pushed Guy away and stood up in an attempt to chase after them when Dior suddenly held on to her ankle. "Hey ...don't..."

She wanted to say that these people were too powerful; she wanted to tell her not to run after them. However, before she could finish her sentence, she had already fainted.

Charmine wanted to give chase, but the men had already gotten into their car and drove away.

She could only take out her phone to quickly instruct Kay, "Arrange for c team to chase after the boxing champion. None of you should show your face!"

The Gragoul had SABCD teams. Each team had five groups, and each in charge of protecting various ranks of major figures in Burlington. Only highly renowned figures like Charmine and moguls like her Uncles were protected by the s team.

Since Kay was serving Charmine and obeying her order, Anthony would find out that she was the one all along if Kay ever carelessly showed his face...

At that moment, Guy came toward her and, with his blush that adorned his face, asked, "Are you hurt?"

"I'm fine. Bring your sister to get some rest," instructed Charmine.

The Cherny men rushed over right then. When they saw the car driving away, the fifth brother clenched his fists.

"Damn it! I should've come earlier so they'd never get their hands on that sword again!"

“Alright, we’ll think of ways to retrieve it in the future. Regardless, we have to thank this young man.” Hugh remained calm as he looked at Charmine and asked, “May I know your name?”

“Uncle Hugh, she’s-” Guy was about to explain but Charmine cut him off.

“Just call me Charlie,” she replied instead to Hugh.

Each time she went undercover, the organization would provide her with a spotless persona.

If they investigate her according to her current outlook, they should not find anything on her.

Although they were the Cherny family, she wanted to keep her identity private until she could retrieve the box.

The more people who knew about her identity, the higher chance of exposure. Since they were in so much danger, if Anthony found out, he would not let her get involved.

Guy understood what she meant, thus he kept silent.

The eldest Cherny member asked, “Hello, Mr. Charlie. Do you have time, by any chance? Perhaps we can have a meal and discuss how to retrieve the sword.”

Charmine was about to speak, but her phone suddenly rang. She took out to see the caller’s name and saw the caller’s ID: Anthony! 1

Why would Anthony call her at this hour? Had he gotten home and realized she was not in?

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 962-Worried, Charmine then turned them down as she spoke, “No need, but some other day, perhaps. I have things to do.”

With that said, she marched away in a hurry.

“Do we have someone to look into him?”

“No need,” came Guy’s quick intercept.

When he sensed that he was overly excited, he quickly added, more calmly this time, “He’s a friend of mine. I trust him.”

“Alright. Guy, do talk to him more. Find out if he has any idea on what to do. I feel that he’s clever, that he’s the key in whether or not we’ll be getting that sword back,” advised Hugh. 1

“Okay,” agreed Guy.

The seventh brother had already gone over and carried Dior in his arms. Seeing that she had fainted, he said, “Let’s head home now.”

The group of them went away to further discuss the matter at hand.

Charmine, meanwhile, was in an empty alley, and after she made sure no one was in the perimeter, she got into the car and answered Anthony’s phone.

‘Where are you?’ Anthony’s low voice was heard.

“In my company. Why?” answered Charmine without sounding suspicious.

She had instructed Kay to make it seem as if she had been to the company.

Anthony should not have picked up something amiss.

“Come home right away,” said Anthony.

His hoarse voice was serious.

Charmine frowned as the alarm bell rang in her heart.

What happened? Did he find out?

She instantly agreed and quickly got changed. She pulled away her fake skin mask and rushed back.

In order to avoid being exposed, she even went back to her company to shower and get changed.

What she did not notice was that after she left, a mysterious man in black with a camera silently photographed her encounter with Dior and Guy, to when Guy was on top of her. The shots were incredibly scandalous, to say the very least.

1

At Violet Residence...

In the living room on the second floor, Anthony was sitting on the sofa. He had a stack of documents in hand about ‘Charlie’. Twenty-two years old. Grew up in an orphanage without any relatives or family and worked for an international intelligence organization.

There were the photos of ‘Charlie’ attached below as well.

The photos were of Charlie listening to music in the crowd, examining the sword, helping Dior, opening the box calmly, and explaining the process.

Anthony gazed at the photos with brows furrowed.

This was obviously a man, and even if he turned the photos around, he still looked like a handsome young man. Why would Anthony feel strange looking at him?

Furthermore, he could not help staring at this young man. He could not stop himself from looking, and his heart even galloped speedily...

When Luke told him this man was attacked, he almost wanted to rush over.

Luckily, the Cherny family rushed into the scene.

Everything did not make sense.

Did he catch feelings for this young man?

He was waiting for Charmine to come home.

The reporters were no longer allowed to get into Violet Residence. With that, Charmine drove directly to the villa and walked inside.

On the sofa, Waverly was elegantly reading the book.

If one did not know her, they might think Waverly was a quiet yet elegant figure.

Charmine, on the other hand, was all too certain she was pretending- Waverly was acting for Anthony to see.

Still, she did not bother Charmine as the latter went upstairs.

Waverly watched Charmine's back as her red lips curled up.

Ha! She was intrigued to see how much longer Charmine could hold her ground.

Meanwhile, she only had to maintain her persona and show Anthony how outstanding she was. 2

In no time, Anthony would no doubt cast Charmine aside!

Charmine went upstairs and saw that Anthony was keeping the documents. He looked at her.

She asked suspiciously, "What is it? What happened?"

"Nothing." Anthony walked toward her and put his arms around her waist.

Her waist was slim but not of the weak kind. Her waist was healthy-slim, lean with abs after years of training.

When he hugged her, he could feel even with clothes on how her waist had no excess fats, making it rather attractive Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 963-With just a hug, Anthony instantly had the desire that a couple would have, and his frown loosened up slightly.

Luckily, he was still into women.

Charmine saw the shift in his expression and frowned.

Why did Anthony seem weird?

"Anthony, do you want to say something?"

Anthony looked at her clear eyes and beautiful face, and he felt somewhat guilty.

He had such a beautiful wife, yet he caught feelings for another young man?

“It’s nothing, really,” he said, “I just miss you.”

With that, he put his hand on the back of her head and kissed her lips.

Charmine frowned. He called her and asked her to come home, rather rushed might she add, all because he just missed her?

He was acting out of character...and Charmine felt as if he had discovered something.

Anthony sensed that she was zoning out, thus he let go of her and asked, “Why are you zoning out? What did you do today?”

“Nothing, just sorting out some documents and working on globalizing the company,” Charmine simply found an excuse and winged it.

She then changed the topic. “Where’s Momo? Is he alone in the house again? I’m going to check on him.”

With that said, she walked toward Chris’ bedroom.

Anthony looked at her back and frowned.

Why did he sense that Charmine was keeping something from him?

However, he did ask people to check on her, and Charmine did go to the company.

Perhaps he was just over-sensitive.

Inside Chris’ bedroom...

When Charmine walked in, she saw Chris typing something with the keyboard.

When he saw her, Chris quickly changed the tab and smiled sweetly at Charmine. "Mommy, you came home from work!"

"Hmm, what is Momo working on recently? Why are you always in your bedroom?"

Charmine sat down beside him. She looked at the screen and noticed it was a design for some robots.

Chris climbed to her lap and played with her hands. "I'm interested in these robots, and I'm learning more about them. I want to create many, many robots!"

"That's impressive. Why don't Mommy help you out to produce them?" offered Charmine.

Chris shook his head. "No, I need to work on them myself! I can't let others call me out for getting help from my rich parents." 1

His sentence made Charmine burst out laughing. "You're only five, and it doesn't matter if you get help from your parents. Where did you learn this independent thinking from?"

"From you, perhaps." Chris cuddled into her arms.

Mentioning that, Charmine grew perplexed.

Annabel had always been independent. She had to take care of herself from a young age, and she had been strong-willed all these years.

Chris must have inherited such independence from her, and since Annabel was bearing Anthony's child, she had to take care...

"Mommy, Mommy! What are you thinking of?" Chris' innocent voice pulled her back from her thoughts, and that effectively reeled Charmine back to reality.

"Nothing, Momo. Just continue to design your robots. Mommy will go and prepare dinner."

After Charmine had left, Chris turned back on the original tab.

The screen no longer showed his robot designs and, instead, showed a handful of building designs.

Even though he was young, his illustrations were very professional. They were drawn in the style of Charmine's! 1

His gift was passed on from Charmine. 4

Unfortunately, Charmine had gone to the kitchen on the second floor and thus did not see the graphics.

Anthony was learning to cook, and Charmine wanted to go forward to help him out when her phone suddenly rang.

She took it out and noticed it was Guy calling!

Guy actually called her at this hour!

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 964- Anthony looked at her and asked, "Who is it?" "It's nothing. Joey wants me to have a meal with them," answered Charmine as she rejected the call and put her phone in her pocket. 2

Anthony frowned. Joey called her?

Why did he sense that something was off? He wanted to ask more but he caught the smell of something burning.

He overburnt the fried egg!

All wrapped up, he could not ask Charmine anymore questions as he quickly turned off the induction cooker.

Charmine walked over to help him. "Let me take over, just sit outside and wait."

"No need," Anthony's voice was low and deep as he turned her down, "You wait outside."

He remembered how she asked him to cook when they first met, but he also remembered embarrassing himself.

Anthony never had a thing that he could not learn!

Seeing that he was determined, Charmine could only nod. "Alright, good luck."

She left the kitchen and walked to the living room.

Even sitting away from the transparent door, she could see Anthony preparing the ingredients.

The sight of him was pleasant to the eyes despite looking a little haphazard when handling the ingredients, and Charmine failed to bite back the grin that crept on her face. She never thought she would meet someone who loved her so much in this life! 1

She had to sort out Chris' illness soon and officiate their relationship!

After making sure that Anthony would not come out anytime soon, she took out her phone and sent Guy a text.

[What is it? I can't take a call now.]

Guy instantly replied, [Would you like to tell Dior who you are? When she woke up, she kept on asking me about you. She wanted to look for you!]

Charmine frowned. After a moment of thought, she replied, [Tell her I'm a woman, that I'm on a mission and have to dress up like a man. Do not tell her who I am.]

She must not let Dior fall for her, or things would take a turn for the worse...

[Ok.] came Guy's reply.

Charmine then added, [Right. What's the update on that boxing champ? Did you guys find out anything?]

To that, Guy replied, [They're driving into the territory of Safford. We can't enter for now. Uncle Cherny has decided to request an International Court of Justice.]

Charmine frowned. He wanted to sue them?

The International Court of Justice usually took a long while. It would take at least a few months to a few years' time.

The Cherny family could wait, but Chris' illness could not!

She did not reply to Guy and instead deleted all of the messages and tried to come up with a plan in her head.

If Safford could steal the sword from the Chernys, so could she! 1

A revenge plan was in order.

However, it had to happen at night. What if Anthony found out?

She watched Anthony cooking in the kitchen as she weighed the pros and cons.

Not long after, it was dinnertime.

The dining table had a cauliflower soup placed on top, soup with some unevenly cut cauliflowers. 1

Anthony scooped her a bowl. "Try it."

Charmine received it and took a gentle sip. She could taste the cauliflower.

However, the soup was sweet.

She wanted to ask about it, but she then saw Anthony's anticipating gaze.

He asked, "How does it taste?"

"Hmm, quite nice." Charmine took a mouthful of it to appreciate his effort.

Chris was thinking to himself how his Mommy was obviously lying. His Daddy treated the sugar as salt! 1

Who would add sugar into a cauliflower soup?

However, he did not expose his father. He cleverly helped out Anthony by taking a big sip and said to Charmine, "Mommy, Daddy intentionally prepared this sweet cauliflower soup for you! He added a specially made sugar which is meant to nourish the lungs with many other benefits.

Mommy has been busy for a whole day, so you must drink more!” 1 Charmine frowned. Anthony was that caring?

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 965-Why did Charmine find it...hard to believe?

All of sudden, Joey sent her a voice message.

“Charmine, can you come back home? Your Grandpa’s brother is here, and he’s gloating about how well-off his granddaughter is. He’s also mocking how even though you’re capable, you’re not as considerate. Your Grandpa is so furious that he had a coughing fit. He’s missing you as well.”

Charmine frowned. Senior Jordan was coughing that much again? 1

She looked at Anthony and Chris. “I need to go home in a bit. I’ll come back tomorrow.”

“No! I’ll miss Mommy!” Chris clung to Charmine’s arm.

Charmine ruffled his head. “Be good, Momo. He’s Mommy’s Grandpa. I can’t leave him alone. It’ll only be one night.”

“Alright, then. He’s Mommy’s Grandpa, so he’s my great-grandfather. I hope he can live prosperously.” Chris let go of her arm reluctantly, but was rewarded with a kiss at his forehead by Charmine. “Momo is the best. See you tomorrow!”

With that, she finished drinking the soup quickly, despite not liking sweet food.

After the meal, she put down the spoon and said to Anthony, "I'll leave now, alright?"

"I'll send you." Anthony stood up and walked out with her, and Charmine did not turn him down. She did feel quite guilty about it, after all.

She arranged this in order to bring back the sword tonight.

If Anthony found out about it, it would be game over for her.

When they were at the gate, Anthony stopped her, "Hold on."

Charmine was already anxious and her heart was suddenly thrashing about.

Did Anthony find out?

She turned back to look at Anthony and weakly asked, "What is it?"

Anthony did not speak as he extended his hand toward the corner of her lips.

Since she was eating in a rush, a smudge of the food was left on her lips.

He reached out to wipe it off for her, but on a second thought, he lowered his head and kissed her.

He licked off the food left on her lips as his eyes glinted with desire.

"Do stay in touch with me after getting home. Don't come close to any man. If I find out..." he trailed off in his sentence, voice husky and dark as he spoke.

However, Charmine let out a sigh of relief.

That was it?

She thought he found out something!

She agreed, "Okay."

Meanwhile, Waverly sat on the sofa with her lips twitching in anger. 1

Charmine was so cheap, yet Anthony ate the food off of Charmine's lips!

Did they have to be so intimate and loving?!

However, when she heard what Anthony said, Waverly's eyes flashed with pleasure.

He did not want Charmine to get close with any other man? Heh! Impossible!

Waverly not only wanted Charmine to get close with another man-she wanted Charmine to fall for another man!

Anthony did not even glance at Waverly at all as he went straight back to the second floor.

After they had left, Waverly took out her phone and sent Max a text.

[Keep an eye on Charmine's movement. She seems to have something planned tonight. Knowing her, she's likely to go after the sword!]

Max then replied, [Don't worry, I'll arrange it. I won't let her get it.]

[No, if she's after the sword, tell this to Guy. They're a good match, we need to set them up.] typed Waverly schemingly. 1

Her elegant face was filled with malicious intent.

Max learned her intention, and he praised, [Waverly is so clever. Don't worry, I'll help you take revenge.]

The night grew darker.

When Charmine got back to the Jordan mansion, she chatted with the relatives before going to her bedroom.

It was not until midnight when she secretly left the Jordan mansion and headed toward the Safford territory.

What she did not notice, however, was someone following her from far away, watching her every move Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 966-The Safford territory was heavily guarded by all the top agents from Safford.

After the sword was taken in, they sent another 50 special agents over.

Charmine did not want Kay and his men to show their faces, so she had to come on her own. 1

She wore a tight agent outfit with the collar pulled up to her nose and also had black glasses on, fully covering her face. Her identity was perfectly concealed with her attire, i Enter title...

When she arrived at a blind spot in Safford, she climbed in from an air conditioning duct by the side. With that, she successfully arrived above the ceiling of the building.

Charmine peaked in from above and noticed that the aisle below her was as long as ten meters, and the aisle led to a room up ahead.

Two guards kept watch-standing on each side-at every two meters.

There were ten guards in total that guarded the aisle, i

Each of them had weapons in their possession, and they also wore an extremely thin layer of anti-poison mask.

With this anti-poison mask, they would not be easily distracted.

Charmine's red lips curled up. Luckily, she came prepared.

She took out a specially made weapon and aimed it at the guards.

This weapon looked similar to a gun, but instead of bullets, it shot out needles laced with a special drug.

With her fingers' quick movement, it only took a while before ten needles were shot silently at the guards.

The ten of them felt as if bitten by a mosquito. Before they could feel anything, their eyelids grew heavy before they fell to the floor.

Charmine opened the ceiling and jumped down from the duct, quickly rushing to open the door once she did.

She had prepared the most advanced fingerprint recognition system, and with it, it took less than a minute for her to open the door successfully.

Once she went into the room swiftly, she then spotted the box placed on the table just as expected, and she wasted no time in running toward it and lifted it in her arms.

However, upon touching it, the alarm rang loudly.

She triggered the alarm system on the table!

Instantly, footsteps were heard from not far away.

Many people were on their way!

Charmine carried the box and rushed out of the room, wanting to use the duct she came in through to escape, but she quickly realized that numerous security guards were coming up the stairs just as she arrived before the duct.

If they saw her entering the air-conditioning duct, they would stop her from its exit!

Her hold on the box tightened as she quickly ran upstairs.

“Catch her!” the leading guard cried out and chased after her with his men. 1

Charmine ran to the balcony and successfully opened the door, only to be met with an open space with nothing else. The surroundings were nothing but tall buildings; there was nothing around her. She had nowhere to escape!

The footsteps from below were coming closer. That was it... She was done for!

Just as such a finality came to her mind, someone suddenly grabbed her arm and pulled her behind a wall.

Before she could scream, she heard a man’s hoarse voice that spoke, “It’s me.”

The voice was familiar...

Charmine turned back to see that the man standing beside her was Guy.

They were both hiding in a narrowed, half-a-meter-long space, 1

This was a small space behind the wall, enough for both of them to stand in.

There was a wall behind them and a wall in front of them.

Frowning, Charmine wanted to question him when the men came up the balcony.

The leading guard and his men had black-colored weapons in hand, and they started searching the balcony from the trees to the bins, as well as the water tanks. They inevitably caused a ruckus in their search.

Charmine and Guy stood still and held their breath. None of them made any sound or movement.

Between the narrowed space, it was as if they could hear each other's heartbeats.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 967-In that space, Guy's gaze shifted to Charmine.

Even though it was dark, he could still see the shape of her face, one that was incredibly comely.

She did not have any scent on her, not even the smell of her shampoo. She instead exuded a very cold scent.

They stood so close to one another that his arm nearly grazed hers. With his heart racing at an alarming speed, Guy's ears turned red and hot against his will.

Charmine, meanwhile, did not notice him as she peeped through the very small gap, closely monitoring the situation outside.

The guards had searched all over, high and low, but found nothing on the balcony, and the leading guard ordered, "Bring in the bulldog!" 1

The bulldog was a hunting dog they had trained to detect the scent of humans.

It could help them to sniff out the intruders!

Charmine frowned. Once the bulldog got to the balcony, they were done for!

She turned to Guy and whispered, "Are you confident?"

Guy looked at the shadow and nodded.

With that, Charmine urged, "Run!"

With that said, she pushed open the wall and ran out with the box in her arms.

Guy rushed out as well, following closely behind her.

They both ran back to the staircase like two rockets as they rushed downstairs speedily.

The guards were spread out on all corners of the balcony. Some even went to the ends of the balcony, leaving the staircase unguarded.

With that, Charmine and Guy successfully reached the staircase and rushed downward.

Most of the guards downstairs were on the balcony by then, so no one guarded the lower floor.

Their leader did not expect them to hide behind the wall. He did not expect a gap to be there!

He instantly led his men to chase after them, all while he took out his walkie-talkie and instructed, "Attention! Target is moving down! I repeat: Target is moving down!”

Instantly, guards rushed up from below. Men gave chase after Charmine and Guy from above and below.

When Charmine ran to the fourth floor, she did not go down and instead quickly went to a room on the fourth floor.

There was a big tree outside the room, though the tree was three stories tall.

If she jumped out, she had to be very agile in order to get to the tree.

Guy looked at her, worried. “Are you going to be okay?”

“Don’t worry!”

With that said, Charmine’s hold on the box tightened as she jumped out.

Her figure moved nimbly in the darkness, and she successfully got to the large tree!

In the past few years spent in Africa, there was more than once when Tiffany arranged for people to send her to the forest. Tiffany wanted her dead.

Following that, she learned quite a lot of survival skills.

Guy watched her in shock. He did not expect a woman like her to be so skillful!

Hearing footsteps coming toward him from outside, he instantly jumped out of the window as well.

The two of them accurately caught on the tree branches and climbed down.

Coincidentally, a motorbike happened to be parked below the tree. As the men grew closer, Charmine tossed the box to Guy and swung her leg over the motorbike as she said to Guy, "Get on!"

Guy wasted no time. He hugged the box and sat behind her.

Charmine twisted the accelerator, and with Guy placing his hands on her waist, the vehicle raced away, effectively leaving the guards that chased after them!

However, in the darkness, on a tall building far away, someone was using an ultra-long-distance camera to capture this moment.

The photos showed Charmine driving with Guy putting his hands on her waist.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 968- Charmine did not notice someone was spying on them, however, as she roared up the road at full throttle to evade the guards that chased after them in cars.

There were more and more cars with police cars coming from the front.

They were about to get arrested!

Spotting a river by the side, Charmine then asked Guy, "Do you swim?"

'Yes,' answered Guy honestly.

Someone was chasing after them with a motorbike, and there was a weapon aimed at them!

However, at that instant, Charmine turned the direction of the motorbike and rushed into the river. Those who chased after the duo were baffled, stunned as they saw the motorbike sinking into the river.

Who was so skillful and daring?

Winter was approaching-they were risking their lives!

“Search the river!”

‘Yes, Sir!’

They formed a river-search team and started digging and investigating.

Meanwhile, Charmine had led Guy to get out of the river. The two of them were drenched as they ran into the forest quickly.

Charmine sent an SOS message to the C team arranged by Kay, and within half an hour, the people of the C team would be able to come and fetch them.

Sitting below a tree, Charmine opened the box right away to check on the sword, delighted to see the sword unharmed and no water managed to get in the box.

At last, she retrieved the sword. With this, she would be able to cure Chris!

By the side, Guy suddenly moaned. He seemed to be in pain.

Charmine turned over to realize the wound on Guy’s arm had reopened.

The wound was a result of him saving her from the dagger attack, and though it was wrapped up, the wound reopened when they jumped to the tree and swam.

With that, the wound oozed blood.

He tried to wrap it up again, but with only one hand, it was inconvenient.

Charmine had to put down the box and walked toward him to help him wrap his wound again.

Guy's face flushed red at that moment, and luckily, it was dark and she could not see that.

He said, "Thank you."

"No need to thank me. You helped me, so I owe you," said Charmine as she wrapped up his wound professionally.

With her skillful bandaging technique, his wound no longer bled.

"Why are you here?" she questioned.

"I..." Guy thought of the anonymous text he received and frowned.

He had yet to know who sent him that text despite his effort of trying to investigate, and until he found out, he did not want to tell Charmine in fear she might be worried.

He explained, "I thought that you'd go to retrieve the sword tonight, so I tried to help. Since we had a mission here before, we also hid behind that wall to get out of danger. I thought it might help you, but..."

They actually had a bulldog this time. They had no choice but to jump off the tree and into the river.

Through the moonlight, he could see that her clothes were scratched and she was just as wet.

He was worried for her.

He had lived for 29 years, and this was the first time he felt worried.

In the past, even when his sister, Dior was hurt, he felt that as a Granger, she must be trained. As he gazed at Charmine, however, he wanted someone to save her so she could get some rest.

Charmine remained calm as she said to him, "No need to be guilty. If it wasn't for that space between the walls, I might have to jump off the building. I owe you one. If you ever need any help in the future, do not hesitate to contact me."

Her voice was clear and soothing, though it sounded aloof and stern as well.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 969-Not knowing how to respond to Charmine, Guy could only nod. "Okay."

The night was dark, and the gust did blew as the air grew cold.

With the box safe in her arms, Charmine held it close as she rested silently.

After the dangerous escape, she felt strangely tired and dizzy.

Somehow, her eyelids grew heavier, and she fell asleep unknowingly. Her tense body grew more relaxed as her head leaned onto one side.

That did not go unnoticed by Guy as he hurried to sit by her side, thus Charmine's head landed on his shoulder.

In the darkened forest, he sat upright with labored breaths and dared not move, not wanting her to wake up.

A mosquito flew over and bit his neck. He could feel it but he did not move. His arm did not raise up as well.

The scene was strangely beautiful...

Far at the distance, someone took a photo of it, and they smirked with satisfaction as they eyed the shot.

A photo like this was romantic enough...

However, the person had an even more important mission ahead of this.

Guy allowed Charmine to lean on him. Gradually, he sensed that something was not right.

Charmine's breath was hot, so much so he could feel her body getting warmer even with clothes on.

Sensing something, he raised his hand to feel her forehead, and his hand jolted.

Charmine had a fever!

She actually had a fever at this time!

Due to the mission, Guy did not bring a phone with him. All they could do was wait for Charmine's people to get them.

However, if nothing was done with her clothes still drenched, her fever would worsen!

Guy looked around. Their current location was upstream, while those guards went downstream to look for them. They should not find them anytime soon. 3

He placed Charmine on the ground and walked around the woods in search of wood.

Despite the darkness, his eyes were sharp. He moved quickly and did not care when his skin was scratched by the tree branches. He only wanted to get some wood to make fire.

Charmine's clothes were drenched. He must make a fire to dry it off as soon as possible!

When he finally came back with some wood, a bunch of people suddenly walked toward them.

Guy took Charmine into his arms, ready to fight.

When one of them saw Charmine, he frowned nervously. "How's Boss Jordan?"

Guy asked, "Who are you?"

"Gragoul Team C," answered the man and showed his identification card.

When Guy made sure it was a legit Gragoul card, he loosened his guard and said, "She's ill, and she needs to be sent to a hospital!"

"No, Kay instructed to keep her hidden. Nobody should know where she is," argued the person in charge.

Someone asked Guy, "Is there a completely safe place we could go? And then look for a doctor?" i

Guy thought for a while and said, "Come to my house."

As he spoke, he carried Charmine and walked out.

There were a few cars parked by the side, and the heaters were on inside the car.

Guy told them his address and used a blanket to cover Charmine.

The cars drove toward his house in the outskirts of the city.

The person in the dark took countless shots again, every shot showing how intimate Charmine and Guy were. 1

When Charmine woke up, the sky had turned bright, and someone else was next to her.

When she saw Guy, she shot up and nervously looked around her.

Someone changed her clothes, and she was in a bathing robe! i Had Guy accompanied her for a night?

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 970- Charmine's internal alert bell rang inside her. She only had one thought in her head: she was done for good, 1

If Anthony found out about this, it would be so hard to explain!

She instantly clung to the bathing robe tightly, plucked out the infusers on her, and tried to get out of bed.

Guy was awakened when he detected movement. Noticing Charmine getting out of bed, he said nervously, "Ms. Jordan, you can't move! You have a fever as high as 39.7 Celsius, and you must stay in bed to get treated!"

“Don’t worry, I’m fine.” Charmine got out of bed, put on her shoes, and eyed her surroundings.

The box of the sword was placed not far away, and the sky was turning bright. She had to rush back to the Jordan mansion before the sun got out. Nobody should realize she was not in during the night.

She went over to get the box when Guy quickly said, “I’ve phoned the Chernys.

They’ll come in a moment, so please wait a little longer.”

Charmine, who was in a rush to leave, stopped when she heard Guy’s explanation.

If the Chernys truly came, she did not have to go to them to hand over the sword.

However, she did not know how long she had to wait, and she hoped they would come swiftly.

Seeing that she was impatient, Guy asked suspiciously, “Is there something urgent? I can help.”

“No need,” Charmine sat down on a sofa by the side. She lifted her hand to check the time.

It was past five in the morning.

Anthony would wake up at six, and he might contact her.

She did not even bring her phone. If she did not reply to him, he would grow suspicious.

However, she must personally hand the box to the Chernys. She did not trust Guy completely. 1

Guy sat on the stool by the bed. He knew she was in a panic and he wanted to help her, but he did not know how to. He did not know what to say.

Even though he really wanted to speak to her, he could not seem to find a topic.

He sat there and became somewhat nervous.

The room was quiet.

Meanwhile...

Hugh and his fifth son, Phil, were rushing toward Guy's house.

Phil could not help complaining, "Dad, didn't you say you gave a mission to Charmine to retrieve the box in exchange for the red wolf's bone? Why did she disappear and Guy took up the mission instead?"

Guy, in their phone call, only mentioned that he and his friend got the sword. He did not specify that it was Charmine, so they all assumed that it was Charlie.

In this sense, after Charmine had accepted the mission, she had completely disappeared without a trace!

Hugh scoffed mockingly, "What a woman! What can we expect?"

He thought Charmine would be different from other women. He was willing to give her a chance to challenge herself. Who would have thought she was just a nobody! 1

On another note, Charlie was quite impressive.

He thought of how Charlie fought, thus he said to Phil, "Find out who this Charlie guy is. He seems alright and very skillful. The seven of you should learn from him."

"Don't worry, Steve is already checking him. With his skills, he should be able to find Charlie's address," assured Phil, i

The Chernys always liked to be acquainted with kind and powerful people, just like Charlie.

Thinking of Charmine, Phil scoffed, "Dad, don't you ever bring that kind of woman to our training base again. She dirties our place!"

Hugh did not speak-he agreed with that.

The car pulled over at Guy's house.

Different from other mansions, Guy's house was a simple one-story house in plain white.

The two of them walked in and saw Guy boiling water.

Phil asked suspiciously, "Guy, where's your friend?"

"She's in the room. She had a fever from swimming last night. I'm boiling water for her," replied Guy as he walked in with the hot water.

Hugh and Phil suddenly respected this friend so much.

He was only a friend of Guy's and actually risked his life for the Cherny family?
