

My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 971

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 971-The Chernys must thank this person!

Both Phil and Hugh walked into the room respectfully, and they instantly spotted a figure sitting on a grey sofa next to the window.

This long-haired figure had a bathing robe on, and her face was stunningly beautiful.

It was Charmine!

Why was she here?

Hugh asked in shock, "Guy, you...you two..."

Phil asked with disbelief, "Guy, you've finally learned to get a chick! Did you two really sleep together?"

"No...nothing like that!" Guy's face flushed red as he quickly explained, "It's not what you think it is. She... She had a fever and wasn't able to change out of her clothes, so..."

Despite standing at 1.9 meters and having a well-built figure, he was a stuttering mess.

Phil patted his shoulder. "Alright, we're all men, I understand. You're twenty-nine now, and it's normal. Still, why her...?"

He looked at Charmine judgmentally.

She was useless, even though she had quite the beauty of an elf. She was not good enough for the Granger family.

Charmine felt herself judged, and she was not pleased.

Since she was in a rush, she could not bother to explain to them. She would show them with action.

She stood up and went to take the box.

Not noticing her, Hugh looked at Guy and said with a serious tone, "Your cousin is right. If you want to get married, you should find someone with a clean background. How can you be with her? Oh yes, where's your friend? Where's Charlie? He's got a fever?"

Guy's face flushed red as Hugh spoke to him. He felt so embarrassed.

He explained, "It's a misunderstanding. She's Charlie."

What?

Hugh and Phil jolted, unable to comprehend the news Guy told them. 1

She was Charlie?

How could that be?

How would Charmine, a woman, know about ancient technology? Why would she fight against Safford agents? How would she even have the courage to enter Safford's territory?

At that moment, Charmine walked up to them and handed them the box. "I managed to retrieve the sword. I hope Mr. Cherny can keep your promise and give me the red wolf bones.”

Her voice was unperturbed as she exuded a powerful temperament.

This look of hers was similar to Charlie’s...

Hugh and Phil exchanged glances. They found it hard to believe.

The Charmine they looked down on was, in fact, the Charlie they praised?

How...unbelievable!

Seeing that they did not believe her, Charmine used a man’s voice to speak, “I’ve other things to do. Please examine the sword.”

The voice was Charlie’s! It was a man’s voice!

Phil was utterly flabbergasted. “You can change your voice! You are Charlie!”

‘This is to make sure nobody knows how I am,” replied Charmine, “so I simply disguised my look.”

Hugh and Phil felt embarrassed. 1

Simply disguised her look?

Her skill was so refined. How was that a ‘simple disguise’?

Hugh knew he had misjudged her. This was the first time he looked at a woman wrongly.

With guilt and remorse, he then apologized, “I’m sorry for the misunderstanding.

Thank you so much for helping US to get back the sword.”

As he spoke, he received the box from Charmine.

In the next moment, his expression changed.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 972-Charmine frowned and asked suspiciously, "What's wrong?"

"There's a problem with this box!" Hugh called out.

He had seen the box during the day and examined the sword thoroughly.

According to the length and shape of the sword, the item should not have this weight!

Opening the box, it was revealed to be a completely different sword, as expected. It seemed to be a cheaply made sword instead!

Charmine and Guy were utterly shocked at Hugh's comment.

How could it be?

"Impossible. I even opened the box to check on it when I got it out. I only took it out after making sure it's a real sword," insisted Charmine.

"The agents from Safford even chased after US," added Guy. "It can't be a fake sword they're going after!"

"So where's the problem?" Hugh was perplexed.

Charmine squinted as she jogged her memory, and only a moment later did she reply, tone cold, "Someone swapped it on the way."

On the way?

Guy frowned. "Impossible. Only the two of US held the box along the way, and nobody else could've touched it except when..."

He paused there and his pupils dilated. "I remember: it was in the forest! After Ms. Jordan fainted, I noticed she had a fever so I had to leave her to gather some wood. I think the sword was swapped out then!"

Charmine's eyes narrowed. If it happened then, it showed that someone had been following them.

Who was it, however? What for? To get the sword?

She asked, "What's the value of this sword?"

"It's not much, it's just a family sword of the Chernys. It was owned by our ancestor, the general of the army, and used this sword to fight many wars. To us, this sword represents the glory of our family-it symbolizes our pride! To an outsider, this is just a collectible object," explained Hugh.

Phil then added, "Safford wanted this because they had always liked to keep Burlington's collectible objects. They wanted to shame Burlington and prove to the rest of the world how we can't even protect our cultural objects. Only they had shown interest in the sword and pursued it actively, and no one else had shown much tenacity apart from them."

Charmine frowned. This mission became much harder than it was.

If nobody had come in the way in recent years, why was there a third party trying to steal the sword all of a sudden?

What was the problem? Who did it?

The sky had lit up amid her thoughts.

Charmine looked at the sky and, thinking of Anthony, said to them, 'There's no point standing here and thinking. I need to go. Dispatch a few men into the forest to try and find some clues. Tell me right away if you find anything.”

Making her way out as she spoke, she then turned once more to add,”

Regardless of what it is, only text me. Do not tell anyone else about my other identity for now.”

The three of them nodded.

She had to stay in secrecy. If they found out it was her, perhaps even the people in Safford would make it hard for her.

Charmine wanted to bring the Jordan Group into Safford’s market, and it would be difficult if her identity was exposed.

Spotting Charmine rushing outside, Guy followed quickly and called out,” Ms. Jordan...”

Face flushed red again, he stammered with difficulty, “No...nothing. You’re ill, so drink more hot water.”

‘Thank you,” came Charmine’s curt reply before marching away.

The C team had prepared a car to send her back to the Jordan mansion quickly.

Meanwhile, Guy watched as the car left before he smacked his head furiously.

He was so useless. He could not even speak properly to her!

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 973- Charmine would not like a dumb man like him...

Hugh frowned when he noticed Guy's expression. "Guy, you like her."

"No...I don't..." denied Guy, though the blush remained on his face and ears.

Phil walked over and held his shoulder. "Alright, it's written all over your face!

Don't worry, we look at Charmine differently now. We won't stop you from liking her."

"Really, I don't..." Guy tried to deny it, cheeks still burning as he did.

Phil pulled him to another room and interrogated, "Tell me what you like about her. How did you fall for her? It's your first time liking someone, isn't it? Haha!"

Hugh saw the two of them messing around and a solemn expression was formed.

He thought of what Charmine told him.

Charmine liked Anthony and wanted to get married to Anthony. The reason she came in touch with the Chernys was to gain their approval, just so she could be with him.

If Guy found out about this, how would he take it?

This was the first time in 29 years that Guy had liked someone. She was the first.

"Sigh..." Hugh sighed heavily.

Whatever; he would take things one step at a time. It was hard to speculate feelings. Perhaps Charmine might fall for Guy eventually?

Furthermore, Charmine was also a distant daughter of the Chernys, and they did have that marriage arrangement with the Grangers.

By then, they could even force her to marry him!

Charmine, meanwhile, was on the way back to the Jordan mansion, and she went in through the secret tunnel and quickly went back to her room the moment

she arrived. 3

It was half-past six in the morning, and there were no calls or texts on her phone.

Wonderful! Anthony had not contacted her!

Looking at her screen, she spotted that the caller was Anthony.

Thank goodness she came back early!

As she accepted the call, she pretended as if she just woke up. "Hello...?"

"You're not awake yet?" asked Anthony in a low voice.

Charmine answered weakly, "Yeah. What is it?"

"Can you pick up Momo later? I need to sort out the robbery incident in the Safford territory," began Anthony.

Charmine frowned. "Robbery incident in the Safford territory? They asked you to investigate?"

Anthony, being the man with many things in his arsenal, could easily find out it was her!

Anthony detected the change in her voice and frowned. "What's wrong?"

“Nothing. I’m just shocked. Since when are you involved with these things?”

Charmine made up an excuse.

Anthony replied, “It was related to yesterday’s expo. Apparently, there was a fight over this item during the expo.”

Charmine pretended to be shocked as she then comforted, “Okay, go and do the investigation then. I’ll pick up Momo in the afternoon.”

“Okay, see you at night.” Anthony’s voice was low and soothing.

Alas, Charmine was not in the mood to admire it. She hung up the call, downright concerned.

If Anthony took part in this investigation, he would find out some clues soon or later.

If he found out it was her and that she worked with Guy, that she even spent a night at Guy’s house, what then...?

What about coming clean to him?

However, if she confessed, knowing Anthony, he would not permit her to get close to the Chernys anymore. He would not let her get involved with this dangerous mission. 1

Charmine was caught in a dilemma...

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 974-After a moment of thought, Charmine could only phone Kay to instruct, ‘Try your best to wipe out all traces of my mission.’

“Don’t worry, Boss Jordan. We’ve already cleared out everything last night.

Forget Anthony; even God might not be able to find anything!” Kay reassured her. 2

His behavior baffled Charmine.

Was Kay not against her being with Anthony? Why would he help her to cure Chris and, moreover, put so much effort this time?

She could not be bothered with that, however. She was more reassured with that.

After hanging up, Kay high-fived with a few elderly men.

“Don’t worry-this is a good sign. As long as Anthony can’t find anything, Boss Jordan would have more time to spend with Captain Granger. Who knows, they might develop feelings along the road!”

“Well done, well done. Guy is at least a hundred times better than Anthony!

Even though Charmine doesn’t like William, she might like Guy!”

“Let’s hope she realizes it sooner! Can’t wait to hear some good news!”

The few of them were very delighted as if they had finally found a ray of hope.

Charmine was going downstairs when she sneezed a few times.

Joey who was downstairs instantly walked toward her with concern as she asked, “How are you feeling? Did you catch a cold? It’s getting chilly, so please put on more clothes.”

“I’m fine,” answered Charmine flatly.

Although she had a fever last night, her body was always quick to recover.

With medication, she should be fine in no time.

There were already some beef steaks on the dining table, where Senior Jordan and Adam were sitting.

Amelia, on the other hand, was in the hospital due to the burns she suffered.

Still receiving treatment in the hospital, Felix and Lily had gone over to take care of her.

Charmine walked over to Senior Jordan and sat down beside him. "How are you feeling as of late, Grandpa?" she asked.

"Don't worry, I'm fine. I'm worried about you being so busy every day." Senior Jordan looked at her caringly.

She had not come home for a long time, and she only came back after asking Joey to fake the voice message for her to come home.

With that in mind, Senior Jordan asked suspiciously, "Did Anthony treat you badly? Does he not allow you to come home?" 1

"No. Recently, the Baileys are having some conflicts with the D'Cruz family. His family is forcing him to be with Waverly. He's worried that I might leave him, and so insecure was he that he hoped I could stay with him more." Charmine made up an excuse.

Adam, Senior Jordan, and Joey were shocked.

Anthony seemed so cold on the outside, but he was that insecure internally?
He

was worried that Charmine might leave him?

He seemed to love Charmine so much...

Charmine changed the topic as she spoke, "Right, how's Robert? Has he woken up?"

Mentioning that, Senior Jordan sighed. "He's been taking the medications, and his body has recovered. He should be awake by now, but he hasn't. Dr. Weir came over a few times to check on him, and he said that Robert's body had recovered. However, it seems that due to some psychological issues, he's unwilling to wake up. He needs to overcome it himself." 1

Charmine frowned. Psychological issues?

What psychological issues would Robert have?

Joey reassured, "Don't worry, we're still massaging him every day to keep his muscles active. Once he wakes up, he'll be able to move like usual." 1

Charmine nodded. She was so busy recently that she could only visit Robert after sorting out every other matter. 1

After having breakfast, she reminded the three of them, "Oh, yes. No matter who comes to ask you, do tell the truth that I didn't leave the mansion last night."

"Okay, don't worry."

The three of them agreed, though they were worried.

Was Charmine in trouble?

They just could not get involved with her world anymore...

Joey and Adam looked at her as she left, their emotions welling up in them as they gazed at her retreating form.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 975-If only they knew she was their true daughter instead of Tiffany, they would have treated her better since she was a child. 2

Charmine drove back to the Jordan Group and went past the river she had traversed last night.

Police officers covered the perimeters, and one of them instructed, "We're closing down this area. Please take another road."

Charmine was far away from them as she saw a handful of people inspecting the area. These included officers from Safford and Burlington, the old man, and Anthony's men.

Anthony was standing by the river as he studied the trace on the ground.

The motorbike that rushed into the river left a long black mark by the riverbank.

If he looked closely into the depth and length of the trace, he could speculate the weight of those who rode the motorbike!

Charmine's eyelids jumped. Being the analytical man he was, Anthony might find out the truth!

With a thought in mind, she parked her car and walked down.

The person in charge stopped her, “We asked you to take an alternative route, didn’t you hear? They’re having an investigation, so please don’t affect the officers working!” 1

“Please let them know that I need to speak to Mr. Bailey,” insisted

Charmine. 1

The officer scoffed, “You’re the ninetieth woman who said this today! Why are all fangirls like you so shameless? Boss Bailey is engaged to Ms.

D’Cruz from Kansas, and nobodies like you can’t do anything about it.

Leave now or I’ll charge you for obstructing official duties!” He took out a pair of handcuffs as he spoke.

Charmine warned him, “I know him, and I have legitimate matters to discuss with him.”

“Haha! The thirteenth woman I asked to leave said the same thing. If you know Boss Bailey, I’ll change my surname to yours!” The man was condescending in his reply.

Charmine called out instantly, “Mr. Bailey!”

Anthony, at that time, was staring at the trace on the ground. He somehow felt that the curve of the mark looked familiar.

Even though he had not seen this trace before, he somehow recalled something vaguely familiar to the mark.

The person by the side said, "President Bailey, let's go and see if we can find some other clues."

Anthony did not respond to him. He remained transfixed on the mark when he suddenly heard Charmine's voice. His lips twisted into a frown when he looked up and saw Charmine.

She actually came?

Initially set in his business-only demeanor, he instantly tossed everything aside and walked toward her right then and there.

The crowd exchanged looks strangely.

Who was that woman, and why did Boss Bailey seem to care so much for her?

When the officer saw Anthony walking over, his legs shook uncontrollably. 1

This woman knew Anthony?

Anthony was truly willing to see her?

The officer was so terrified that he lowered his head at Charmine. "I'm sorry, I'm so sorry I misunderstood you. I thought you're like the others, and I didn't expect..." 2

He no longer looked arrogant like he once was.

"I know you're just doing your job," came Charmine's short reply. "Do be more careful next time."

“Yes, Madam.” The man nodded vehemently.

Charmine did not hold it against him because Anthony was already standing before her.

He looked at her suspiciously.

This was the first time she had looked for him in public. 1

He asked, “What is it?”

Charmine felt guilty.

‘What was it?’

She only intended to divert his focus from the investigation. What next?

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 976-The crowd looked at Charmine strangely.

Charmine came to look for Anthony? Did they know each other that well?

Nervous as she was, Charmine simply found an excuse and said to Anthony, “I have some problems regarding our collaboration. We need to discuss it.”

Anthony frowned. Collaboration?

There were too many people around them. He thus turned to the officer in charge and instructed, “Excuse me. If there’s anything, let my assistant know right away.”

“Yes, Sir!” The crowd nodded with respect. 1

Anthony followed Charmine as they walked away.

Charmine felt somewhat uneasy. They were seen leaving together in front of so many people!

She only had the intention of distracting Anthony and completely forgot that they were in a public setting.

As Anthony got on the front passenger's seat, she had no choice but to get in and drive away.

Driving away from the riverside, both of them were left alone in the car.

Anthony finally asked, "What is it?"

His tone was serious.

If it was not for something important, Charmine would not come and find him.

Charmine thought of something quickly. After a while, she said, "I know you're investigating this incident, but this isn't going to work if everyone keeps investigating this way. I realized that they had hacked into the country's firewall and deleted all related footage. Even all the related cars and car-cameras were wiped out. This shows that they're very powerful. If we can find out their IP address, it'll make this a lot easier."

Anthony frowned as he gazed at Charmine unblinkingly.

Charmine was driving but could sense his eyes on her. Her heartbeat was racing.

He was staring at her so intently. Had he noticed something after all? 1

Did she miss something...?

Even though she was panicking inside, she maintained her calm appearance.

“What? Is something on my face?”

“No.” Anthony’s eyes flickered with a curl of his lips. “You’ve changed, Charmine.”

“Huh?” Charmine hands nearly flailed from gripping the steering wheel.

She changed? How so?

Had he figured out how she went on a secret mission behind his back? 1

As she was overwhelmed with terror, Anthony continued, “You never bothered with whatever my business was in the past, but now you’re thinking about me.

Not bad.”

He praised her in his low voice.

Charmine’s anxious heart instantly settled down.

So Anthony said she had changed because of that?

She let out a sigh of relief. “And I thought it was something serious. Well, we’ve gotten our marriage certificate. Isn’t it normal to help each other out?’

“Indeed.” Anthony’s lips curled up. He could not help recalling the past incidents.

Forget about a month ago-she did not even care much about him even half a month ago.

He asked, “So, may I ask my lady where shall I start?’

Charmine’s eyes narrowed as she advised, “I’ll give you an account to log into the national security system. You can use this account to investigate it. If you can find out their IP address, everything will come to light.”

Anthony frowned. An account to access the national security system?
Charmine

had this access?

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 977-It seemed that Charmine had to talk with those elderly men for a long while to be able to access the system.

He stroked her head by impulse. ‘Thank you so much.’ His words, however, only made Charmine feel guiltier.

The access was indeed given to her by those men. However, she spent no effort in getting it. In fact, Kay and his men even used this access to wipe out all of the evidence.

Anthony would not be able to find out anything using this access. She was merely trying to divert his attention, to slow down the process, yet there he was□Enter title...

thanking her.

Hopefully, he would not have her head when he learned the truth. 1

When they got home, Anthony went to the computer room and used the most advanced computer to log in and investigate.

With that, he spent the rest of the day working on it.

When Charmine saw that he was busy in the computer room, she left secretly and sent a text to Guy and Hugh,

[Remove all evidence from the river as soon as possible.]

Anthony had arranged for his men to dig out the motorbike. Although there was no fingerprint left on the vehicle, it would still be detrimental if the vehicle was brought out from the river. 1

Meanwhile, she had to find out the sword's location so she could complete her mission, and only then could she come clean to Anthony.

Somehow, she had been having a strange feeling as if something bad was about to happen...

As expected, on the next morning, Anthony suddenly received a call.

"President Bailey, the motorbike was taken out from the river but someone burned it down over the night. No evidence was left behind. Again, the footage was completely destroyed this time."

Anthony's drowsiness evaporated at that instant.

The evidence was wiped out again? No evidence was left behind?

Perhaps only a few moguls from the national security organization would be so daring.

National Security...

Somehow, his eyes fell on Charmine who was laying beside him.

Out of all the people he knew, she was the only one who had access to the national security system.

Even though he was incredibly resourceful, this was not his sector. It would take time for him to gain access to it, yet Charmine could always easily get things done. 1

The sleeping Charmine sensed a pair of eyes staring at her. She had no choice but to open her eyes, and a small frown appeared on her face.” What? Did something happen?”

Anthony looked away and recalled all the events that happened inside his head.

Suddenly, he asked, “Are you in touch with the Cherny family?”

‘The Cherny family?’ Charmine frowned.

Why would Anthony ask this?

Anthony looked at her. “You and the Chernys made it to the most-searched list not long ago. The person who stole the sword is likely to be from that family or someone related to them.” 2

Charmine panicked but remained calm on the surface. “Are you suspecting that I’m doing something with the Chernys? You think I’m involved?”

Her tone was distant and cold.

Anthony explained, “Of course not, I’m just asking you for some clues. Or perhaps you know if anyone among the Chernys is likely to have access to the national security system?”

Charmine recalled her conversation with Grandma Bailey. She wanted Charmine to earn the approval of the Cherny family, but at the same time, the Chernys had a marriage arrangement with the Grangers.

If Anthony knew about it, it would be a stalemate.

For the sake of their future, Charmine had no choice but to meet his gaze.” Do you think I’d know? I don’t even know much about the Chernys yet.”

It was true: She did not know much about the Chernys nor their background. All she knew of them was through Grandma Bailey and that she wanted the red wolf’s bone from them.

When Anthony saw how calm she was, it seemed as if she was not hiding anything. He could not help reaching out to ruffle her head. “My bad. Sleep for a little longer, I’ll get things fixed.” 1

Charmine nodded, though she remained worried.

Anthony was already suspicious, and he had always been a sensitive person.

This must not go on like this. Perhaps she should work quicker...

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 978- Anthony noticed Charmine had zoned out and, thinking she was angered, held up her hand. “You may hit me if you’re angry, just don’t hold it internally,” he spoke as he held her hand to hit himself.

Charmine quickly retrieved her hand. “Not at all, I won’t hold it against you. Go and sort out your things.”

What was most important is that she dared not hold it against him...

Should the day come that he found out the truth, he might punish her severely if she did hold it against him!

Seeing that she was not angry, Anthony felt perplexed.

Since when had she become so understanding?

Nonetheless, the matter at hand was readily difficult. He had to walk out of the car.

Charmine watched his back uneasily. Anthony would soon dive back into the investigation.

He already had his suspicion, and if she tried anything else, he would be more suspicious.

Chris was already outside the door, waiting. Seeing that Anthony had come out, he pouted with displeasure. "Daddy is a bad guy. Why would you help that bad man to investigate? I heard the sword used to belong to the Chernys. Even if they really took it back, they did what they had to! Now that the sword was meant to be stolen, the one stealing the sword should be a hero! How dare you suspect Mommy, Daddy! I don't want you to send me to school today!" 2

Anthony frowned. He had to soothe his wife, and all of a sudden, he had to coax his son too?

“Don’t get involved with adult things,” he coldly muttered. “Go to school now.”

Not giving him any more chance to retort, he then held on to Chris’ small backpack and pulled him out.

Charmine saw their backs, and a glint appeared in her eyes.

Chris thought the thief was a hero?

Promising; she could ask Chris to destroy Anthony’s following investigation.

He was indeed her precious treasure!

She timed the clock. After making sure Chris had arrived at school and parted with Anthony, she texted Chris, [Momo, I heard what you said in the morning. I agree with you-we’re on the same side!]

[Momo: Really? You think so too? Daddy even scolded me for that! He said we can’t steal no matter what. If this happened in Burlington, he must find out the truth to prove to the other countries. He even said we have to conquer others with reasons.]

Charmine laughed to herself. Did Anthony think so? He said that to soothe a child.

Anthony was indeed investigating the matter, but he was more curious about finding out the thief’s identity. It was less about making a statement to the other countries.

Charmine then replied, [No matter what Daddy thinks, Momo is correct. When the other side isn't reasoning, we don't have to reason. No matter what you want to do, Mommy will support you!]

[Really! Momo wants Daddy and his people to fail at finding out any evidence! Is that ok?] came Chris' reply.

Charmine then texted, [Ok. Don't expose yourself!]

[Momo: Thank you, Mommy!]

Once she managed to rope Chris into her plan, she felt unusually guilty. She was even using a child... 1

However, she had no choice. Once she got hold of the red wolf bone to cure Chris, everything would be fixed. Of course, she had to retrieve the sword first.

Since Anthony was not around, she logged into another encrypted system and reeled back the messages. 1

Not long ago, Guy sent her a message that read, (We've done what we can. There's no clue. No footage was found in the forest.

We don't have any evidence.]

Charmine frowned. No evidence? 1

It seemed to be a dead end. What else could they do?

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 979- Charmine then contacted the c team. "Any update?" "We're about to contact you. After investigating in the forest for a day, we finally found a footprint.

According to the depth and size of the print, the person is an adult male, 1.7 meters tall, weighing fifty kilograms, and has a physique minimal fat and mostly muscles. According to the sole, it's a match to the guards of the Warren family.

We pulled out an investigation on the Warren family and found out that someone did bring a box into their treasure chamber," answered the team leader.

Charmine frowned. 'The Warren family?'

The team leader then sent some documents about the Warren family.

The Warren family was into biotechnology. They focused on inventing all kinds of advanced medication.

The documents had detailed information on each of the family members, and their eldest daughter was married to the Granger family.

In other words, the Warren family was related to the Granger family.

Charmine frowned.

In this sense, the Warrens should be a loyal and reputable family. Why would they steal the sword?

The team leader continued, "After our investigation, we're suspecting that it's Guy Granger's second cousin."

Guy's cousin had always been fooling around aimlessly, stealing collections from his family and selling them out. He once stole an item and sold it to

Safford. 1

Since he went to the Granger mansion quite often, he might have learned about Guy's plan and even stole from him.

Charmine thought about it and noted that it was a possibility.

The team leader continued, 'Today, Mr. Warren is having a birthday party. His mansion is full of people, and it seems to present a good opportunity.

However, he is spoiled by his mother. They installed the latest infrared security system two days ago in his treasure chamber, and we're not a hundred percent confident..." 1

The team leader felt embarrassed just saying that out loud.

The key was that one had to be very flexible in order to bypass the infrared security system. All of the team members were tough and well-built guys. None of them would succeed. 1

Charmine frowned. In other words, she had to do it herself.

She instructed, "Prepare me with a suitable identity."

"Okay." The c team went ahead to search up a suitable identity.

It did not take long before they prepared for Charmine a black, long-sleeved dress and a skin-mask.

The mask was of Ann Lewis from a small wealthy family. She was about to attend this party when the c team made her faint silently. 1

After leaving the villa, Charmine got dressed and put on the mask. She successfully went in with the prepared invitation card.

Many women were walking around in skimpy bikinis in the pool area, blatantly showing off their bodies.

Luckily, Ann was a quiet woman. Nobody really noticed her.

Charmine was wearing a long dress. When nobody was watching, she walked to the back of the garden.

Little did she expect to see a familiar figure in the garden.

It was Guy!

Guy was speaking to an elderly woman, his posture upright as he did. 1

Charmine did not expect him to be present. She did not expect to see him at all.

She turned and was ready to leave, but the elderly woman saw her.

“Miss, could you please come over?”

Charmine frowned. She called her?

She had no choice but to walk over.

The elderly woman looked at her from head to toe before she praised with satisfaction, “A good girl, a very good girl! There’re so many people here and only you have clothes on. I like you. Guy, didn’t you have difficulty finding a lady? I’ll help you; you two try to get along.” 1

As she spoke, she held Charmine’s hand and put it with Guy’s. Charmine jolted and quickly retrieved her hand.

Warning: My Mommy Is A Savage By Seeking A Peaceful Chapter 980-If Anthony found out about this, it would be too difficult to explain.

Guy also retrieved his hand and said to the elderly woman, "Don't be so rash, Grandma!"

"How am I messing around? You're twenty-nine! Who's not married yet at your age? Do you want me to be worried all the time?" The elderly woman sounded weary.

Guy frowned. Whenever he was put in this situation, he always found himself at a loss for words.

Charmine still had other things to attend to, thus she simply found an excuse and said, "Do have some time for yourselves, Grandma Warren. I need to go to the washroom."

With that said, she turned to leave.

Guy wanted to apologize to her, but she had already left when he turned around, and the sight of her retreating form made him feel some type of way. Sure, he had met Ann before and felt nothing, but seeing her again this time somehow made his heart race and his cheeks growing hotter. It was how he felt when he met Charmine...

Was Charmine also informed and came to the Warren mansion to investigate?

He said to the elderly woman, "Grandma, I'll do what I have to. I have things to do, so excuse me."

With that said, he patted Grandma Warren's hand and walked away.

Grandma Warren looked at him as he went in the direction of Ann. She was very delighted.

This man was finally blooming! He was finally willing to talk to a woman! 1
How delightful!

She said to the old maid by her side, "Make sure everything sails smoothly. I want a grandchild next year!"

"As you wish!" The old maid agreed and went ahead to help out.

Meanwhile...

Anthony walked out from the police building and went into his car.

Luke was driving as he spoke, "President, the Warren family invited you to their pool party. They said they have a new biotech project for you." 1

"Cancel it," came Anthony's quick order.

Luke continued, "The Grangers will be there as well."

Anthony frowned.

Currently, there was no evidence or document left at every scene. All they knew was that during the day of the incident, Guy and Charlie snatched the sword once.

The sword being missing at night could have things to do with the Granger family.

So, the Grangers and Chernys had gotten braver over the years, had they?

They were daring enough to steal?

He was intrigued to find out.

“Make an arrangement.”

With Luke’s preparation, Anthony walked in through the VIP passageway so that nobody saw him.

Senior Warren and Grandma Warren were already waiting for him.

They were only trying their luck when inviting him, but never did they expect he would truly show up!

“Boss Bailey, have a seat. We’ll show you our latest biotech proposal right away!” Grandma Warren quickly handed him the proposal with excitement.

Luke accepted it and handed it to Anthony.

Anthony held on the proposal and had a look. He said to them, “I need some alone time to look at it carefully.”

Senior Warren understood it right away.

Of course, this was a big project after all. If they could get the favor from Bailey

Corporation to use their resources to promote this to the world, it would greatly benefit the Warren family! 1

The Bailey Corporation had all the important connections and resources for global economies.

Senior Warren instantly stood up. "Boss Bailey, do take your time. If you need anything, just ask the maids to find US."

With that said, the two of them left the lounge.

After they left, Anthony looked away from the proposal. 1
