

Chapter: 1822

Chen Ju scolded and said, “What’s the matter? Huo Dongying is too arrogant. He has provoke people who shouldn’t be offended.”

“Are you saying that Mr. Lin Fan has a very strong background? Wouldn’t it be that even you should be afraid of three points...”

Chen Ju suddenly sneered:

“Am I jealous of him? Ho ho, I’m afraid that even the Lin family will daunt him!”

what!

The captain was frightened and stunned, and the Lin family, who has supreme authority, would be afraid of the man in front of him?

“Secretary, what you said is true?”

Chen Ju snorted coldly, and said with an ugly expression:

“Have you seen that the Dragon and Tiger Corps came to fish for people in person? Grandma’s, this time, the old fox, Lin Hongtu, really made a lot of fun!”

“The contest between them is not something small people like us can participate in!”

“Fuck!”

The captain cursed in a low voice:

“Lin Hongtu’s turtle grandson, isn’t this pitting us?! Fortunately, the Dragon and Tiger God of War came in time, otherwise he would really stabbed the big basket.”

The captain’s clothes were almost soaked in cold sweat at this time, and he finally knew why Lin Fan was so confident in the car before.

He doesn’t even put a small person like himself in his eyes!

If he really fired the gun at that time, I am afraid that the consequences would be beyond his ability to bear.

He wiped the cold sweat from his forehead and said with a pale face:

“When we meet this man in the future, we are afraid we will have to take a detour!”

“It’s not just us!”

Chen Ju sneered:

“I’m afraid that even the Lin family is in utter discomfort! Who do you think the Lin Family changed drastically some time ago? But you have to keep this matter secret and you are not allowed to talk about it casually.”

“Yes, yes, I will keep it confidential, and I will never say anything.”

.....

In the taxi, Lin Fan took out his mobile phone and made a mysterious call.

“Hey, advance the layout as soon as possible!”

“Roger that.”

The other party replied.

After hanging up the call, Lin Fan dialed another number.

Galileo Strait, in the ancient palace.

Here lives the notorious One Piece, Blackfoot!

The candlelight flickered, and his black feet sat on a throne made of skulls.

Black feet leaned back and finished drinking the contents of the cup, put the wine glass on the table in front of him, and then took the white towel handed over by the attendant.

He wiped the contents of the cup left by his mouth-blood stains, and threw the blood stained white towel into the trash can beside him.

At this time, the phone rang, and Blackfoot picked up the phone from the desk and looked at the number, and immediately turned on the phone in a respectful manner.

“Blackfoot! King, calling you!”

The voice of the mad god of bleeding in the cell phone.

“Blackfoot is always waiting for the king’s dispatch!”

He stood up quickly and said in a panic.

In the eyes of outsiders, he is a murderous, notorious One Piece!

But in the eyes of that man, he is just an ant!

Ants that can be trampled to death at any time!

“There is a new task, please remember it clearly!”

The blood prison mad god said loudly:

“The Huaxia Lin family, all the merchant ships related to them, including the merchant ships of their partners, I don’t care what you use, I will looting them in the shortest time. I want the Lin family to completely cut off contact with overseas!”

Blackfoot immediately angered:

“Crazy God, did the Lin Family smash the king, do you want me to send someone to get rid of him?”

“Do your own things well, as for the others, you don’t need to worry about it! Wang has his own plans!”

The blood prison mad god said coldly:

“If you can’t complete the task, Blackfoot, don’t need me to say, I think you should know the consequences!”

Blackfoot slapped his spirits, no longer dared to talk more, and quickly nodded and said:

“Okay, I understand your intentions, I will arrange the ship to go to sea immediately, and I will complete the task! Never let the king down!”
