

Chapter: 3149

Although he didn't quite understand how the young lady fell down.

"It's okay, it's okay." An Ning stood up and realized that the man in front of her seemed to have been seen in a hurry, and she was very familiar.

Before An Ning could think about it, a clear voice came from the car, and it turned out to be a man! An Ning couldn't help but sighed in his heart, a big man was more delicate than their women when going in and out, and he was reluctant to even take a single step.

"Fu Heng, what's wrong?"

No, this voice, An Ning made sure that he heard it there, and then saw the man in a suit and leather shoes in front of him, and seemed to remember it for a moment, and finally knew why it felt so familiar.

Last time Tang Qian sprinkled on her nail polish remover, and she met this man at the door of the bathroom, Mr. An. It seems that this person named Fu Heng is his secretary or assistant.

Obviously, Mr. An should be in the car at the moment, but he should not plan to come out. For him, it is just a small matter.

An Ning was curious as to how this President An suddenly came to the shooting base.

"Oh, President, there was a little accident." Fu Heng bent over and walked to the door.

Just thinking about it, An Ning saw the car door open, and a pair of delicate leather shoes first came into view.

Then, a slender body walked out of the car. It was Mr. An, but his face was very cold, and his eyes did not look at An Ning at all.

"You deal with it first." Mr. An said to Fu Heng, striding towards the shooting base.

An Ning stood aside stupidly, and didn't react until he saw Mr. An walk into the shooting base.

After picking up the cold and cough medicine on the ground, he hurriedly returned to prepare to go back, but what An Ning did not expect was that when he happened to arrive at the shooting base, he saw that Mr. An was standing with their director Qin. .

Director Qin and Mr. An seemed to be talking, so An Ning didn't go there. He just quietly put the cold medicine he bought on Director Qin's table and returned to the stool next to the studio. He could still hear Director Qin talking to him. The man's conversation.

"Is she okay these days?" The man spoke in a low voice, and Rao was nice, but what surprised An Ning even more was that Director Qin's attitude towards this President An was very special.

Director Qin, who has always been one-of-a-kind in the crew, has an exceptionally good attitude when facing this man named President An, and An Ning even thinks that Director Qin is extra cautious.

"You can rest assured with me, it seems that she gets along well in the group." When Director Qin said this, he glanced at the scene of the filming, very casual, and then lowered his voice and said, "Why not In the afternoon, will you talk to her in person?"

"Yeah." Mr. An nodded.

This scene An Ning always felt very familiar, and suddenly realized that this man named President An was obviously not the first time to appear in the crew.

Last time, it seemed that he also came to find Director Qin. At that time, An Ning only caught a glimpse of a figure, not very sure, but now An Ning can be sure that the figure he saw last time is indeed President An.

This time, because this An is always coming over in a bright and clear sky, many people in the crew have already seen it. When Director Qin was talking to this President An, Chi Fang and Lin Keke just finished filming the scene, and both of them moved towards An Ning came over here, and the shooting of the next scene did not continue.

The actors and staff present stopped what they were doing, but none of them left, they all stood there in a daze.

There are those who want to go but don't dare to approach to say hello, and those who try to reduce their sense of existence. Everyone seems to be very cautious when looking at Mr. An. Even Lin Keke, after sitting down now, just secretly looked at Director Qin. , did not speak.

On the other hand, Chi Fang still looked like she didn't care because Chi Fang seemed to be the calmest.

"What's the matter? Everyone seems to be very nervous?" Chi Fang happened to be sitting next to An Ning, and An Ning asked quietly.
