

Chapter: 3162

She grabbed Tang Qian's arm and pulled the distance between the two: "Huihui, let's find an assistant with you. She is not suitable for you as an assistant, it will only cause trouble."

Sister Luo has said enough euphemistically, her cold eyes swept straight to An Ning, her face is expressionless, obviously, she feels that An Ning is useless when she leaves Shengtian, and staying behind is also a troublemaker.

"But..." Tang Qian lowered her head and suddenly raised her head again, staring at An Ning with a ruthless expression: "I can't let her go! This vixen!"

An Ning looked at her and shook her head speechlessly. She did give her too much stimulation today, but since she was determined to leave, she didn't mean to take away this hatred.

It was fanning the flames just now, and now she wants to do something interesting.

"Sister Qianqian, An Yue, you signed it just now when you were angry..."

"Shut up!" Sister Luo was already a little impatient with the woman in front of her. She kept trying to provoke the relationship between the two pillars, which was really disgusting.

Being roared loudly, An Ning smiled, but was not annoyed: "What should happen will always happen, Sister Luo, why do you want to hide it, An Yue just showed her contract in front of me, you can give her a five-year TV drama contract, I really have to hold it hard, I think she will be very popular."

If you say, the last life did not provoke me.

When Tang Qian heard this, it was like a bolt from the blue. She rushed to the desk and took away the contract from Party A. She saw the above clauses, and she shook her body in shock, as if she was about to fall down at any time.

A woman's deepest nightmare is ruthless time.

She knew better than anyone what it would mean. She could not care when An Yue signed the contract, but when the contract came out, Tang Qian was already in a state of unease.

"You really want to hold that wild girl in the country!" Tang Qian couldn't control her emotions, she slapped the contract on the table hard, her eyes were red, she had never calmed down completely today.

Sister Luo knew what she was explaining to Tang Qian now, but she wouldn't listen, so she simply read the contract to her, put her aside, and started to deal with the peace in front of her.

"Are you satisfied with the current situation? Because I only hold your sister and make you want to take revenge on me?"

Sister Luo pulled An Ning out and closed the door of the office, her eyes still being the same indifference.

An Ning shook her head, her expression was much calmer. She spoke indifferently, as if she was stating something that had nothing to do with herself: "Dissatisfied, as for Sister Luo, your attitude is to be expected."

In the corridor, the two stood side by side, and neither looked into each other's eyes. Sister Luo was wearing a professional suit, as capable and concise as always, just like her emotions, she never showed her feelings for worthless people and things. .

She folded her arms in silence for a while, and said coldly: "Okay, I have nothing to say with you, the current situation is a choice you made yourself, your sister is more worthy of praise than you, and if you want to complain, just blame God for treating you The life is too ordinary, since you are gone, move out of the dormitory tonight, don't occupy a seat."

You see, no matter how many times you start over, some people really won't change, and she's even stingy with the time she has to clean up and find a house for herself.

Anning stood in the shadows and said nothing.

In the previous life, Sister Luo was so indifferent to her. She worked hard in peace and naively believed that one day she would receive a little warmer treatment, but everything was extraordinarily realistic.

"No matter when, you won't keep me."

Saying something slightly out of place, looking at the white wall peacefully and calmly, not feeling lost but not reconciled, her worth has not been proven.

At this moment, the door of the office was suddenly opened. Tang Qian should have read the document and was about to leave, but she heard such a sentence.

"To keep you? What capital do you have, do you think that if you play a bad female supporting role, you will be called a star?"

Tang Qian's tone was very aggressive, and it seemed that she meant to ignite the flames of war. An Ning gave her a pitiful look, but didn't want to say anything. She turned her head and took the elevator calmly.
