

Chapter: 3172

An Ning's hand tightened while holding the phone, and she felt vaguely that she wanted to know something special about the man who killed her in the last life.

She frowned and urged, "You just say it."

Hearing this, Qiwei didn't go around the corners and said, "This An Tianxiang is the illegitimate son of the An family."

Hearing this, An Ning couldn't help but shudder. With the skill of the An family's head, he would let an illegitimate child take care of the family business?

Even though he was so good, he must have gone through a lot to get to where he is now, which made Li Lin look at An Tianxiang a little higher.

Qiwei seemed to notice her absent-mindedness, he coughed lightly, and continued: "I heard that when he was eighteen years old, he had a car accident. Fortunately, the people of the Anjia Patriarch, Bo Yuan, suddenly found him, gave him rehabilitation training, and restarted his studies, and he has such achievements today."

An Ning raised her eyebrows, raised her eyes in surprise and looked at Xiaodong, and questioned, "Is there no memory from eighteen years ago?"

"That's right." Qiwei's voice was firm and sure: "An Tianxiang is a genius, even if he lost all his memory, including his studies, it took only a few short years to get an MBA from a well-known foreign university. A variety of very innovative papers."

The news brought by Qiwei suddenly made An Ning fall into contemplation. It seems that there are more and more mysteries about this man. This time, An Yue has provoked an extraordinary person.

She couldn't help but wonder: "Since he is so good and capable, he never thought about finding his own past?"

"Of course I thought about it, but that's where it gets interesting." Qi Wei suddenly chuckled, with a mysterious tone: "Although he really wanted to find the memory of the past, he used all the resources of the An family and couldn't find it. This is because he was an orphan before, and the orphanage where he grew up has closed down, and he has no friends or relatives, so there is no trace left."

Hearing this, An Ning had to feel sorry for the coincidence of this fate. He was about to say something, but Qi Wei suddenly continued: "Besides these, there is one more thing about An Tianxiang in the hospital. The nurse who cared for him at the time said that, When An Tianxiang was in a coma, he used to chant a name all the time."

Qiwei is not a person who likes to beat around the bush, but at this moment he deliberately slowed down his tone, revealing a meaningful feeling everywhere, which made An Ning suddenly a little nervous.

"Don't give a shit, just say it." She urged anxiously, as if something in her heart was tickling her.

"Alright, alright, An Tianxiang was calling a woman's name in the hospital, An Ning." Qi Wei finally said the key point in his heart, and heaved a long sigh of relief.

Hearing the name, An Ning was stunned for a moment, she immediately understood what Qi Wei told her, and fell into deep thought.

Obviously, she will never know An Tianxiang, and she has never lost her memory, but the only same name gives her the possibility of being a top bag.

Thinking of this, An Ning's expression suddenly became happy, but there are still some questions that need to be asked clearly.

So, she asked, "Qiwei, I want to ask you, where is the orphanage where An Tianxiang used to be when he was a child?"

Qiwei seemed to expect that An Ning would ask such a question, and answered quite complacently: "Before I didn't investigate this matter, I didn't believe that there was such a coincidence in the world, but it's true, that orphanage is right there with you. The village next door, Qingquan Village."

Hearing Qiwei's unadulterated answer, An Ning was also speechless in astonishment. She blinked and suddenly laughed.

Could it be that in this life, even the gods can't stand An Yue and Cheng Hao, the dog couple, are you going to help yourself?

The time and place are right and all the coincidences are gathered at this moment, and she only needs to make one decision.
