

Chapter: 3180

In order to avoid long-term embarrassment, she had to laugh stiffly: “Although it is true that the contract has been terminated, I have never forgotten the old friendship between you and me.”

“Oh, is that right?” Yang Ning ignored her words, glanced at her, and remained silent, obviously not wanting to pay attention to her any more: “If you insist on deceiving yourself like this, I have nothing to say.”

Yang Ning’s words did not give way to retreat, and once again caused the audience to be in an uproar.

However, this time, Tang Qian couldn’t hold back the shame and anger in her heart. She tilted her head and stared at Yang Ning’s face indifferently. Believe it or not, you will be killed when you step down?”

Her words were extremely threatening, and Yang Ning’s eyelashes trembled slightly when he heard it, but his face remained calm.

Anyway, Tang Qian came with a purpose, and if she didn’t achieve her purpose, I’m afraid she wouldn’t give up.

Off the stage, the reporters could clearly see the small movements between the two, and the daring reporters occasionally pressed the shutter twice, but other than that, there was no other sound in the huge venue.

As the host to mediate the atmosphere, he was in a dilemma at this time. He threw his eyes for help at the director and Lin Keke, but neither party responded to his intentions.

There is no way out.

The host felt helpless and took two steps forward, so he had to bite the bullet and say: “Cough, no matter what, “Peerless Beauty” is a TV series worth looking forward to, so today’s press conference is temporarily...”

“what!”

Before he could finish his words, a scream suddenly sounded from the stage. Everyone was startled and quickly cast their eyes. They saw that Tang Qian had already fallen off the stage, and her rather long white skirt was covering it in embarrassment. live her body.

“Quick, help Tang Qian up!”

After a loud shout, the scene suddenly became chaotic. The reporters who were busy helping people and calling for help, and the reporters who were anxious to take pictures and grab the headlines, pushed each other at the venue, and a good publicity meeting turned into a vegetable market in a blink of an eye.

A moment later, except for Chi Fang and Yang Ning, almost everyone on the stage came to help. However, Yang Ning, who had been standing in silence, did not understand why Tang Qian suddenly fell off the stage. She was standing here just now. side.

Could it be that.....

Yang Ning’s eyes were fixed on Tang Qian under the stage, as if thinking of something, her face was ashen.

“Tang Qian, why did you fall down suddenly? You’re really going to cause me trouble!” Director Hou didn’t say much during the whole press conference. At this moment, looking at the aggrieved face, he became extremely impatient.

For his grievances before he came, Tang Qian pretended to be pitiful for him.

“Director Hou, I...”

Tang Qian was helped to the backstage with a weak face. In order to avoid being interviewed, all the actors who participated in the promotion of “Peerless Beauty” also followed closely.

Everyone stood in the backstage, which was not spacious, and had their own thoughts in their hearts.

“I really didn’t screw it up on purpose.” Tang Qian sat on the chair with a lonely expression, her narrow shoulders trembled uncontrollably: “I just wanted to come to cheer for you, Director Hou, you know that I am very grateful to you. ...that’s why I found such a reason...”

“But where do you know, little junior sister doesn’t give me face like this, and...”

Tang Qian didn’t say anything more, she bit her lip and took a deep look at Yang Ning, which implied a very strong meaning.

The people present were not fools, so they naturally understood what Tang Qian said. Director Hou’s expression changed, and he turned his head to glance at Yang Ning, who was silent and calm.

“Yang Ning, did you push Tang Qian?”

When the words fell, everyone present turned their attention to Yang Ning, waiting for her answer with bated breath.

Almost at the same time, she quickly rejected: “I don’t.”

Yang Ning raised her head and glanced at the smug look in Tang Qian’s eyes. She knew that no matter how she explained it, she would not let everyone fully believe it, just like what she did to Yang Yue that day.
