

Chapter: 3267

Hearing Yang Ning's provocation, Yang Yue's pale face suddenly turned black. She was running barefoot, and the sand on the plastic track made her feet hurt.

"I have capital, what do you have?"

When I think of this Yang Yue, I get angry. I knew it first, and it was me who met An Tianxiang. Why is it that Yang Ning was suspected of becoming An Tianxiang's woman in the end?

She really dared not believe what Zheng Tao said, although every time he said it was true...

Resentment and humiliation came to her heart, and Yang Yue had a harder time controlling her emotions. She looked at Yang Ning who was about to run in front of her, and the evil factor in her heart sprouted again.

Yang Yue turned her head and observed it, and found that the large army on the runway was about to come, and she planned to implement it immediately.

For a moment, the large army behind Yang Yue arrived as expected, and she hurriedly followed, insisting that she keep up with the speed of the team.

In the blink of an eye, it was almost the last lap, and Yang Ning's speed gradually slowed down. She planned to rush in the last fifty meters, and the team behind her was chasing after her.

However, at this moment, a body suddenly slammed over behind her, and Yang Ning was suddenly stumbled. The group of people behind her did not stop the car for a while, and stepped on it one after another. Suddenly, screams came one after another on the runway.

"Yang Ning, are you alright?"

In the chaos, at least eight or nine people stepped on Yang Ning's fingers and legs. She gritted her teeth, her vision was getting blurry, and the pain all over her body made her unable to move. Many people came to check her condition, but Yang Ning was I felt more and more dizzy.

The director stood on the stand and saw this scene at the first time, and hurriedly called someone to coordinate the order and called an ambulance.

He and Zheng Tao hurried off the stage to see Yang Ning. When they arrived, they saw Yang Yue feeding her water, but Yang Ning had no intention of opening her mouth at all.

"Yang Ning, drink some water, I've already called an ambulance." Zheng Tao looked at this scene, his eyes flickered, and the people around were chatting, and all fell into his ears.

"No, it's not just being stepped on a few feet."

Yang Ning was embarrassed and her lips were white. Although she said it lightly, she was actually trampled on continuously, and every part of her body was at least 100 kilograms of weight. Even if you imagined it, the pain was not that light.

When the director on the side saw Yang Ning's appearance, he couldn't be as calm as Zheng Tao.

He hurriedly stepped forward and wanted to help Yang Ning, but she shook his head lightly and refused: "Wait for the ambulance to come, I will fall apart."

Her tone was extraordinarily serious, and there was no trace of a joke. The director's hand stretched out in the air for a while, and he didn't know what to say for a while.

The people present were a little helpless and watched Yang Ning, and some people who were running behind didn't know how the stampede happened suddenly.

At this time, someone suddenly said a word in the crowd, and the atmosphere in the audience suddenly became dull again.

"Who is the person who bumped into Yang Ning? She is fully responsible for this!"

Everyone looked at each other, suspicious eyes fell on each other, Zheng Tao glanced at the calm Yang Yue, and raised his brows.

Maybe these people off the court didn't pay attention to the situation here because of fatigue, but he and the director saw it clearly in the stands, and it was Yang Yue who bumped into it.

She is silent now, is it possible that she is waiting for the incident to happen again, and then let herself wipe her ass?

"I didn't pay attention to the road. After I lost my strength, I accidentally bumped into the flower in front of me..."

Just when Zheng Tao was thinking, Yang Yue actually stood up and took the responsibility. Except for the three people, everyone looked at Yang Yue in surprise.

Some people saw that she was about to cry because she was aggrieved and blamed herself, and they rushed forward to comfort her.

Lying on the ground unable to move Yang Ning, she sneered in her heart, if Yang Yue was still unintentional, then there would be no one who would be her enemy in this world.
