

Chapter: 3293

After painting the eyeshadow, Yang Ning turned his head with a smile and said, “It doesn’t matter, I have to wear these things for a while. By the way, did you help me contact the love show you mentioned before?”

This was a variety show that Yang Ning had rejected before, but after Yang Qingfeng’s accident, she suddenly wanted to join him on the show to fry CP again.

This is only good for Yang Qingfeng, not bad, but for himself, he still needs to worry about An Tianxiang.

She didn’t want to bear his wrath again, it was literally killing her.

Xiaodong put away the phone, nodded and said, “I have contacted, but this time the other party refused. They seem to be very concerned about Yang Qingfeng’s scandal and are afraid of negatively affecting the show.”

This result was also expected by Yang Ning.

Now it’s not that others are begging her, but she is begging others. When the roles change, the interests of the two have also changed.

“Wait a minute, you can call and say that Yang Qingfeng and I will participate together, and our appearance fee will only be one-fourth.”

Regarding her conditions, Yang Ning was not very sure that the other party would agree immediately, but she believed that the other party knew that no matter how much negative news there was, she was the most talked about among female stars, and Yang Qingfeng was the most popular among male stars.

The chemical reaction of the combination of the two is believed to be a person who does not understand casting, and also knows how to choose.

“This is too little!” Xiaodong widened his eyes in astonishment, obviously resisting this number. Originally talking about the price is what the broker should do, and this price is too much lower than the market price!

“It’s okay, I wasn’t interested in this show at all. I asked to participate purely for the sake of helping Yang Qingfeng.”

Yang Ning didn’t care about the price at all. She looked at the makeup she had done in the mirror and patted Xiaodong on the shoulder comfortingly. She stopped talking and planned to go to the show.

This time is the second recording of “Run, Star”. After the first episode was filmed and edited, it was already broadcast on TV.

After the show was broadcast, it caused a lot of repercussions. The novel variety show themes obviously made young people feel very fresh. The fire of the show was almost expected.

Yang Ning remembers that since the second issue, there has been a tradition of inviting special guests, and the director has not yet informed them who the guests are in this issue.

“Oh, it’s really bad luck, why did I see you again.”

Yang Ning had just walked out of the makeup studio when she saw Yang Yue coming towards her. Before she could say anything, she was snatched up by Yang Yue.

She tutted lightly and complained in her heart, this person is really a dog, and he bites people faster than anyone else.

“Each each other, I also feel bad luck early in the morning, why did I see you.”

The words were over, Yang Ning was too lazy to look at her, and immediately bypassed her to go to the recording site. Yang Yue looked at her back and wanted to continue chasing her and scolding her, but Zheng Tao held her back, a pair of peach blossoms. Indifference in his eyes.

Seeing this, Yang Yue could no longer be self-willed. She had no choice but to restrain her anger and rush towards the recording site angrily.

“It seems that the guest of this issue is Yang Yue.”

Xiaodong looked around, and accidentally saw Yang Yue hid in the studio quickly. She couldn’t help but leaned into Yang Ning’s ear and reminded Yang Ning, her expression was obviously a little uneasy.

If Yang Yue was present, the filming would not have been too smooth, no matter what.

“It’s alright, it doesn’t matter if she wants to target me, I’ve never been afraid of her.” Yang Ning chuckled lightly, and Xiaodong was stunned by the faint sarcasm.

But it’s only been a week since she hadn’t seen Yang Ning, why did she feel that Yang Ning became more and more feminine. In the blink of an eye, a calm and seductive coquettish demeanor made Yang Ning look completely different.

However, Yang Ning on the side didn’t notice Xiaodong’s blank eyes. She sat on the swivel chair and boredly watched the employees adjust the equipment.