

Chapter: 3323

Knowing that he couldn't hide, Yang Qingfeng didn't want to hide either. He calmly got out of the car, folded his arms and looked at the two of them. The sea breeze ruffled his hair.

“For a drive, this is the only road in Hong Kong that is deserted at night.”

Seeing Lu Qingfeng, An Tianxiang wouldn't believe his words in his heart. He hugged Yang Ning's waist tightly, raised his brows, and the afterglow of the headlights reflected on their faces.

“You should have followed. I saw a car behind me just now. I just didn't say anything.”

Yang Qingfeng looked at the two of them and smiled, his eyes were as lonely as the night: “You are still so cautious, but it's not a bad thing for you to follow me. It's not good for you to give up early.”

His tone was mixed with a cold chill, which is the chill that can only be exhaled from a cold heart. Yang Ning could hear it and see how lonely the figures in the shadows were, but she couldn't because of sympathy and peace. Kindness and choose another person.

“It's good, but I think it's a tug of war for you to give up. I don't want to care about you tonight, Yang Ning, let's go.”

Yang Qingfeng watched the two get into the car with each other, and he suddenly smiled, with a bit of ridicule in his tone: “Forgot to tell you, Yang Ning made a meal with me today, and it tasted pretty good.”

As soon as these words came out, Yang Ning was stunned, and An Tianxiang's brows jumped involuntarily. However, he soon knew that this was just Yang Qingfeng's last provocation.

He turned his head, curled his lips unpredictably, and calmly looked at the thin man standing with his arms folded in the wind, with a confident and arrogant expression.

On the quiet road, Yang Qingfeng only heard him speak slowly: “It doesn't matter, her people will be mine in the future, I can eat the food she cooks for a lifetime, you can only eat it this time, so you should keep it in your mind. Remember, it will be more fragrant when you taste it when you are old.”

Hearing this, Yang Qingfeng was a bit dumbfounded, and when he was old, he reminisced about it, and the only thing that came out of his aftertaste was the bitterness that he could not get.

An Tianxiang is mocking him.

On the silent highway, Yang Qingfeng leaned against the car and looked at the white Audi that was leaving, with all kinds of emotions surging in his heart.

It has been rejected so many times, and I have seen enough of the sweet moments of the two, why is there no thought in my heart that I want to give up?

Does that unwillingness come from love, or is it a simple possessiveness?

The cold wind is so cold that it makes people tremble, but the real thoughts in the heart continue to fall asleep.

The next morning, Yang Ning woke up from his sleep, and before he was fully awake, he realized that he had caught a cold.

She sat up helplessly, probably because of the cold wind blowing last night.

After washing up, Yang Ning saw that Yang Qingfeng and the people from the show team were already up. They were standing on the terrace and seemed to be discussing something.

She couldn't help but went over to join in the fun, and happened to meet the director turning around, and their eyes met.

“Yang Ning, you are awake, just in time, I have something to say.”

The director picked up a book on the table and threw him to Yang Ning. She glanced at Yang Qingfeng and found that he also had this book in his hand.

So, the three pulled out the chairs at the dining table and sat down to discuss things.

“Your reality show doesn't feel like a couple at all. In this case, I can only implement my second plan. This script is for you, and then you will act according to this script. I will prepare everything for you.”

The director's tone was very firm, and there was no room for negotiation. Yang Ning was stunned for a moment, then took the script and sighed, feeling that it was the only way to do it.

After all, a lot has happened these days, and she doesn't think she can play a sweet couple with Yang Qingfeng without any hesitation.

A few days later, Yang Ning's show in Hong Kong was finally recorded.

When watching the demo, she didn't feel any sweetness between him and Yang Qingfeng at all. Sure enough, after the show was officially launched, there were endless comments on the Internet.