

Chapter: 3351

She could see the unwillingness in Chen Meimei's eyes, but Yang Ning had no plans to respond. To her, this woman was just a person who was not as lucky as Yang Yue. In fact, the two of them had similar conditions.

It can be seen that it is definitely not easy to defeat the natural darling. She has worked hard for so long, and she feels that she can only stand on the same starting line as Yang Yue.

Yang Ning's eyes fell on Chen Meimei's body with pity, and she quickly put away her momentary pity, looking at her now, she really looked like the embarrassed self in the previous life.

She was about to leave, and when she was halfway through, she suddenly turned around and chuckled, the joy on her face could not be concealed by the darkness in the corridor: "I advise you not to play the idea of "The Legend of the Concubine", here It is impossible for the director of the film to accept an artist who has such a stain, by the way, I auditioned for the heroine in it, and the judges are very interested in me."

The fluttering words, every word seemed to stimulate Chen Meimei's fragile heart, she knew that Yang Ning was showing off in front of her just to get in trouble, just like she once looked down on her.

The feng shui turns, and at this moment, she is unfavorable in her fleeting years, and she deserves it, but if she is humiliated by Yang Ning, she will not be reconciled!

Thinking of this, Chen Meimei became extremely rude when she spoke, she sneered, "What's so good about you, isn't it because you climbed up Gaozhi to have an audition opportunity? Those big directors choose you or not. must!"

What she said was right, apart from relying entirely on An Tianxiang, who had never participated in auditions, how could she know that the directors in it were critical of their acting skills in a certain way.

Yang Ning snorted lightly, watching Chen Meimei sitting down on the stairs, she suddenly felt a little bored, why chat with a frog that had fallen to the bottom of the well, no matter how she said it, she would never see it.

"Okay, I'm also your savior today. If you still have the day to turn around, don't forget that I helped you today."

Yang Ning casually threw a joke out, turned around and left the corridor. Chen Meimei watched her back, the vicious and fierce expression on her face suddenly subsided, and her tired eyes were full of helplessness.

She never thought that when everyone broke off with her, it would be Yang Ning who could help her.

From the bottom of her heart, Chen Meimei envied Yang Ning, her current life is the life she wanted to live, however, the stranger who forcibly fed her medicine completely ruined her.

If time could come back, she would definitely pull down his mask to see who this person was planning to harm her...

It was getting late when he left the interview building. In the car, Yang Ning was bored and swiped on Weibo. After reading the hot search, he realized that he and Yang Qingfeng had made headlines.

At first glance, she couldn't remember what the reason was. After clicking in, she realized that the variety show played by herself and Yang Qingfeng was online.

This issue of "Love In Progress" seems to have been recognized by the majority of netizens. Compared with the abuse in the first issue, this issue is full of praise.

[It's too sweet, I have already stood firm on this pair of CPs. I didn't like Yang Qingfeng at first, but now I have started to like it. He is really warm.]

[Dog abuse, I really hope I can become like Yang Ning in the future, lying in Yang Qingfeng's arms, so happy]

[The two are a good match, and it is even rarer that they seem to be lovers in reality.]

Yang Ning quickly commented, and suddenly felt that these netizens also have a cute side, but most of the time, they are keyboard warriors.

"What are you looking at? I'm so happy to see it." Yang Ning's car quickly stopped downstairs from the house. Yang Ning opened the car door and smiled, and raised her phone to her.

"Looking at some netizens' comments on this issue of "Love In Progress", I have to say that the audience's eyes are sharp. With this, Yang Qingfeng and I have been on the hot search together again."
