

Chapter: 3353

She shook her head, realizing that this kind of wealthy business was not something in her world, and she thought about it for nothing, so she simply put away her thoughts and walked into the hall on high heels.

The hall on the first floor of Tianhua is like a football field, it is boundless, Yang Ning felt a little speechless, because she was too lazy to call An Tianxiang, she walked for a long time as if resigned, and went straight to the front desk, wanting to ask The president's office is on several floors.

“Excuse me, what floor is the president's office on?”

Yang Ning asked very politely. In order to hide people's eyes and ears, she also wore a wide-brimmed hat and a pair of large sunglasses, which almost completely covered her small face.

However, the three people at the front desk didn't seem to see her, and were still busy with the things they were working on.

Maybe it was because she was busy with work. Yang Ning didn't think much about it, so she stood by and waited for a while. At this time, she saw one of the receptionists finally stopped typing and started talking to the people next to her.

This time, Yang Ning understood that these three people were deliberately neglecting her and giving her face?

Yang Ning stiffened his face, raised his voice and immediately said, “Hey, did I say you treat me like air?”

Her dissatisfied cry aroused the eyes of the receptionists in front of her, and the thin woman in the middle looked at Yang Ning, who was tightly wrapped, her face extremely stiff: “I said why you are so ignorant, we don't know every day. How many women who are looking for President An will be received, ugly and beautiful, but they are all wishful thinking.”

“Look at our attitude and you know that the president doesn't see any unfamiliar women. Besides, you must have no appointment, right? So please leave.”

After listening to the slightly indifferent words from the front desk, Yang Ning suddenly felt that it was not incomprehensible, but she was a little curious, could it be true that a woman would go to meet another man for no reason?

Yang Ning shuddered and suddenly realized that he had grabbed An Tianxiang's hand, something that many women would envy.

She simply stopped embarrassing the front desk, sighed, took off her sunglasses and planned to call An Tianxiang.

However, as soon as she took off the sunglasses, the three women at the front desk suddenly froze for a moment. They hurriedly rushed to Yang Ning who was about to make a phone call, staring at Yang Ning in front of her with clear eyes.

“Wow wow, you are Yang Ning, right?”

Frightened by the sudden enthusiasm of the three, Yang Ning nodded numbly while holding the phone, blinked, and some did not respond.

“We've all watched your variety show with Yang Qingfeng recently. It's really nice! It's so sweet!”

“Are you really a couple? I really like your performance of “Peerless Beauty?”!”

“Yang Ning, can I take a picture with you, you look much better than on TV!”

The three women had three mouths, chattering and wishing they wanted to lie on top of her. Yang Ning smiled stiffly, feeling that more and more eyes were gathered here.

Fortunately, this is a place rich in stars, and the rest of the people who saw her would at most come up to sign and take a photo. They didn't bombard her ears like the three in front of her.

“I said everyone... can you stop for a while, you can sign and take a photo, but I won't answer your questions.”

Yang Ning said it very clearly, and her eyes were extraordinarily firm. The three front desks looked at each other, and immediately took the book and handed it to her with a smile.

“Okay, thank you for signing us.”

With the sudden change of attitude and sweet tone of voice of the three, Yang Ning suddenly felt that these people really met someone and changed their faces. Just like her, her acting must be outstanding.

After signing the name, Yang Ning took all the three notebooks in her hands, her expression became very naughty, she blinked and smiled: “Hurry up and tell me which floor your president's office is on, I have something to discuss with him, otherwise The autograph is mine.”

They didn't expect Yang Ning to come to this trick, the three of them were stunned, one of them looked at Yang Ning, and hesitantly said: “We really can't tell you this, if there is no appointment, we can't help you conveyed.”
